The missile did not hit the animal, but it did hit the window of the bank, and the result was rather serious.

Burglars Entered Hicks' Coal Office

But Were Frightened Away Before Anything Was Taken

There is evidently a bad gang of burglars working around the city. Last night a couple of suspicious looking persons made an attempt to rob the office of R. Hicks & Co. It is believed they entered through an upstairs window and were about to make an investigation of the place when they noticed the policemen on their trail, and quickly made off. There was nothing taken. It is thought that these are the same parties who attempted to rob Mr. Nimmo's residence on Harvey street on Friday night. P.C. Mebarry was also around Jackson Park yesterday morning on the lookout for suspicious looking fellows.

HUNDREDS AT CAMP MEETING

Many Citizens Visited the Pine Grove Yesterday—Everything Was Orderly

Hundreds of citizens yesterday visited the Free Methodist Camp Meeting being held in the pine grove, just west of Jackson Park. From early morning until late at night, a long stream of people wound their way up and down the hill that leads to the grove, but despite the large number who were present, excellent order was kept throughout the day and the worshippers were not disturbed. The preaching took place in the large circular tent, which was filled at each session, while scores sat around on the grassy slopes without and listened to the discourses of the different speakers. The meetings were most orderly although not lacking in enthusiasm. Those who went out in quest of something sensational, expecting to see some brother or sister cut loose in an ecstacy of religious fervor, were disappointed. While many fervent "Amens" and cries of "that's right," "that's true," "Yes, Yes, greeted the speakers, there was nothing out of the ordinary.

The weather yesterday was the most favorable since the opening of the meetings and the camp grounds presented a beautiful picture. A clump of lofty pines crown the hill where the tents are erected. Grass carpets the woodland areas, on one side stretches a tract of green meadows, while on the other is a field where millions of apple blossoms sway in the breeze like fluffy billows, and give a picturesque touch to the landscape.

The meetings will conclude tomorrow and one of the ministers present stated to a "Review" representative yesterday, that it has been one of the most successful ever held in the district. Great enthusiasm has prevailed and a number of conversions have been made.

Intermediate Quakers Show Superiority Over 'Omemee

Defeated Them at Lindsay Saturday Night, 2-0, and Won the District Championship—Will Now Meet Oshawa Eleven.

The Intermediate Quakers clinched the championship of this district of the Midland Football League on Saturday evening, when they defeated the Omemee team at Lindsay by two goals to nil. The field was in excellent condition and under ideal conditions for football, the Peterborough boys demonstrated their superiority over their opponents at all stages of the game. They had no cinch, however, the Omemee aggregation putting up a desparate struggle and never letting up until the final whistle blew. But theirs was a forlorn hope, and try as they might they could make no impression on the Peterborough defence, while the Quakers forward line swept down field in fine style and got right in on the goal.

The game was played on the exhibition grounds and a large number of Lindsayites turned out to see the match. The Omemee team was also accompanied by a number of enthusiastic supporters, who cheered on their favorites lustily. It was a splendid exhibition of football and the spectators were greatly pleased.

Mr. M. Sharin, of Omemee, refereed the contest and gave satisfaction to both teams. The Quakers scored one goal in the first half and repeated the trick in the last period, while the village team failed to tally. Laing was called upon to stop several hot shots and he cleared the goal in fine style. Every man on the winning team did good work. Scrimshaw and Sullivan make a great pair of backs, while Archibald, Dingman and Deforge, the Quaker halves, were too strong for the Omemee forward line. Yates and Brodie did great work on one wing, while Crough at centre, and Hamilton and Canniff on the other wing, put up a stellar article of football.

Every man on the Omemee team struggled desperately, yet without introducing any foul tactics. They took their defeat with good grace and afterwards congratulated the Quakers on their victory.

The teams lined up as follows;

Omemee		Quakers
	Goal
Ingram		Laing
	Backs
MacPherson		Scrimshaw
Hayes		Sullivan
	Halves
Rice		Deforge
C Mitchell		Dingman
McGee		Archibald
	Forwards
Glennie		Canniff
Jardine		Hamilton
W Mitchell		Crough
McGee		Yates
Nugent		Brodie

The Quakers will likely go to Oshawa next Saturday to meet the carriage town team who have won the championship of their district. Home and home games will be played.

The Quakers and Omemee have met five times this season. During these games the Quakers scored a total of nine goals, while Omemee notched eight.

Local Baseball Team Won Third Victory of Season

Defeated St. Andrew's of Toronto Junction at Driving Park Saturday Afternoon 9-6—Peterborough Finished Strong, "Yebbie" Flaherty Pitching Great Ball.

The Peterborough baseball team won their third victory of the season on Saturday when they defeated the St. Andrew's of Toronto Junction at the Driving Park, by nine runs to six. The visitors started off strong and had four counters to their credit at the end of the second innings but from that until the eighth they were blanked. In the eighth they got two more men over the home plate, making their total six. Peterborough failed to tally in the first, got one in the second, four in the fifth, one in the seventh, and three in the eighth.

Flaherty was on the rubber for the locals and pitched great ball, striking out fifteen men and only walking one to first. On the other hand, Monteith, the St. Andrew's twirler had only six strike outs to his credit while he allowed three to walk the path to the first cushion, and these proved costly as they assisted greatly in boosting the home team's score. Burridge did the receiving for the homesters and did stellar work. In his position, at bat and in coaching on the base lines, he was of great assistance in winning the game. Acheson, the Saints' catcher, went up in the air during the latter stages of the match and by faulty work, around the home plate allowed several runs to come Peterborough's way, especially in the fifth innings. Monteith, the elongated twirler of the visitors did fair work with the horsehide, but several of the home players found it easy to make connections, and hammered the sphere good and hard. The visiting pitcher took a skyward trip towards the finish and was being batted in great shape. "Yebbie" Flaherty was as cool as a cucumber throughout and kept the Saints pounding the atmosphere. On several occasions he retired the visitors in one, two, three order, and sent them to the field without as much as a look-in.

The playing of the home team showed improvement over that of their Victoria Day games, but there is still room for some fixing up. More practice together is what is wanted and with a few good workouts the local nine will make a formidable aggregation. Six errors were chalked up against the homesters on Saturday, but against this seven were recorded against the visitors, a team that is playing several games a week and is practicing steadily. Corney Burns had two fumbles against his otherwise good record, but he redeemed himself by his work with the willow, and on numerous occasions in his position at second. Quinlan and Sheridan were the only men on the home team who failed to get runs, but their work was generally satisfactory, and they played their positions well. Graham was strong on the initial cushion and Connors did good work in making the bases. Callaghan and Johnson played snappy ball and did much to gain the victory.

The visitors worked a little more smoothly than the home nine but could not hit Flaherty. Currie at second and Copping at first showed up to advantage and gave their pitcher good support. Sweetman, third baseman, had four errors as a souvenir of the game, and was the worst offender of the lot in this respect.

The game was witnessed by 300 enthusiastic fans who were greatly pleased with the result. "Bill" Wareham handled the indicator and gave satisfaction, although the visitors kicked on some of his decisions.

Score by innings,—
Peterborough ......010040130—9.
St. Andrew's ......120000020—6.

The visitors went to bat first and Kion scored a run, being the second man to face Flaherty. When Peterborough came in, Burns dropped a fly that Monteith gathered in. Callaghan also failed to reach first, and Burridge fanned, thereby retiring the side without a tally.

In the second Currie got to first on a drive to left field. Monteith struck out, and Copping got to bag No. 1 on a grounder towards the right. D'Eath connected with the leather, but failed to reach first, and Golding who was up next made the initial bag, owing to loose fielding on the part of the locals. In the meantime Currie came home, and a few minutes later, Copping raced in on a hard hit by Kion, Sweetman having been given a pass to first on balls. Acheson went out on a fly which Graham gathered in, but Kion had already made the home plate giving the visitors three counters for the innings.

Connors led off for Peterborough with a two base hit, the only one of the day. Quinlan struck out. Sheridan welted the leather and reached first, but was put out while trying to make second. Connors in the meantime had come home, scoring the home team's first run. Monteith gathered in a grounder from Johnson and beat him out to first. This retired Peterborough, the score being 4—1 for the visitors. There was no scoring in the third and fourth innings, but the home team's stock took a big jump in the fifth, when they registered four runs. In this innings the visitors were retired without a tally. When the homesters went into bat, Johnson led off with a low one that Smith picked up and the Peterborough man was out. Flaherty connected with the leather, and sent it into Sweetman's glove, but he threw wild to first and the local twirler reached the first bag safely. Graham failed to make first but Burns who followed sent the ball far afield, and Flaherty came home. Callaghan also swatted the pellet and allowed Burns to trot in. Burridge kept up the good work, and by fine hitting allowed Callaghan to score a run. This made the score 4—4. Connors also connected with one of Monteith's intended curves, and amid great elation of the fans Burridge dashed to the home plate and Peterborough was one to the good. Connors was at third when Quinlan was put out, and Peterborough went to the field.

There was no scoring in the sixth and in the seventh the Saints were retired in one, two, three order. When the Petes came in, Callaghan went out on a short strike, Burridge succeeded in making first, Connors drove it to the right field, and Burridge scored. Quinlan and Sheridan both fell by the wayside, and there was nothing further doing. Score 6—4 in favor of Peterborough.

In the eighth the visitors evened the score, Acheson and Currie scoring. For Peterborough, Johnson made first on Smith's fumbling, Flaherty fanned, Graham went on balls, Burns hit and made first, and Callaghan repeated. Johnson came home and on Burridge connecting with the leather, Graham crossed the plate, followed shortly by Burns, making the score 9—6. The homesters, retired without further scoring and in the ninth, the visitors failed to tally and the game was over.

Karenots Defeated the Excelsiors

In Intermediate City League by Score of 11 Runs to 7

The Karenots were again victorious and won their third successive game on Saturday afternoon at the Nicholls Oval, when they defeated the Excelsiors by eleven runs to seven. It was a great exhibition of ball and excitement was keen to the finish. A large number of fans was present. It looked like a sure win for the Excelsiors and at the end of the eighth they were leading by two, but it was the lucky ninth for the Karenots. In this chapter every man was up to bat, and they knocked Belleghem all over the field and registered no less than six runs. In this session Long hit a dandy to right field and brought in Craig and Lees, who were on bases, and made the rounds himself; Geale and Lang who next came up to bat also hit the leather over the sward and each tallied a run. Johnson also scored in in this innings. The tables were now turned, and when the Excelsiors came in for the ninth, their first three men up to bat were out, the first being caught out, and the other two fanned. Fast, snappy ball was the kind played on Saturday, and a better game has never been witnessed in the league. Both aggregations played nice ball. The better team won, but had Belleghem retained his good work in the box in the ninth there, probably, would have been a different story to tell. He went up in the air, and his opponents hit him all over the sward. Belleghem pitched far superior ball to Long. There were few men walked to first off Belleghem, but Long allowed quite a number. Long twirled the leather some in the last session, while Belleghem was better in the earlier stages of the contest. There were no home runs on Saturday and third base hits were not frequent. Belleghem has more speed than Long and kept the Karenots guessing. The Excelsiors field men want to do better than what they have been doing. Errors on their part were very numerous. Invariably the man on second missed the ball when thrown by the catcher. The field men were also guilty of several muffs, and they do not throw as well as their opponents. The Karenot fielders could hardly be improved upon. Their work is superb. They never miss an opportunity. They throw and catch well. Borradaile had two dandy fly hits struck out to him in succession and hung onto both of them. Geale made a wild throw in the fifth, which resulted in the Excelsiors scoring. Colin Lees played his initial game with the Karenots. He is a good batter and put up a good game at left field. Lang's heavy hits were not as numerous on Saturday as a week ago. Belleghem and Billington put up the best game for the losers, and each were responsible for two runs. Clancy, Guerin and Tobin each got one to their credit. Honors in bringing in the runs for the Karenots were about equal.

The Karenots went to bat first, and Long the first man up scored the only run in the first. The Excelsiors did not score in their first, three players being quickly put out, but in their second tied their opponents and in the third session they tallied three more, then leading by two, which they retained until the eighth. The Karenots then came in for their lucky ninth and took a lead of four, which the Excelsiors, who had the last innings, failed to catch up to.

Mr Fred Heaslop handled the indicator very satisfactorily, the game being run off without a hitch.

MADE A RECORD ON SIDEWALKS

Jack Thirnbeck's Gang Laid 1100 Square Feet in Four Hours

A record job was made by Foreman Jack Thirnbeck and his gang on the sidewalks in Ashburnham on day last week. For several weeks past the people living in the fifth ward have been made glad by the city laying concrete walks, and in a few days a very large portion of the east ward will have permanent walks. The men have worked hard ever since they started, and have covered a lot of grounds, but last Wednesday they laid 1,100 square feet in four hours. All the walks are well laid and Mr. Thirnbeck deserves much credit.

SKIFF UPSET BELOW LOCKS

Two Young Fellows Tried to Get up the Rapids and Failed

A skiff, with two young men in it, was upset near the locks Saturday afternoon and the boys had their own troubles reaching shore. They were trying to make the grade along the far shore, but the current was too swift against them and they were upset. They had to swim some distance and had difficulty in getting their boat.

Unless the young fellows stop trying to get up the rapids to the locks there will be a drowning sure. The government has no intention whatever of making any improvement for canoeists and those who have boats above the locks might as well take them below and keep them there. The street cars run down to the wharf every few minutes and it only costs ten cents for return trip. This is much cheaper than losing a life and it takes a great deal less time.

Five suspected cases of smallpox are reported at Athens, Ont.

MANY LIVES IMPERILED.

Fire Breaks Out in Ten-Storey Manufacturing Building.

New York, June 10.—The lives of 50 persons were imperiled and a number of men and women were more or less injured in a spectacular fire in a ten-storey building at Broadway and Great Jones street Saturday, within a minute's run of Fire Chief Croker's headquarters.

Many employes, mostly women of factories in the upper floors, whose escape was cut off by smoke and flames, reached an adjoining roof below by jumping from windows. Others slid down an improvised fire escape, which some of the cooler heads contrived from a long line of hose, a part of the fire apparatus of the building.

By the time the last person had slid down the hose was covered with blood from hands torn in the rapid descent. Two tailors jumped from the ninth floor to the roof and were taken to a hospital, painfully hurt. The injuries of the others were dressed on the spot by ambulance surgeons, and they went home.

The firemen rescued a number of men and women by the fire escapes. All those on the lower floors were taken down on elevators early in the fire.

The fire started from an explosion, the cause of which was not learned, in the comb manufacturing plant of the Kraus Clanberg Co., on the second floor. The damage is estimated at $50,000.

DUMONT NEARLY KILLED.

Accident to His Flying Machine Almost Results in Fatality.

Paris, June 10.—Santos Dumont had a narrow escape from sustaining serious injury, if not losing his life, Saturday.

He started to try a new airship at daylight in a field at Bagatelles. The machine was mounted on bicycle wheels, and was speeding along at a rapid pace, preparatory to making a flight, when a bungling workman tightened the guide rope, causing the tail of a small balloon above the aeroplane to sag, with the result that the propellor touched the ground, rebounded and ripped open the gas bag.

Fortunately Santos Dumont shut off the motor in time to prevent an explosion.

The aeronaut was badly shaken up, but is not discouraged and will try again as soon as his combination balloon aeroplane's apparatus is repaired.

He hopes eventually to develop a speed of about 100 kilometres an hour.

TRAIN OFF TRACK.

Passengers Have Narrow Escape—Traffic Held Up for Hours.

North Bay, June 10.—An accident on Saturday night, two and a half miles south of this place, delayed all traffic for several hours. At 8 p. m. a passenger train, bound for North Bay, left the track. The accident was caused by spreading rails.

Four passenger coaches left the track and tipped over sideways, but fortunately no one was seriously injured.

The track was torn up for several yards. A wrecking crew left North Bay about 9.30 and worked all night. The baggage car and one coach were got on the track, and the other three coaches tipped over to enable trains to pass.

Both north and southbound trains were held up from eight to eighteen hours.

FIVE MINERS KILLED.

Caught In Western Mine and Burned to Death.

Strathcona, June 10.—A mine disaster Saturday in Ross & Walters' coal mine, adjoining the town, resulted in the loss of five lives and the injury of many other miners, and the destruction of considerable property.

The miners were caught underground by a fire which started in the elevator shaft and smothered them like rats in a trap.

The dead men are: J. F. Tealey, G. Tepot, W. McLellan, Percy Harrington and Joseph Hardy.

Smallpox at Athens.

Brockville, June 10.—Dr. Bell, inspector for the Provincial Board of Health, spent the past few days in the Village of Athens, near Brockville, investigating some alleged cases of smallpox. The suspicions of the villagers that smallpox really existed seem to have been confirmed. Three houses are under quarantine, the sick parties in each case being males, who have been or are suffering from the disease.

The Board of Health has ordered a general vaccination of the villagers, including the pupils of the public and high schools.

Buried In a Creek.

Bath, June 10.—In Shaw Creek there lies the body of an Italian in four feet of water.

Last winter he died and his body, in a coffin, was being taken down the river on the ice for burial in Toronto. But the sleigh carrying the body went through the ice, and the coffin disappeared.

The Italian mourners decided not to search for the body, but to wait until the ice cleared away and then pick up their sad task. This they have done, but the body is still in the water. The lid is off the coffin, and the situation is becoming a scandal.

Body Found In Water.

Campbellton, N. B., June 10.—Yesterday morning the body of Hugh McKenzie was found in the water near the Government wharf. He was walking against a heavy wind in the darkness, and, tripping on the wharf, fell over. McKenzie belonged to Pictou, N. S.

General Booth In West.

Moosejaw, Sask., June 10.—General Booth and associates passed through yesterday and were presented with a civic address by Mayor Bunnell.

The Publisher's Claims Sustained

UNITED STATES COURT OF CLAIMS

The Publishers of Webster's International Dictionary allege that it "is, in fact, the popular Unabridged thoroughly re-edited in every detail, and vastly enriched in every part, with the purpose of adapting it to meet the larger and severer requirements of another generation."

We are of the opinion that this allegation most clearly and accurately describes the work that has been accomplished and the result that has been reached. The Dictionary, as it now stands, has been thoroughly re-edited in every detail, has been corrected in every part, and is admirably adapted to meet the larger and severer requirements of a generation which demands more of popular philological knowledge than any generation that the world has ever contained.

It is perhaps needless to add that we refer to the dictionary in our judicial work as of the highest authority in accuracy of definition; and that in the future as in the past it will be the source of constant reference.

HEARD AT THE CAMP

Prayer Intended to Bring us in Harmony With God.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir.—A striking feature of the religious service on the camp ground yesterday afternoon was the phraseology on prayer. To the listener a new line of orthodoxy. The speaker, Rev A Sims, I think it was, of Toronto, urged his hearers to give up the idea that prayer was ever intended to change God, or his plans or thoughts towards us. But on the other hand prayer was now and always had been intended to bring us into harmony or unison with God; into a condition to receive the blessings God has for us. To the writer and listener this was a new ray of light at a Methodist meeting.

This sounds very much like what Mary Baker Eddy has been teaching since 1866 in her book, "Science and Health." She says, "God is not moved by the breath of praise to do more than He has already done nor can the Infinite do less than bestow all good, since He is unchanging wisdom and love. Prayer cannot change the science of being, but it does bring us into harmony with it."

Yours, etc.,
LISTENER.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country, than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years, was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years, doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and the mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

VILLAGERS OF WOOLER INDIGNANT AT ORCHARD

Think Arch-Villian in the Haywood Case Might Have Spared His Native Town and Relatives by Covering Up His Identity.

Brighton, June 7.—Albert E. Horsley, alias, Orchard, whose story of wholesale assassinations in Idaho, has shocked the whole world, was born in Brighton township in a house which stood on a farm between Wooler and Codrington, but which has now been either torn down or remodelled. He made cheese at Montgomery Edville, Hilton and Brighton factories, all in Northumberland County. He married Florence Fraser, of near Campbellford, whom he deserted in 1896. She, with their little daughter, Olive, is supposed to be now in British Columbia. Horsley wrote to friends here after he left this vicinity, saying he was just leaving the Coast for the Klondike. Since his departure he has grown stouter, and wears a moustache, but his published photograph is recognizable by those here who knew him well.

RECOGNIZED THE PICTURE.

"Why that's Horsley, who used to work on our farm," said W. T. Thorne, of this place, when he picked up a newspaper in which was a picture of Orchard, with a summary of Horsley's confession beneath it. Mr. Thorne used to have a farm at Edville, about half a dozen miles from here, and on this was a cheese factory in which Horsley worked. His name is Albert, not Alfred. At that place Horsley labored for two or three years and was well liked. Mr. Thorne declares there was apparently nothing wrong with him until the final episode, which marked the close of his career in these parts. He was a well-built fellow even then, but not an unusually husky or athletic character. He was an occasional attendant at church services, apparently lived happily with his wife and no one suspected anything wrong.

THE FACTORY BURNED.

From the Edville factory, Horsley went to one mile from here, after working at Hilton. It had just been opened that spring, and when fall came it was destroyed by fire. The insurance was paid and Horsley disappeared shortly afterwards; likewise a friend's wife, but the latter returned in a month, and though stories had it that they got as far as Spokane, the trip is still shrouded in some mystery.

So far as known, only two letters have been received from Horsley since 1896. Shortly after, the left this vicinity, he wrote to Mr. Thorne and to the latter's son-in-law since deceased. He wrote Mr. Thorne from some point on the Pacific coast telling him he was going on board a steamer bound for the Klondike and that he would write again. No further letter was received and Mr. Thorne lost all track of the fugitive.

CAN HARDLY BELIEVE IT

"I never would have thought him guilty of anything such as he confesses," said Mr. Thorne today. Indeed that is the general opinion.

When the despatches say that Horsley was of unsavory reputation, the reference is wholly to the final acts of his Ontario life drama. People recall now that he was "close" and "tricky in deals," but they would probably never have remembered this had not his confession proved a thought prompter. The old proverb about giving a dog a bad name is multiplied in force in this case, for the murderer is self-accused, and his acquaintences naturally recollect that his character was not perfect.

VILLAGE IS ANNOYED

So far as definite charges go, Horsley's two faults up to the time of the factory fire, were a fondness for the game of loo, and a liking for another man's wife. His gambling was only in a small way, and his liking for an all-night session with the cards would hardly have attracted attention, but for what followed.

It is said that Horsley learned his "trickiness" in Wooler. "It is a nice little place now," said a Brighton man, "but at the time it was a den of petty intrigue." The "old gang" is dispersed, however, and the village of some two hundred souls is quite indignant that Horsley should have brought it into such undesirable prominence.

USED FAMILIAR NAMES

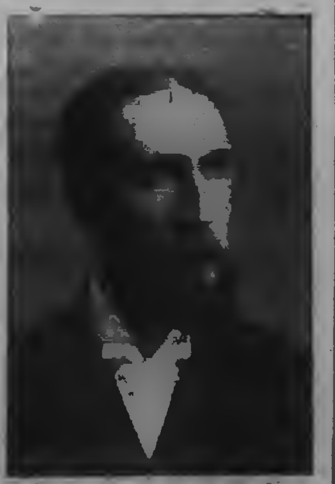
Throughout all Northumberland, in fact and it is a big county, there is a feeling of resentment against the man for not remaining "Orchard." People declare that he was under no necessity to disclose his real name, and that his doing so, has only disgraced his relatives. Still more angry are those whose names he employed as aliases. "Orchard" is not a Northumberland name but others which he used belong to the county's best known families.

PETERBOROUGH'S SOLDIERS ATTENDED DIVINE SERVICE

Annual Church Parade of 57th Regiment Took Place to St. Paul's Church Last Evening—Special Sermon by Rev. Dr. Torrance—Large Turnout.

A beautiful June evening greeted the 57th Regiment for their annual church parade last night and there was a big turnout in response to the call to attend divine service. The regiment worshipped at St. Paul's church this year and the special sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. Torrance.

The regiment paraded at the drill hal in divine service order at 6.30 o'clock and with both bands in the lead marched to the church by way of George, Hunter and Water streets. The bands both had large turnouts and the music was much enjoyed. With the long array of white helmets and stepping smartly to the martial music, the regiment presented an excellent appearance and attracted many favorable comments from the spectators. Hundreds of citizens, young and old, lined the streets to see the red coats march by and it was again clearly shown that Peterborough loves her soldiers. So great was the crowd that the regiment almost had difficulty in making its way out onto George street from the park. All along the route of parade, both sides of the street were lined with people, the congestion being especially marked in front of St. Paul's church. The Rangers have improved greatly since the first marchout seven weeks ago, and should be in fine shape for their trip to St. Catharines on Dominion Day. They marched steadily last night and kept a good line. Lieut.-Col. Miller was in command and all the officers were present.



REV. DR. TORRANCE,
Who preached last evening in St. Paul's Church to the members of the 57th Regiment.

The central section of seats in the church were reserved for the soldiers, while civilian citizens filled the side seats and those left at the rear of the central section after the regiment had been seated. There was not a vacant seat in the church when the service commenced. The band occupied the left half of the gallery.

THE SERMON

Rev Dr. Torrance's sermon was an excellent discourse for the occasion and it was greatly appreciated by the military men. He knew that they were loyal soldiers of the king and called upon them to be also true soldiers of Jesus Christ, the King of Kings. His text was part of the twelfth verse of the sixth chapter of the first epistle to Timothy; "Fight the good fight of faith." In commencing Dr. Torrance referred to the honors that had been bestowed upon military heroes in all ages. The successful military leader had been held up for the laudation of the world and honors had been heaped upon them and monuments erected to perpetuate their memory, and their deeds of valor. Too often, however, it had been the case that military leaders had been destitute of those qualities that should win the admiration of mankind. Alexander and Napoleon had conquered nations, had won scores of battles, but they had failed to conquer themselves. Unless a man could conquer himself he was not a successful soldier.

The speaker referred to the similarity that existed between the life of a soldier and that of the Christian. Life was a battle in which the Christian was constantly fighting against the forces of evil. Evil existed in the world, it existed in every man's nature and constant warfare against these forces was necessary if the Christian was to be successful. What was the best way to fight these enemies? In order to combat them successfully, it was necessary to know their character. He who could win the fight against the world was a greater hero than Alexander or Napoleon. Satan was the god of the world. It was he that had seduced our first parents, Adam and Eve, and had led them into sin.

Quoting from another portion of Scripture Dr. Torrance enlarged upon the armor and weapons the Christian should have in order to fight the fight of faith. First, he should have his loins girded with the truth, the truth should permeate his soul. He should have on the breastplate of righteousness, and should have his feet shod with the preparation of the Gospel of peace. He should have on the helmet of salvation and be armed with the sword of the spirit, which is the word of God. The Christian should fight under the leadership of the heavenly captain.

In closing the speaker said, he knew every member of the 57th regiment were loyal soldiers of their king, and he wished that he could say that they were all loyal soldiers of Jesus Christ, the King of Kings. He urged them to lead true, manly lives, to despise evil, and to "fight the good fight of faith." If they did these things they would not only be good soldiers of the empire, but also loyal soldiers of the King of Kings.

The hymns sung were appropriate for the occasion. They were "God Save the King," "Jesus Lover of My Soul," "Fight the Good Fight" and "Abide With Me." Miss Davies, in splendid voice sang "I am but a stranger here," and made a deep impression. The choir also rendered two special selections and during the offertory, Bandsman Hughes rendered the cornet solo, "Dream of Paradise," with band accompaniment.

While waiting outside the church for the regiment to line-up, the band played "Onward Christian Soldiers" and "Adeste Fideles," in magnificent style. The march to the drill hall was made by way of Water, Hunter and George streets. At a meeting of the officers at the armory, votes of thanks were passed, to Rev. Dr. Torrance for his sermon, to the choir for the music provided, and to the officials of St. Paul's church for the use of the edifice.

Major Young and Captain Ackerman of the 24th Field Battery represented that corps in the parade.

Big Task Handling Material Taken From Otonabee River

Contractor Quinn Has Rigged Up Great Outfit for Towing the Scows Up Stream—Turning Basin May be South of Hunter Street Bridge.

Very favorable progress is being made by Contractor Wm. Quinn and his staff on the turning basin just north of the Hunter street bridge. This work was started under the most difficult circumstances. The water in most parts of the river was too shallow to float a scow and the dredge Trent had to dig a channel on its way up. This was only accomplished after the bottom had been dynamited and even then it was hand work. On the way up all the material taken out of the first cut had to be thrown in a pile in the river, and now as the dredge is coming back on the second cut it is taking out the stuff from the first cut.

The dredge Trent on its first cut went north to the mouth of the tail race and was there turned around to start back. A channel was open so that the scows could come up all right, but the contractor was faced with a very serious difficulty. How was he to get the scows up and down. There is no boat on these waters which could begin to handle even an empty scow in that current. The fall of the river from the first dam down to the bridge is several feet, and is so strong that the majority of tugs could hardly make the grade alone.

Mr. J. G. Sing, of Toronto, engineer in charge of the work of the Dominion Public Works Department in Ontario, was consulted. He had visited this particular spot several times and was acquainted with the difficulties. But he is a busy man and he told the contractor to rig up the best arrangement he could. The dredgings taken from the river had to be disposed of and the city wanted them dumped on the low land at the foot of Charlotte street, which is over a thousand yards below the dredge.

Encouraged by Mr. Sing's confidence in him the contractor set to work to devise a scheme which would overcome the trouble, and he finally decided to adopt the present system. The scows are pulled up the stream by means of a long cable, attached to a pulley, and when the buckets are all filled, the cable is let loose and the current carries the load down stream very rapidly. To fix up this outfit for handling the scows, the contractor took advantage of the old machinery from the dredge Otonabee, which had been stored away after the new machinery had been put in. The plant consists of a big boiler and a dredge hoist, around which the cable is wound. This outfit is possessed with great power and it is surprizing how successfully the material is handled and the expense is much less than if a tug was used.

The dredge, Trent, however, is up against a stiff proposition. The bottom of the river is far from being the nicest stuff in the world to dredge. It is composed of granite, limestone and hardpan, and it is hard to say which of the three is the worst. This stuff is not nearly so good for filling in the city's property either, as there are many large stones mixed in with it. But it will be all right for the bottom and as soon as the city has finished the work started, it can move the tracks down and start filling further south, and then when a better class of material is struck, the whole thing can be raised. The work will last all summer, and well on into next year, but when it is done, Peterborough will not want for good water shipping facilities.

As yet it has not been definitely decided where the turning basin will be, although it is generally understood it will be north of the Hunter street bridge. This has very serious draw backs, however, and it is possible that the location will be changed to below the bridge. The current caused by the rapid fall of the river and the volume of water coming over the dam and through the tail race will make it very hard to turn a boat above the bridge. This can be overcome by throwing out a break water from the west shore, and making the swift channel on the east side, but that will mean considerable expense. On the other hand it has been suggested that the boats be towed up to the bridge and there attached to a machine similar to the one the contractor is using to handle the scows, and brought up to the Cereal Works to be unloaded. Then float the boat down past the bridge where the water is calm and the turning could be easily accomplished. This would also save those boats which had freight for the city going through the Hunter street bridge to turn around.

CORDAGE CO'S GREAT OUTING

Merry Time Spent at Idyl Wyld on Saturday—Athletic Events

"The most successful ever" was the general verdict of those who participated in the annual outing of the employes of the Canadian Cordage Company to Idyl Wyld on Saturday. The weather was everything that could be desired, and the merry makers had the time of their lives. The steamer Water Lily with over 250 picnicers, on board left the Wolfe street wharf a few minutes after eight o'clock, and the sail down the winding Otonabee with its grassy banks, here and there shadowed by woodland, and the smiling farming country undulating in the distance, was one of the most enjoyable features of the outing. Dancing was indulged in on board the boat, excellent music being supplied by a first-class orchestra. Idyl Wydl was reached in good time and there dinner was partaken of at the hotel or from well filled baskets that had been brought along.

SPORTING EVENTS.

After dinner a programme of athletic sports was carried out under capable supervision, and the results were as follows,—

100 yards race, boys 16 and under—J. Pogue, F. Bestard.

3 legged race—J. Pollock and G. Gauthier; W. Davison and J. Sullivan.

Run, Hop, Step and Jump—G. McDonald, B. Bell.

Special race, children under seven years—F. O'Connor, F. Green.

After supper the boat pulled out for home, reaching Peterborough in good time. Dancing was kept up while homeward bound and everyone had a delightful time. Great credit is due those in charge of the arrangements.

A baseball match between two picked teams was started on the grounds at Idyl Wyld, but the batting was so heavy that all the balls were pounded into the lake, and the game could not be finished.

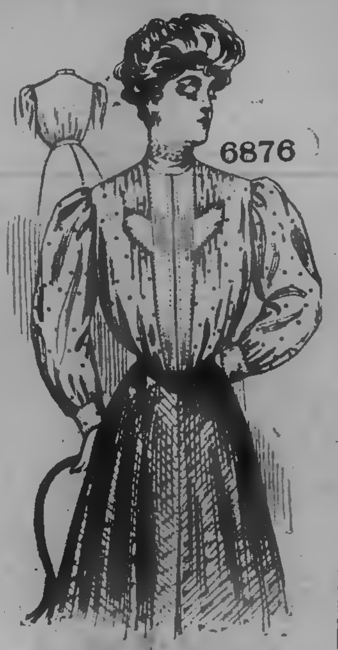
LATEST DEAN PATTERNS



6876.—A PRETTY DESIGN FOR CHAMBRAY OR SILK.

Every woman who fashions her own shirt waists is glad of designs which are adaptable to a variety of materials, for often one pattern may serve for several waists by a little variation in the trimming. The waist shown is simple to construct and needs no trimming though small buttons might be very pretty on the front bands which close in duchess style. For madras or chambray the model is excellent while the dotted pongee would prove very smart developed in this way. For the medium size 3 3 8 yards of 27 inch material are needed.

A Jolly Outing Down the River

Mr. A. B. Cunningham's S. S. Class Had Very Pleasant Time

A glorious day, the swiftest yacht on the river, a bevy of eighteen young ladies, bright, charming and jolly, a merrier party never sped down the winding waters of the Otonabee. These young ladies were the members of Mr. A. B. Cunningham's Bible class of the Charlotte street Sunday school. Last Saturday afternoon they were out for a June jubilation, and none were disappointed. The twelve mile run to Highland Park was made in a little over an hour, where delightful rambles for fern and flowers prepared the party to do full justice to the refreshments.

The "Tootsy" and her chivalrous captain did their best, and passed everything in sight, while the chief engineer explined the details of his trim little engine. It is an unsettled question whether the engineer or the engine was most admired.

The return trip was filled with merriment, ice cream, and song, arriving at 8.30. Before capturing a street car the party gave three cheers for their host and hostess, and three cheers for Captain Allen and the "Tootsy." Boys never cheered more lustily, and at last accounts the chief engineer was still explaining his engine to a young lady.

Hand Car Struck Italian Laborer

Crushing His Right Foot and Breaking Two Ribs

An Italian laborer by the name of Guoranni Ditano, who was engaged at the gravel pit at Indian River, had the misfortune to have his right foot badly crushed, and two ribs on the left side broken, on Saturday afternoon. It appears that a hand car backing up struck him, knocking him down and inflicting the above injuries. He was brought to the city yesterday morning on a freight train and conveyed to St. Joseph's hospital, in the Dan Spence ambulance, where his injuries were attended to by Dr. Gray.

The Dominion Government steamer Stanley, at Pictou, N.S., will go to Scotland for repairs.

STOCK MARKET QUOTATIONS

New York, June 10.—The stock market today showed the effect of the cross currents of further short covering and realizing. The pressure was comparatively small, and the undertone, though reactionary naturally, at times, was good. There were buying orders under the market. The Street awaited the Government crop report, with interest. No factors of importance aside from this were reported. The report showed the condition of winter wheat on June 1st as 77.4 and spring wheat as 88.7. Condition of oats 81.6. After its appearance the market jumped up a point, but heavy profits taking orders soon showed and prices declined to near the low for the day where they closed. Wheat was 1 1-2 cents lower, breaking about 2 cents after the crop report appeared. Oats also weakened and sold off 1 1-2 cents, as the crop figures were better than had been expected.

Particular Attacks Made On Credibility of Witness

One Line of Attack on Orchard's Evidence by Defence.

Suggestion of Great Counter Conspiracy—Under Influence of the Detectives—Planning the Vandicator Mine Explosion—Burned a Cheese Factory—Received $600 Insurance—Controlled Federation.

Boise, Idaho, June 11—Into the further cross-examination of Harry Orchard yesterday, counsel for William D. Haywood repeatedly injected the suggestion of a great counter conspiracy, formed and carried out by the enemies of the Western Federation of Miners, and indicated a determination to direct the main line of the defence in that field.

They carried Orchard by slow steps through the minutest details from the dynamiting of the Independence, Colorado, station, down to the attempt on the life of Fred Bradley and his family in San Francisco.

Besides a series of particular attacks upon the credibility of the witness and the general probability of his stories, and in preparation for their own testimony in rebuttal, the defence sought to show that Orchard has a mania for boasting of the commission of imaginary crimes, and that he is testifying under the control and at the suggestion of Detective McPartland.

Line of Defence.

The defence began yesterday by making it clear that so far as Orchard knew, Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone had nothing to do with inspiring, planning nor carrying out the Vindicator mine explosion, and that Haywood and Moyer had nothing to do with inspiring or planning the murder of Detective Gregory.

Orchard Showed Spirit.

Orchard swore that while in San Francisco he repeatedly received money from Pettibone, who used the name of "Pat Bone" in transmitting it. In making this clearer yesterday, the defence evidenced an effort to show that this money was sent under Pettibone's disguised name by persons plotting against the leaders of the Western Federation of Miners.

Orchard denied that mine owners or railway men had any part in the Independence Station outrage; denied that he had a mania for confession to uncommitted crimes, and denied that he is under the influence of Detective McPartland. He showed some spirit in answering many of Attorney Richardson's questions, but he firmly held to all of his first stories, and was calm and certain throughout the long, trying examination. Two more crimes were brought home to him. He confessed that he burned a cheese factory in Ontario to get $600 insurance, and that he began his life of crime by selling cheese at short weight.

Orchard Corrects.

Harry Orchard was still on the stand when yesterday's session was begun at 9.35 a.m.

Orchard first asked permission to correct two statements made by him on Saturday, one that Bill Easterly and himself had made bombs with "Pettibone dope" at Cripple Creek, and the other that he and Steve Adams had carried their shotguns in holsters when they were stalking Governor Peabody. He said Billy Ackerman, and not Easterly, made the experiments with him, and that he and Adams did not carry their guns in holsters.

Attorney Richardson, for the defence, brought out that Orchard was in conference with Detective McPartland yesterday morning, and with McPartland and Attorney Hawley before, and that each morning he visits Hawley's office.

"Didn't McPartland speak to you about the method by which you could withstand cross-examination?" demanded Mr. Richardson.

"No, sir," replied Orchord, "but he spoke of what gave me strength to go through the examination."

Orchard has professed religion.

Orchard said he had first discussed the blowing up of the Independence depot with Parker and Davis, the strike managers in the Cripple Creek district. Haywood whispered constantly to his attorney at this juncture.

Federation In Jeopardy.

Orchard said he later discussed the Independence matter with Parker and Davis in Denver, and in the lobby of the miners' convention, which then was in session. The witness declared that it was because Haywood's control of the federation was in jeopardy in the convention that the leaders wanted "something pulled off."

Richardson next jumped back to the Lyle Gregory murder in Denver, asking if Orchard had not gone to the Adams Hotel that evening.

"No sir," replied the witness, "I first went to Pettibone's backyard and buried the sawed-off shotgun and then went home." Orchard denied he had jumped from a window of the Adams Hotel, while Detective Chief Loomis of Denver sought him.

Attorney Richardson finally asked Orchard suddenly: "Look here, have you been cautioned not to give definitely any time or place during this cross-examination?"

"I have been cautioned as to nothing but to tell the truth," retorted the witness.

First Money From Pettibone.

Orchard thought the first money he received from Pettibone was paid him in the rear of the latter's store. Usually no one was present at the interviews regarding money, except himself, Adams, Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone. During the time he and Adams were "working on Mr. Peabody," Orchard said they got $50 or $100 whenever they worked for it.

"Now these defendants had nothing to do with planning the Vindicator mine explosion?" suggested Richardson.

"Nothing, other than to pay it," replied Orchard.

"They had nothing to do with any of your outrages until the Independence depot affair?"

"I believe they had something to do with it; yes sir."

"I mean as to planning."

"No, they didn't plan it."

FUSHIMI AT CAPITAL.

Again Receives Hearthy Welcome From Canadians.

Ottawa, June 11.—Prince Fushimi arrived in Ottawa at 1 o'clock yesterday and was received at the Central Station by a large number of citizens and by a guard of honor drawn from the Governor-General's Foot Guards. The station, the city hall, and many private buildings were hung with flags in honor of the distinguished visitor.

As the prince stepped from the tram he was greeted with the strains of the Japanese National Anthem. His Excellency Earl Grey met his guest on the station platform, and after an inspection of the guard of honor the party drove off to Government House.

During his stay in the capital the prince is the guest of His Excellency Earl Grey at Government House. Immediately after his arrival he was entertained to luncheon at Government House. In the afternoon at 3.30 o'clock he received a civic address of welcome at the city hall, and had an opportunity of viewing the Parliament buildings and the experimental farm.

A state dinner was given in his honor last evening, followed by a reception, at which a large number of Ottawans were presented to his imperial highness.

This morning Prince Fushimi leaves for Brockville and the Thousand Islands, en route to Toronto.

JAPS COMPLAIN OF OUTRAGES.

Call Upon Government to Protect Rights and Property.

Tokio, June 11.—The council of the Progressives at a meeting yesterday adopted a resolution, the substance of which was as follows:

"The anti-Japanese feeling upon the Pacific coast of the United States, especially in San Francisco, culminated in an assault upon Japanese trading places last month, constituting a most flagrant violation of the rights guaranteed by the treaty concluded upon an equal footing between the two nations.

"The anti-Japanese acts are not of a temporary nature, and the federal Government at Washington must be held responsible for its failure to prevent such outrages.

"The attitude of our Government towards that in Washington has so far been unsatisfactory to the nation, and it is necessary that proper steps should be taken by our Government in order to maintain the national dignity and permanently ensure the safety of the rights and property of our compatriots in America."

GOVERNMENT BOUNTIES.

Totalled $1,299,000 for Nine Months Ending With March 31.

Ottawa, June 11.—The total amount paid by the Dominion Government in bounties for the fiscal period of the nine months ending March 31, was $1,299,801. For the 12 months of the previous fiscal period the total amount paid in bounties was $2,004,339.

The amounts paid during the past nine months were as follows: Pig iron, $385,231; puddled iron bars, $311; steel ingots, $575,259; manufactures of steel, $338,998.

The following places in Ontario have been established as outports of customs and warehousing ports: Belle River, Cobalt, Hawkesbury and Park Hill. The customs collecting station at Grafton, Ont., has been closed.

Alberta Crops Look Good.

Ottawa, June 11—Dr. William Saunders, director of experimental farms for Canada, sent the following telegram to the Department of Agriculture yesterday from Calgary:

In the most instances tobacco was the article unlawfully dispensed, while a few sold fireworks and candy.

His parents and nine brothers and sisters live here.

BEEF COMMISSION STARTS.

No Cold Storage Facilities Are Provided In the West.

Medicine Hat, Alta., June 11.—The Beef Commission, which is to prove the whole western cattle industry, begun work yesterday afternoon.

The evidence showed that the ranchmen could see little evidence of competition among the buyers. It seemed that the buyers arrange certain districts and only one buyer appears in that district. None of them could account for the spread between the prices they received and those charged in retail butcher shops.

James Hargrave, a rancher of Medicine Hat, said he disposed of his cattle to local buyers or by shipping direct. Prior to three years ago animals three years old averaged $35 to $45. In 1905 four-year-olds averaged $42. Last year buyers seemed more anxious for stock and the price was about $47. Buyers deducted five cents from the weight of the animals to make up for shrinkage of the trip. This did not seem fair, but ranchers had to put up with it.

Prices were regulated by the British market. The cattle were not fit for beef in the early season and the result is heavy selling in the fall. Where feed is plentiful it would pay to fatten the cattle for the early summer market.

Witness knew very little about the sheep industry of this district. He heard there was not enough to meet local demands. Feed was too scarce to make hog-raising a paying industry. Pork was brought from the Edmonton district.

"Why did you change from shipping your cattle direct to Great Britain to selling to local men?"

"Because charges were so high and very frequently we struck a bad market. The total charges averaged $33 to $35 per head."

THREE TRAINMEN UP.

Face Charge of Manslaughter Result of Railway Wreck.

Parry Sound, Ont., June 11.—Conductor F. Graham, Brakemen Locker and Lighthall, and Fireman H. Gendreau appeared before Magistrate J. H. Knifton here yesterday on a charge of manslaughter, the result of a collision between two Grand Trunk trains on the morning of May 31, near here, in which Brakeman Alexander Rochon was killed. Gendreau was acquitted, and the others were committed for trial, all being released on bail afterwards.

Engineer Champness did not turn up, and is believed to be in the United States.

The first witness was Dr. O'Gorman of Depot Harbor, who testified to the awful injuries suffered by Rochon.

Allan Kilpatrick, assistant trainmaster, testified as to the rules of the road and the assignment of train crews and their duty.

Trainman Kerr of the eastbound train, on which Rochon was killed, was in the engine at the time, and was partially injured. He said the collision occurred at 1.50 a. m., and the night was clear and the moon shining. The westbound train was ordered to sidetrack at Beatty's siding and wait for the eastbound. In some mysterious manner the westbound train passed the siding, although it is easy of discernment, has semaphore lamps as well as switch lights, and there is a lumber yard and a small mill and settlement at the point, as well as a large water tank.

LANDED AT WRONG PLACE.

Passengers From Liverpool Have a Long Delay.

Halifax, June 11.—Twenty Maritime Province passengers by the Empress of Ireland from Liverpool, arrived Saturday night in a very angry frame of mind. They bought their tickets in London on the explicit understanding, they allege, that the Empress was to land them at Sydney. Two days after leaving Liverpool the captain announced that he had received orders to proceed to Rimouski.

The passengers protested, but in vain. Off Cape Race they sent a protest by wireless telegraphy to Sir Richard Cartwright, acting Premier, but got no reply. Then at Rimouski, they were told the sea was too rough and the tender too small to disembark, and they were taken on to Quebec, where, they say, they were left to look out for themselves, while their baggage was sent on to Montreal by mistake.

Had they landed at Sydney, Halifax would have been reached Wednesday night.

The Ideal Laxative for Children

Mothers cannot be too careful in what they give children to move the bowels. Calomel, cascara, senna, salts, cathartic pills, castor oil, and purging mineral waters irritate the bowels—upset the stomach—and eventually lead up to chronic non-action of the bowels—Constipation.

Fruit-a-tives

are the finest medicine in the world for children.

It is just like giving the little ones apples, oranges, figs and prunes—because "Fruit-a-tives" ARE the juices of these fruits—but so combined that the medicinal action is increased many times.

Fruit-a-tives are perfectly safe for the children. Keep a box always in the house.

50c. a-box—6 for $2.50. Sent on receipt of price, if your druggist does not handle them. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

KILLED BY ELEPHANT

Italian Boy Crushed During Circus Parade at Buffalo.

Died Few Minutes After Admission to Hospital—Said to Have Been Dragged From Sidewalk by Passing Animals—Keeper In Charge Arrested But Afterwards Discharged—Conflicting Reports.

Buffalo, June 11.—Gasquale Tigniatoro, an Italian, 13 years of age, was fatally injured by an elephant, part of a circus parade which passed up Main street yesterday. The boy died a few minutes after his admission to the General Hospital.

Archie Dunlap, in charge of the elephants, was arrested, and is held on an open charge.

Reports are conflicting as to just how the boy met his death. One report has it that the forward elephant reached out with his trunk and dragged the boy into the street, where he was stepped on by one of the elephants.

Another report says the boy attempted to pass between the first and second elephants, fell, and was stepped upon by the second one.

Dunlap was afterwards released.

BARGE CORNWALL AGROUND.

Sinks After Strenuous Efforts to Keep Her Afloat.

Brockville, June 11.—Coming down the Canadian channel early yesterday morning in a heavy fog, the barge Cornwall, laden with 1,200 tons of soft coal, ran aground at the head of Isle Royal, a short distance above Brockville.

The Cornwall, together with the Augustus, Princess and Arcadia, the last two grain-laden, were in tow of the tug Emmerson, and although the tug grated her keel all escaped the rocks but the Cornwall. An examination showed the barge to be in a bad way, and she filled so rapidly that the pumps were of little avail. However, she was kept float until the afternoon, when all effort was abandoned, the boat finally becoming submerged in about 15 feet of water amidships. Her bow and stern are not so deep, and it is feared she has partially broken in. Her present position would indicate this.

GUESTS HAVE CLOSE CALL.

Hotel Destroyed and Two Employes Reported Missing.

Norfolk, Va., June 11.—The famous Princess Anne Hotel at Virginia Beach was burned early yesterday, the fire originating supposedly in a defective flue.

There were 110 guests and employes in the building, and all escaped with the exception of a negro chambermaid and a white steward. The loss on the building, which was not equipped with fire escapes, was $185,000. Several other buildings, including the Norfolk and Southern Railroad station, also were destroyed.

Sergeant Carl Boeschen of the Richmond Light Infantry, saved many lives by rushing from room to room, awakening the inmates. He finally fell exhausted and was carried from the burning building.

OTTAWA CHURCH BURNT

One of Capital's Most Handsome Structures a Mass of Ruins.

Church of Sacred Heart Entirely Destroyed By Fire—Loss Amounts to $155,000—Cause of Blaze Not Yet Known—Priests Save the Host and Sacred Vessels—All Else Is Lost.—Church Property of Oblate Order.

Ottawa, June 11.—The Sacred Heart Church, considered the most magnificent Catholic edifice in Ottawa city, was totally destroyed by fire last evening, entailing a loss of $155,000, with insurance of $90,000.

The fire broke out shortly before six o'clock from a cause apparently unknown. There were no fires on in the building at the time, and the electric current was turned off. The flames originated in the main entrance, and by some it is thought that boys smoking cigarettes in the main entrance were responsible.

The fire had gained considerable headway before it was noticed, and in spite of the fact that the whole brigade was called to the scene it was impossible for them to do anything to check the total destruction of the church.

Rev. Father P. De Chanslois rushed into the church and saved the blessed sacrament, and Rev. Father F. Auclair rescued the vestments and sacred vessels.

Two firemen had narrow escapes from death by a falling stone wall. The church is the property of the Oblate Order of Priests, who, a few years ago, suffered considerably from fire, when Ottawa University, also their property, was destroyed.

It was considered the church of the high-class French-Canadians, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. L. P. Brodeur and Hon. J. I. Tarte were among its parishioners.

ASSEMBLY DISCUSS UNION.

Weight of Delegates In Favor—Insistent Minority Against.

Montreal, June 11.—Church union was before the Presbyterian general assembly yesterday afternoon, but the hour of adjournment was reached before the debate was concluded, and it will be resumed when the business committee can find an opportunity.

The weight of the assembly is evidently with the union committee, but an insistent minority, with the plea of conscientious opinion, wishes to place a dragbreak on the movement. Rev. John Mackay, Montreal, who is the spokesman of the party, is of the narrow, sacredotal type, though he fancies himself as an evangelist, and has published a volume on religion considered as friendship with God. He declared yesterday afternoon that he believed Presbyterianism to be the highest type of church life, or he would not be a Presbyterian. The inference was somewhat obvious.

The debate was on Principal Patrick's motion to receive the report of the union committee to send down to the presbyteries, sessions and congregations to ask for suggestions to be sent to the committee not later than March next, and to reappoint the committee. Mr. Mackay's amendment was intended to emphasize the point that the whole question was still open, and that the church was not committed to the principle of union, which he thought wholly undesirable.

Bad Fire In 'Frisco.

San Francisco, June 11.—A fire at the corner of Tenth and Market street yesterday did $150,000 damage. The wagon, carriage and automobile store of Studebaker Bros. were destroyed, and the paint, oil and paper store of John Quadt & Co. was damaged.

Consuls Must Resign.

Montreal, June 11.—The new Consul-General of the Argentine republic, Senor Horacio Mayer, has written to all the consuls and vice-consuls of his country in Canada asking for their resignations by the first of January next. It is understood that a readjustment of the consular service is contemplated. The officials are also informed that anyone appointed in future will be supposed to give his services free.

The Consul-General clears up the fate of his predecessor, who, it appears, threw himself from a railway train near Buenos Ayres.

Boy's Neck Broken.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., June 11.—The four-year-old son of Lewis Strong, lot 7, Prince County, was found dead in a field under a fence which had fallen upon him when he was attempting to climb over it.

He had accompanied his father to his work, but had left him to see his uncle, who was working in an adjoining field. The little fellow's neck was broken by the heavy fence rail.

The Congregational Union of Canada, will meet next year in Emmanuel church, Montreal.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

* * *

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

Author of "When Lovely Maiden Stoops to Folly," "A Cruel Revenge," "The Heiress of Cameron Hall," "Ione," "Parted at the Altar," Etc.

She was only sixteen—little more than a dreaming child—yet she was beginning to dimly realize that there were indeed bitter drops in love's alluring cup that she had imagined would be always so sweet.

"Waldemar," she said, beating back the agony that was almost overpowering her, "tell me the truth. If I had been a penniless girl instead of the prospective heiress of Fairlawn, would you have married me?"

He might have spared that trusting, bleeding heart in his answer; but he did not.

"A man with my tastes, and with no means to gratify them, would be worse than a fool to throw himself away on a pretty pauper when there are so many women with plenty of money to be had. I thought, of course, that I was marrying an heiress, and a pretty mess I have made of it, it seems—curse the luck."

"Then the love you have lavished upon me was only a pretence. Ah, Heaven, Waldemar, could you, my idol, be so base?"

"Have done with this silly nonsense about love," he cried, impatiently. "Two weeks of it has sickened me almost to death of the very word."

She staggered back, leaning heavily against a marble Flora, her own face quite as pale and cold as the lifeless statue, sobbing out that "the heart in her bosom was breaking."

He saw a strong shudder run through the girlish figure; he saw her raise her white arms as though in prayer. The golden lashes drooped piteously, the uplifted, appealing white arms fell helplessly to her side, and she dropped, face downward, upon the floor at his feet. She uttered no cry, spoke no word, but fell in the silence and stillness of death.

He had not meant to go so far—to reveal to her what he was—a desperate fortune hunter; but the keen disappointment of finding no check, and awakening to the truth that he would get nothing from the general, enraged him beyond the pale of reason.

He looked down upon her for an instant. The golden hair, the still, white face, and the blue merino robe she wore all seemed one confused mass to him.

He raised her in his arms—striding hurriedly toward her own apartment—and laid her down—poor, crushed, bruised flower—laid her down with a muttered curse at the folly of marrying in haste.

He never kissed her, or took, with gentle hands, the tangled golden hair from her white face, but, ringing the bell sharply for Honora, her maid, he turned on his heel, and without one backward glance at the white face on the pillow, hastened from the room.

CHAPTER XVI.

Waldemar Waldron's romantic marriage with the general's pretty daughter was the principal theme for comment the whole country round. It was discussed in the drawing-room by the ladies, in the lobbies of the theatres by gentlemen; but nowhere was it discussed with more surprise than at the club which Waldron frequented.

The excitement was all the more intense because Bernard Chesleigh was a member of the same club; and more than one predicted when they did meet there would be a terrible reckoning between them. A duel, or something equally terrible, would be the outgrowth of this affair," even though the old couplet did say that "all was fair in love or war."

There was general surprise that the general's daughter should have chosen Waldron, instead of Bernard Chesleigh, so noble, so courteous, and honorable. Still, there was no accounting for the tastes of young girls. They were really not expected to discriminate between gold and dross.

The gentlemen—even his warmest friends—were too courteous to mention the matter in Bernard Chesleigh's presence.

Waldron had taken good care to keep out of the way of his companions, but on the afternoon he had had his first quarrel with Reine, absorbed in his own thoughts, he turned recklessly toward his old haunts, and soon found himself in the very midst of a curious throng.

He was a capital story-teller, gay, debonair, and on the whole, was something of a favorite with a certain few of his companions, and for the while he was the hero of the hour.

He was just in the humor for drowning dull care and forgetting the unpleasantness which he had just passed through. Toasts were drank, and soon the bridegroom of a fortnight was in that mood which often overtakes a man who has lingered too long over the sparkling wine-cup—his wit was as keen as his tongue was loose.

He boasted openly and flippantly of his lucky marriage with the prettiest and richest girl in Virginia, and what a gay life he intended to have of it ere long, when the old governor relented.

"What if he still remains obdurate?" laughed a gay young captain of the Light Guards. "What will you do in that case?"

"Put my wife on the stage," he declared, with a rude laugh. "She's got a face like a Juno and a form like a Hebe. She could make a fortune for both of us, and—"

He never finished the sentence. Quick as a flash of lightning, some one who just entered the open door, pausing a moment on the threshold, and who had heard that last remark, sprang to Waldemar Waldron's side, and hurled him back from the banqueting board with his strong right hand.

It was Bernard Chesleigh.

"Hush!" he cried, sternly. "Not one word more! Not one, I say!"

Only Heaven knew how strong was the feeling within Bernard Chesleigh's heart to fell the scoundrel to the ground who dared breathe Reine's pure name thus, and crush his very life out of his miserable, worthless body, but he controlled himself by a super-human effort, and beat back the bitter anger that surged in his breast.

Besides, he could see that his companion was in no fit condition to defend himself.

Quick as thought Bernard Chesleigh had forced Waldron into an adjacent ante-room. There they were quite alone, and there they stood facing each other in utter silence—these two who had such cause for hating each other so bitterly.

It was Bernard Chesleigh who broke the terrible, oppressive silence. The blood was boiling in his veins, yet he spoke steadily, calmly, as his stern gaze fell upon the rival who had won Reine from him at the very altar.

Waldron attempted to speak, but the other held up his hand with a quick gesture.

"Not one word will I hear," exclaimed Bernard, white to the lips—"not one word that you can offer in extenuation of the words that fell from your lips in reference to—Reine."

"Well!" exclaimed the other coolly—by this time regaining his insolent composure,—" as the husband of the lady in question, I demand to know by what right you shall dictate in what terms I use her name."

"As her friend, and her father's friend, I cannot stand by and hear her name mentioned lightly—even by you, who should have all respect for it."

"How could my wife's old lover prevent me from speaking of her as I will?" sneered Waldron,—"to attempt to interfere would be to bring about that which you should wish to avoid; her name being bandied about all the more.

"You interfered in my affairs once before, Chesleigh, and I vowed that I would be even with you, and I flatter myself I have paid off that old score with interest."

The remark made Bernard Chesleigh fairly tremble with rage; his pride was stung to the quick, but he dared not give way to the passion that was struggling in his heart for mastery.

It was well for Waldemar Waldron, perhaps, that he turned at that moment on his heel and left the club-house by a private entrance—left Bernard Chesleigh standing there like a man turned to marble.

As Waldemar Waldron walked homeward through the sunlit streets, his head held high, his fair handsome face gay in its triumph over the humiliation of Reine's old lover, people turned to look after the hero of the day—young girls with admiring eyes, men with something very like envy. If his heart could have been read, not one of those who passed him by would have changed places with him.

It was in no enviable mood that he returned to Reine. She was sitting by the window, her beautiful golden head bent dejectedly on her hand. She was just beginning to realize that life was not the golden dream that she had pictured it.

She rose mechanically as he entered and advanced toward him, an open letter in her white hand.

"It is from papa, Waldemar," she said, timidly. "He says he has boxed up all my belongings and sent them to me. Here is a list of the articles. He says that in future 'a rigid silence shall be maintained between us, and that he will never forgive me.'

Reine's diamonds—her father's and also Bernard Chesleigh's magnificent gift to her—headed the list.

Her superb wardrobe, her books, bric-a-brac and pictures, even her pony and phaeton, were to be sent her—all she had ever possessed at Fairlawn—together with a check her poor dead mother had placed to her credit when Reine was a small child.

It had accumulated with gathering interest to the snug little sum of eight thousand dollars now.

Waldemar Waldron's eyes brightened as he read—eight thousand dollars. Ah, it was certainly a godsend to him.

"How much are your diamonds worth, love?" he said, passing one arm caressingly around the slender waist, and assuming the old lover-like fondness.

"They are worth at least ten thousand," said Reine. "There is a pair of beautiful solitaire earrings, diamond studded bracelets, and a superb necklace of small, white stones."

There was the stylish turnout and the pictures. That meant a thousand more in cash. No wonder Waldemar Waldron, whose god was glittering gold, was highly elated at the gold mine that was to be laid at his feet.

Ah! what a glorious life they would have of it while the money lasted. That afternoon, just as the sun was setting, Reine received the heavy-loaded boxes her father had sent her from Fairlawn. A trusted servant was sent on before with the cases of diamonds and the check her mother had left her. Who had dreamed, in that distant past, that the day would come when poor Reine would need it so sadly.

Waldemar Waldron set himself to work at once to regain the love and esteem in Reine's heart that he had shaken so fatally. She was so young and so trusting, and loved him so, and was so pleased to look on the bright side of life, that the task he set for himself was not difficult to accomplish.

He took her in his arms, praying her to forgive the hasty words he had uttered that morning, telling her that she ought to have known he never meant them.

The upshot of the whole matter was, that they made up their differences with love's forgiving kisses, and again poor Reine was in Paradise; Waldemar was so kind and affectionate to her.

It was like beginning their honeymoon over again; and after all, she had heard that the course of true love did not run smooth at all times, and that the making up between lovers was all the sweeter for the little rift in the lute of domestic felicity.

That evening Waldemar took Reine to the opera. They were the cynosure of all eyes. Many of Waldemar's companions of the club were there; and as they looked at the exquisitely lovely face of the little blonde bride, more than one of them thought of the remark her handsome, dissipated young husband had made—of putting her on the stage; while she, poor little soul, sat beside him, never dreaming why he turned so shamefacedly away from them and riveted his eyes so fixedly on the beauties behind the footlights.

Reine's meteoric happiness lasted just the few hours she sat beside Waldemar Waldron in the crowded theatre.

On the morrow a strange and unlooked-for event was to happen.

CHAPTER XVII.

When Bernard Chesleigh returned to Fairlawn he refrained from mentioning to the general the episode that had taken place at the club that afternoon.

For long hours he sat by the glowing embers of the library grate buried in his own thoughts.

Now that his meeting with Waldemar Waldron was over and past, he wondered how he had so far controlled his bitter anger against the man who had won Reine from him in so cowardly and dastardly a manner, as to refrain from challenging him to a duel on sight.

He had realized that a blow struck at Waldemar Waldron would pierce Reine's heart first.

What a pitiful trial it must have been to Reine to have greeted him in the plight in which he had returned home to her. With all her love, how her pure soul must have shrunk from him.

He had no respect for his young bride, that he dared return to his old vices before he had been wedded a fortnight? How Bernard's blood boiled with indignation as he thought of poor Reine's humiliation!

"I could not endure remaining here and witnessing all that I should be compelled to see," he ruminated. "I must leave Fairlawn and this vicinity—at once."

It was a sorrowful parting between General Hastings and Bernard Chesleigh, yet the general did not press him to remain. He well knew the true reason that actuated his immediate departure for New York city.

He was young, wealthy and energetic; he would be sure to hold his own in the great metropolis, if any one could.

Without even mentioning the name so dear to him, Bernard Chesleigh turned away, little caring whether he ever saw the hills and vales of old Virginia again or not. He was equally indifferent as to what became of him.

Some men would have sought to drown sorrow in dissipation. He was of the class that turned to hard work as a panacea for all human ills.

He had scarcely been in New York a week, when, glancing over the personals in a moment of leisure one morning he read, in extreme astonishment and dismay, that Mr. Waldemar Waldron and wife—nee Miss Hastings, daughter of General Hastings, of Virginia—had taken up their residence at No. — Madison Avenue and that they intended to make New York city their future home.

Bernard Chesleigh laid down the paper with a disturbed face. He had exiled himself from home and friends in order that he might be spared meeting them; but now here they were in New York city. Of course, if they went into society, he could not help meeting them sooner or later. How unkind of fate to have brought them here.

He was not a block of marble nor an icicle in human form, such as we often read of in the pages of very prosy books. He was simply a man, who had loved with all the fulness and passionate strength of his noble nature, and it was no light matter to look forward to meeting the woman he loved as the wife of his rival.

When Waldemar Waldron received Reine's belongings from Fairlawn he turned every available article into cash, and proposed to Reine that they should leave Waldron Towers at once for New York city.

"We shall see plenty of life there," he said, enthusiastically. "The metropolis is always gay in winter."

He well knew that the name of General Hastings would be received into the best and most exclusive society.

They took up their residence on one of the most fashionable avenues; and there Waldemar Waldron commenced in earnest the life suited to his taste—a gay life and a merry one as long as the cash lasted.

Reine had not the faintest notion of where the money came from to furnish all the luxury they were enjoying. She quite imagined that her young husband must have some sort of an income. It never occurred to her that it was the money realized from her check and the sale of her diamonds, that furnished all this.

Waldemar Waldron was quite right in his surmise. The elite society of New York opened its arms to General Hastings' daughter and her handsome young husband.

But with this new life came quite a change for the pretty young bride. At first Waldemar began simply to neglect her. At last he spent whole nights, and sometimes days at a time, away from her.

He considered it quite a fine lark to insinuate, wherever it was not known otherwise, that he was single free to woo and win any fair maid who might please his fancy.

"It could do no harm to Reine, carrying out this little joke," he told himself, complacently.

He liked to see young girls' eyes brighten at his approach—to know that their hearts beat quicker at the sound of his voice; and that their blushes were for him. Of course, all this would be at an end if they were to find out he was married; so, why inform them of the fact when the information was not called for?

When they had no visitors at home, or had no invitations out, Waldemar Waldron spent his time as he liked. Perhaps it was quite as well that Reine did not know how he spent the hours that she found so sad and lonely.

Three months had passed; and those months had made a sad change in Reine. She was thinner and paler. The lovely blue eyes looked as though showers of hot tears had dimmed their lustre. The fair, rounded cheek had lost its delicate contour; and if one came upon her suddenly, they might have seen tears on the lovely, drooping lashes.

But she was so loyal to her handsome, debonair husband; she would not even own to herself that she was disappointed in her marriage. She was so young and loving. She longed for kind words and caresses. She longed for such expressions of fondness as Waldemar had shown her before she had married him.

It almost seemed to her that the whole world knew that her husband did not care for her, and that she was a neglected, desolate bride.

It was a sad thing for one so young to be so lonely, and to be so utterly neglected. Once or twice she had timidly gone to Waldemar, with tears in her lovely eyes, to plead with him to show a little more consideration toward her.

He caught up his hat and gloves, looking at the tear-stained, grieved face with an impatient frown.

"If there is anything I do detest, it is a crying woman," he observed, angrily. "Do not repeat this scene again, Reine. I really cannot endure it. I shall not return home until I feel quite certain you are over this weeping scene."

He strode out of the room, and again the wretched girl-wife fell face downward on the velvet carpet. There, long afterward, the servant found her, unconscious still.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, June 10.—(Special.)—Cable advices from Liverpool and London on Canadian cattle were firm, with sales at 12¼c to 12¾c, and advices from Glasgow stated that trade was good, prices firm and prospects favorable. Exports for the week were 1902 cattle.

At the Montreal Stock Yards' West End Market the receipts of live stock for the week ending June 8 were 3186 cattle, 185 sheep and lambs, 4488 hogs and 11,443 calves. The offerings this morning were 900 cattle, 100 sheep and lambs, 1800 hogs and 150 calves. A feature of the trade was the easier feeling in the market for cattle, and prices show a decline of ¼c to ¾c per lb., as compared with those paid this day last week. This was to some extent due to the easier feeling in the western market at the latter part of last week. The demand from local jobbers and butchers was much better than last Monday on account of the fact that they were pretty well cleaned out of supplies, and, besides, the weather was favorable for killing. On the whole a fairly active trade was done, with sales of choice beeves at 6c to 6¼c; good at 5½c to 5¾c; fair at 5c to 5⅜c, and lower grades at 3½c to 4½c per lb. The condition of the market for hogs was unchanged. Supplies were fairly large, but in spite of this fact and the easier tone of cable advices on Canadian bacon, prices for hogs were maintained, as the demand from both local dealers and packers was good, consequently an active trade was done, with sales of selected lots at $7.75 per 100 lbs., weighed off cars. There was considerable enquiry for small meats, but owing to the limited offerings of such, business was checked to some extent and prices ruled firm. Sheep sold at 5c per lb; spring lambs at $4 to $6 each, and calves at $2 to $8 each, as to size and quality.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

Veals—Receipts, 2800 head; active and 25c higher, $5 to $8.25.

Hogs—Receipts, 22,100 head; fairly active; pigs steady; others a shade lower; heavy, $6.25 to $6.45; mixed and yorkers, $6.45; pigs, $6.45 to $6.50; roughs, $5.25 to $5.50; stags, $4.25 to $4.75.

Will Jump Into Firemen's Net

Brigade Practice Wednesday Night—Engine to be Tested

The fire department will have a drill tomorrow night at half-past seven o'clock. The engine will be taken down to the Quaker Oats Co.'s mills where it will be tested at the big hydrant there for an hour or an hour and a half, and upon returning to the fire hall will test a couple of ladders and the life net. The chief hereby extends an invitation to anyone who wishes to practice jumping into a net to be present and he will be given an opportunity. The net will be held outside the new fire hall and those who will jump for their lives, will start from the upstairs window. It is to be hoped that a large crowd will be present as experience of this kind is very valuable.

NEW TRUMPETS HAVE ARRIVED

For the 57th Bugle Band—Are on Exhibition at Greene's

The J. M. Greene Music Co. have received the ten new trumpets for the bugle band of the 57th Regiment. They are on exhibition in the store window today. Bandsman Hughes, who has charge of the bugle band, gave the order, and they have been received in remarkably good time. They are fine instruments and no doubt the local buglers will be delighted with them. They will likely use them for the first time tonight.

Music and Mirth at Opera House

Everybody is Going to the Big Minstrel Show To-night

Some gifted person once wrote, "'Tis not in mortals to command success, but we'll do more, we'll deserve it." That about expresses the state of affairs with the Amateur Minstrels at the Opera House, tonight.

The gentlemen composing the company will put up a good entertainment of song, music and mirth. Each and every man has aspirations and ambitions which may or may not be realized. That is for the audience, which is ever kind. The bill of fare is of the best. The gentlemen are earnest, talented and many of them proficient. The whole thing is not a galaxy, but there are stars among them, of several magnitudes.

The rehearsal last night put the finishing touches to a series of practices. The end men—six of them—will be gorgeous in scarlet, blue and mauve garments, bright enough to illuminate the house without electrics. The interlocutor will be arranged in dignity and a King's robe of the 16th century, a garb seldom seen and hence not duly appreciated. The chorus—or balance of the company will be arrayed in dress suits, hard-breasted shirts, white ties, and white wigs, a pleasing and thoroughly gentlemanly combination. In fact the tout-ensemble—whatever that may be—is perfect. No reasonable person would sit out so excellent a performance and ask his money back and no one will have a chance of so doing.

People who appreciate good singing will have a distinct gratification in listening to Mr. Gill, who sings, "Asleep in the Deep," as the song is seldom given. Mr. Gill's singing would be more than creditable on the professional stage. "Cinthy, My Black Belle, do," is a gem, and the song and duet of Master Halpany, and chorus by the company, will make the people who have dared to go asleep in defiance of public opinion sit up and take notice. Mr. Geo. Lynch needs to be heard to be depreciated, and afterwards applauded. Messrs. McIlroy, Davidson, Turner, are on the ends and will do themselves proud, both vocally and instrumentally. Messrs. Brady, in "Sweet Adeline," a fine ballad, and Keon in "My Creole Sue," gives excellently well sung ballads, each to close with the chorus as a quartette, unaccompanied.

Then there are a whole string of things all good and interesting, sure to please and well put on, and as the object is to help the lacrosse club, the house should be full for both performances.

393 GEORGE STREET

Robbed Street Car in Sight Of Two Constables on George St.

Man Got Away With Money Box From Car No. 20 and no Trace of Him Has Been Found.

There is no doubt that one or more men are in the city systematically taking property belonging to others. During the past few days several burglaries have been reported, and as yet no arrest has been made. The nerviest trick of all however, was played last night. Street car No. 20 was going down George street at about a quarter past ten o'clock, and, as usual, the conductor got off the front end at the C.P.R. crossing to see that no train was coming. As he did so a man ran up to the car from the direction of Mrs. Bowman's old hotel, jumped on the rear end of the car, lifted the conductor's money box off the hook and ran off with it. He went towards the Wolfe-st. wharf and has not since been seen nor has the box been found or any clue to it. The conductor missed his money box soon after he got on the car. The police station was immediately notified and Constables Adams and Mebarry went down to the C. P. R. but the fellow had too much start on them.

At the time the theft was committed Constables Newhall and McDonald were standing on the platform at the C.P.R. station, not more than a hundred yards away. They were doing a little special detective duty and were dressed accordingly, but they failed to see the money box stolen, and as they were not in uniform the street car men did not recognize them. Constables Newhall and McDonald have been doing detective work for two or three nights, trying to catch the burglar who has been operating here for a couple of weeks. No doubt the fellow who robbed the street car is the man the cops are after.

The car was in charge of Conductor P. B. Solmes, who is a new man on the staff. The police are still working on the case and it is understood that they have a slight clue.

Beautiful Weather Greets June's Charming Brides

SORBEY—BORRADAILE

June, the month of roses and weddings, is being marked by a large number of pretty nuptial events in Peterborough, and one of the most charming of the season took place at St. John's church at two o'clock this afternoon. The contracting parties were Miss Aimee Borradaile, daughter of Mrs. Laura Borradaile, 617 George street, and Mr. Edgar Sorbey, of Montreal, formerly of London, Eng. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon Davidson, and was witnessed by a large number of friends and relatives of the happy bride and groom. The church was beautifully decorated with lilacs and the wedding music was played by Mr. R. J. Devey, organist of St. John's church. The bride was charmingly attired in a costume of white chiffon taffeta, with a berthe of real lace, tulle veil and orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of roses and lillies of the valley. The bridesmaids were Miss Mytanny Owen, of Toronto, and Miss Lina Borradaile, of Peterborough, sister of the bride, who were costumed similarly in blue and white checked muslin, and carried bouquets of marguerites.

The groom was attended by Mr. Walter Brecken, of Montreal, and the ushers were Messrs. Garnet Greer and Fred Collins, of Peterborough.

The bridal party entered the church sharp at two o'clock, and the sight was a very pretty one. A male chorus singing "The Voice that Breathed O'er Eden," led the procession, followed by the ushers, then the groom and his attendants, then the bridesmaids, followed by the bride. The service was fully choral and well sung. Hymn 378, "O Perfect Peace," was followed by "Hail to the Bride" (Lohengrin), and the bridal party entered the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march. Before the ceremony Mr. Devey played the following selections:—"Braule das Sabots," A. H. Brown; Pilgrim's Chorus, ("Tanhauser") Wagner; "Cavatina" Raff; Postlude in D. Minor, Bach; "Air" (Vane) Haydn.

After the ceremony at the church a wedding dinner and reception was held at the home of the bride, George street. The house was prettily decorated with carnations and white lilacs. Hearty congratulations were tendered the happy pair by a large number of friends, after which Mr. and Mrs. Sorbey left on the 4.48 C.P.R. train for points west, where the honeymoon will be spent. On their return they will reside in Montreal, where Mr. Sorbey holds a responsible position with the Allan Line Steamship Company. The bride's going away dress was an Eton suit of gray with an invisible check, and chip hat trimmed with cream roses.

The bride received many beautiful presents, an evidence of her popularity. Among them was the berthe of real lace worn with the bridal costume. This was the gift of her aunt, Mrs. Chipman, of Winnipeg. Guests were present at the wedding from several outside points, including Niagara Falls, Cobourg, Toronto and Montreal.

The bride has a host of friends in Peterborough, who will extend hearty congratulations to herself and Mr. Sorbey.

BROWN—LECH

The marriage of Miss Alice Lech, eldest daughter of A. E. Lech, 141 Dougall avenue, to Mr. Fred. Baylis Brown, electrical engineer, Montreal, took place Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride, 141 Dougall Avenue, says the Windsor Record.

Miss Amy Lech, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and the groom was supported by Mr. Geo. Gates, Ottawa. Rev. J. C. Tolmie was the officiating clergyman. The bride wore the same veil and orange blossoms that her mother wore when she was married.

Mr and Mrs. Brown left on an afternoon train for Temagami, Nipissing district, where they will spend their honeymoon, after which they will reside in Montreal.

The guests from outside points were Mrs. Brown, mother of the groom; Gordon Brown, A. D. and Mrs Gualdinger, of Montreal; Mrs. J. B. Hunter, Miss Dickson, Miss Martha Dickson, Mrs. Wm. Hunter, Miss L. Hamilton and G. R. Hall, of Peterborough.

Many Peterborough friends will join in congratulation, as the bride is a former resident of this city, and a niece of Messrs. K. G. and W. E. Lech, of this city.

ROSS—GUITON

A Cobourg despatch says, — The marriage of Miss Ethel Neel Guiton, eldest daughter of Mr. Phillip Henry Guiton, to Mr. Stuart Macdonald Ross of Montreal, took place in St. Peter's church on Wednesday at 12.30 o'clock. The chancel and altar of the church were beautifully decorated with white lilies and palms, and the chimes were rung before and after the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Canon Spragge, in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends. The best man was Mr. Frank Knox, of Montreal; the ushers, Dr. Maitland Boswell and Mr. Roland Guiton of Toronto, and the bridesmaids, Miss Ethel Guiton and Miss Alyce Guiton, sisters of the bride. They left on the International Limited on a trip to western points, and they will take up residence in Port Hope.

Trouble at New Fire Hall Caused War in the Council

Ald. Morgan and Ald. Johnston Crossed Swords—Engineer Wainwright Said to be Disobedient—Foreman Pakenham Complains—Salary Increase Held Back.

Excitement ran high at the Council meeting last night for a little while. It looked at one time as if the battle of Waterloo would be fought over again, but the two aldermen who had their guns out did not come to blows. The scrap was between Ald. Johnston, chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, and Ald. Morgan, and it was over the fire department. For a long time there has been friction between the committee and some of the members of the brigade, and instead of getting better, the breech has widened, and the threatened war is nearer today than ever.

Several weeks ago the Council, upon the recommendation of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, voted an increase of salary to Samuel Wainwright, engineer for the department, if he could furnish a satisfactory certificate. Mr. Wainwright produced a third class certificate, but when he went to get his money last pay day, the chairman refused to sanction the increase on the grounds that Wainwright's services had not been satisfactory.

The question was asked at the meeting why Wainwright had not got the increase.

Ald. Johnston then replied that it was because Wainwright was insubordinate to his superior officer, Foreman Pakenham. That official had several times complained that the department's engineer had caused him more trouble than any other man in the hall.

This stirred up Ald. Morgan, who is taking the side of the firemen. He said that Wainwright was being run by so many bosses that he did not know where he was at. One boss tells him to do one thing and another tells him to do another.

Ald. Johnston retorted that Ald. Morgan created far more trouble by carrying tales to the firemen, contrary to the city's interests.

Ald. Morgan then accused Ald. Johnston of having always been opposed to Wainwright, and wanted to free the city of his services, and was not doing it in an open manner. "I am a friend of the firemen," said Ald. Morgan, "and I won't see them run on."

"I stood by Engineer Wainwright when the council contemplated discharging him, and I was the means of having him kept on," answered the chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

Ald. Morgan retorted that some of the firemen had their knife out for Ald Johnston and intended to put him out of his position.

This statement of Ald. Morgan's let the cat out of the bag, and the Mayor took a hand in the fight. He said that there was where the whole trouble was, and that the situation must be straightened out at once. To start with, Mr. Wainwright must be obedient to his superiors, but his increased salary depends upon his producing a satisfactory certificate as to his competency as an engineer.

The incident was brought to a close by the following resolution being passed;—Ald. Stevenson moved, seconded by Ald. Morgan,—That the Ontario Association of Engineers be asked if a third-class certificate is sufficient for the care of a fire engine and operation of a road roller.—Carried.

Council adjourned at 12.30.

Mr. Jas. Dillon Talks of Conditions Around Edmonton

Mr. Jas. Dillon, of Strathcona, Alberta, is home on a visit to his aunt, east city, and will attend the wedding of his sister, which takes place tomorrow. Mr. Dillon left Peterborough several years ago, but was home on a visit two years ago. Before leaving he was employed in one of the local printing offices. He went from here to Maxbass, North Dakota, where he conducted a printing business. Maxbass is a thriving little town, and is named after the immigration agent who settled that part of the country. Mr Dillon lived in Maxbass until the spring, when he decided to move into the Canadian West, and settled in Strathcona. He stated that the past winter had been a very cold one, and, and situated on a branch line of the Canadian Northern, as Maxbass is, they were cut off from getting any mail for several weeks. Mr. Dillon prefers living in Strathcona to Maxbass. It is a town of about 3,000 population, and is just across the river from Edmonton. There is one newspaper in Strathcona, called the "Plain Dealer," where Mr. Dillon is employed.

The homesteaders are flocking into the district around Edmonton in large numbers and are taking up land.

The spring has been very backward in the West, and Mr. Dillon states that when he left the wheat around Strathcona was just about six inches above the ground.

Mr Dillon will spend a few weeks here before returning to the West.

Contractor Mahoney Held Up By Governments Contractor

Says He Was Asked by Contractor Quinn to Supply Two Men That the Government Furnished for Mr. Conroy Last Year—Also Asked to Make Repairs to Cars Before He Got Them.

For some reason everything is not as pleasant as it might be, between the contractor for the city and the contractor for the Dominion Government, who are handling the dredgings from the Otonabee river. Last year, when Mr. Conroy did the work for the city at 13c per cubic yard there was trouble with Contractor Quinn. The Government furnished everything that Mr. Conroy could ask for. This year things have changed somewhat. Mr. Mahoney got the city's contract at 8 1-2 cents a cubic yard, and Mr. Quinn has placed all kinds of difficulties in his way. Mr. Mahoney, therefore, complained to the Mayor, and last night appeared before the council.

In introducing the matter, His Worship, Mayor McWilliams stated that when Mr. Mahoney took the city's contract at 8 1-2 cents per cubic yard, he did so on the understanding that the work was to be done under the same conditions as last year. But several difficulties which will run away with a couple of thousand dollars have been put in the way by Contractor Quinn. His Worship said that when Mr. Mahoney first mentioned the matter to him last Thursday, he at once interviewed Mr. R. R. Hall, M. P., who expressed himself as very much disgusted with the Government's contractor, and Mr. Hall put things right again. But that night the member of parliament went away and since then Mr. Quinn has ignored the instructions.

Mr. Mahoney was present, and he was asked to state his side of the matter. He said that he took the contract with the understanding that he was to do the work under the same conditions as last year. The first proposition he was up against when he got down to the water front was a demand from Mr. Conroy for $25 for the use of the rails. This he paid rather than allow the work to stop. Then Mr. Quinn demanded that he put new wheels under the cars used for drawing the material away. These cars belong to the Government, and the wheels were worn out last year by Mr. Conroy. It would cost at least $100 to replace them, and Mr. Mahoney said he could not see how he had anything to do with it. He was willing to keep the things in good shape as he found them, but he didn't propose to pay for another man's repairs.

The next thing Mr. Quinn did, and it was the worst of all, was to take two men off the job to put them on the Government scow. Last year the Government supplied two men to handle the buckets from the derrick to the cars and to dump the buckets. This year, Mr. Quinn says that Mr. Mahoney must supply these men himself.

The mayor and aldermen were unanimously of the opinion that Mr Mahoney and the city were being held up by the Government contractor and they did not propose to stand for it, and the following resolution was then put through.—

Ald. Phelan moved, seconded by Ald. Leary, that the mayor and chairman of the Board of Works be a committee to interview R. R. Hall, M.P., with a view to securing the same treatment to Contractor Mahoney by the Government contractor as was accorded Mr. Conroy last year.—Carried.

MINOR MATTERS.

Moved by Ald. McIntyre, that the bylaw for night soil be left over until the garbage bylaw is taken up. This was seconded by Ald. Morgan, and it carried unanimously.

Dr. Morrison, chairman of the Board of Trade, said that the city should retain a vacant lot for the boys to play on in the west end of the city. He suggested that the city buy the low land on the Boswell property, at $200 a lot, or about $4,000.

It was unanimously decided to take no action. Dr. Morrison also drew the attention of the city to the Barnardo Home people wanted extensive alterations made to the Home, and if they were not made they would leave the city.

Ald. Morrow said that he had met Mr. Owen on the streets, and he said that he was very sorry that the report had got out that the Home was leaving the city as they had no intention, whatever, of leaving.

No action was taken.

Moved by Ald. Leary, seconded by Ald. Stevenson, that tin notices be printed and posted in conspicuous places, forbidding people to spit on the sidewalk, and that the Property Committee take charge of it.

On motion of Ald. Elliott and Ald Johnston, the Council will take no action in reference to the Dominion Steam Heating application this year.—Carried.

Mr. Carveth was at the meeting and said that he was charged by the architect with $33 for builders' risk on the new fire hall. He did not think it was right to charge him with it, as he had put no insurance on.

It is customary that the contractor pays the account, and the agreement provides that the city insure the building and charge it up to the contractor.

The matter, on motion of Ald. Stevenson and Leary, was referred to the fire, water and light committee.

Splendid Concert at Cold Springs

Excellent Programme Rendered Last Evening

The tea and concert given last evening in the new Coldsprings Sunday school building, was attended by a large crowd from the city, as well as a large number from the surrounding country. The new building is a very spacious one, but every available space was taken last night. Tea was served in the basement from six to eight o'clock, after which an adjournment was made to the upper school room, where an excellent programme was given. Mr F. Kitney occupied the chair and in a few appropriate remarks expressed pleasure at seeing such a large number present.

The following programme was then given;

Vocal solo, Mr. Henderson.
Recitation, Miss Roxy Downer.
Duett, Mr. and Mrs. Greenslade.
Solo, Miss E. McWhinnie.
Recitation, Mr. Arthur Mann.
Solo, Mr. Bert Deyell.
Recitation, Mr. Arthur Mann.
Solo, Mr. Hooker.
Solo, Mr. Greenslade.

The proceeds of the entertainment amounted to over sixty dollars. A pleasant time was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

Committee Will Go Into Details

On Isolation Hospital and Will Report to Council at Later Date

When the isolation hospital was mentioned at the council meeting last night, Ald. Morrow moved that it be given a six months' hoist. Ald. Elliott suggested that the house on the Hilliard farm be used. This, however, could not be considered.

Moved by Ald. Morrow, seconded by Ald. Leary that no action be taken at the present.

The aldermen then began to think a little and realized the situation. Then several of them spoke in favor of the hospital, and Ald. Bradburn suggested that a bylaw be submitted to the people. The last report of the Board of Health, was for a building to cost $4,000

Ald. Morrow said that if the Council wanted to take action now, he would move that Ald. Bradburn, Elliott and Wilson be a committee to visit other cities, and ascertain the details of cost, etc., and to report to the Council.

Economic Feeding of Dairy Cows

Some Suggestions Offered by Mr. Thomas H. Binnie

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—One of the greatest problems before the dairy farmer is that of economic feeding. During the summer season this is comparatively easy, but even then it becomes, at times, perplexing. This present season with its coldness and backwardness, has caused much worry and care in cow feeding so that the cows may be kept at their full flow of milk.

The man who has a silo is indeed very fortunate, but he who has not must depend upon the regular winter rations to keep the milk up to its full flow, because there has been as yet little pasture grass. Has any preparation been made for the time when the grass becomes dry and scarce? Does not the farmer want a full flow of milk all summer instead of a rapid decrease when the hot dry weather comes? Is he going to allow his cows to become run down in flesh and be in poor condition for the coming winter? To keep up this flow, and to keep his cows in good condition the best and most economical method is that of soiling or, in other words the growing of crops for feeding green.

Prof. J. H. Grisdale, of the Central Experimental Farm at Ottawa, has sent out the following recommendations for each ten cows in the herd:

"1. Clover 1 acre: To have been been sown with the mixture of pease and oats the previous year as described below.

Feed off June 20 to July 15

"2 Pease and Oats 1-2 acre: Sow 1 bushel pease, 1 1-2 bushel oats and 5 lbs. red clover seed on 1-2 acre of land about the first week in May.

Feed off July 15 to 31.

"3. Pease and Oats 1-2 acre; Sow same mixture on another half acre about 3rd week in May.

Feed off August 1 to 15.

"4 Corn 1-2 acre: Sow 10 lbs. Longfellow corn, or other small variety, in hills 3 ft. apart each way. Sow 3rd week in May or as early as possible. Sow on well drained land, clover sod manured at rate of 20 loads, tons, per acre.

Feed off August 15 to 30.

"5. Corn 1-2 acre: Sow 12 lbs. Leaming, or other medium variety, same way as above.

Feed off in September."

Red clover is found to be very palatable and gives a fair yield of rich feed for early soiling. In the mixture of pease and oats probably the best varieties to use are the early Britain or American Wonder peas and the Siberian or Banner oats. Sow a variety of oats that is a heavy yielder of both straw and grain and matures about the same time as the pease. In sowing corn for soiling it is well to sow rather thickly. Prof. Grisdale advises sowing in hills 3 feet apart each way, but with this method there is a tendency to grow too much stalk and not enough to leaf. I should advise sowing corn in rows about 3 1-2 feet apart and comparatively thickly in the row. By this method the tendency will be to a fine stalk and much leaf growth.

Soiling crops should be sown so as to come in succession at maturity, and just enough should be sown, so that it will be all used by the time the next crop is ready. All crops for soiling should be cut when in full bloom and should be allowed to wilt before being fed, as in this condition they are more palatable and appear to be better relished by the cows. Always feed in the stable as there is less waste and it is advisable to keep the cows in a cool dark stable during the heat of the day. If the soiling crops are fed in a wilted condition the cows will eat more and they will not be forced to take more water than they really need.

Big Day at Chemong Park; Many Visitors Drove Out

Enjoyed the Breeze From the Lake and the Shade From the Big Pine Trees—Large Number Are Moving Into Their Cottages Now—Seven New Homes

Chemong Park was a popular resort on Sunday. There were many visitors under the shady pines and upon the beautiful water all day from early morning and until late at night. It was really the first time this season that the weather has forced the people to seek a sheltered spot, although the park has been frequented for the past two or three weeks.

Sunday was an ideal day, and those who went out had a thoroughly enjoyable time. Many took advantage of the opportunity and looked over their summer cottages to see what would have to be done before moving out within the next week or two; others just put in an old fashioned lazy day, and laid in a hammock or upon the grass. A great many, and especially the men went out in their boats for a sail. Several dinghies made their first trip, and one or two gasoline launches were put into commission.

The Chemong Park hotel, conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Brown, who are so well known to all the summer residents, is open and doing a good business already. The Sunday visitors all took their meals there, and they say that a better menu never was served. The hotel is in splendid condition, and the boarders this year will be given an up-to-date service, better than ever before. There are now several staying at the hotel, while their cottages are being opened.

When the regular visitors arrive at the park this year they will notice several improvements, the most important of which are the seven or eight new cottages. All spring a large gang of carpenters have been busy rushing up the summer homes and most of them are about completed now. Among the new houses is Mr. Bull's, of New York, which is very large, handsome structure. It has cost several thousand dollars and will be the finest in the park. Mr. Bull, with his family arrived today and they are staying at the hotel until they get their house settled.

Mr. and Mrs. Popham, of New York, are staying at the hotel. They purchased a lot near the wharf, and are putting up a very nice residence, which will soon be completed. Mr. and Mrs. Popham are new to the park and the old residents will be pleased to welcome them.

Among the other cottages going up are Mr and Mrs. Chas. McClelland's, Mrs. Anderson's, Dr. Poole's, and Mr. A. A. Hollingshead's.

Among the people staying at the park are Mr. and Mrs. Popham, Mr and Mrs. Bull, Mrs. B. Ostrum and Miss Ostrum, of Kentucky; Mr. F. C. Cubitt and family, Mrs. and Miss Archer, Mr. and Mrs. D. Hughes-Charles, Commodore McCoomb, of New York and several others.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Elliott will move out on Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs Fred Mernett will move out this week and many others are preparing to move between now and July 1st.

Mr T. A. Smith, of Bobcaygeon, was a guest yesterday of Mr. D. Hughes Charles.

The auto bus is making regular trips between the park and the city and many people take advantage of it every fine day.

The season of 1907 promises to be the biggest and most successful in the history of Chemong Park. The spring is late, but everyone has great faith in the future, and they are preparing to spend the holidays in one of the prettiest places in this district. There will be more boarders and more cottagers there than ever, and not a few of them will be new arrivals.

Many Heard the Band at Jackson Park Last Night

Scores of citizens, young and old, went out to Jackson Park last night the occasion being the first band concert of the season at this popular outdoor place of amusement. Over a week ago the Radial Railway Company advertised that the band would appear at the park, but the weather interfered, and the formal opening of the big pleasure grounds had to be postponed until last night. The large number in attendance was an evidence of the fact that Jackson Park is going to be as popular as ever this season and once real summer weather comes around and everything is in full swing, bigger crowds than ever will no doubt flock to the tall pines and the green grass.

The "Ocean Wave" was the only one of the amusements at the park in operation last night, and it did a good business. The box bowling alley, shooting gallery, moving pictures, etc., will all be going in a few nights and then there will be a big time.

The band had a good turnout for their concert and delighted the crowd with an excellent programme of popular selections, many of them new in Peterborough as far as band rendition is concerned. The different numbers were splendidly given and were received with much favor. Bandmaster Glidden was in charge.

The park is prettier than ever this season and is an ideal spot at which to spend a summer afternoon or evening. It is well lighted at night and is looked after in the most attentive manner.

The Colleseum is now located in the building that served as a waiting room at the skating rink in the winter, and will be open for business in a few days. This will be a most attractive feature. If the weather remains warm there will no doubt be big crowds at the park each evening.

Romaine Street Sewer in Good Condition, Says City Engineer

Examined it on Saturday and the Water Has Gone Down Ten Inches—No More Sand in the Pipes—Two New Manholes to be Built.

The Romaine street sewer is still in a good condition and unless something unforseen happens the sewer will be in good running order by the first of September. City Engineer Hay made a second report to the council, which was accepted.

The members present were Mayor McWilliams, Ald. Bradburn, Morrow, Leary, Elliott, Johnston, McIntyre, Duncan, Wilson, Morgan and Stevenson.

The first matter taken up was the Romaine street sewer, which a number of the aldermen were anxious to learn about. Mr. Hay, City engineer, was present to answer any questions and submitted the following report;

Accompanied by Mr. W. H. White I examined the Romaine street sewer on Saturday, June 8, and found as follows;

The first three sections are in the same condition as when work was suspended May 8th, after being cleared of sand and water at the same level and running with a good current.

The fourth and fifth sections still have a quantity of sand in them, but apparently no more, and the head of water has been reduced 10 inches

I am satisfied that the sewer is all right, and with a continuance of dry weather, the water pressure will be still further reduced, and will allow of the sand being removed, but would recommend that two additional man holes be built, one in each of the sections four and five, to facilitate the removal of same, and also that the use of a steam pump be secured.

Signed,
T. A. S. HAY,
City Engineer

Mr Hay said that the two manholes will cost $50 each or a total of $100. He said that there was a fall of four feet in the sewer now. Had the school been kept up two feet higher it would have been much better. The engineer claims that he was never consulted as to the levels for the school, and he did not see the school until it was up three storeys. At one time he took some preliminary levels and found that there was a six foot fall. The school architect, however, went down two feet lower and the sewer level was therefore reduced that much.

Mr. Hay recommended that he be given two or three weeks' time yet, and he would be able to clear it out much easier. It would then take two or three weeks to complete it. He was confident it would be satisfactory once he got it cleaned out. He further said that a new sewer would be no better, unless it was to connect with a new trunk sewer on Park street.

Ald Elliott moved that the two man-holes be built and the sewer be cleaned out as soon as possible. It was seconded by Ald. Leary and it carried.

A communication was received from Mr. Jas. O'Brien, of the C.P.R. re the C.P.R. crossing at Aylmer street, in answer to the city's request for protection there. It stated that it would be looked into later

Colonial Weaving Co. By-law Will be Voted on on July 11th

To Get a Fixed Assessment of $3,500 for Ten Years—Will Spend $40,000 and Employ 60 Hands at Least for 10 Months of the Year.

Ald Morrow, chairman of the Manufacturers' Committee, introduced the question of the Colonial Weaving Co's application for a fixed assessment of $3,500 for ten years on a new factory they propose to erect. The factory will be 200 feet long by 60 feet wide, and one storey high, together with boiler and office buildings. It is to cost $12,000, and machinery is to be put in to bring the cost up to $40,000. The company will engage at least 60 hands for ten months of the year.

Ald Morgan very strongly opposed the bylaw going to the people. He said that there were some factories in the city paying good wages to a large number of men, while this firm only engages a lot of girls. The bylaw, he said, would be lost if it went to the people.

In answer to Ald. Morgan's remarks Ald. Bradburn said that it was the manufacturers who kept this city together. He would personally support the bylaw, and as he and his estate were one of the very heaviest tax payers in the city, he would be quite willing to pay his share. In the past the city had lost several very fine factories by dillydallying, and this one will be lost to the city also if the aldermen do not support it.

It was moved by Ald. Morrow and Ald. Leary, that the bylaw be adopted and submitted to the people on July 11th next.—Carried.

Moved by Ald. Morgan and Ald. McIntyre, that the Council do not proceed to ask for the confirmation of the bylaw unless there is a majority of 150.—Lost with only the mover and seconder voting for it.

The polling booth and deputy returning officers and poll clerks were appointed and preparations made for the election.

Surprise Social Held At All Saints

Girls' Guild Provided Unnique Entertainment Last Night

A delightful and pleasant surprise social was that held last evening at All Saints' church, under the auspices of the Girls' Guild. The entertainment was a most unique one, and those in charge deserve great credit for the manner in which it was carried out. Mrs. Cottrell had charge of the affair assisted by several of the members of the Guild. A large number was present, and the proceeds, which will go toward the building fund of the new church, were very encouraging. As each one entered the room he or she was presented with a ticket with a number on it. The gentlemen had to find a lady partner with the corresponding number. This created much amusement. Every three minutes a change of partners took place. The subjects for conversation were "Housecleaning," "Your Wife's Cooking," and "The Summer Girl."

After this interesting part of the evening a delightful programme was carried out as follows, Rev. Wm. Major acting as chairman;—

Piano Duet—Misses Gladman.
Vocal Solo—Mrs. Evans.
Recitation—Miss Titterson.
Vocal Duet—Messrs. Wilson and Flowers.
Recitation—D. Layfield.

After the programme refreshments were served and a social time spent.

A pleasant evening was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years, was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and the mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

must win upon their merits. The International Dictionary has won a greater distinction upon its merits and is in more general use than any other work of its kind in the English language.

A. H. Sayce, LL.D., D.D., of Oxford University, England, has recently said of it: It is indeed a marvelous work; it is difficult to conceive of a dictionary more exhaustive and complete. Everything is in it—not only what we might expect to find in such a work, but also what few of us would ever have thought of looking for.

A supplement to the new edition has brought it fully up to date. I have been looking through the latter with a feeling of astonishment at its completeness, and the amount of labor that has been put into it.

CREAMERY MEN TO HOLD PICNIC

Mr. Geo. A. Gillespie Will Attend One at Monk Road on Thursday

Mr. Geo. A. Gillespie, of White & Gillespie, will attend a picnic at the Monk Road creamery on Thursday next. This factory is a new one owned by Newman Bros., who also own creameries at Sorneville and Gamebridge, and the picnic is given in honor of all the patrons of the three places. Among the features of the day will be addresses by Mr. Mitchell, of the Kingston Dairy School, Mr. Somerville and others. Mr. Gillespie sold Messrs. Newman all the machinery for the new creamery, and he is therefore greatly interested in the opening.

Reynolds Says That He Will Win

Can Walk From Port Hope to Toronto and Return in 38 Hours

James Reynolds, the famous Port Hope "walking barber," was in town today, says the Toronto News, and expressed the greatest confidence in his ability to cover the 134 miles from Port Hope to Toronto and return in 38 hours.

Mr. Reynolds will start his walk at 10 o'clock on the morning of June 24, two weeks from today, and stands to win several hundred dollars if he covers the journey in the stipulated time, but to do so he will have to walk 3 1-2 miles an hour over the entire journey.

Mr. Reynolds is 56 years of age, of sturdy build, and exceptionally active for a man of his years. He stands about 5 feet 6 inches in height.

Yesterday he walked 25 miles, and this morning declared he was feeling no ill effects from his long tramp. He now weighs about 145 pounds, but expects to be down to 140 by the day of the race.

The New General Passenger Agent

Of the C.P.R. Visited the City on Saturday for First Time

Mr. Wm. Stitt, of Montreal, General Passenger Agent for the C.P.R., and Mr. C. B. Foster, of Toronto, District Travelling Passenger Agent, were in the city on Saturday on official business. Mr. Stitt is the new official who succeeded Mr. Usher some six months ago, as general passenger agent. Mr. Usher went to Winnipeg as assistant traffic manager. This was the first time Mr. Stitt had been in Peterborough, and Mr. W. McIlroy, city ticket agent, entertained him to a drive around the city and over to the lift lock. Naturally the general passenger agent was well pleased with that great engineering work, and he was delighted with Peterborough as a city.

New Members of the Sodality

At Vespers in St. Peter's Cathedral on Sunday, there was a reception of about thirty-two members of the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin. Rev. Father Kelly preached the sermon, explaining to the members the nature of the obligation they had taken. His discourse was a very impressive one.

At the 8 and 10.30 o'clock masses in St. Peter's Cathedral on Sunday, Rev. Father John O'Brien, rector of St. Mary's Cathedral, North Bay, preached two able and thoughtful sermons.

Epworth League's Social Evening

The Epworth League of George street church held a "social evening" last night, when a most enjoyable time was spent. Mr. B. Cain, president of the League, presided during the opening exercises, after which Mr. McCann, chairman of the social committee, took charge of the meeting. A mouth organ symphony by Messrs. B. Young, S. Ivey, A Gray and McCarroll, was greatly enjoyed, and then followed several interesting features. Miss Edna Hill won the prize in a nail driving contest that caused much laughter, while Mr. W. Cole was successful in the hat trimming contest. Master Willie Thornton won the prize in the shopping expedition, which was an interesting feature.

The evening closed with "Blest be the tie that binds."

Tennis Club Had Enjoyable Picnic

St. John's Club Opened the Season Auspiciously

St John's A.Y.P.A. Tennis Club opened the season last night with a successful tea at Nicholls Oval, where their courts are located. There were over thirty members in attendance and a most enjoyable time was spent by everyone. After tea the courts were patronized to their fullest extent and play was kept up until it became too dark. The weather was ideal for tennis and the season has opened most auspiciously. The club has a large membership and has the brightest prospects for a successful season.

Lights Installed In Victoria Park

Popular Breathing Spot Presents Attractive Appearance

Victoria Park is now in fine shape for the season and presents a most attractive appearance. Yesterday the plants were set out and this beautiful breathing spot is the Mecca of many who desire a quiet retreat or who indulge in sweet contemplation under the shade of the trees.

The lights were turned on last night for the first time this season, and the scores of glowing bulbs against the dark background, presented an indescribably pretty picture. The scene is one that arrests the attention of every passerby after night fall. It is the duty of the police to see that the lights are turned out at twelve o'clock each night, but for some reason, this was not done last night, and the electric lamps were burning brightly at ten o'clock this morning. The Peterborough Light & Power Company were notified and they in turn notified the city to have the lights extinguished.

HIS LORDSHIP VISITED LINDSAY

Several Candidates Given Confirmation by Bishop O'Connor

St. Mary's church was crowded, says the Lindsay Post, to the doors Sunday morning at the nine o'clock or children's mass, when 38 girls, 43 boys and seven or eight adults were confirmed by His Lordship Bishop O'Connor of Peterborough. The front middle pews were occupied by the children, the girls on the left side and the boys on the right.

The mass was celebrated by His Lordship, assisted by Ven. Archdeacon Casey. When the children lined up and marched to the sanctuary rail to receive Holy Communion from His Lordship and afterwards to be confirmed, the scene was impressive and soul-stirring. The girls were attired in white dresses and wore long white veils. The boys were nearly dressed in black with white bow on right arm.

After Communion Ven. Archdeacon Casey read the announcements and epistle and gospel appointed for the third Sunday after Pentecost. Bishop O'Connor then addressed the children and parents. Today was the most important in the lives of children, because it marked the date of their adoption as God's children. They were about to receive a very important sacrament — one that would make them better and stronger Christians. The Sacrament of Baptism sowed the seed of faith in the soul, but it is the sacrament of confirmation which produces the fruit. It will give you grace to resist the temptations of the world, and save your soul. The older you grow the wiser you will become and the more you will realize the necessity of having recourse to God. Not all who cry Lord! Lord! shall enter heaven, but those only that do the will of our Heavenly Father. Heaven is the reward for the good we have done, and the evil we have avoided. You are going to receive the Holy Ghost with His abundant gifts, including fortitude to declare your faith! Unfortunately we have many who are not afraid to serve the devil—they blaspheme, become drunk, and in other ways show their allegiance to the devil.

Parents are morally bound to afford their children a good example and in turn the children would thereby be inspired to render obedience to their parents. The young are keen observers, and are quick to notice and take advantage of the slips made by their parents. The latter know the danger their children are exposed to—the snares laid for them by agents of the devil; it is their solemn duty to guard them from all debasing influences. There is a sad and dangerous lack of modesty these days, and even the newspapers are crying out against the carelessness of parents in allowing their children — especially their daughters — to wander around at night, without restraint or oversight. It looked as if the virtue of modesty was becoming unknown.

The Sacrament of Confirmation was then conferred by His Lordship. The children returned again to the church at 12.30 p. m., to renew their baptismal vows and be invested with the scapular of our Lady Carmel. At Vespers there was another large congregation present. His Lordship delivered, an edifying and instructive sermon on "The Love of God."

DELIRIOUS PATIENT ESCAPES.

Spent 12 Hours In the Rain Clad In a Night Shirt.

Fredericton, N. B., June 11.—Warren Allen, 29 years of age, a fever patient in the Victoria Hospital, while delirious, escaped at four o'clock yesterday morning. He rushed to the bathroom, which is on the ground floor, and jumped through the window. He was clothed in his night-shirt only.

All day a searching party, including members of the fire department, endeavored to locate him, and late in the afternoon he turned up on University avenue, and was removed to the hospital. All the night and all day it poured rain incessantly.

The supposition is, however, that he traveled from the hospital to the I. C. R. freight shed, where he remained until he recovered consciousness.

Barbados, June 11.—The French schooner La Jalouse, from Cayenne for St. Lucia, sank off Barbados during the night of June 7.

Her commander and 21 men reached Barbados Sunday.

Twenty-eight passengers, including 12 women and children, were drowned.

Some City Landlords Very Much Object to Children

A house hunter for a medium priced house was in an indignant mood today. He is one of the newcomers to Peterborough, and was very much disappointed in finding it so different from what was explained to him when the immigration agents asked him to leave home. He says that nearly everybody who has a small house to rent enquires if the applicant has any children, and when he honestly admits he possesses a bunch of good and healthy youngsters, he is invariably told that he won't do.

"They don't want people with children," this newcomer says. "What are they going to people this country with, I would like to know? Of course, if I threw the kids into the river I could get a house all right enough." But I am not just prepared to perform that sort of act, even to accommodate a Peterborough landlord."

Architect Belcher to Prepare Plans to Remodel the City Hall

Whole Building to be Gone Over and Fitted Up in Proper Shape—May Cost Several Thousand Dollars —Not Likely to be Done Uutil Next Year.

The repairs to the old fire hall, and converting it into offices for the civic officials will cost a little over $1,000. The plans were submitted by the Property Committee, unchanged from what was published several weeks ago. The City Engineer, submitted the following figures as to cost,—

Fitting up offices, etc.	$915.00
Office furnishings and lights	145.00
Public lavatories	25.00

Moved by Ald. McIntyre and Ald. Morgan that the plans be accepted and the Property Committee be authorized to proceed with the work.

Moved by Ald. Wilson, seconded by Ald. Bradburn, that the City Engineer prepare specifications and advertise for tenders.

Moved in amendment by Ald. McIntyre and Ald. Morgan, that the work be done by day labor, and the Property Committee engage such foreman as necessary.—Lost.

Ald. Wilson's motion was carried with only four against it.

Moved by Ald. Morrow and Ald. Leary that Mr. John Belcher, architect be engaged to prepare plans for remodelling the city buildings.—This includes the city clerk's office, treasurer's office, committee rooms and the whole set of offices.

Ald. Johnston thought the best thing to do was that if the Council wants to remodell the whole building, it would be better to rent the fire hall this year, and let it stand until next year.

Ald. Morrow's motion carried.

Municipal Insurance Strongly Favored by Leading Merchant

Mr C. B. Routley, President of the Retail Merchants' Association, who was charged in the police court yesterday with having a number of packing boxes in his yard, contrary to the bylaw, in conversation with a Review reporter today, said:—

"Mayor McWilliams, since coming into office, has shown his hand in a way which seems very unfriendly to the merchants of Peterborough. The claim is that the Insurance Companies demand that the merchants shall not keep packing boxes in their yards, and our city fathers agree to protect these corporations in their contentions so that our city is thus the agent agreeing to protect the companies who make thousands of dollars every year out of Peterborough. They say:—"We like your money, but on any risk we want $90 out of $100 paid to us."

I venture to say, there is collected in Peterborough one hundred thousand dollars a year for insurance, and that the companies combined do not have losses aggregating fifteen thousand.

I, for one, think it would not be a bad idea for our city to do its own insuring; then we would not be dictated to by a company of capitalists. The companies have a right to give the city of Peterborough a lower rate, considering the small losses during the past 25 years. I believe that it would be a good thing to keep the money in the city. I also think that the reductions we receive in our water rates would not hold a patch to the enormous dividends or rebate that we would get, providing the city undertook to protect its citizens in this matter. It is high time that our city fathers took a stand and demanded a lower rate, and not put up with the dictation of rich corporations. As long as the companies can make objections to this, that and the other thing, and have our officials carry out their ideas, it is all right, but for goodness sake, do not ask them to give back any of the money they collect in this city."

Will Buy Dry Goods Direct From European Manufacturers

Mr. Dickson Hall Leaves in the Morning to Cross the Atlantic for the 21st Time—Will Visit the Largest of Factories on the Continent.

Mr. S. Dickson Hall, manager of R. Hall & Son, leaves in the morning on the C.P.R. for Quebec, where he will take the Empress of Ireland for Liverpool. He is going to Ireland on his annual buying trip and he will be away for at least ten weeks, during which time he will visit the most famous manufacturers of dry goods, millinery, novelties, coats, mantles, laces, etc., on the continent. This is Mr. Hall's twenty-first crossing of the Atlantic, and each time his trip has been more successful than the one previous. This year, therefore, he should be able to accomplish a great deal, which will be of benefit to the thousands of customers of R. Hall & Son.

Mr. Hall goes direct to the factories where the different classes of goods are produced, and as those factories are the largest in the world and turn out the very newest ideas, he is enabled to secure for Peterborough people, the best and latest fabrics to be found on the markets of the world. He also has the advantage over the smaller stores of purchasing direct from the producers, and thus cut out the profits and expenses of the middle men, which are very often so heavy that by the time the goods reach this city the price is so high people cannot touch them.

The first place visited will be Liverpool, and from there he will go to London where he will spend a few days. The next place will be Berlin, Germany, where Mr. Hall will purchase coats and mantles. He will then return to London en route to Nottingham to buy laces and lace curtains. From there he goes to Bradford for dress goods, then to Manchester for cottons, and to Belfast, Ireland for linens. The next place to be visited will be Glasgow, Scotland, where the headquarters of the Canadian Dry Goods Syndicate are situated. After a short stay there, Mr. Hall will return to London and then go over to Paris, where he will purchase the newest ideas in millinery and novelties.

The trip will extend over ten weeks and during that time Mr. Hall will travel some 10,000 miles. When he returns he will have a stock of goods for the big store, which will surpass anything ever attempted by a merchant in Peterborough. Mrs. Hall will accompany Mr. Hall on his trip.

ANGRY PASSENGERS

Were Landed At Quebec, Although They Were Billed for Sydney.

Halifax, June 10. —Twenty Maritime Province passengers by the Empress of Ireland from Liverpool arrived Saturday night in a very angry frame of mind. They bought their tickets in London on the explicit understanding, they allege, that the Empress was to land them at Sydney. Two days after leaving Liverpool the captain announced he had received orders to proceed to Rimouski.

The passengers protested, but in vain. Off Cape Race they sent a protest by wireless telegraphy to Sir Richard Cartwright, acting Premier, but got no reply. Then at Rimouski they were told the sea was too rough and the tender too small to disembark, and they were taken on to Quebec where, they say, they were left to look out for themselves while their baggage was sent on to Montreal by mistake. Had they landed at Sydney, Halifax would have been reached Wednesday night. They talk of taking action against the C. P.R.

Chased Woman With Big Knife; Joseph Dare Made Dire Threats

Said He Would Kill Woman With Whom He Ran Away Some Months Ago From Peterboro'—Was Boarding With Her and Her Husband in Buffalo—He is Now in the Police Cells.

Many people will remember of an elopement which occurred in this city about a year ago. Mr. and Mrs Ernest Lafley resided on Water street, and a man by the name of Joseph Dare boarded with them. Dare and Mrs. Lafley became quite intimate and one day Lafley was very much surprised to find that the two had skipped. Hearing that they had gone to Buffalo, and being desirous of recovering his lost wife, Lafley went to Buffalo, but found there that the runaways were residing in Welland. He took a position in Buffalo and remained there for some time. Later he met Dare in a saloon and had him arrested. In court Mrs. Lafley refused point blank to go back to her husband. Finally Mrs. Lafley, tiring of Dare, sent for her husband, and they started a boarding house in Buffalo and took Dare in as a boarder. Judging by the following clipping from Saturday's Buffalo Courier, warm friendship, which existed between Mrs. Lafley and Dare a year ago, has terminated;

The Courier says;

"Having expressed his disapproval of the way things were being run at his boarding-house, with the brandishing of a butcher knife to make his little talk more impressive; Joseph Dare, 36 years old, of No 128 7th street, was arrested and charged with assault in the first degree. On complaint of Mrs. Emeline Lafley, the landlady, Dare was arrested by Detectives Newton, Murray and Walsh, of the Franklin street station a charge of disorderly conduct, and was arraigned in morning court yesterday, but Justice Rochford was of the opinion that the offence was more than disorderly conduct. He held Dare on the assault charge for arraignment in police court today.

DROVE HER FROM HOUSE

"Dare went to his boarding-house after indulging in enough drinks to make him too talkative, the police say, and threatened to harm Mrs. Lafley. Picking up a big knife he started toward the woman and she ran from the house. Fearing that the man might follow her she ran to the Pearl street station and entered a complaint, which was referred to the Franklin street station, as the house is in that precinct."

June Session of County Court is Now in Progress

Judge Weller Refers to the Fact That no Agreement Exists Between City and County Whereby the Former's Vagrants Can be Cared for at House of Refuge.

The June session of the County Court and General Sessions of the Peace opened at the Court house this afternoon at one o'clock before His Honor Judge Weller. There are three civil cases on the docket, as follows:—Canadian Cordage Company vs. Thos. McGuiness, J. A. Lawless vs T. H. Crowley, and J. J. English vs Daniel black. There are no criminal cases to take up the attention of the court.

A grand jury and petty jury were in attendance at the opening of the court, but there was practically no work for either of them to do. The petty jury was dismissed and the grand jury was assigned to visit the gaol and to report to-morrow morning at eleven o'clock. All the grand jurors were not able to be present, but the following were in attendance: J. N. Ackerman, J. C. Anderson, F. Bartlett, Wm. Johnston, Wm. James, R. J. Kidd, Edward Lynch, Geo. W. Morrow and David Quinlan. Mr. Ackerman was appointed foreman and an inspection of the gaol was at once made.

In addressing the grand jury Judge Weller referred to the fact that there were no criminal cases which showed that the county was comparatively free from crime. He reviewed the list of prisoners now in the gaol and in speaking of the vagrants stated that the county now had a house of refuge for the accommodation of such persons, but those from the city could not be sent there as there had been no arrangement made between the city and county, whereby vagrants from the city would be cared for at the house of refuge. The county could not be expected to care for them until the city would bear the expense of their keep.

The case of Lawless and Crowley was first taken up and was in progress this afternoon. Lawless is suing Crowley for a board bill and the latter has a counter claim based on the transfer of titles of some mining property to the plaintiff.

The lawyers present at the opening of the court were Messrs. D. W. Dumble, H. T. Medd, W. F. Johnson and A. E. Dixon.

Boys Tried to Disturb Methodist Camp Meeting

It appears that some rowdies started to play high jinks at the camp meeting being held in the grove just west of Jackson Park, and County Constable Cochrane was called to see that order was kept. The offenders were principally young boys who didn't appear to be impressed with the solemnity of the services, and lent their harsh voices to that of the worshippers. They made strange sounds in the woods around where the services were in progress and otherwise showed their disinclination to behave as people should not at a camp meeting.

The county constable was sent for and visited the grove, and his presence had a beneficial effect. The fact that they were likely to get into the grasp of the law if they did not mind themselves, seemed to frighten the youngsters, and there have been no disturbances lately. Of course it was at night that the boys were cutting up, but a close watch is being kept on them, and unless they continue to behave themselves, trouble will result.

PASSED AWAY AT LINDSAY

Death of Mr. John J. Hurley Formerly of This City

The death occurred in Lindsay yesterday of John Joseph Hurley, eldest son of Mr. John Hurley, Charlotte street. He passed away about two o'clock, at the residence of his aunt Mrs. M. McHugh, Court House, Lindsay, with whom he had resided for several years. Deceased was 27 years of age, and death was due to tuberculosis, from which he had been ailing for some time.

The late Mr. Hurley is survived by his parents, one brother and three sisters, Frank, Mary, and Maggie, Loretta. He was a bright young man and his death will be regretted by a large number of friends.

The funeral will take place on Wednesday from the G.T.R. station on the arrival of the 11.40 train, and will proceed to the Roman Catholic cemetrye for interment.

Will Install Air Compresser Plant

Mr. R. G. Williamson Returns From Trip to Cobalt

Mr. R. G. Williamson, president of the Casey Mountain Cobalt Mining and Development Co., Limited, is in the city on business.

Mr. Williamson is a former resident of Peterborough, leaving here about two years ago. He has just returned from a week's visit to Cobalt and he says that the rush there is something indescribable. There are a great many English capitalists arriving daily. They have bought the Bucknell property, adjoining the Casey Mountain Property for $1,000,000. The Casey Mountain property, in which Mr. Williamson is interested, covers seven claims — 280 acres in all. It is located eleven or twelve miles from Cobalt, and considerable development work has been done on the property. They have sunk a shaft 60 feet, and are now 45 feet into the drift. The shaft is at the base of Casey Mountain and three rich veins cross cut the drift.

They are not more than fifteen feet apart. The drift follows a vein three feet wide and it is expected that the lode will be struck within the next 20 or 30 feet. The company are using steam drills at present, but Mr. Williamson's visit to the city is with the object of purchasing an air compressor plant. He is interviewing the local foundries today. All the veins struck are true fissure veins. The Casey Mountain Company have received some flattering offers for their property but have no intention of selling. They believe that they have one of the richest and most productive claims known.

Mr. Williamson added, "If I told you half about the wealth of Cobalt you would not believe me. You must see for yourself. The surface of the great mineral areas there have only been touched, and there is no doubt of the immense quantities of silver, cobalt and nickel. If one gets the proper vein and goes deep enough he is certainly bound to strike it rich.

STOCK MARKET QUOTATIONS

New York, June 11.—The stock market was rather irregular today. Opening firm it advanced moderately and then met bearish professional pressure, with the result that a recession of moderate character was brought about. There were scale-down buying orders in the market, from important interests, according to our investigations and the conditions seem to us still to favor the purchase of high-grade standards like Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, Great Northern, preferred, Amalgamated Copper, St. Paul, and Reading when weak. The stop order may be used if desired, but we think the trend is still upward and that a creeping market along improvement lines, with possibly frequent recessions will be experienced for a time.

The closing was irregular on a slight rally.

West Ends Lead Their Opponents

Defeated Lillies by Eight Runs to Five in First Four Innings

The West Ends were again victorious last evening in their game with the Lillies, and in the first four innings played, defeated them by eight runs to five.

It was not as good an exhibition of ball as previous contests in the league. There were errors galore, and both teams were guilty of several costly fumbles. The field on which the game took place, was not so good as the oval. To the rear of the home plate there is a steep embankment and several times the ball went down it, which proved a great inconvenience. The Lillies have poor fielders. They made several wild throws and missed the leather on numerous occasions. Graham, of the Lillies did not twirl in his usual good style. The cheering of the crowd of fans got him rattled and he went up in the air. The West Enders hit him all over the award. Two men walked to first off him and he failed to fan many. Butcher, of the West Ends, pitched a steadier game. He has lots of speed and fanned several men. He is also a heavy hitter and made the only third base hit of the game.

The West Ends gave the best fielders of the two, but they missed several that they should have got.

The Lillies went to bat first and started out strong, scoring three runs in the initial chapter. The West Ends made several errors in this one, but cut it out in the remaining ones, putting up good ball. When the boys of the West came in for their first, they hit the spheroid all over and registered five runs. The Lillies score ended in the second. Hillier and Connors made the rounds. In each succeeding chapter the West Ends tallied one.

However, the game is not over yet, and probably on Wednesday night there will be a different story to tell. If the Lillie fielders would hang onto the ball when it came their way, there probably would have been mourning in the West End's camp last night.

Mr. Fred Craig gave satisfaction as umpire.

The teams were:—

West Ends.—L. Dobson, c.f.; J. McNern, c; W. Butcher, p; M. Cameron, 3b; A. Rose, s.s.; Ed. King, 1b; J. Hagerman, l.f.; C. Halpin, l.f.; N. Moore, r.f.

Lillies.—Hillier, c; Graham, p; Dolce 1b; Foley, s.s.; Dunsford, r.f.; Shambo, 2b; Bartley, c.f.; Simmons, r.f.; Connors, 3b.

Lacrosse Season Opens Saturday

The Oshawa junior lacrosse team plays a league match with the Peterborough Shamrocks at Riverside Park next Saturday afternoon. The home team is in good shape to meet the visitors and should start the season with a victory.

Douro Council Held Meeting

Several Matters Pertaining to Roads of the Township Disposed of

The Douro Council met on Monday May 27th, as a Court of Revision. The following appeals were laid before the Court,—Jos. Tedford, Richard Tedford, Bell Telephone Co., and J. Crowley.

On motion Jos. Tedford's assessment was reduced $200, and Richard Tedford's assessment, $500.

The Bell Telephone Company's assessment was placed at $1706.25.

Jas. Crowley's assessment for lot 7, concession 10, was reduced $300, as it appears that he has been assessed for 14 2-5 acres too much.

On motion T. Hurley was placed on roll for east half of lot 2, concession 9; and Alex. Conroy for east half lot 1, concession 8.

Archibald Tedford was placed on roll as tenant for lot 2, concession 12.

The Court of Revision adjourned and the council went into session for the transaction of business.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed.

On motion the reeve was appointed a commissioner to dispose of timber on line of road between concessions 3 and 4, in front of lot 4, the proceeds to be placed in the hands of the treasurer, to be used for the improvement of the said road.

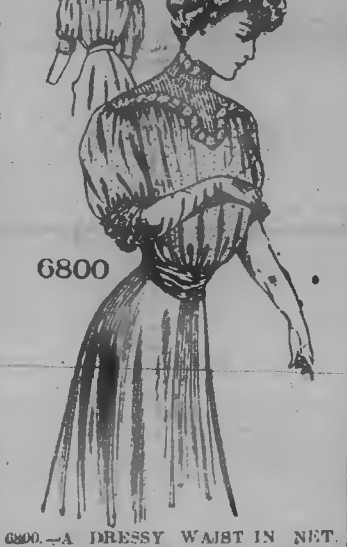
Patrick Farley was appointed a commissioner to expend the sum of $10 in placing a guard on Allen's Hill.

Bylaw No. 661, to commute the statute labor on certain road divisions in the municipality, received its several readings and was passed.

Orders on treasurer were drawn as follows,—W. J. Bulloe, $55, salary as assessor for the year 1907, and $2 being postage account for 1906-07. Dr. Brown, $4, for visiting Mr. Christie; Ambrose Coughlin, $14, for furnishing material and repairing bridge across Sawyer's creek, in front of lot 13, concession 8; Patrick McMurray, $33.24, for provisions from Mrs. Christie from December to April 1st; Wm. Barry, $10 for cutting trees and burning brush on side roads between lots 5 and 6, in concession 6; Michael Mahoney, $10, for work on sideroad between lots 5 and 6, in concession 7, and on road used in lieu thereof.

On motion of Messrs. Quinlan and Farley, the council will make settlement with B. Leahy for injuries to his son on sideroads between lots 5 and 6, concession 9.

The council then adjourned to meet at the call of the reeve.



6800.—A DRESSY WAIST IN NET.

Every woman who touches so much as the hem of society life needs a dainty waist which she may don with the suit of another skirt and be presentable for any sort of afternoon or evening function. The woman of moderate means will find the simple waist of embroidered net or crepe de chine in some delicate color like champagne, pink or blue exceedingly becoming and very serviceable, not to mention its inexpensiveness. A suggestion for such a waist is shown but any number of variations may be added. The yoke which extends out a bit over the shoulders, giving that broad effect so much sought for this season, may be of tucked chiffon or silk or even tucked organdie with a simple lace galon as finishing. No other trimming material for the waist is needed except a girdle of velvet if desired. The sleeves are pleasing with their soft fulness shirred in to arm size above the elbow. The long cuff may be attached and the sleeves finished to the wrist. A veiling, chiffon, soft silk or Swiss may be developed in this way, the medium size calling for 2 3-4 yards of 27 inch goods.

6800.—Sizes 32 to 42 inches bust.

LACROSSE

THE FIRST GAME.

The first scheduled intermediate lacrosse game will take place at Rosedale grounds, Toronto, on Saturday next when the Peterborough Lacrosse boys will play the Young Torontos. It is expected that a number of supporters and friends of the local club may accompany the boys to Toronto and it is possible that an excursion may be arranged.

The intermediate lacrosse team had a rattling practice at Riverside Park last night in preparation for their game with the Young Torontos at Toronto next Saturday, and with a few more workouts during the week the boys should open the season with a victory. Nearly all the stalwarts will be found on the line-up and the team will be the strongest that has represented Peterborough for several years.

BASEBALL

MEETING POSTPONED

The meeting of the executive of the Intermediate Baseball League, which was to have been held at the Y.M.C.A. last evening, has been postponed until Thursday night at eight o'clock. There was a very small attendance last night, and it is hoped that all the teams in the league will be represented at Thursday night's meeting, as matters of importance will be considered.

THEY MET AN OLD COMRADE

Pleasing Re-union at S. A. Barracks Last Night

An interesting feature of the meeting at the Salvation Army barracks last night when the Territorial Staff Band gave a musical programme was the renewing of an old friendship between a number of former residents of Redding, Eng., who are now in Peterborough, and Adjutant Weekly, who came here in connection with the staff band. In the S.A. band in Peterborough at the present time, there are eight bandsmen, who are former residents of Redding. They left their native town about four years ago, accompanied by their families and at the time they farewelled Adjutant Weekly was stationed at Redding. Of course, all knew him quite well, and the re-union last night was a happy one. Old times were talked about and residents of other days recalled.

Adjutant Weekly is connected with the emigration work of the Army and brought out a party of settlers to Canada a few days ago. This is how he happened to be able to come to Peterborough last night, and he was glad to hear that his countrymen were getting along so well in the land of their adoption.

THREE MONTHS CENTRAL PRISON

Sentence Meted Out to Robt. C. Newman by Police Magistrate

Robert C. Newman, who was arrested on the 26th of May, as a suspicious looking character, and was remanded for two weeks, appeared before His Worship Magistrate Dumble this morning. He pleaded not guilty to the charge of vagrancy but the evidence was so much against him that His Worship gave him six months in Central Prison. P. C. McGarry testified to having seen the prisoner on Sunday, May 26th. The police had been notified of a suspicious looking character being around town. He first went to Darcy's restaurant where he registered and then went out and did not return. He had also slept in barns, and Mr. Kelly and Mr. Flynn testified to his having been around their hotels. He had no place of abode, and was loitering around. One of the Charlotte street stores was entered on the same night as he slept in the barn.

P. C. Newhall testified to having watched him while in plain clothes, and he was doing several sleight of hand tricks. On the night of his arrest he was found near Cavanagh's hotel. P. C. McDonald and Newhall made the arrest. A razor was found on him and he resisted the police. A bottle of cocaine was also found on him and when he arrived at the station, he was very nervous, from the effects of it.

The prisoner told his story of how he happened to be in Peterborough. He came here from Hastings, on Sunday, May 26th. He had only been there two days, going there from Belleville. He was in Belleville for about a month. He was addicted to the use of cocaine and paid five dollars for a small bottle of it in Belleville. His home is in Denver, Colorado, but he came to Canada from Albany, N.Y. He has been travelling around since he was a boy and was only home for two days, three years ago. He is a cigar maker by trade, but in New York, he was a trick bicycle rider, and was also a prize fighter in Michigan, and stated that he fought men from Toronto and several other cities. He considered that His Worship had given him a hard sentence. He was willing to go to work and could have got a job with a local cigar maker.

His Worship said that his term would be a good chance to wear off the effects of cocaine.

Cornelius Wall was also charged with vagrancy and was remanded until tomorrow morning. He has been hanging around the streets all hours of the night and sleeping in a boat house. He hasn't been working for some time and has been acting very suspiciously. Whenever he sees a policeman he runs.

Wm. McPherson, a pal of Wall's, was also charged with vagrancy. He hails from Omemee. His Worship told him to get back there as quickly as he could. He would be arrested at sight if seen around. "I won't be long in getting out," he said, and off he went.

BETTER THAN SPANKING

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W. 62, Windsor, Ont., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are, it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

Bancroft People Are Badly Scared

Strangers in That District are Still Looked on With Suspicion

A travelling agent for a separator company returned home from Bancroft the other day, after spending a couple of weeks in the district, where recently the three desperadoes ran amuck and almost frightened to death the inhabitants of that tranquil hamlet. He states that since the occurrence the villagers have no heart for strangers, and they are all eyed with suspicion.

One day he was going out about four miles into the country on business, and seeing a farmer, who lived beyond this objective point, preparing to leave, also began walking in the hopes of obtaining a ride. The farmer was driving a team of horses attached to a democrat, and had, therefore, plenty of room. But the agricultural man refused to take any chances and remained deaf to the solicitation of the agent, who was forced to travel on foot.

Windows and doors of the residences and stables in Bancroft are now strongly bolted at night. It is stated that it is almost impossible to gain admittance after night, so great is the fear of the return of the dauntless three.

It is also stated that the report that the Bancroft constable was shot in the nose is untrue. It is generally known there that he was struck with a boot from the hand of one of the robbers. Shots were fired, but only to scare and not to kill

How Orchard Plotted to Dynamite Boarding House.

Witness Added Card Sharping to His Other Accomplishments—Adams May Give Strong Evidence—Defence Gets Little Help—Skeletons of Non-Union Miners Discovered—Orchard Shows No Sign of Fatigue.

Boise, Idaho, June 12.—When the Haywood trial was resumed here yesterday at 9.35 a.m. Harry Orchard continued his testimony.

Attorney Richardson continued to question the witness about the attempts he made upon the life of Fred Bradley in San Francisco. Orchard said he roomed near the Bradley home, being able to overlook it from his bedroom window. He had bought some dynamite for a bomb before the attempt to poison Bradley with strychnine in the milk failed.

Orchard thought it was the Judson Powder Company that he bought the explosive from.

Asked the appearance of the clerk who waited on him Orchard said he was youngish looking.

In buying the powder Orchard was required to give his name. He could not remember what name it was a fictitious one. As an excuse for buying ten pounds of dynamite, Orchard told the clerk he wanted to blow out some stumps on his ranch.

"Don't you know there are no stumps within 150 miles of San Francisco?" demanded Richardson.

"I know that there are—I've seen them on the way to Caliente Springs."

Orchard gave as nearly as he could a description of the various places where he had lived while in San Francisco.

He could not remember the names of the streets or the numbers of the houses.

Next Orchard told of a pleasure trip he had taken to Caliente Springs while waiting for Bradley to return from Alaska.

"Playing cards while there?"

"Yes."

"You were a card sharp?"

"No sir."

Orchard was living near the presido when he bought the dynamite for the Bradley bomb. He did not remember whether he took a box of giant caps to San Francisco or bought them at the Judson Company. Orchard kept the dynamite in his room and took it with him when he moved to 1,326 Washington Street, within half a block of the Bradley home.

What Will Adams Say?

There is much speculation as to what Steve Adams will say when placed on the stand as a witness for the State against William D. Haywood. Orchard has said that Adams was his partner in many of his most desperate undertakings, such as the blowing up of the Independence Depot. Adams, who came to Boise Monday from Shoshone County, where he is awaiting trial for murder, is said to be in a sullen mood, and not likely to answer any of the questions. It is known that his repudiated confession is in the hands of counsel for the prosecution of Haywood, but it is doubtful if this confession can be brought within the cognizance of the jury, unless Adams himself consents. Mrs. Minnie Adams, who has been in Boise since the trial began, and who is in daily attendance at the court-room, saw her husband at the county jail last night. Mrs. Adams is credited with much influence over her husband. It was at her solicitation, it is said, that he repudiated the confession he made last year. He went so far after making the confession as to travel to Colorado with General Bulkeley Wells, and report has it that under the direction of Adams, evidence was discovered that cleared up the mysteries of the several disappearances. Skeletons of non-union miners, who were believed to have been killed, but the proof of whose death had never been found, were discovered.

Another Charge of Murder.

It is said that should Adams be acquitted of the murder for which he is yet to stand trial, the Colorado authorities will requisition the Governor of Idaho, and will try him on the charge of the murder of Collins. There is some belief that Adams may yet repeat his alleged confession. Counsel for the prosecution say that they are not depending upon Adams to confirm Orchard, but that they have a sufficiency of corroborative testimony.

Harry Orchard goes on for his fourth day of cross-examination. He shows not the slightest sign of fatigue. On the contrary, he grows apparently stronger, clearer and more unshakable every minute. Even counsel for the defence admit that he is a marvel.

Yesterday he completed his story of the attempt to kill Fred Bradley, formerly manager and now president of the Bunker Hill Mine, which was blown up by the striking miners in 1899. The prosecution attaches much importance to this part of Orchard's testimony. A number of witnesses are here from San Francisco to testify in support of the attempt on Bradley's life.

Orchard Strengthens Story.

As in the rest of his cross-examination, Orchard under the fire of questions, has only strengthened his direct testimony as to the San Francisco story. He is going into the most minute detail and has given the names of a dozen people who can confirm or deny. For instance, he has said where he bought the strychnine for the milk, where he bought the gunpowder, how and where he got the money from Pettibone, and the names of the servants. He took the cook to the theatre, he said, in order to find out from her the habits of the household, and as the climax of his dramatic rehearsal he told how he placed the strychnine in the milk that by his own admission might have poisoned a baby, the mother, three women servants, and Fred Bradley Orchard will be on the stand under cross-examination at least until the close of the afternoon session, and it is possible that Mr. Richardson will not conclude until to-day.

In fact, there is an idea that one of the purposes of the close and exhaustive detail is to wear the witness out, but unless all signs fail, Orchard will be the last man to give way under the strain.

WILL FIGHT THE GOVERNMENT.

Irish Party to Punish Liberals For Rejecting Home Rule.

London, June 12.—At a meeting of the Irish Parliamentary party in the House of Commons yesterday, it was decided to fight the Government both in the House and in the constituencies, in order to punish the Liberals for failure to give Ireland a broader measure of home rule than contained in the rejected Irish council bill.

After the meeting had adjourned, John E. Redmond, in behalf of the Irish party, issued a long statement, concluding as follows:

"Another proof has been afforded that home rule cannot be won by a policy of conciliation alone. It can be won only by hard fighting, vigorous agitation in Ireland, and active, disciplined party in the House of Commons, a thorough organization of the Irish vote in Great Britain and its use, absolutely independent of English party interests, to push forward the cause of home rule by taking every opportunity and every means offered in Ireland and in Great Britain to force upon public attention the grievances Ireland has suffered, and the ruinous effects of British rule in that country."

BROTHERS MAY LEAVE.

Separate Schools Are Likely to Be Short of Teachers.

Ottawa, June 12.—There is a possibility of the Christian Brothers of Ottawa removing from this city, and even from the Province of Ontario, on account of the decision that they must qualify for teachers by passing the same examinations as other teachers.

Though this is not formally stated in a communication forwarded to the separate school board, for consideration to-night, it is understood that if the law be strictly applied the board may have this decision presented to it.

This would mean a heavy blow, as the brotherhood furnishes the teaching staff in St. Jean Baptiste, Guiges, Garneau and Breboeuf schools, forty teachers in all.

Hostilities Break Out.

Mexico City, June 12.—Hostilities have broken out in Central America. Nicaraguans, assisted by Salvadorean revolutionists, captured Acajutla, Salvador, yesterday morning.

This news came to the capital in a telegram from President Faguerea to Salvadorean Minister Manuel Delagado. The Minister is now closeted with President Diaz. Nicaraguans on the gunboat Homotombo bombarded the fort and then landed troops at Acajutla. The town is now in the hands of Nicaraguan General Manuel Rivas.

It is believed the objective point of the expedition is San Jose de Guatemala, and that President Zolaya of Nicaragua has declared war against Guatemala.

Penman Mills May Close.

Montreal, June 12.—The Penman Manufacturing Co.'s factory at St. Hyacinthe is likely to be closed as a result of the strike of their employes. The manager posted a notice giving them till Wednesday to return; if not, the mill will be closed for three months.

The management granted a partial increase in wages, but the employes demanded more.

Edward John Routh, S.C.D., Cambridge, is dead in London. He was a famous mathematical coach.

AMERICA'S EX-CHAMPION WRESTLER says:

"After my great wrestling match with J. Mellor, of Staleybridge, at the Crystal Palace, England, for the International Championship, I was covered with cuts and bruises. I applied my favorite balm, Zam-Buk, and in a marvellously short time the abrasions and cuts were healed and I was fit and well again. At another time I had a piece of flesh almost torn completely off my arm above the elbow. I anticipated being unable to do anything with the arm for a long time. To my delight, however, Zam-Buk closed up the wound in two days. In three days it was covered with new skin, and a few days after, there was no trace of the injury. I recommend Zam-Buk for cuts, bruises or skin injuries of any kind.

Yours truly,
HUGH LANNON.

The above testimony given by Mr. Lannon when visiting Toronto shows the great value of Zam-Buk for injuries received in out-door sport.

Baseball, Football and Lacrosse Players should always keep Zam-Buk handy. It prevents cuts and injuries "taking the wrong turn." It stops the pain and smarting, and heals. It is also an excellent embrocation, curing stiffness, sprains, twists, etc. Used and recommended by Sherring, the Marathon winner; Madrali, the world's second greatest wrestler, etc.

INSURANCE DECREASES.

Work of Commission Has Had Considerable Effect.

Ottawa, June 12.—The returns of the life insurance companies for the year 1906, as furnished to the Department of Finance, shows that the commission of enquiry in Canada and in the States into insurance methods and the uncertainty created thereby has reacted to a considerable degree upon the business, not alone of the American companies, but of the Canadian companies as well.

The amount of new insurance taken up last year in the Canadian companies was $62,699,343, which represents a decrease of $4,839,798, as against 1905. The business of the American companies, however, is even worse hit. The new insurance effected by them last year was $28,093,484, which is $6,392,831 less than it was the year before.

In the business of fire insurance, the Canadian companies show net cash receipts from premiums of $8,674,135, and losses paid to the amount of $6,667,277.

WILL NOT DISCRIMINATE.

Great Britain Will Secure Same Advantages As Germany.

London, June 12.—Foreign Secretary Grey informed the House of Commons yesterday that the United States had officially assured His Majesty's Government that he did not wish to make the administration provisions of the German commercial agreement the basis for discrimination against any other state, and was willing to apply them to Great Britain if she so desired.

The secretary added that he was communicating with the board of trade, with the view of making the necessary arrangements.

Sir Edward Grey later announced that negotiations with the United States, the nature of which he was unable to disclose, were proceeding under section 3 of the Dingley Act.

Replying to questions on the subject, the secretary said he hoped to secure for Great Britain the same advantages as Germany had derived.

Crew's Narrow Escape.

St. John, N. B., June 12.—The American schooner Alma, lath loaded, sprang a leak in the Bay of Fundy, six miles off this city yesterday, and filling, lurched to one side and upset. A gale was blowing and a steamer passing saw the crew clinging to a portion of the deckload on the vessel's side, and offered assistance, but the crew refused to leave. Finally the gale got so bad they were glad to leave when another steamer came along.

Timber Lands Fire Swept.

Toronto, June 12.—Word was received yesterday by the Provincial Lands Department that forest fires had broken out in the Townships of Sheble and Parpoonge, on the Port Arthur, Duluth and Western Railway. These townships are partly settled, but the greater part is covered with jackpine. Deputy Minister White had no information as to how serious the fires are, but expects more news to-day.

Second Child Drowned.

Brockville, June 12.—Margaret Lafaver, the three-year-old daughter of C. J. Lafaver, who resides up the river, strayed from home to the bank of the stream, where she fell in and was drowned.

This makes the second drowning accident visited upon the family in a year, the other being the loss of a son, aged 10.

Dr. Hermann Schmidt, of Berlin, has secured a specific for spinal meningitis.

MAN SHOT AT TORONTO

Restaurant Keeper Deliberately Murdered With Revolver.

Victim Was Edward Wandle—Assailant a Negro Named Boyd Was Insanely Jealous—Accused Deceased of Harboring His Alleged Wife—Had Altercation, Pursued Victim Upstairs and Killed Him.

Toronto, June 12.—Following a quarrel with Edward Wandle over a woman, John Boyd bought a revolver and, forcing his way into an upper room of Wandle's restaurant, on York street, where Wandle was hiding, deliberately shot him. The tragedy occurred about 2.15. Boyd left the place and was arrested a few minutes later on York York street, when he quietly handed the revolver over to the police. He is charged with murder. Coroner G. W. Graham opened an inquest this morning.

The trouble, which culminated in the shooting, is said to have been brewing for some days. Yesterday morning, about 11 o'clock, Boyd went to the restaurant looking for the woman in the case. She is white, but has been living with Boyd for two or three years. Boyd got into an altercation with Wandle, and was ejected. Wandle followed him on his wheel, and, hailing P. C. Latremouille, told him that Boyd was annoying him. The constable offered to arrest Boyd but Wandle would not press the matter.

Boyd Came Back.

Boyd was again at the restaurant shortly after noon.

Several people had dropped into the place. Wandle was busy with dinner when Boyd walked hurriedly into the store, looked round and called out: "Where is my wife?"

With that Wandle came from behind a curtain in the rear, but immediately went back. Boyd followed and had hot words with the proprietor for fully 10 or 15 minutes. He then left in anger.

At 2 o'clock, or thereabouts, he returned. Wandle saw him and dashed through the door leading to the hallway, just south of his place of business. He ran to the top of the first stairs, turned, and went up the stairs leading to the second flat.

At the first open door, where Mrs. Isaacs has three rooms, he took refuge in an inner apartment, crouching under a table. Boyd came up to the top floor excitedly and forced his way into the inner-room, where his victim crouched, trembling with fear, and a shot was heard.

Boyd walked calmly down the stairs, out to the doorway, where he paused to roll a cigarette. Out into the street he went, towards a lane.

First Shot Fatal.

Wandle was struck in the neck, just above the collar-bone, and was instantly killed. He fell in the doorway. Another bullet lodged in the wall to the left of the doorway.

Little is known of Boyd, except that he is said to have come from Indianapolis three or four years ago.

Wandle was a man of good character. He came to the city with his wife from Whitby more than twenty years ago.

Upon Boyd, when he was searched, was found a Crown Bank book, showing a balance to his credit of $10.50, and a withdrawal yesterday of $10.

Second-Hand Revolver.

Boyd purchased the revolver with which the shooting was done at Singer's second-hand shop, at Queen and York streets, for $3, going from there to the Warren Sporting Goods store, where he purchased a box of cartridges. He asked the clerk who waited on him to load the revolver, which was not done. All chambers of the revolver, a cheap German five-shooter, were fouled, but no empty shells were found.

Looks Like Suicide.

Woodstock, N. B., June 12.—Mrs. J. B. Brewer left home Monday night and has not been seen since. Fire alarms sounded when the rest of the family missed her and late yesterday her clothes were found on the bank of the river nearby.

The body is believed to have been carried down stream.

Laurier Sails July Fifth.

London, June 12.—The Canadian Associated Press learns that Laurier will return to Canada per the Allan liner Victorian, leaving Liverpool on July 5.

This, the C. A. P. believes, is a month earlier than Sir Wilfrid intended returning.

Conductor In Trouble.

St. Thomas, June 12.—Conductor J. McNichol of Windsor will be arrested on a charge of criminal neglect. McNichol was the conductor in charge of the Wabash theatrical special which collided with the C. P. R. train at the diamond near this city on Aug. 24, 1906.

Canadian Clover First.

London, June 12.—Experiments at Kilmarnock with red clover resulted in the Canadian variety being easily first, yielding 298 cwt. of green produce per acre. This is described as extraordinary success.

The Congregational Union of Canada, will meet next year in Emmanuel church, Montreal.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

Author of "When Lovely Maiden Stoops to Folly," "A Cruel Revenge," "The Heiress of Cameron Hall," "Ione," "Parted at the Altar," Etc.

In vain they chafed the little white hands and blue-veined temples. The fluttering breath grew fainter and fainter. Kindly hands unfastened the amber satin dress she wore, and took from the twining golden curls the pale roses that clustered among them, laying her on the lace-draped couch, and a physician was quickly summoned.

When he heard the moans and bitter sighs that quivered on the pale lips of the miserable young bride, he knew perfectly well it was not a case for drugs.

"Who could minister to a mind diseased?" He left her a quieting compound, and recommended that her husband should be sent for.

In vain messengers were sent here and there for him. Waldemar Waldron was not to be found. That evening, while strangers gathered around Reine's pillow—who had summoned the physician again, for she was growing rapidly worse—at the selfsame moment the physician was gravely counting the strokes of Reine's pulse, solemnly shaking his head, while those around her were weeping silently—at that moment Waldemar Waldron was seated at the head of a banquet table, odorous with the breath of roses, making a speech of welcome to the gay, piquant opera singer whose dashing beauty had taken New York by storm, and in whose honor he had given this elegant supper.

It was three days ere the notion occurred to him that it was about time to return home to Reine.

He quite expected a storm of reproaches and tears as he entered his wife's pretty blue-and-gold morning-room. The slender, girlish form he expected to see was not there. He ran lightly up the stairs to her boudoir. She was seated, in a white cashmere wrapper, before the fire, gazing thoughtfully at the pictures the glowing coals made.

She was looking wofully thin and pale and dull. She greeted him gravely, answering his questions when he spoke to her, in clear, steady tones.

He would not believe that she had been ill.

"It was quite an ingenious little story to greet him with," he declared, "but she could not make him believe it."

He never did credit it—not until the doctor sent in his little bill, days after.

"I had intending taking you to a grand concert to-night," he said. "I secured the tickets already."

"We cannot go, Waldemar, because I am so ill," she said plaintively.

"If you choose to stay at home, that will not alter my intention," he said, brusquely. "I shall go all the same."

And, without a word of compassion or pity for her illness, he left the house again—left her alone in her pitiful despair. Only the angels knew what she suffered in the hours that followed, while her husband was thoroughly enjoying the lights and music at the grand concert, amusing himself by scanning the prettiest faces in the audience.

There was one lady whom Waldron had introduced to Reine to whom she had taken a decided dislike, much to her husband's annoyance.

"Mrs. Smith wants to be fast friends with you," he declared, with a frown one day,—"what's the reason you don't like her?"

"I do not know, Waldemar," she returned, slowly, "there is something about her—not quite—congenial."

The frown deepened on his face.

"She is not an educated lady," she went on; "her manners are quite vulgar, and—she paints her face."

Her husband laughed long and loud at that.

"I do not like her lady friends whom she brings here with her, any more than I like herself—they actually seem to have lived in a different world from me—I do not understand them."

Again Waldron laughed loud and long, although Reine could not see anything particularly amusing in what she had said.

"I have invited Mrs. Smith to accompany us to the opera," he said; "see that you treat her well—she don't like your cold way—mind, she's not to be slighted."

"It would not be agreeable to me to have her accompany us, Waldemar," said Reine; "you ought certainly to have consulted me before asking her."

"Nonsense," he declared. "She's the rage of New York—there's not a man but—" he stopped short, and looked a little embarrassed, Reine thought—"but," he added, after stopping to cough slightly, "but would be delighted to have her in their box—with his wife."

Reine sighed, telling herself silently that the presence of Mr. Smith would spoil her pleasure of hearing "Norma."

"I invited her here to dine with us," he explained, "thinking that would please you."

Mrs. Smith arrived late, and when she had thrown off her wraps, Reine looked at her in amazement,—her style of costume was a little peculiar. Mrs. Smith evidently observed it. She said, nonchalantly.

"I came prepared to go to the opera,—we must go early, my dear Mrs. Waldron. It is to be a gala night; there will be quite a crush of all the upper crust of New York—all the elite I mean."

Reine did not reply.

Very soon Waldemar joined them, and it almost seemed to Reine her husband actually forgot her presence, he was so engrossed in bandying jokes—yes, jokes—with the golden haired Mrs. Smith.

For a few moments after dinner, Reine found herself alone with her husband,—she hurried to his side with a pale, perturbed face.

"Oh, Waldemar;" she cried in distress, "I cannot go to the opera with Mrs. Smith in that—that dress. I—I—should died of mortification."

"What is the matter with it?" he demanded. "I thought it was something stunning."

Reine's face flushed in dismay—"I should think you would see for yourself, Waldemar," she murmured,—"there—there is not much—to—to—the waist."

"Hump" sneered Waldron, "that's only your prudish taste. That's called decollette by women of fashion I should think you would know that."

"I call it by another name, Waldemar," she replied; "it is—immodest. I—I—think I should die of shame if I had to sit beside Mrs. Smith in that dress."

"Don't make a fool of yourself, Reine," he cried, seizing her arm roughly. "Don't dare tell Mrs. Smith that; you would make an enemy of her for life."

"Well, what if I do?" she answered, spiritedly.

"You would rue it to the last day of your life," he hissed. "You shall go to the opera with her and make yourself as agreeable as you know how."

Reine went, but it was with one of the heaviest of hearts. As she had expected, all the lorgnettes in the house were repeatedly turned to their box. Reine shrank behind the silken curtains. Mrs. Smith seemed to enjoy this close scrutiny hugely.

It was a great relief to Reine when the long evening was over, and they were en route home.

"I never enjoyed myself so well in all my life," declared Mrs. Smith, enthusiastically, as she parted from Reine. "It was a grand social triumph for me."

Those words puzzled Reine for long hours afterward. She was to know the meaning of them all too soon. On the day following this event a lady called, whose friendship Reine prized highly.

She greeted Reine with a grave face, and during the course of the conversation, the lady brought around the subject of the opera of the previous evening.

"I saw you in your box, Mrs. Waldron," she said, "but—for the moment, I could hardly persuade myself that it really was your box."

"Why?" asked Reine, smiling.

"I do not know as I should speak about it; still, I feel it is my duty to enlighten you, my dear," returned the lady. "Please remember it is only the friendly interest I feel in you that forces me as it were, to speak; to put it plainly, the person who was with you, is a creature no lady who values her reputation can be seen speaking to. Of course you did not know: she is a near neighbor and appears to be a woman of wealth, but ah, my dear, such as she are the world's sharks. I pray you, close your doors against her. Do you comprehend me?"

Reine was too shocked for utterance.

"I told my husband from the very first I did not like Mrs. Smith," she said.

"Smith!" cut in Reine's friend; "why, my dear, that is not her name, she is called the notorious Madame Eglantine. She has wealth and beauty that a princess might envy, but good women shun her as they would a scorpion."

"It is so strange that my husband did not know," said innocent Reine; "but then we have not been long in New York city."

"Very strange," repeated the lady; and she soon after took her leave, congratulating herself as she rolled away in her carriage, that she had opened Mrs. Waldron's eyes to what was going on; it was her duty to do so.

Quite shocked, Reine sat down before the fire, thinking the matter over.

Wife-like, the moment Waldemar came in she told him of what she had heard.

"It isn't true," he declared, a dull, red flush suffusing his face. "If you believe all these tattling old busybodies have to say, you would have enough to do. Why, when a pack of them get together, they'd blast the reputation of the Virgin Mary if they could. Mrs. Smith is a gay young widow; these homely old women are simply jealous of her, that's all."

"Is her name Mrs. Smith, or Madame Eglantine, Waldemar?" she asked, firmly, "and how did you come to know her?"

DOUBLE BIGAMY CHARGE.

Wife Is Triumphant Over Her Husband's Punishment.

New York, June 12.—Facing two pretty women, each of whom claimed him as her husband, yet spurned him despite his appeals for mercy, Isadore Braun, said to be a prosperous merchant of Montreal, was committed to the Tombs Prison yesterday by Magistrate Moss, in default of $1,500 bail, to await further examination.

The charge against Braun is bigamy, and a strange story was unfolded in court to substantiate it. At the same time that Braun was taken over to the Tombs, here went with him one of his wives, Jolan Friedman, 24 years old, who gives her home address as 646 Clark street, Montreal.

She is charged with becoming the wife of a man, although she knew him to be already a husband.

Mrs. Irma R. Braun, the first wife of the prisoner, was in court, and was triumphant when Braun and Mrs. Friedman-Braun were taken over to the Tombs.

CATTLE WAR IN IRELAND.

Posse of Police Stoned—Firearms Used In Skirmish.

Dublin, June 12.—The grazing war is spreading rapidly and becoming popular.

The most serious affair thus far was near Athenry, Galway, at midnight Monday. A large posse of police opposed a crowd of persons who were driving cattle off a farm. The people stoned the officers, several of the latter being badly hurt, and the sergeant in command ordered the posse to fire. The latter fired repeated volleys at the crowd, and the raiders returned the fire, finally compelling the officers to retreat, when the graziers finished their raid.

Two or three farmhouses have been fired into at night recently.

The general sympathy of the masses is with the people, even in the case of many public officials, which fact ties the Government's hands.

Shot and Burned.

Gibbs Landing, La., June 12.—Jas. Wilson, a 22-year-old negro, was shot to death and his body burned near here Saturday night, for attempted assault upon the daughter of a planter.

Cabrera Still Lives.

Guatemala City, June 12.—Foreign Minister Barrios yesterday said "the reports that President Cabrera has been assassinated are false. The president is enjoying his usual health."

Eleven Men Injured.

Philadelphia, June 12.—Eleven men were injured, two seriously, yesterday by the falling of an elevator in the coal shute of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Co. at Port Richmond.

LOWERED FRENCH FLAG.

Mayors Resign Throughout Country—Gendarmes Called Out.

Montpelier, France, June 12.—After the announcement of the resignation of the municipal council here on Monday evening in connection with the wine growers' program, the arrest of a youth for carrying a banner bearing the inscription: "March on Paris; Long Live the Revolution," led to serious disorder. Hussars were called out and charged the people repeatedly. A number of persons were injured, and calm was only restored by the release of the prisoner.

Narbonne, France, June 12.—In the presence of an enormous crowd Monday night the mayor announced publicly that a civil strike had begun, and hauled down the flag of France from the city hall, replacing it with a long crepe streamer.

The discontent caused among the men of the 100th Regiment of Infantry by their confinement to barracks for the last five Sundays, on account of the wine growers' manifestations, was brought to a head Monday night by a dispute between the privates and the non-commissioned officers, who tried to pull down men from a wall whence they were cheering passing trains loaded with wine growers going to Montpelier.

The soldiers informed their colonel that they absolutely refused to march against their friends and relatives.

Mayors Resign Seats.

Paris, June 12.—Up to a late hour Monday night no change had been recorded in the situation growing out of the movement on the part of the wine growers, and the news received from the south shows that a number of mayors are carrying out their resolve to resign, with calmness and determination. No disorders, however, have been reported.

Stabbed His Neighbor.

Ottawa, June 12.—High Constable Groulx of Hull is having an interesting chase over the Gatineau Valley in an attempt to locate Charles Dubois, a farmer, of North Wakefield, who is alleged to have entered the home of a farmer named Sandy McMillan, and, while drunk, stabbed McMillan with a hunting-knife in eight places.

Earthquake In Ecuador.

Guayaquil, Ecuador, June 12.—A violent earth shock of considerable duration was felt in this city at 5.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and caused panic among the people.

The quake is attributed to the activity of Mount Cotopaxi, which is throwing out great quantites of stones.

Operator Killed by Train.

Woodstock, N. B., June 12.—Warren Law, one of the best known operators on the C. P. R. in this province, and lately of the Baltimore & Ohio, was killed yesterday morning by a train. He leaves a widow and one child.

Shipyard on Fire.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 12.—The plant of the Canadian Shipbuilding Co. at Fort Erie, Ont., is on fire, and from all indications will be totally destroyed.

Steve Adams has arrived at Boise, Idaho, and is emphatic in his declarations that Harry Orchard is a monumental liar.

LAD SHOT WHILE PLAYING.

Ball Struck Gun Setting It Off With Fatal Results.

Fenelon Falls, June 12.—Elmer Byrnell, about 16 years of age, son of Mrs. William Byrnell, who lives on the outskirts of the village, was out shooting crows with a cousin, Rupert Byrnell, and on coming home laid the gun on the grass near the house. The two boys commenced to play ball. One of them missed the ball, which struck the gun, setting it off. The gun was charged with buckshot, one of which entered Elmer's abdomen.

Murdered as a Spy.

St. Petersburg, June 12.—The body of a youth found yesterday in a wood in the suburbs of St. Petersburg, with his throat cut and face unrecognizably mutilated, has led to the discovery of an open air bomb factory with a large quantity of explosives near by.

It is supposed that the young man was executed by fellow-terrorists as a spy.

Sir Frederick Borden returneed to Ottawa on Saturday from attending the Colonial Conference.

HINTS ON HOME BUILDING.

The man who is thinking of building a home (and who is not, in these prosperous times) must have prominently in mind, economy, durability and appearance.

The wise builder will select materials that are good and inexpensive, as well as handsome in appearance. Take the roof, for instance. It should be proof against lightning, fire and water, and should also possess a handsome appearance.

Wood shingles have had their day. As now manufactured, they soon rot and crack, thus making it necessary to reshingle.

"Safe Lock" Galvanized Steel Shingles solve the problem in every way. They lock at the top, bottom and both sides, so that they are absolutely proof against every element. Being heavily galvanized, they cannot rust and are practically indestructible. Moreover, the smooth surface of the shingle will not permit dust or dirt to lodge on the roof, and defile the rain water.

The Metal Shingle & Siding Co., Limited, of Preston, Ont., offer to send you, free, their literature containing names of those who have used "Safe Lock" Shingles in your own locality. 47

EVENTS OF THE DAY

A steel plant to employ 600 hands is about to be established at Walkerville, it is said.

The man killed on the G. T. R. tracks near Galt station has not yet been identified.

A large bull buffalo broke loose from the enclosure at Elk Park, Lamont, and is now roaming the prairies.

It is useless to imagine that a child can play without coming in contact with a great deal of dirt, and the only way to preserve his apparel is by jumpers or jumper overalls. Some very practical overalls in jumper style are sketched and intended for both the boy and girl. These combine the good features of the two garments, being full enough at the bottom to include the dress and undergarments and slip on easily, and finished like overalls at the top so as to be easily made and laundered. A button at each side below the waist and two at the upper edge in front which hold the suspenders serve as fastening. A durable stuff is desirable for their development, crash, denim or percale being suggested. For the medium size 1 1-2 yards of 36 inch material are needed.

YOUNG MASHERS SAT UPON HARD

Fined $5 for Being Too Familiar With Young Ladies

At today's police court— Vincent Elliott was fined five dollars, to be paid forthwith, or ten days in gaol, for assaulting Katie Whitley on Sunday night, June 9th. He pleaded not guilty. Miss Whitley swore that she lived on Barnardo Avenue. Sunday night she and her sister were returning from church, going up George street. At Smith street the defendant asked her; "If she wished company." She told him "no." There was another boy with him. The witness and her sister turned around to go down town again and the boys followed them, and kept shoving two or three little boys who were with them up against the ladies. At Antrim street Elliott put his arm in Miss Whitley's. Further down the street they met a policeman and he accompanied them until they met their father, who escorted them the rest of the way home. Mabel Whitley corroborated her sister's story.

Elliot did not go into the box. His Worship stated that young ladies were entitled to go home without being annoyed by young blackguards forcing their company on them. He imposed the above fine, and hoped it would be a warning to others who had similar inclinations.

Fenelon Falls Boys Dangerously Wounded

A Fenelon Falls despatch says;

Three boys of the name of Byrnell two brothers and a cousin, were out hunting for crows yesterday. Tiring of that sport they laid the gun on the ground while they indulged in a game of catch with a baseball. A ball which the catcher failed to stop passed on, and is supposed to have struck the gun, which lay a short distance away, charged with buckshot, causing it to go off. It wounded the eldest of the three boys in the abdomen and leg. He is the 17-year-old son of Widow Byrnell and is dangerously wounded. His cousin, Robert Byrnell, is also wounded in the wrist, two grains of shot having struck him there.

Doctors will try to locate the bullets today if the boys are able to stand the ordeal.

When They Opened Cage Door Little Bird Used its Wings

There have been a number of burglaries lately, and in most cases the perpetrators succeeded in getting away with some money or other articles, but the one that occurred yesterday is different from the ordinary burglary, and not quite so serious.

An east city lady was in a state of consternation and was running around t other neighbors, telling them of how one of her bird cages had been robbed and one of her canaries taken. The cages were hung outdoors on the shed, and while the lady was attending to her household duties the robbery took place. Later when she went to see the birds, she was surprised to see that one of the cages had been broken open and a valuable songster gone. She then started to search for it, but few persons she asked knew anything of it. She was sure it was a piano agent who stole it, for he had been admiring the feathered beauties. She came to the police station and told her story.

After she had returned home and all hopes of getting her bird were given up, the guilty parties came around with the bird. Two mischievous boys had done the deed during the afternoon, and when supper time came grew tired of their pet and returned it to the owner, and though the lady was very angry at what they had done, she thanked them. Needless to say, she was overjoyed to have her canary again, and the young rascals were forgiven.

The Territorial Staff Band's First Visit to Peterborough

Large Crowd at the Salvation Army Barracks—Excellent Programme of Instrumental and Vocal Music

The first visit of the Canadian Territorial Staff Band to Peterborough was a decided success. The visitors are all young, fine looking fellows and they are excellent musicians. They arrived on the 7.30 C.P.R. train and were met at the station by the local band and soldiers, who accompanied them through the streets to the barracks. The procession came up George street to Simcoe and east to Water, up Water to Hunter and back to George, thence down to Simcoe and then to the barracks. Both bands rendered selections which were greatly appreciated by the people who lined the streets.

At the barracks a grand musical festival was held in which the staff band under the leadership of Major Morris, rendered the following programme:—

March—"The 1907 Prize March, No. 1," (B.J. 533.)

Vocal solo—"The New Recruit." Adjutant Gillam.

Selection—"Irish Melodies," (B.J. 538.) Staff band.

Euphonium Solo—"Vain, Delusive World, Adieu. Capt. E. Pugmire.

Song—"March On," Staff band male choir.

March—"The Indian March," B.J. 529.)

Recitation—"Breaking off by Degrees," Capt. Hanagan.

Selection— "Hallelujah," (B.J. 531) Staff band.

Cornet Solo—"The Song that reached my Heart," Major Morris.

Selection—"Mercy" (B.J. 534) Staff Band.

Vocal Solo— selected, Capt. Mardall.

March— "The 1907 Prize March, No. 2" (B.J. 536) Staff band.

Song—"Hark the Voice of Jesus Calling," Staff band.

Selection.—"Songs of Praise," (B.J. 516) Staff band.

Hymn—"Wareham" (B.B. 20).

The chair was taken by His Worship Mayor McWilliams, who in a very fine speech expressed his personal pleasure at being present and extended staff band and officers a hearty welcome to Peterborough on behalf of the citizens generally. He was glad that the band had come to the city and wished them every success on their trip and hoped that they would give General Booth a royal send off at Quebec on Friday.

In reply Major Morris thanked the Mayor for his kind words and the people of Peterborough for their attendance. The Staff Band is on its way to Montreal where it will give a concert this evening and on Friday it will give General Booth a send off at Quebec. The General has just returned from a very successful trip to Japan where he had an audience with the Mikado and several members of the Royal family.

The Canadian Territorial Staff Band, after being out of commission since the last great International Congress London, England, in 1904, where it received most favorable comments from the English public and press, has recently been reorganized by Commissioner Coombs, in command of the Army's work in Canada and Newfoundland. This Band is composed of officers and employees attached to the Headquarters Staff, Toronto, and the majority occupy positions of importance. The following departments of work are represented:—The Accountants' and Cashiers', Finance, Property, Trade, Social, Immigration, together with members of the Commissioner's and Chief Secretary's Secretarial Staff.

No member of the band receives any monetary benefits, and their services are required every third Sunday for the purpose of conducting meetings in various parts of the Dominion. The music played is composed and arranged by the Army's Musical Department, and the instruments used are manufactured at the factory of the Army in London, England.

The object of the band is strictly evangelistic, and while it aims at a high standard of efficiency, it does not exist for the display of musical ability. The earnestness and sincerity which characterize the spiritual work of the band have already met with gratifying results, and scores of conversions have been the results of their meetings. Salvationists and Christians have been encouraged and the local work has been greatly helped, both spiritually and financially.

After the concert the local band entertained the visitors to a luncheon at the barracks and then a torch light procession was formed and the two bands and many soldiers marched to the C.P.R. station where the Staff band entrained for Montreal.

Among those present were Adjutant Wheatley, who is connected with the immigration department in England. He is well known to many of the soldiers in this city who gave him a hearty welcome. The adjutant came out from the Old Country last week with a large party of immigrants and is now on his way back.

Crop Prospects are Improving

Rains Have Fallen and the Outlook is Brighter

(Special to J. R. Heintz & Co.)

Liverpool, June 11 — Broomhall's weekly foreign crop report says,—

United Kingdom — The weather has improved, but the indications are that the yield will be below last year.

France—The outlook for the crop is favorable with offerings light.

Germany—Crop prospects have improved; foreign grain meets with a quick sale.

Hungary—The outlook for the crop continues to show improvement, but estimates are very low as to the yield of wheat. Some estimate as low as half a crop.

Roumania — Further rains have fallen, and the prospects for the spring crops have improved.

Turkey—Beneficial rains have fallen which have improved the crop outlook.

Russia—The winter wheat crop of the southwest is estimated at fifty per cent. In Poland the crop outlook is rather poor; elsewhere moderate to fair. In the southwest the spring crops have improved; elsewhere the outlook is satisfactory.

Italy—Official reports say that the outlook for the crops is favorable, but an unofficial report places the conditions as moderate.

Spain—The weather is very unsettled and the outlook for the crops less favorable.

India—Our Kurachee agent maintains his previous estimate of an exportable surplus of 29,600,000 bushels.

Four celestials, Lee Guey, Lee Dent, Wing Hong Chuck and Wee Ling Ying, charged with being the keepers of a gambling joint in Hamilton, Ont., were found guilty and fined $100 each.

Is Victoria Park Being Neglected?

Complaints are being made regarding the way Victoria Park is being looked after, or rather, not being looked after. It is alleged that the boys from the Central school play ball in the upper part of the park at noon and at recess, and while doing so the ball often is knocked or thrown down in the lower part of the park, the portion where the grass is kept cut and people are not supposed to walk on the verdant sward. The result is that the beauty of this breathing spot is being marred and the grass is being badly tramped.

Citizens say that more care should be given the park or it will be deprived of much of its attractiveness.

Carters are on Street Corners

Are Not Using the Shelter the Property Committee Provided

A number of citizens today were asking why the carters do not use their shelter. Some months ago the property committee was authorized to spend considerable money fixing up the old shed across from the National hotel. This was especially for the use of the carters, who have for years been standing on street corners and especially at the corner of Simcoe and George streets. The carters are expected to use their shelter, and if they do not, the natural conclusion is that the property committee, who fought so hard for the carters' shelter, should ascertain the reason why.

Citizens should not be made to pay for luxuries for the carters, and still have to put up with the inconvenience of having them lined up in front of their stores.

This morning between nine and ten o'clock five carters were standing on the corner of Simcoe and George streets, waiting for customers to telephone them orders. The place for those carters is in the shelter across from the National hotel.

The Resemblance of These Men

Is Said to be Striking—Messrs. Stratton and Seagram

The Toronto World says;

Joseph E. Seagram, M. P., was walking across the rotunda of the King Edward Hotel last night when a tall man hurried to him, slapped him on the back, with the exclamation;

"I was just looking for you, Mr. Stratton, I want to see you about that little matter."

"I am not Mr. Stratton," replied Mr. Seagram, as he walked away.

J R. Stratton came up from Peterborough last night. After dinner he was enjoying a quiet smoke when a man who was sitting in the next chair leaned over to him and whispered something in his ear.

"My good man I cannot tell you" was Mr. Stratton's reply.

The question the stranger asked was; "Do you think Main Chance can win the Buffalo Derby, Mr Seagram, please."

Budget of News From Lakehurst

Lakehurst, June 12.— The Sunday school convention held at Buckhorn on June 3rd was quite a success. It was largely attended, especially the evening session, by the people of Buckhorn and the surrounding district, and the able addresses given by Mr. Lees and Mr. Burns were greatly enjoyed. The Chemong choir also added to the interest of the evening session.

Mr. Wilbert Elliott is erecting a new drive house, which promises to be a very neat up-to-date building.

Mr. Allen has greatly improved the appearance of his home by giving it a generous coat of paint.

Mrs. Jas. Weir has returned home after spending a few days visiting her daughter, Mrs. Young, of Cordova Mines.

EVERYTHING FOR THE AMATEUR PHOTOGRAPHER

Rip Van Winkle Walked Streets

A local man who had been wandering around town all day with a gun and a dog was arrested this afternoon, charged with being drunk. The fellow certainly had a Buffalo Bill appearance, clad in his hunting togs and created no little amusement. Some thought that Rip Van Winkle had come to life again, but later discovered their error.

Reception Service Was Impressive

Rev. H. M. Manning Delivered Able Address

The Bowmanville Statesman says: The seating capacity of the conference church was taxed at Friday evening's service, which was devoted to the reception of the young men who were to be ordained as ministers of the gospel. The names of Harry H. Cragg, B. A., Edward W. Rowland, and Augustus W. Shaver briefly recited their call to the work and ministry of the church. Rev. H. M. Manning, Peterborough, moved the reception of these young men and Rev. J. P. Wilson, B. A., Belleville, seconded the resolution, both giving addresses of much merit and helpfulness.

THERE ARE OTHERS

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Whenever an Indian gets too much of the (Esh-ko-da-war-bo) fire water, he is from Chemong; no matter if he was from the United States—he is a Chemong Indian, anyway. Last winter, I saw in one of the Peterborough papers, a sentence that they found Chemong Indian Women on the street drunk, and last week's paper said that a Chemong Indian was loaded with fire water and wanted to have a nap in one of the stores in Peterborough. Both of these parties were from east of Peterborough. Now I think you should be more careful in future as we would like to keep up our name as good, in Peterborough.

Yours, etc.,

STOLE FROM THE POLICE OFFICE.

John Beck, an old man who has been roaming about the country, applied for a night's lodging on Thursday last, and he was granted the same. On Saturday he asked to be sent down as a vagrant, but the Chief didn't think this necessary. He was allowed to rest his weary bones in one of the cells on Saturday night and upon his release Sunday morning he visited Chief Bond's office. His ambition was evidently to become a member of the police force for he donned a cap and tunic of Chief Bond's which were hanging in the office and walked to Cobourg. He was arrested there, pleaded not guilty to a charge of stealing and elected to be tried by jury. Chief Bond is in Cobourg today, attending the trial.—Port Hope Guide.

Some Valuable Information On Farmers' Institute Work

How the Institute Can be Made More Useful and Have Greater Influence—No Convention Will be Held at Toronto This Year.

Mr. William Collins, secretary of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute has received the following letter from Superintendent Putman. It contains many valuable pointers and should be read by everyone interested in farming;

Dear Sir.—I beg to place before you as secretary of your local Farmers' Institute, a few points to be brought up at the annual meeting to be held in June.

You will be pleased to know that the Institute meetings last winter were, if we are to judge from reports of delegates and officers, very much appreciated throughout the Province. Many of the older workers reported to the department that they considered the series attended in 1906—7 the most successful in the history of the work. It is true that the attendance in many places was not so large as in some previous years, but the interest was marked, and the discussions most helpful. The special advantages given the delegates in December last, by way of preparation for the winter's work, were found most valuable, and enabled the lecturers to present their subjects in a more systematic and forceful manner.

We regret that very little local assistance is furnished at many of the points visited by delegates. Until an effort is made on the part of the officers and directors of the Institute to furnish local assistance, the greatest good will not be done. When only one meeting a year is held at each place, the amount of information imparted is necessarily very limited; and, if we could only induce the farmers to form themselves into Farmers' Institute Clubs for the discussion of agricultural matters from time to time, throughout the year, much greater good would result than under the present methods. We are pleased to note that a number of local clubs have been formed and that the work carried on has been found most beneficial to the members. We shall send to each director, some time during the summer, a little booklet giving directions as to the formation of such clubs, and are hopeful that, with the coming of the longer fall and winter evenings, some time will be spent by the Institute members in each locality, in the study and discussion of agricultural topics. This will prepare the way for better work being accomplished when the delegates visit the different points during the regular series of meetings.

The results attending meetings of a special nature at which one or two speakers have been in attendance, have been most encouraging. Fruit meetings conducted along this line have been held during the past two or three years, with the result that a number of co-operative associations have been formed, and much information disseminated as to planting, cultivating, pruning, spraying, packing, marketing, etc. During the past winter we have held a number of special dairy meetings—meetings at which dairy subjects and nothing else, were discussed. Then somewhat later in the season, we held, in Eastern Ontario, a series of meetings in the interests of bacon production. These were attended by only one speaker, and only afternoon sessions were held. All in attendance were especially interested in bacon production, and every minute was spent in a profitable way, either in discussing matters directly related to hog production, or in listening to addresses upon that subject.

In order to have such subjects as are of prime importance in the different localities, taken up at all meetings, we are suggesting to the Institutes this year that, instead of giving them the benefit of addresses by only two delegations, we shall be prepared to send specialists in three or four different lines, provided the officers of the Institute think it wise to so arrange the work. Instead of all the supplementary meetings being attended by the same delegates, we would be glad to send special speakers to attend two or three meetings in each riding upon the following or other subjects of interest; "Horse Raising," "Beef Production and Sheep Raising," "Dairy and Bacon Production," "Fruit and Vegetable Growing," "Bee-keeping and Poultry Raising," "Tillage, Rotation and Improvement of Crops."

The advantage in having special meetings of this nature will be that definite announcements can be made as to the subjects to be taken up at the meetings, and it will be generally understood that only one or two topics will be taken up and dealt with, exhaustively. If this method is followed, it will be easier to secure local men to take part in the regular programmes and discussions. The announcement of some local person to take part in the programme usually has the effect of inducing a larger number to attend. Then again, a short, up-to-date, impressive address upon a subject of interest in the locality, followed by a discussion of the same, and the application of general principles to local conditions, is much more beneficial than a mere lecture upon a topic which in many cases is of special interest to only a few of those in attendance, and is followed by but little, if any, discussion.

We would be glad, therefore, to have your directors discuss the wisdom of having special meetings as indicated above, in your riding. We would be glad to know also, whether or not it would be wise to have one or more meetings with only one speaker in attendance, in which case you would require to arrange for sufficient local talent to assist at the two sessions, afternoon and evening, or forenoon and afternoon. In the case of only one delegate, the Institute will, of course, be required to pay for services of only one man and not so much on account of general expenses;—one dollar per meeting for six meetings, instead of $1.50 for six meetings. No charge is made for general expenses beyond six supplementary meetings.

It would be well for the officers of the Farmers' Institute to consult with the Women's Institute officers, with a view to arranging for lady speakers at those points where it is thought well to have such assistance. Where Farmers' and Women's Institute meetings are held on the same date, it is for the most part unnecessary to have two gentlemen delegates. One man, with a little local assistance, can well occupy the time with profit during the afternoon; and two speakers, a man and a woman, together with some local assistance, in the way of addresses and music should answer every purpose for the evening session. We would like to have your directors consider carefully the points at which to hold winter meetings and to indicate the subjects to be taken up at the different points so far as they are able to do so. If your directors are prepared to recommend special meetings such as indicated above, we would be glad to have your recommendations and shall of course give them every consideration. One thing is certain,—we must have more definiteness of purpose in the Institute work. We cannot ask the farmers to go to Institute meetings, when there is an uncertainty as to the subjects to be discussed. In making recommendations as to the points at which special meetings can be held, we wish the officers to arrange the meetings so that the travelling can be done at a minimum of cost.

With reference to literature for Institute members, I may state that we have everything in readiness to send copies of reports to this year's members as they are received from the printer. The Agricultural College report is being sent out now, and the Dairymen's Associations' reports, will be sent out very shortly, then other reports will follow in due course. We have sent copies of recent bulletins to all of last year's members, and to new members for this year. All members whose names have been sent in correctly can rest assured that they will receive copies of all reports, although they may not have received any to date.

NO CONVENTION

After consultation with the Honorable Minister of Agriculture, we have decided that no convention will be held at the time of the Industrial Exhibition this year. We shall have a tent on the fair grounds and shall be pleased to consult with officer and members of Institutes at any time during the Exhibition, but the Department has decided not to undertake to pay the expenses of officers of Institutes to a convention every year. Many of the institute officers and members will, of course, be at the Exhibition, and they will be made welcome at all times, at the Institute tent, where the superintendent will be pleased to consult with them as to Institute work.

Trusting that you may have a successful annual meeting, and fully believing that with the hearty co-operation of the Institute officers, and more thorough and uniform work on the part of the delegates, that even a greater measure of success will attend the meetings of 1907—08 than during the past season I am,

Very truly yours,
GEO. A. PUTNAM.
Superintendent.

Successful Meeting of Court Stanley—Many New Members

A very successful meeting of Court Stanley, No. 7,680, was held in the S. O.E. Hall last night, Bro. Thos. Hendry, C.R., presiding. Seven applications were received for admittance. The Order in this city is going ahead by leaps and bounds, no less than five or six new members being initiated every meeting night, and this without any paid organizers for the A.O.F. The last yearly report showed a net increase in the funds of the Order of $1,510,000 The annual church parade of the lodge here is taking place on the 23rd of June, and the sister Court, Queen Alexandra, has been invited to attend, with Court Stanley, to Knox church, and has accepted the invitation. Rev. H. J. Keith will preach a special sermon to the brethren. There should be a large turnout of members and any visiting Foresters. The sister Court, Queen Alexandra, will hold an excursion on July 1st, to Idyl Wyld on the new steamer Otonabee.

Imigrants Were Catching Bass

But They Didn't Know the Difference Between Them and Catfish

A bunch of Englishmen recently out from the Old Country, and who are staying at one of the large boarding houses went fishing a few days ago. It was the first time any of them had ever thrown a line into the water and the novelty alone was worth any trouble they might go to. The young bucks made enquiries of some of the natives as to a likely spot and finally decided to go over to the mouth of the canal, below the locks, which is a favorite place for mudcats.

There were half a dozen in the party and they were enjoying the outing. Mudcats were what they were after, but not one of them had ever seen one and wouldn't know the difference, if a 'lunge got on the hooks. Nevertheless, all the hooks were bated and dropped into the water; the boys all light their pipes and settled down for a good quiet time. But the fish were running well that day and every little while a nice big catfish was pulled out. Now and again a perch or a sunfish became a victim and one fellow landed a fine bass.

The bass went on the string with the mudcats and the fishermen didn't know but what it was just a different shaped catfish. When going home the bass still hung on the string and the boys marched through Ashburnham over the bridge, and through the streets to their home, tickled all over with their good luck. But they never suspected that had Inspector Watt seen them, they would all have been put in the lockup for catching bass out of season.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country, than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years, was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Onhio., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and the mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Falling Off in Life Insurance

Considerable Decrease in Both Canada and United States

An Ottawa despatch says;

The returns of the life insurance companies fro the year 1906, as furnished to the Department of Finance shows that the Commission of Enquiry in Canada and in the States into insurance methods and the uncertainty created thereby has reacted to a considerable degree upon the business not alone of the American companies, but of the Canadian companies as well.

The amount of new insurance taken up last year in the Canadian companies was $62,699,343, which represents a decrease of $4,839,798, as against 1905. In previous years the record had been one of steady progress. The business of the American companies, however, is even worse hit.

The British companies also seem to have been unaffected by the prevailing uncertainties. Their new business increased in the year by half a million dollars. The lapses in Canadian companies last year amounted to $26,800,876 which is four and a half million dollars more than it was in 1905.

FIRE COMPANIES DO WELL

In the business of fire insurance, the Canadian companies show net cash receipts from premiums of $8,674,135, and losses paid to the amount of $6,667,277. The British companies received in premiums an amount of $8,600,989 and paid out in losses $3,829,761. The American companies show premium receipts of $2,926,349 and losses of $1,170,123.

DILLON—CAMPBELL

A marriage of much local interest took place in Toronto on Monday morning, when Miss Maud Campbell of Wolfe street, Peterborough, was wedded to Mr. Edward Dillon, also of this city. The bridal pair were unattended and after the ceremony, returned to Peterborough, where they will reside. The bride, who is a very popular young lady, received many handsome presents. The groom's gift to the bride was a check for $100 and among other presents were checks for substantial sums Hon. Senator Cox, and from Dr. Burke of Hamilton. Mr. Dillon's fellow workmen at the C.G.E., presented him with a beautiful Morris chair and a number of his bachelor friends made him a gift of a handsome cabinet of silver.

Mr. and Mrs. Dillon, both have a large number of friends in the city and are being tendered heartiest congratulations.

STRATTON—SOMERVILLE

Knox Church, London, Ont., was the scene of a fashionable and interesting wedding on Saturday last, when Ada, second daughter of G. A. Somerville, formerly manager of the Huron and Erie, now manager of the Manufacturers' Life of Toronto, was married to William Aikens Stratton, B.A., manager of the Molsons Bank at Bradford. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. G. Stuart pastor of the church. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. W. C. Stratton, Inspector of Inland Revenue, Toronto.

The bride came in with her father. F. L. Evans, the church organist, played the wedding march. The maid of honor was Miss Florence Somerville, youngest sister of the bride; the bridesmaids, Miss Mary Macfie, of London, Miss Ruby Gordon, of Wallaceburg, and Miss Nita Hunt of London. The ushers were James Cassidy of Pittsburg, Fred Macfie, of Edmonton, Gordon Crawford of Newmarket, and William Pope of London.

The bride's gown was a creation of white satin, trimmed with rose point and duchess lace, covered with seed pearls with an empire train. Her pearl necklace was a gift of the groom.

Among the guests, were, Miss Miss Lundy of Peterborough, Mr. and Mrs. Stratton of Toronto, Fred Thornbury of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Featherstonhaugh of Toronto, and Miss Muriel Dick of Toronto.

WALSH—DILLON

The marriage took place at St. Peter's cathedral today, when Miss Nellie Dillon, daughter of the late Bernard Dillon of East City, was wedded to Mr. Frances Walsh of Keene, son of Mr. Timothy Walsh. The ceremony was performed at seven o'clock by Rev. Father Galvin. The bride was attended by Miss Maggie Walsh, sister of the groom, while the groomsman was Mr. James Dillon, brother of the bride.

After the ceremony at the cathedral, the bridal party returned to the home of the bride, East City, where the wedding breakfast was partaken of and a merry time spent.

Mr. and Mrs. Walsh will reside at Keene.

RUTHERFORD—CAMPBELL

St Andrew's church, Kirkfield, was the scene of a quiet wedding on Tuesday afternoon last, when Rev. James Wallace, of Lindsay, united in marriage Miss Jean June Campbell, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hector Campbell, of St. Catharines. The bride, who was given away by her father, was gowned in silk eolienne and lace, over taffetas, and wore a tulle veil caught with orange blossoms. Her bouquet consisted of orange blossoms and bride's roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Isabel Campbell, who wore cream silk voile over taffetas, and carried pink roses. The groomsman was Mr. Arthur Wells, of Toronto. After a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rutherford left for their future home in St. Catharines, the bride wearing a blue tailored suit and a white hat trimmed with blue.—Toronto News.

HOME INFLUENCES

There are too many young girls and boys to be seen around the streets and in the parks of Peterborough after nightfall. The practice of so many "youngsters" walking out has aroused the authorities to action and a strong effort will be made to check the habit.

Girls and boys of tender years have no business frequenting the parks at a late hour, unless accompanied by a parent or guardian. The practice is not one conducive to the best morals of the community. The responsibility rests with the parents.

The Children's Aid Society is alive to the situation and in conjunction with the police magistrate and the police an effort will be made to bring about a decided reform.

In this move they will have the hearty sympathy and support of all who desire to promote the peace and happiness of the community.

One often wonders where the future ranks of wrong-doers come from. They are generally recruited from those who think themselves above parental restriction and home government, who regard it as smart or clever to stay out late at night, and act in a bold, indifferent, defiant and often disrespectful manner to those who have their best and truest interest at heart. The fault, too, is probably not entirely that of boys and girls. Much responsibility rests on the parents, and if they are careless and unobservant they have themselves largely to blame, if in after years, their children turnout to be a reproach to the good name of the family.

Without entering analytically into the problem, the stability, integrity and happiness of the nation, rests in its homes and home surroundings, and influences. The home is the centre from which radiates sunshine or gloom, peace or discord, honesty or duplicity, and its foundations must not be undermined. It is the bulwark of the people, the standard of its progress, culture and enlightenment and will ever remain as the tower of strength and the right pillar of the church and Christianity.

PEN POINTS.

Have you met the bad, bold burglar operating in the city? If so, capture him.

All the latest jokes are retailed at the minstrel show, and they are good ones too.

Ananias is keeping very quiet this spring. We have yet to hear the first of his fish stories this season.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is returning home from Europe a month earlier than expected. The boys in the cabinet need attention.

Yes! It is a fact—proved and established beyond a doubt this time—that Hon. Charles Hyman has resigned!

This is lovely weather for June brides and the fair sex seem to be taking full advantage of the nuptial month.

The new governor of Toronto gaol, Rev. Dr. Chambers, ought to minister to the comfort and welfare of those under him.

The Newfoundland Premier says that the union of his colony with Canada is neither desirable nor practicable. We had hoped it was both. But, dear me, how some people will stand in their own light.

The practice of boys making a play ground of Victoria Park, should be stopped. If its beauty and attractiveness are to be preserved, the spot cannot be used for baseball, football and other pastimes. Victoria Park is one of the show places of Peterborough, and should be kept as such.

Brantford is credited with $8,546,000 as against Peterborough with $11,566,000. If the figures are no nearer the mark in other places than they are with reference to this city, they are not worth much. The Courier by inquiry in connection with eight firms alone, got a total output of over $8,000,000 and many other establishments were not included. In fact, reckoning the smaller establishments as well, the actual figures would undoubtedly reach $15,000,000.—Brantford Courier.

The Whitney Government has scored well in its game against Monopoly interests. Up to date it has broken these monopolies,—

The Electrical Ring.

The School Book Combine.

It has also served notice on the pulpwood interests that no backdoor agreements will be entertained.

In addition, it has "nationalized," a large section of the public domain in the wealthiest mineral belt known to man, to the end that the people as a whole shall benefit by the development thereof.

It is truly a People's Government and a Monopoly Breaker.

One of the brightest and most readable daily papers, which reaches the Review sanctum, is the Daily News of Calgary. Its appearance, general make-up and news features are decidedly attractive, and, although it has been in existence only a few months, it is a very healthy youngster and bids fair to occupy a paramount position in the development of Western Canada. Mr. Dan McGillicuddy is the aggressive managing editor, and Mr. T. W. Quayle, a veteran Ottawa journalist, is the news editor. Backed up by an able staff they are producing a paper that is making its influence felt and is meeting with a generous patronage in the thriving City of Calgary, in which some 500 or 600 new houses are now in course of erection, and where every prospect, industrial, social or intellectual, pleases.

In an article on the Ontario Government's action in reducing the price of Public school readers, the Seaforth Expositor, a Liberal paper, edited by a former Liberal M.P.P., made this favorable comment; "The saving effected by this new agreement, while not so much in the aggregate, will be a very important consideration to individual parents. It will, in particular, be a boon to many poor people, who find it difficult to provide the necessary books for their children. As so great a saving has been made in the production of the readers, we may also look for a corresponding reduction in the books of a higher grade, and especially in those used in the High schools and Collegiate Institutes. The reduction in those mentioned will be a relief, but a proportionate reduction in the books used by the higher classes would be a very welcome boon to many parents who now feel the furnishing of books for their children, especially in the High schools, a severe tax."

In an article entitled "Ottawa's Graft Canada's Curse," the Mail and Empire portrays graphically, a state of things that is rapidly lowering conditions at Ottawa to the Tammany level, or worse; "Worse than the evil of intemperance is the grafting at Ottawa, says Mr. Macdonnell, a leading member of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church And the opinion thus expressed is not extreme or partisan. It is the view of a man who has been observing, but has not taken part in politics. Under present conditions Ottawa is the hunting ground of the middlemen and the scene of the toll-gate. Sell to the Ottawa Government and the middleman steps in and grabs a 'rake-off' Buy from the Ottawa Government and you pay toll to a politician. Graft is the ruling principle, and from it we get all the iniquities, vast expenditure, the crooked schemes, the corruption at the polls and the fraud at the ballot-box. The voice of protest raised in one of the church courts ought not to pass unheeded. This national curse, worse even than intemperance, ought to be put down, and the church and the press should unite in suppressing it."

Company Drill for the Evening

The 57th regiment had one of the best drills of the season last night. The weather was ideal for a good workout and the company drill on the park was entered into with great spirit. It was such a change to have a dry evening for drill, that everyone was happy as it meant getting to work in the open air, away from the heat and dust of the drill hall.

The total parade strength was 240, which was highly creditable considering the fact that there was a strong attraction at the opera house. Another drill will be held tomorrow night and there will be a marchout on Tuesday evening of next week. A full turnout is requested for tomorrow night's drill.

The following orders were read,—

Headquarters,
Peterborough, June 11th.
Orders by Lieut.-Col. Miller,
Commanding 57th Regiment,
Peterborough Rangers.

No. 1.—Detail of duty for week ending June 18th, 1907. Captain for the week, Captain Cluxton; next for duty, Captain Rounsell; subaltern for the week, Lieut. Carruthers; next for duty, Lieut. Fairweather.

No. 2—Leave of absence from parade is hereby granted to Capt. McWilliams.

No. 3—Lieut. H. I. Fairweather of 74th regiment, Brunswick Rangers, is hereby posted for drill to A. Company.

No. 4.—Regimental order No. 4, dated June 6th, 1907, is hereby cancelled.

No. 5.—The regiment will parade with both bands at the drill hall at 8 p.m. on Tuesday evening, June 18, for the second marchout of the season.

No. 6.—The commanding officer has been pleased to make the following promotions and appointments.

A. Co.—To be corporals, Ptes. C. Succee and J. Richards. To be corporal provisionally, Pte. C. Dobson.

By order,
D. WALKER, Capt.
Adjutant.

LARDER LAKE BOOM NOW ON

New Liskeard, June 11.—Now that the snow has almost entirely disappeared, New Liskeard is the busiest place in this northern camp. The stampede to Larder Lake has now almost attained fever heat, and the supply merchants experience great difficulty in getting their supplies through and keeping up their stock of miners' supplies on account of the heavy demand for camping outfits.

Hundreds and hundreds of prospectors, miners and capitalists, are passing through here on their way to and from Larder Lake. Arrivals from Larder Lake are arousing great enthusiasm on account of the magnificent specimens of quartz, showing plenty of free gold, which they display, the best of which were obtained from the Lucky Boys property. Intense interest is taken in these properties and it is reported that mining claims adjoining same are fetching fabulous prices. Their development is being anxiously watched owing to the number of rich veins which have been uncovered. Additional interest is taken in Lucky Boys owing to the fact that the parties interested are all prominent residents of New Liskeard, who are also connected with the most successful mining interests in this country. These properties are regarded as the richest in Larder Lake as they were the second claims staked in the district.

In Favor of Church Union: Committee Report Adopted

General Assembly Adopts Report After Prolonged Debate.

Heresy Hunters Object to Dr. Gordon's Appointment at Montreal College — Dr. Sedgwick Leads the Attack—Court of Orthodoxy Needed—Genesis not Myth—Principal Scrimger Defends Liberal Views.

Montreal, June 12.—The heresy hunters strained at the leash in the general assembly yesterday morning, but failed to arouse much sympathy. Rev. Dr. Sedgwick and J. K. MacDonald were the chief spokesmen against the appointment of Rev. Alexander R. Gordon, Dundee, to the chair of Old Testament literature and exegesis in the Montreal College.

Principal Scrimger read letters rating Mr. Gordon highly as an Old Testament specialist. Dr. Sedgwick produced a copy of the Hibbert Journal for October, 1906, containing an article by Mr. Gordon on "The Religious Value of Genesis." The views there so startled him he could not acquiesce in this appointment as Genesis was represented as a mass of myth and legend. A myth was nothing but a fairy-tale.

Dr. Turnbull moved, Rev. George MacArthur seconding, to remit the question to a committee to report.

Principal Patrick, who was a personal friend of Mr. Gordon, asked who was to define the orthodoxy of the article. It could not be settled by that or any court. The only way was free discussion by reverent and believing men. Moreover, it was his own standpoint, and was taught in every college of the church but one.

"More's the pity," said Dr. Sedgwick.

Freedom to Express Views.

Principal Scrimger asked where could a competent man be found who would not ask freedom to express his views. Dr. Sedgwick had not followed his own views to a logical conclusion, but had taken the opportunity to attack a stranger. If he was ignorant he was not in earnest.

Dr. Sedgwick demanded a retraction, and Dr. Scrimger said Dr. Sedgwick had taken no pains to get the views of other professors. This was still more offensive to Dr. Sedgwick, who insisted on a withdrawal. As far as the remark conveyed any imputation on Dr. Sedgwick's integrity Dr. Scrimger withdrew it. He thought a profound mistake would be made by taking any action which would proclaim the church obscurantist. Students must be enabled to judge for themselves. The Westminster confession, to which Mr. Gordon must subscribe, did not make it necessary for anyone to adopt the views desired by Dr. Sedgwick. Were they going to impose new standards of subscription?

The amendment was negatived and the appointment confirmed, Dr. Sedgwick dissenting.

By a vote of 137 to 11 the motion presented by the committee on church union was carried by the Presbyterian General Assembly at midnight last night.

The motion was to send their report to the lower courts for their suggestions. Rev. John MacKay withdrew his amendment in favor of Dr. Barclay's amendment to the amendment, which was to send the report of the union committee to sessions, presbyteries and congregations, and that they be requested to fully consider and to express their judgment upon the whole question.

Peterborough Amateur Minstrels Were Enthusiastically Received

Splendid Presentation at Grand Opera House Last Night—Sweet Songs Funny Jokes and Well Balanced Chorus—Entertainment Will be Repeated This Evening—In Every Way it Deserves a Crowded House.

Mirth, music and melody reigned supreme at the Grand Opera House last night and the large audience went away delighted as a result of the three hours spent with the amateur minstrels.

The minstrel show in aid of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club was a decided success and no better entertainment has ever been given by amateurs than that which was presented last night.

Every number on the programme was loudly applauded and without exception, was enthusiastically encored.

It must have been a source of gratification to the musical director, and also to the manager, Mr. W. McIlroy, to see their efforts attended with such success.

The music was bright and sparkling and of the popular variety, and the jokes were original, and were replete with local hits. They created much amusement and kept the people in fits of laughter from the rise of the curtain for the first part, to the end.

The opera house orchestra added greatly to the enjoyment of the numbers by their excellent accompaniment.

The evening opened with a hidden chorus, "The Old Folks at Home." The chorus in this number, as in the succeeding ones, was very strong, and the pleasing blending of the different voices made it very attractive. This was followed by a medley of several of the most popular songs of the day, by the full chorus. The harmony of the voices reflects the greatest credit on the careful training received by the minstrels.

The programme was divided into two parts, the first one being purely minstrel, the second part including several vaudeville features. In the first part seated on the platform was the interlocutor, Mr. W. H. Denham, and on his left and right were six end men, three on each side and the balance of the chorus, eight on either side. The end men were Messrs. W. S. Davidson, Frank Clarke, J. McCabe, W. McIlroy, Geo. Lynch and J. J. Turner, jr. The remainder of the chorus was composed of Messrs. R. L. and F. H. Dobbin, Geo. Ball, Dr. Holloway, H. Brady, J. Koen, W. Stocker, A. Elliot, W. Nelson, F. Buller, B. G. Gill, H. Sawers, V. Morphet and H. G. McKenna.

The funny antics of the end men kept the people always in a happy mood, and their lively playing on the tambourines and bones added greatly to the powerfulness of the chorus. The different numbers were interspersed with the jokes.

The first solo was taken by Mr. Hugh Brady. His fine baritone voice was displayed to good advantage in a pleasing rendition of "Sweet Adeline."

The next was a comic song, "Let It Alone," by Mr. W. McIlroy. It was given in his usual happy manner and created much merriment.

"Good-bye Mr. Greenback," a pathetic story of a man financially broke, told in song, was given by Mr J. J. Turner, jr. It made a decided hit.

The beautiful ballad, "Asleep in the Deep," was done full justice to by Mr. B. G. Gill. He has powerful bass voice, over which he has wonderful control and he was forced to respond to repeated encores.

Mr W S Davidson's original solo, "Nobody," made the hit of the evening, and he kept his audience in fits of laughter.

Mr. Hague Sawers very cleverly sang "Just for Fun," which was greatly enjoyed.

Mr. Vernon Morphet's splendid voice was heard to good advantage in "Grand Old Lady." He had to reply to the invariable encore.

Then came a rollicking song by Mr. Geo. Lynch, entitled "Never." This was a parody with several municipal hits.

"My Creole Sue," by Mr. E. J. Koen was a distinctly pleasing solo. The chorus was given unaccompanied by Messrs. Denham, McIlroy, Brady and Koen.

A coon song, "Cindy, My Black Gal," by Masters Carl and Frank Halpany, was one of the best numbers of the evening. These boys are always great favorites with local audiences, and made a good impression last night.

PART TWO

The second part was opened by a long essay on "Quaker Oats" by Mr W. S. Davidson as Prof. Hambone. This essay is a fierce mixture of the longest words in the English language and, while it is supposed to be on Quaker Oats they are left out of the question altogether. It created great amusement.

The next was an exhibition on the slack wire by Mr. Nelson, of Galt, who is visiting in the city. This included many difficult feats, such as walking the wire, placing a ladder on the wire and climbing it. It is well worth seeing.

The musical specialties by the Mandolin Club and Messrs. Clarke and McKenna, on the banjos, were splendidly given. The Mandolin Club depicted a camping scene, where they are all gathered around the camp fire and playing popular airs.

The "Fancy Dancing," including the Highland Fling and Sailor's Hornpipe, by two boys in costume, was the next item. The many difficult steps were gone through without a mistake.

A juggling act by Mr. Barton, of this city, brought the programme to a close. This was a fine feature and was loudly applauded.

GO THIS EVENING

The show is being given in aid of the Peterborough Lacrosse Team, and will be repeated this evening, when all those who have not seen it should give it their patronage.

The scene and setting in the first act was decidedly pleasing and attractive, and must be seen to be appreciated. The members of the chorus are all in dress suits, and wear white wigs, while the interlocutor in his royal costume, is the personification of dignity and sang froid. The end men were also well made up and there should be a bumper house this evening. The attraction is equal in many ways to the best visiting minstrel aggregations, and should appeal to all who love harmless jokes, stirring songs and clever bits of raillery. The production is refined and unique, original and taking, and is deserving of liberal support.

The entertainment is under the patronage of Hon. J. R. and Mrs Stratton, Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., and Mrs Hall, Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., Mayor and Mrs. McWilliams, Mr and Mrs H LeBrun, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Morrow, Mr. and Mrs. E. G Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Denham, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Neill.

The officers of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club, for which organization the minstrel show is given, are;

Hon Pres., J. J. McCabe.
Pres., W. S. Davidson.
1st Vice Pres., Dr. H Wightman.
2nd Vice Pres., Fred A Clarke.
Sec Treas., A. M. Regan.

Tents Have Been Folded And the Meeting is Over

The Free Methodist camp meeting which was held in the pine grove just west of Jackson Park, is a thing of the past. Today the tents were taken down and the members of the sect who were in attendance, left for their homes on this morning's trains. No more the voice of the worshipper is heard among the pines and the tented village has disappeared.

The camp meeting was the annual one of the Free Methodists of the district of Toronto and according to those who were in attendance, it has been one of the most successful ever held. A district camp meeting is held every year, and it will likely be several years before one will be held here again, as the different centres in the district have to be visited in turn.

The weather during the present camp meeting was, as a rule, favorable It opened on Tuesday, June 4th. and had just been in progress a week. During the first couple of days the weather was somewhat cold and raining, but fair skies and bright sunshine followed and better conditions could not have been desired during the last three or four days.

According to those in attendance the camp meeting has been rich in spiritual blessing. Many new converts have been made, while those who had already professed conversion have been made stronger in their faith. There is no half heartedness about the religion of the Free Methodists. Their ministers do not read carefully prepared sermons and scholarly essays. They take a text from the Holy Word and then proceed to preach from it with enthusiasm and eloquence. They strike right out from the shoulder and are not deferred from saying what they want to by the fear that some one in the congregation might be offended and his financial support cut off.

Silence is not one of the characteristics of a Methodist camp meeting. If some one were to break in with "that's right," or "yes, yes," at a service in any of the churches of Peterborough there would be consternation among the congregation and no doubt the preacher would not be pleased to be interrupted. Not so with the Free Methodists. When the auditors are impressed by what the minister is trying to drive home they do not tarry about giving vent to their appreciation. Fervent "Amens' and cries of "that's true,' "yes, yes," and other exclamations of this kind are interjected frequently during the service and the minister instead of being annoyed by the interruptions, seems to find encouragement in them, and usually becomes more fervent and eloquent.

There have been some striking scenes at some of the after meetings during the week. There have been several outbursts of religious fervor, and while they were going on there were lively doings around the camp. Some milk and sugar Christians would no doubt be shocked by such enthusiasm, but the Free Methodists do not look upon it in this light. These outbursts of religious power are looked upon as manifestations of the Holy Spirit and God's power to regenerate a soul.

Last night a young lady became very excited in giving testimony and became exceedingly fervent. To some of those not belonging to the sect, her actions were looked upon as somewhat amusing, but to the Free Methodists it was of deep significance and they were deeply thankful that there should be such manifestations of the Holy Spirit.

Archbishop Wants Assistant But Some Want a Coadjutor

Anglicans in Council—Synod is Divided on Episcopal Help—No Provision Made for Salary—Vote to be Taken To-day

Toronto, June 12.—The question of providing episcopal assistance for the Archbishop was the live topic of discussion at the afternoon and evening sessions of the Anglican Synod of the Diocese of Toronto, which convened for business in St. James' school house yesterday at 3 p.m. A lengthy and lively debate arose over the report of the Executive Committee, which was taken up early in the afternoon. The debate was continued throughout the evening session, and, though the whole discussion was at last ruled out of order, cries of "Vote" were becoming numerous just as the hour of adjournment—10 o'clock—came, and a signed request was handed in for a vote by orders, the matter was left over until this morning.

The Executive Committee's report notified the Synod of the desire of the Archbishop to have a suffragan and coadjutor Bishop nominated by the Synod, and of his willingness to accept the alternative of the provision of such sum as required to give him such assistance as he may require during the ensuing year. Owing to the impossibility of securing a coadjutor Bishop, because of the Executive not having provided the salary, the Archbishop withdrew his request for a coadjutor, and asked for the voting of a sum sufficient to secure an assistant. A stipend of $2,000 is named, and travelling expenses, amounting to perhaps about $250, would be also voted.

WAS A CLEAR ISSUE.

There was evidently a clear issue between those who favored the election of a coadjutor and those who desired to provide a stipend for an assistant to be secured by the Archbishop. The former course was claimed to be the more democratic and to provide for the succession in case of the See becoming vacant. The latter course was the one in harmony with the desire of the Archbishop, who would not have asked for a suffragan if had been aware at the time he made the request of the obstacles in the way of raising the money. The Archbishop having withdrawn his request for a coadjutor, the question, as the Chancellor pointed out, was legally taken out of the realm of consideration, as it is only on the request of the Archbishop and his initiation that the Synod can proceed to elect a Bishop, whether coadjutor or assistant. This, however, would leave the matter of episcopal help practically unsettled, for provision could not be made out of the general fund for more than a year, and the same matter would have to come up again next year.

The advocates of a coadjutor being elected claimed the right of discussion of the question on its merits, apart from the Archbishop's request or withdrawal of it, on the ground that the motion before the house read that "owing to the Archbishop having withdrawn his request for a coadjutor, the election of a coadjutor is now necessary." They claimed that it was necessary in the interests of the diocese and of the Church at large, and that that would be the best way of providing the "episcopal assistance" asked by the Archbishop, and which they felt bound to give in the best way according to their judgment.

THERE WERE FINANCIAL DIFFICULTIES.

Those who took the opposite side, however, claimed that the help should be given in the way in which it was asked for by the one who desired it. The financial difficulties were regarded as very serious. The opportune desire of Bishop Reeve to leave his diocese of Mackenzie River and Athabaska and come to this diocese was considered a providential way out of these and other difficulties, and his heroic missionary experience was put forward as a strong inducement to accept the opportunity of honoring one who had served at the front and of using his missionary knowledge and zeal in firing the enthusiasm and zeal of the parishes in this diocese.

No Judgment Has Been Given

In Case of Lawless vs. Crowley —Grand Jury's Report

His Honor reserved judgment in the case of Lawless versus Crowley which took up the attention of the County Court yesterday afternoon. It was after five o'clock, before the case had been presented to the judge and he reserved his decision in order to look up the mining act. As is generally known, Lawless is suing Crowley for a board bill, while the latter has a counter claim, based on the transfer of titles of certain mining properties to the plaintiff. A number of witnesses were examined.

The court did not resume until one o'clock today. The case of the Canadian Cordage Company against Thos. McGuigness, is being tried this afternoon.

The report of the Grand Jury, who yesterday made an inspection of the jail, was presented to the judge on the resumption of court today, and was to the effect that they found the jail and county buildings in excellent condition, and had no recommendations to make. The judge was congratulated on his continued good health and the hope was expressed that he might long continue hale and hearty.

Market Scales are Too Narrow

Smith Township Farmer Met With an Accident

Yesterday afternoon, Mr. Robert Kidd, who resides near Lakefield, brought a load of hay to the market scales to be weighed. When driving onto the scales a large quantity of the hay was pulled off the rack and the rack it self was smashed. The scales are too narrow and as a result this smashup occurred. The authorities should have the scales widened. Mr. Kidd stated that he would have to take his hay to Lakefield to be weighed. This is to be regretted, as it is taking business away from the local market clerk.

Busy Season at Summer Resorts

Mr. W. Clarkson, Fishery Overseer, Says Fishing Will be Better Than Ever

Mr. W. Clarkson, of Lakehurst, fishery overseer on the waters from Chemong to Ketchecum Lake, was in the city today. He said that he had just made a trip over those waters and found everything satisfactory. The summer resorts are all making great preparations for a big season and when the tourists begin to arrive they will find everything in good shape. The fishing will be much better than it has been for the past few years, as the water has been kept level and regular. The season opens on June 16th for bass and lunge and the following resorts are preparing for large fishing parties,—Buckhorn, Chemong, W. Irwin, proprietor at Inverlock; Alex. Nicholls, at Buckhorn; and James Oliver at Nogies creek.

By Wealthy Americans Was Justly and Indignantly Spurned

Special to the Review.

Paris, June 12.—The Main publishes a despatch from Rome saying that ten wealthy American Roman Catholics, recently informed the Pope that Roman Catholicism would make great strides in America if Archbishop Ireland was made a Cardinal, and that they would at once donate one million dollars to the Church.

The Pope, according to the correspondent, was most indignant at the suggestion of such a bargain.

Dog Owners Have to Pay Court Costs

For Neglecting to Register Canines—Young Man Fined for Assault

There were a number of dog owners in police court this morning, charged with not having got the necessary jewellery for their canines. Most of them got their tags, after having been summoned, but they also had to pay the additional costs of the court.

W. H. Roberts was the first called. He had neglected getting a tag. He now has one, He also has to pay the costs, amounting to $2.60.

John Oldham only got his dog tag this morning. He paid a like amount to the city clerk, as did also Wm. Morrow, of this city. The city coffers were therefore enriched $7.80 by neglect of canine owners.

Wm Simpson pleaded guilty to the charge of being found drunk in a public place. He was fined the usual two dollars, which he paid forthwith.

AN ASSAULT CASE.

A young man was charged with assaulting a young lady on Sunday night, while she was returning from church. The young lady stated that at Smith street the fellow tried to force his company upon her, and she repeatedly told him to go away. He insisted on following her, and she turned and came down town, where she met a policeman who gave her protection until she met her father.

His Worship imposed a fine of $5, which was paid forthwith. Mr. Dumble said he hoped it would be a lesson to the defendant.

ALLOWED TO GO.

"Con" Walt, who was remanded yesterday on a charge of vagrancy, was allowed to go, there being no evidence that he was without a place of abode. His Worship gave him some good advice and told him to get to work and behave himself.

This Man Plied Trade as Barber

While Suffering From Smallpox—Dr. Bell's Discovery

In the district of which the village of Athens is the centre, small-pox is reported to be widely prevalent. There has been much agitation as to whether several suspected cases were small-pox. Dr. Bell of the Provincial Health Office, now diagnoses three cases of alleged "chicken-pox as small-pox" and has placed the patients under quarantine. One of them was thought to have recovered and was found in his shop plying his trade of a barber.

The whole village has been exposed to the infection and at a joint meeting of the village and the township councils, the boards of health and the public schools, it was decided to order a general vaccination, including the pupils of the schools. Several of the High school pupils who reside at points outside of Athens were not allowed to leave on Friday evening for their homes, which is customary at the week-end. A constable stood guard at the railway depot to see that no one got aboard the train, but despite his vigilance many managed to leave.

AN EXCURSION FROM BENSFORT

Union Sunday School Runs One to Peterborough

The steamer Monarch brought an excursion to the city today from Bensfort, about ten miles down the river. The excursion was under the auspices of the Bensfort Union Sunday school, and was well patronized over 200 being on board the boat. Peterborough was reached about eleven o'clock and a trip over the lift lock was one of the features of the outing. After going over the lock the steamer sailed up the river about two miles and then returned in time to let the excursionists have lunch at Nicholls Oval. The visitors appeared to be having a most enjoyable time. They left for home about five o'clock.

CONCERNING BLACK BASS

(From the Canadian Courier.)

We found the high water the worst enemy to our sport. The bass are then able to feed far back from the regular channels and the fishermen cannot follow them. We have noted that this fish feeds early in the morning and after mid-afternoon, but I have never seen them feed more greedily than in July and August at night, when the moon is almost at the full. Then they can see their most longed for food the minnows, swimming between them and the surface. Often minnow, bass and all will come out in one great splurge of water. Undoubtedly the best time to fish for the small mouth is in October, on the rocky points and bars; then if one is not shot by some disturbed duck-hunter, he will have royal sport indeed. Fish for them, if possible, in swift water. The fun is harder and faster, and the fish more difficult to handle, and pray join the fast increasing throng of clean minded, honest, sportsmen, who gently release all the small fish and every large one above the immediate needs of the party. It is scandalous that any fisherman, United States or Canadian, should catch these sporty black bass and leave them to rot on the shore. Catch all that they wanted, then continue if unable to resist, but let the unneeded ones go uninjured.

'TOO TIRED TO STIR!

ARE YOU ONE OF THE WEAK WOMEN
To Become Bright, Happy and Healthy?—Use Ferrozone.

Modern life makes demands on every woman's strength that seem impossible to meet. Only the robust and strong can stand the strain. The weak, with their delicately balanced organisms, must fail. Blood gets thin, it's innutritious. Nerves go to smash, vitality declines, and then follows misery and suffering caused by interference with certain functions upon which the very existence of every female depends.

Don't let your condition grow worse. Check the decline of vital force before it is too late! The one sure remedy is Ferrozone—not a temporary stimulant—but an uplifting nutritive tonic that contains the kind of building material a weak body requires.

FERROZONE revitalizes the system by putting new life into the blood. Not only does it nourish the ordinary blood supply—it does more, it makes new blood, the rich, red kind that denotes health.

Energy is reinforced, strength is steadily and surely rebuilt. Keen appetite, strong nerves, more restful sleep, buoyant feelings, all tell of the enormous good Ferrozone invariably accomplishes. For restoring the weak, the pale, the despondent, there is no treatment so instant and permanent in effect as Ferrozone. A trial proves this. Won't you use Ferrozone yourself? It will surely make you well—its effect is instant.

BUILT UP HER STRENGTH

Mrs. M. E. Etherington, a well known merchant's wife, of Troy, writes: "I am quite willing to give a public testimonial for Ferrozone, believing it to be a tonic of superior excellence, and one that will rapidly build up strength and supply new energy to anyone not feeling well. Last Spring I was in a very poor condition of health. I was nervous, felt tired and completely worn out. No doubt it is quite a common complaint with ladies of my age, but I placed great reliance in Ferrozone, and took it for several weeks. It made me quite strong, and, in fact, I have been in better health ever since. I can heartily recommend Ferrozone."

Ferrozone Assures Good Health!

WARNING! Beware of the substitutor who urges you to accept something "just as good." Only FERROZONE can cure satisfactorily—see you get it, and nothing else. Price 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50 at all reliable dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ontario.

Haywood Will Go on the Stand; Makes Some Startling Charges

Says Orchard Is the Greatest Liar of Present Century.

Mean Crimes Are Dragged Out by Defence — Plotted to Kidnap Child of His Host—Orchard Admits Many Petty Thefts and Subterfuges—Steve Adams Will Not Take the Stand.

Denver, June 13.—"Steve Adams will not testify for the prosecution in the Haywood case."

This was the declaration of Acting Secretary James Kirwan of the Western Federation of Miners to the convention. He returned from Boise and told the delegates that Haywood's lawyers have the assurance from Adams that he will repudiate his "confession" if he is placed on the stand by the prosecution.

Mr. Kirwan also brought the following message from William D. Haywood: "Harry Orchard is the greatest liar of the twentieth century, as every man he has implicated stands ready to testify.

"I am determined to take the stand and show where he lied. If your convention had been six weeks later, I would have been with you, for by that time I shall be a free man."

Plot to Kidnap.

Boise, Idaho, June 13.—The defence yesterday brought the cross-examination of Harry Orchard down to the actual crime charged against Wm. D. Haywood, the murder of ex-Governor Frank Steunenberg.

Probing into the crime was reached at midday and counsel for the defence directed their efforts to an attempt to prove the earlier purposes and movements of Orchard were uncertain and indefinite.

Then they emphasized the abandonment of all efforts at murder after Orchard first tracked Steunenberg to a hotel in Boise and with a skeleton key gained entrance to the room in which the ex-governor was staying.

Here they stopped for a moment to prove that Orchard twice wrote and once telephoned to "Bill" Esterly at Silver City to urge him to come and join in the projected crime, the direct implication being that Orchard endeavored to inveigle another federation man into the crime which would discredit and dishonor the organization.

Then the witness was carried over his long journey into North Idaho, and his crime there, including a plot to kidnap and hold for ransom Paulson's child.

Orchard swore that David Coates, formerly lieutenant-governor of Colorado and late a publisher in Wallace, Idaho, first broached the kidnapping to Pettibone and himself at Denver. Paulson, once a poor miner, had made a fortune in the Hercules mine in which Orchard held an interest when the property was not paying; and it was believed that if his children were stolen he would pay $50,000 or $60,000 in ransom. Orchard said that when he went to North Idaho he got Jack Simpkins to enter the plot, and together they went to Coates to renew the scheme.

Coates was asked to stand up, and Orchard said he was the man, of whom he was testifying. Orchard was then asked whether he himself did not propose the crime to Coates, who immediately rebuffed him, and whether Jack Simpkins did not warn Paulson directly he heard of the plot. Orchard denied both suggestions, and insisted that Coates consented to stay in the plot and handle the money they hoped to get from Paulson.

Series of Thefts.

Then the defence had the witness admit a series of mean crimes. When reduced to poverty he resorted to pawning, borrowing and stealing. First he pawned jewelry and guns for $25 to $30. Then he accepted Paulson's hospitality, while he was plotting to steal Paulson's child. After that with Simpkins, he said, he broke into the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co.'s station. They were after a trunk full of jewelry samples, but instead, got a trunk full of shoe samples. Next he tapped a cash register at Burke for $30 and $40.

Defence Will Be Insanity.

Windsor, June 13.—The June sessions of the peace for Essex County opened with Judge McHugh presiding for the first time since his appointment as senior judge of the county court.

The principal criminal case given the grand jury was that against Arthur Wrightman, charged with shooting his brother-in-law, George Pierce, and returned a true bill on three counts.

The plea of the defence will be insanity.

Mr. Roblin, Premier of Manitoba, the "favorite son" of the county.

Premier Roblin was visibly affected by the heartiness of the welcome. In his reply he dwelt upon a matter of national importance—the loyalty of the western land to the empire, and pointed out the danger which is being brought into existence by the immense foreign immigration.

There were three in the boat, and the two drowned were Alfred Focault, 18 years of age, St. Felix street, and Arthur Cote, 18 years of age, Frontenac avenue.

The two who were drowned started fighting, after some words, with the result that the boat was upset, and the two participants in the quarrel drowned.

His dory mate had been drowned by a great wave, and Vollet had clambered back into the boat.

For six days he subsisted on sea biscuit and rain water, and when picked up had eaten nothing for eight days.

$200,000 LOSS BY FIRE

Canadian Shipbuilding Yard Suffers Severe Damage.

Blaze Started In Big Building Near Furnace—Several Shops Destroyed—Buffalo Fire-Fighters Failed to Respond to Call—Were No Water Plugs—Had to Use Hand Buckets No Lives Lost.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 13.—The fire which visited the Canadian Shipbuilding Co. on the Canadian shore of Niagara River, four miles north of the International Bridge, Tuesday night, did about $200,000 damage.

The fire started near one of the furnaces in the big building. William Heintz, night watchman, was the first to discover it. He immediately telephoned the Bridgeburg volunteer fire-fighters.

Albert King, resident manager of the company, who lives in Bridgeburg, was notified of the fire. He called out about 200 employes to fight the fire.

Buffalo and Niagara Falls, Ont., were also appealed to for assistance, but for some reason this city's fire department did not send any apparatus. The Niagara Falls department sent an engine and crew to the plant, but because of no fire plugs in the vicinity of the burning building, the men were unable to work. They, however, assisted the volunteer fighters in checking the spread of the flames.

The burned building was 40 x 200 feet, built of steel girders, with corrugated roof and walls. In a few minutes the entire structure was enveloped in flames. The bucket brigade and the men who manned the hand pumps worked valiantly, but their efforts were unrewarded.

At the local offices of the Canadian Shipbuilding Co., it was stated that the main shed constructed of steel, the blacksmith shop, the punch shop, and the cab of the electric train were destroyed.

Village In Flames.

COLLEGE FOR B. C.

Presbyterian General Assembly Decide to Found Training School.

Montreal, June 13.—Yesterday was the General Assembly's busy day. The tendency towards infinite talk was somewhat restrained by the formidable docket of business.

Dr. Wardlaw Taylor introduced the report of the committee on a theological college for British Columbia.

In the report it was pointed out that one of the most serious handicaps under which the work of the church is prosecuted in the middle and far west is the lack of continuous home mission supply. The mission fields are diligently served during the summer months, but with the departure of the students for college in the autumn, they are left in a lamentably large number of instances, without regular supply, during the winter months.

The committee believe that this difficulty, which is bound to become more acute as the rapid development of the country proceeds, might be overcome in large measure by the establishment of a course of theological teaching carried on during the summer months.

The assembly decided to found the college, a committee, with Prof. Dyde as convener, being appointed to carry out the project.

In finishing, the commission's report a fund of a thousand dollars for manse building in Northern Ontario was set apart. D. McLaren reported that 32 men from Britain were coming out for mission work in September, and 15 more were available. It was agreed to appoint a superintendent for British Columbia, to leave Dr. Hendman free for Alberta.

The strikers were informed that their request had been referred to General Manager Pottinger of the I. C. R.

They expect a decision in their favor.

BURNED CHILDREN ALIVE.

Missionaries Tell Terrible Tale About Treatment of Lepers.

Montreal, June 13.—Rev. S. S. Conrardy of Canton, China, who is making a tour through Belgium, England, Canada, and the United States, with the object of raising a fund to equip a hospital and carry on his missionary work amongst the lepers, is in the city. He was with Father Damien when he died of leprosy.

While in Canton recently he came in contact with 100,000 lepers utterly deserted, but for the help they received from a few sisters of charity.

There was no pity shown to the lepers by the Chinese, and he himself knew of many cases where parents had burnt alive children who were developing this frightful disease.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

Author of "When Lovely Maiden Stoops to Folly," "A Cruel Revenge," "The Heiress of Cameron Hall," "Ione," "Parted at the Altar," Etc.

"I do not recollect now," he replied, adding, "She is to go with us to the concert to-night, again."

"If she goes, I stay at home," said Reine. "I am amazed that you should expect me to associate with one against whose fair fame there is even the slightest stain."

With a muttered imprecation, Waldron strode from the room, vowing that he should take Mrs. Smith to the concert that night in spite of all the prudes in Christendom, and if she would not go with him, that he should go alone.

CHAPTER XVIII.

When Reine had come to New York from Waldron Towers, she had insisted upon bringing Honora Allen, her maid, with her.

"I have never been among strangers, Waldemar," she said. "I must see a few familiar faces about me."

Her husband had demurred at first. He could not endure the girl, who was so devoted to his wife, and who seemed to have such a cordial dislike of himself; but in the end Reine's maid went with her.

And the time came when she was more like a counsellor and trusted friend to the desolate little bride than a paid companion. She had seen from the first how this ill-starred marriage would turn out. She was not surprised that Mr. Waldron had gone to the grand concert leaving his sick wife at home.

She found Reine still seated in her arm-chair by the glowing fire, sobbing as though her heart would break.

"Oh, my lady," cried the girl distressedly, "you must not take on so, and you so weak and sick; indeed, you must not."

Reine struck her little white, fluttering hands together with passionate fervor.

"I cannot help it," she cried. "I am so wretched, Honora; my heart is dead—my life is empty. He can go to the concert to-night knowing I am ill."

She crept up nearer to faithful Honora, clutching her hands with a gasping sob.

"He would not care if I were to die," she said, despairingly. "He would not miss me. No stranger could be more cold and more careless to me," she went on. "I am growing frightened at myself, Honora. I cannot tell—I dare not think—how it will end. I loved him better than all the world, when I married him, but now—I am beginning to dislike him. It has come to that at last."

"Oh, my dear lady, that is very wrong—very wrong indeed! A wife should never dislike her husband."

"Should a husband ever dislike his wife?" cried Reine, hoarsely. "Because my husband does dislike me. I am frightened at myself, Honora, for, if matters go on this way much longer, I shall hate him!"

That night no sleep came to her. She was thinking, hour after hour, what was she to do. She saw no light in the dark clouds which obscured the future—no hope for her. The years stretched out dark and gloomy. And this was the man for whom she had thrown away another love, which was as noble as it was tender and devoted. Then, for the first time, she commenced to compare Waldemar Waldron with Bernard Chesleigh.

She knew, Heaven help her, that she had chosen glittering tinsel instead of solid gold.

It was too late for regrets now. She had sealed her own doom—walked into the pit with open eyes. In open defiance, she had married the man they had warned her against, and now her folly had come home to her.

The sight would have stricken the old general mad, could he have seen his beautiful daughter paring up and down her room, crying out that life was too bitter to bear. If he could but have seen how she struck her white breast with clasped, clenched hands, praying to die, only those who know what it is to be a neglected, unloved wife can realize what she suffered, when she was praying to die and end it all.

The servants—those secret messengers in households—soon gossipped the story about that his pretty young bride did not have any too much attraction for Waldemar Waldron. Bernard Chesleigh heard these stories, and was the only one who looked on with sorrowful regret.

He did not wonder that she threw herself into the whirlpool of fashionable life.

Those who met her, told how gay, brilliant, polished, sarcastic, and animated Waldemar Waldron's young wife was becoming. She seemed possessed of a restless idea of always wanting excitement.

An hour's quiet was more than she could endure, and people who wondered at her high spirits, her brilliant smiles, her clever repartees, never guessed that all this covered the sorest of hearts.

She was becoming quite noted in society as a beauty too.

Waldemar Waldron was quite astonished. He wondered curiously what people could see in Reine to rave over. As for himself, he never considered any one save dazzling brunettes particularly beautiful.

Bernard Chesleigh had avoided meeting Reine. He knew that it would affect him greatly to see such a change in her as he knew must have taken place. How he pitied her when he heard the whispers that floated now and then to his troubled ears.

"She is trying to drown her sorrow in the continual whirl of excitement," he thought; "but she will not succeed, and the reaction, when it comes, will be terrible for her."

He longed for a chance of speaking to her without seeming to interfere. That chance came at last.

He had attended a grand ball at one of the fashionable residences of Gramercy Park. He had scarcely entered the spacious ball-room ere his host touched him lightly on the shoulder.

"Come with me, Chesleigh," he said. "I have an excellent partner for you for the next waltz—the most graceful as well as the most beautiful lady in the room. Come and let me present you."

Thoughtlessly enough, he went with him to the end of the rose-embowered ball-room. A slight, graceful figure was seated on a rustic bench, surrounded by a circle of admirers, who reluctantly drew back and made way for their host and the tall, commanding stranger.

Reine—for it was she—turned carelessly to see who the newcomer was who stood before her.

One glance. Ah, Heaven! It was a wonder she did not fall dead at his feet. It was Bernard Chesleigh who stood before her. Would he turn from her in haughty, withering scorn? Or would he denounce her before that brilliant gathering, crying out, sternly and rebukingly:

"So it is thus that we meet again, is it, my fair love, who deserted me and disgraced me so heartlessly at the altar?"

Perhaps he would curse her. She had borne so much already, one bitter word would slay her.

Over the crash of the gay dance music she heard their host go through the formula of introducing them.

Not one muscle of the girl's beautiful white face quivered. The little hand that held the bouquet of rare white blossoms did not tremble. She stood before the man she had so cruelly slighted, like a white fawn at bay awaiting her doom. Perhaps he read the dumb agony she was enduring in the piteous, appealing eyes so dazed and agonizing in their blue depths.

But the doom she was expecting did not fall then on that beautiful golden head. Was she mad, or dreaming? Bernard Chesleigh held out his strong white hand to her with a grave, sorrowful smile.

"This lady and I are old friends," he explained. Then their host went away, leaving them alone together.

"Do not shrink from me, Reine," he said, gently. "The past is over between us, I have forgiven and forgotten long ago. I cannot bring myself to feel anything but friendship for you. I do not blame or reprove you. It was not your fault, my poor child, if you could not love me."

She could scarcely believe that she saw and heard aright. Was he holding out his hand—that noble hand that she had scorned—and was he speaking kindly to her?

A torrent of tears rushed to her eyes, her face grew deadly pale. Of the two, she was most likely to create a scene by breaking down completely—her heart was so sore, so desolate and lonely, kind words had overpowered her.

"Come out into the conservatory, Reine," he said, drawing the little, ice-cold hand—ah! so cold, even through the tiny glove—within his arm. "Do not attempt to speak until you can control your emotions. See, people are watching us. Keep tears back from your eyes, force a smile to your lips, I pray you."

Silently he lead her from the glittering ball-room, from among the sheen of satin and glimmering diamonds, out among the cool, green shadows and softened lights of the fernery.

He stood quietly before her, his arms folded thoughtfully over his breast, while the tears fell like rain from her lovely eyes. He did not attempt to break in upon her thoughts.

Perhaps the sight of his face reminded her all too painfully of the days when she was the loved and petted heiress of dear old Fairlawn.

"You are good to think so kindly of me, Mr. Chesleigh," she faltered. "I did you an irreparable wrong; but I have been sufficiently punished for it."

She turned away in confusion. Not for worlds would she have him know that life was going all wrong with her; that the idol she had flung away his honest, noble love for, she had found sordid clay. Not for worlds would she have him know she was that most pitiful of all God's creatures, a neglected, desolate, unloved wife.

Every sigh that fell from her lips, every tear from her lovely eyes, touched him keenly to the heart, like the sharp thrust of a sword. He would have laid down his life if the sacrifice of it could but have made her happy.

At that moment she remembered that Waldemar had asked her to dance the Lancers with him, and the music was striking up already. What would the consequence be if he came to look for her, and found her sitting there talking to the one man above all others whom he hated—her old lover? There might be a fierce quarrel between them. Her heart beat; she grew strangely nervous. She must get back to the ball-room at once. Before she could put the resolve into execution, hurried steps were heard approaching. She sank back, pale, breathless and trembling, almost fainting, as she heard her name called in a quick, impatient voice.

CHAPTER XIX.

"I am here," said Reine, pushing back the thick, clustering magnolia branches that screened her from view.

It was one of the servants. He looked at the beautiful, pale-faced girl, slightly abashed, as though uncertain how to proceed with the delicate mission upon which he had been sent.

"What did you want of me?" asked Reine, nervously clutching more tightly at the flowers she held in her cold, trembling fingers.

A moment only the man hesitated. It was a thousand pities to tell her what he had come there to say, but it must be done. He touched his cap respectfully, flushing slightly.

"If you please, madam, I would like you to use your influence with your husband to restrain him from going to the ball-room just now. He looks—quite—quite—ill."

No word broke from Reine Waldron's white, set lips. She knew as well as the servant did what was the matter with her reckless, handsome husband, and why they were so fearful he should re-enter the ball-room.

"Where is he?" she asked, in a frightened voice. "Conduct me to him at once, please."

Bernard Chesleigh drew her back.

"Let me attend to this matter for you," he said, pityingly.

She drew back with something very like the old pride.

She could not bear the thought that he should see Waldemar Waldron in the way in which she knew she should find him.

"You could not help me in the matter. I thank you, though, for the proffered kindness. If you will conduct me to the clock-room to get my wraps, I shall be much obliged. I shall not return to the ball-room again. If my husband is ill, I must see that he is taken home at once."

Bernard Chesleigh offered her his arm in silence. He could feel the slight form that clung to his arm tremble like a leaf in a storm. He saw the lovely face flush and pale; and the feverish light deepened in the blue eyes.

They had to pass from the conservatory through the lower end of the ball-room, in order to reach the cloak-room and suite of apartments beyond, in which she was told she would find Waldemar.

Gently Bernard Chesleigh folded her velvet wrap about her. The snowy swan's-down that bordered it was not more white than Reine's pallid face.

One moment she glances at the brilliant ball-room which she must leave ere the mirth of the evening is fairly begun; and in that moment some one rushes past her toward the green-arched ball-room, and stands, flushed and excited, on the threshold.

A low cry breaks from Reine's lips. It is Waldemar. She sees plainly that the servant is right. He must not enter the ball-room again. Quick as thought she is by his side. Her little white hands clutch his arm. Her piteous eyes are raised to his face.

"Waldemar," she whispers, hoarsely, "you must take me home at once, dear. I was just going to send for you."

He shook off the clinging hands angrily enough.

"What! go home when the ball has but just commenced? I shall do nothing of the kind," he answered, turning his flushed face impatiently from the imploring white one.

Ah, why was she unwise enough to tell him the true reason why she wished to go, and plead with him with tears and prayers.

"Upon my word, this is like a scene from a French drama," he sneered. He taunted her, and laughed at her, telling her that he intended to stay until the very last one; and as for indulging in wine, he had not taken the half of what he intended to; that he knew his own business, and would brook no interference from her.

SHOT IN SELF-DEFENCE.

Is Plea of Negro Boyd in Toronto Murder Case.

Toronto, June 13.—Self-defence is the plea which T. C. Robinette, K. C., will urge on behalf of John Boyd, who shot Edward Wandle Tuesday afternoon.

Boyd says he went to the restaurant in the morning in search of the woman with whom he had been living. He had heard that a tall colored man, who kept a restaurant on York street, had called for her an a bicycle at her "boarding house" to "fix some clothes" for him. Boyd asked civilly for the woman, and says Wandle told him he did not want him round, struck him with a billy, and threw him into the street. Being afraid, he then purchased the revolver.

Later he walked north on York street to get a shirt. Suddenly, as he was passing Wandle's, he received "two bings on the head." Wandle grabbed him by the vest and shirt, tearing them, and jerked him into the restaurant, saying, "Now, I've got you!"

Wandle, he says, kept on pounding him with the billy, and jerked him into the hallway. Then Boyd fired two shots at random and turned to run, but was swung back toward the stairway, up which he fled, followed by Wandle. He went on down the hall, searching for a room in which to hide.

Wandle disappeared, and Boyd went up the hall to Mrs. Isaac's room. The inner partition looked like a good cover, and he entered, when Wandle appeared from behind the partition and struck him over the head with a chair. The revolver being still in his hand, he fired blindly, and fled.

"Mrs." Boyd, a decrepit woman of about 50, declares that a week ago, the negro gave her an awful beating, and threatened to shoot her with a revolver he then had.

Boyd, when arraigned in the Police Court, was stolidly impassive. He pleaded not guilty to a charge of murder, and was remanded for a week.

FRUIT GROWERS AFTER MARKET

Thorough Fruit Inspection of Packing Is Asked For.

Toronto, June 13.—At the final sessions of the Co-operative Fruit Growers of Ontario yesterday, the question of placing one or more men in the west to represent the associations was discussed. It was decided to undertake a system of extensive advertising in that market, to bring the co-operative associations into closer touch with western buyers; also to establish one or more agencies in the west.

A resolution was passed, also, requesting the Dominion Minister of Agriculture to take such steps as may be necessary to ensure the fruit packed by the affiliated associations receiving close and frequent inspection at the hands of the inspectors of the department, and that the inspectors be authorized to give such assistance and advice as lies within their power to assist in securing uniform packing, and further, that when any local association has been convicted for a second time of fraudulent practices, that it be expelled from the association.

The executive committee waited upon Hon. Nelson Montieth in regard to the appointment of instructors to visit the associations and instruct them in methods of bringing about a more uniform pack of fruits among the co-operative associations affiliated. The Minister gave assurance of assistance at an early date.

DUNDONALD RETIRES.

Since Clash With Canadian Politicians Has Had No Appointment.

London, June 13.—(C. A. P.)—Lord Dundonald, former commander-in-chief of the militia in Canada, has retired from the army. The announcement was made public yesterday and has caused considerable comment.

Earl Dundonald has evidently not forgotten the circumstances under which he gave up command of the forces in Canada, and in an interview with The Darby News, he once again openly expresses his opinion as to the appointment of officers to the Canadian regiments.

Speaking to the representative of The News, Lord Dundonald says:

"Since I called attention in Canada to the political jobbery in the appointment of officers, I have been offered no appointment by the British Government.

"I therefore automatically retire."

Asked if he proposed to enter a political career, he said:

"I do not intend to sit down and do nothing."

CHURCH IN POLITICS.

Delegate Advises Attention to Choice of Candidates.

Ottawa, June 13.—G. C. Smith of Cornwall, one of the lay delegates to the Anglican Synod of the Ottawa diocese, speaking before the synod, asserted that the need of the day is that the church should take a more active part in politics. The church should endeavor to exert an influence on the choice of members of both the Federal and Provincial Parliaments.

He agreed with the view expressed before the Presbyterian General Assembly, that graft, and not intemperance, is the curse of Canada. He hoped an effort would be made by the Anglican church to help purify the political and commercial atmosphere.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Workman Pinned Beneath EighteTon Concrete Girder.

Toronto, June 13.—A misplaced roller caused fatal injury to Charles McGinnis, at a new Hyslop building here yesterday.

McGinnis, with fourteen other men, was moving an 8-ton concrete girder. It tilted and fell across his abdomen, crushing his legs to a pulp.

A heavy block and tackle was necessary to move the beam, and ten minutes elapsed before McGinnis could be taken away. He was conscious all the time. He died at St. Michael's Hospital.

McGinnis was 32 years of age, and leaves a widow.

FIVE MORE DROWNINGS.

Three Perish At Twin Chutes—Two Englishmen in Montreal River.

Cobalt, June 13.—A. E. Hogue, managing engineer, and H. B. Munroe, a Cobalt broker, returned yesterday after a hard trip to Lake Abitibi.

They report the death by drowning at Twin Chutes, on Lake Abitibi, of three men, named Thorpe, Crerar and Blundell. Thorpe was the assayer at the Mosher Camp, near Beaderman's Narrows.

A report has also reached Cobalt that two Englishmen were drowned Tuesday in Montreal River. A third one was saved.

ABOLISH PRIVY COUNCIL.

Australian Attorney-General May Introduce Legislation.

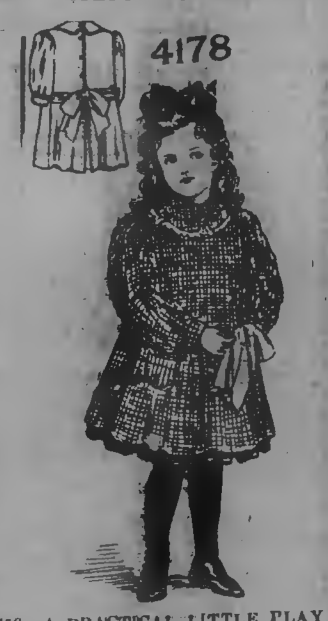
London, June 13.—(C.A.P.)—A Melbourne despatch says the Attorney-General is considering legislation to remove the anomaly of the high court and privy council being the ultimate and final courts of appeal on questions arising between the Commonwealth and the states.

Fushimi In Toronto.

Toronto, June 13.—Prince Fushimi, cousin of the Emperor of Japan, and distinguished for his military genius, received the city's welcome yesterday. His arrival proved an event of interest to many thousands of Torontonians, as the crowds at the Union Station indicated, and the warmth of the hospitality extended left little to be desired and was manifestly gratifying to the prince. The civic drive around the city, followed by the garden party at Government House and the state dinner in the evening, were functions that appeared to please the visitor's fancy. The prince, who, with his suite, spent the night as guests of the Lieutenant-Governor, leaves for the west at 11 a. m. to-day.

Mrs. J. B. Brewer of Woodstock, N.B., is believed to have committed suicide by drowning.

THE LATEST DEAN PATTERNS

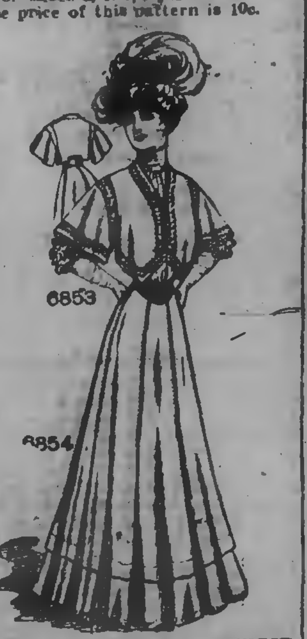


4178—A PRACTICAL LITTLE PLAY APRON.

The apron is so important in the little maid's wardrobe that its style of fashioning must be considered quite as much as the small gowns. Here is an apron intended for serviceable use during the play hours and no fear of soiling the frock need be felt with its all embracing folds as protection. The neck is prettily finished with a round collar while the sleeves are easily full and end at the wrist. The strings may be used to loose the apron behind while the useful pocket will endear it to the small wearers heart. Such a garment should of gingham, percale or madrass and for the medium size 2 yards 36 inches wide are needed.

4176.—Sizes 3, 5, 7, 9 years.

The price of this pattern is 10c.



66853. 6854.—ONE OF THE NEWEST IDEAS IN STREET SUITS.

Each revolving season finds the fashions a bit changed no matter how subtle the difference may be and this year we have the bolero takingle on quite different lines from those of a year ago. The coming in of the broad and drooping shoulder has naturally brought in the dolman and kimono sleeves and here is a charming instance of the latest development of the short coat. Collarless and reaching scarcely to the waistline with sleeves of elbow or shorter length, this small wrap is decidedly jaunty and very becoming to most wearers.

Two Patterns—6853.—5 sizes, 32 to 40 inches bust measure. 6854.—7 sizes, 20 to 32 inches waist.

The price of these patterns is 20c. but either will be sent upon receipt of 10 cents.

Leave your order and ten cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail

Another Upset Near the Locks

Two Young Men Thrown Out of Canoe and Had Chilly Bath

Two young men named Carton and Long had a rather narrow escape from drowning just below the locks bridge yesterday afternoon. They were paddling down stream in a canoe just a few yards below the locks when the current caught the boat while the occupants were not on guard and upset the frail craft. The two paddlers were thrown out into the river, but fortunately both of them could swim and they were able to reach the shore and to recover the canoe. The water runs swiftly just at this point and the boys were pretty well exhausted before they reached terra firma. Their clothes were soaked with water and the canoe trip had to be postponed.

The river is dangerous for canoeists just below the locks and great care has to be exercised by persons boating in that vicinity.

Barn Sill Broke With Fatal Result

Young Man Crushed to Death While Moving a Building

Herbert Brown, youngest son of Mr Wm. Brown, residing about two miles west of Carmel, met with a fatal accident on Monday last. He was assisting his brother Fred in moving a barn and during a slight hitch in the work he crawled under the building to fix the roller. One of the sills broke and the unfortunate young fellow was crushed to death.

Deceased was 30 years of age and unmarried.

Grand Secretary Samuel Crooks, has intimated his intention of withdrawing. J. M. Thompson, of Kemptville, and E. D. Hales, of Toronto, are mentioned as candidates. Grand Master Patterson of Hamilton, will likely be given a second term. It is anticipated that Shelton Hornshaw, of Toronto, will be advanced to the deputy chair without opposition.

OBITUARY

JAS TWOMEY

The death occurred early this morning at 315 Murray street, of Jas. Twomey, after a lengthy illness. The deceased was 80 years of age and was born in Ireland. About fifty years ago he came to this country, and first settled in the States, where he lived a short while. He afterwards moved to Canada, settling in Ennismore, where he resided for nearly half a century. He was widely known and highly respected in Ennismore and by all who knew him. He was married in 1857 to Margaret Doherty, who predeceased him a few years ago. For the past year and a half the late Mr Twomey had resided with his son in this city.

Seven children, three sons and four daughters are left to mourn his loss. The sons are Thomas and Maurice, of Emily and Timothy, of this city. The daughters are Sister Veronica, of Port Arthur; Mrs Michael Cavanagh and Mrs. P. J. Groilard, of Ennismore, and Miss Mary, at home.

The funeral will take place on Saturday morning at 7.30 from the late residence of the deceased to St. Martin's church, and thence to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

Annual Outing of St. Paul's Guild

Young Men Will Hold Excursion to Idyl Wyld on June 27th

At a meeting of the Executive of the Young Men's Guild of St. Paul's church, held last evening, it was decided to hold the annual excursion of the Guild and their friends to Idyl Wyld on Thursday afternoon, June 27th, on the steamer Otonabee. The boat will leave the Wolfe street wharf at 1.30 o'clock, and will reach Idyl Wyld at 4 o'clock, when, after spending a few hours there, the return trip will be made, the excursionists arriving home at ten o'clock. A first class orchestra will accompany the excursion, and it is expected the outing will be largely patronized.

Opening of Lift Lock at Kirkfield

Will be First Week in July—Notes From Along the Trent Canal

Ottawa, June 12.—The Department of Railways and Canals has received tenders for the construction of the projected canal from Holland Landing to Newmarket, and it is expected the work will be begun this summer and pushed to completion as rapidly as possible. The work is now under way on the deepening of the Holland River from Holland Landing to Lake Simcoe, and when the whole canal is completed Newmarket will be in communication by water with Lake Simcoe and the Trent Valley Canal System. The cost of the Newmarket Canal will be between $500,000 and $600,000. It will give eight-foot navigation, the same as the Trent Valley Canal. The lift lock at Kirkfield on the Trent Valley Canal will be officially opened early in July, probably the 3rd. This will give continuous navigation from Lake Simcoe to Hastings.

Tenders for the construction of the rest of the southern section of the canal to the outlet at Trenton will be called for shortly.

Arrangements will be started as soon as the date of the lift lock opening is set to run excursions from Peterborough. The Otonabee Navigation Company may send a boat up, and the Stoney Lake will likely go up, as there are a great many people in the city who would like to take the trip in, and will be glad of an opportunity to take one of the excursion boats.

Made Strong Plea for the Support of Diocesan Missions

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt Says There Are a Good Many Heathens at Home of a Kind More Difficult to Reach Than Those in Places More Distant.

Toronto, June 13.—That county clergy had as good claims as city rectors for support, and had harder heathens to deal with on the back concession lines than have foreign missionaries; that twelve men, as reported on the streets of Ottawa, had in a few days made twelve million dollars each out of Cobalt, while the Church of England in Canada was too poor to send one ordained clergyman there, and that the Church in Canada will be expected in ten years to come to the position of entirely supporting mission work among the Eskimos, were among the most noteworthy statements in three addresses delivered last night in the school house of the Church of the Redeemer, at the annual Synod missionary meeting, presided over by Archbishop Sweatman.

The first missionary sent out among the Eskimos, from any English Church, Rev. E. J. Peck, who after five months' journey from an English home, reached his field thirty years ago, gave an interesting account of his work in the Arctic circle along a coast line of 4,000 miles. Separated from his wife and family for thirteen months, while he established an outpost in the region of Baffin's Bay, the foundations were laid of a work which resulted after six years, in the turning of a large number of the Eskimos to Christianity.

Rev. Dr. L. Norman Tucker, General Secretary of the missionary society of the Church of England in Canada, spoke on the mission work in the West, touching on its growth in the past fifteen or twenty years. The importance of the foundation work being done by Bishop DuVernet at Prince Rupert, and the great need of more support of the work in the Copper Cliff and Cobalt regions were vigorously set forth.

MR. LANGFELDT SPEAKS

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, rector of St Luke's, Ashburnham, pleaded the cause of diocesan missions, which he urged, were of no less importance than any other. There were a good many heathen at home, he said, and of a kind more difficult to reach than those in places more distant. There were districts not far away without any preaching. He thought that Trinity and Wycliffe Colleges were not doing their duty by the diocese, sending their men all out to the west.

Sensational Attack on London Conference Stationing Committee

St. Thomas Clergyman Alleges that Favoritism Was Shown and That Some Ministers Are Self Seeking—Will Drop Out of Ministry for a Year as a Protest—Salaries Are Miserably Small.

In the course of his sermon last Sunday night in the Central Methodist church, St. Thomas, the pastor Rev Wm. Kettlewell, a former pastor of Galt Methodist church, spoke as follows, in reference to the action of the stationing committee of the London Conference;

"Now I have come to a personal matter—I have hesitated to say anything on this subject. You know how during the past four years I have studiously refrained from advertising myself in this pulpit. The pulpit is no place for personalities. It is distasteful that it should seem desirable at this time to air a personal matter. But it is more than a personal matter. You have been greatly surprised—my wife was as greatly surprised when she read it in the paper—that I have requested to be left without a station this year. Many of you are asking the reason why I should have made so extraordinary a request. IT SEEMS TO BE DUE TO YOU AS WELL AS TO MYSELF that I should explain the reasons.

"First, let me say that the being stationed on a country charge on a smaller salary would not in itself have led me to temporarily retire from the pastorate. If I were convinced that the exigencies of the work required —and God called me to go to the humblest missions in the conference—I would gladly respond. I am absolutely surrendered to the clearly indicated will of God.

"But I have been unable to persuade myself that the Stationing Committee's appointments indicated the will of God.

"I have had large experience on Stationing Committees and have never looked upon them as infallible bodies; though I have looked upon them as composed of honorable men, trying to do their best under difficult conditions.

"A committee is sometimes seriously hampered in its work by numerous invitations to junior ministers—making almost inevitable the sacrifice of men who might seem to have prior claims. The committee was not thus embarrassed this year. There was an opening in the list of stations, that directly or indirectly would have opened a place for the pastor of the Central Church of a similar rank to the one he is leaving. By all the traditions of Methodism, by all the uses of stationing, the vacancy created by the lamented retirement of Rev. Dr. Gifford, of this city, should have been filled immediately or remotely by the ONE minister on a town or city station who was compelled to move by the expiration of his term.

"Instead of this, members of the committee who had neither received invitations nor filled their term of service, were given the advantage of the opening, and every proposal made by the chairman of the St. Thomas District, looking to an equivalent charge, was voted down.

"I have asked to be left without a station, as a protest against this departure from the traditional policy of Methodism, against the scramble of members of the committee to improve their own condition at the expense of those whose terms have expired by limitation.

"Such action strikes at the very existence of the itinerant system. Honored ministers who have had large experience on the Stationing Committees of the London and other conferences, condemn the conduct of the committee as an 'outrage.' That ministers should forego their freedom of negotiation as to their charges and place themselves and the interests of their families in the hands of a third party, is unparalleled in church policy. The Methodism of the United States demands that the stationing power shall be in the hands of disinterested officials—the Bishop and presiding elders. Our Stationing Committee is composed largely of ministers who are themselves moving. They practically station themselves. But such has been the high sense of honor, Such have been the traditions of the committee, that the power has been but seldom abused. It has remained for the Stationing Committee of the present London conference to trail these traditions in the dust.

"Conscious of my own integrity in these matters, challenging those who have been associated with me during a 35 years' ministry to point to an instance in which I have solicited a vote, asked for an appointment, or turned a hand to forward my own interests (and there are many ministers who could say the same thing) I join issue with a condition which is intolerable in the ministry of the Methodist church.

"Many a minister of my meagre financial resources would have been compelled to submit to a conspiracy of selfishness. Fortunately like Paul I have had a business training as well as a theological training. I can 'make tents' as well as preach sermons. That is what I intend to do this year.

"It has been suggested that I had a plan up my sleeve. There is not a shred of truth in this statement. The action of the committee came as a surprise to myself.

"I may, however, whisper to you that I have already had two overtures from the heads of two going business concerns, and these are fresh illustrations of the inadequate salaries that ministers are receiving, compared with brain workers in other walks of life. No wonder that young men refuse to turn their attention to the ministry. After matriculation they spend six or seven years preparing for it. They are on the average thirty when they are ordained. Their salaries are inadequate and the tendency is to retire them at sixty years of age.

"Will you bear with me when I say that this church does not pay as large a salary as it should. In proportion to the moneys that it raises for all purposes it pays less than any station in the conference. The proportion of money raised for all purposes paid to the ministry is 26.6 per cent. This would be equal to a salary of $1,250 for the minister of the Central church. I have spent $500 beyond my salary since coming to St. Thomas—no minister should be asked to do this.

"As to my plans I have none. Two months' holidays, then a business engagement. Name will stand connected with the Central the same as that of Crossley and Hunter."

Canadian Goods Equal to Those of American Firms

Important Decision Given by Judge Weller in the County Court—Cordage Company Wins its Suit.

That the Canadian Cordage Company makes goods equally as good as those turned out by American companies engaged in the manufacture of similar products, was proved in the County Court yesterday afternoon, when the case of the Canadian Cordage Company against Thos McGuiness, of Leamington, lon Ont., was tried. The plaintiffs sued the defendant for $514.26, the principal and interest of a promissory note made by the defendant in favor of the plaintiffs, and due on October 28th, 1906. The note was given in payment for a number of rope cables, which McGuiness purchased from the Cordage Company to be used by him in the drilling business in which he is engaged. McGuiness refused to pay the note on the ground that the cables were not manufactured of good material and not made as they should have been.

The case practically narrowed down as to whether the Cordage Company manufactured goods equal to those turned out by American firms engaged in a similar line of business. The defendant, who is an American, brought several experts on drilling and ropes and cables used in this business, from the United States to endeavor to prove that the cables purchased in Peterborough were not made out of good material or properly manufactured.

The evidence of plaintiffs showed that they used the same material and had their plant equipped with the same machinery as that of the American factories, which were claimed to produce superior goods. It was also shown that the workmen at the Canadian Cordage Company were fully as competent as those employed at the American factories.

His Honor Judge Weller gave a verdict in favor of the plaintiffs for the full amount asked, $514.26. Each party will pay their own costs.

Hall, Medd & Davidson, solicitors for the plaintiffs; A. T. Boles, Leamington, for the defendant.

The case of English versus Black is being tried today.

Could Not Fool County Police

Man Accused of Stealing Eggs Captured at Belleville

A man named Johnson, who has been wanted by the County Police for some time on a charge of stealing some eggs from an Otonabee farmer, is now in the toils. He was located by County Constable Cochrane at Belleville, and brought to the local gaol, where he is now confined. He will come up for a preliminary hearing tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock.

It will be remembered that some time ago two men were wanted by the police on the charge of stealing some eggs from the nests of a farmer's hens in Otonabee. When the two culprits heard that the police were after them they flew the coop, and could not be located. Constable Cochrane got on their trail, however, and landed one of them at Belleville. The other fellow is still at liberty.

FINANCES OF BELL COMPANY

Revenues Amount to Nearly $2,000,000 a Year

Montreal, June 12.—At the Bell Telephone enquiry today counsel for the Crown took up matters where Mr. Shepley left off. Counsel showed that it was manifestly impossible to estimate considerations of property and revenue exactly and accurately, but the enquiry has given sufficient accuracy for the purposes in question. Various figures were given as to the affairs of the company, the cost of the system being mentioned as over $13,000,000, the real estate as over one and half millions. The original cost was $17,074,275. From these figures many side issues were discussed. It was mentioned that nearly half of the Bell Telephone Company's constructions have been made within the last four years. The revenues amount to nearly two million, with nearly one million from premiums. Counsel then indicated to the Chairman that there was great difficulty in continuing the argument, as constant reference would require to be made to confidential figures and information supplied to subsidiary companies, and the inquiry was continued in private.

The longshoremen's strike at Fort William has been settled.

REV. R. J. CAMPBELL

Called on to Preach Christ Crucified and Drop "The New Theology."

The Rev. R. J. Campbell, preaching at the City Temple, London, on May 19, referred to the fact that that day was the thirty-third anniversary of the opening of the church. The City Temple, he said, had its adherents all over the world, and there was probably no church where a greater spirit of loyalty existed. The minister then preached from the First Epistle of St. Paul to the Corinthians, verse ii., chapter 2. He had hardly commenced before a man, who had previously mounted the pulpit and shaken hands with him, stood up from a seat below the pulpit. Speaking in a moderate tone, he said, "I beg your pardon, Mr. Campbell, but will you preach the Saviour and Him Crucified?" The stewards at once escorted the interrupter to the door, but the preacher observing some movement among his congregation, reassured them with the remark. "If you keep quiet it will not disturb me. We are accustomed to these eccentric people from time to time." Later in the discourse a man stood up at the further end of the gallery, and shouted, "Mr. Campbell, will you preach Christ Crucified?" He was also removed, the preacher remarking, "It is very curious this morning, we do not usually have two. I am afraid I cannot make our friends understand; possibly it is not so with the rest of you."

Child Met Death In Peculiar Way

WEDDING BELLS

RUTHERFORD—CAMPBELL

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Andrew's church, Kirkfield, Tuesday, June 4th, when Miss Jean Campbell, second daughter of Mr and Mrs. H Campbell, of Kirkfield, was united in the bonds of matrimony to Mr. Frank Rutherford of Niagara Falls, formerly of Peterborough. Promptly at the hour appointed, 1.30, the bridal party entered the church, to the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Brown. The bride looked charming in a gown of white silk eolienne over white taffeta, with a veil and orange blossoms, and carried a beautiful bouquet of white roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Bella, gowned also in white and carrying pink roses. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Wallace of Lindsay. The party left amid showers of rice and good wishes to take the evening train for their future home in St. Catharines. Friends were present from Cambray, Lindsay, Bobcaygeon, Toronto, Niagara Falls and Saginaw, Mich.

CAIN—REED

A very pretty June wedding took place at the home of Mr. R. Reed, Burnt River, Ont., on Wednesday, June 5th, when his daughter Mary, was united in marriage to Mr. John Cain, of Toronto, by Rev. S. Kemp, Coboconk. The bride was becomingly attired in white crepe de chene and carried white roses. Miss Lena Miller acted as bridesmaid and Mr. B. Cain, of Peterborough, assisted the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Cain left on the 4 o'clock train for Toronto, bringing with them the best wishes of their many friends in Burnt River. — Lindsay Watchman-Warder.

Now if you know how busy our former sales have been, you will understand how strong this headline insertion is and what it implies. And even now we consider the claim a very mild one. We would still speak conservatively if we put the announcement more strongly before our readers.

Lower prices have never been attached to fabrics so desireable and seasonable. Nowhere can you duplicate our sale offerings for less than one fourth more. We wish you would try to duplicate them. If you are the least sceptical failure would convince you of the true merit of these sales.

The items of Wool and Cotton Dress Materials tell of fabrics of up-to-the-moment fashionableness, plain, fancy and mixed effects, new weaves, new colors and at a wide range of prices, all reduced.

EVERYTHING FOR THE AMATEUR PHOTOGRAPHER

Their Majesties Will Visit Ireland

A London despatch says;

Coming on the heels of the widely published stories of disaffection in certain districts of Ireland, alleged to be more serious than in any other period of the last 20 years, and provoking debates in both houses of parliament, the sudden announcement is made that King Edward and Queen Alexandra will visit Ireland early in July. Their majesties will cross on the royal yacht and remain several days.

The news has caused great surprise, which is all the greater because recently it was given out that while the King would make the round of private visits to friends in Ireland, he would pay no official or state visit this year, because of his consideration for the slender purse of Lord Aberdeen, the viceroy. The cost of entertaining the court on a state visit would be something like $75,000 a greater outlay than Lord Aberdeen can afford.

The viceroy's comparative poverty is so notorious that it gave rise to a rumor that he was about to resign his post and accept the presidency of an insurance company.

It is entirely possible that the King considers that a state visit to the Island would be so desirable at this time as to justify him in making up to Lord Aberdeen some way the big expense of the entertainment.

It is significant that the King's visits to Ireland are invariably made during the times of alleged disaffection. He is, however, always received with the greatest enthusiasm.

The King having mentioned that he would like to visit a race meeting, the stewards of the Irish Turf Club have been requested to arrange a special for July 11 at Leopardstown, the beautiful course overlooking the sea near Dublin. It is understood that his majesty will present two cups on that occasion.

Nelson Monteith gave little encouragement yesterday to a deputation which waited upon him to urge that the eastern and western dairymen's annual exhibitions be combined and made one with the National Exhibition at Toronto. ONE ON COBOURG

A Port Hoper visited Cobourg yesterday, says the Port Hope Guide, and the first question thrown at him when he arrived in the village was, "Did you come down in the ferry?" But the young man was quite equal to the sarcastic remark and informed the inquirer that he had not; he had driven down and was going to attend the inquest. "What inquest!" gasped the Cobourger, evidently thinking that something had happened unknown to him. "Why, the inquest on the Cobourg ball team, I heard they died under peculiar circumstances on Saturday," replied the visitor. This closed the discussion and the Cobourg joker will probably drop the ferry gag for some time to come.

VARIETY IN NATURE STUDY

Nature study in the open air, as conducted by teachers, has its drawbacks

For instance, the other day a teacher in the Clinton Street School, Toronto, accompanied her class to the Humber, to study the plants and shrubs of that spot, so favored by nature. The boys determined to introduce variety in the form of a swim, so hied themselves off to the bank of the river, doffed their clothing and plunged to their heart's content. They had control of the situation for a time, and having satisfied themselves at this pastime, got into their clothing again, and returned to the woods to join the teacher and girl members of the party.

Large Excursion Visits the City

Claremont Baptist Sunday School Picnic Held To-day

About 425 excursionists are in the city today. They came in on the C.P.R. from Claremont, it being the annual Sunday school excursion of the Baptist church of Claremont. The visitors arrived at 10.25, and a number of them remained in the city viewing the many different sights, but the majority of them took the trip over the lift lock, up to No. 5 dam. The committee had the Water Lily chartered and the excursionists partook of dinner at the pretty picnic grounds up the river. The train leaves for Claremont tonight at six o'clock.

Peterborough is daily becoming the objective point of a large number of excursions, the wonderful lift lock being a great attraction.

STOCK MARKET QUOTATIONS

New York, June 13.—The stock market was a tiresome affair today. The market was really made by the room. The changes were the result of the swapping of contracts chiefly. Pressure was upon the list from time to time, by professional operators. They did not get much stock, but as support is chiefly scale-down a dragging effect was produced. This kind of a market is likely to be experienced until it is again oversold, and then a customary rally will take place under short covering. The news of the day was unimportant. Developments were conductive to a waiting attitude. It seems that the waiting is for the monetary conditions to adjust themselves and for the reinvestment demand of July and prior thereto to materialize. Between 12 and 1 o'clock only 12,000 shares were down on the exchange. This is the dullest day since June 15, 1905.

OMEMEE MAN MUST PAY FINE

Imposed Some Time Ago for Illegal Fishing—Was Arrested

Constable Mitchell of Omemee, came to Peterborough today, with a warrant for the arrest of John English, formerly of Omemee, who has been living in this city for some time past. English was engaged at the Cordage Works.

P. C. McDonald went down their this afternoon and made the arrest. English was placed in the cells and will be taken to Omemee this evening in charge of Mr. Mitchell. It appears that last February he was caught illegally fishing in Pigeon river, and was brought before Mr. F. D. Moore, magistrate of Lindsay. He was found guilty and fined $13.70 to be paid forthwith. He was allowed to go, but never paid the fine. Evidently the authorities did not try very hard to make him settle. He will either have to pay the fine this time or remain in gaol. Yesterday, he was in police court, interesting himself in Wm. McPherson, a friend of his who came from Omemee and was charged with vagrancy. McPherson was also fined heavily a while ago, for illegal fishing.

Trades and Labor Council Discusses Important Matters

Results of Milk Tests Should be Published—Butter Should be Inspected—Aldermen Who Oppose Day Labor Criticized—The Garbage By-law Not Needed if Sanitary Inspector Strictly Enforces Present Health Regulations.

The regular monthly meeting of the Trades and Labor Council was held last evening in the labor hall, with President Alexander in the chair, and a good attendance of members.

DELEGATE'S REPORT.

Mr. T J. Begley, who represented the Council at the Labor Educational Association Convention in Hamilton, presented his report of this highly successful gathering. He also urged upon the meeting the necessity of supporting the new labor paper, soon to be issued in Toronto, and distributed to the members copies of the Industrial Banner.

MILK INSPECTION.

The Chairman of the Legislative Committee reported in reference to the milk inspection bylaw. The committee felt that it was an injustice to the ratepayer in not having the results of the milk tests published. The Trades and Labor Council claimed credit for the introduction of this measure, and it was claimed that without the publication of the result of the tests, the bylaw was ineffective. The secretary was instructed to communicate with the City Clerk and ascertain why the results of the milk tests are not published, and also suggest the advisability of enacting legislation towards having the butter inspected, which is offered for sale on the city market.

DAY LABOR SYSTEM.

This committee also reported regarding the satisfaction given by the day labor system on city work. The city aldermen were scored for their opposition to this system and Ald. McIntyre, who, it was alleged claimed to be a staunch supporter of the day labor system, came in for some hard raps for voting, as a speaker said, against his convictions.

THE GARBAGE BYLAW.

The proposed garbage bylaw came up for consideration during the evening and the opinion was freely expressed, that if the sanitary inspector did his duty, and enforced the sanitary legislation, at present on the statute books, there would be no necessity for any further legislation. The consensus of opinion seemed to be unfavorable to the bylaw, but no direct action was taken, the matter being left over for further consideration.

ASSESSMENT QUESTION.

The assessment request of the Colonial Weaving Co. came up for consideration, and while no decided stand was taken in opposition to the request, the City Council was condemned for over-riding the verdict of the ratepayers, who recently voted down a fixed assessment proposition at the polls. The City Council afterwards sought and secured legislation at Toronto, to grant the request of the company, interested, and established a precedent which would cause trouble in the future.

TRADES UNION REVIVAL.

A proposition was submitted last evening and which was accepted with considerable enthusiasm, which has for its object, the organization of unorganized labor in the city. The members entered heartily into the scheme and it is expected that in the course of a few months a trades union revival will be in full swing. The members were instructed to boom the proposition and at the next meeting of the Trades and Labor Council definite action will be taken.

During the evening, several hundred Typographical Union label stickers were distributed to the members present.

Man Who Never Wears a Hat

Has Gone for Years Without Headgear—Excites Curiosity

New York, June 12. — Frederick Mead, an Ossining merchant, went down on the revenue cutter Hudson to meet his wife and daughter who were passengers on the liner, Barbarossa, arriving from Naples. Mr. Mead, though well dressed, wore no hat, and his appearance soon attracted considerable attention, both among the customs men and on the steamship. One curious man wanted to know where he had lost his hat.

"I have not worn a hat in years," said Mead. "I lost my hat by accident years ago, and found going without the best way."

As an evidence of this he had to exhibit a good head of hair topping off a sunburned face surrounded by a fringe of freckles. He declared he was not afraid of pneumonia or sunstroke and did not have headaches.

"Man was not intended for hat wearing," Mead said. "Of course, going without one attracts considerable attention. I have been in lands where the natives neither wore hats nor much clothing for that matter, and I have been looked upon with scorn by them, because, being civilized, I wore no hat. They forgave wearing clothes, but could not overlook the fact that I wore no hat."

Santos Dumont was almost killed while trying his new airship at Bagatelles, France, when a bungling workman tightened a guide rope, causing the balloon to sag.

This Young Man Laughed too Long

Funny Story Set Him Giggling and He Could Not Stop

Roy Moore, a young man who is employed on the farm of W. J. McLeod on the ninth concession of East Zorra, Perth County, is dangerously ill as the result of a very peculiar accident of which he was the victim the other day. His condition is the result of too hearty laugh, says the Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

With a couple of others, Neil Murray and W. A. McKay, young Moore was working on a grader on the twelfth line, near Tavistock, when one of them related a witty story. Moore began to laugh very heartily. He laughed loud and long, when suddenly he collapsed and became unconscious. The strain on some of the muscles in the region of his heart had proved greater than could be withstood and they gave way.

Dr. Steele was summoned, and managed after considerable difficulty to bring the unconscious man back to life and knowledge of his surroundings. He was taken home and though he is not yet out of danger, his condition has improved, and it is not now expected to have a serious termination.

New Sidewalks In Ashburnham

Have Been Finished and Gang Has Gone to Water Street

The new concrete sidewalks in Ashburnham have been completed except two or three blocks, where the residents cannot agree on where they want the walk to go. The gang, has, therefore, been moved and if there is time those few blocks may be laid later in the season. The engineering department has laid over a mile and a half of walk in the fifth ward, and if no more is laid over there this year, the people will have no kick coming.

Foreman Thirnbeck with his men has now gone to Water street, and will lay that stretch of walk from Dublin street to Antrim street, over the old goose pond. This work has been under way for the past two or three years, and now that the goose pond has been filled in and houses built on it, the Board of Works does not intend to let it run along for another year.

Dust Nuisance Is Unbearable

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I took a stroll round the city last evening, covering parts of three wards, and can safely say that I scarcely took one breath of air that was not permeated with dust, especially did I find this so at the C.P.R. depot, which is frequented by hundreds of people throughout the day, and part of the night, and there the dust is black and being more volatile, it rose in clouds from every passing vehicle, especially from street cars and automobiles where it would rise like smoke from a rapid moving railway train. Surely there is something rotten in the state of Denmark, when this state of things is allowed to continue, notwithstanding the wholesale complaints on all sides. If we have a lot of incompetents in the council who are incapable of performing such an imperative duty, then let the task be assigned to a commission who are capable of doing it. We pay for the work and are willing to pay more if necessary, but we must have the work properly done. We are living in God's country in the twentieth century and got in the great Sahara or African desert, with its blinding sandstorms.

Yours, etc.,
PURE AIR.
Peterborough, June 13, 1907.

FILLING-IN CONTRACT

To the Editor of the Review

Sir.—I have noticed in your paper quite a discussion regarding the fulfillment of my contract with the city for dumping dredgings on the city property. I thought that a little explanation might enlighten the mayor and the chairman of the Board of Works, who from their actions, show a decided lack of knowledge concerning existing conditions

When I entered into an agreement with the city to fill in their property with dredgings from the river bed, they agreed to let me have the use of the old cars that were then on the work. Now the history of those old cars is as follows;

They were bought by Corry and Laverdure eight years ago. They were used for six years in building the lift lock. Mr. Geo. Stevens then bought them for junk for the paltry sum of less than $50. They were again used for a season north of Hunter street bridge. Then by Mr. Meldrum and the city, before I came into possession of them. I then used them for four months, and Mr. Meldrum again used them for about two months. You can imagine the condition of these old cars during all the time that I used them on my contract, and the expense I was put to in keeping them in repair.

Now what degree of legal talent must the Board of Works possess when they foolishly try to withhold the balance due me—the sum of over $600.00—for the purpose of trying to make me replace new cars for this mass of junk.

Thanking you for the space, I remain,

Yours truly,
F CONROY.

WEDDING BELLS

RIPDATH—MORTON

An interesting event took place recently at Fraserville, when Rev. Dr. Wetherall, pastor of the Methodist church, united in marriage Mr. Fred J. Ridpath, of this city, and Miss Margaret Jane Morton, daughter of Mr. Robert Morton. Miss Bella Johnston, of Hamilton, was bridesmaid, and Mr. Charles Morton, brother of the bride, supported the groom. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome brooch set in pearls. Mr. and Mrs. Ridpath have taken up residence at 471 Rubidge street, Peterborough.

MALONE—REID

The following Kingston despatch will be read with interest here, where the groom is well known,—

On Wednesday morning, Miss Sadie G. Reid, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Reid, was married to Ernest Malone, B.Sc., son of Anthony Malone, Toronto. Rev. J. Charles Villiers performed the ceremony. The bride wore a gown of white point d'esprit over white India silk, with trimmings of Cluny lace and insertion. Her bouquet was of roses. There were no attendants, and only the members of the immediate families were present. Mrs. Malone went away in navy blue cloth, costume, a blouse of white lace being worn under the pony coat. Mr. Malone will take his wife to Peterborough, where he is at present seeing to the construction of the Trent Valley Canal. Later they may settle in Newmarket.

Lord Dundonald Leaves the Army

Offered No Appointment Since He Exposed Jobbery in Canada

London, June 13.—Lord Dundonald the hero of Ladysmith, who from 1902 to 1904 commanded the Canadian militia, and was compelled by the Laurier Government to give up his appointment because, at a banquet in Montreal, he criticized political pull in making militia appointments, Mr. Sydney Fisher, the Minister of Agriculture being the object of his Lordship's strictures, has retired from the army. The announcement was made yesterday, and caused a great sensation. Lord Dundonald makes no secret of the cause of his retirement, and declares that it is because, since he exposed the methods of the Canadian Militia Department, the British Government has offered him no appointment.

The Daily Mail says;

"The news of the retirement of Lieut.-General, the Earl of Dundonald, has caused no little sensation in army circles. He is the distinguished officer who commanded the Canadian militia from 1902 to 1904. His mounted force was the first to enter Ladysmith in the Boer War. One-quarter of his men were killed or wounded. A Mail representative asked him the reason for his sudden retirement.

"Why have I retired," he answered "Well, I have not retired voluntarily from the army, which I have served since I was a boy of 17. I have not retired because of old age, because I have 13 years before the age clause will affect me. I have not retired because the promotion board did not think me worthy of promotion, for I was promoted last year. I retired simply because the British authorities offered me no employment since I was turned out. Yes, I prefer the words 'turned out' from the Canadian militia for calling attention to political corruption in the appointment of office, corruption that if not protested against by someone, would be bound to destroy the efficiency of that fine body of men, for I consider that unfairness and favoritism are bound to destroy the efficiency and take the heart out of any military force."

Barton township compelled Hamilton to build the mountain dam at a cost of $50,000, and the township has now assessed the city $10,000.

The Minstrels Second Concert

Audience Was Delighted Last Night—Everything Went Along With a Swing and Dash.

The second and last performance of the Peterborough Amateur Minstrels at the Grand Opera House last night, was witnessed by a fair sized audience, who were delighted with the entertainment. The peformance was carried out with more spirit and dash than on the first night, and everything ran along as smoothly as clock work. The end men livened up to their work and kept the audience in constant laughter. Some new jokes were introduced, the majority of them local hits, and they added greatly to the programme. The olio turns were of a high standard and proved just as entertaining as the previous night.

A feature of the minstrel programme was the singing of the quartette, composed of Messrs. Denham, McIlroy, Koen and Brady, who were heard with delight on each appearance. Not a little of the success of these numbers is attributable to the skill of Professor Alfred Davies, who with rare taste and skill wrote the quartette setting of the various numbers. Mr. Davies is to be congratulated on his effort for providing the dantiest number on the programme.

It is somewhat regrettable that the audiences were not larger on the two nights. The performance was worthy of a packed house on both occasions. It would be a good thing if the minstrels could be kept together and become a permanent organization. Entertainments could be given occasionally and it would be a credit to the city to have some well developed home talent.

A feature of the programme last night was some sharp impromptu repartee between two of the end men, Messrs Walter Davidson and George Lynch. During the breezy set-to some bright things were got off. It wound up by Mr. Davidson asked Mr Lynch why did his (Lynch's) nose bear such a resemblance to a bridge.

"Give it up," said George, after deep meditation.

"Because so many schooners pass under it," came the answer, and the laughter could be heard in Ashburnham.

MENAGERIE IS COMPLETE

Great Animal Display With Forepaugh and Sells Bros.' Show.

Neither money nor pains has been spared to make the animal display of Adam Forepaugh and Sells Bros. circus the greatest in America. The first thing that strikes the eye on visitors as they enter the menagerie is the long chain of elephants. There are three herds of these beasts, and, towering above them, with head into the very dome of the canvas, stands the tallest giraffe ever captured.

A rhinoceros of the two-horned variety is another rare curiosity. There likely to be, as the "rhino" is fast disappearing from his native ground. Two specimens of the hippotamus, each almost as big as an elephant, are worthy of special mention, as they are rare and these are remarkably fine subjects. Others of note in this collection are black and white llamas, and yaks, water buffalo, nylghaus, ibexes, Philippine cattle, gnues a chimpanzee resembling a low order of the human race, a blood-exuding behemoth, kangaroos with young, a full collection of the finest of the cat family, wart hogs, all kinds of deer and bears, and a score of camels and dromedaries.

Everything about the big circus this season indicates the expenditure of a vast amount of money. Improvements in every department have been made by weeding out old features and replacing them with novelties. The circus has grown, too, and in its new form it is a splendidly equipped organization, entirely novel in every feature. Something new in the way of a street parade is the first indication one sees of the vast improvements made. This pageant is fully twice the length of any other and displays not one thing to be seen anywhere else. In it alone are 1,200 people and 500 horses.

Some idea of the lavish expenditure of money that has prevailed in the brightening and novelizing process can be found in the fact that one million dollars was spent in building the scenery, making the costumes and equipping the great spectacle, "Fighting the Flames," which begins the regular program. It is the greatest entertainment of modern times.

The Adam Forepaugh and Sells Bros. circus will be seen in Peterborough on Thursday, June 25.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country, than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years, was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and the mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

AN ASSISTANT FOR ARCHBISHOP

The Anglican Synod Decided Not to Appoint a Coadjutor

Toronto, June 12.—A settlement of the animated discussion regarding the appointment of a coadjutor or assistant bishop, to assist Archbishop Sweatman, was reached this morning, when, after a lively session, the following motion was passed:

"That a sum of $2000 be provided to enable His Grace the Archbishop to provide such episcopal assistance as he may require during the ensuing year, and that the sum be charged to the Synod general account, and be raised by an assessment of the parishes."

This means the appointment, as announced yesterday, of Bishop Reeve, of Mackenzie River, as assistant bishop.

Most of the morning was spent in an animated discussion on a former motion, that no coadjutor be appointed. This was finally carried, making way for a later motion to allow the Archbishop to choose an assistant.

He thanked the Synod for their decision which he said would enable him to give considerable time to the larger work of the church.

Rev. Canon Welch spoke strongly against the motion which declared the appointment of a coadjutor unnecessary. It was a purely academic question. Chancellor Worrell replied that it was a real live question and not academic. The speech of Rev. Canon Welch was likely to give a false impression, he said.

The conduct of the meeting was referred to by Hon. S. H. Blake as "suited to a baseball game," and "most distressing and distasteful" to him.

"Are we going to consent to the request of the Archbishop?" he asked. "If we are to help the Archbishop let it be in the way he requests."

Here he was interrupted by Provost Macklem, who declared Mr. Blake out of order.

"That may be clever, but it is not to the point," said Mr. Blake.

The vote was as follows:—

Clergy—Yes, 74; nays, 51.
Laity—Yes, 50, nays, 29.

Continuation Class System and Reform

Inspector Crowley Makes Some Suggestions

Toronto, June 12.—The total abolition of the present system of graded continuation classes, and the creation of but one type of class at school, is recommended by Government Inspector Cowley, in his report to the Minister of Education which was issued this morning.

He also holds that there should be at least one properly qualified teacher devoting the whole time to pupils who have passed the entrance or equivalent examination.

Mr Cowley also sugests the establishment of a new examination, having the standing of a senior entrance examination, the certificate admitting the holder to the middle school and serving also as a district certificate, in the districts where such is still necessary.

Mr Cowley's recommendations will have the careful consideration of the Department. The fact, however, that its policy is towards the reduction of examinations, and the eventual discontinuance of the district certificate, may cause some revision prior to their adoption.

The grant for continuation classes has this year been increased from $32,000 to $40,000 and the County Council will be asked to increase their grant in proportion.

The Publisher's Claims Sustained

UNITED STATES COURT OF CLAIMS

The Publishers of Webster's International Dictionary allege that it "is, in fact, the popular Unabridged thoroughly re-edited in every detail, and vastly enriched in every part, with the purpose of adapting it to meet the larger and severer requirements of another generation."

We are of the opinion that this allegation most clearly and accurately describes the work that has been accomplished and the result that has been reached. The Dictionary, as it now stands, has been thoroughly re-edited in every detail, has been corrected in every part, and is admirably adapted to meet the larger and severer requirements of a generation which demands more of popular philological knowledge than any generation that the world has ever contained.

It is perhaps needless to add that we refer to the dictionary in our judicial work as of the highest authority in accuracy of definition; and that in the future as in the past it will be the source of constant reference.

THE VOTE FOR UNION

The overwhelming vote of the Presbyterian General Assembly in favor of a continuation of the Church Union negotiations seems to indicate that the movement has thus far the support of the church. That this does not necessarily mean that an acceptable basis of union will be arrived at between the three bodies concerned, those who are closest to the direction of the movement are only too anxiously aware, says the Montreal Star. It is a delicate and difficult diplomatic task to reconcile all the differences of doctrine and church government, which three Christian organizations of such varied origins have inherited and developed. A disposition to stand upon rigid terms and to insist upon the retention of historic usages would bring the project to inevitable wreck. It is only by keeping constantly in mind the terrible need felt throughout the Canadian field for a uniting of the forces of evangelical effort, and by getting a large share of the spirit of Christian brotherliness, that the union can ever succeed

No union movement within any church has ever been accomplished without great personal sacrifice and abnegation, and a tremendous sense of the necessity of closing ranks to receive the unwearing charges of the black cavalry of evil. It is, it will have been noted, the men on the firing line in the West—them in touch with evil conditions in all their hideous nakedness—who are the most earnest champions of union. In the more peaceful and secure East—where long years of religious warfare have compelled the forces which do not hesitate to work for the degradation of men for the money that may be filched from them in the process, to wear a hypocritical garb as conventional as can be managed—the battle does not look so desperate, and the fighters do not feel so constantly the need of reinforcements. But in new countries the batteries of the pit are unmasked; and the men who are standing guard over the ideals and standards of a higher life are impatient at the thought that a single man or a single dollar is being wasted in communities which have so little real evil to fight, that they are tempted at times to bicker among themselves.

MEDICAL INSPECTION

Medical inspection of schools is a subject which for some time has begun increasingly to occupy public attention. Its genesis may be expressed in a sentence taken from a resolution passed at a public meeting held in Berlin, Germany. "The school physician should protect the scholars against the dangers of school life." It is recognized and practised to a great extent in Great Britain, France and Germany, and other European countries. There are 600 school doctors in the United States But Japan, which, establishing a school system late, has established one with all the modern improvements, has, it is said, as many school doctors as all the rest of the world put together. In Canada, Hamilton, Halifax and New Westminster have medical inspection of schools. In Brantford the subject has not even been considered as yet, but our large foreign population makes it increasingly important that it should not be longer neglected. Not only is it desirable to lessen the danger of contagion, but there are many defects, many of them of the teeth, which can easily be removed, if the attention of parents is called to the same, while simple operations have been found, again and again, to make dull children bright.

Much of the work consisted in the making of parents wise as to defects in their children which need attention, and for the most part it is left with parents to take advantage of the information, or to neglect it as they please, as well as to decide what physician is to have the treatment of the case.—Brantford Expositor.

PEN POINTS.

The Toronto World persists in its statement that there will be a general Dominion election this fall. If there is it will be for the purpose of choking off further scandal developments.

The St. Thomas County Council has raised the pay of jurors to $2.50 per day. It is a move in the right direction, says the London Free Press Jurors are subjected to great business inconvenience in many cases. Conscientious performance of the duty of jurymen is in any event worthy of every proper recognition.

The public is already in possession of the essential facts regarding the land deals at Halifax and Moncton In the first Moncton deal the government paid Matthew Lodge, the middleman in the deal, $13,880 for four lots of land which Lodge had just purchased in the open market for $5.075. In the second Moncton deal the Government paid the same intermediary $10,490 for properties just bought for $8,300. In the Halifax deal Mr. B. F. Pearson, M.P.P., and his partner, Mr. Henderson, bought six lots in Halifax for $18,753 and immediately turned them over to the Government for $45,400, retaining, however, one block. The profits of this deal ascertained by the amount paid Mr Pearson as his half share of the gain were $28,392.42. The legal agent for the Government in this deal sued the Halifax Herald for libel in consequence of certain criticisms of the transaction, and the Halifax jury found a verdict in favor of the newspaper.

The Whitney Government is trying to serve the people. The Graham opposition is trying to fool the people. It would be an unspeakable public calamity if a progressive government could be struck down in the midst of its great work, and an unprogressive opposition could be lifted up from the midst of its idle unprogressive talk. West York supplied an indication that Liberals as well as Conservatives recognize a certain public value in the life of the Whitney government. A constituency that was carried by the Liberals nine years ago, is abandoned without a struggle this year. The Liberals of West York did not want to fight. All over Ontario there are thousands of Liberals who believe that every principle which made Liberalism glorious and useful has more to hope for from Hon. J. P. Whitney than from Hon. Mr. Graham. Mr. Whitney may convert these Liberals by his mistakes. Mr. Graham may convert them by his virtues. They cannot be converted by talk, and one great obstacle to the expulsion of the Whitney Government from power is the fact that thousands of Ontario Liberals do not want to see their own party back in office.—Toronto Telegram.

Church Should Get Into Politics

And Endeavor to Influence Choice of Candidates

An Ottawa despatch says,—In connection with a discussion of a report on the state of the church at the Anglican Synod of Ottawa Diocese, Mr. G. C. Smith, a lay delegate from Cornwall, declared that the need of the day is that the Church should take a more active part in political matters. The Church, he declared should endeavor to exert an influence on the choice of members of both the Federal and Provincial Parliaments. He supported the view expressed before the Presbyterian General Assembly that graft, and not intemperance, is the curse of Canada. He hoped an effort would be made by the Anglican Church to help purify the political and commercial atmosphere.

WILL PLACE NEW STREET LAMPS

Fire, Water, and Light Committee Will Drive Around the City To-night

The Fire, Water and Light Committee will meet tonight to drive around the city so that they may locate the new street lamps to the best advantage. Applications have been received for about a dozen arc lamps and as each one costs from $45 to $50 per year, the committee does not care to put any where they are not urgently needed. It is likely that not more than five or six lamps will be ordered, especially now that the city is negotiating with the Peterborough Light and Power Company for the purchase of their plant.

Record Run Made by Hose Waggon From Hall to Quaker Oats Mill

Horses Were Harnessed and Driven to the Mill in Less Than Three Minutes—Threw a Stream Forty Feet Higher Than Elevator Roof.

Two minutes after seven o'clock last night the fire alarm sounded from Box 24, which is situated near the Quaker Oats Company. In less than a minute afterward the hose wagon was going down the street at a mad pace, with a dozen firemen on board. In less than three minutes from the first alarm the team was at the hydrant at the rear of the big cereal mills elevator, two lengths of hose were quickly laid and combined into one big nozzle, and in a short time the water was turned on. An excellent stream was thrown, which reached the second roof of the elevator, or a height equal to the top of the main building.

The big gray team was hooked to the fire engine and left the hall immediately after the hose wagon, and although no attempt was made to hurry the horses, which had been on the watering cart all day, it was only thirteen minutes from the time the alarm sounded until Engineer Sam Wainwright blew the whistle—the signal that he was ready to start pumping. A minute or two afterwards the engines were started and a single stream was thrown a little farther than the combined stream from the hydrant. Then the engine was shut down and two streams were combined, and the water was thrown forty feet higher than the top of the elevator, or a distance of 160 feet. It was the greatest exhibition the brigade has ever given and the citizens generally need have no fear for power or water supply.

The engine was run for more than half an hour and during that time over a thousand people were down to see it. The test was most satisfactory yet and the chief and brigade are justly proud, as are also the people.

LIFE SAVING NET

About eight o'clock the brigade returned to the fire hall, where they gave an exhibition of jumping into a life saving net. This practice is very useful in case of a fire in a big building and it was gratifying to the brigade to find that seven or eight parties were willing to practice. The net was stretched under the front windows of the new hall and for a time no one cared to jump. But finally Mr. M. Cooley, who weighs over 200 pounds, appeared at the window, and after a warning to the boys to hold tight he jumped and struck the net square and was uninjured. Then followed in succession Chas. Dundas, Fireman Haggart, Driver W Parnell, and Ald. Morgan. A large number of people gathered in front of the fire hall and watched the proceedings with pleasure.

May Council Build Walks Contrary to Wishes of People

And Charge it Up to Frontage Tax?—Residents on Regent Street, Lakefield, Have Entered an Action Against the Council—Injunction Stopping the Work Granted.

The village of Lakefield has now a very interesting case on, and it will no doubt be watched by every citizen in Peterborough, and throughout the district. The village council undertook to lay a concrete walk on the east side of Regent street, under the frontage tax system. The The residents wanted the walk laid outside the tree line, and the Council started to lay it inside. This annoyed the ratepayers and they have entered action against the Council.

Mr. E. A. Peck is acting for the people, and Mr. O. A. Langley of Lakefield will defend the Council. An intrim injunction was applied for and granted, restraining the Council from proceeding with the work until the matter can be settled.

The ratepayers claim that the Council cannot lay a permanent walk contrary to the ratepayers wishes, and charge it up to a frontage tax. If the walk is laid at the expense of the general taxpayer it might be different. The ratepayers also claim that the Council did not follow the proper procedure. The case will likely come up at one of the fall sessions, unless it is disposed of sooner by the parties themselves.

The same question has been a matter of contention in practically every town and city in the province, where permanent walks have been laid, although a case has not yet been taken to the courts, so far as can be learned, and the decision in this one will be of great importance.

One More Railway Crash; Orders Were Not Observed

Head-On Collision on B. C. E. Railway at Vancouver.

One Passenger Killed — Five Others Seriously Injured—Now In Vancouver Hospital—Shunter and Car Meet at Full Speed Near Horseshoe Curve — Overrunning Orders Was the Cause of the Accident.

Vancouver, B. C., June 13.—The most serious accident in the history of the B. C. E. Railway Co. occurred shortly after five o'clock yesterday afternoon on the Steveston tram line, about a mile and a half from Vancouver. Two cars, a heavy shunter and a passenger car, met head on near the Horseshoe curve, with terrible results. The list of dead and injured is as follows:

Dead.

J. McCall, Steveston.

Injured.

J. Graner, both legs broken.

E. Stevens, motorman, Steveston, legs cut.

J. Lefonet, legs injured.

William Byron, Ladner.

Unknown Chinaman, unconscious, probably concussion of the brain.

Four Japanese and several lady passengers are slightly hurt.

It appears the accident was caused by the crew of the passenger car overrunning orders. This car should have crossed at the Ninth avenue switch. but, instead, went on and met the heavy freight shunter east of the Horseshoe curve, just inside the city limits. Both cars were going full speed and met head-on. The shunter telescoped the passenger car. The shunter was hitched on to the box car, behind, which was loaded with logs. When the collision occurred the two front trucks of the passenger car were driven into the car, and the end of the car rested on the rails. Both car were badly smashed. The first intimation of the occurrence came with telephone messages for doctors and ambulances. Aid was hurried to the spot, and the injured passengers brought to the city hospital.

Yesterday's Wreck.

Huron, Ohio, June 13.—Westbound fast mail No. 43, on the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern, was wrecked at 6.10 o'clock last evening, when it struck the caboose of a freight train.

Bay of Quinte Conference Concludes its Sessions

Rev. J. G. Lewis Speaks of Some Features of the Gathering—Bowmanville People Were Very Hospitable—Rev. H. M. Manning is Chairman of This District

Rev. J. G. Lewis returned from Bowmanville last evening where he has been attending the Bay of Quinte conference meetings for the past ten days.

The conference lasted one week and the stationing committee met two days previous to that. It was an exceedingly busy time as there was much business to be transacted.

Mr. Lewis stated that the conference was an excellent one, the best that has been held for years. It was the prevailing opinion that the public services held each night were never so well attended or better appreciated than they were at Bowmanville. There were about 225 ministers and laymen present and these were billeted at the different homes. Mr. Lewis spoke in eulogistic terms of the treatment that the delegates had received at the hands of the Bowmanville people. During the conference each day they partook of dinner in a body in the town hall. This kindness on the part of the people was greatly appreciated.

The conference last longer this year, additional time being required for enquiry into the attack made upon the character of a respected minister.

Special testimony was born to the long service of Rev. J. H. Locke, of Havelock, and Rev. Mr. Wilson of Newcastle, who this year are superannuated. Mr. Locke is a former pastor of the George street Methodist church of this city. Rev. Mr. Wilson has spent forty-five years in the ministry of the Methodist church. Rev. H. M. Manning of the Charlotte st Methodist church was appointed chairman of the Peterborough district of the conference, succeeding Rev. J. G. Lewis, who goes to Picton. Mr. Lewis has three more Sundays at Mark street church, preaching his farewell sermon there on Sunday, June 30th. He leaves for Picton the first week in July.

Rev. H. T. Lewis, brother of Rev. J. G. Lewis, who has been stationed at Cobourg for four years, goes to Oshawa to become pastor of the First Methodist church there.

Rev. J. G. Lewis was elected assistant secretary at the conference and Rev. C. H. Coon, of Bobcaygeon, who will succeed him as pastor of Mark st. church, was chosen secretary of the gathering.

Mrs. Cecilia Magill, one of the oldest residents of Hamilton, died this morning, aged 95 years. She was the widow of Henry Magill, formerly of Winona.

Rev. J. W. Falconer, of Fort Massey church, Halifax, has been unanimously chosen to fill the chair of New Testament Greek and Exegesis in Pine Hill College, Halifax.

YOUNG LAWYER USED REVOLVER

Suffering From "the Blues" He Created a Racket at Kinmount

A gentleman staying at a certain hotel in Kinmount had an unpleasant and startling experience early this morning, says the Lindsay Post. It appears that among the guests was a young member of the legal profession, who, after doing the business he ostensibly went to Kinmount for thought he would have a "drink." This must have been followed by others too numerous to mention, and in the result it went from bad to worse, for by 3 a.m. he evidently was suffering from a bad attack of the "blues." Whether he imagined he was being attacked by a regiment of cats, or burglars, or what, we cannot say but anyway, he brought out from somewhere a six shooter and began to blaze away at the walls, the ceiling and the floor of the room.

The gentleman after the first shot came whizzing through the wall of his room, evidently realized that absence of body and presence of mind are essential in an awkward predicament, so he placed all the available bedding between the wall and his back, rolled himself up into the smallest ball he possibly could, and waited with feverish anxiety the denouement. The landlord thought nothing short of murder or suicide had been committed, and was for breaking in the door, but the timely arrival of a friend—a fellow guest, who had taken the precaution to lock the lawyer's door over night—made that unnecessary. When the door was opened behold the cause of all the trouble, half stifled with smoke, but still able to gasp, "Let's have another old chap." The relater of the incident informs us that "all's well that ends well," and the lawyer and he were fellow passengers on the morning train, neither the worse, for what might have been worse, except that our legal friend had to pay for sundry repairs.

PETERBOROUGH FIRE BRIGADE

Received Letter of Appreciation From Peter Hamilton Co.

The Peter Hamilton Co. wrote the secretary of the Peterborough Fire Brigade, officially thanking the officers and men for the splendid work they did at the recent fire. The Company also enclosed a cheque for $15, which was for the men who stayed at the fire all night. The letter was as follows:—

John Gibbs, jr., Secretary Peterborough Fire Brigade:

Dear Sir,—We have your favor of the 8th, and enclose you herewith a cheque for $15 as requested. We would also ask you to convey to the officers and men of the Peterborough Fire Brigade our thanks for the very efficient way in which they handled our recent fire. We quite agree with what Mr. Corley, the insurance adjuster, who adjusted our loss, said, viz., that he did not think that any brigade in Toronto or elsewhere could have handled the fire any better than your brigade did.

Again thanking you, we remain,

Yours truly,

The High Chief Ranger, J. A. Stewart, of Perth, Ont., welcomed in felicitous terms, the representatives assembled. His address was most inspiring and contained much valuable information relating to the growth and extension of the Order during the past year.

Large Families and No Money

Is the Predicament of Many New Immigrants

A Toronto despatch says; The inflow of immigrants into Toronto, is still on the increase. A feature of the situation is the number of families now arriving, nearly all of them running up almost into double figures as to size. The last trainload included no less than a score of such families, the average number of children per family being seven.

The officials at the Ontario offices have some difficulty in disposing of them all. Most of the families object to going on farms and the worst feature is the almost total poverty that exists among them. Most of the heads of families are almost destitute of cash, and are largely dependent on the department until such time as they may get settled.

In many cases men with large families have arrived in the city without a dollar to their name.

The Excursion to Guelph Was Patronized by Large Number

Farmers of District Had a Most Enjoyable Outing at the Ontario Agricultural College—Much Valuable Information Secured Regarding Improved Agriculture.

Year by year the annual excursion of the Farmers' Institutes of East and West Peterborough and West Durham is becoming more popular as an outing for the farmers of these districts, and their wives, sons and daughters, and consequently it was no surprise that about seven hundred people participated in the excursion to the Ontario Agricultural College, at Guelph, yesterday. The excursion was a great success in every way, and those who took the trip were greatly pleased with their outing. The officials of the three Institutes connected with the excursion are to be congratulated upon the success that attended their efforts. Everything passed off most harmoniously, and the only department where fault was found was with the train service. Those who took part in the outing and the officers of the Institutes are not saying anything complimentary today about the C.P.R., and it is not likely that the farmers will again patronize this line for their annual trip.

The excursion train, made up of ten coaches, left Tweed at an early hour in the morning, and Peterborough was reached about 8.30 o'clock. At the different stations between Tweed and Burketon large numbers the train. After the train pulled out of Burketon, which was the western limit of the excursion, there were about 700 on board. A good run was made to Guelph, the Royal City being reached sharp at twelve o'clock. A number of the excursionists stopped off at Toronto, and spent the day in the Ontario capital. The majority of the visitors went directly to the College, where a substantial lunch awaited them in the gymnasium. A number secured dinner at the hotels in the city, but the gymnasium was well filled. There was plenty for everybody, and while the lunch was in progress, Prof. G. C. Creelman, President of the Ontario Agricultural College gave an excellent address. He congratulated the visitors on the large number who had patronised the excursion, which was one of the largest that had visited the College for some time. A gratifying feature of the excursion was the large number of young men and young women who had come along. It showed that the younger element were taking an interest in the great profession of agriculture, and were anxious to learn the most improved methods. It was always a pleasure to see the young people. Prof. Creelman welcomed the excursionists to the College, and hoped that they would derive much benefit from their visit.

After lunch the party was taken in hand by Prof. Zavitz, the experimentalist, and has shown and explained to them the field plots and the methods followed for improving the grains, and to ascertain the most profitable yields. Afterwards they were shown the live stock by Prof. Day, and secured some valuable information as to the best breeds, the methods of feeding, etc.

During the afternoon many of the ladies visited the Macdonald Institute, where they witnessed demonstrations in domestic science, and other work of this nature. The dairy department, the poultry houses and other places of interest were also visited, and much valuable information secured. The weather was everything that could be desired and the College grounds presented a beautiful sight. The afternoon was very pleasantly spent and the train pulled out for home about 7.50 o'clock. Peterborough was reached about 2.15 o'clock this morning, with everybody tired, but happy, having profited greatly by their trip, as well as having had a most enjoyable time. President J. Telford and Secretary Wm. Collins, of the West Peterborough Institute, President F. Birdsall, Vice-President E. Hawthorne, and Secretary C O'Reilly, of the East Peterborough Institute, and President Arthur Vance, and Secretary A. J. Fallis, of the West Durham Institute, were among those in attendance and looked after the excursionists well. They deserve credit for the interest and activity they showed.

BAD TRAIN SERVICE.

It appears that much dissatisfaction exists among the officers of the Institutes, and those who went on the excursion generally regarding the service furnished by the C.P.R. Secretary Collins, of the West Peterborough Institute, stated today that the date for the excursion had been originally set for June 13, but that it had been changed to the 12th, at the request of the Railway Company, who stated that they would be able to furnish a better service on June 12th than on the following day. Of the ten coaches which made up the excursion train yesterday, Mr. Collins states that six of them were colonist cars, and only two of the other four could be classed as first class. Some of the cars, he states, were not clean, and the ladies of the party did not care to ride in them. On the return trip the train was due to leave Guelph at 7.15, but for some reason or other it did not pull out till 7.50, and as a result, did not reach Toronto in time to leave before the midnight train coming east. This kept the excursion train back over an hour, and accounted for the late hour at which it reached Peterborough.

Mr Collins states that the Railway Company did not live up to its agreement, and that the Institute excursion will travel on another line in future.

6800.—A DRESSY WAIST IN NET.

Every woman who touches so much as the hem of society life needs a dainty waist which she may don with the suit of another skirt and be presentable for any sort of afternoon or evening function. The woman of moderate means will find the simple waist of embroidered net or crepe de chine in some delicate color like champagne, pink or blue exceedingly becoming and very serviceable, not to mention its inexpensiveness. A suggestion for such a waist is shown but any number of variations may be added. The yoke which extends out a bit over the shoulders, giving that broad effect so much sought for this season, may be of tucked chiffon or silk or even tucked organdie with a simple lace galon as finishing. No other trimming material for the waist is needed except a girdle of velvet if desired. The sleeves are pleasing with their soft fulness shirred in to arm size above the elbow. The long cuff may be attached and the sleeve finished to the wrist. A veiling, chiffon, soft silk or Swiss may be developed in this way, the medium size calling for 2 3-4 yards of 27 inch goods.

TRAINING OF CHILDREN.

The Secret of Charming Manners Is the Desire For Them.

Most mothers hold, consciously or unconsciously, one of two theories about the acquirement of manners by their children. One mother says: "Manners are only the outward sign of the inner nature. If my daughter has a kind heart and a well trained mind she will behave in a gentle, charming fashion. I will teach her compassion, respect for age, unselfish zeal for helping with the world's work. Her manners will take care of themselves."

Another mother says: "My girls will never get on without conventional manners. They shall be taught from babyhood to emulate the speech and bearing of ladies. They shall be instructed in the proper behavior for every occasion. They shall walk and dance and write and speak with graceful perfection."

Neither method, says the Youth's Companion, produces altogether satisfactory results.

Unselfishness is truly the foundation of good manners, but not the superstructure. Many conventional restrictions have grown about social relations. Some can be explained by the demand of kindness and some cannot. Could a child infer from his desire to help others that he should not eat with his knife? Many offenses against good taste interfere in some way with the rights of others, but many others do not.

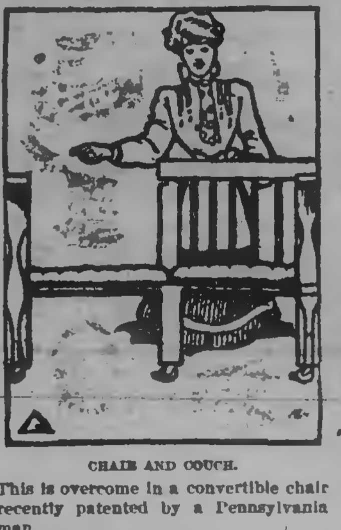
Still no set of rules to produce a polished lady will achieve a result fit for the strain of life. The members of the French boarding school may adorn the ballroom, but are too likely to fail at the breakfast table or in the crowded car. The woman of perfect manners must re-enforce her unselfishness by social rules, and conventionality must be vitalized by the warm desire of others' pleasure. The best of life never "comes naturally," whether in manners or morals.

The secret of charming manners is the desire for them. When the mother wishes them for her daughter as much as she wishes the other goods of the world her daughter will have them.

CONVERTIBLE CHAIR.

By a Few Simple Changes It Can Be Made Into a Couch.

The numerous positions into which a morris chair can be readily changed account for its popularity. The user can adapt the chair to almost any incline desired, with one exception—he cannot change the chair to a couch.



CHAIR AND COUCH.

This is overcome in a convertible chair recently patented by a Pennsylvania man.

Nominally the chair serves the purposes of the ordinary, but by a few quick changes can be transformed into a couch. In construction the seat of the chair is made in two sections, one section telescoping into the other. When necessary to lengthen the chair into a couch one section is pulled out, one side of the chair becoming the head and the other the foot of the couch. The cushion is also in two sections, both of which are ordinarily on the chair, but quickly spread out on the frame of the couch.

Chintzes on Walls.

Chintzes of all kinds have been a fad for some time. No bedroom is considered quite up to date unless the furniture is covered with gay colored chintz and the curtains are made to match. A new departure in interior decoration is to have the bedroom walls also covered with chintz to match the hangings. Chintz is almost as easily put on the walls as paper, and the effect is far more attractive. A bedroom which has just been finished for a woman was most attractively fitted up. The walls were hung with a pink and green flowered chintz, which was finished at the top with a pink gimp put on with brass nails. The furniture was covered with and the curtains made of the same material. Chintz is also used as a border with plain paper below in some bedrooms, where people do not want to go to the expense of having the entire wall covered with a material which is a little more costly than ordinary wall paper.

Hold Yourself Erect.

The woman who carries herself well is more apt to command respect than the woman who trudges along with her head inclined forward and her shoulders in a stooping position. The possessor of a graceful, erect carriage unconsciously impresses us as having characteristic worth.

There are many noble hearted women who really do themselves injustice by the awkward way they carry themselves. It is hard for others to see beauty and grace of heart in an unlovely outward appearance. It is the exterior charm of the rose that gives fitting expression to its hidden sweetness.—Columbus Dispatch.

Thirty Italians quit work at Preston on the waterworks extension because the contractor reduced his staff.

West Enders Were Again Victorious

Won From the Lillies in an Exciting Finish Last Night

The Lillies failed to overcome the West Ender's lead in the remaining three innings of their game at the West End field last evening. It was an exciting finish and had the Lillie aggregation put up the same kind of ball on Monday night as last night's they probably would have been winners. At the start last night the West Ends were leading by 3 runs, and adding one more to it, the final score was ten runs to six, the Lillies also scoring one last night. The kind of ball played last night was of the good snappy variety, and suited the fans who were present in large numbers. Ryan replaced Graham in the pitcher's box and twirled a steadier game than Graham. The cheering and yells of the crowd did not rattle him. The West Enders failed to hit him and he fanned several. But Butcher for the winners, was equally as good and held his batters down to perfection. The work of both team's fielders was greatly improved upon since Monday and few fielders were guilty of any serious errors.

The West Enders have never lost a game and are tied with the Karenots for first place. It will be an exciting contest when these two meet on the 24th and 26th.

Mr. Fred Craig gave satisfaction as umpire.

The teams were:—

West Ends.—L. Dobson, c.f.; J. McNern, c.; W. Butcher, p; M. Cameron, 3b; A. Rose, s.s.; Ed. King, 1b; J. Hagerman, l.f.; C. Halpin, r.f.; N. Moore, c.f.

Lillies—Hillier, c; Ryan, p.; Price 1b; Foley, s.s.; Dunsford, r.f.; Shaunbo, 2b; Bartley, c.f.; Simmons, l.f.; Connors, 3b.

ATHLETIS

COMING TO LIFE.

Galt, June 12.—The sporting season in Galt is full of go. Locally the league contests are interesting and well maintained. In football and lacrosse the town holds its own in league matches.

In baseball it has just lost to Guelph, but the series has only begun. In cricket Galt takes and disposes of everything that comes its way.

Tenpins is a sport in which the boys shine. Bowling on the green is also one of Galt's strong points. Basketball is another athletic pastime in which grand teams are ready to do battle against all and sundry.

Watch Galt grow up again into bright and shining prominence as a sports centre.

LACROSSE

The Young Toronto team will be changed around for Saturday's game. Woods will play point, Brennen will be moved out to second defence and Madill brought back to cover-point. Stollery will be moved up to the home.—News.

Ernie Butterworth, one of the hardest-working players on the Capital team, threatened to hang up his stick for good after the defeat by Cornwall on Saturday. That shutout must have been a sore touch all right.

The lacrosse enthusiasts will have a chance to size up the intermediate C.L.A. series this year on Saturday when Peterborough will play Young Torontos at the Rosedale Grounds.—Toronto Star.

Collingwood talks of protesting the Newmarket-Young Toronto game Saturday on the ground that Graves who played with Newmarket, signed a Collingwood certificate. Secretary Hall of the C.L.A. states that Collingwood has not filed their certificates yet. So there is small chance of a protest.

Moosejaw, June 12.—The lacrosse game between the All-Canadian touring representatives of the C.L.A., and Moosejaw yesterday, was one of the fastest ever played here, and was won by the visitors by a score of 4 to 1. The game was fast and clean throughout. Attendance 1,000.

Help along the Peterborough Shamrocks by attending the game at Riverside Park tonight. The admission is only 10c. Millbrook will be represented by a strong team.

Oshawa plays here on Saturday against the local juniors, and the intermediates play in Toronto, against the Young Torontos. Two victories should come Peterborough's way.

LAWN BOWLING

MILLBROOK HERE TONIGHT.

There were four games played yesterday and last evening, but the scores were not handed in. Players are requested to leave a record of each game on the paper provided for that purpose in the club house.

The lawn is now in the best condition it has ever been, and the lamps all in and it is expected the game will hum for the balance of the season.

Two rinks from Millbrook are coming up this evening for a game so those who wish to play should be on hand.

BASEBALL

ALL SAINT'S WON.

The Young Lillies and the All Saint's team played a game of baseball on the latter's field last evening. The Saint's were the winners by 29 runs to 8. The Lillies failed to hit Tovey's curves, and owing to that and a lot of errors they went down to defeat. Sheppard was the best man on the Lillie line-up.

The teams were.—

SHARP PRACTICE STAKING CLAIMS

Roblin, June 10.—The sensation of the hour here is the discovery of iron deposits in the Boggy creek district. Roblin men were the first to locate claims, but before they could get them registered, information about the deposits leaked out of the land office at Dauphin and the result was that a party of about a dozen, men from that town and several prominent Winnipeggers arrived in the divisional superintendent's private car on Saturday night and spent all day Sunday staking claims and managed to get them registered in advance of the local men. The matter is being taken up with the minister at Ottawa and developments may be expected later.

Another phase of the affair, and it is a serious one, is that the party are all going to be prosecuted under the Lord's Day act for working on Sunday.

The Barge Cornwall, ashore near Brockville, is a total loss.

Faces Victim's Son as He Stands in the Witness Box

Young Steunenberg Sets Near Orchard While Giving Evidence.

Defence Theory That Orchard Committed Murder For Private Revenge—Was Envious of the Rich—Harrowing Tale Retold—Criminal Is Nonchalant—Has Encounter With Governor Peabody.

Boise, June 14.—It now seems probable that Harry Orchard will be allowed to leave the stand and make way for another witness in the Haywood trial by Saturday afternoon. The State will not take up much time with the redirect testimony, and this means that the re-cross-examination will undoubtedly be disposed of. Yesterday Orchard gave the details of the assassination of former Governor Steunenberg.

The harrowing tale that made a crowded court room shudder was once more told and the murderer obliged to show the jury how cold-blooded and how cruel were the preparations and the deed itself. The murdered man's son sits within a few feet of Haywood and facing Orchard. He watches the witness closely, and during the narration of the scenes around his home prior to the murder and on the night when his father was killed, he shows evidence of great nervousness.

Is Not Spared By Defence.

The defence has not spared Orchard. His character as a criminal has been delved into until almost every crime in the calendar, big and little, has been brought home to him. The most remarkable thing about the man is the absolute nonchalance with which he admits the commission of these crimes.

The plot to kidnap the children of Orchard's former partner in the Hercules Mine prospect is looked upon by the defence as a strong proof of the duplicity of the man. The claim of the defence is that Simpkins discovered the plot and warned August Paulson.

Paulson has been supoenaed by the State. It was shown, however, by the defence in cross-examination that Paulson lent Orchard $300 just before he left Wallace for Caldwell, shortly before the murder of Steunenberg.

Case For Defence.

The case for the defence, in contradiction of the connection of Haywood with the actual murder or arrangements for the murder of Steunenberg is shown by the questions put so as to bring out evidence to show that Orchard reached Wallace planning to kidnap Paulson's children. Failing that, he became poverty stricken and committed the burglary. Getting no proceeds from this he robbed a cash register. These funds running out, he borrowed $300 from the man who had been his partner and who had become rich from the proceeds of the mine, a sixteenth share of which Orchard had sold for a song, and then, envious of the rich man and angered at the thought that Steunenberg had driven him, with other union men, from the State, he planned the enterprise of vengeful assassination. The defence assert that Simpkins was at Wallace at the time in line with his duties as a member of the Executive Board of the Western Federation and that neither there nor at Caldwell had he any direct connection with Orchard's plans.

The Steunenberg Bomb.

When the trial was resumed yesterday, Orchard, replying to a question by Mr. Richardson, admitted that he had seen Detective McParland yesterday morning, but said the Haywood case had been discussed only casually.

Orchard continued his testimony by saying that as a result of his letter to Moyer, asking for money he had received from Jack Simpkins $100, which he said, Haywood had sent to him. Orchard then proceeded to trace his movements prior to his second visit to Caldwell, which was made in November, 1905. He was accompanied by Simpkins. They attempted to kill Steunenberg, but did not succeed. Simpkins, Orchard said, "got scared" and went back home to Wallace.

This was about Dec. 1, 1905, and Orchard had not seen him since. Simpkins had helped him make the bomb, which, with some changes, was used to kill Steunenberg.

Orchard also left Caldwell after the failure of the attempt with Simpkins. He telephone Bill Easterly of Silver City, asking him if he did not want to come over to Caldwell and "take part in a contract." Easterly declined, saying he was too busy at home. Orchard then went to Salt Lake to get a man named Shoddy to help him. Shoddy, however, could not be found.

One of the Plans.

The cross-examination here digressed to the plan Orchard conceived, to ride a short distance on a train with Steunenberg, and set the bomb in a grip under the governor's seat. With the paraphernalia all ready Orchard got aboard the train one day, but Steunenberg missed it. The fact that others in the car would have been killed, Orchard said, did not appeal to him.

Tried to Prove Coercion.

Richardson's questioning showed an attempt to prove coercion through solitary confinement. Orchard admitted that he had been brought to the penitentiary without his consent, and without being advised as to his rights. He also admitted that his confinement practically was solitary, his only cell neighbor being Rob Wetter, a condemned murderer.

Richardson pursued his questioning by referring to McParland's work among the "Molly Maguires" in Pennsylvania. Orchard said McParland had told him about "Kelly, the bum," who had committed many murders, but had turned state's evidence and escaped punishment by leaving the country after $800 had been raised for his expenses. Kelly never reformed, McParland told Orchard. He also had been told of other figures in the coal fields troubles.

Almost a Victim.

Boise, June 14.—Former Gov. Peabody and Harry Orchard met face to face in the office of J. H. Hawley yesterday.

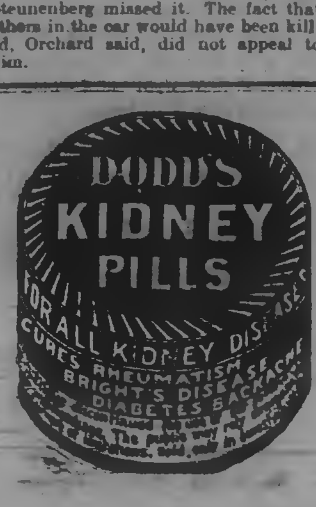
Orchard recognized him at once and shrank back and trembled. The former governor smilingly held out his hand, saying:

"How are you, Orchard?"

Orchard broke down completely. He said; "I am ashamed to look at you, sir; I am ashamed to speak to you."

The governor reassured him and Orchard replied:

"I am thankful that I did not kill you and am spared the thought of that crime."



B. N. A. ACT CHANGED.

New Scale of Federal Subsidies Confirmed By Parliament.

London, June 14.—(C. A. P.)—Yesterday Mr. Churchill introduced the British North America Act of 1907, containing the essential portions of the resolutions of the Premiers at the Ottawa conference last autumn.

The new scale of federal subsidies is confirmed, but the words "final and unalterable" are omitted, because no act of the British Parliament is final.

There was no opposition, and the bill passed its first reading.

Attorney-General's Foy of Ontario, Campbell of Manitoba and Premier McBride were in the gallery during the debate. Churchill read the letter from Hon. W. S. Fielding, urging the immediate passage of the bill. The House greeted his speech with cheers.

Premier McBride of British Columbia has had many interviews with the Colonial Office about the inadequacy of his grant. He made a great impression, and was complimented by Churchill and Lyttelton, but the authorities declined to interfere with the substance of the Ottawa conference and Dominion Parliament resolutions, but declined to lay down the rule that the opinion of the Federal Government is necessarily final.

EARTHQUAKE AT KINGSTON

Movement Slight But Enough to Cause Bad Scare.

Kingston, Jamaica, June 14.—After an interval of six weeks, an earthquake shock occurred here at 1.20 a. m. yesterday.

It lasted four seconds and came from a new direction a little west of north.

The maximum movement was slight.

There was considerable alarm, but no damage was done.

Five Persons Killed.

Santiago, Chile, June 14.—A severe earthquake was experienced yesterday at Valvivia. Several buildings and the railroad bridges there were destroyed and five persons killed.

600 SEAMEN ARRESTED.

Russian Admiral Sifts Out Disaffected Sailors In His Squadron.

London, June 14.—A despatch to a newspaper agency from Sebastopol says that Vice-Admiral Wiren, who recently was appointed successor of Admiral Skrydloff, in command of the Black Sea fleet has sifted out and arrested the disaffected seamen at that port and placed 600 of them on board a cruiser under a strong guard of the Pragski Regiment.

The seamen of the fleet are exasperated because no charges have been preferred against the arrested men, and it is said that a mutinous outbreak is likely to occur.

KILLED BY HIGHWAYMEN.

Rich Shoe Dealer Beaten to Death by Thugs In New York.

New York, June 14.—August Meyer, a well-to-do shoe dealer of Brooklyn, was so severely beaten by highwaymen early yesterday that he died a few hours later in an hospital. One of the alleged assailants, Nicholas Fennimore, 20 years of age, is under arrest. Two others have not been captured.

Switchman Smuck Acquitted.

Brantford, June 14.—George Smuck, Grand Trunk switchman, who was charged with criminal neglect of duty in allowing two freight trains to collide in yards here Dec. 22 last, thereby causing the death of Fireman J. W. Dyment of Stratford, and serious injury to W. N. Knight, was tried yesterday before Judge Hardy and found not guilty.

Judge Hardy took the view that the accident was caused by the lantern signal being given and not by the semiphore being down.

Piano Factory Destroyed.

New York, June 14.—Fire destroyed a big piano factory at 137th street and Southern boulevard, the Bronx, occupied by Winter & Co., and Heller & Brooks. Loss $150,000.

Lieut. Hart Killed.

Portsmouth, Eng., June 14.—Lieut. Hart of the royal navy was killed and three sailors were injured by an explosion of gasoline yesterday on board of a submarine boat.

"IT SAVED MY LIFE"

PRAISE FOR A FAMOUS MEDICINE

Mrs. Willadsen Tells How She Tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Just in Time.

Mrs. T. C. Willadsen, of Manning, Iowa, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I can truly say that you have saved my life, and I cannot express my gratitude to you in words.

Mrs T.C.Willadsen

"Before I wrote to you, telling you how I felt, I had doctored for over two years steady and spent lots of money on medicines besides, but it all failed to help me. My monthly periods had ceased and I suffered much pain, with fainting spells, headache, backache and bearing-down pains, and I was so weak I could hardly keep around. As a last resort I decided to write you and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so thankful that I did, for after following your instructions, which you sent me free of all charge, I became regular and in perfect health. Had it not been for you I would be in my grave to-day.

"I sincerely trust that this letter may lead every suffering woman in the country to write you for help as I did."

When women are troubled with irregular or painful periods, weakness, displacement or ulceration of an organ, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, flatulence, general debility, indigestion or nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. Refuse all substitutes.

For twenty-five years Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, has under her direction, and since her decease, been advising sick women free of charge. Address, Lynn, Mass.

DEATH ON SKYSCRAPER

Collapse of Temporary Bridge Results in Man Being Killed.

Three Seriously Hurt—Accident Due to Gross Negligence—Contractor's Foreman Arrested—Structure Was Overloaded With Cement Bags—Five Minutes Later One Hundred Lives Would Have Been Sacrificed.

New York, June 14.—The collapse of a temporary bridge on the second floor of the sky-scraper at Cortlandt and Church streets caused the death of one man and the serious injury of three others. The police charge that the accident was due to gross negligence on the part of employes of the contractors, and the foreman of the cement gang was arrested charged with homicide. The dead man was James Pringle, 28 years old.

Had the accident occurred five minutes later the dead and injured list might have been appalling, as more than 100 men were gathering to receive their time checks when the crash came. The police authorities claim that the bridge was over-loaded with cement bags.

LORD'S DAY ACT IN YUKON.

Decision By Deputy Minister of Justice Causes Consternation.

Ottawa, June 14.—The Department of Justice has decided that the Lord's Day Act is applicable to the Yukon Territory, and that it is the duty of the officers of the law to enforce it.

For some time the opinion had been prevalent in the Yukon that the act could not be applied, inasmuch as its enforcement is entrusted to the "Attorney-General of the province," and the Yukon not being a province or having an Attorney-General, the territory would be exempt.

The Deputy Minister of Justice pointed out, however, that under the interpretation Act the Northwest Territories and the Yukon are specified as provinces, the Attorney-General, for whom is the Attorney-General of the Dominion.

There is consternation in Dawson over this decision, as it is contended that with the short summer season it will entail severe loss upon the mining and navigation interests to suspend work on Sunday.

EMIGRATION HAS INCREASED.

Canada Gets More Than U. S. and Australia Loses Much.

London, June 14.—Some remarkable facts bearing on emigration from the United Kingdom are contained in a memorandum on the history of the emigrants' information office.

It is shown that since 1905, for the first time in the history of this country, the number of British emigrants to Canada exceeded the number who emigrated to the United States.

Another remarkable feature is the comparative insignificance of the flow of emigration to Australia and New Zealand. Up to 20 years ago a substantial number of emigrants left our shores for Australasia; but the number has since dwindled in astonishing fashion, no doubt as a result of the elaborate restrictions imposed by the Australian Government.

JINGO EDITORS WARNED

Government Issues Muzzling Order to Japanese Newspapers.

Warned to Abstain From Publishing Inflammatory Matter On the American Question—Tokio Journals Very Bitter In Their Comment On the Outrages—Printed Views of Looted Restaurants.

Tokio, June 14.—The newspaper men of this city were summoned to appear before the Home Department here yesterday and were officially advised to abstain from the publication of any matter of an inflammatory or agitating nature on the American question.

Print Pictures of Wreckage.

Several papers print photographs of the wreckage caused by the attacks on Japanese restaurants in San Francisco. This appeal to the eye, coupled with strong words describing the sufferings of compatriots, has further inflamed popular indignation. The Nichi Nichi, commenting on the photographs, says: "The situation is doubtless grave and calls for prompt measures on the part of both Governments."

The Hochi says: "The stage for negotiations has passed and the time for action has been reached." The paper says further that it does not mean to advocate war, but commercial retaliation.

Not Sufficient Explanation.

The Mainichi, published at Osaka, with a circulation of 250,000, expresses anger at the reported recent attack on a Japanese horticulturist, at Berkeley, Cal. It says: "The outrage demonstrates the impotency of the California authorities to protect our compatriots. Now is no time to rest assured on the stereotyped diplomatic assurance of the Washington Government. Only two weeks after a positive declaration to take preventive measures to safeguard Japanese rights comes the Berkeley outrage. That the outrages are limited to California is not sufficient explanation."

Had Direct Communication.

Honolulu, June 14.—United States Commissioner of Immigration Sargent has instructed the local immigration officers to continue the careful inspection of Japanese immigrants, but to discontinue photographing and to handle diplomatically all questions that may arise.

The local Federal officers are alleged to have discovered that members of the Japanese naval station here have been communicated with directly by their home Government, and not through the Japanese Consul.

Irresponsible War Talk.

London, June 14.—The Japanese Ambassador, Baron Komura, yesterday issued a statement to the press reciting the facts in respect to the attack on the Japanese restaurant in San Francisco May 20, concluding as follows:

"There is absolutely nothing which would in the least justify the alarmist rumors emanating from irresponsible sources."

No Chance of War.

London, June 14.—"Such a contingency as an outbreak of war between the United States and Japan is regarded by educated Japanese as almost inconceivable," cables the correspondent of The Times at Tokio. "The Progressives themselves would take the lead in denouncing such a war if there was any real danger thereof."

Steamer In Collision.

Courtwright, Ont., June 14.—About one o'clock yesterday afternoon the Lehigh Valley steamer Bethlehem, bound down and the Corrigan Line steamer Australia, bound up, collided about two miles south of here. The Australia has a large hole cut in her side and the captain at once beached her on the Canadian shore. The Bethlehem swung around and is beached on the American shore.

The reason of the accident is unknown as it was clear at the time.

No Secret of Longevity.

London, June 14.—Goldwin Smith told a friend who has returned from Canada that he had no secret of longevity to impart.

"I never observed any particular rules of diet except moderation; I always avoided working late at nights, and have taken a good deal of open air exercise.

"I perhaps owe something to having been in early boyhood at a school where the work was light."

Hats Raised to Chamberlain.

Birmingham, Eng., June, 14.—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chamberlain arrived here yesterday from London.

The health of Mr. Chamberlain is improving, but his comparative helplessness was a great shock to his friends, who assembled at the railroad station to meet him.

All hats were raised in respectful silence as his carriage drove away.

Long Service Decorations.

Ottawa, June 14.—The Colonial Auxiliary Forces officers' long service decoration has been awarded: Capt. and Brevet-Major Henry Brock of the 10th Regiment, Royal Grenadiers; Major J. A. W. Allan and Hon. Lieut.-Col. R. M. Hillary of the 12th Regiment York Rangers.

Q.M.-Sergt. Kirkham was awarded the long-service medal.

Sbarretti Returns.

Ottawa, June 14.—After an absence of nine months, nearly all of which was spent in Rome, Mgr. Sbarretti, apostolic delegate and head of the Catholic church in Canada, returned to Ottawa yesterday.

He will probably spend the entire summer at his residence in the Capital.

A Fatal Resistance.

Campbellton, N.B., June 14.—While resisting a constable who tried to arrest him, for assisting two others to assault an old man, Peter Fountaine, accidentally discharged the officer's revolver, the shot passing through his body.

Fountain died a few hours later.

The increasing difficulty of obtaining clergy was emphasized by the Bishop of Ottawa in addressing his Synod.

CHURCH REMAINS PASSIVE.

Anglican Synod Takes No Action Against Political Impurity.

Ottawa, June 14.—The Anglican Church, as represented by the synod of the Diocese of Ottawa, does not care to identify itself with a campaign against immorality and corruption in politics. At least, this seems to be the reason why a resolution proposed by G. C. Smith of Cornwall, and seconded by Dr. A. A. Weagant of Ottawa, was shelved without a vote yesterday.

The resolution read: "That the synod of the Diocese of Ottawa, now in session, deplores the immorality and corruption generally which recent revelations have shown to prevail in high places in our country, and considers it to be necessary to the well-being of the rising generation that the church in this diocese should make its voice heard in condemnation of such conditions. With this end in view, the synod respectfully suggests that the lord bishop be requested to confer with the clergy under his charge as to the expediency of expressing the church's disapproval in their several parishes by sermon or otherwise, and that the bishop, in his wisdom, be respectfully asked to issue a pastoral letter in this matter."

The motion was read on Wednesday and laid aside. Mr. Smith had to leave early for Cornwall, and placed it in other hands, but taking advantage of his absence yesterday the synod wound up its business without calling the resolution for consideration.

DR. SOMERVILLE TREASURER.

General Assembly Accepted Recommendation of His Appointment.

Montreal, June 14.—The committee on the appointment of a treasurer for the western section of the Presbyterian Church brought in its report.

The first recommendation was that Rev. Dr. Somerville be appointed to the treasurership. Since the resignation of the late Rev. Dr. Warden, Dr. Somerville has acted as interim treasurer, to the abundant satisfaction of the Assembly. In moving the acceptance of the recommendation Principal Scrimger also moved that the salary of Dr. Somerville, not particularly as treasurer, but for all his duties, as clerk, be $3,000 a year. Another recommendation asked that a financial agent be appointed and that the Rev. Alfred Gandier be asked to accept the duties of the office.

When adjournment came the recommendations regarding the treasurership had been passed, while that of the appointing of a financial agent was still under discussion.

Rain Saves Forests.

Toronto, June 14.—Word was received at the Crown Lands Department yesterday that the forest fires along the line of the Port Arthur, Duluth and Western Railway, were now under control. J. A. Oliver, crown timber agent at Port Arthur, wrote that there had been a big rain on the night of the 10th, and that the danger was practically over. The fires were not so serious as at first reported.

In the Townships of Gillies, O'Connor and Paipoonge, particularly in the latter two, Mr. Oliver said hundreds of small fires had broken out, and some of them had gotten beyond control. A number of houses and barns had been destroyed and the damage, he wrote, had been very heavy.

Fires were also raging in Dineen and parts of McTavish Townships, though he could not say whether they were small or great.

Dublin's Freedom For Croker.

London, June 14.—The proposal to bestow the freedom of the city of Dublin on Richard Croker will be contested, but probably will be carried by the Nationalists, who have a large majority in the council, and who were the originators of the proposition.

The only other Americans who have been given the freedom of the City of Dublin, have been Gen. Grant, Capt. Potter of the famine relief ship Constellation, and Patrick A. Collins, the late mayor of Boston, Mass.

London Globe Sold.

London, June 14.—The Globe, the oldest evening paper in England, has been purchased by Hildebrand Harmsworth, brother of Lord Northcliffe. The paper, in announcing the change, said: "No break will take place in our old traditions, and no change is contemplated in our policy."

Kick Proved Serious.

Brockville, June 14.—A few days ago Wm. H. Godkin, a farmer of this vicinity, while milking, was kicked in the ribs by a cow. At the time nothing of a serious nature was anticipated, but complications developed and yesterday he died. Godkin was about fifty years of age and married.

Niagara Camp Figures.

Niagara-on-the-Lake, June 14.—The actual parade strength of Niagara camp was officially announced yesterday, accounting for 5,034 men in all ranks, which figure will be augmented by 500 more when the composite regiment from the city corps arrive.

Not Guilty.

Cobourg, June 14.—James H. Drinkwater, the Centretown merchant arrested in the non-jury assizes at Toronto on a charge of forging the name of his uncle, Frank Wait, to a promissory note for $400, was yesterday found not guilty and was discharged.

Verdict of Wilful Murder.

Toronto, June 14.—The jury returned a verdict of wilful murder last night against the negro Boyd who on Tuesday shot and killed another colored man, named E. F. Wandle, keeper of a restaurant. Jealousy is said to have been the cause.

Will Shoot At D. R. A.

Ottawa, June 14.—The British marksmen who are to shoot for the Palma trophy here at the beginning of September will arrive in time to take part in the D.R.A. matches.

They had not been expected to arrive so soon.

The carpenters at work on the Terminal station at Hamilton, quit work because non-union men were employed.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

Author of "When Lovely Maiden Stoops to Folly," "A Cruel Revenge," "The Heiress of Cameron Hall," "Ione," "Parted at the Altar," Etc.

She redoubled her piteous entreaties, raising her white face to his. She angered him beyond all measure. He raised his hand and struck her, leaving a red mark on the white cheek—struck the face the old general worshipped so fondly—the lovely face that Bernard Chesleigh loved so well.

She had drawn him forcibly back into the cloak room. The music drowned his angry voice. The gay dancers had not seen the tragedy enacted so near them. No one saw but Bernard Chesleigh, who had stood near, almost fearing to leave her.

Before Bernard Chesleigh could reach her side Waldemar Waldron had fled—not into the ball-room again, but out of the house, into the street. He scarcely realized in his hot anger that he had raised his hand against her.

Reine did not faint—did not cry out; she stood in the exact spot Waldemar had left her, looking like a statue carved in marble—all save the faint crimson mark on the pale cheek.

As Bernard Chesleigh reached her side, her pride, her reserve, her grand courage, all gave way. She was humbled, humiliated to the very dust.

She laid her face on her hands with a low, wailing cry that seemed to freeze the blood in his veins as he listened.

She crept up to him as she had been wont to do in that dim past. She had always found him her champion—her true, noble friend. He was her friend still.

"Bernard!" she sobbed, "what shall I do? I am so miserable that I wish I were dead. Take me away, Bernard! Take me home quick. He has gone. He will not return for me. An hour hence he will have forgotten me, and that I am waiting here. Take me home, Bernard."

He saw that she was in a state of wildest alarm. Gravely he led her through the brilliant rooms out into the cold, starlit night. Their carriage had been ordered, and was awaiting them. He must see her safely home. So, when he placed her within the coach, he seated himself opposite her.

What a blessing his love was to her in this hour of need, what a haven of rest this unswerving friendship seemed.

Here was a man who was constant to friendship, even as the needle to the pole. What a firm rock for a woman to cling to, when the waves of adversity tossed her about life's ocean!

How true and noble a friend he proved himself! Some men might have taken advantage of her pique and annoyance to have ingratiated themselves into her good graces by denouncing Waldemar Waldron and traducing him. Not so Bernard Chesleigh. He was so careful of her, he might have been a guardian angel shielding her from harm—this beautiful girl whom he would have given his very life blood to have seen smiling and happy—like the capricious, wilful, little beauty of old.

He left her at her own door. She held out her hand to him with a faint smile.

"You have forgiven me, and you are my true friend still," she said, wistfully. "If we never meet again, I shall always remember how kind you have been to me to-night."

She turned away abruptly. The door opened and closed again hurriedly, and he was alone again with the starlit night—alone with these words sounding like sweetest music in his ears:

"You are my true and noble friend still."

Ah, Heaven, if he had but had the right to protect her—to revenge that cowardly blow. He longed, with all the mighty passion in his soul, to smite the hand that had been raised against the only being whom he had ever loved.

As for Reine, she walked slowly and hesitatingly up the broad staircase and on to her boudoir. No tears blinded her blue eyes. No quivering sob broke the straight tension of those white compressed lips. Nothing could ever pain her after what she had suffered to-night. She had reached the climax of human woe and human endurance.

Her maid cried out in alarm when she opened the door for her, and saw her standing there so pale and death-like on the threshold, with that crimson stain on her white face.

Why was she home so early from the grand ball? What had happened?

"I shall not need you to-night, Honora," she said, wearily, throwing off the heavy white velvet cloak. "You can go to your room."

In vain the maid protested that she looked ill; that she was sure she needed her. Reine shook her head.

"Ill!" sobbed Reine, when she found herself alone. What was all the illness in the world compared to what she was suffering then?

She went to the window, and drawing aside the heavy silken drapery, raised her white arms to the star-gemmed night sky.

"Mother! Mother!" she wailed, with gasping sobs. "If you are looking down upon me from yonder clouds—if you can see and know all that has happened to your most unfortunate child—oh, gentle mother, you will plead hard with the angels to pardon me for what I am about to do to-night. I am driven to it. Yes driven to it."

CHAPTER XX.

There was a brief but terrible struggle in the heart of beautiful, hapless Reine, as she stood by the window, with her white face mutely raised to the night sky.

The golden stars had died out long since. Dark clouds, presaging the coming storm, obscured the face of the heavens, and ere long a blinding snowstorm set in.

The snow outside was not more cold than the girl's heart.

"I cannot endure it longer," she told herself, bitterly. "When Waldemar returns he shall not find me here. He has driven me to it."

She turned hurriedly to her wardrobe. By chance, Honora's long, dark cloak hung there. She donned it mechanically, tied a dark veil over her face, then, with cautious, quiet steps, she went down the stairs, and out of the hall door into the terrible storm of the night.

No one heard the door open. No one heard it close again.

Like one mad, Reine fled through the darkness and the storm, little heeding whither she went.

So delicately nurtured, so tenderly reared had the general's darling been, that the bitter cold soon told upon her.

She looked at the white, falling snow, stretching like a shroud over the deserted streets and the housetops. Would it be her winding sheet?

She struggled on through the drifts with but one thought in her mind: To get so far away from Waldemar Waldron that he could never find her.

Was it fate that at that moment brought her face to face with—Bernard Chesleigh?

For an instant he gazed with puzzled bewilderment at the young girl approaching him. The light of the flaring gas lamp fell upon the slender figure. The eyes of love were so keen that he knew her at once.

"Reine," he cried, spring forward, "what in the world can you be doing alone, and in such a storm, upon the streets at night?"

A piteous sob fell from the girl's lips, ending in a hysterical laugh.

"I am running away, Bernard," she said. "I am leaving the old life far behind me. I am going where no one who ever knew me can see my face again."

He drew back with a pained, grave face.

They were opposite a fashionable cafe. Gently he drew her within, out of the bitter cold and the fierce storm.

"Oh, Reine, Reine," he cried, distressedly, seating her upon one of the velvet divans, and taking a seat opposite her, "tell me what it is that has led you to such a course as this?"

She laughed; and the mirthless music was sadder to hear than the most violent weeping would have been.

"It is simply this," cried Reine. "When I reached home, I tried to school myself to meet him again, after what happened at the ball. Oh, the torture of the hour I passed! I was so maddened with pain, humiliation and rage, that if he had entered the room then, I could not have been accountable for what I would have said, even though he were to strike me dead for it. I hate him so that I can never look upon his face again," she sobbed, with reckless despair. "I would sooner die."

Bernard Chesleigh gazed at her with infinite pity in his dark eyes, a troubled look on his grave face.

"Reine, poor child, is it so bad as this?" he asked, huskily.

Aged Lady Suicides.

Stratford, June 14.—Mrs. Patterson, aged about 70, drowned herself in the river near Victoria Park yesterday afternoon. Her hat and cape were noticed on the bank, and on search being made the body was found in shallow water. It is believed that she was in a state of temporary insanity when she committed the rash act.

The body was discovered while the river was being dragged for another person, Samuel Rankin, Norman street, who disappeared at two o'clock yesterday morning, and it was believed that he had drowned himself. He has not yet been found.

Late last night the body of Samuel Rankin was found by a party of searchers, in the river, near the house of refuge. He had committed suicide while brooding over financial difficulties. He was about 60 years of age and married, but with no family. He was a brother of the late Joseph Rankin, killed in the Guelph wreck.

Firemen Start Blazes.

Berlin, June 14.—A series of 43 fires in Siebenlehn, Saxony, extending from 1896 to 1906, by which 63 houses were burned, has been traced to the volunteer fire brigade there.

The firemen used to be periodically rewarded for heroic conduct in extinguishing fires which they themselves had started.

Shot Man In Wife's Company.

Columbus, Miss., June 14.—At Carrollton, Jickens County, F. B. Therou, a lumber dealer, was shot and killed by John Parker, aged 30, a prominent business man.

Therou and Parker's wife were met on the road near Carrollton by Parker, who immediately began shooting.

Killed by Foul Tip.

Binghamton, N. Y., June 14.—Albert Sheets died at the Lestershire Hospital Wednesday night, as a result of being struck with a foul tip while playing ball. Sheets was at bat and struck at a ball that glanced from his bat, and striking him on the head, fractured his skull. He lived 24 hours.

BUGLERS USED NEW TRUMPETS

Had Excellent Practice Last Night and are Improving Steadily

The 57th regiment bugle band had an excellent practice last night, using for the first time their new trumpets. The new instruments are much superior in tone to the ordinary bugle, and persons in the vicinity of Central Park were surprised at the volume of musical sound that the trumpets produced. Ten new instruments have been secured, but the buglers will also carry their old bugles. They will used for giving the calls, while the trumpets will be used for march playing. Much enthusiasm prevails among the members of the band, and they are turning out to practice almost full strength.

It is likely that the bugle band will be greatly strengthened next year. The public will have an opportunity of hearing the new trumpets next Tuesday night, when a marchout with both bands will be held.

REVIEW LETTER BOX

VIOLATION OF BY-LAW

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I thought I read in your paper a few days ago that fires in the back yards were prohibited. If so, the prohibition is not being enforced, for within the last hour I saw a man burning a rubbish heap within twenty-five yards of a business block, the charred remains of which can still be seen as they are being blown about by the encircling wind. Any policeman has as good opportunities of seeing the infraction of the law as I have.

OBSERVER

THE DUST QUESTION

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—In last night's issue of the Review appears a letter, headed, "Dust Nuisance is Unbearable," that should be signed "Hot Air," instead of "Pure Air," which is the signature that some disgruntled citizen is using in order to knock our municipal legislators, who are giving their time and talents gratuitously in order that Peterborough may be well governed.

Now, I have been a resident of Peterborough for over twenty years and although I live in a central portion of the city, I have never suffered to any extent from dust. I find that the service is as good, as I could expect for the tax that is levied upon me for street watering, and I have no kick coming. "We pay for the work and are willing to pay more if necessary," says "Pure Air." I would like to ask him, how much does he pay, how much property does he own, what is the amount of his street watering tax, and what he has ever done to improve the street watering service or to better our municipal government. If "Pure Air" has any property in the city, he has a right to grumble; if not let him forever hold his peace.

"Pure Air," says he "took a stroll around the city, and scarcely took one breath that was not permeated with dust, especially was this so at the C.P.R. station." If he is looking for pure air, why does he not go out to one of the parks where the ozone is pure and there is no dust. Instead of that he browses around the main streets, where there is always a certain amount of dust, and the air is always more or less tainted.

Cheer up old man, get out to the parks where the air is pure, and the grass is green, get away from the city's din, and for heaven's sake, cease your knocking. There are too many of your kind in Peterborough. If you know a scheme whereby the street sprinkling service may be improved, out with it, and let us all have the benefit. If you have no suggestion to make, but are merely knocking for the sake of knocking, better cut it out, as Peterborough's citizens are too busy to pay heed to chronic cranks.

Yours, etc.,
I. O'PENNER.

Ferguson, W. H. Hunter, and W. J. J. Tremeer, of Toronto, and S. D. Biggar, of Hamilton.

GROCERY SHOWER WAS TENDERED

Mr. and Mrs. Robt Heiderman at their Home by About Twenty Friends

A party of about twenty young people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heiderman at 575 Aylmer street, last evening, and gave them a welcome home, in the form of a grocery shower. Every guest carried a parcel of sugar, flour salt, biscuits, cheese, cakes, canned goods, potatoes or something which is also necessary to a young couple starting housekeeping. Mr. and Mrs. Heiderman were greatly surprised, but they gave their friends a most enjoyable evening.

Milch Cows.

Trade in milkers and springers was not as good, and dealers quote prices from $6.00 to $10.00 each lower, the medium to common classes suffering most. Prices ranged from $25.00 to $59.00 each. One drover sold a pair of cows for $98.00, for which he paid $105.00 in the country.

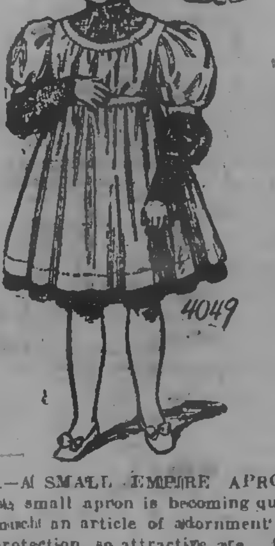
THE LATEST DEAN PATTERNS



4049.—A SMALL EMPIRE APRON.

This small apron is becoming quite as much an article of adornment as of protection, so attractive are the styles in which it appears. Here is a quaint little garment such as might have appeared at the time of Empress Josephine. It consists of a full waist and skirt joined by a narrow band in short waisted effect. The sleeves are in short puff after the latest fashion. If made of a sheer lawn or nainsook and edged with a narrow lace, it will be quite pretty enough to grace any gown. 1 3-4 yards of material 36 ins. wide are needed for the apron in the medium size.

4049.—Sizes 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 years.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Leave your order and 10c at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

4151.—SIMPLICITY FOR SERVICE.

A trig little apron which is very simple to make and yet exceedingly useful for school and everyday wear is shown. The ginghams and percales which come at a few cents a yard are just the thing for this, while a daintier result might be gained from the use of lawn or crossbarred muslin. The yoke band is neat and all in one while the lower portion is gathered full to its lower edges. An apron of this kind goes on easily and requires little work to launder. A fanciful broad bertha collar is provided in the pattern and may be used for a dressier apron and edged with lace or embroidery. For the medium size 3 1-2 yards of 27 inch material are needed.

4151.—Sizes 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10 years.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Leave your order and ten cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

Rev. J. C. Speer is New President

Of the Toronto Conference—He is Well Known in Peterboro'

Rev. J. C. Speer, pastor of Grace church, Brampton, who is well known in Peterborough has been elected president of the Tornoto Conference which is now in session.

Rev. Mr. Speer has for some years spent his summer holidays at his attractive cottage in Chemong park, but will not do so this season, having sold his residence there to Dr. D. N. Carmichael.

The new president of the Toronto conference is a brother of Mrs. R. A. Hamilton, of this city.

Speaking of his election the Toronto News says:—

Rev. J. C. Speer, now of Grace church Brampton, formerly of Broadway Methodist Tabernacle, Toronto, was this morning the choice of the Toronto Methodist Conference for the office of President, being elected by an overwhelming majority. Rev. Dr. Cleaver was the other candidate, though it is understood was in the field only at the request of his friends and not from any personal ambition in the matter.

The retiring President, Rev. R. N. Burns, D.D., also of Brampton, took occasion to remind the Conference before surrendering the chair to Mr. Speer that Brampton had given them two presidents for two consecutive years, which he took to be an acknowledgement of the fact that Brampton, for its size, outstripped any other place in its devotion to Methodism—that half the population of the town and 300 additional were adherents to that denomination.

"When I was elected last year," said Mr. Burns, "I fancied I heard Mr Speer murmur, in the classic words of the poet:

> 'If you get there before I do,
> Tell them I am coming too.'

"I don't know how classical the remark may be; it's certainly true. Mr. Speer has come, and by universal consent. He will make a powerful president."

Mr. Speer expressed his grateful thanks to the Conference for their choosing him for the responsibilities of office.

"My every energy for many a year has been devoted to Methodism," he said. "I may have failed, but I have done my ablest."

One Brother Has Gone Insane; Another Cuts His Own Throat

Two Male Members of Family Reported to Have Quarreled—One Has Been Removed to the Asylum—Other Tried to Take His Own Life With a Knife Sensational Incident From Garden Hill.

The flourishing little village of Garden Hill in Durham County, located about nine miles north of Port Hope on the G.T.R. line has a sad family sensation, the news of which reached Peterborough this morning.

The distressing result is the outcome, it is reported, of a quarrel between two brothers by the name of John and Wellington Gilmour.

As a result of an altercation, John Gilmour, who is a farmer, married and lives about a mile north of the village has gone insane, while his brother, Wellington, who is also married, made a deliberate attempt to end his own life, with a jack knife, inflicted three wounds on his throat, none of which will, however, prove fatal.

Wellington Gilmour lives on a farm not far from his brother John.

The latter was taken to Rockwood Asylum, Kingston, yesterday, in charge of Constables Nattrass and Harley of Millbrook, he being regarded as dangerous to be at large.

The sad outcome, whereby one brother has gone insane and the other attempted self-destruction is reported as already stated to have been the outcome of a quarrel.

John Gilmour is the father of a seven year old boy, and Wellington Gilmour has two small children.

It appears that on Tuesday evening last Wellington Gilmour left his home saying that he was going over to see his brother John. He did not return at a late hour, and Mrs. Gilmour, becoming uneasy as to his detention, went to John Gilmour's house to find her husband.

When she opened the door John Gilmour fell to the floor frantically insane.

Wellington Gilmour was not there and is said to have wandered about all night. At seven o'clock on Wednesday morning he arrived at his mother's home in Cavan township, with his throat gashed in three places, blood flowing freely from the wounds which are said to have been self-inflicted. He was in a very low state for a while, but is now recovering.

The outcome is certainly a most unhappy one, as the one brother is now in the Asylum at Kingston, and the other is recovering from dangerous wounds.

LATER DETAILS.

This afternoon the Review was in communication with Campbellcroft and ascertained that as far as was known in the district where the brothers lived, there was no quarrel between them. Wellington, who was the younger brother, had seemed strange in his mind for some time. A few days ago, he left his farm near Garden Hill in Hope township, to go to the home of his mother, Mrs. Richard Gilmour, who lives in Cavan township. Apparently he tried to commit self destruction on the way for he arrived at his mother's with blood streaming from his throat, where he had inflicted three wounds with a jack knife. He has since been taken to his home and is recovering.

The matter preyed on the mind of his brother John, and it is surmised that it drove him insane. He was so bad that he has been taken to the asylum at Kingston.

John Gilmour is about 45 years old, and Wellington is about 38 or 40.

Both men live in Hope township.

RELATIVES HERE.

Alfred A. Coates, 13 Bolivar street, and who is a harness maker at B. F. Ackerman, Son & Co.'s harness establishment is a brother-in-law of the Gilmours. He was at Garden Hill this week in connection with the somewhat sad affair.

Walden is Found Guilty Of Cruelty to the Child

Jury at Cobourg Brought in a Verdict Against the Accused—Will be Sentenced by the Judge.

Henry Walden, the Northumberland county man, who was charged with assaulting the four year old daughter of Mrs. G. W. McWilliams, whom he adopted, has been found guilty at the June session of the County Court, at Cobourg, but has not yet been sentenced. The case for the Crown was conducted by Crown Attorney Kerr, of Cobourg, and E. L. Goodwill, of Peterborough, who were interested in the case. Walden made a strong fight and had a lawyer to defend him, but the evidence against him was too strong. The accused was called to the witness stand by his own counsel, and when he was cross-examined by the prosecuting lawyers, some damaging evidence against him was brought out. The evidence showed that the little girl had been frequently beaten, and her body bore marks of the hard blows she had received.

It is not known what Walden's sentence will be, but he will hardly be sent to Penitentiary, as he has a wife and seven small children. The judge could sentence him to the "pen" on the charge, but it is likely that a heavy fine will be imposed.

The facts of the case have been given in the Review before, and are briefly that, following the death of Mr. J. W. McWilliams, his widow gave to Mrs. Walden, who is her sister, one of her children, a little girl. Information was subsequently received to the effect that the child was being abused, and complaint was made to the officials of the local Children's Aid Society. Since it was outside the jurisdiction of the Society, nothing could be done, except to confer with the Crown Attorney of the united counties, which Mr. Goodwill did, with the result that, upon learning of the facts of the case, Walden was arrested on a charge of assault. The case was tried with a jury at Cobourg this week, and a verdict of guilty was brought in yesterday.

Michael Fallon Arrested on Charge of House Breaking

Taken Into Custody Last Night and Committed for Trial at Police Court To-day—He is Charged With Entering Mr. Nimmo's House on Saturday Last.

Michael Fallon, a painter residing on Edinburgh street, was charged this morning in police court, before His Worship Magistrate Dumble with unlawfully breaking into the house of Mr. Richard Nimmo, on Harvey street, with an attempt to rob, on Saturday, June 8th.

Crown Attorney R. E. Wood conducted the case for the crown, and Mr. G. N. oGrdona ppeared for the prisoner. Mr. Gordon did not elect how his client should be tried, but was ready for the preliminary hearing.

It appears that last night, Officers Newhall and McDonald, from a description learned from the Chief and afterwards from Miss Nimmo, went to Fallon's residence on Edinburgh street, and arrested him in bed. They took him to Mr. Nimmo's place where Miss Nimmo identified him.

He was committed for trial this morning.

The evidence given was as follows,—

Miss Roxie Nimmo was the first witness called. She stated that she was the daughter of Richard Nimmo, and resided at 14 Harvey street. She occupies the back room upstairs. Last Saturday morning about three o'clock, she was aroused and heard some one shoving the door open. She called out but no reply came, and the sound ceased. She then turned the light on but did not see anything. She remained in bed with her light on for about three or four minutes. Witness then got out of bed and went out into the hall. She noticed some one in a kneeling posture, and thought it was her father. She went forward a little and saw it was a man with a Christie hat on. She looked into the man's face, and he drew back as if to allow Miss Nimmo to pass. Witness then shouted twice but he remained until he heard her mother and then he ran down the stairs and out. He went out the back parlor window, breaking a large pane of glass, forty by fifty inches. Miss Nimmo stated that she had a good look at the man and identified the prisoner as the man. She also saw the prisoner a month ago. She did not know the prisoner's name. There were grease spots all over the house. The prisoner stepped into a pot of grease as he entered the cellar. There were also green paint marks on the door at the back of the stairs as if made by the touch of a finger.

The officers brought the prisoner to witness' home last night for identification. She was asked to place herself in the same position as on the night of the occurrence. The prisoner was also asked to get in the stooping posture that the man was in on the night of the offence. He obeyed reluctantly. She told her mother that she thought the man who was in the house resembled the man they met on Charlotte street.

MRS. NIMMO.

Mrs. Nimmo next gave evidence. A few minutes after three o'clock on Saturday morning, she heard her daughter scream, and she quickly got out of bed. She saw the man run down the stairs. She could not identify him, but she stated this morning when the prisoner went down the stairs for identification, she recognized the footsteps. The paint marks were not on the door ten days ago.

CONSTABLE NEWHALL.

Mr. Gordon then called P. C. Newhall. He said the prisoner was taken to Mr. Nimmo's this morning at one o'clock. Prisoner did not ask to be taken there but readily agreed to go. He was taken there for identification, and if he was innocent they would not lock him up. They took with them a coat and hat, and the prisoner put them on. Witness told Miss Nimmo that they had a man on suspicion and they wanted her to take a good careful look, and then give a confident answer. The prisoner went through several different postures and Miss Nimmo said to witness, "There is no room for mistake. I think you have the man." Witness and P. C. McDonald went to prisoner's house on Edinburgh street and arrested him in bed, shortly after midnight. Witness also stated that he noticed the green paint marks, which looks like as if they had been made by a light touch on the wall by the finger. Fallon is a painter, and some green paint marks on his trousers, correspond to the ones on the wall.

P. C. McDonald was next called by Mr. Gordon, the Crown not calling either of the policemen. His evidence was largely the same as that of P. C. Newhall, and at the conclusion of it, the magistrate committed Fallon for trial.

Cobourg Has an Attractive Gaol

Tramp Heard of it and Wanted Lodging There

John Beck, a tramp, sixty-five years of age, has at last accomplished his desire to secure accommodation in the new gaol at Cobourg. He drifted into town on Wednesday of last week and visited Mr. Henry Reynold's jewellery store, where he selected a wedding ring. He was leaving without paying when Mr. Reynolds stopped him. Beck then wanted to be arrested, but was not obliged. Later in the day he met Chief Bond and asked him to arrest him as a vagrant, but again his desire was not gratified. He was given a night's lodging at the town hall and walked to Cobourg next day. He was sent away and returned to Port Hope where he again spent a night at the town hall. On his release on Sunday morning he entered the police station and after donning a cap and coat belonging to Chief Bond, he then tramped to Cobourg where he was arrested. Previous to coming to Port Hope Beck broke a window in Barrie with a view to being arrested.—Port Hope Times.

INCREASE OF PER CAPITA TAX

Was Voted Down—Foresters Will Meet Next Year at Niagara Falls

St Thomas, June 13.— The Canadian Order of Foresters' High Court today decided upon Niagara Falls as the meeting place for 1908. Toronto, Berlin, Windsor and Orangeville, were also in the race.

The proposition to increase the per capita tax by 20 per cent. did not carry, a two-thirds majority being required, while the vote stood 378 against and 252 for. Opposition to the increase came largely from rural courts. It will probably carry at the next meeting.

Many Will Accompany Lacrosse Team to Toronto To-morrow

From present indications a big crowd is going to accompany the Peterborough lacrosse team to Toronto tomorrow, when they meet the Young Torontos, in an intermediate championship game at the Rosedale grounds. A special train will leave the C.P.R. station at one o'clock and tickets for the round trip are only $2.05, good to return until Monday. Peterborough will be represented by one of the strongest teams that has represented this city in years and they should open the season with a victory. There will be one or two surprises in the line-up of the locals and it will be a formidable dozen that will clash with the Young Torontos tomorrow afternoon. The only thing that will handicap the local boys is lack of condition. Owing to the backward weather in the early part of the season, the team were unable to practice as much as they would have liked, but they have been working hard during the past few days, and while not in the pink should be able to stand the pace well.

The excursion furnishes an excellent opportunity for Peterborough people to visit Toronto. In addition to the many attractions of the city there is a championship lacrosse match between the Tecumsehs and Cornwall at the island and several other sporting fixtures. Then the game between Peterborough and the Young Torontos promises to be an excellent exhibition of the national game, and it is to be hoped that a big crowd will go along to cheer the boys on to victory.

The train leaves the C.P.R. station at one o'clock. Turn out and help the lacrosse team along. They need the money as they have incurred several financial obligations in order to place a team in the league and and deserving of hearty support.

WEEKLY HALF HOLIDAY

There is a movement on foot among the merchants to arrange for a half-holiday, such as was observed the past three or four years, says the Campbellford Herald. It is generally understood that the merchants will all favor the scheme. The experience of former years is that the afternoon of recreation is beneficial to all concerned and injures none. Thursday afternoon may be selected for the holiday.

A PETERBORO' DIVINE

Those who heard Rev. A H Brace, the popular pastor of Park street Baptist church, Peterborough, last time he was here, will be glad to know that he is to pay us another visit. He will preach in the Baptist church on Sunday, morning and evening, and will give one of his exceedingly instructive lectures on the evening of the following day. The occasion is the reopening of the Baptist church, after interior renovation.—Campbellford Herald.

MOULDERS WELCOME

On Thursday next the moulders of Port Hope and Cobourg will run an excursion to Peterborough, and the visitors will be royally welcomed by the local moulders. They will be met at the G.T.R. station with a band and accompanied to Nicholls Oval, where the party will enjoy dinner. In the afternoon there will be a baseball match at the Riverside Park between Port Hope and Peterborough, and a great game is being looked forward to.

KEEP POULTRY AT HOME.

Some very well meaning people who keep poultry, are oftentimes exceedingly thoughtless respecting duty to their neighbors. By way of reminder, the Ontario Legislature has enacted a law which provides that owners of animals and poultry allowing them to run at large, are liable for damage caused by the same. If owner, after written notice from the neighbor complaining of trespass neglects to prevent a repetition thereof, he may be fined by a Justice of the Peace. This is the cure to prevent poultry making things unpleasant among neighbors.

Mrs James Whytock, sr., brought in the other day the largest hen egg we have ever seen. It was laid by a light Brahma hen, and measured 7x9 inches, weighing 5 ounces. This puts in the shade the number of large eggs so far, received.—Madoc Review.

VIEWS OF THE BARN.

Mr David Quinlan, of Ennismore the other day held a big "raising" at which about sixty men were present. The barn is 40x92 with 18-foot posts and a hip roof. Several fine photographs of scenes at the raising were taken by the Richmond studio of Peterborough.

President.—Rev. H. S. Graham

Committee.—Mrs. A. Milne, Mrs. W. W. Hudgins, Mrs. N. Dingman and Mr. J. R. Brown.

BEWARE! BEWARE!!

The Stratford Beacon, a Liberal paper, thus sermonizes for the benefit of some of its party friends; "What a lamentable failure some of our public men make in life. DISLOCATED HIS SHOULDER.

While practicing lacrosse on the Model school grounds on Friday evening last, Mr. Herb. White had the misfortune to dislocate his left shoulder by receiving a severe fall. He was taken to a physician, who replaced it, and it is hoped it will be well enough to permit him getting into the game at Trenton on Monday next.—Madoc Review.

OUTING TO JUBILEE.

The Monaghan Club, composed of a number of young men from North Monaghan, are holding an excursion down the river to-day to Jubilee Point. The steamer Monarch left the Wolfe street wharf at nine o'clock with a good crowd on board. There was dancing on the boat and at the pavilion, Mr. Archie Moore being master of ceremonies.

FREAK IN HORSE FLESH.

Dr. Chas. Jose has in his stable what might rightly be termed a freak in horse-flesh. It is a colt a week old, prettily developed, with the exception that it is minus two front legs. The animal appears to be healthy in every way and drinks milk readily. It strives hard to raise itself, as though the legs should be there. The shoulder is perfectly formed, and it possesses a very peculiar appearance. The colt was owned by Mr. John Allen.—Madoc Review.

WAINWRIGHT RESIGNED.

Mr. Samuel Wainwright, who has for some years been engineer in the fire department, last night, severed his connection with the brigade, and with the Board of Works Department, where he was engaged to run the steam road roller. This morning, however, Street Commissioner Harry Evans re-engaged Mr. Wainwright on the roller, as it must be kept running now which the work on Water street is in progress. The Fire, Water and Light Committee, last night, had not received Mr. Wainwright's resignation, and therefore could take no action. It will likely be considered next Wednesday night when the committee will meet again.

INSULTING LANGUAGE.

At the Lindsay police court on Monday two boys, one George Barnes, the other Bert Hooper, both of Lindsay, appeared before Magistrate Jackson on charges of using insulting language to Bernard Lacomb. For some time past Lacomb, who is afflicted by blindness, has been greatly annoyed by Lindsay youths calling him opprobrious names, and so the police are aiding him in bringing his tormentors to task, with the above result. Magistrate Jackson ordered Barnes to pay $2.70, and Hooper's case was adjourned till the 17th instant. It is hoped that the appearance of these boys before His Worship will have a salutary effect on the other lads.—Watchman-Warder.

Peterborough is Well Lighted; Very Few Dark Corners Found

Fire, Water and Light Committee Located Several New Lamps—Will be Mostly Incandescent Lights, as Area Affected Will be Small.

A few more arc lamps are needed in the city, although not very urgently, and it is likely that the fire, water and light committee will recommend them. In addition the committee will also recommend that several 32 candle power incandescent lamps be put on several streets where trees are thick and low and on a couple of streets where there are no lights. This system of street lighting has several warm friends in council who claim that it is superior to the arc lamps and is cheaper.

The fire, water and light committee, with the mayor, city clerk and superintendent of the waterworks, took a bus at the city hall and drove around the city to see where electric lamps were most needed. The night was very pleasant for a drive and as the moon was not shining it was easy to see where the lights are most needed.

The first place visited was the corner of Lake and Bethune streets where the railway crosses. The people there want a light on account of the crossing. The committee thought it would be best to put in a higher pole at the end of Stewart street, and to put the light at the end of Aylmer street on an arm and thus light the crossing. The committee then went to Patterson street, but as there are very few houses there the aldermen did not think much of the proposition. Bolivar street and Boswell avenue need to be lighted better and it is likely that the lamp at the corner of Charlotte and Park streets will be changed so as to do better service.

An incandescent lamp will be put on Homewood avenue so as to light up the south end corner of Senator Cox's property, which the neighbors have complained about several times. A couple of small lights will also be put on the west end of Homewood avenue and also on the west end of Weller street.

From there the committee drove up to Smith-town hill, where several lights were asked for, but by changing the light at the corner of Smith and Stewart streets, a big improvement will have been made and three or four incandescent lamps will give excellent light. The residents on McDonnel street hill will likely get one or two small lamps and that wound up this side of the city.

In Ashburnham there are a great many arc lamps and the people over there have no kick to make. There are very few places not well lighted and the committee decided to put one at the bottom of the hill near the mills to light the people going to St. Luke's church, and one will also be placed just west of the top of the hill.

Take the city from one end to the other and it is exceptionally well lighted. Very few places in Ontario can boast of as many lights in proportion to population as can Peterborough, and in addition there are a large number of residences where small lamps are hung on the verandahs. These make a big improvement and the residents should be encouraged to put these lights in.

The committee will meet next Wednesday to decide the light question.

No Cloud Obscures Horizon of Edmonton or Alberta

Lieut.-Col. E. B. Edwards Tells of Great In-rush of Settlers and Wonderful Progress Made During the Past Year—Handsome New Structures—Summer Has Now Set in and the Weather is Delightful.

Lieut.-Col. E. B. Edwards, of Edmonton, sends the following instructive letter to the Review, which will be read with much interest;

Sir.—In a letter which I had from you a short time ago you were good enough to ask me for a further letter giving some information as to this part of the country. It is difficult to know where to begin as there is so much doing, and there are so many matters of interest coming forward each day.

What has for some time seemed to me a matter of the greatest importance to Edmonton is the question of the filling up of the vast country to the west and north of this. The statement made with regard to the Peace River district, for instance, seemed difficult to believe, for it is hard to conceive of the fact that as you go further west and north to the valley of the Peace River, the climate becomes milder and the conditions for farming even more favorable than about Edmonton, and yet it is evident that Edmonton, which is further north and further west than Regina or Winnipeg, enjoys a milder climate than either of these places. Edmonton is now the last city of the west and to the north, and is practically the end of railway communication at present, although two branches of the Canadian Northern already extend some miles to the north and west. The country beyond this has been but little filled up, up to the present, as settlers have been locating to the east and south on the lines of the existing railways or those which are being projected; but Edmonton, instead of being at the extreme north or west of the country, is, in fact, as nearly as possible in the centre of the Province of Alberta and in the centre of the country which is available for successful settlement. The opening up and filling up of the country to the west and north has already begun and it is likely to go on with great rapidity in the next few years, and in this section of the province alone there is a quantity of land available for settlement probably equal in extent to that of the whole of the Province of Manitoba.

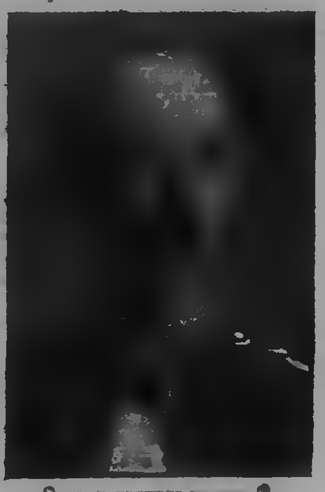
RESEMBLES ONTARIO

Three days ago I drove out a short distance to the north of this, and turning westward passed through part of the valley of the Sturgeon River, through the charming little village of St. Albert and thence homeward. Between this and the Sturgeon River the land is generally level, but the country along the river and beyond it is rolling land and present most beautiful appearance, resembling some of the choicest parts of Ontario. I passed many fine farms, and it was not an unusual sight to see a single field of a hundred acres which had been recently seeded. The views along the sweeping valley of the Sturgeon River are very beautiful, and I hardly know anything in our own neighborhood to compare with it. The river seems to have covered in ancient times a wide stretch of country, and the present appearance is that of a wide sloping valley gently falling towards the stream. Clumps of trees on the hillsides and green fields of grain, or newly seeded rich, black soil, present beautiful contrasts.

The village of St. Albert, which is about twelve miles from Edmonton, is picturesque in the extreme. The large buildings belonging to the Roman Catholic Church, consisting of the Bishop's Palace, the mission, Convent, Orphanage, and the lower part of the Cathedral, which is in course of erection, crown a beautiful hill-top, overlooking the village and the valley of the Sturgeon. It is an old established place, and presents altogether a very pretty appearance.

SETTLERS COMING IN.

Returning to Edmonton, on the way through the village I met a waggon loaded with settlers' effects drawn by a team of oxen, in charge of a young Englishman, who was heading for the country beyond. I hailed him as I passed and received a cheery nod in reply. At the top of the hill beyond the Sturgeon I passed a party by the roadside, who were just making camp and who were also bound on a like journey. A little bit further on was a covered waggon piled up high with household goods and other effects, and drawn by a fine team of horses, and with a cow tied to the rear of the waggon. The driver was a fine looking young Englishman, and beside him sat his equally fine looking wife, and a group of three or four hearty, healthy looking young children. They looked so picturesque and so happy that I could not help calling to them wishing them success on their journey, and I received an equally hearty response from them. A short distance beyond another covered waggon appeared, also piled up with goods, and with a plow fastened on behind. The man in charge of it was watering his oxen from a nearby pond. Perched up on the seat was a woman who did not look at all as well satisfied with her surroundings as the one we had previously met. As we passed on another party was making camp by the wayside, evidently bound in the same direction. I have been told before of the constant succession of settlers moving into the country, but I hardly realized until I saw these people for myself.



LT.-COL. E. B. EDWARDS,
Who writes Interestingly of the Prosperity of Edmonton.

WONDERFUL PROGRESS

It is just a year since I arrived in Edmonton, and during that time the city has made wonderful progress. One of the most satisfactory features of it all is that the real estate situation has quietly settled down, and that instead of the price of land being the whole topic of conversation, one hears now a great deal more of building and improvement and extension in other directions. On Jasper avenue the Bitulithic Paving Co. is busily at work putting down a new pavement, while on McDougall avenue another company is laying down the carbolinum block pavement. On the concrete foundation on Jasper avenue, the steel rails for a double track street railway have already been put down for several blocks. In building, a great many fine residences are going up and amongst other large buildings, the Y.M.C.A., the new post office and the new hospital, will be prominent, while the handsome stone building, which is in course of erection by the Canada Permanent and the Imperial Bank is hardly equalled by any of the buildings in Toronto. A great improvement is being made in the lawns and gardens and home surroundings of the citizens, while the boulevarding of streets in the residential section is being actively proceeded with.

GOOD WAGES PAID

Building material is very scarce as all the bricks and lumber available were used in building last fall. The saw-mills and brick-yards are now at work again and the demand will soon be begun to be met. A large part of the lumber supply, of course comes from British Columbia, but it, and all other building material, is very expensive. The prices paid here for labor seem very high to Eastern people. Some of the rates paid are as follows;

Bricklayers, 75c an hour.
Stone cutters, 70c an hour.
Carpenters, 42c an hour.
Plasterers, 65c an hour.
Painters, 45c an hour.
Electrical workers, 40c an hour.

The ordinary laborer's wages run from $2.00 to $2.50 a day. The eight-hour day is generally recognized. Teams for work on odd jobs about the city are charged for at $6.00 a day and I am told that some of the teams drawing gravel for the city, earn as high as $7.00 a day, in this case drawing by the yard.

We had, in common with all the rest of the country, a severe and prolonged winter, but the absence of wind through the cold season, made it less unpleasant than many a winter in the east. Comparing the readings of the temperature which appeared in the "Globe" from day to day, since the beginning of March with those in Toronto and other parts of Ontario, I think the advantage has generally been in favor of Edmonton. The summer has now fairly set in and the weather is very delightful.

The outlook for this city and the surrounding country seems to be extremely favorable. Everyone coming here, whether as settler or visitor, seems to be impressed with the feeling of hopefulness and satisfaction. As an Englishman expressed it to me the other evening, "There is something ahead of a man here, very different from what it was where I came from."

I am about to go East to attend the camp at Kingston and hope soon to see many of my old friends.

Yours truly,
E. B. EDWARDS.

Battery Goes to Camp To-morrow

Will Entrain at C. P. R. Station Shortly After Noon—All Preparations Made

The 24th Field Battery had its last drill last night, preparatory to going into two weeks' training at Petewawa on Saturday. Major Young was present, and Sergt.-Major Fee put the men through a short drill, in which they showed a capital knowledge of what they were required to do. They will go into camp in good shape and should give a good account of themselves at the big military training ground.

Orders have been issued for the entraining of the battery for Petewawa tomorrow. The corps will parade at the east city drill shed at 12.30 o'clock sharp, and will march by way of Hunter and George streets to the C.P.R. station, where they will entrain. The harness, guns and equipment will be fitted at the drill shed. The Cobourg Battery will come to Peterborough on the G.T.R., and will transfer to the C.P.R. here and proceed to Petewawa with the 24th.

The local battery will go into camp full strength, 104 all told, four officers and 95 men. They will also have their full complement of horses, 64, and all the equipment is in first class shape.

Leaving here at noon tomorrow, the battery will reach Petewawa some time Sunday morning and will proceed to active work on Monday. They will remain under canvas two weeks, and there is no doubt but that they will make even a better showing than they did at Cobourg last year.

Rev. Dr. Bishop to Go to Belleville

Rev. J. P. Wilson Will be Invited to Lindsay Pastorate

At a special meeting of the Quarterly Board of the Cambridge street Methodist church, Lindsay, held on Tuesday evening, the Rev. Dr. Bishop laid before the Board an invitation he had received from Bridge street Methodist church, Belleville, to become their pastor for 1908. Dr. Bishop left the matter entirely in the hands of the Board, but called their attention to the fact that the church would probably succeed in getting a more acceptable supply should the change be made next year.

The matter was thoroughly discussed by Messrs. Boxall, W. Flavelle, Taylor and Mayor Vrooman, and the remarks of each expressed the kindly feeling which existed between Dr. Bishop and his congregation. All agreed that under existing circumstances it would be advisable to relieve Dr. Bishop at the end of the present Conference year, which was done, on motion of Mr. W. Flavelle, seconded by Mr. Boxall.

It was moved by Mr. Taylor, seconded by Mr. Wilson, that an invitation be extended to Rev. J. P. Wilson, pastor of the Bridge street Methodist church, Belleville, to accept the pastorate of Cambridge street Methodist church, Lindsay, beginning in the Conference year of 1908. —Carried.

At the close of the meeting Dr. Bishop was presented with a purse of $100 in gold, to assist in defraying his expenses on a visit to his sons in the Northwest during his leave of absence, granted by the Board at their last meeting. The presentation was made by Mr. Boxall, in a most feeling speech, expressing his appreciation of the generosity of the congregation.

Blood Poison Through Stocking Dye

Curious Case at Kingston

While attending to her household duties, Mrs. A. Harrison, Place-de-Armes, Kingston, Ont., struck her ankle against a projection which inflicted a cut. She paid little attention to the wound at the time, but in a few days it became swollen and very painful. A medical man was consulted, and it was then found that the dye from her stocking had got into the wound and set up blood poison. Then began a trying period of pain, which had it not been for Zam-Buk, might not even yet have ended. Mrs. Harrison says, "The doctor ordered certain treatment, which I followed out, but the wound got no better and refused to heal. It was most painful, and sometimes I could hardly bear to walk. I was almost in despair when a friend advised me to try Zam-Buk. It soon reduced the swelling and inflammation, and the pain—so acute before —got less and less until the ankle was quite easy. Then the wound began to heal and a little more perseverance resulted in a complete cure."

Zam-Buk draws the pain and the poison from a wound at the same time. It heals ulcers, chafing sores, sore legs, bad legs and varicose ulcers. It cures insect stings, sun-burn, summer rashes and heat spots; while as a cure for chronic wounds, eczema, prairie itch, ringworm, scalp sores, and sores due to blood poison, it is absolutely without equal. All stores and druggists sell at fifty cents, or post free from the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

Mr. Blackwell Preparing Plans

For Addition to Havelock School —Destructive Fire— Other Notes

Havelock, June 13.—Rev. J. H. Locke, who has had charge of the Methodist church here for the past few years, was superannuated at the Bay of Quinte Conference of the Methodist church at Bowmanville, which has just been concluded. He will be succeeded by Rev. David Balfour, of Rawdon, while Rev. W. H. Clarke, of town, who has charge of the Blairton Mission, will take Mr. Balfour's place, and Mr. A. Frederick, of Campbellford, will likely take Mr. Clarke's place. Rev. Wm. Johnston, formerly of town, was elected to the chairmanship of the Campbellford conference. The next Conference will be held at Lindsay.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE

Mr Amos Althouse, who lives on a farm six miles east of here, a short distance south of Blairton, had his house and everything contained in it burned to the ground on Tuesday morning. The fire originated in the chimney and was not noticed by Mr. Althouse or his wife who were employed in the garden, until it had got a good start, after which nothing could be done to either stop the fire or to secure anything within the house. With the help of the surrounding farmers, the barn and drive shed were saved from the flames.

Mr Blackwell, the Peterborough architect, and Inspector Lees, were in town on Monday and, with several members of the Board, visited the school and looked over the grounds for the addition to the school. Mr. Blackwell will draw up the plans and specifications for the addition, which will be sent to the school board this week. The board have not yet decided whether they will build it of solid brick, cement blocks, or brick veneer. It is also thought that a change will be made in the present stair-case and lobby.

AN ACCIDENT

Mr Wm. Dineen, proprietor of the Dineen House, while helping to unload some heavy trunks at the station on Wednesday had a very narrow escape from a serious accident. One of the trunks fell on him, the iron-bound corner striking him on the head, inflicting a deep gash and slightly spraining his wrist.

More Intruders Prowling Around

Tried to Carry Off Things From East City Residence

That there are burglars around this city somewhere is amply evident, as one is daily hearing for the past week of some house being either robbed or an attempt made at it. The intruders certainly cannot be professional crooks or they would be more successful. In most cases the articles in the houses have been turned upside down. What looked like an attempt at robbery was found in a house in east city. Yesterday morning when the lady of the dwelling went out into the shed she noticed that a box in which a number of articles had been carefully placed, was upset and the things scattered around the shed. Thinking that someone had been in the shed during the night, the lady began to make investigation and from the shed right around the house she noticed a large quantity of burnt matches, which proved beyond a doubt that there had been someone prowling around the place, but no entrance had been made to the house. The doors were all safely locked and and the windows down. The robber must have lost his nerve and confined his search for spoils to the shed alone.

It is stated that there are several suspicious looking characters hanging around Burnham's Point during the day and at night when all is quiet they are busy prowling around people's property.

The police are on the tracks of these loafers and no doubt it will not be before their so far unhindered work will be at an end.

must win upon their merits. The International Dictionary has won a greater distinction upon its merits and is in more general use than any other work of its kind in the English language.

A. H. Sayce, LL.D., D.D., of Oxford University, England, has recently said of it: It is indeed a marvelous work; it is difficult to conceive of a dictionary more exhaustive and complete. Everything is in it—not only what we might expect to find in such a work, but also what few of us would ever have thought of looking for.

A supplement to the new edition has brought it fully up to date. I have been looking through the latter with a feeling of astonishment at its completeness, and the amount of labor that has been put into it.

A SHADY TRANSACTION

The Ottawa Citizen has recently printed a story of what is called the Blairmore town site scandal. The land in question is the property now of a Mr. Malcolm McKenzie, who was formerly a candidate for election to Parliament in the interests of the Liberal party. He obtained it by securing a transfer from an Italian, named Montalbetti, a railway worker, who set up a squatter's claim. Another man named Lyon, from Carleton County also claimed it, and had erected a building and opened a shop. A homestead inspector named Stewart, was sent to report. He declared in favor of Mr. Lyon. Meantime Mr. McKenzie got another inspector named Nixon appointed to make another report. The two went together to the spot, and Nixon reported in favor of McKenzie. The latter report was accepted at Ottawa. Mr. Fitzpatrick, as Minister of Justice was appealed to, and ordered a report by Judge Wetmore, who found that the Montalbetti claim was a fraud and worthless. The Exchequer Court was about to cancel the patent, when "the beneficiaries of the fraud got in their "work, and the Minister of the Interior, Sifton, interposed. Mr. Sifton "stood by Turiff, Nixon, Mc-"Kenzie and the perjured claim." At Mr. Sifton's instance the Crown's suit for the cancellation of the patent was dismissed. Quoting from the Citizen, "The Government paid the "whole costs. McKenzie obtained "his $200,000 worth of property for "$480, though, according to Judge "Wetmore there was no evidence that "he ever paid the Italian a cent for it." The Citizen goes on to say that was how McKenzie became rich; that there is no doubt that the Government made itself party to a gross fraud, both against Lyon and the people of Canada. It concludes,—

"In the beginning the homestead inspector reported against McKenzie's claim. Judge Wetmore found it to be fraudulent. Judge Burbidge would have cancelled the patent had the Government allowed him to do so. Mr. Fitzpatrick, now Chief Justice of Canada, in the absence of the head of the machine, set in operation the legal process, which would have redressed the wrong, but there has always been influence enough on the side of the grafters to prevail even against so strong a combination as this."

To these gravest charges of wrong doing, made in a responsible way by a responsible newspaper, nobody makes reply. Government and Ministers, men accused of turning justice from its path, men charged with aiding and suggesting perjury, men alleged to have profited to the wrong of a poor merchant by the use of improper influence on a venal department of the administration—they all read and see and say nothing. They all evidently think that public opinion is dead and that it matters not what they do or what is said about it. Hoping that in silence the transaction will be forgotten, grafters may justify the Siftonian mode of doing business; honest men

Skating Contest Last Evening

Roller Rink Will Close for the Season on Saturday

An interesting skating contest was given last evening at the roller rink. It being the last one of the season a large number entered, and last night was also the second last time that there will be roller skating. The rink closes on Saturday night for two months, and no doubt a large number will take advantage of Saturday evening to enjoy a skate to the tuneful music of the band, which will be in attendance. There was a good crowd last night despite the warm weather and other attractions. The band was present and furnished excellent music. The contest was for ladies and gentlemen skating in couples, and Miss Lexa Ritchie and Mr. Jack Seymour were the judges' choice, and judging by the hearty applause the decision got, it was also the choice of the people.

The judges were Messrs. Armstrong, Banks and Dr. Bradd and there task was an exceedingly difficult one, there being three couples who were equally as good, but when the three skated for first place, the judges decided on the above mentioned couple.

They were afterwards presented with the prizes by Dr. Bradd, the gentleman's prize being a handsome fountain pen, and the lady's, a hand satchel.

The rink will open again the first of September.

Shamrocks Won From Millbrook

2-1 Was the Score at Riverside Park Last Night

The Millbrook lacrosse team, reinforced by Galley, Mein and Dusty, of Peterborough, met the Peterborough Shamrocks at Riverside Park last night, and, after 40 minutes' steady play, the score was 2—1 in favor of the homesters. The winners annexed the first two goals, then Millbrook secured one, and then the darkness came down and the match was over. Millbrook was only able to muster eight players, so three Peterborough men lined up with them, and the match was played eleven men a side. Though the lacrosse was not of a brilliant variety, it caused considerable amusement for some 200 spectators, who found considerable to exercise their lungs over. The players did not over exert themselves, and the game was free from roughness. W. Stroud was referee, and only dealt out two penalties, and these were for very light offences. The Shamrocks had easily the big end of the play, but the presence of "Bill" Galley and Mein on the Millbrook defence made it a difficult matter for the opposing home to score. Dusty also did good work for the visitors, and was given good suport in the field by McKeever and Donnelly.

The Shamrocks put up a fair article of lacrosse, and at times did some nice combination work. Barber was conspicuous on the defence, while "Daddy" Tucker, Rush, Dobson and McNichol were perhaps the best of the remainder, although individually there were few weak spots.

The teams were as follows:—

Shamrocks		Millbrook
	Goal
McFadden		Dunsford
	Point
Barber		Galley
	Cover Point
Devlin		Mein
	Defence
Cameron		Oldenham
Kelly		Grandy
Rush		McKeever

Long		Cochrane
Dobson		Nattress
McNichol		Burnham
Dumble		Dusty

Homework for Public Schools

At the Teachers' Convention held at Bowmanville recently, Mr. A. A. Jordan, headmaster of the Durham County Model School, moved a resolution, which was seconded by Mr. W. W. Tamblyn, M.A., to the effect that homework in Public schools be abolished.

This provoked a warm and interesting discussion, but the question did not come to a vote, and it was decided to let the matter stand over until the next convention to be held in Port Hope in 1908 and thereby give the teachers and others interested in the question ample time for consideration.

ALD. McINTYRE STATES POLICY

On Day Labor System in Reply to Trades and Labor Council's Attack

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—In your report of the meeting of the Trades and Labor Council, I find some injustice has been done me in reference to the stand taken by me in the City Council, in dealing with the question of city work done by day labor. The report of the Executive Committee subjected me to considerable censure for voting against my own convictions in this matter. Evidently the members of the Committee are laboring under some misunderstanding, regarding the stand I took when the question was before the City Council. I desire to say that my vote was entirely in accordance with my views on the subject, as published by the Review prior to the last municipal elections. I then stated that I was in favor of calling for tenders for all city work, and that the City Engineer put in a tender with the contractor's, and if the City Engineer's tender was the lowest, that the work be done by day labor. This can be certified by reference to your fyles. I have been called a "staunch supporter" of day labor, and I would not be understood as opposed to it in my vote in the Council, but as dealing with the matter in a common sense, business-like way.

Thanking you, I remain,
Yours truly,
A. A. McINTYRE.

Aldermen Were Held Up by Train

At C.P.R. Crossing at Park St. for Over Five Minutes

The C.P.R. gravel train made an unfortunate mistake last night when it was pulling into the city. An engine with a string of at least thirty empty flat cars stopped over the crossing on Park street for over five minutes without moving either backward or forward. What made the affair so noticeable, was the mayor, the Fire, Water and Light Committee the city clerk, the superintendent of the waterworks, and a Review representative were driving around the south end of the city, looking for places where electric lights were needed and they had to wait for the train to pass. Just for fun a couple of those in the bus pulled out their watches and timed the train, and they both made it over five minutes from the time the train stopped until it began to move again. The rest of the party thought the train had been there half an hour.

At the residence of the bride's parents, Cavanville, there was united in marriage on Wednesday, June 5th, Eva Maud Hutchinson, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hutchinson to Arthur Reeves of Toronto.

Rev. W. C. Allin officiated at the ceremony. The bride was attired in white silk and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Miss Florence Hutchinson, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid and was costumed in white, also carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Mr. Sidney Hutchinson, cousin of the bride, acted as groomsman. After the wedding luncheon was served and the happy couple left on the five train for their future home in Toronto. Mrs. Reeves was the recipient of many costly and useful presents, with best wishes from her many friends.

PRETTY EVENT AT HAVELOCK

A June Wedding of Much Interest at the Railroad Town

Havelock, June 13.—On Wednesday, June 12th, the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Richards, of town, was the scene of a very pretty wedding, when their only daughter, Claudia, was united in marriage to Mr. Henry Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Williams, of town.

The marriage ceremony took place at 10.30 a.m., under an arch of marguerites and ferns, the nuptial knot being tied by Rev. J. H. Locke, pastor of the Methodist church, in the presence of about forty near relatives of the contracting parties. The wedding march was played by Miss Gertrude Timmerman, of Ivanhoe. The bride was charmingly gowned in white swiss muslin, with insertion and lace trimmings, and carried a bouquet of white and pink roses.

Immediately after the ceremony the guests retired to the dining room, which was beautifully decorated with apple blossoms and ferns, where a dainty luncheon was partaken of.

The young couple were the recipients of many beautiful and costly presents, which show the esteem in which they are held by their many friends. The groom's gift to the bride was a solid gold brooch, with a double heart of real pearls.

The happy couple drove to Campbellford, where the train was taken for a honeymoon trip to Belleville and the Thousands Islands. On returning they will reside with the groom's parents. The bride's travelling suit was of Maizie Vicuna cloth with strappings of brown silk velvet and she wore a most charming white picture hat.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs Williams join in wishing them every joy and happiness in the future.

New Hydrants on Water Streets

Between Charlotte and King—New Eight Inch Water Main for George Street

Superintendent Henderson of the waterworks, accompanied the Fire, Water and Light Committee on the drive around the city last night, and recommended that a couple more hydrants be put in. One he mentioned and which is considered a very necessary one, at a point about half-way between Charlotte and King Streets on Water street. This hydrant will serve all those buildings including the National Hotel, Mr. Comstock's residence and barns, the opera house and the cheese factory. Opera House and the Canoe Factory. The Water Commissioners intend laying a main down Water Street to connect with the King Street main.

The Commissioners are also contemplating, in fact, have practically decided, to lay a new eight inch main from a point south of King street through to Rink Street on George Street. The old main is only five inches. This will be a big job but the quantity of water required demands the enlargement.

It is also likely that a hydrant will be placed at the east end of Hunter street where the mains are now being laid.

REGIMENT HAD COMPANY DRILL

Good Turnout at Central Park Last Evening

The 57th Regiment had a good turnout at last night's drill, and the fine weather enabled the men to put in some valuable work. Company drill was carried on in the park and steady improvement is noticeable.

The second marchout of the season will be held on Tuesday night, when it is expected there will be a large turnout. Both bands will be in attendance.

Recruiting is going on for the composite companies, which will spend four days at Kingston camp. There will be no difficulty in securing the full complement of men.

The Sportsman's Greatest Chance

The fisherman's opportunity to secure a new and complete outfit at a very low cost has arrived. Mr. C. R. Banks, the sporting goods man, has just purchased a bankrupt stock of fishing tackle, and it is now on exhibition in his window. It comprises trawling spoons, baits, reels, creels, lines, hooks, minnow traps, etc. For the next ten days the stock will be sold at greatly reduced prices.

June Session of County Council

Will Open on Tuesday Next—Some Matters to be Considered

The Peterborough County Council will meet on Tuesday of next week at two o'clock in the regular June session.

Several important matters will come up for consideration, particularly the new bridge at Buckhorn, and also an arrangement whereby the poor of the city of Peterborough may be admitted as inmates of the County House of Refuge, on certain terms.

The Board of Management of the House of Refuge will meet at Lakefield on Monday, and will prepare an estimate of the cost of maintaining the institution for this year, so that the assessment may be made in the different municipalities. The outlay for running the institution is borne by general tax, each township contributing to the expense on the basis of assessment.

TWEED MAN IS AN INVENTOR

The Canadian Engineer of Feb. 22, last contains an interesting and minute description of a new invention known as the Amey Track-Lifting, Ballasting and Tamping Machine. The inventor is Mr. C. I. Amey, son-in-law of Mr. James Finley of Tweed. Although none of the machines have yet been constructed the inventor claims that a very great saving can be made in railway constructing by the use of the machine. On the construction of 300 miles of road, which, he says would cost $140,000, his machine would effect a saving of $135,000. He has already been offered $25,000 for the invention and a third interest in the company that would be formed to construct the machines.

Fell Off a Roof; Lit on His Back

Experience of a Workman on A. L. Davis' House at Stony Lake

Ald. G. Duncan was in the city last night to attend the meeting of the Fire, Water and Light Committee. He has for some time been superintending the contract of painting and decorating the palatial summer residence of Mr. A. L. Davis, at Stoney Lake. The house will be ready about the first of July and will be the most handsome, not only at Stoney Lake, but at any summer resort in Canada. Ald. Duncan told a funny yarn of a man's hard luck, while working on the house. He was a carpenter, and was working on the roof. The other day at noon hour, he was climbing up on the roof, and in so doing took hold a bunch of shingles so as to pull himself up. But he only got one knee on the roof when the shingles gave way. The fellow fell backward, turned three somersaults and struck on his back on a rock. He got up immediately, shook himself and climbed back on the roof again and worked the whole afternoon. He was injured in the least, although there were two or three bruises on his back.

That night the same fellow went down on the wharf to fish with the rest of the boys, and he had just thrown his line in when he lost his balance and fell in himself. The water was very cold and deep, and he had a long way to swim before he could get out.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country, than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years, was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and the mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case, it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Objection Raised to Picture Post Cards

Some of Those Offered for Sale Will Have to be Withdrawn

Chief Roszel has been making an investigation into certain picture post cards that have been on sale at some of the stands in the city.

Several cards are objectionable and the Chief has notified the dealers that they cannot be sold. These pictorial productions, to which a protest has been raised are intended to be humorous but instead of being funny, they are rather suggestive.

Complaints were made and the dealers in cards have promised to eliminate those from stock, to which objection has been made.

Mining Institute Will Visit Canada

The Board of Trade at its regular monthly meeting took up the question of the visit of the American Mining Institute to Canada in July and named a deputation to wait on our local member to secure Hastings in the programme of their contemplated trips from their convention, remarks the Trenton Courier. This is said to be a gathering of the largest mining men in the world, and the wish of our Board is to draw the attention of men with money to our mineral resources of this locality.

The committee appointed to meet M. B. Morrison, M.P.P., report matters are being hustled by him.

BRISK BUILDING IN HASTINGS

Four New Blocks Will be Erected This Season

Building operations are going along briskly on the business blocks on Main street, and before the warm weather is gone it is likely we will have four new business blocks, says the Hastings Star. Mr. John Tracy is building larger than his old place near the bridge and Dr. Coughlan and S. J. Fisher's block will soon be ready for putting on the roof. H M Fowlds' new block has the foundation up and will likely be gone ahead with as soon as the material arrives.

Teams All Favor Double Schedule

A meeting of the executive of the Intermediate League was held last evening. All the teams were represented and the president, Mr. James Lang, was in the chair.

The first business transacted was in regard to the Lillie-Strathcona game last week. It resulted in a tie but the Lillies protested it on the ground of the unfair decisions of the umpire. After considerable discussion it was decided to have the game played again on neutral ground two weeks from tomorrow. The West Ends field was decided upon as the ground. Then the matter of playing a double schedule was taken up. The majority of the teams are in favor of a double schedule, and the matter of drawing it up was left to Messrs. Fred Craig, C. Ray and C. Curtis.

Mr. Fred Craig was appointed to umpire the Strathcona-West End game on Monday night at the West End field and Mr. Stacey will officiate at the Lakeview-Lillie game next Monday and Wednesday.

Tomorrow afternoon the Karenots will meet the Lakeviews at the Driving Park. The Karenots have never lost a contest and will work hard tomorrow to retain their good reputation.

The first game of the league between the Strathconas and the Excelsiors will be played over again tomorrow afternoon at Nicholls Oval sharp at 4 o'clock.

LACROSSE

Peter McMillan, of Beaverton, will referee Saturday's game at Rosedale between Peterborough and the Young Torontos.—Toronto News.

Peterboroughs are running a special excursion down for Saturday's game with Young Torontos at Rosedale. Their team will come in at North Toronto over the C.P.R. line. —Toronto News.

Peterborough Shamrocks and Oshawa meet in a Junior C.L.A. game at Riverside Park tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock. Both teams will be strong and a fast contest is assured.

STOCK MARKET QUOTATIONS

New York, June 14.— The stock market was subjected to a drive this morning, chiefly on the outlook for a bad bank statement, but the amount of stock that came out was not important. That there was some liquidation was unquestionable, but the volume was induced by the stop order dislodgment, according to floor judges. The market then gave evidence of support and further investment buying on a moderate scale The list assumed a dull position again and short covering followed

Developments point to some unsettlement until Monday afternoon, when there should be a resumption of improvement. Perhaps a recovery will take place prior thereto. The conservatively bullish position is justified, we think. Two millions of gold was taken for export today.

Failure of Liverpool to respond to the advance in wheat here yesterday and bearish Argentine news, caused another break in wheat today to the low figures of yesterday, where it closed. Corn was weak in sympathy, but oats held rather firm.

THE BEST FRIENDS OF PE-RU-NA ARE THE MOTHERS AND CHILDREN

MR. F. BROOKMAN WIFE AND CHILD

MRS. J. C. STERLING'S CHILDREN.

G.H. FARMER and SON.

Pe-ru-na Should Be Kept In Every Household

Where There Are Little Children.

Peruna should be kept in the house all the time. Don't wait until the child is sick, then send to a drug store. But, have Peruna on hand—accept no substitute.

Children are especially liable to acute catarrh. Indeed, most of the affections of childhood are catarrh.

All forms of sore throat, quinsy, croup, hoarseness, laryngitis, etc., are but different phases of catarrh.

Pe-ru-na Contains No Narcotics.

One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotic of any kind. Peruna, if taken according to printed directions, is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. It does not produce temporary results, but it is permanent in its effect.

It has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh.

> Mrs. F. Brockman, 818 Meade street, Appleton, Wis., writes:
> "I have never had a return of the catarrh, which had made me so miserable and unhappy before I began taking Peruna.
> "I would not be without it in the house, now.
> "I have a baby boy, two years old, to whom I give Peruna for a cold, and my husband also takes Peruna.
> "I thank you and wish you well."—Mrs. F. Brockman.

No Doctor Required.

Mr. Edward Otto, 927 De Soto street, St. Paul, Minn., writes:

"I cannot say enough for Peruna. It has done great work in my family, especially for my oldest boy. We had doctored with three or four different doctors and they did not seem to do him any good.

"We gave up hopes of cure, and so did they, but we pulled him through on Peruna.

"We had several doctors and they said they could do no more for him, so we tried Peruna as a last resort, and that did the work. Since then we keep it in the house all the time, and no doctor is required."—Edward Otto.

There are a multitude of homes where Peruna has been used off and on for twenty years.

Such a thing could not be possible if Peruna contained any narcotics.

The Benefit Which the Children of the United States Have Received From Pe-ru-na Can Never Be Put Into Words.

The chronic ailments it has prevented, the suffering it has mitigated, will never be fully recorded.

But at least this much can be said that the coming generation owes a great debt to Peruna, for it is in the tender years of youth that slight ailments are liable to develop into lasting disease, thus blasting the whole career of the individual.

The mothers who are bringing up their children to-day to believe in Peruna are speaking from their experience.

These children brought up to believe in Peruna from the start, will, when they become heads of families themselves, use Peruna with unquestioning faith.

A Child's Life Saved.

Mr. G. H. Farmer, New Martinsville, W. Va., writes:

"Our little son, Harry, is well and healthy now and we think if we do as you directed us, he will keep his health and grow strong.

"We know that our little son's life was saved by your wonderful medicine, Peruna, and we shall always praise Peruna and use it in our family when needed.

"Should we have any more catarrhal trouble in our family, we shall always write to you for treatment."

—G. H. Farmer.

Medical Advice.

For free medical advice, address Dr. S. B. Hartman, President of the Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

All correspondence held strictly confidential.

Mrs. J. C. Sterling, 183 Brown Avenue, Norfolk, Va., writes:

"My little boy, Meredith, suffered with indigestion so badly he could not eat anything without it making him very sick, so I thought (as many others have) that I would try Peruna, and it worked like a charm.

"Now he eats anything he wishes, and I would not be without it for anything.

"My other little boy, Alfred, two and a half years old, has taken it and received as much benefit from Peruna as his brother.

"I hope my testimonial may be of some benefit to others, as I feel as though I cannot praise it enough." —Mrs. J. C. Sterling.

Mr. Howard Andrew Sterner, Muddy Creek, Pa., writes:

"I have Peruna in my house all the time and won't be without it. It is good for children when they take a cold or croup. It cured my baby boy of croup.

"I have introduced Peruna into six families since I received your last letter, and four have seen relief already."

—Howard Andrew Sterner.

Pe-ru-na Protects the Entire Household.

As soon as the value of Peruna is appreciated by every household, both as a preventive and cure, tens of thousands of lives will be saved, and hundreds of thousands of chronic, lingering cases of catarrh will be prevented.

She suffers even more than the child who happens to be sick.

Her sympathy is deeper than that of any other member of the family.

The mother looks forward with dread to the torrid heat of summer, thinking of her children and the many liabilities to disease that are before them.

Spring and summer are sure to bring ailments, especially among the little folks.

It does not take a mother very long to discover that Peruna is the best friend she has in time of illness among the children.

A Multitude of Mothers

Have discovered that Peruna is their stand-by, and that in many of the ailments of spring and summer to which the children are subjected, Peruna is the remedy that will generally quickly relieve.

Whether it is spring fever or stomach derangement, whether it is indigestion or bowel disease, a catarrhal congestion of the mucous surfaces is the cause.

Peruna quickly relieves this condition of the mucous membranes. Its operation is prompt, the children do not dislike to take the medicine. it has no deleterious effects in any part of the body.

It simply removes the cause of the disagreeable symptoms and restores the health.

Every mother who has not tried Peruna in her family should familiarize herself with Dr. Hartman's booklet, The Ills of Life. This booklet should be in every family. It gives most valuable advice as to the use of Peruna for the various catarrhal diseases so general to-day.

Peruna is a household remedy for all catarrhal ailments of winter and summer, acute or chronic.

The mothers all over the United States are the best friends that Peruna has.

The Mothers Hold Pe-ru-na in High Esteem,

Not only because it has cured them of their various ailments, but because it promptly rescues the children from the throes and grasp of catarrhal diseases.

We have in our files many testimonials from mothers whose children have been cured by Peruna. However, the large majority of mothers who use Peruna, we never hear from.

But we do hear from a great number of mothers who are so overjoyed at some special good they have received from Peruna that they cannot restrain their enthusiasm. They are anxious to share these benefits with other mothers.

"B" Battery, R.C.H.A., Will Camp At Peterborough Monday Night

Are Marching From Toronto to Military Camp at Petewawa—Advance Party Here To-day—Dragoons Will Also Pass Through Here.

Peterborough is on the line of March of "B" Battery, Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, of Toronto, marching from the Ontario capital to the miliary camp at Petewawa. The battery will camp at Peterborough on Monday night, and the advance party was here today making arrangements for forage, provisions and all necessary supplies. They will advance on Peterborough from Port Hope, and will camp at the exhibition grounds on Monday night. Leaving Tuesday morning, they will march to Young's Point, where they will camp on Tuesday night. From Young's Point they will proceed to Petewawa by way of Burleigh, Coe Hill, Cumbermere and other points until Pembroke is reached. The military camp is about fifteen miles distant from that town.

"B" Battery, R.C.H.A., is part of the permanent force and is marching from Toronto to the military camp at Petewawa. It will take them about ten days to make the trip They are travelling with horses, guns and all equipment, and make an interesting sight as they travel along the country roads, where such sights are not familiar.

The advance party of two, Sergeant Bray and Driver Buck, were in Peterborough today making all necessary arrangements for the camp of the battery at Peterborough on Monday night. They have made arrangements for fodder for the horses, provisions and everything else that will be needed. The advance party reached the city yesterday afternoon and will leave again early tomorrow morning. They have three horses with them, two for riding and one pack horse.

The Royal Canadian Dragoons, of Toronto, will also pass through Peterborough some day next week. They are also marching to Petewawa, and are following the same line of march as the battery.

Commissioner Kinnaird of Edmonton Visited the City

In Company With F. D. Mackay and Inspected the Canadian Machine Telephone in Operation—Municipal Ownership in West Has Strong Hold.

Mr. Geo. J. Kinnaird, of Edmonton, one of the commissioners, who have full charge of all municipal improvements, is in the city today, in company with Mr. F. D. Mackay, general manager of the Canadian Machine Telephone Co. Mr. Kinnaird is here inspecting the machine phone. He is very greatly interested in it as this is the system which is being installed in his city. This is the first time he has seen the Canadian machine telephone operating and he was greatly impressed with it, and upon enquiring of many citizens he found that the unanimous opinion was that it was a most satisfactory system.

While here Mr. Kinnaird was a guest at the Oriental hotel, and when seen there by the Review he expressed himself as well pleased with this city and with the business prospects. He had never been here before and had no idea that Peterborough was such a busy place. He also remarked upon the attractive appearance of the streets, buildings, factories and residences, and stated that he would like to have some of them out west.

Speaking of municipal matters Mr Kinnaird said that at the present time Edmonton had many very large undertakings on hand. They are making a large addition to the electric light plant and to the water works system. They are laying a big trunk sewer at a heavy cost and are also undertaking street paving on an extensive scale. At the same time the pavement is put down the commissioners are also laying rails for the new street railway, which will probably be undertaken next year. The municipal telephone system is making great strides. The wiring is about completed, and it is expected that in a few weeks the apparatus which is being made by the Canadian Machine Telephone Co. at its office in Toronto, will be installed, and that the system will be in operation in a short time.

Mr. Kinnaird and Mr. Mackay left this evening for Toronto, where the former will spend a few days and then return to the west.

Announcement was made at the opening of the Philadelphia Stock Exchange today, of the insolvency of A. E. Appleyard, who created a sensation yesterday, by selling many thousands of shares of the United Gas Improvement Company, depressing the price, nearly $4 a share.

Another Masher Accosts Girl

Who Fled Into House and Gave the Alarm

Last evening about 9.30 o'clock a young girl of about 14 years had a rather unpleasant experience which she will not forget for some time. She resides on Mark street, East City, and had been out spending the evening with a neighbor, who lives but a short distance away. At the above mentioned time she started for home, going by way of the back garden, in which there are a number of trees and bushes. When the girl was about to get over the fence she was accosted by a young man who evidently had been prowling around the property. He made a grab at the girl who gave two or three screams and ran back to the house. Although terribly frightened and excited she told her story to the people of the house, who immediately telephoned the police. Upon their arrival the culprit was no where to be found, and the girl was given protection and taken to her home.

BASHFUL LOVER

A lady in a certain Canadian city had a cook upon whom she set great value. Her only objection, indeed, to the girl was her large visiting list, and she hesitated to make too strong an objection thereto, through fear of losing the girl's valuable services Referring to the advent of a new admirer, "I should like to know, Flora," said the lady, "why your latest caller keeps such a deathly silence when with you in the kitchen?" The girl grinned broadly, "Oh, mam said she, "as yet the poor fellow is that bashful he does nawthin' but ate!"

Peterboro' Shows Biggest Increase

In the Line of Manufacturing—How it Has Gone Ahead

Among Ontario cities and large towns, Peterborough shows the greatest ratio of increase in the five-year period, says the London Advertiser. Its output was $3,789,164 in 1901 and $11,566,805 in 1906, so that it is now running London hard for fifth place. The percentage of increase in five years in the largest manufacturing places in Ontario have been figured out as follows:

	Per Cent. Inc.
Peterborough	266
Sault Ste. Marie	150
Stratford	97
Berlin	66
London	51
Brantford	50
St. Catharines	50
Sarnia	48
Toronto	45
Hamilton	41
Chatham	40
Ottawa	30
Guelph	30

Ontario remains the premium manufacturing province, with an output of $365,692,144, or over half the total for the Dominion. While there has been a marvellous growth of mechanical industry in the west, Ontario will remain the great factory centre for an indefinite period.

Membership is Growing Rapidly

Court Chemong, No. 530, is Certainly Moving Ahead

Court Chemong, No. 630., Independent Order of Foresters, held a most enthusiastic meeting on Thursday evening, when the organizer, Mr. A. Bradshaw, D.S.C.R., introduced a large class of candidates for initiation and has another large class ready for the last Thursday of the month, the 27th inst.

The Order has had an almost unprecedented increase in membership this last ten months.

A little more than one hundred members have been added to the roll of Court Chemong through the efforts of Messrs. Bradshaw, and G. N. Brown, D.S.C.R., of Belleville and the members of the Court.

This Court has made other improvements in the last year. The ladies (Companions) can now become members of the local Court and a large number attend regularly the Court meetings. The initiation ceremony has been improved. The members, at their annual church parade tomorrow, will wear the new official badges, and the officers the new sashes presented to the Court by the High Court at its last meeting.

Arrangements were also made to hold a monster demonstration at Idyl Wyld on Labor Day, when it is expected excursions will be run from all courts for 60 miles around. A good programme of sports, dancing and games are being arranged for and the public may expect to enjoy the most pleasant outing of the season. Hon. Elliott Stephenson, Supreme Chief Ranger, of Toronto and Dr. G. W. Wade, High Chief Ranger for Eastern Ontario, are expected to be present.

The members of Court Chemong will observe the annual anniversary thanksgiving services of the Order this year, by attending George street Methodist church and large delegations from courts at Lakefield, Keene, Westwood, Brier Hill and several other points near the city, have signified their intention of being present and joining the membership of the local Court in their thanksgiving for the unparalleled success of the Order in the past year. All Foresters not attached to Court Chemong are invited to meet with them in the Sons of England Hall at 6.15 sharp and take part in this service.

Burglar Had Ladder Up Against a Rear Window

But the Noise Awoke the Household and the Marauder Had to Hasten Away.

Every night for the past two weeks reports have been made of some house being burglarized and there certainly must be a gang of crooks operating around the city. With one or two exceptions they have all been committed in east city, but in most cases the burglar's plans have always been frustrated and they usually have to make off without any reward for their trouble. East city was again visited last night by housebreakers, and Miss A. Davidson's house at 453 Mark street, was the one picked out. Some time after midnight the occupants of the house were awakened by a noise which seemed to come from the back part of the premises, and having heard of so many burglaries lately they naturally thought someone was trying to enter their house. They at once arose and went to a back room and, looking out saw the midnight marauder making his retreat, evidently thinking he had been found out. As far as Miss Davidson could tell, the man wore light grey clothes, and was making his entrance to the house by means of a ladder put up to the back bedroom window. He had taken the ladder from the shed and when making his escape left it leaning up against the house.

The police were at once informed of the affair and Constables Adams and Meharry were soon on the scene, but meanwhile the slick gent had fled to parts unknown, and very little clue was left for the officers to work on.

Former Peterborough Pastor Passes Away in Port Hope

Rev. J. E. Trotter, a Well Known Baptist Clergyman, Joins the Silent Majority—Was Highly Respected and Widely Esteemed—Had Filled Many Important Positions.

Word was received in Peterborough last evening of the death of Rev John E. Trotter, pastor of Port Hope Baptist church, and former pastor of Murray street Baptist church of this city.

Mr. Trotter had been ill only ten days with typhoid fever and passed away early yesterday morning at his home in the lakeside town. He was in charge of Murray street Baptist church here from 1891 to 1896, and was greatly beloved for his sincerity, zeal and exemplary Christian character. He left here to become pastor at St. Catharines, and, after some years faithful service there, he was called to the church in Port Hope, where he had been stationed many years previously. He was a past president of the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec, and was a brother of Rev. Thomas Trotter, of Toledo, who until last year was president of Acadia University, Wolfville, N.S., resigning

The deceased was also pastor at one time of Beverly street Baptist church, Toronto. He was never a rugged man, but he labored earnestly and enthusiastically for the cause of the Master. He leaves a wife and family of five daughters, the eldest of whom is a nurse in the hospital at St. Catharines.

Mr. Trotter was one of the most widely known of Canadian Baptist clergymen, and the news of his death will be learned with greatest regret.

The funeral will take place in Port Hope on Monday afternoon at two o'clock and a number from the city will likely attend the last sad rites.

A BIG ORDER

Mr John Mervin has secured orders for enough meat to ensure that B. Battery does not live on thin air. Sergt. Bray gave Mr. Mervin a big order for the Battery, who will be encamped there at the exhibition grounds on Monday night in their march to the camp at Petawawa.

'Frisco Dairyman Takes the Stand in Haywood Case.

Kept Shop Frequented by Orchard—Opposite Bradley's Home — Describes Result of Bomb—Front of House Was Blown Out — Witness Saw Poisoned Milk—Defence Will Take Four Weeks.

Boise, Idaho, June 15.—The trial of Wm. D. Haywood for the murder of former Governor Steunenberg was résumed at 9.30 a. m. yesterday, with L. B. Guibbini, dairyman, of San Francisco, on the stand.

Guibbini introduced Harry Orchard, known as "Barry," to the servants in the Bradley household. He said that Orchard came to his store and hung around and spent considerable money. Orchard asked questions about the Bradley household, asked to be introduced to the servants, and asked Guibbini to get him a room in the neighborhood.

Saw Poisoned Milk.

Guibbini saw Orchard moving his luggage the night before the Bradley house was dynamited. He also saw the poisoned milk. Guibbini described the result of the bomb Orchard placed at the front door leading to the Bradley apartments in Washington.

The whole front of the house was blown out.

Guibbini said he saw Orchard at his store the day the explosion occurred.

The defence moved to strike out the testimony of the witness, as not connecting Haywood with the offence charged, but was overruled.

Attorney Darrow, on cross-examination, devoted himself to learning the conditions under which the witness was brought to Boise to testify.

Guibbini said the detectives told him he had to come to Boise, and there was no use "trying to dodge it."

To Kidnap Witness.

"So they were going to kidnap you?" commented Darrow.

"No, sir," said the witness. "They just told me I had to come."

Guibbini got $200 for expenses.

Guibbini said Orchard told him he lived by gambling at night. He slept during the daytime.

The prosecution then called Hull McClaughry, assistant postmaster at San Francisco, who was interrogated as to a registered letter Orchard said he received from Pettibone while in San Francisco. Orchard said he was going by the name of "John Dempsey" at the time, and Pettibone used the name of "J. Wolff" in transmitting the letter, which contained $100.

What Detective Says.

Capt. James McPartland, the famous detective, who has figured so largely in the testimony, and who has been attacked by the counsel for the defence, prefers not to be interviewed at length on the subject of the Orchard confession.

"It would be superfluous for me to reiterate," he said Thursday. "Orchard has told the literal truth about the confession and the way it was given to me. I made him no promises; I never made a promise to a criminal in my life. Orchard first confessed to me, but said he was not quite ready to give it to me finally.

"I promised to hold it for some time, and I did so. He told me that when he was ready to tell the whole story he would let me know, and some time later he again told me the incidents of his life, leaving out nothing. Every word that he has said on the stand as to the confession is the truth, and there is nothing to add."

No Verdict Till August.

The state expects to close its case in ten days or two weeks. Clarence Darrow, for the defence, says their case will take about four weeks, though it is possible that it may be concluded in less. It is generally conceded, however, that the verdict will not be reached before August 1.

POSTOFFICE ROBBED.

Burglars Dynamited the Safe But Only Got $25.

Brantford, Ont., June 15.—The postoffice at Burford village, in Brant County, was entered by burglars early yesterday morning. They effected entrance by a skeleton key, dynamited the safe, and stole money, stamps and private papers. The money loss was small, probably $25.

The perpetrators got away, locking the doors behind them.

Kaiser Degrades Cousin.

London, June 15. The Paris correspondent of The Express says:

"I am informed by a personage closely connected with the German court that the Kaiser has personally degraded his cousin, Prince Frederick Henry of Prussia, boxed his ears, expelled him from the court army, and banished him from Germany. The Kaiser dictated this severe punishment on receiving substantial information that the prince was addicted to riotous living.

He Gets Four Years.

London, June 15.—Thomas Harlston of Lucan charged with the attempted stabbing of William Thompson, a neighbor, on Christmas last, was found guilty and sentenced to four years in the Central Prison.

Barton township compelled Hamilton to build the mountain dam at a cost of $50,000 ,and the township has now assessed the city $10,000.

WAR WITH SALVADOR.

Practical Declaration In Nicaraguan President's Statement.

Washington, June 15.—What amounts to an actual declaration of war between Nicaragua and Salvador was contained in the reply of President Zelaya to an enquiry from Washington as to his connection with the recent attack and capture of Acajutla. The answer came to the State Department yesterday in the shape of the following cablegram from American Consul-General Olivares at Managua, the Nicaraguan capital:

"I am officially informed that in accordance with the Central American Union plan, President Zelaya has despatched munitions of war and troops in aid of General Alfara, who is the popular Unionist candidate for the Presidency of Salvador. (President) Figuerea opposes the union idea."

BAD CROOKS IN COBALT.

One Man Gets a Year for Passing Forged Cheques.

Cobalt, Ont., June 15.—Robert Laporte, dissipated prospector, was sentenced yesterday by Magistrate Brown to one year in Central Prison for passing worthless cheques and forgery. He scattered cheques Thursday among Frenchmen in the north end of the town. When arrested he had several Imperial Bank cheques, with forged signatures to them, some payable to himself and others to fictitious personages, whose names he endorsed on the backs.

To-day Lotty Cameron, a notorious man crook, will be tried before Stipendiary Magistrate Hartman for passing worthless cheques.

Eleven Victims Found.

Washington, June 15.—Official advices reached here last night from Hampton Roads, announcing the recovery of the bodies of the eleven victims of the accident to the United States battleship Minnesota's steam launch.

The battleship Minnesota's lost launch was found in eight fathoms of water off the Ripraps, near Fort Monroe.

Two Killed by Train.

Albany, June 15.—The bodies of two well-dressed young men, supposed to be Edward A. Tighe of 108 Johnson street, Newark, N. J., and James Murtaugh of 170 Temple street, Boston, were found yesterday laying in a ditch alongside the New York Central tracks, just west of here. It is believed that both were struck by a passing train.

Two Cobalt Men Drowned.

Haileybury, June 15.—A double drowning is the most recent fatality of the mining camps of the north.

A. Meikman, a young man who came from New York city, and a Cobalt man, whose name is not known, were drown through the upsetting of their canoe on the Montreal River, and their bodies have not been recovered.

BECKONS THE WHOLE WORLD.

Representatives of Every Nation Gather At The Hague Conference.

The Hague, June 15.—This city suddenly blossomed out with flags yesterday morning, representatives of every civilized country on the globe hoisting its standard over the globe and legations clustered about the two principal squares, while the hotels facing the sea at Scheveningen, with their multi-colored banners snapping in a stiff breeze, formed a stirring picture.

A Camp of Nations.

It was like a vast camp of the nations of the world. The weather could not have been finer, cool with bright sunshine.

Practically all the missing delegations arrived during the day for the conference, which begins to-day. The English, twenty-five strong, headed by Sir Edward Frye, judge of the Chancery division of the British High Court of Justice, and member of the permanent court of arbitration at The Hague, reached here early by way of Hook of Holland.

Several Grave Questions.

There are grave questions to be settled at the forthcoming conference. Both Japan and Russia were guilty of laying mines in neutral waters during their war. This must be dealt with. So must Russia's proclamation making coal, provisions and railroad material contraband of war if bound for a Chinese or Japanese port, even if not destined for the Japanese army or navy.

Then there is the issue as to the right of a belligerent fleet to coal and effect repairs in neutral ports, claimed by Russia for her ill-fated Baltic Armada on its way out from Kronstadt to annihilation in the China seas; the right of a belligerent to convert at sea a merchant vessel into a man of war, and to commission her as such, demanded by Russia for her converted cruisers, the St. Petersburg, etc., and the pretensions put forward by the Japanese of right to attack a belligerent vessel in the port of a neutral power too weak to enforce the laws of neutrality. Japan, it may be remembered, sank the Russian cruiser Varig in the Corean port of Chemulpe, and seized the disarmed Russian destroyer Rhyeshitelni, in the Chinese port of Chee-Foo.

Controversy Over Morocco.

There are matters dealing with the care of prisoners of war, the right of Turkey to close the Dardanelles to the warships of Russia, the desire of Emperor William to submit his controversy with France on the subject of Morocco to the tribunal and the need of action to bring order out of the chaotic conditions now existing in Crete.

TRAGEDY AT ST. MAURE.

Peter Fontaine Shot Dead By Constable—Arrested Wrong Man.

Dalhousie, N.B., June 15.—A shooting affray took place on Thursday in St. Maure, when Peter Fontaine was shot dead by Policeman Sealy, from the town of Dalhousie. Sealy and Constable Gallop left Dalhousie early in the morning with warrants for the arrest of Andrew Fontaine and Peter Fontaine, charged with assault. On arriving at the house of Andrew Fontaine they placed him under arrest, and George Sealy left alone to go to the next house, where Peter Fontaine made his home. On Sealy's arrival there he met George Jalbert, with whom Peter Fontaine lived. He arrested Jalbert, by mistake for Peter Fontaine. Jalbert, not having committed any offence, was surprised to find himself in the hands of the law, and, not knowing who Sealy was, and seeing he had a revolver in his hand, he says he mistook him for a burglar, and made a fight, as he was very much afraid. Meanwhile he called on his wife and Peter Fontaine for help. Fontaine came downstairs undressed, and, seeing a stranger with a revolver, a general row occurred. The policeman, noticing his mistake, let Jalbert go and made an attempt to arrest Fontaine. Jalbert, having received a severe blow, made for the woods. Meantime Gallop came on the scene and took part in the scuffle, which resulted in Fontaine receiving several shots, one ball lodging in his liver and another just above the heart, death ensuing in a few minutes. Sealy surrendered himself to the County Sheriff.

Prominent Man Murdered.

Houston, Texas, June 15.—Col. H. S. Wreford, a prominent business man, was shot and killed yesterday at Brownsville as the result of a circular he issued Thursday, in which he bitterly denounced Capt. William Kelly, because of Kelly's testimony before the Senate committee which is investigating the Brownsville affair in Washington. Jesse Thorham, the stepson of Capt. Kelly, is charged with the shooting.

C. N. R. Gets Permit.

Winnipeg, June 15.—A permit was issued yesterday to the Canadian Northern Railway for the erection of its new shops in Fort Rouge. The permit provides for three buildings—blacksmith shop, 100 by 144 feet; planing mill, 100 by 144 feet, and a car repair shop, 100 by 192 feet.

The total cost of the buildings will be $7,000 and the architect is Samuel Brown.

Secretary Taft Ill.

St. Paul, June 15.—Secretary of War Taft became suddenly ill at Fort Snelling yesterday noon, while witnessing the review of troops and fell over. Medical aid was at once summoned and the Secretary was immediately brought to this city to the home of J. S. Hill, on Virginia avenue. Ptomaine poisoning is suspected, as he was very sick at his stomach.

Nearly Asphyxiated.

Guelph, June 15.—A man whose name is given as A. W. McLeod, from Texas, staying at the Royal Hotel since last Saturday, narrowly escaped being asphyxiated by gas Thursday night.

It seems there are two jets on the same pipe, and on turning off the one the other was partially turned on.

The carpenters at work on the Terminal station at Hamilton, quit work because non-union men were employed.

LONGSHOREMEN LOST

Strike For Increase of Pay Is Declared Off.

Men Go Back to Work at Old Wages of Thirty Cents an Hour—Leader Broke Down and Wept Bitterly—Cheered by His Followers—Loss In Wages Has Been About a Million Dollars.

New York, June 15.—There was a pathetic scene at the meeting of the longshoremen, whose strike for increased pay was declared off. Patrick Connors, leader of the strikers, broke down and wept when compelled to make the acknowledgment that the men were beaten.

There was a moment's silence, and then the hall rang with cheers for the leader, while many of the men who had faced privation in the effort to win their demands hurried to the platform, shook Connors by the hand, and assured him that he had made a good fight. More than 12,000 of the original 20,000 strikers who remained firm will return to work today.

The strike has lasted nearly six weeks, and was a great financial loss to the steamship companies and to the workers. The loss in wages to the longshoremen has been close to a million dollars.

RACE FOR KAISER'S CUP.

Winning Automobile Ran 312 Miles In 5 1-2 Hours.

Hamburg, Germany, June 15.—The automobile race for Emperor William's cup, began a few minutes after 6 o'clock yesterday morning under favorable auspices. The rains of Thursday had ceased, and the roads had partly dried off during the night, while the sky showed signs of clearing up.

The circuit selected for the race covered a distance of 125 kilometres, which had to be traversed four times in order to complete the total distance, 500 kilometres, or about 312 miles.

The prizes, consisting of one huge cup, a vase and table centrepiece from the Royal porcelain manufactory at Charlottenberg, were placed in an elevated position on the balustrade of the court tribune, in full view of the contestants.

The winner of the race was Nazzaro, in 5 hours, 34 minutes, 26 seconds.

Hautvast was second, in 5 hours, 39 minutes, 10 seconds. Michel, a German, was third, time, 5 hours, 39 minutes, 49 seconds.

SYNOD WAS WARY.

Refusal to Deal With Corruption Causes Excitement.

Ottawa, June 15.—There is more than a trifle of excitement amongst the clergy over the refusal of that body to pass a resolution condemning corruption and immorality among our public men.

It seems that the resolution, which was tabled by C. S. Smith of Cornwall and Dr. A. A. Weagant of Ottawa, was conveniently classed under such business as could only be discussed if the synod was unanimous that it be brought forward. It only required one dissentient voice therefore to defeat the bringing forward of the resolution. Justice Burbidge was the dissentient.

In view of the action taken by the Toronto synod upon the same matter, many of the local Anglican clergy express themselves as disconcerted and chagrined.

TO PROSECUTE RAILWAYS.

Will Be Charged With Criminal Negligence At Crossings.

Toronto, June 15.—Premier Whitney yesterday instructed Crown Attorney Drayton to proceed under the criminal code against the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific Railways on the charge of criminal negligence for not properly protecting the Bay street crossing, and also for maintaining a nuisance at the crossing.

The Premier ordered that the indictments should be preferred before the next grand jury, which will meet on Sept. 10 next.

It has not yet been decided by the crown authorities whether the city was partly to blame for the accident. It is just possible that the municipality may be made a party to the suit.

BELCOURT TO RESIGN.

Likely to Be Hot Contest For Liberal Nomination.

Ottawa, June 15.—There is going to be a hot contest for the Liberal nomination in Ottawa for the Dominion House. It is understood that the French sitting member, the Hon. N. A. Belcourt, whose health is far from satisfactory, will seek refuge in the Senate, and the struggle for the nomination will lie between August Lemieux, a brother of the Postmaster-General, and Emmanuel Tasse.

The former is a young man of undoubted ability, while the latter has not always been a straight Liberal. His chief claim to notice is his connection with the Capital Lacrosse Club. He is very popular.

Out on Suspended Sentence.

Belleville, June 15.—Tracy Belch of this city, who a week ago was found guilty of receiving goods stolen by his brothers from a G. T. R. freight car, was brought up for sentence, and Judge Deroche let him go on suspended sentence.

Free of Bubonic.

Port of Spain, Trinidad, B. W. I., June 15.—The Government has notified the foreign consuls that no fresh cases of bubonic plague have been recorded in Trinidad and the island is free of the plague.

The increasing difficulty of obtaining clergy was emphasized by the Bishop of Ottawa in addressing his Synod.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

YIELDING TO NECESSITY.

We're going to stay at home this year
And lead the simple life right here;
We're going to quit this pleasure race
And get acquainted with the place—
Cut out the mountains and the shore.
Pa can't get passes any more.

We used to pine the winter through
And meanwhile plan what we would do.
If pa could work the X. Y. Z.,
We'd start the year in Tennessee.
If that was stingy, then at least
We knew he'd send us off down east.

Some years he'd have to do his best
Before he fixed us for the west.
And other times they came so slow
We couldn't choose where we would go.
However, we did not repine;
We knew he'd win on some old line.

It seems too good to have been so
That we could just climb on and go,
With not a single penny due,
But just pa's pull to see us through.
Still we have no regrets to air;
We worked it hard while it was there.

It's tough to give them up; still we Saw everything there was to see.
We took in all the sights from Maine
To Frisco, so we can't complain;
Besides, it does no good to roar.
Pa can't get passes any more.

Stolypin Takes Bold Step; Russian Premier is Firm

Demands Exclusion of Fifty-Five Social Democrat Leaders.

Urges Immediate Arrest of Sixteen Leaders of Faction—Charges Them With Conspiracy to Overthrow the Government and Establish Republic—Threatens Dissolution if House Refuses Demand.

St. Petersburg, June 15.—Premier Stolypin yesterday demanded that the lower House of Parliament exclude from the House all the members of the Social Democratic faction, numbering fifty-five, and sanction the arrest of sixteen of their leaders, including M. Alexinsky, Tzereteli, Dzhaparidze and Ozel, on the charge of entering into a conspiracy to overthrow the Government and establish a democratic republic. Continuing, the Premier announced that unless the House immediately yielded Parliament would be dissolved.

The press and public galleries were cleared, the police and troops took possession of the entrances to the Parliament building and the House went into secret session, and debated the question raised by the Premier. It is considered almost certain that his demands will be rejected.

With only 130 opposing votes, the Lower House later rejected Premier Stolypin's ultimatum for the immediate suspension of 55 deputies for membership in the Social Democratic party, and referred the subject to a committee. Although the committee has been instructed to report to-day, it is known in advance that the decision on the main question will be adverse, and that the Douma will accept the recommendation.

In order to keep strictly within the legal limits, the committee may recommend the suspension of sixteen leaders on condition that the Government disclose the evidence against them, but there is not the slightest expectation on either side that this will save the situation.

COL. KOTLAROFF MURDERED.

Sentenced to Death By Terrorists—Assassin Was Captured.

St. Petersburg, June 15.—Col. Kotlaroff, deputy commandant of the Port of St. Petersburg, was murdered yesterday morning by a workman in the Admiralty section of the city. The assassin was captured, but he is believed to have had accomplices, who escaped.

Swindler Took Woman Into Woods and Tried to Drown Her.

San Antonio, Tex., May 15.—Charged with assaulting and robbing Mrs. Sallie Gibbons of Columbia, S. C., of $61,000, Rufus Williams Thursday night confessed the crime in the county jail.

Mrs. Gibbons and Williams arrived in the city Thursday from the east. She had on her person fifty $1,000 bills and the remainder in gold coin. Williams obtained a vehicle from a local livery and suggested a drive into the woods. Mrs. Gibbons was struck on the head and an attempt was made to drown her.

Williams said he took her money and fled back here.

Toronto, June 15.—A meeting of the board of governors of the University of Toronto was held yesterday afternoon to induct Dr. Falconer, the new president, into his office.

He formally accepted the position, and afterwards the whole party were entertained to luncheon by Dr. Hoskin at his home in Rosedale. Among the guests were Premier Whitney and Col. Matheson, Provincial Treasurer.

SAYS WIFE PROPOSED.

Married His Nurse and Is Now Sued For Alimony.

New York, June 15.—Supreme Court Justice Truax awarded $100 a month alimony and $150 counsel fees Thursday to Mrs. Ella Morton, pending the trial of her suit for a separation from David W. Morton.

Mrs. Morton was a typewriter in Honolulu when she made the acquaintance of Morton, whom she nursed through a severe illness. She complains that since their marriage six years ago he has treated her cruelly, and has deserted her for another woman. She says Morton makes $8,000 a year.

Morton says that she proposed to him, and that when he refused her she taxed him with ingratitude and threatened to commit suicide if he would not marry her. He finally consented, he says, and has been sorry ever since, as she turned out to have an ungovernable temper, which, he says, has been the cause of all their troubles.

HALFBREED A HERO.

Jumps From Bridge and Rescues Boy From Drowning.

Ottawa, June 15.—William Swanson, a halfbreed, made a heroic rescue Thursday evening. An eight-year-old boy named Oscar Lasage was playing on the logs when he slipped, falling into about twelve feet of water. The logs closed in and the little fellow was unable to get his head above the water. Some women on the river bank saw the lad fall into the water and began screaming.

From a bridge near the river Swanson jumped into the river, a distance of thirty feet from the level of the bridge, swam to the logs, separated them and pull the boy out.

The little fellow was nearly suffocated, but ready hands soon revived him. The prompt and brave action of Swanson alone saved the boy's life.

PERMANENT SECRETARIATE.

Recommendation of Recent Conference to Be Carried Out.

It is to be presided over by one of the higher officials of Lord Elgin's department, and it will be his duty to receive, through agents-general, all questions which it is intended to bring forward on behalf of self-governing colonies at succeeding conferences, and these will be carefully tabulated in Downing street.

INDICATIONS OF SOLAR STORMS

Rev. Dr. Marsh Made Interesting Discovery on the Sun's Limb.

Rev. Dr. Marsh of Springville, the well-known astronomer, has made an interesting discovery on the sun, which threatens severe electrical storms upon the earth. In speaking to the Review this morning the reverend doctor said,—"On the sun's limb, I noticed the day before yesterday indications of a severe solar storm and there were eruptions and solar prominences with bright faculae visible. I was away from home until this morning and was naturally very anxious to see the sun. I now find tremendous sun spots, which cover an area 96,000,000 miles. From east to west and nearly parallel with the solar equator 160,000 miles and from north to south, 50,000. It is very difficult to measure from east to west exactly as the rays are foreshortened.

"If this disturbance remains on the sun until say, Tuesday, or until it reaches the solar meridian, it will undoubtedly cause magnetic storms on the earth and no doubt affect the telegraphic and telephonic communication in southern latitudes. Magnetic storms do not mean electric storms, but the affect the mariners compass besides the telephone and telegraph."

Rev. Dr. Marsh photographed the sun to-day and will do so every day as long as the disturbance lasts. He says that if one uses a dark glass or a mild field glass these eruptions can be seen.

While Skating on the Sidewalk

New York, June 15.—Acting on a number of complaints that have been made, the police of the West 100th Street Station descended last night on a crowd of boys and girls who have used West End avenue as a roller skating rink and made one arrest. The prisoner is Charles Cronand, 21 years old, of No. 705 Caldwell avenue, The Bronx. The charge against him is violating section 11 of the Park Ordinances, which is law in West End avenue.

This avenue, between 86th and 100th streets, has for a long time been used by the young people each night, and Captain Donald Grant after a conference with President Herrmann of the Park Commission decided to station patrolmen there to keep the skaters away.

The street was cleared, and Cornand, who was almost violating the speed ordinance, was arrested by Detective McNally after a chase. The residents of the street are divided as to the question of allowing skating. The Rev. Dr. George P. Eckman, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Church, West End avenue and 86th Street, told Captain Grant last night, that he thought the matter should be put to a vote of the residents.

Says Medicines Will Disappear

London, June 15. — Sir Frederick Treves, the King's favorite physician frequently startles the public by his frank utterances of bright paradoxes It was he who called a crowd of nurses who flocked to South Africa out of love of sensation and advertisement "The plague of women." Speaking on Friday at the opening of an Isolation Hospital he observed that the time was not far distant when the bottles on doctor's shelves would be reduced to a very small number. Resort would be had to simple living, simple diet, and plenty of sun and fresh air. He looked forward to the time, when people would leave off the extraordinary habit of taking medicine when they were sick.

Referring to the discoveries in bacteriological science and the great results achieved in the reduction of the mortality from infectious diseases, Sir Frederick said that he looked forward to the time when it would be as anomalous for persons to die of scarlet fever, typhoid, cholera and diphtheria, as it would be for a man to die of a wolf's bite in England.

The Twins.

The Harmon twins looked so much alike as babies that their parents could scarcely tell them apart. As they grew older it became evident that to Grandmother Harmon at least the twins were a unit.

"You were asking me how much the twins weigh," said Grandmother Harmon to a neighbor. "When I went out that afternoon I put one of them on the scales at the grocery and found they weigh just twenty-six pounds."

"Do they always weigh exactly the same?" inquired the neighbor, and Grandmother Harmon looked quite impatient.

"The twins?" she said. "Of course; why not?"

The neighbor had no reason to give, but she rebelled a few days later when in answer to her inquiry Grandmother Harmon said:

"'Where are the twins?' Oh, they got a cinder in one of their eyes, and their mother has taken them down to the oculist's to have it removed, they were fussing so over it."

Where Diners Had to Be on Time.

Closely parallel to the fag end of the Euston road and visible from it at various turnings is a street which belongs to few men's London. It is a dingy, granite paved, populous street of no attraction. Yet this street has known better times and eager guests. In the house he knew as 43, now obliterated by a big new warehouse, Dr. William Kitchener entertained his fellow wits and gourmets. He had ample means to ride his three hobbies, optics, cookery and music. His dinners were often elaborate experiments in cookery, and the guests had to recognize this fact. Five minutes past 5 was the minute, and if a guest came late the janitor had irrevocable orders not to admit him, for it was held by the mythical "committee of taste," of whom Kitchener was "secretary," that the perfection of some of the dishes was often so evanescent that "the delay of one minute after their arrival at the meridian of concoction will render them no longer worthy of men of taste."—T. P.'s London Weekly.

THE LUCKY BOYS

Gold Mines, Limited,

LARDER LAKE

THOMAS McCAMUS, President.
Vice President of The Temiskaming and Hudson Bay Mining Company and President of The Temiskaming Telephone Co.

FRANK WESLEY HAYNES Vice-President.
Director of the New Liskeard and Ontario Mining Company.

The highest recommendation for the shares of the Lucky Boys Gold Mines, Ltd., is the fact that large blocks of them are being rapidly subscribed for at Cobalt, Haileybury, New Liskeard and Larder Lake. These people, being on the ground, are in a position to see the Lucky Boys properties for themselves; they know the wonderful values that have been disclosed. Mine owners and miners from the surrounding mines are all pinning their faith on the Lucky Boys, they are buying all the shares they can, they realize what a splendid investment they are getting in buying Lucky Boys at 6 cents per share. Are you going to join them in making a fortune? The Lucky Boys properties consist of 20 claims of 40 acres each, making a total acreage of 800 acres. Some of the claims adjoin the famous Reddick claims, others adjoin the Proprietary Gold Fields, and others adjoin the wonderful Blue Bell properties.

The properties of the Lucky Boys were staked in the fall of 1906 and were the third property staked in the Larder Lake camp. Considerable work has been done on them. They were staked and discovered by James Thompson, D. Cameron, A. Campbell and others—all Klondike and British Columbia miners. Messrs. Thompson, Cameron and Campbell were also the discoverers of the celebrated Silver Queen mine at Cobalt. Most of the work done has been but surface work, but sufficient to prove the great value of the properties. The formation are dykes of schists and porphyry of great widths, running across the properties, from which free gold is obtainable in large quantities.

We have sent our own mining engineers to examine and report on the properties, we have looked exhaustively into the merits of Lucky Boys before offering the shares to our clients. We question if an opportunity like this will ever present itself to you again. We advise our clients to buy Lucky Boys now at

6 CENTS PER SHARE

(Par Value, $1.00, Fully Paid and Non-assessable)

We advise you to buy all you can, you are bound to greatly profit thereby.

The stock of the Lucky Boys is actually worth a great deal more money than the price we are offering it at. Our engineers figure there is in sight on the properties of this Company gold equal to many times the par value of the total capitalization of the Company. All it requires for investors to make money is to have faith and confidence in the Lucky Boys proposition, and we strongly advise investors to put every dollar that they can in these shares at the present price.

Could you visit the Larder Lake district and examine the properties, as we have done, you would not hesitate a single moment in placing every dollar at your command in the shares of Lucky Boys.

While the rich are enabled to take their private car and personally inspect and invest their money in mining properties, it is necessary for the man or woman who has only a few hundred or a few thousand dollars to invest to depend upon some one in whom they have the utmost confidence, and unless the small investors have a friend or friends in the field they are at a loss as to how to invest their capital.

They must naturally then turn to some legitimate house that deals in investment securities, whose sole aim and idea in carrying on their business is to interest and have their customers invest their surplus funds in properties that, while they may not be fully developed, yet have the indications and proof of being absolutely safe and big dividend payers, with the co-operation of the general public.

We know that our whole future depends upon the success of our customers and our profitable operations for them. If you find you must sell your Lucky Boys that you buy for any reason whatever, send them to us and we will sell them for you, simply charging our regular one per cent. commission, and we will guarantee to get you a better price for your holdings than any other firm of brokers can obtain for you, but our advice to you is that if you do not see your way clear to hold Lucky Boys until the property can be developed and put on a dividend-paying basis, which should come about within six months, we advise you not to buy it.

There is nothing so important to the success of a company as the management, for a company might own the best property in the country and with poor and extravagant management would be a failure. The Directors are all well-known business and mining men who have invested their own money in the enterprise. They believe the properties under their care will eventually become one of the great dividend payers of the country.

It should be noted that all of the Directors of the Company are well-known and successful business men—not men that are simply interested in a mine—but men that are miners in every sense of the word, and who know how to operate, maintain and conduct a mine in a business-like manner and who have been connected with the strongest and most successful mines in the Cobalt camp. These gentlemen are just the kind of mining men that investors should be glad to become identified with.

The fact that some of these gentlemen, who are Directors of the Company and originally owned a part interest in some of the Lucky Boys claims, are buying the shares at 6 cents each with the cash that they receive for their interest in the properties should be sufficient to satisfy the most sceptical. These men know what a splendid investment they are getting in buying the shares at 6 cents each.

As we have heretofore stated in our circular letters and advertisements, we are willing to stake our standing and reputation on the present conditions and the future outcome of the Larder Lake district and as to its possibilities.

We say to our clients follow our advice in the purchase of shares of the Lucky Boys, rely upon our reputation and standing as being reliable and trustworthy. Follow our advice and you will make profits that will astonish you.

Coming to the most vital point of all, when you interest yourself in Lucky Boys you are becoming a partner of people who are either practical mining men, and have made fortunes out of mining, or of mining men who are willing to wait the development of this property to make their fortunes.

Permanent Wharf at Juniper Island

Stoney Lake People Thinks They are Entitled to One as Much as Idyl Wyld

Notice has been made in the press of a new wharf being built at Idyl Wyld, which was secured by Mr. J. R. McColl, M.P. One of the residents at Stoney Lake, who has a cottage and spends his summers there every year, asked the Review how it was that Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., could not get a wharf built at Juniper island. At present there is only a floating wharf which was built by the residents, and which has to be taken out every fall and put back in the spring at great inconvenience and considerable expense. It was also argued that there are more people use the Juniper Island wharf, in a week, than there are at Idyl Wyld all season. Stoney Lake as a summer resort cannot be beaten, even by Muskoka. There are thousands of people go up there every summer and there are thousands more who would go if they knew about it, and its the conveniences were as good as they might be.

Lighting Peterboro' Streets From Incandescents on Every Verandah

New System Will be Considered by the Fire, Water and Light Committee—Will Save the City Over $4000 per Year—Will Give a Much More Satisfactory Service—Add to Appearance of the Streets—Scheme Has Many Warm Advocates Now.

Lighting the city streets is a proposition which has for years been of great interest to Peterborough and to every village, town and city in Canada. As far as this city is concerned there are very few places which are better lighted, but the tax payers have to pay for it. The city is growing rapidly too, and every year applications are received for more arc lamps, which means an increase in the taxes and an increase in the uncontrollable expenditure.

There are at the present time one hundred and fifty-four arc lamps and twenty-nine incandescent lamps on the city's streets, for which the people pay about $8,000 per year. Many of these lights are so situated that they do not give as much service as they might, and in some places the shade trees are so heavy that the light cannot show through to the walks. In such cases the incandescent light is much more satisfactory, and the fire, water and light committee will put in several more.

Neither of these systems, however—arc or incandescent,— seem to meet with general approval. The suggestion was made during the drive that all street lights be done away with. Cut out practically every arc lamp and every incandescent lamp, and then introduce a system of street lighting from the verandahs of the private houses. The arc lamps would have to stay in the business section, but wherever there are houses they can be done away with.

Street lighting from the verandahs may seem rather out of reason but when one looks more carefully into it, it is not only practicable, but is decidedly advantageous from a financial and a light standpoint. There are in the city, probably 3,000 to 3,500 houses, and these are all reasonably close together. An incandescent lamp costs $1.50 a year flat rate, and even though the city paid the full price and all of it, for 3,500 houses, it would only cost $5,250 which is a saving of $2,743.80 per year.

It is, however, proposed to charge a portion of the cost of these lights to the individual householder. The city, say, pays a dollar, and the householder fifty cents per year. That would mean that the city would pay only $3,500 or a saving of $496.80 more than half of the present cost. Besides the light on streets would be a great deal better, more evenly distributed, and it would be on the sidewalks, and not up among the trees, where it is no good, except to light the birds to their perches. The streets would certainly present a beautiful and attractive appearance, and it would not matter how heavy the trees were or how closely they were together.

A number of citizens who were spoken to in regard to the matter said they would only be too glad to get an electric light at their front door for the price mentioned. It has several advantages which a few were mentioned, such as; they could easily find the key-hole when going home late; they would not be so liable to pass the house and try to get into a neighbor's front door; they would not likely fall up the steps or step off the sidewalk into a flower bed. A number of other good features were also mentioned.

It might be stated that on Brock street a large number of people have lights in front of their houses now and the street is exceptionally well lighted. The members of the fire, water and light committee noticed on their drive a large number of houses thus served, and they could not help but remark upon the decided improvement it made in the appearance of both the house and the street.

Just now the Peterborough Light & Power Co., are particularly desirous to secure permission from the council to change the system of street lighting from the open arc to the enclosed arc. To do so means considerable expense and the aldermen are divided in their opinions as to the improvement of the enclosed arc over the open arc. In face of this fact no doubt the company might consent to give the city a cheaper rate for the incandescent lights for the houses. On the other hand if the city goes on with the negotiations to purchase, the plant, the matter will be easily settled.

So favorable did the suggestion appear to the committee that it will be seriously considered. It is also worthy of every citizen's consideration.

City May Buy Power at Locks

$25,000 is Asked for the Property—Excellent Opportunity Presented

It is understood that an effort is being made to get the city to buy the water power at the locks just below Little Lake.

It is learned that the price asked is $25,000.

The present head is not high, being about 1,500 horse power, but from a reliable source it is stated that this can be developed to 2,400 horse power. This power is part of the J. M. Irwin property and the facilities afforded for a site and power for manufacturers would not very easily be surpassed. If it is the policy of the city to acquire water power, in the opinion of many citizens, here is a fair chance to begin and an opportunity rarely afforded.

Mrs. J. B. Brewer of Woodstock, N.B., is believed to have committed suicide by drowning.

Steamer Otonabee is All Ready For Initial Trip Down the River

Government Inspector Pronounces it the Best Boat of its Kind—Strong Enough for an Ocean Liner—First Trip on Tuesday—Lighted by Electricity—Cost $15,000.

The Otonabee Navigation Co's new twin screw steamer Otonabee, is now completed and Thursday next will carry their first excursion down the beautiful winding river after which it is named, when the Young Men's Guild of St. Paul's church will enjoy their annual outing. The Otonabee is practically a new boat, although it was originally intended to rebuild the City of Peterborough. When the men got to work however, it was found that there was so little material in the old boat that it was hardly worth while trying to repair it. A new hull was built and was yesterday inspected by the veteran Government steamboat surveyor who went over the boat thoroughly. He afterwards said to the president of the Otonabee Navigation company, "You have one of the best hulls I ever measured. It is equal to any of the big boats on the great lakes and it is strong enough for an ocean liner. It is one of the best hulls of its kind on any water and is a credit to the builder, the owners and to the city of Peterborough.

Such a statement from the Government surveyor is very gratifying to the company, and should have the effect of establishing confidence in the people. The object of the company was to make the Otonabee the largest, the fastest, the strongest, the most modern and the best equipped boat upon the waters of the Trent Valley and also to make it so much superior to others that it would retain its supremacy for several years. The new boat was built to be the first passenger boat on the river and it is expected that the number of excursions down stream to Rice Lake points will be largely increased this year. Already the company has booked a great many excursions and every day or two enquiries are received for dates.

W. H. ROBERTSON
President Otonabee Navigation Co.

The Otonabee is 117 1-2 feet long and 24 feet beam with a draft of five feet of water. Its speed is from 15 to 17 miles an hour and it will carry several hundred passengers, besides a cargo of freight. There are two decks which are furnished with very comfortable chairs and benches. The 600 life preservers, chairs, beds and other equipment are being installed today and the boat now is ready to start on her first trip.

One great feature of the boat is that a large dynamo has been installed by Messrs. Jones-Moore & Co. of Toronto, and it will furnish power for 75 or 100 incandescent lamps and for the 4000 candle power searchlight which will illuminate the shores of the river at night. The electric wiring was done by Mr Johnston Greer, of the city and he made a very satisfactory job of it.

CAPT. WM. H. WHITE
General Manager Otonabee Navigation Co.

The machinery in the new boat is worthy of mention. The engines have a capacity of 250 h.p., while the boilers are of a 300 h.p. capacity. They were installed and in running order several days ago and have been inspected and pronounced very satisfactory.

Provision has also been made for serving meals on board and there is accommodation sufficient to carry provisions for several days. A very nice little dining room and kitchen have been fitted up on the main deck at the stern and this should prove a money maker as many excursionists prefer not to be bothered with lunch baskets. The boat is also provided with lavatories and all modern conveniences.

The total cost of the Otonabee is $15,000 and this should prove to be an excellent investment. After the passenger season has closed the boat will do a freight business until navigation closes. For this purpose the company has purchased a large new scow, for carrying wood, lumber, etc. from Stony Lake down.

JAS. E. HENDERSON
Traffic Manager, Otonabee Navigation Co.

Some Random Observations By a Local Cemetery Official

Everything earthly changes with the passing of time, even the fashions in a graveyard. One would think this would be the last place that fashion would hold sway, but facts prove this to be contrary to the rule. The silent resting places of the dead are influenced by the changes of time, and Peterborough's cemeteries are no exception to the rule.

A Review representative happened to visit Little Lake cemetery one afternoon not long ago, and in strolling around along the beautiful grass-bordered walks, met one of the officials, who is prominently connected with this extensive necropolis, and in the course of a short conversation some rather interesting information about some fashions in graveyards was brought out. It may be of interest to Review readers.

Glancing at a burying plot at the present time, one can hardly discern where each grave is, as the earth is no longer heaped over the last resting spot like once was the case. The grave is now levelled down to be equal with surrounding earth, and the plots are now almost as level as a city lawn. Persons who have recently came here from the Old Country usually ask that a grave should be heaped and made to resemble the "little mound of earth" which one frequently reads about. Level graves, however, are becoming the fashion in Canada, especially in the large cemeteries, where so much attention is paid towards the artistic side. The cemetery official stated that the practice of having heaped graves was largely the result of laziness or indifference at some time. or other, the fashion had been set and was still adhered to by many. In the old days no provision was made for carrying away the surplus earth when a grave was dug. It was heaped on top afterwards, and the "mounded" grave resulted.

In monuments fashion is not working many changes. The stones being erected show great variety, some putting up elaborate ones, while others preferred simple stones with just the mere name and date of birth and death of the one whose body rests underneath. As a rule, however, the tendency is towards low, solid tombstones, ones that will remain firm and unchanged as time rolls on.

POTTERS' FIELD.

Of late years there have been few burials in the "potters' field" at Little Lake cemetery. Yes, Little Lake cemetery has a potters' field, and a rather interesting spot it is, too. There, beneath the unbroken green sward lie the remains of the homeless, the friendless, the unclaimed who have passed away as the years have gone by, and history has been made in Peterborough. No monuments mark their last resting place, they "went down to the vile dust from whence they sprung, unwept, unhonored and unsung." Who many of them were, no one knows; no one cares.

The reason why the potters' field is so little used, at present is that nearly everyone belongs to some fraternal society or other, and when death occurs they take charge of the body and see that it is given proper burial. In this way alone they are doing good work, work that very few ever hear about.

A STRANGE FEATURE.

A strange phase of the way of mankind is brought strikingly home very frequently to those employed at the cemetery. "When you see a person giving full vent to their feelings when some relative is being buried," said the cemetery official, "you can very often come to the conclusion that their grief is not so deep or poignant as that of the man or woman who remains calm and who clench their teeth to prevent an outburst of grief when the clods are being thrown in to close forever from mortal view the form of some one held dear. Time and again I have noticed that those who appear to be the most stricken with grief seldom visit the cemetery after their loved one is buried, to place a flower upon the grave or show in some simple manner that the dead is not forgotten. A few weeks ago I saw a woman appear to go frantic as her child was laid in the grave, yet she hasn't been here since. Another woman seemed calm and unshaken by poignant grief at the last bitter hour, yet she visits the cemetery almost daily to place some flowers upon the little grave where her baby is resting. It's strange, but its true. There are few exceptions to this rule."

Inspection at Riverside Park

Prizes Awarded to Collegiate Cadet Corps—An Interesting Event

A fitting culmination to the careful training the Collegiate cadets have received during the past few months was the inspection which took place yesterday afternoon at the Riverside Park. A spirit of friendly rivalry has existed between the different sections and companies of the cadet corps, probably due to the generous donation of four prizes o money by Mr. T. F. Matthews, Capt. Eastwood and Lieuts. Higgins and Best. The inspection yesterday was to decide the winners of these, and the inspecting officers had an exceedingly difficult task to pick the best ones. They were Lieut.-Col. Miller and Majors Clegg and Stevenson. The cadets were inspected in section, half company, company and battalion drill, and their showing was certainly excellent. They deserve great credit for the manner in which they went through the different orders.

Major Fred. Brown is commanding officer of the cadet battalion, which is composed of three companies. Every boy in the Collegiate is a cadet and takes great interest in the work. Capt. Ed. Wood is in charge of No. 1 Company and Capts. H Conroy and H Blackwell are in charge of Nos. 2 and 3 companies respectively. The boys have been drilling faithfully and are a credit to the careful training of Lieut. Hodgson. The little boys, who had almost to trot to keep up with the big fellows, did remarkably well.

The inspection was witnessed by several military men who spoke in the highest terms of the showing of the cadets.

After Major Brown had put the cadets through battalion drill they were drawn up in front of the grand stand, and Col. Miller addressed them. In his opening remarks he congratulated the boys on their splendid work and said that they certainly would do credit to many of the volunteer regiments in the country. "You are the men who will be the future soldiers of your country and who will fill the places of those who are now in the ranks," said the colonel. "You are also helping yourselves physically. In the many tedious hours spent in study there must also be a time for exercise, and your teacher has taken the trouble to train you along military lines as well as in your other studies." Further Col. Miller remarked that he hoped the time was not far distant when the Government would see fit to uniform the different cadet corps in the Dominion, and then the cadets would be seen at church parades and march-outs with the regiment.

After some deliberation over the different merits of the companies, Major Stevenson announced the decision of the inspecting officers. He stated that it had been an exceedingly difficult matter to pick the best. He would like to have prizes for all, but he hoped those who did not receive prizes would not think that they had not made a creditable showing.

A prize of $5 for company drill, donated by Mr. T. F. Matthews, was won by No. 3 Company, Captain Blackwell in charge.

A prize of $5 for half company drill was donated by Capt. Eastwood and won by right half company of No 2, S. Anderson, being in charge.

Two prizes were given for the best sections. The first one, $3, donated by Lieut. Best was won by Section No 1 of No. 1 Company, the section commander being M. O'Brien. The second prize of two dollars, donated by Lieut. Higgins was won by No 4 section also of No. 1 company. The section commander, was Hugh McGuire.

Ernest F Jarvis has been appointed to the newly created position of secretary of the Militia Department.

The closing medley of popular songs was repeated last night by special request, and was loudly applauded.

The programme rendered was as follows,—

The Brinton Carpet Works at Kidderminster Are Modern

Were Among the First to Adopt Power Machinery and to Put in All New Ideas—Established in 1821 by Henry Brinton.

An old employee of the Brinton Carpet Works at Kidderminster, supplies us with some interesting information respecting that famous establishment.

The spinning and carpet manufactory, associated with the name of Brinton, has been for nearly a century more or less a family enterprise in the real sense of the word. John Brinton's grandfather was a carpet manufacturer of repute, and in 1819 a small factory was started by John Brinton's father in conjunction shortly afterwards with a spinning mill at High Pool, near Kidderminster, where the necessary yarn was supplied for the carpets. In 1821 Henry Brinton established a factory on the very site occupied by the present palatial works, and the expansion of his business was rapid and uninterrupted for seven years, when the historic strike unexpectedly disturbed the placidity of the flourishing little town. Conditions in Kidderminster were so good at that time that the weavers there enjoyed privileges and rates of remuneration which were not conceded in any other carpet manufacturing centre in the country. John Brinton's father was one of the first to suffer in the general excitement which prevailed. His house was stormed and the occupants ran considerable risk of personal injury.

Sixty-five years ago, Henry Brinton brought into his business his two sons, Henry and John, and the name of the firm was altered to Henry Brinton and Sons. When ten years previously John Brinton had joined the firm there were thirty-six hand looms at work, and the spinning mill was equal to about eight packs per week. A hand loom for the manufacture of tapestries, was added to the business, but this method of manufacture was quickly revolutionized by the introduction of the Crossley Tapestry Power Loom and the old order of things was quickly changed, as John Brinton quickly decided to lay down the new plant. Then came the disturbing element which soon caused a complete revolution in the Brussels trade, which in Kidderminster had already assumed important dimensions. When the Bigelow Steam Power Brussels Loom came into the market the death blow to the supremacy long maintained by the hand weaver was struck. Brintons were the first firm in Kidderminster to adopt this labor saving machinery.

In 1881 the firm was converted into a limited liability company, and again ten years later was reconstructed and enlarged under its present name. The patenting of a loom for making Axminster carpets by the Jacquard process, and further improvements in this, have brought it to a high pitch of perfection, and the department has steadily expanded with the result that a woolen spinning plant was not long ago laid down. There are now spinning frames capable of producing 150 packs or 36,000 lbs. per week, and some 200 hundred looms of different kinds which have a production of about 830,000 yards per annum.—Canadian Fabrics.

The Great Car Shortage Has Cost the West Many Thousands

Coleman, Alta., June 15.—Startling evidence as to the effect of the car shortage upon the earning capacity of the miners for one year was given to the coal commission recently by H. N. Galer, vice-president of the International Coal and Coke Co. The miners were idle 55 3-4 days last year owing to the shortage of cars and that meant a loss of $250 to each miner employed, or a total loss to the 400 men employed at the time of $100,000. The company was hit equally hard as it had a market for every bit of coal it produced and the shortage cut off a portion of the revenue.

The shortage was not confined to the winter months, but was distributed throughout the year. In September 1906, the mine lost 10 3-4 days through lack of cars, and in December, a hard winter month, only 5 1-2 days. During this year 10 3-4 days have been lost for the same reason.

Mr Galer made another striking statement, and that was to the effect that had the men worked every day the mine was working they could have earned as high as $1,250 last year on the average. Some men who had worked steadily had made as high as $1,530. In the year 249 days had been worked, the average for a contract miner being $4.85 a day. The highest average was $7.07. The men work eight hours bank to bank and Superintendent Fraser says the difficulty is not so much with the diggers failing to produce enough coal in that time, but with the transportation men not being able to clean the coal out of the chutes in that time. Sometimes the diggers leave work on account of the chutes being filled.

CAN STORE WITHOUT LOSS

Mr Galer declared that the steam coal could be stored without any loss. He suggested that the railroads should store this coal at central points, so that when the demand for domestic coal was heavy they could devote their cars and time to hauling it. Mr. Galer considered the British Columbia compensation act unjust and unfair to the operators, as it practically meant if a man was killed through his own negligence, the operator had to pay damages.

Supt. Fraser thought mining was not any more dangerous than other occupations of working men and in his experience he had found the majority of accidents were due to the carelessness of the men concerned. He objected to a compensation act, but both he and Mr. Galer favored the Nova Scotia relief fund plan. Seven fatalities occurred at the mines in the last three years, but only one took place at the working place. The company always bore the funeral expenses of the persons killed at the mine. On one of the seams in the mine the men were working 9,000 feet from the entry, and in another 6,000 feet. An hour was lost in getting in and out of the mine.

POOR MEN CARRY PAPERS

Mr. Galer and Mr. Fraser favored the screened coal system, as more lump coal is bought and less slack. Mr. Fraser had no use for the proposed examination of miners. Usually the men who carried certificates were the poorest specimens of miners. He followed the principle of not putting any men in the mine unless they had experience. They tested new men at timbering and other such work. He said a twice-a-month pay would mean a lay off time of as many days as it was notorious that after a pay day very few would turn up at work. Most of them went off on a spree. An extra pay day a month would necessitate doubling the office staff.

PARADE DELIGHTS CITIES

Forepaugh and Sells Bros. Spring a New Sensation in Streets.

Much enthusiasm has been aroused by Adam Forepaugh and Sells Bros.' street parade in cities where this circus has appeared this season. It is a new idea in street spectacles, and aside from its novelty and its great length, the magnificence of its equipment and dress is dazzling.

The Adam Forepaugh and Sells Bros.' shows will exhibit in Peterborough, on Tuesday, June 25, bringing an absolutely new and original circus. This novelty and originality first present themselves in every detail of the free street parade. A company of English huntsmen with packs of baying hounds and buglers Derby day scenes, tally-ho parties, travellers of the Pickwickian days, journeying overland by stage; caravans crossing the Saharan sands to Mecca and followed by brigands of the desert; Australian bushwhackers and boomerang throwers, warriors, and tribesmen of savage lands, and military corps representing the soldiery of the world—these are a few of the strange peoples to be seen.

An excellent zoological display is also included in the street parade, many of the dens and cages being thrown open. The children's section is devoted to the representation of "The Fairies' Paradise"—a chain of golden floats drawn by Lilliputian ponies and grouped with the characters from Alice in Wonderland, the Pied-Piper of Hamlin and his troupe of enchanted children; Undine and her deep-sea court and the sun-god in his car of fire. Siren-voiced pipes, military bands, chimes and barbarian orchestras give variety to the music.

Never before has any circus displayed such novelty, splendor and variety. As is the case of the parade all the many departments that go to make up the organization have been given the mark of newness. The opening spectacle, "Fighting the Flames," is an entertainment, complete in itself. It justly has been described by the press as distinctly a new form of entertainment, having all the splendor and appeal of a spectacle, together with the intense theatric action and heart interest of the best of dramas and with a powerful climax.

Two performances will be given in Peterborough, the parade at 10 in the forenoon, followed by exhibitions under the biggest expanse of canvas ever spread, at 2 in the afternoon and 8 in the evening.

Ketchecum Club Goes Afishing

Fourth Annual Outing Promises to be the Best of All

The fishing season for bass and 'lunge opens tomorrow, and there will be hundreds of hooks and lines cast into the waters during the next few days, comprising the Kawartha Lakes and the Trent Valley Canal. Tonight a party of old-time fishermen will leave for Lakefield and then take the steamer to Stoney Lake and put up at La Bellechasse, the summer home of Mr. H. LeBrun. It will be one of the jolliest parties of sports that ever pulled out of Peterborough and as they are all old friends who have been over the lakes for many years together, they should get lots of fish.

The party will consist of Messrs. H. LeBrun, G. W. Hatton, Harry Winch, Alex. Elliott, E. A. Peck, Robt. Kingan, V. Eastwood, J. J. Lundy, T. F. Matthews, E. G. Patterson, Walter S. Davidson, D. Hughes-Charles, Harry Denne and J. Levinson of Montreal. It will be the fourth annual outing of the Ketchecum Fishing Club They will be away for a week and will fish all the way from Stoney Lake to Lovesick Lake, and if they do not get a fine mess of bass, it will not be their fault.

Today the members of the party were busy getting ready for the big event. There was grub to buy, baskets to pack, old clothes to get out and pack, fishing tackle to get ready, worms, frogs and flies to catch, and a hundred and one things necessary for such an outing. Some of the old sports purchased an entirely new outfit of hooks, baits, lines, fish knives, fish bags, etc. They are going up, well armed and prepared for all emergencies. The canoes and skiffs are there now, so that when the steamer arrives at La Bellechasse, there will be nothing to do but to get ready for the first fish Monday morning.

The Natural Cure For Rheumatism

"Fruit-a-tives" remove from the blood the poison which causes Rheumatism.

Rheumatism means poisoned blood. The kidneys, bowels and skin should rid the system of waste matter. If either of these vital organs become weakened or diseased, the body cannot throw off this waste fast enough.

One of these body poisons is UREA, which is eliminated both by the kidneys and skin. If the skin action is poor—if the kidneys are inflammed—urea stays in the system—is changed into uric acid—carried by the blood to the nerves and joints—and causes Rheumatism.

"Fruit-a-tives" cure Rheumatism because they eliminate urea, by increasing the action of bowels, kidneys and skin.

"Fruit-a-tives" will cure almost any case of Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuralgia.

This is the only possible way in which Rheumatism can be cured to stay cured. And "Fruit-a-tives" is the only remedy in the world that completely eradicates the disease from the system.

"Fruit-a-tives" are fruit juices in which the natural medicinal action of fruit is many time increased by the process of combining them.

Then tonics and antiseptics are added and the whole made into tablets. 50c. a box—6 for $2.50. At all dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa. 111

WEDDING BELLS

SANDERSON—CLIFF

Cooksville, June 12. — "Stafford House," the residence of Mrs. Geo. J. Cliff, was the scene of a very pretty wedding, when her only daughter, Caroline, was united in marriage to Mr. Leonard D. Sanderson, of Toronto. The ceremony was performed in the drawing room by the Rev. H. V. Thompson, rector of St. John's church, Dixie, under a huge bell of white lilacs. The bridal party entered the room to the strain of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin's, which was played softly throughout the ceremony by Miss Bertha Wilcox. The bride, who wore a dainty gown of white organdie and Valenciennes lace, a bridal veil with wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies-of-the-valley, was given away by her brother, Mr. George Cliff. Miss Helen Cliff, the bride's little niece, was also prettily gowned in white organdie, with point d'esprit and lace trimmings, and attended as bridesmaid, while Master Norman Cliff supported the bridegroom. Immediately after the ceremony, "The Voice that Breath'd O'er Eden," was sung by Miss Helen Cliff, and then, while Mendelssohn's Wedding March rang through the room, the happy couple received the congratulations of their friends. After the reception the guests, who numbered about fifty, adjourned to the dining room, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served. The presents, which were numerous and costly, testified to the esteem in which the young couple are held by their many friends. The bridegroom's present to the bride was a handsome gold bracelet; to the bridesmaid a signet ring, and to the groomsman, a pair of gold cuff links. At 10.30 Mr and Mrs. Sanderson left amid a shower of rice and confetti, for the Kawartha Lakes, where they will spend a couple of weeks. On their return they will reside at 237 Grace street, Toronto.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country, than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years, was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and the mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

WEATHER PROPHETS

Unusual weather, such as prevailed this spring, gives the weather prophets a special opportunity to hold forth. This applies both to those of a local and wider reputation. In the present instance it has resurrected one who had been almost forgotten, Prof. E. Stone Wiggins, who some years ago, frequently sent out prognostications of the weather. He now comes out of his shell to tell us that the cause of the cold weather which we have experienced these last two months is that the earth is accompanied by two moons, instead of one, as the astronomers, have heretofore, stated. To be sure, being weather wise or otherwise, the second moon is not a new one to him, for he states that he discovered it in 1882. "It is now," he said recently, "at that point of its orbit nearest the earth and is producing all the aforementioned phenomena in the earth's atmosphere," phenomena which he had cited in the former part of his statement.

Hicks has been heralding dire things which are to occur in June worked out on his theory of conjunction of planets and their relative position towards the sun and earth, while somebody else has foretold that weather such as there was in May will continue throughout June. A professor in Wisconsin wrote the Globe two or three weeks ago that the weather moved in cycles of thirty-six years and that as in 1871 there were destructive frosts in this month the same conditions might be expected in the present year. On inquiry at the meteorological office in Toronto, the director Mr Stuparte found from the record that there was nothing unusual about the weather of the spring of the former year. In regard to the cycle theory he said there was a suspicion that such a law did not suspicion that such a law did prevail, but it had not been proven. Vennor, who used to publish a weather almanac some years ago, based his predictions on the theory that there was a law of compensation, if there was an extreme at one time there would be a corresponding extreme at another; that is to say, if it is hotter than usual in one instance, it will be correspondingly cold in another, and vice versa. As the average temperature for a few years does not differ materially from that of another period of the same length, there seems to be something in his theory, but the difficulty, if the law is true, seems to be to work it out to mathematical correctness. Like other stars in the galaxy of weather prognosticators he shone for a time, and then set. The conclusion to which one is forced is that the long distance prediction of weather is as yet a science, if science it be, in a nebulous condition. Those who ought to know best, the observers of the different meteorological stations, Canada included, tell us that it is impossible to forecast for more than a few days, and the fact that even in a twenty-four hour prediction occasional mistakes occur, tends to confirm their opinion.

EDUCATION ACT

The following extract from amended Education Act will be of interest to many:—

The general grant for the rural Public schools will be on the basis of the salaries paid to the teachers, the value of the equipment, the character of the accommodation, the grade of the teacher's professional certificates and the amount of the assessments.

The average section assessment of the township will be the last equalized assessment.

Under the new scheme the total yearly apportionment to each school shall be the sum of the grants to which it is entitled under the following regulations:—

(1) Only half of each grant shall be paid where the school is open less than the full year, but at least one term.

(2) Only half of the grant on the assistant teacher's salary shall be paid when he teaches less than the full year, but at least one term.

The fixed grant is where the average section assessment of the township, as defined above, is less than $30,000 each school shall receive a fixed grant of $30.

Grants on salaries. Each school shall receive 40 per cent. of the excess amount of the salaries up to a maximum of a $600 salary, in the case of each teacher in the computation being as follows:—At $150 for a principal teacher and $100 for each assistant teacher, where the average section assessment as defined above, of the township where the school is situated, is less than $30,000.

Grants on qualification of the teachers. An additional grant of $20 shall be apportioned in each case where the teacher holds a professional second class or first class certificate, the competency of each such teacher being attested by the county or Provincial Inspector of the school in which said teacher is teaching when the grant is applied for. The grant shall be one-half the amount if the teacher teaches at least one term but less than a year.

These three grants are payable on or before the first day of August, and all information required by the Department must be given by the Inspector not later than June 23rd.

PEN POINTS

The first real summer scene was enacted in Victoria Park last evening when the band played and the crowd was in hot weather attire. True it was not the first band concert of the season, but on other evenings the weather has been cool.

The appearance of many city streets has been greatly improved by the numerous permanent crossings which have been recently put down. Peterborough is marching along to a higher and better order of things every day.

A street delivery of mail matter has been inaugurated in Toronto Junction a municipality much smaller than Peterborough. When is such a service to be started here? Any one who visits the post office on any evening between the hours of six and seven o'clock and shortly before eight o'clock, will, after witnessing the crush around the wicket come to the conclusion that it is a shame some persons have to stand in line and wait for many minutes in order to get their mail. If there is a city in Canada, which badly needs relief from congested and limited postal facilities, it is Peterborough. The appropriation for a street delivery in cities of over 12,000 population where the annual revenue is $20,000 or over was made some months ago, and yet nothing has been done so far as this city is concerned, although its inhabitants number more than 15,000 and the annual revenue exceeds $30,000.

Trenton Will Vote on Smelter By-law

Smelter Plant for High Grade Ores May be Established

For the last few years our citizens have been urging our council to "get a move on" and have the good town of Trenton hustle like the surrounding places of Peterborough and Belleville, says the Trenton Courier. To be in the swim and not go to dry rot our Board of Trade and Council have started to advertise the advantages of this place to the monied men of the U.S. and Canada and already some correspondence has been started that will lead to good results for us all as ratepayers.

One item of importance though small in itself, is the starting of the ore smelter in the premises formerly known as the brewery. This is the first thing asking aid from Trenton, in the last few years and it is now up to us all as ratepayers of this place to prove whether we really are ready to back up our Board of Trade and Council by getting out and working for this by-law on June 28.

Mr. Schlund agrees to start a smelting plant for high grade ores here at once and place in plant and building and railway an expenditure of $20,000. On this property he will give the town a lien to secure the bonus of $1,000 as a guarantee that he will run a plant for at least ten years and employ on an average at least ten men.

The Public Kiss is Very Vulgar

New York, June 15. — Patrolman Stapleton of the 12st Precinct is ambitious. He is also young. When he saw Jas. F. Higgins kissing a girl at 27th street and 2nd avenue, he felt pained. But not so the girl. But Stapleton locked up Higgins for disorderly conduct.

Magistrate Whitman, the crusader, was presiding over the Yorkville Court, when Stapleton arraigned his prisoner, if it were true that he "had —er—osculated."

"You bet I did your Honor I did kiss a girl," said Higgins, smiling reminiscently. "But I know her; she's a friend of mine—she's my best friend and I don't see any harm in kissing her if I feel like it."

"I'm going to let you go this time," said the magistrate, "but in future don't kiss in the street. It smacks of vulgarity."

Delegates Home From St. Thomas

Had an Excellent Time and the Convention Was Most Successful

The delegates to the annual convention, Canadian Order of Foresters the Canadian Order of Foresters, just closed at St. Thomas, got home last night and are well pleased with their trip and with the convention. Among others were Messrs Brandon and Hillier, of Lakefield; Choate, of Warsaw; John Kindred, of Zion; Albert Carpenter and D. Menzie, of Court Peterborough; David Kernaghan, of Court Langton; Robt. Mulligan, of Court Litlejohn.

The boys have nothing but words of praise to say of the entertainment provided by the local courts of St. Thomas. All the spare time they had was happily and profitably filled in. There were addresses of welcome from all the municipal bodies, including the City Council, the Board of Works, the Board of Trade, the Board of Education and the sister fraternal societies.

A trip to Port Stanley, a beautiful summer resort on Lake Erie, was one of the features of the convention. The Foresters marched in a body, 350 strong, to the depot, headed by the 32nd regiment band, and took a special train on the London and Port Stanley Railway to the lake shore, where a jolly afternoon was spent. On their return home in the evening an amateur minstrel show was given in honor of the visiting delegates, and on both occasions the Foresters owned everything in sight.

The convention was considered by everyone to be the best that has yet been held. A great deal of important business was put through and everything passed off with a snap rarely seen at such a gathering.

The next high court meeting will be held at Niagara Falls. Scores of cities and towns made a bid for the convention but Sault Ste. Marie and Niagara Falls were the favorite places, and the Falls only won after a hard contest.

Have Confidence in Their Pastor

Picton Methodists Desire to Retain Rev. J. J. Rae

Mrs Kilgour, widow of the late Rev Joseph Kilgour, of Peterborough, returning from the Bay of Quinte branch meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society at Picton made brief calls on friends in Port Hope, says the Guide. She says the feeling in Picton runs very strongly in favor of the Rev. J. J. Rae. The Church Board met, passed a resolution of confidence, and made the resolution public. The Methodists there declare that they must have Mr. Rae as their pastor to finish his term. Offers of additional contributions have been made by members of the congregation, and even those of other denominations, wish for the return of Mr. Rae to Picton.

WEDDING BELLS

McNAB—PATTERSON

Norwood, June 15.—A very pretty house wedding was solemnized on Wednesday evening last at 6.30 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Patterson, when their daughter, Miss Myrtle E., was united in marriage to Mr. James Austin McNab, of Sault St. Marie. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Adams. Leaning on the arm of her father the bride entered the drawing room to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Miss Eva Patterson, cousin of the bride.

The bride's gown was of white silk, trimmed with valenciennes lace and insertion, with veil arranged over a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Margaret Calder, attired in white surah, with valenciennes and insertion, and carrying pink roses. The maid of honor, little Miss Doris Patterson, sister of the bride, was in a dress of white muslin. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. William McNab of St. Catharines. The house was decorated with evergreens and apple blossoms.

The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl crescent brooch, to the bridesmaid a pearl stick-pin, and to the maid of honor a gold necklace and locket.

Mr. and Mrs. McNab left on the midnight train for Montreal, where they will spend their honeymoon, the bride travelling in a greay cloth suit with hat to match. They will reside at Sault Ste. Marie.

Electric Light Must be Cheap

When it Bunrs in Victoria Park All Day Long

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir.—Electric light must be very cheap in this city when it is allowed to burn all night and all day in Victoria Park. I see that the lamps there are never extinguished but blaze all the time. Who pays for renewing these lamps when they are burned out? It looks like carelessness on the part of some one to have the lights run in this fashion. Surely it is the duty of some person to turn them out.

Yours, etc.,

NEARLY $5,000 HAS BEEN RAISED

For the New Park Street Baptist Church—Work to Go on at Once

The building committee of the Park street Baptist church met last night.

The pledging committee reported that $4,360 had been subscribed, and the members of the committee were given two weeks more to complete their work.

A discussion arose last night as to the style of architecture, and it was decided to adhere to the original style as outlined.

It was also agreed to have J. F. Brown, of Toronto, the architect, prepare the detailed specifications at once and contracts will be called forthwith.

It was also decided to build from the ground to the commencement of the brick work, with Longford stone, rock-faced.

The new church will cost $15,000, be of red brick, and will seat about 500 persons.

CLOSES TO-NIGHT

The roller skating rink will close for the season this evening, and remain closed until Labor Day.

COMPANY WILL NOT BUILD RURAL LINES

Tell People Say They Will Not Do so in Future.

A Whitby despatch says;

A meeting of the farmers interested in the erection of a telephone line west from the town-line was held in the Grange Hall last evening. Messrs. Willis and Hill represented the Bell Company and Messrs Fuller and Hoover, of Green River were there in the interests of the Independent Telephone Company. Mayor Jackson of Whitby, Editor Smith of the Sun and F. M. Chapman of the World were present and took part in the discussion.

The Bell Company claimed that they had ceased building rural lines. They were willing to connect the Independent companies with their systems for $5 a year for exchange expenses.

Alfred Hoover, for the Independent people, said that it was against the policy of the Independent companies to take this connection, and claimed that the long-distance connection of the Bell was scarcely a factor in the case.

The town-line farmers will likely build their own lines and make a connection temporarily with the Bell Company at Whitby. There is a meeting in the Audley school-house next Monday night.

Battery Off for Petewawa To-day

Activity held sway at the East City Drill Hall today, the 24th Field Battery, making preparations to entrain for Petewawa. Everything was carried out in a most orderly manner, men and horses being on hand in good time. The battery is going into camp full strength, 5 officers, 99 men and 54 horses. They entrained at the C.P.R. station and made a fine showing as they marched to the depot.

They will remain at Petewawa two weeks, and no doubt will give a good account of themselves.

PASTOR WELCOMED BACK TO PICTON

Rev. J. J. Rae Received Cordial Reception From His People.

Picton, June 14.—Rev. J. J. Rae, pastor of the First Methodist Church, and last year's president of the Bay of Quinte Conference and about whom occurred an unfortunate incident at this week's conference at Bowmanville, returned to town this afternoon and got a particularly cordial welcome. The principal members of his congregation, together with ministers of the town churches met him at the station and expressed sympathy with Mr. Rae in his trouble. The congregation met the Trustee Board last evening and expression was fully emphasized of the unbounded faith and love they held for Rev. Mr. Rae.

A committee has been appointed to induce Mr. Rae to complete his pastorate among the Picton congregation, by whom he is dearly loved.

Night Watchman Broke Into Office

On Friday morning Charles Holnbeck, former nightwatchman at the mill, appeared before P. M. Holland on a charge of breaking into the office at the Woollen Mill, on June 2nd, and the case was remanded until Monday, owing to Mr. Keith, Holnbeck's lawyer being unable to attend. The evidence showed that Holnbeck had not punched the nightwatchman's clock in the regular way for two hours that night, and in an endeavor to hide his neglect, broke into the office and punched the time card with a pin, but in his zeal punched from the wrong side as the card afterwards showed. Holnbeck, in trying to throw the blame for breaking into the mill, came down town and got Chief Ruse out of bed, claiming two men broke into the office, and that one of them hit him with a stone while being pursued. On examining the time sheet, Chief Ruse noticed the different punches and concluded that Holnbeck was his own burglar. The windows had been opened with a screw driver, the marks of which fitted a screw driver from the machine shop, which he had used in breaking into the office. As the evidence pointed conclusively to Holnbeck's guilt, he was let go on suspended sentence. — Cobourg Sentinel-Star.

INSURANCE COMMISSION METHODS BEFORE THE TELEPHONE COMMISSION

MR. SHEPLEY: Your Honors, I propose that the procedure adopted in the Life Insurance Enquiry be followed in the Telephone Enquiry. I propose that the investigation be left entirely in my hands; that only the subjects I select be enquired into; and that only such questions as I approve be permitted. I also suggest that the legal representatives of the Bell Telephone Company be not allowed to examine any witness. Furthermore, when the enquiry is ended, I expect Your Honors to permit me to assist in drafting your report.

JUDGE KILLAM: What! Take the enquiry out of our hands! Allow no cross-examination! Assist in drawing up our report! This is not a Royal Commission on Life Insurance, Mr. Shepley! I have not yet forgotten British justice and fair play!

The above scene suggests a pun which has been causing a laugh in insurance circles, and which we beg pardon for repeating: "What would happen if Mr. Shepley were to attempt to dominate the Telephone Commission as he dominated the Insurance Commission? Why the judge would "Killam."—[Office and Field.]

Pastor of St. Andrew's is Home After Month's Absence

Which He Spent in Western Ontario in Interest of Queen's University Endowment Fund—Was Most Cordially Received by the people—Deep Interest in Church's University.

Rev. J. G. Potter, pastor of St. Andrew's church, returned home on the C.P.R. local last night after an absence of four weeks, during which he attended the synod, early in May and has been spending the remaining time in the interests of Queen's College Endowment.

Although the undertaking was novel, and implied incessant visitation of hours in village, town and country, the change of work made Mr. Potter none the worse for the outing over the hills of Grey County.

The district assigned was in Owen Sound Presbytery, and embraced the congregations of Chatsworth, Desboro, Keady, Kilsythe, North Derby, Dornoch, Rocky Saugeen, Markdale and Wiarton. These were so grouped as to give Mr. Potter an opportunity of presenting on Sunday, the plan of the general assembly in seeking to retain the connection with Queen's University, and the effort to raise the endowment of $500,000. This section of the province, so far removed from Kingston, presented unfavorable soil to plant the seeds of Queen's with any hope of harvest, but though a lack of knowledge regarding Queen's College on the part of the people was everywhere noticeable.

Mr. Potter reports that the congregations everywhere gave him a right royal reception and though in many localities he could not expect much financial return, throughout his entire visitation to the people in their homes during the week, he received kindness and cordiality on every hand—indeed, he has no recollection of one who was displeased, as being approached concerning the matter. As a campaigner Mr. Potter has collected a few more excuses than the Bible records, and in his next visit will be prepared to meet such.

The visitation will be very largely educative, as the people acknowledged everywhere that they would take a deeper interest in the church's university at Kingston in future. Notwithstanding the fact that he church debt in two congregations—poor farms in one, and financial depression in the town, of another—the people responded liberally, the sum of $1,500.00 having been subscribed.

Mr. Potter returns to complete the canvas for a week in July and expects an additional $200, already partly promised.

The Pastor of St. Andrew's states that his trip was made all the more enjoyable and satisfactory, because of the cheerful acquiescence of his Session and Board of Managers in his mission, together with the fact that from week to week, he received the St. Andrew's manse bulletin, announcing the excellent services of visiting ministers, occupying his pulpit, the loyalty of the congregation, the interesting work of the choir, and the devotion of the workers in Sunday school, Young People's and Prayer Meeting.

Anglicans Want Society To Aid Former Convicts

To Follow Them After They Leave the Prison, Find Them New Homes and Give Them Work and Comradeship—Mr. R. J. Devey of Peterborough Addresses Gathering.

anglicans want

Toronto, June 14.—The work of aiding men who are discharged from prison was discussed today by the Anglican Synod.

The report of a committee suggested that some agency, acting over the whole province be secured to aid those leaving the prisons, as there are many objections to their going back to their own homes, where their records are known.

NO FOLLOW-UP SYSTEM.

Rev. R. Seaborne, jail chaplain, said, "There is one great trouble I find in my work. Men leave my hands and I have no one to whom I can commend them.—no one of our own denomination, I mean. The Salvation Army is constantly making converts, because they take up the work, where I lay it down. And right here, I would state as my opinion that the Salvation Army is rapidly resolving itself into a church denomination, and we are feeding them by our neglect of this work. We are only touching the fringe of it. I can only bid these men goodbye, and hand them over to other denominations, where our people should be them to the front."q

HAS HELPED 30 MEN.

"I have met thirty of these men lately," said R. J. Devey of Peterborough, "and gone with them to restaurants and lunch counters. In all my visits I have not seen a single member of my own Church at the Union Station. I can produce over 500 names of men who passed through Peterborough, and of these only one spent a night in jail."

Rev. W. H. Vance, objected strongly to this charge, "If the gentleman who has just spoken thinks there is no one of our Church around the station, he is mistaken. (Hear, hear). We have held services in the immigration rooms, there being over 400 present. We have had as many as fifteen men working around that neighborhood. Men pass at the rate of 1,000 a day through the Union Station, which makes it impossible to deal with them personally. As many as 4,500 have passed through the station between Friday and Monday."

ON THE LORD'S DAY.

Rev. Dr. Shearer, agent of the Lord's Day Alliance, gave an address on the new Act, in the course of which he said, "Nearly 150,000 Canadian workmen would have restored to them the day of rest, of which they had been robbed

"There are 150,000 poor fellows who are working on our railways seven days a week. (Shame!) One man had not had one day in fifteen years as a holiday. (Slavery!) Then we are charged with being too radical," he remarked.

Mr. Blake made a few remarks on the Rational Sunday League. "I say that when these persons want this freedom, I ask, Have we any right to enslave our fellowmen as our servants on the Lord's day? (Cries of No! No!) To open our museums run our cars? What right have we to do this? (Applause.) Let us determine that we are never going to enslave our fellowmen in order to turn the Lord's Day into an irrational Sabbath." (Prolonged Applause)

FREE VIEW OF BARS.

Among the clauses in the report of the Temperance Reform Committee was one reading that "the committee ventures to hope that the Dominion Government will so amend the License Act as to compel every bar to have its windows uncurtained. But nothing was said about abolition of the bar. In reading this report the chairman remarked, "There was a time when I thought it unwise to advocate the abolition of the bar, because I thought it would lead the young men to drink at home, but I am convinced that this is the only course open to us."

Mr. Blake, "Then why don't you put that in your report?"

"This is only a report. Mr. Blake or anyone may propose any addition he likes"

Mr. Blake, "Would you add, then, 'Until the bars are abolished?' They will then see we are working up to something."

This was added by unanimous vote. Committee appointed.

KICKING ABOUT NEW CROSSINGS

Residents Think Crossing Over McDonnel Street at Water Should Have Been Laid in Two Parts

Complaints have been made about the city's men laying a concrete crossing over the full width of the street at once. The particular crossing referred to is at the east side of Water street, across McDonnel street. It is claimed that if only half of crossing had been laid at a time, then two or three days delay, and then the other half laid with two or three more days' delay while the cement dried, the people would not be put to nearly so much inconvenience. Enquiry at the engineering department brought forth the statement that this crossing with several others under similar circumstances were built the full width of the street, because the street is very narrow. To do half at a time would take too long and cost too much money.

RANGE LIGHTS BEING PLACED

Along the Line of Scugog River —Dredging to be Done

The government staff have been busy the last few days in placing range lights on the river between town and Sturgeon Lake. Six have already been placed, and four more are being built, which, when placed, will enable those using the river to find their way on the darkest night. Mr. R J. McLaughlin, who had the matter in hand for some time, expects to be able to convince the government as to the necessity of having some of the sharp points cut off in the river and some buoys placed in Drummond's Bay to designate the channel, which is so difficult to locate Mr. McClellan, Superintendent of the Trent Canal, was in town last week going over the ground, and it is probable that these improvements will be made at the earliest opportunity, and in time to be of use for this season's navigation.—Lindsay Post.

More Details of the Sad Affair Near Garden Hill

Alfred Coates of This City, a Brother-in-law of John Gilmour, Tells About the Tragic Incident That Has Been the Talk of Hope Township—On Brother Worried Over Other's Actions.

Further details regarding the somewhat tragic affair at Garden Hill, in Hope township, as a result of which John Gilmour went insane, as the result of what was apparently attempted suicide on the part of his brother, Wellington, were secured by the Review today from Mr Alfred Coates, who resides at 13 Bolivar street, and is employed at the harness factory of B. F. Ackerman, Son & Company. Mr. Coates is a brother-in-law of John Gilmour, the latter being married to Mr Coates' sister. Since the trouble occurred at Garden Hill, Mr. Coates has been there several times, and being a relative of the parties concerned in the affair, is well informed regarding the circumstances.

THE STORY

The details of the tragic affair appeared in yesterday's Review and in brief were that John Gilmour, a farmer about forty years of age, residing about a mile and a quarter north of the village of Garden Hill, had gone insane, and had been taken to Rockwood Asylum at Kingston His insanity resulted from worrying over the actions of his brother, Wellington, who apparently tried to commit suicide, while to all appearances, suffering from mental aberration.

The two brothers are both married and well-to-do and reside on adjoining farms, about a mile and a quarter north of the village of Garden Hill. John, the elder brother is about forty years of age, while Wellington is in the neighborhood of thirty-seven or thirty-eight. They have always lived adjoining one another, and as far as was known, were always on the best of terms. They helped each other out with their farm work and co-operated in the management of their places, to quite an extent.

HAD BEEN ILL.

It appears that Wellington had not been in the best of health for some time. His nerves had gone wrong, and although not in his wonted good health, he had continued to attend to his work around the farm.

Two weeks ago last Tuesday, on the evening of May 28th, he left his home telling his wife that he was going over to his brother's, meaning John Gilmour, whose residence was not a quarter of a mile away. After several hours his wife became anxious when he did not return home at the usual hour and went to the brother's place to see why he was not returning home. When she arrived at the house she found out that her husband had not been there and of course she was greatly disturbed when he did not return home that night. Wellington Gilmour apparently wandered around all night for he turned up next morning at the home of his mother, Mrs. Richard Gilmour, who resides on lot 9 in the 1st concession of Cavan.

GASHES IN THROAT

When he reached there the occupants of the house were horrified to see blood trickling down his throat, coming from two cuts, which he had inflicted with a jack-knife on either side of his neck. He appeared to be in his right senses then and anxious that the cuts should be dressed. He refused to talk about how they had been inflicted, however and the theory is that his mind had been partially deranged when he left home as a result of brooding over some trouble and the attempted to commit suicide. The pain caused by the cuts must have brought him to his senses and he refrained from accomplishing his purpose. He was taken to his home from his mother's and is now said to be in good health again, although somewhat worried by the events of the past few weeks.

BROTHER WENT INSANE

When John Gilmour heard of his brother's action he was greatly worried and did not seem able to shake off his despondency. His mind seemed troubled greatly that he had not done more for his brother during the latter's ill health, and he kept getting worse. One day he left the house early in the morning and did not return again until late at night and when questioned as to where he was he stated that he had just wanted to get away by himself so that he would not be distrubed in his thinking. When it was seen that his mind was weakening a doctor was called, but the unfortunate man became possessed of the hallucination that the medicine they wanted him to take was poison, and he refused to take it. He tasted some of it and declared emphatically that it was poison and would not touch it again At last, when it was seen that nothing could be done for him and that he was not responsible for his actions, he was sent to the asylum at Kingston, where he is now being treated.

Wellington Gilmour is at his home and appears to be all right again.

NO QUARREL

Mr. Coates stated to the Review that as far as was known there was no quarrel between the brothers as had been stated in some quarters. They had always been on the best of terms and there is no reason to suppose that there had been any break in their relations.

The sad affair has caused considerable talk in the neighborhood where it occurred and much sympathy is expressed for the parties concerned.

G.T.R. Time Table Provides New Train From Port Hope

On Monday several important changes will come into effect on the G.T.R. The official time table has not yet arrived, but when it does two new trains will be found on it. Going to Lakefield, starting Monday morning, there will be three trains leaving the city depot at 8 30 a.m., 11.50 a. m. and 5.40 p.m. All these trains will connect with the boats for Stony lake points.

Another important change and one which will be of great benefit to the travelling public will be a local train to Port Hope. It will leave here at 8.35 a.m., and will connect at Port Hope with points east on the main line to Montreal. Returning it will leave Port Hope upon the arrival of the fast train from Toronto to Montreal and reach Peterborough at 11.30. This train will enable passengers to leave Toronto 9 a.m., and reach this city at 11.30 in time to connect with the noon train to Lakefield and Stony Lake points. The G.T.R. should now secure a very large portion of the tourist traffic from Toronto to the lakes as well as largely increase business between Peterborough and Toronto and Peterborough and Montreal.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

Author of "When Lovely Maiden Stoops to Folly," "A Cruel Revenge," "The Heiress of Cameron Hall," "Ione," "Parted at the Altar," Etc.

"It is so bad," she said, "that it could not be worse; to meet death would be preferable. I am tired of it. I am going away."

"Going away!" he repeated, slowly. "That is what I feared would happen. Has your patience, your forbearance, come to an end at last, Reine," he said, compassionately.

"Yes, she replied, truthfully, "it has at last."

He was silent a few moments; and then, as he looked up at him, a great awe stole over her. His eyes were upraised; his lips were moving silently. What should he do? What should he say to her?

Only Heaven knew the struggle that was in his heart, and how he conquered it. Loving her with all the great love of his heart, how easy it would have been to rejoice and encourage her in the step she was taking! There was something more than heroic—it was sublime—the way he beat back his mighty love, that he might counsel her aright.

She was another man's wife. He prayed to Heaven for strength to guide her as he would wish a sister of his guided, if she were to be placed in just such circumstances.

"My marriage was a terrible mistake," she sobbed, raising her beautiful, childish face to his. "I see it now;" and, almost unconsciously, the words that had so often trembled upon her lips burst heedlessly from them now: "Oh, Bernard, I am sorry that I gave you up for him; you would have taken me for love. He only wanted me because I was the prospective heiress of Fairlawn."

Ah, how he longed to take her in his strong arms, put the golden clustering curls from her white face and weep over her. He crushed the mad impulse—spurned the thought from him.

Bernard had a code of honor, all his own perhaps—a rare one in these degenerate days. He had loved her dearly, Heaven knew; he loved her now; but it would unman him to listen to words like these from her innocent, thoughtless lips, for there is no storm so strong, so irresistible as that of human passion yet Bernard stood firm

"You must never dwell upon useless regrets, Reine," he said, gravely. "Remember you are wedded to another now, and marriage is for life."

I wonder how many men of the nineteenth century there are who would give up everything that is dear in life for the sake of maintaining a high, ideal purity!

"When the chain galls it should be broken asunder," she said, piteously. "I could not endure it until death sets one or the other free," Reine added.

"Do not urge me to go back, Bernard," she sobbed; the life I have been leading would soon kill me; oh, the wretched loneliness of it!"

"Oh, Bernard, that is so like my dreary life; I live such a lonely existence—no one to love, and no one to love me. There are times when I long for the clasp of strong hands for sympathy, and—and—to feel the assurance that some one cares for me. Can you understand?"

"Yes," he replied, huskily.

"To creep into the fold of strong arms, and pillow my head on a faithful breast," she went on, piteously.

"Poor child! poor little Reine," he murmured, brokenly.

"I cannot endure the thought of what the future would be with him; I have thought it all over, I would rather face death—for that would be nothing to the cruel torture of dragging out day after day, weeks, and the months that lengthen into years. With him, love died with possession. The thought of our growing old together is full of nameless horror to me; we should detest each other more thoroughly—if that is possible—as time rolls on, than we do now."

"Oh, Bernard," and she crept nearer to him, "tell me where to go? I want to go so far away that he can never trace me" and hiding her face in her hands she gave way to hysterical weeping.

"Will you let me advise you as to what your duty is, Reine," he said, very gently, "and follow it?"

In uttering this last sentence, Chesleigh unconsciously took up his hat, which he had laid on a chair beside him; Reine, sensitive as to his slightest movement, took it as an intimation that he was wishing the interview over, and was anxious to leave her.

She looked wistfully into his face, with a deep sigh. "I will listen to what you tell me, but I cannot promise to follow it," she said.

"With all his faults you love him still, Reine," said Chesleigh, very gravely, and because of that love you must——"

She interrupted him with a dreary laugh.

"I have never loved him, Bernard," she sobbed. "I see now that it was only a girlish, mad infatuation that I had for a pair of fine eyes and a curling blonde moustache. I do not wish to speak evil of him, Bernard," she said, slowly; "the very fact that he has injured me should make me generous to him; the very fact that I dislike him should make me speak well of him. Do not blame me for abhorring him," she pleaded. "How could anyone help despising and disliking a man who has not since marriage shown me the ordinary civility that a gentleman never fails to show to a lady? I have been cruelly victimized. There is but one course open to me—to go away."

"There are two ways before you, Reine," said Chesleigh, pityingly. "That of flying from your fate—or making the best of it; running away from your trouble would be a commonplace ending. I see how you may make yourself a heroine, Reine, and unless I am greatly mistaken in the estimate of your character, you will do it."

He took her little, trembling hands in his own brave, strong ones, pleading with her gently and tenderly to go back again to the home from which she had just fled, to try just a little while longer to live in peace and unison with the husband she had wedded.

He pictured to her in glowing words how heroic such a line of action would be. She had a great mission to perform, reclaiming Waldemar Waldron from the slough of dissipation into which he had drifted, instead of fleeing from him and leaving him to his fate.

Reine looked at Bernard in sheer wonder.

He met the glance calmly.

"Let my entreaties win you from the path you have marked out for you, Reine," he said. "It is a delicate matter at any time to interfere between man and wife. It is only because I take so true an interest in you that I dare speak at all."

"Ah, Reine, you have your fate in your own hands. Go back to your husband and plead with him to commence life anew with you. Tell him that you, on your part, will do all you can; that you are willing to make any effort to bring about a pleasanter state of things."

"It would be quite useless, Bernard," she said, hopelessly. "Snow and sun, water and fire, will agree together better than he and I ever can."

"Promise me that you will try it, Reine," he urged. "It is worth the effort; it is, indeed. And if it fails, you will at least have done your best."

"He will only say something very unkind, perhaps insulting to me, Bernard," she exclaimed, bitterly.

"Then you must summon all your patience to your aid, Reine," he said, gently. "You may have many sore humiliations, many hours of pitiful annoyance, many a contest with your own pride, but you will win in the end."

She clasped her hands, and looked at him with piteous entreaty.

"You forget, Bernard, that my husband does not love me," she said. "He would only sneer and laugh at me. Kindness would be thrown away upon him."

"You can but try," urged her companion, gently.

He saw that she was listening to him with a thoughtful face, and his natural eloquence rose to the occasion. He pleaded with her, used his strongest arguments, and in the end he succeeded in winning the promise from her that she would try again—the life she had been so eager to cast off.

"We shall meet often in society, Reine," he said, "and I shall watch eagerly for the signs and tokens that shall tell me you and your husband are once more happy."

A faint smile parted her lips. She caught his hand and kissed it.

The caressing touch of those innocent, velvet lips made the blood leap like wine through his veins. But not a muscle of his face betrayed his agitation.

For the second time that night he called a cab, and placing Reine in it, saw her safely to her home; leaving her with an earnest, cheery "good night."

Bernard Chesleigh was a strong man, strong in his noble principles of honor, strong in his own integrity; but as he rode homeward to his hotel alone that night, hot tears forced themselves to his eyes.

His life was ruined, wrecked, and a sigh broke from his bearded lips as a thought of "what might have been in the dim future" occurred to him—if he had allowed Reine to follow her own course.

He had been a noble foe to Waldemar Waldron. Not one man in ten thousand could have so heroically resisted the temptation to encourage her to follow the bent of her own will, which would have torn down the barrier between them.

She would not know it now. But in the long years to come there might come a day when she would realize how true and steadfast the love had proven which she had once flung so lightly away.

He could never forget her; for that love which was buried deep in his soul was a part of his life.

If she should ever need the help of a strong arm, his should be at her disposal. He would have given every drop of blood in his heart to have served her. He would watch over her from afar. He would give his very life for her, if need be. His was a noble, exalted love, which would always prove true.

How many men in his place, loving her as he did, could have beat back from his lips the reckless, passionate whisper: "Come with me, dear: fly from him you hate, to the arms of love; the world would be well lost for both of us—for love's sake."

CHAPTER XXI.

Softly as a shadow Reine crept back to the lonely boudoir she had so lately quitted. No one had missed her, although she had been gone an hour or more.

It was drawing close on to midnight now. Waldemar might come in at any moment. He must not find her with her wraps on.

She laid them wearily aside, praying to Heaven that she would have strength to follow closely the program Bernard had laid out for her.

Poor Bernard! What a true and noble friend he had proven himself! How his handsome face had glowed with enthusiasm as he had pleaded with her to turn back! How strange it was that she had not noticed this grandeur of soul, this nobility of spirit, before! This man had stooped from his high pedestal to love her, and she had tossed that love from her as carelessly as a child tosses away a broken toy!

Now, when it was too late, she realized what she had lost. Ah, yes! the past was all over between them. There was no time for regrets or tears now over "what might have been."

Reine had not thrown off her wrappings a moment too soon, for a heavy step sounded on the stairs, and the next moment Waldemar Waldron entered the room.

It was a great trial to keep back the bitter words that sprang to her lips, or vail the scorn that flashed into her eyes, but by a great effort Reine did it.

She looked up at him, and was surprised to find that the effects of the wine which he had indulged in at the ball had well nigh worn away. How could she speak kindly to him when they had parted in such a bitter quarrel a few short hours before?

He was the first to break the awkward silence.

"How does it happen that you are up waiting for me?" he asked, brusquely, looking at her with keen curiosity.

The girl's face flushed. Hot, bitter rebellion rose in her heart. She stilled the anger and contempt. Her victory over herself was so great that she was surprised at it.

She rose from her chair, her hands trembling nervously, her lovely, childlike face flushing and paling by turns.

"I have waited for you, Waldemar, because I have something to say to you," she said, very gently.

He looked at her steadily.

"You want to renew that scene that occurred in the ball-room," he said, harshly; "but if you are wise you will let matters drop. You provoked me into doing what I did."

"Are you sorry for it now?" she asked, wistfully.

"Yes," he confessed, a dull red flaming into his face. "But I repeat, you provoked me to it, Reine, and you know it."

She went up to him, laying her little white hand on his arm.

"We have not been very happy—have we, Waldemar? We have quarrelled and disputed until I am ashamed to think of it," she said.

He looked at her in amazement. She would not see the surprise on his face or make the least difference because of it.

"Most decidedly, Reine, we have done our best in that line," he admitted. "We have not kept the peace."

"I should like so much to change all that, Waldemar," she said, in a low voice; "to try if we cannot begin again and really do better. I will try, if you will, Waldemar."

He looked at her with a contemptuous laugh.

"Have you been to a revival meeting?" he asked.

Reine's face flushed, and hot words of anger came to her lips; but she controlled herself. She would not utter them.

"No, I have not," she replied, "but I have been thinking, Waldemar, and would give anything on earth if we could do a little better—agree a little better. Now, for instance, if you will promise not to speak angrily or contemptuously to me, I will make the same promise to you."

"I shall do nothing of the kind," he answered, haughtily, a sudden fire leaping into his indolent, handsome face. "I tell you what, my lady Reine," he replied, roughly—"I do not like this sudden fit of humility. 'Still waters run deep.' It betokens no good. You have some deep design in your head, and I know it."

"You are wrong," she replied. "I want simply to be on better terms with you, so that we may have some chance of happiness. I want no more. We are husband and wife now: we must spend our lives together. Let us make the best of each other, Waldemar."

She spoke quickly, with an appealing face, her little trembling hands clutched nervously together. He answered her almost ferociously.

"What do you mean by making the best of each other?" he cried. "Do you mean that I am not good enough for you?"

"I do not know," she replied, hopelessly, a dull feeling of despair coming over her.

"Then you ought to know," he retorted. "If you wanted to marry a saint you should not have thrown Chesleigh over."

She raised her clear blue eyes to his face, and he read something in them that puzzled him.

"Remember that I gave up everything in the world for your sake, Waldemar," she said, in a low voice; "and in memory of that I would like you to be more kind to me. My heart is breaking for want of sympathy and—and—love."

"Such utter nonsense!—such rubbish! Who has been putting such romantic notions into your head?" he asked, sharply. "I am tired and sick of hearing over and over again what you have given up for my sake; let me hear no more of it. Never talk to me in this strain again. I shall never be any woman's slave; but I will compel my wife to listen to me, and not attempt to dictate to me. If you are not happy it is your own fault—your own temper and your own pride."

"Perhaps so," she said, listlessly. "You may rest quite assured of one thing—that while I live I shall never broach this subject again to you. If, in time to come, I want a friend, I shall not come to you. If I want advice, consolation, sympathy, kindness, I shall never ask it from you."

"So much the better," he answered, leaning indolently back in his favorite arm-chair. "If there is anything I abhor, it is a crying, fault-finding woman. At such times I can realize what 'Ik. Marvel' meant when he said: 'I long to break away, and find what liveliness can be found elsewhere.'"

Reine turned away from him proudly. It had been a terrible mistake, trying to make friendly overtures to him. She saw plainly they could never live as other husbands and wives did. It was but the common fate of the many who resort to runaway marriages. They never turn out happily. Ah! would that young girls would take warning!

Reine's was the most unhappy of all unhappy marriages.

It was Waldemar Waldron's own fault that his lovely girl-wife's idolatrous love for himself died away, giving place to hopeless despair, which grew from bad to worse into positive dislike.

A week passed. Although Reine did her best, her heroic effort to live on better terms with Waldemar Waldron had met with rebuffs and ignominious failure.

One afternoon she had asked him to take her the following day to drive through Central Park, and for a wonder he consented, but when the hour rolled around—the sleigh stood at the door—her husband had quite forgotten his appointment with her, and the consequence was that she rode alone.

At the park entrance she saw Bernard Chesleigh, who was just alighting from a cab. She beckoned him eagerly to her side, making room for him on the cushioned seat; but, though it would have been a keen delight to him to have sat by her side, looked into her eyes, heard her voice for a brief half hour, he gravely declined, urging, as a reason, a pressing business engagement.

"You will be at the art gallery this afternoon, Bernard?" she questioned, earnestly.

He said "yes," regretting it, however, the next moment. He must not throw himself so constantly in her society; he must rather avoid it, for it was like the moth hovering about the flame that first blinded and then burned it. He turned to leave her, but she laid a detaining hand on his arm.

"Would you like to hear how my first lesson in obedience went on, Bernard?" she asked.

"If you would like to tell me," he replied.

"I waited up for him until he came in that night. I crushed my bitter anger and my hot rebellion, and greeted him as kindly as I could. I went up to him with that crimson mark still on my face, and asked him to bury all past unpleasantness and begin life anew—to try and make each other happier if we could. He answered me, Bernard, with a low, contemptuous laugh that made me—ah! well, never mind how it made me feel. He laughed at me, and insulted me, until I could have struck him down; only Heaven knows how I kept back the tears from my eyes and the sobs from my lips. It was an utter failure, Bernard. I told you how it would be before I humbled my pride before him—to be scoffed at for my pains."

"Well?" said Bernard Chesleigh, pityingly.

"Well, I would rather die, than humble myself to him again—that is all, Bernard. It is a terrible mistake to think that the embers of love can be awakened in a heart where they have once died out.

"It is of no use, Bernard," she repeated hopelessly. "Waldemar and I can never get along well together. He thinks that—and I know it. I am tired of hoping for a better state of things. No woman should coax her husband for the love that should be hers. I am too proud to do it. I cannot make the first advances even though I craved it, though in truth I do not."

He knew Reine's nature—the necessity of living in the atmosphere of affection, and his heart went out to her in a great throb of pity.

CHAPTER XXII.

Bernard Chesleigh gazed pityingly at the beautiful face.

"Promise me that you will not be discouraged with this first attempt to win your husband back to his old allegiance, Reine," he said earnestly, "even though you have met with slight encouragement so far. Great victories must be valiantly fought for, you know."

"I will do my best, but it will be a very poor 'best,' I fear," said the girl, holding out her hand to him.

He bent over it a moment—that little white hand that should have been his—then released it.

The next instant he was standing by the Park gate alone; the natty, red-cushioned sleigh, with its occupant, had vanished from sight, hidden by an abrupt curve of the road.

Poor Reine! so fatally fair, her beauty had been a curse to her. He asked himself how it would all end.

There was one thing that was quite positive—he could not, he must not see Reine again. He must leave New York at once. Better fly from danger than court it.

Reine rode listlessly enough through the Park. Hundreds of gaily caparisoned equipages dashed past her, and more than one cast a backward glance at Reine; but she did not see them, so intent was she upon her own thoughts.

Gay, chattering voices, together with the merry sound of sleigh-bells, rang out on the crisp air; but, just as Reine turned her horse about, she was startled by the sound of a familiar voice, pealing out in hilarious laughter.

She raised her eyes with a sudden start, and the sight that she saw made the hot blood course like lava through her veins, her heart beat, and a sudden mist gather before her eyes.

In a sleigh that flashed past her with the rapidity of lightning, she had beheld Waldemar Waldron. He was not alone. A young and exquisitely lovely girl sat beside him—a young girl with a laughing, dimpled face, a crimson mouth, flushed cheeks, and eyes flashing like stars.

Even in that meteoric glimpse, Reine could not help but notice how lovely the dark, glowing face was; and the rapt expression that rested on Waldemar's as he inclined his handsome head toward her.

Reine drew back, pale and breathless. Evidently neither of them had observed her. Reine was the last person that Waldron was thinking of at that particular moment.

Reine never remembered how she drove home through the crowded thoroughfares, her heart was in such a whirl of bitter emotions. She had been home an hour or more when Waldemar came to luncheon.

He was in capital good humor, singing a snatch of the latest opera as he entered. Reine went up to him, timidly placing two letters in his hand that had arrived for him in the morning mail.

"I had a long and weary wait for you this forenoon, Waldemar," she said. "Had you forgotten that you promised to take me out sleighing?"

She quite believed he would tell her frankly just what had detained him, and who his companion was with whom she had seen him in Central Park.

She had yet to learn the depth of falsity in Waldemar Waldron's nature. He gave a sudden start of surprise. His fair, indolent face flushed hotly.

He had forgotten it most certainly; but it would never do to admit it. He must resort to a subterfuge of some kind.

"You had a long wait, did you? Well, by George, that was careless of me to forget mentioning to you that I had a very important matter to attend to which would prevent me from accompanying you. I had to meet a man—"

The violent fit of coughing which attacked him then seemed a just retribution for the prevarication on his lips.

6895.—A WAIST OF NOVEL DESIGN

The fasion of trimming cloth or silk with lace has been reversed and now it is lace which forms the body of the prettiest waists and the material adorns it. Here is a waist showing the style very prettily, the waist proper being of figured net and the bolero of silk. The waist is very unique in style and wonderfully fetching. Long and short sleeves are provided for, the latter being the more attractive because of the natty little cuff band which finish them. Such a waist is smart in white cloth or pongee, and may be developed at home without difficulty. For the medium size 3 yards of 27 inch goods are needed for the waist and 1 1-8 yd. of 18 inch goods for the bolero.

4192.—A PRACTICAL FROCK FOR SUMMER WEAR.

A style of dress which adapted to changes is always more valuable than one which must be in one mode only. Here is shown a dress which may be finished in low round neck and long sleeves for any season. The waist with its tucks at either side is attached to the skirt by a narrow belt and closes in back. The fanciful trimming band which finishes the yoke on neck edge may be of a contrasting fabric or not as desired. The tub fabrics as well as cloths are suitable to this style of dress. The medium size calls for 2 yards of 44 inch material.

Dealers Complain of Short Weights

And Will Hold the Railways Responsible—Coal Merchants Meet.

Mr. J. E. A. Fitzgerald was in Toronto on Thursday attending the annual meeting of the coal dealers branch of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada.

An appeal to the Dominion Railway Commission will be made by the coal section of the Ontario branch of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada in regard to certain difficulties which the members have experienced in the pursuit of their calling. At the annual convention the members debated their almost uniform troubles of having a shortage in the weight of the coal on its arrival at its destination. The bills of lading showed the car to contain so much coal while the amount of this fuel frequently fell short of the quantity stated. It was held that the men who loaded the cars were to blame for this. The association desires to hold the railway companies responsible for the shortage.

Another reform is requested in regard to the demurrage charges. The dealers believe that the transportation agents can be induced to make a rebate commensurate with the charges made on all delayed cars in unloading, in respect to those cars which are emptied before the time limit allowed by the rules of the railways.

The following officers were elected:—President, J. C. Hay, Listowel; Vice-President, Mr. Wm. Hearn, London; Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. H. M. McIntosh, Woodstock; General Secretary, Mr. E. M. Trowern, Toronto; Directors, Mr. J. K. McLaughlin, Woodstock; Mr. F. Mann, Brantford; Mr. D. S. Jacques, Toronto; Mr. J. E. A. Fitzgerald, Peterborough, and Mr. J. M. Ransome, Hamilton.

SCUGOG EEL HUNTERS

Harran Bros., of Caesarea, Operating at Goose Lake.

It is on record that the Roman Emperors and patricians were inordinately fond of a species of eel, and 'tis even said that occasionally a slave was thrown into the feeding vats in order to impart to the lampreys the right flavor. Be this as it may, there is no gainsaying the fact that Canadians as a people are not fond of eels, and although they are numerous in the Trent waters and may be captured by the barrelful at almost every grist mill in the province, we do not see them quoted in the fish market offerings. This evident partiality may be no fault of the eels—perhaps we think somewhat too highly of the lordly maskinonge and gamy bass and not enough of the coarser fish that are eagerly consumed in other countries.

Harran Bros, of Caesarea, have been engaged for years as eel fishermen on the Scugog waters, and have a nice demand from city customers who supply restaurants and farmers' homes. They have been operating at Goose Lake with fair success for some time, and are catching an average of 50 eels per night. They set night lines, to which are attached a great number of hooks, each baited with a minnow. The line is allowed to sink to the muddy bottom, where eels do congregate, and in the morning there is something doing when a squirmy lot are hauled in and despatched.

Inspector Bradshaw visited the camp the other day, and found no indications of other fish having been caught. Eels are very tenacious of life, and Archie tells a yarn about one that was killed, dressed and eaten at camp for dinner. Later on some visitors arrived; one picked up the head that had been thrown away—only to drop it with a yell of pain. The jaws snapped together, and gave him a painful wound.

Sterilized Kisses Perfectly Safe

Cleveland, Ohio, June 13.—"Kiss all you want to, but after each fifth kiss take a sanitary gargle. Germs and microbes like kisses just as well as human beings do. To be on the safe side, though, sterilize each kiss."

This was the message Dr. T. Franklin Gifford, of New Jersey, sent to the world at large between the ages of sixteen and the divorce court. He has lectured upon the hygiene of the mouth before a number of dental conventions, and recently completed a series of talks here to the dentists of Northern Ohio.

"It is no pleasant thing to kiss," said the doctor, and then caught himself, "er—that is, from a purely unsentimental, scientific and, I might say, hygienic standpoint. I have no wish as a man—and a married one, too—to pose as the enemy of the kiss. Kissing, though, is a form of disease which the constitution finds it very difficult to throw off. There are germs and microbes lurking in every kiss. The constitution can throw off these in limited quantities. It cannot do so, however, if there are too many of them. The only safe way is to be sanitary about your kissing."

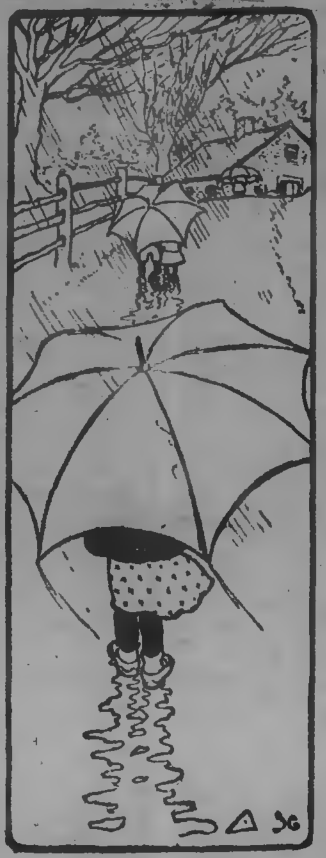
AN UMBRELLA PARTY.

It was an umbrella party,
And it met down in the street.
I saw it from our top window,
And all the umbrellas had feet!
The biggest umbrella was bobbing,
And the little ones all bobbed, too,
As if saying, "Happy to meet you!"
As if saying, "How do you do?"
The smallest umbrella had trouble
And dropped books and slate in a pool,



By which I knew the umbrellas
Were making their way to the school.
But the biggest of all and the tallest
Soon strode off in haste down the street.
He perhaps was a truant umbrella
Whom the little ones happened to meet.
Then the little umbrellas went running
And hurrying out of the rain
Through the door of the little brick schoolhouse,
And I did not see them again.

—Youth's Companion.

Devotion to Duty.

When the buried city of Pompeii was exhumed a soldier was found standing at his post. He had probably been forgotten, and he had met his death a victim to his strict sense of discipline. The czar of Russia has recently decorated a private soldier who proved himself a worthy companion to the historic Roman sentinel.

When a recent earthquake destroyed a small Russian town in central Asia this soldier was on duty at the military treasury. Although the houses were crashing around him, he stood motionless, awaiting death. Fortunately a sergeant saw him and the ruins and instantly ordered him to quit his post. Perhaps such devotion verges on foolishness, but we cannot help but admire it.

A Tent In the Nursery.

To make a tent in the nursery a rope or stout cord is tied across the nursery, the ends being attached to nails in opposite walls. An ordinary sheet is thrown over this and makes a capital tent. If one sheet is not found to be sufficiently large, then two are pinned together with safety pins. A few books or any small articles of weight placed on the ends of the sheet at either side will keep the tent apart at the bottom, and if the children wish to inclose the interior altogether an old curtain can be pinned across the open end.

Origin of a Popular Saying.

The phrase "He's a brick," meaning a brave and noble fellow, doubtless originated with Agesilaus, king of Sparta, about 380 B. C. A visitor at the Lacedaemonian capital was surprised to find the city without walls or means of defense and asked his royal host what they would do in case of an invasion by a foreign power. "Do?" replied the heroic king. "Why, Sparta has 50,000 soldiers, and each man is a brick."

A Dog Hero.

Once very lately there was a little girl. She lived in Sawtelle, Cal. One day she was standing on the track of an electric road and was discovered by the motorman when too late to stop his car. Just at this moment the dog, Jack, seeing her danger, seized her dress with his teeth and drew her from the track, thereby saving her life, in consequence of which the selectmen furnished Jack a free license and a beautiful collar. Now, wasn't that fine?

The Elephant's Hind Legs.

Why do the hind legs of an elephant bend forward?

Because, its weight being so great, when it lay down it would rise with great difficulty were its legs bent outward like those of other animals. Being bent under the body, their power of pushing directly upward when the powerful muscles are exerted is greatly increased.

Grandmotherly Care.

One day a little boy went out in the country to visit his grandmother. That evening grandma picked a chicken.

"Oh, grandma!" the little boy exclaimed, "do you undress your chickens every night?"

The Provincial convention of the Catholic Order of Foresters is in session at Chatham.

The Cause of Snoring.

This is not for you, because you never snore. No one ever does snore himself. It is always the other fellow. But you can read this and then tell that guilty other fellow how to break himself of his bad habit, for snoring is merely a bad habit and as such can be overcome. It is caused primarily by improper breathing—that is, breathing through the mouth instead of through the nostrils—so, first of all, care should be taken during waking hours to breathe correctly. The habit once formed of keeping the mouth as firmly closed as possible, he will be less likely to sleep with it open. Then see that your troublesome snorer has a proper pillow. He should sleep with his head as flat as possible, for if his head is pushed forward and the neck bent the tongue drops back against the soft palate and forms an obstruction which makes all the unmusical sounds we hear when the air is forced past it.—St. James' Gazette.

The Last Match Saved Them.

The ship had lain becalmed in a tropical sea for three days. Not a breath of air stirred the mirrorlike surface of the sea or the limp sails that hung from the yards like drapery carved in stone. The captain resolved to wait no longer. He piped up all hands on deck and requested the passengers to also come forward.

"I must ask all of you," he said, "to give me every match that you have."

Wonderingly the passengers and crew obeyed. The captain carefully arranged the matches in his hands as each man handed him his store until all had been collected. Then he threw them all overboard but one, drew a cigar from his pocket and, striking the solitary match on the mainmast, endeavored to light it. In an instant a furious gale swept over the deck, extinguished the match and filled the sails, and the good ship Mary Ann sped through the waves on her course.

The Cod's Bill of Fare.

An interesting exhibit in the South Kensington museum, London, illustrates the omnivorous nature of the cod's diet. Among the fish falling a prey to its voracious maws we note the young of the herring, dab, whiting and sand eel. Shrimps and young lobsters also form an important item in the cod's menu. The strangest part of the cod's diet perhaps is the sea mouse, whose thick covering of bristles might be thought to render it unwelcome to any stomach. Large whelks and shells of whelks with their indwelling hermit crabs are also largely devoured. From its partiality to mollusks, in fact, the cod may become an assistant to the shell collector. Woodward in his "Manual of the Mollusca" remarks that "some good northern seashells have been rescued unbroken from the stomach of the cod."—London Globe.

Growing Flowers In Winter.

A long run of dark days in winter is bad for the florists. It matters little how cold the weather is, provided there is sunshine, for the heat can always be maintained to the proper point, and with sunshine flowers will bloom just as freely when the thermometer shows an outdoor temperature of zero as at the freezing point, though of course more money must be spent for coal. But when, day after day, for weeks at a time, clouds overhang the sky, nothing will grow as it should. The carnation buds develop slowly until they are half open and wait for sunshine, and if it does not come in four or five days the blooms decay. So also it is with callas and roses. They will open halfway, then, without sunlight, will quickly spoil.

How They Dance In Hungary.

With the exception of the Spaniards there is no nation in Europe that dances like the Hungarians. They love it with a love that amounts to a passion. They not only go in for it heart and soul, but they will dance on anything, in any sort of weather. A paddock, a village street, a stable yard, the earthen floor of a wayside csarda—it is all the same to them. Not the scorching sun or the whirling dust or the pelting rain or the falling snow will deter them. They all dance beautifully too. It seems to be in their blood.

Customs of Brittany.

Brittany alone, of all the provinces of France, seems to have preserved its types and individuality. To be Breton is by no means to be French. The old men to this day chatter in the Celtic tongue. The Breton mother when not at work in the fields sits in the door of her cottage plying the distaff and reciting the old legends and quaint folk songs to the white coifed baby beside her. The Breton woman still wears the costume of her mothers before her and is satisfied in it.

Too Heavy to Keep.

Magistrate (to prisoner)—Miserable being, not only have you robbed your employer of the fruits of long years of labor, but you have dissipated it in the wildest extravagance. Prisoner—That is true, but I couldn't keep the stolen money; it weighed too heavily on my conscience.—Lehirs.

Try This.

Bill had a billboard. Bill also had a board bill. The board bill bored Bill so that Bill sold the billboard to pay his board bill. So after Bill sold his billboard to pay his board bill the board bill no longer bored Bill.

The Right One.

"Sir, I want your daughter's hand."

"You may have it with the greatest pleasure, dear boy, if you'll take the one that's always in my pocket."—Baltimore Sun.

New Liskeard is at its busiest because of the stampede to Larder Lake.

Pepper and Onions and Garlic and—

At a restaurant downtown, redolent of pepper and garlic, where swarthy representatives of Spain and all the Spanish-American countries gather every day at the lunch hour a lone American, accustomed to strictly unseasoned food, was glancing apprehensively at the bill of fare.

"What is chile con carne?" he asked the waiter.

"Ah, senor, zat is pepper and a leetle meat and pepper again and once more pepper and"—

"No matter. What is bacalao a la vizcaina?"

"It is delicious codfish and red pepper and gar"—

"Forget it! What is olla a la Espanola?"

"Ah! that is onions and pepper and garbanzos and chorizos and"—

"Bring me roast beef!"

Barrymore's Dilemma.

Maurice Barrymore, the once famous actor, was once in London with a new piece which he was anxious to have produced. He had read it to a manager, and it had been decided that he was to play the leading role. About a week after it was supposed to have been definitely settled Barrymore received a note from the manager asking him to call. Barrymore called, and the manager said: "I like the piece, old fellow, but I don't see how I can use you in the cast. Your beastly American dialect won't do at all, you know. They won't have it."

"Well, that's strange," said Barrymore. "They told me on the other side that they wouldn't have me on account of my beastly English dialect. What am I to do, give recitations on the transatlantic steamers?"

Board of Works Inspection Tour

Well See That Contractors Do Their Work Properly and and That Roads are All Right

At four o'clock this afternoon the members of the Board of Works met at the city clerk's office and started out to inspect the work that has been done on the streets this year already. During the past the Board has, more or less, allowed the contractors on sewers, the gas company and private parties to dig up the streets and leave them in pretty nearly any old shape, and then after a while the engineering department would be sent around to repair it. This year the Board does not intend to permit that kind of work. It is going to see that last year's contractors have left the roads in a satisfactory condition, and also to see that the gas company has done the same. The sewer and road work under way must also be done properly so that no more expense will be incurred than is absolutely necessary.

HOMESEEKERS' EXCURSIONS

If you think of making a trip to Manitoba or the great North-west Provinces this summer, you should make a point of securing from the nearest C.P.R. agents a free copy of that railroad's booklet giving information about the popular Homeseekers' Excursions. These excursions are well known money savers, and this year are more attractive than ever. Increased traffic has meant a larger number, nine of them this season, of which at the time of writing, seven have still to run, leaving Toronto July 2, 16, 30; August 13, 27; September 10 and 14. Special trains are used, carrying colonist and tourist sleepers, berths in the latter at small additional charge. Tickets are issued from all Ontario stations at remarkably low rates, ranging from $32.00, round trip to Winnipeg, to $42.50 round-trip to Edmonton, and embracing all important points in the North west. They are good to return within sixty days, stop-overs permitted. Ask nearest C.P.R. agent for particulars, or apply direct to C. B. Foster, District Passenger Agent, Toronto. 3d 1w.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE

Reports Presented and Officers Elected at Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Farmers' Institute of West Peterborough was held on Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock in the City Council Chambers, when the reports of the past year's business were received and officers elected. Considerable discussion took place on other questions of importance, including suggestions of points at which to hold the regular and supplementary winter meetings of the institution. A decision was reached by the directors in a subsequent meeting to hold the regular meetings in Lakefield and Ennismore, instead of in Peterborough and North Monaghan, as formerly.

There was a deplorable lack of interest shown by the members at the meeting on Saturday, as there was but a small attendance, and it is to be hoped that the farmers will in future lend more liberal assistance to help advance their own interests.

The chair was occupied by the president, Mr. J. N. Telford, who, in his address, resumed briefly the business of the past year and spoke on the success of the recent farmers' excursion to the Experimental Farm, which he considered was well patronized.

Secretary Wm. Collins next read the report of the secretary-treasurer and Executive Committee, which was received and adopted, and which was as follows:

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

To the members of West Peterborough Farmers' Institute:

Gentlemen,—On behalf of your Executive Committee and Directors, I beg leave to submit for your approval, the 18th annual report for the financial year, ending May 31st, 1907. Our first institute meetings were held in December, in Lakefield, Peterborough and North Monaghan. At Lakefield, three addresses were given by the delegates, Messrs. J. G. Clark, and Mr. Glendenning, in the afternoon—attendance forty five. In the evening a joint meeting with the Woman's Institute was held, when the same delegates with Miss Maddock, (lady speaker) addressed an audience of four hundred and twenty-five. The next day in the afternoon in Peterborough, with only twenty-seven in attendance, and in the evening at North Monaghan, attendance 55, good addresses were given, but the superintendent suggests that we drop off some of those places at which such a small attendance is gathered, as it is an evidence that they are not sufficiently interested to warrant the efforts and expense attending those meetings and he suggests that we strike out more to the county places and villages, if the farmers near the city do not turn out better.

The supplementary meetings were held in January. Delegates were Messrs. Annis and Zufelt. Meetings were held as follows,—Lakehurst, afternoon attendance 25, evening at Buckhorn, attendance 32; at Selwyn, afternoon and evening, with attendance, 10 afternoon, 60 evening; Ennismore, two meetings, attendance, 55 afternoon, 150 evening. We are greatly indebted to Rev. Father Fitzpatrick and some of the local gentlemen and ladies, for the help and addresses given. The next meeting was held at Union Hall, Stewarts, two meeting, attendance, afternoon, 25, evening 150, and in March a special dairy session was held jointly with the local Dairymen's Association, two sessions, morning and afternoon, at which addresses were given by [illegible] H. Campbell, Central Smith Cheese Factory, Mr. Ward, instructor, Mr. A. Hume, G. G. Publow, T. D. Young, E. M. Elliott, G. A Gillespie, director of Eastern Dairymen's Association, J N. Telford and others.

The attendance was 28 at morning meeting and 42 in the afternoon.

Taken as a whole our meetings are as good as we ever had, the delegates being all well posted in their lines and able and willing to impart knowledge and instruction to the farmers. We are at a loss sometimes to know how apathetic the farmers are as a class, as to joining the Institute and helping it along and keeping themselves in line by receiving and reading the various reports that are sent out by the Department of Agriculture to the members. There is a very valuable lot of information in those reports that cannot be obtained except through the Institute membership. Last season the crops were abundant and prices satisfactory, making the farmers' calling very remunerative and pleasant. But this season we find that, owing to the unseasonable weather and backward spring, the crops do not appear to be so promising, but with the present fine weather, which is likely to continue, we hope to have a fairly good return, nearly, if not altogether, up to the average.

On Wednesday last we had our joint annual excursion to the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph which was largely attended. This is becoming a very pleasing and profitable event, and gives our people an opportunity to see and learn how things are being done on the premier Agricultural College Farm of this continent.

We cannot close without tendering our hearty thanks to the press who have given such splendid reports of our meetings, and also to the mayor and aldermen, who have always so kindly allowed us the use of the council chamber for holding our meetings in Peterborough.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

WM. COLLINS,
Sec.-Treas.

June 16, 1907.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

The treasurer's report showed that there was a balance on hand of $23.44, about $7.00 less than last year's balance. The total receipts were $189.09 and the expenditures, $165.65. The receipts included the municipal and legislative grants of $25 each, and $50.70, the profits from the excursion to Guelph. The auditors were Messrs. T. M. Hunter and Jos. Barnard.

Suggestions were then called for regarding the places for holding the regular meetings, and it was decided that they be held this year in Lakefield and Ennismore. The members considered that the meetings would be better attended if held in these two places. The supplementary meetings will be held in Peterborough, North Monaghan, Selwyn, Hall's Bridge, Lakehurst, 4th line of Smith, and at Stewart's Hall, Otonabee. These decisions were afterwards endorsed by the passing of a resolution by the directors.

OFFICERS ELECTED

The election of officers resulted as follows:—

President—Mr. J. N. Telford.
Vice-Pres.—Mr. Fred McKee.
Sec.-Treas.—Mr. Wm. Collins.
Directors — Messrs. T Milburn, Alex McGregor, G W Mann, Jno McConkey, T J Culpen of Smith, Robt Shaw, Archibald Wilson, Henry Coones of Harvey, J K Galvin, Daniel Grough, Jno Flood of Ennismore, Robt Hanbidge, Samuel Deyell, S Mitchett, Robt Chambers, W B Stewart, A A Stewart of Otonabee, Jno Brown, Thos Hunter, T D Young of North Monaghan, and Ed M Elliott, R H Leary and J E A Fitzgerald of Peterborough.
Auditors—Messrs. Jos. Barnard and Jno. Riddell.

Following the election of officers, the president made some suggestions as to how the Institute might be improved and made more useful, and believed that seed meetings, judging classes and farmers' clubs would be of much benefit. No action, however, was taken along these lines as there were not enough members present, and shortly after, the meeting adjourned.

Band at Jackson Park tonight. Also on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights.

More Immigrants Have Arrived

Six immigrants from England who came over on the Parisian, arrived in the city this morning and called at the office of Mr. G. H. Howson, immigration agent. The young men all found immediate employment with farmers in this district.

Mr. Howson expects that a number of Scotchmen will reach the city this evening.

Mrs. Richards is Again in Trouble

Created a Racket on Saturday and Was Placed in the Cells

Mrs. Richards, who has on numerous occasions been a prominent figure in police court circles, has again taken up her abode in a cell and will spend the next four days as a guest at Castle Nesbitt.

She was arrested on Saturday evening and was placed in custody, and was today remanded until Thursday morning at nine o'clock. It appears that she and her son do not get along very well and on Saturday she was pretty well loaded with a supply of an alcoholic beverage. Her son took a flask and her purse away from her and that started the old lady. She went up to her son's house, tried both doors, and found she was locked out. She then endeavored to enter through the window, breaking two panes of glass. Her loud words of anger could be heard some distance. The police were 'phoned for and she was placed under arrest. Her husband called at the police station this morning and stated that his wife was not drunk. If she was no man on this earth dare arrest her, he said. "If you and your wife don't soon get out of town," said Chief Roszel, "you will be sent to Central Prison." With that the husband walked away.

ENNISMORE PICNIC

Many From the City Will Attend at Tara Grove To-morrow.

The annual Ennismore picnic will be held tomorrow at Tara Grove, Ennismore. It is expected that a large number from the city will attend. The event promises to be largely patronized.

There will be an interesting programme of sports and speeches and provided with fine weather, the picnic should surpass all its predecessors in point of attendance and enjoyment.

Haywood Forwarded Money; Further Evidence in the Case

Steve Adams When Stranded Wired Him Asking For Funds.

Orchard's Testimony Corroborated In Many Points—Assistance Also Given to Simpkins Who Helped Murder Steunenberg — Union Miners Flogged and Driven From Home—Peabody Bomb Dug Out of Ice.

Boise, Idaho, June 17.—In support of its case against Haywood Saturday, the state submitted to the jury the testimony of a dozen witnesses, tending to confirm several details of the story of Harry Orchard, and at adjournment announced that it would close its case this week. The announcement as to the conclusion of the prosecution's case was a surprise to the defence, and clearly plaesed the prisoner and his counsel.

In response to a request from the defence for notice from the state as to the time it should assemble its witnesses, Senator Borah fixed next Wednesday as the time. He explained later, however, that he had given an early day, in order to avoid delay. As the trial now stands adjourned until Tuesday morning, the prosecution would not be abe to conclude before the end of the week.

Among the day's witnesses were ex-Governor Peabody of Colorado and his daughter, Miss Cora Peabody, but neither was on the stand long. It was anticipated that the defence would lengthily cross-examine Peabody and open the entire contention involved in the Colorado labor war, but a noon recess conference of the united counsel for the defence decided that it would be better tactics to refrain from such questioning.

Against a sustained fire of objection and motions to strike out, the prosecution got the admission of much evidence bearing on points of Orchard's testimony.

Sent to Haywood For Money.

First, it was shown that Steve Adams while stranded in Ogden in 1906, on the way hence from California, where it is alleged he went to kill Fred Bradley, sent a telegram to Haywood at Denver, for money. It showed by the originals of six drafts on New York banks, five of which were purchased at the First National Bank of Denver by Haywood himself, that during 1904, 1905 and 1906 money was frequently remitted by Haywood to L. J. Simpkins, formerly a member of the executive board of the Western Federation of Miners, who, as "Simmons," went to Caldwell with Orchard and assisted in the first attempt to kill Steunenberg. The last draft, sent in January, 1906, after the murder of Steunenberg, was cashed by Mrs. Simpkins, presumably after Simpkins fled.

Then came the shattered and twisted fragments of the device by which the Vindicator mine bomb was set off. This led to an extensive enquiry by the defence into conditions and events centering about Cripple Creek during the strike and martial law days. The defence tried to show that there was unwarranted deportation of union miners; that the use of the militia was unwarranted; that union stores were looted; that agents of the mine owners committed acts of violence and incited others to violence; that union miners were flogged and driven from their homes, and the peace officers controlled by the mine owners, employed deputies who were "gun-fighters," thugs and criminals.

History of Bomb.

Next, the state completed the legal history of the Peabody bomb by showing that it was dug out of the ice in the Coeur d'Alene River, brought to Boise, and taken to Denver, and by having its casing identified by the plumber who made it. Ex-Governor Peabody and his family watched the bomb cover every moment that it was displayed before the witness stand.

Then the state once more took up the general thread of Orchard's story, and successively offered the testimony of Miss Peabody, as to the testimony of Orchard, that he and Steve Adams followed the Peabody carriage home; the testimony of ex-Governor Peabody that he saw Orchard in Canon City, and that he repaired his house, as Orchard testified; testimony showing that at various times in 1905 Haywood, Pettibone and Orchard were seen together, and confirmation by William Vaughan of the trip that Orchard and Vaughan made to Canon City. Lastly, proof was adduced that Steve Adams was at Pe[illegible]le in September, presumably to meet and throw "Pettibone dope" at a carload of non-union miners, as related by Orchard.

Judge Wood goes to Caldwell to-day to continue the case of Harry Orchard, charged with the murder of Frank Steunenberg and there will be no session of the court. Orchard will be taken to Caldwell for formal appearance when the case is called.

MADE PROGRESS IN CAMP.

Raw Recruits Take On Appearance of Seasoned Veteran.

Niagara-on-the-Lake, June 17.—All along the line there has been a most phenomenal improvement in a week in the appearance of the troops in camp.

The raw infantry who shambled into camp Tuesday in disorder are now executing manoeuvers with a decided military swing and precision.

The progress made in the cavalry brigade is most remarkable. It is about nip and tuck between the men and horses as to which have taken to the manual most readily.

As to the general behavior of the men, Sergt.-Maj. Widgery, the camp sergeant-major and chief of police can testify. There has been only one desertion and two arrests for misdemeanor. Few men have been seen under the influence of liquor.

The army medical corps up till Friday had not been called upon to do much work. Minor cases of sickness have been practically the only ills the doctors have had to attend. Friday afternoon, however, an accident occurred under very peculiar circumstances. While making a tackle in a football game, Pte. Baker of the 36th got his upper jaw broken through contact with another fellow's elbow.

Pte. William Irwin, a cook, of the 34th Regiment, died in the camp hospital yesterday afternoon, of acute kidney trouble. This is the first fatality which has occurred on the camp-ground in five years.

Game Protection.

Toronto, June 17.—The hunting, taking and killing of English or Mongolian pheasants in Ontario has been prohibited for a period of three years from Sept. 15, 1907, and the purchase or sale of partridge, quail, snipe and woodcock for a period of three years from the same date.

Schmitz Now In Jail.

San Francisco, June 17.—Bail for Mayor Schmitz, convicted of extortion, was refused Saturday by Judge Dunne when formal application was made by the mayor's counsel. Sentence will be pronounced June 27. Meanwhile Schmitz will remain in jail.

Drowned While Boating.

Winnipeg, June 17.—C. Flexon, while boating yesterday in the Red River, was drowned.

ALMOST A WRECK.

Salvationists' Excursion Train Thrown Off Rails.

Coatsworth, Ont., June 17.—A wreck in which the lives of nearly 300 Londoners were imperilled occurred on Saturday. One cause is given as a spread rail and the other as a washout. Two persons from London were slightly injured.

The line was blocked for several hours, and the regular train from Windsor was delayed for several hours pending the arrival of the wrecking train.

The special train of Salvation Army excursionists left London at 6.55, and was crowded with people from both London and towns along the line. It was bowling along at a rate of about 40 miles an hour, when the front axle of the engine snapped like a twig and sent the engine and the first two coaches, one of which was the baggage car, toppling over into the ditch. The entire train was dragged along for a short distance, and there was great confusion for a considerable time. Women and children were thrown about in the coaches.

WOULD NOT GET DOCTOR.

Parents Believed In Faith Healing and Daughter Dies.

Esterhazy, Sask., June 17.—Coroner Flatt of Tantallen was summoned to Dubuc to investigate the death of a girl, aged 16 years. The parents believed in faith healing, and it is alleged no doctor had been in attendance. Dr. Flatt considered that an inquest was not necessary, but warned the father.

Barns Burned.

Welland, June 17.—Saturday R. Moore & Son's barn and storehouse were burned, at a loss of $2,000, the roof of the Methodist Church also being damaged. Yesterday E. H. Clark's barn and outbuildings at Crowland were burned.

Strike At An End.

Port Arthur, June 17.—The longshoremen's strike here is at an end. The men went back to work at the old scale.

Wm. T. Simpson, who murdered his two infant children at Hudson Heights, has been committed to Longue Point Insane Asylum.

TRAGIC END OF BRAWL

Englishman Killed as Result of Drunken Quarrel.

Noah Hill and Harry Lockyer Got In to Heated Argument While Drinking Together—Decided to Fight It Out—Second Blow Broke Hill's Neck—Death Was Instantaneous—Assailant Charged With Murder.

Stratford, June 17.—Noah Hill, an Englishman, is dead, and his companion in drink, Harry Lockyer, is in jail, charged with murder, as the result of a fight which took place here Saturday night between the two men, who were both under the influence of liquor.

The men were drinking together, but in the heat of an argument their friendship ceased, and they decided to fight it out in rear of the skating rink.

The men who, before participating in the fatal battle, said they were going to have an "honorable fight," repaired to the chosen spot, took off their coats, shook hands, and, in the presence of witnesses, faced each other.

Two blows only were struck, the first being an apparently harmless one, and the second fatal. Hill struck Lockyer first, and the latter returned a severe blow, hitting Hill under the chin. He fell without uttering a sound, and no doubt died instantly. The blow had broken his neck.

Frank Morris and George Chapman were eye witnesses.

Soon after his arrest, Lockyer was brought before a magistrate and charged with murder. He pleaded not guilty and was remanded.

Both men have wives and families. They were immigrants from the old country.

MURDERS WIFE AT DOOR.

Then Telephoned For the Police—A Buffalo Tragedy.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 17.—Frank E. Jackson walked up to the door of his house yesterday and rapped. His wife opened the door and Jackson stepped inside. Then he shot the woman three times and she fell dead at his feet.

Locking the doors to the room in which the murder occurred, so his little children could not come upon their mother's body, Jackson went to a neighbor's house and telephoned to the police that there was trouble at his house. Then he walked out to meet the officers who were hurried over, and gave himself up.

As Jackson was walking to the telephone from which he reported the killing to the police, he passed his wife's father. He bowed and continued on his way as if nothing had happened.

HAD TO DRAW REVOLVER.

Criminal Defended Himself With Club But Was Captured.

Bowmanville, June 17.—Chief of Police Richard Jarvis had a lively time Saturday when he went out to arrest William Thompson, a Dane in Darlington.

The charge against Thompson was that he stole an overcoat, pair of pants and a bicycle from John McCullach, Kilmarnock town line, between Durham and Ontario.

Thompson engaged at Walter Criderman's farm, but the chief arrived there shortly after. The former saw the officer come to the farm and hid in some straw, protecting himself with a club.

Jarvis, however, was armed and it was fortunate for him, for he had to draw his revolver on Thompson before he would surrender.

Thompson has already served a term in Central prison.

ENTIRE TRAIN BURNED.

Fireman Killed and Scores Reported Injured.

Minot, N.D., June 17.—The Oriental Limited, on the Great Northern Railroad, was derailed at Palermo, forty miles west of Minot, on Saturday. Every car fell into a ditch and immediately caught fire. The fireman was killed, and scores of persons were reported injured. They were rescued with much difficulty. The train was running at the rate of fifty miles an hour at the time of the accident. The accident was caused by spreading rails.

The entire train was burned. Medical aid was speedily sent to the scene aboard a wrecking train.

SEVEN MEN DROWN.

Canoe Swept Over Saguenay Falls and All Inmates Perish.

Quebec, June 17.—A few canoes filled with men working for C. P. Easton & Co. started to cross above the Saguenay Falls, when one of the canoes, containing seven men, got caught in the current and was swept over the falls. The men were all drowned.

Four of the men, named Alfred Gagnon, George Quinn, Xavier Guerin and Joseph Quinn, were married and leave large families.

The three others were Phillippe Chappadeau of Paspebiac, Zenon Otic of Little Metis and George Campion of Matane.

Uphold Premier Bond.

St. John's, Nfld., June 17.—The Colonial Cabinet on Saturday voted to uphold Premier Bond in protesting against a sacrifice of Newfoundland's interests by the Imperial Government in the fisheries negotiations.

The situation is regarded here as rather serious.

Packing House Teamsters to Strike.

Chicago, June 17.—Final preparations were begun for the strike of the packing house teamsters. The teamsters have expressed themselves as willing to take an increase of 1 1-2 cents an hour, but this the packers have refused.

Col. B. H. Vidal, Inspector-General of Canadian militia, inspected the London camp, yesterday.

CARS OVER NIAGARA GORGE.

Sensational Accident—Train "Buckled" When Engine Came to Stop

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 17.—A G. T. R. crew had an exciting mix-up on the big steel arch bridge early on Saturday. The men left the Lehigh Valley yards, on the American side of the river, with 41 empty box cars for the Canadian side. The Lehigh has no night yard inspector, and the accident that followed is attributed to that.

A brake-beam on a car about the centre of the train was dragging. It ran some cars off the rails, and there was a general bump, bump, bump on the ties. This was noticed by an Erie engineer, who "whistled them down." Brakes were applied by the G. T. R. engineer, and the sudden stopping of the front of the train with the momentum of the cars in the rear caused the centre cars, which were off the track, to buckle out and go over the edge of the bridge. Two of them shot out clear of the lower storey and plunged headforemost into the Niagara, 250 feet below, which at this point has a very strong current.

A third car stopped on the edge, then went over, striking the railing of the lower storey. When the railing was struck the car turned a complete somersault.

Yesterday morning not a trace could be seen of the missing cars, two of which belong to the Wabash railway, and the other to the D. M. and R. R.

BOATS UPSET; THREE DROWN.

Two Fatalities In Prince Edward Island—Little Girl Saves Sister.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., June 17.—A drowning accident occurred at St. George, King's County, Saturday, near the farm of Michael D. McDonald of that place.

Three daughters of Mr. McDonald went out with their hired boy in a flat-bottomed punt for a row on the river, on which the farm is situated. After the boat had been pushed out a short distance from shore it upset in about nine feet of water.

The youngest child, 12 years old, managed to climb upon the bottom of the upturned punt and grasp her eldest sister, aged 22, and at the same time had presence of mind enough to signal for help.

Before help came, Justina, aged 20, and the hired boy, were drowned.

At Fifteen Point, Prince County, Jos. McCurdy and a companion named Arsenault were returning from the lobster-fishing ground when their boat was struck by a squall and capsized. McCurdy went down.

AMERICAN SCHOONER SEIZED.

Caught Fishing Illegally Near Schutin Island by the "Canada."

Halifax, N. S., June 17.—The first seizure this season by the Canadian fishery protection cruisers was made on Saturday, when the "Canada" captured the schooner Lewis E. Prescott of Boston for taking mackerel within territorial waters.

The "Canada" was cruising near the three-mile line off Schutin Island, ten miles east of Halifax. Her commander saw two vessels, one, if not inside the line, was very close to it. The other was two miles within the limit and not more than one mile from Schutin Island. By using glasses he saw the crew taking mackerel.

The cruiser bore down on the Prescott, which did not attempt to escape. Captain Knowlton boarded her and took the vessel as a prize and towed her into Halifax and notified Ottawa. She has about 100 barrels of mackerel on board.

TO LIMIT POWER OF LORDS.

Resolution to Be Brought Forward In British Commons.

London, June 17.—The following is the text of the resolution on the subject of the House of Lords which Premier Campbell-Bannerman will move in the House of Commons June 24:

That in order to give effect to the will of the people, as expressed by the elected representatives, it is necessary that the power of the House to alter or reject bills passed by this House should be so restricted by law as to secure that within the limits of a single Parliament, the final decision of the House of Commons shall prevail.

It is understood that this resolution has been approved by a full meeting of the Cabinet.

It is announced that the debate on the question of the House of Lords will last three or four days and prove one of the most interesting of the session.

STEAMER HITS ROCK.

Irish Express Has Narrow Escape From Wreck.

Holyhead, Wales, June 17.—The Irish express steamer Anglia, with more than 500 passengers on board, struck a submerged rock in a thick fog Saturday morning.

After half an hour the captain of the Anglia succeeded in getting her off under her own steam and landed the passengers.

The bows of the Anglia were stove in above and below the water-line, but her water-tight compartments saved her.

WILL DEPORT CHINESE

Transvaal Government to Act When Their Contracts Expire.

Premier Botha Makes Announcement—Sixteen Thousand "Chinks" to Go This Year—May Be Disastrous to Business—Alleged Bargain For Loan of $25,000,000—Kaffirs Will Not Work In Mines.

Pretoria, Transvaal, June 17.—Premier Botha has announced in Parliament that the Government intended to send home all the Chinese miners when their contracts expired.

Sixteen thousand will go this year. In their places the Government purposes to secure native workers.

London, June 17.—The mining magnates here believe that the withdrawal of Chinese labor from the Transvaal will prove disastrous to business.

They say it is impossible to find enough Kaffirs willing to work to replace the coolies.

Under the title, "A Gigantic Scandal," The National Review this month contains an amazing explanation of the evident friendship between Gen. Botha and the members of the Home Government.

The National Review declares that a bargain was made between Gen. Botha and the Government, by which he agreed to repatriate the Chinese coolies now in South Africa in return for a promise that the Government would guarantee a Transvaal loan of $25,000,000.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

Author of "When Lovely Maiden Stoops to Folly," "A Cruel Revenge," "The Heiress of Cameron Hall," "Ione," "Parted at the Altar," Etc.

Reine drew back, scorn and wounded pride flashing in her eyes, her white lips trembling.

"An important matter to attend to!"

Her face flushed with bitter anger as she listened. Was driving a lovely girl through the Park such an important matter that he should forget her?

A quick retort rose to her lips, but ere she could give it utterance, Waldemar Waldron sprang from his chair, clutching nervously at the open letter he held in his hand, his face dark with passion, then turning fairly livid.

"Affairs are reaching a crisis," he muttered, crushing the letter deep down into his pocket with something like a groan.

At sight of his distress Reine forgot her pride and her terrible anger. In a moment she was kneeling beside him.

"What is the matter, Waldemar?" she urged. "Have you bad news?"

"Bad news! It is the worse possible news, Reine," he cried, desperately. "Every one is pushing me for money, and unless I can make an immediate raise from some source or other, we are completely ruined."

His lovely young wife looked at him. She had not the least idea what complete ruin meant.

He went on excitedly. "I can't see my way clear. We shall come to grief, I'm afraid, and that speedily, to, unless—unless—"

He moved uneasily in his chair, his eyes drooping nervously under her calm, searching gaze.

"Unless what, Waldemar?" she asked, earnestly.

"Unless you can manage it for me, Reine," he answered.

She looked up into his face.

"I," she answered in dismay. "Oh, Waldemar, tell me how."

He had the grace to flush hotly. He pondered for a choice of words in which to frame his reply. For one moment shame mastered him; but necessity spurred him on to desperate measures. "You could help me if you would go on the stage, Reine," he declared. "That face and form of yours would set New York wild. You'd get a handsome salary.

He did not raise his eyes to look at her; had he done so he would have been startled; he went on nervously— "And there's an opening for you—which I heard of by chance, that would turn any woman's head

"It was all by chance I heard about it," he went on, emphatically; I'll tell you how it came about. As I stepped out of the Stock Exchange to-day, I met Manager ——. He was in a deuce of a hurry, and all in a flutter. He is just about bringing out a grand revival of the "White Fawn," and at the last moment, without so much as 'by your leave,' his star levanted—skipped with a rival concern.

"'What in heaven's name I am to do, I don't know,' he declared. 'If I could find a woman with a face and figure like Mdlle. Bertantis—she might name her own price to take her place.' It's a chance that comes but once in a lifetime. What do you think of the idea, Reine."

She had sprung to her feet, shocked and literally astounded. He never forgot the way in which she drew up her slight form to its utmost height, crying out passionately— "Your jest is in very bad taste, Waldemar."

"It is no jest," he declared, frowning darkly. "I am in earnest. When people are pushed as hard as we are for money, they must put their pride in their pocket. Don't let a little nonsense stand between me and ruin. You must help me out of this, Reine. Come, what do you say to the plan?"

There was a look in her flashing eyes that made him wince.

"I say that I will not do it," cried the girl, in clear, steady tone. "I—I—would die first."

Her answer exasperated him. He grasped her tender white arms in his strong hold so fiercely that there were purple bruises upon them for long days afterward. Yet she did not even wince with the cruel pain of it.

"You shall promise that you will do it," he cried. "I will wring it from your lips. Your absurd pride shall not ruin me."

"No," cried the girl, heroically, forcing the tears back from her eyes—"I will not. You are stronger than I—you may kill me—but you shall never make me do that against which my whole nature abhors."

"Another woman in your place would be delighted at the opportunity," he retorted sullenly. "It is your duty to help me in any way you can"

"Not in that way."

"In any way," he responded emphatically—"As long as I approve of it."

She wondered what the old general would say if he had but heard. How shocked too, Bernard Chesleigh would have been.

"It's poor policy playing the high and mighty when one hasn't a cent in their pocket," he sneered.

"I would rather earn my bread as a seamstress—a nurse—anything"—cried Reine.

"Don't be a fool and stand in your own light," cried Waldron in anger. "You could afford to be neither a seamstress or a nurse; leave that for older and homelier women. You could not earn at one or the other much over a five-dollar note a week. Manager —— would give you two hundred, he says."

"Have you dared talk with him about it," demanded Reine.

"I have not only talked with him, but arranged with him," Waldron cried. "You shall take Bertantis' place. In fact, to bind the contract, he has already advanced me a comfortable sum, and—I have run through with it."

"You must return every dollar of it then," she cried shrilly. "I repeat, you might kill me in endeavoring to compel me to do this thing, but you shall never make me subservient to your will. You have gone too far."

CHAPTER XXIII.

Waldemar Waldron gazed steadily down into the beautiful death-like face raised so defiantly to his own.

He knew what she said was perfectly true. He might kill her—she was weak and fragile, tender and helpless—but he could never wring the promise he desired from her lips.

He flung the white arms and clinging, trembling hands from him, telling her that she should take the consequences then. He left her with a cruel laugh and a sneering look on his fair, handsome face that stamped out all its beauty.

Reine sank down into the nearest chair, and, covering her face with her hands, burst into passionate tears.

Could Waldemar be so near upon the verge of ruin as he had declared? Ah, surely not! He had said it to tease her—to frighten her.

She made up her mind to write one more letter to her father. She would lay her pride aside, and beg him to help Waldemar for her sake. Her heart felt lighter after it was written and mailed. She would tell Waldemar what she had done when he returned home to luncheon; then surely he would be more kind to her.

The noon hour came and went. The long hours of the afternoon dragged themselves slowly by. The sun sank at length in the western sky, and the dusk of night fell silently over the bustling city, still Waldemar Waldron did not return.

As the night deepened, Reine took up her station by the lace-draped window, eagerly watching for him.

Ah, reader! do you know the blank, almost terrible calm that comes just before a storm, when the wind sleeps that it may gather force, when the waves lie silent that they may dash and foam, when the color and weight of lead falls over the sky, and the earth grows frightened? That strange calm, very like awe—swept over Reine's heart as she stood hour after hour at the window, listening for the step which did not come.

This was not the first time that Waldemar had absented himself in like manner, yet she had never felt like this before. There was a foreboding sense of pain in her heart which she could not shake off. Eleven o'clock struck from a clock in an adjoining church steeple; and as the last stroke died away some one ran lightly up the broad marble steps, and touched the bell.

As she opened the door of her boudoir she heard her own name mentioned. A messenger boy stood in the vestibule with a sealed letter in his hand.

With a strange fluttering at her heart, Reine took it, and hurried back to her own room. It was in Waldemar's handwriting, she saw at a glance, and she noticed, too, that the writing was hurried—agitated—as though it had been done under the stress of great emotion.

Why had he written to her instead of coming home? Had anything happened to him? she wondered, and in a moment all the old love flooded her heart for him. She forgot all his coldness and unkindness, remembering him only as the handsome, fair-haired, graceful young lover for whom she had given up home, father, friends and wealth, the lover and young husband, who had taught her love's young dream.

Had ill befallen him?

With trembling hands she broke the seal and tore open the envelope. There were but a few dozen brief lines—surely the cruelest and most pitiful that ever broke a human heart.

A wild cry broke from her lips as her eyes ran over the first few words on the page. Then the stillness of death settled around her, broke now and then by the fluttering of the sheet in her trembling hands.

These were the words she read:

"Reine,—By the time this letter reaches you I shall be far away. It is better to speak plainly to you, telling you all. I am leaving you forever, Reine, for I cannot face you after what will happen to-morrow. Perhaps, after all, it is better for you to be free from such a wretch as I own myself frankly to be.

"You married me for love. Your attractiveness to me was—you were the prospective heiress of Fairlawn. There are men whose hearts are incapable of love, for love's sake alone. Mine, I admit, is one of them. If I had thought your father would have cast you off as he has done, I should never have snatched you from luxury and happiness to share such a roving life as is mine. We were never suited for each other. A sinner like myself has nothing in common with angelic purity. We have lived luxuriously, and now we are come to the end of the road—ruin and utter bankruptcy. Your firm denial to make one more effort to save me rendered me desperate, as I told you. I am a profligate by nature. I have won and lost much money at cards. Last night I staked our all—the furniture, plate and pictures of our home, and—lost. They have passed into other hands, and to-morrow they will be taken from you. I inclose twenty dollars; take it, and return to the home you left for my sake. I am going out of your life, severing the bonds that bound us to each other, wilfully, deliberately. You are not the first wife so left; it is common enough for hearts to break over it. Try and forget that I have ever crossed your path, for I am not worthy of reclaiming or being reclaimed.

"WALDEMAR."

Reine sat quite still with her letter in her hand. She read to the very end, and then sat still, staring, dumb, like one turned to stone. She did not cry out, after that first gasp of horror. The white lips were parted and open, but no sound came from them. The lovely blue eyes had a mild, bewildered expression. She was trying to realize that most cruel blow that could ever strike a living heart—that she was a deserted bride. Her husband had fled from her—yes, fled from her, wilfully, deliberately. Heaven help her! Was there any remedy either on earth or in heaven for such woe as hers?

What shame, what grief, what outraged love and pride swept over her like a tempest, as she sat there looking into the glowing coals, who shall say? A wild laugh echoed through the room. It quite startled Reine. She did not realize that it was her own voice. The sound of that strange laugh pierced the thick walls to the inner apartment, where Honora, her maid, was busy sorting a package of new lace fichus. She dropped them in dismay, and hurried to Reine's boudoir. One look at the white, ghastly face bent over the open letter was enough.

"Oh, my dear! my dear! you have had bad news!" she cried in affright.

Reine looked up at the faithful servitor with wide, sombre eyes. How could she tell her what had happened to her?

"Honora," she sobbed, with quivering lips, tears—hot, bitter tears—falling like rain down her face. "I may tell you—all the world will know it soon. My—my husband has deserted me. He has left me forever. Oh! I wish to Heaven that I might fall down dead!"

Deserted her! It could not be! What man in his senses could have fled from a young wife like this—a young wife as lovely as a dream. She looked bewildered.

"Left you!" she cried in horror. "You cannot mean it, my lady!"

It is quite true," sobbed Reine. Oh, Honora! you are older and wiser than I," she cried out in agony; "tell me what other wives do when their husbands leave them. I have heard that such things have happened; I have read of them; but it never occurred to me to ask what the poor wives did—whether their hearts broke or whether they went mad, or if they committed suicide."

"They have to bear it calmly and patiently, I think," replied the honest maid, who had always feared that something of this kind would be likely to happen to her beautiful, young mistress sooner or later.

"I can never live to bear the shame and disgrace of it, Honora," the girl moaned. "If I walked out upon the street, saw anyone I knew, I would be looked at with curiosity, and they would whisper as they passed me by, 'Her husband left her. I wonder why?' Oh, Honora! I could not bear that: I—I cannot live to endure it!"

"You must turn a deaf ear if any-one says anything so very unkind as that," replied Honora. "Other women have had the same thing to endure—but perhaps it is not so bad as you think."

"It could not be worse," moaned Reine; "oh, what am I to do?"

The maid was nonplussed. "Lay down and try to compose yourself to sleep a little, and I will try to think," said Honora; but Reine shook her head.

"It seems as though I should never sleep again," she sobbed; "my brain is on fire."

"It may not be true that he has gone away forever," declared Honora.

For some moments Reine sat silent; then, cowering down in her chair, she buried her face in her hands, saying desperately—"I am beginning to think there is no such thing as real love. I read once words I marvelled at then, but which seem pitifully true now: 'that some say the devil carried the seed from hell and planted it on the earth to plague men and make them sin; and some say that when all the plants in the garden of Eden were pulled up by the roots, one bush that the angels had planted was left growing, and it spread its seed over the whole world, and its name is—love. There are different species under that name; one love that blots out wisdom, that is sweet with the sweetness of life and with the bitterness of death, lasting for an hour, but it is worth having lived a whole life for that hour. There is always the scent of a god about it.

"'When love's sunshine falls on the dead crust of the soul, a throbbing yearning awakes—a new life stirs to the very depths of the heart—that alone is satisfying.'

"I thought them wonderful words," repeated Reine, "now I have lost all faith in love."

Honora had listened, but she could not comprehend such a strange vein of musing.

Suddenly Reine turned toward her again, clasping her hands nervously together, murmuring in a low, broken voice, that was husky with suppressed sobs: "Oh, Honor! I am glad I never brought a little child into the world."

The girl started. She had not the key to her mistress' thoughts, she had no comment to offer on this unexpected remark.

Reine went on thoughtfully: "Night after night I have thanked Heaven on my bare knees that I have not caused another to suffer. Do you think that was hard for me? A man who could leave his wife, could abandon his little child if he had one. Anything is possible to a man whose end is like his. Sinful—he mowes straight for it, and it alone.

"Some women can bend men and things completely to their purpose, but not a man like Waldemar Waldron; they are the ones that escape the stings that strike deep—these women who control—they never throw the burden of their sins on them."

DISARMAMENT A DREAM.

Russian Delegate Strikes a Blow at the Peace Conference.

The Hague, June 17.—The keynote by M. Nelidoff, on behalf of Russia, at the opening on Saturday of the second international peace conference, was a crushing blow to the pacifists. There was no mincing of words when he deprecated the idea of ultimate disarmament and the inauguration of a regime of universal peace was relegated to the limbo of dreams.

M. Nelidoff described this idea as a "star floating far above this mundane sphere, to be always striven for but never attained. Nations, like individuals, he said, quite frankly, "are human, and not the most perfect judicial system ever invented could put an end to strife and violence.

"When honor and vital interests are at stake," the speaker declared, "regardless of consequences, neither the former nor the latter will recognize any authority except personal judgment and personal feelings."

Stripped of its fine phrases, the speech of M. Nelidoff is considered a deliberate warning to the conference to keep down to the plane of the earth, to continue the work of the first conference in the direction of alleviating the horrors of war and narrowing the chances of conflict by opening wider the door of arbitration and to aim toward "conciliation and justice.," but not to go further. The view that the powers should study the question of lightening military establishments with which the first conference concluded its labors was not even mentioned.

A friendly message was despatched to the Czar at the commencement of the proceedings.

RUSSIAN DOUMA DISSOLVED.

Czar's Ukase Sets Forth Reasons For This Coup d'etat.

St. Petersburg, June 17.—Emperor Nicholas yesterday morning affixed his signature to an imperial ukase abolishing the Douma and ordering that the election of members to its successor, which was to meet Oct. 14, was to be held under the new election law, which provides against the "submergence of the educated classes by the uneducated masses."

This act constitutes a virtual coup d'etat and overrules the specific provisions of fundamental laws of the realm, solemnly proclaimed by His Majesty on the eve of the convocation of the first Douma, without the consent of Parliament itself.

This breach of the constitution is justified by the great law of necessity, the Emperor's advisers holding it impossible under present conditions to secure a Parliament capable of cooperating harmoniously with the crown to rescue Russia from anarchy and revolution.

The Reasons Why.

The ukase is accompanied by a manifesto setting forth the motives which led the Emperor to dissolve the Douma.

His Majesty adverts to the Douma's rejection of temporary laws, its refusal to condemn terrorism, the delay in ratifying the budget, the open revolutionary spirit of a large portion of its members, the abuse of the right of interpellation, and finally, the failure of the Douma to comply immediately with the demand for exclusion of the 55 Social Democrat members charged with conspiring against the present regime.

RUSSIAN PRESS GAGGED.

Criticism Means Jail—Must Not Comment on Dissolution.

St. Petersburg, June 17.—Active preparations for the dissolution of the Russian Douma included an order from Gen. Drachaffski, prefect of St. Petersburg, addressed to the municipal press, announcing that the publication of any article inimical to the Government will be considered a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of $1,500 and three months in jail.

This is the most drastic measure proclaimed against the press since the days of the Black Reaction, and if it is enforced it will entail the suspension of every Liberal newspaper in St. Petersburg. The Socialist Tovarisch has already thrown up the sponge, and did not attempt to appear Sunday morning, feeling that suppression was inevitable.

Over 700 arrests were made in St. Petersburg Saturday.

SUCCEEDS DR. PRIMROSE.

Prof. J. P. McMurrich Appointed to Chair of Anatomy.

Toronto, June 17.—The resignation of the chair of anatomy at Toronto University by Dr. Primrose has been pending for a year, when the university authorities requested him to retain the position until his successor could be appointed.

Prof. J. Playfair McMurrich, who succeeds him, could not have left Ann Arbor for another year had the appointment not been made at once.

Dr. Primrose, of course, retains his associate professorship of clinical surgery, as well as the secretaryship of the medical faculty.

Sentenced Reduced.

London, Ont., June 17.—Owing to an oversight on the part of the authorities, Thomas Harleton, who was on Friday sentenced to four years in the Kingston penitentiary, was brought before Judge Ellicott and his sentence changed to two years, on two counts, one year on the charge of common assault, to which he pleaded guilty last August, and was released on suspended sentence, and the other year on the charge on which he was convicted on the present sessions.

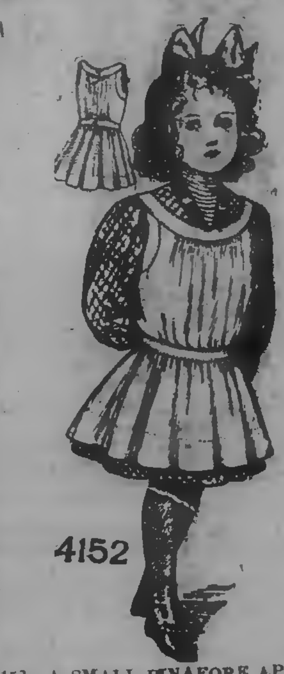
In presenting the case to his worship, the crown gave the impression that the prisoner had pleaded guilty to having committed assault, with occasion to do serious bodily harm.

Government Will Help.

Winnipeg, June 17.—To date the subscriptions are $35,000 for the Manitoba sanitarium. Seventy thousand dollars will be necessary to defray the expense of the enterprise. The local Government promised if the people will give $15,000 more it will make up the balance.

The Yukon Council is to be made elective, Dr. Alfred Thompson, M. P. for the Yukon says.

THE LATEST DEAN PATTERNS



4152.—A SMALL PINAFORE APRON.

There are pinafores for little folks and pinafores for big ones, but the style belongs unquestionably to the former and an apron built on this order is sketched. The neck edge is finished with a band yoke which is attractive by reason of its trimness, while similar bands outline the armholes. These also act as a strengthening for edges, which as the garment wears are apt to become torn and frayed. The waist portion is prettily full in front and back, several shirrs at the yoke edge regulating the fulness. The skirt is a straight full one which protects the dress completely. The effect produced by this apron is that of a guimpe and over-dress and every mother will like it. Any of the apron materials, such as cross-barred muslin, lawn or Swiss would be suitable. For the medium size 3 yards 36 inches wide are needed.

4152.—Sizes 3, 5, 7 and 9 years.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

4092.—A USEFUL KIMONO FOR A GIRL.

The young girl appreciates the value of a restful kimono quite as much as older women and here is shown a pretty model for such. The yoke is in deep pointed outline and supports the full skirt portion. The choice of two sleeves is given, the flowing kimono sleeve and bishop sleeve with its trim cuff. The kimono may be in full length or sack length as desired.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Warmest Day so Far This Year

At Noon To-day the Government Theremometer Registered 87 Degrees

87 degrees in the shade today.

"My but it is warm," "terribly hot," "well we have got it at last," etc.

Such were the expressions heard on the streets today and there was some justification for the remarks. Today is the hottest day of the year 1907—so far, but we may have it decidedly warmer later on.

Summer has certainly arrived at last and at noon today, the government thermometer, registered 87 degrees in the shade, and Mr. Walter Peters, the local weather expert, reported that it was likely to go two or three degrees higher this afternoon.

It was also pretty warm yesterday, but the highest point registered was 83 degrees, so that today it is at least four degrees warmer than on Sunday.

The probs. say that the warm weather is likely to continue for a day or two.

Now, all you who have been complaining of the late, backward spring and the abnormally cold season, cease your complaining, for remember, you have at last got what you were looking for—good, warm weather.

Endure it with a smile and stop your kicking.

ARRANGING FOR THE T.A.S. PICNIC

Grounds are Being Put in First Class Shape—Other News of Interest

Mr. P. Kane, of St. Peter's T.A.S., is taking a gang of men down the river to McNamara's grove this week to make all preparations for the eight annual picnic of the T.A.S., which will be held on Monday, July 1st. Among other things they will erect a large dancing platform, booths and all other necessary buildings. No expense is being spared to put the grounds in first class shape. A feature of this year's picnic will be races for gasoline launches and for singles and doubles in canoes. Over $150 are offered for prizes for the athletic events on the programme and a big time is expected in this department. Among the attractions on the grounds will be a shooting gallery, boxing, bowling alley, and several other equally good amusements.

At a meeting of the ladies of the parish yesterday it was decided to serve dinner on the grounds. The ladies can be depended upon to look after this portion of the event in first class style and it will be strange indeed if they have not something out of the ordinary in that culinary line.

Tickets for the picnic are now on sale. The proceeds will be devoted towards the purchase of the main altar of the new R.C. church to be erected in the south end of the city. The altar will cost about $1,500 and the T.A.S. have offered to provide the funds for it. Everything at the picnic will be reasonable in price as the primary object is not to make money, but rather to give the members of the society and their families a good outing at small expense.

LOCAL BATTERY OFF TO PETAWAWA

Attracted Much Attention as They Paraded to Station Saturday Afternoon

The 24th Field battery left for two weeks' training at the big military camp at Petewawa on Saturday, the train pulling out of the C.P.R. station shortly after six o'clock. The Campbellford battery arrived in the evening and transferred to the C.P.R. station where they joined the 24th and proceeded to camp on the same train.

The battery paraded at the east ward armouries at noon, and the artillery men were kept busy during the afternoon in fitting up the harness as it was necessary to arrange the equipment for sixty-four horses.

About four o'clock the battery parade dto the C.P.R. by way of Hunter and George streets, and entrained upon the arrival of the Campbellford contingent, getting away about six o'clock.

The battery was in command of Major Young and the other officers Capt. Hall, Lieut. Leary and Lieut. McDonough, Veterinary Lieut. Blanchard accompanied the battery as did Sergt.-Major Fee, to whose able instruction a good deal of the credit for the smart appearance of the battery is due.

The battery on arrival yesterday morning, found everything ready for their reception and comfort, as Capt. Hall and Sergt. Jefferson left by the C.P.R. midnight Friday to have things in good shape for the Battery. The 24th will doubtless command the admiration of all at Petewawa. They went in full strength, five officers 99 men and 64 horses. The men looked spick and span in their bright uniforms and are a fine lot of young men. Not a man of the battery, although most of Saturday was at their disposal for pleasure, was seen the worse of liquor. The horses taken were a good lot and attracted much attention.

The battery will be in camp two weeks.

Man Caught in the Elevator At Matthews Packing House

Jas Bourne Was Looking Over Guard Gate When Elevator Came Down and Crushed His Head—Several Bones Were Broken and He Was Badly Brused.

A very serious accident happened at Matthews' pork packing establishment Saturday, afternoon about half-past three, which nearly cost Mr. Jas Bourne, his life, in fact, it may yet prove fatal.

Mr. Bourne was on the second floor of the packing house and was looking over the guard gates down into the elevator well. The elevator was on the third floor, coming down with the engineer on it. Bourne evidently did not realize his position until the elevator caught him on the back of the neck and crushed him between the bottom of the elevator and the guard gate. The hoist was stopped almost immediately and saved the man from instant death, although he was very seriously injured. Dr. Scott and Dr. Malcolm McCulloch were called and did all in their power to relieve the man's sufferings. He was removed to his home on Rink street, in Comstock's ambulance, where it was found upon examination that the fellow's upper jaw on the right side was broken, his right eye was bruised and slightly ruptured, his nose was broken, and his upper lip severely cut, requiring several stitches, two ribs were broken from the chest bone, crushing in his lungs and his head and neck, front and back, received several nasty bruises.

It was, in the doctor's opinion, very doubtful whether he could recover, but he was given the very best of treatment and considering his condition spent a very good night and yesterday morning he was quite cheerful although he was by no means out of danger, and will not be for a day or two.

The Matthews Company regret the accident very much, as it is very seldom anything of the kind ever, happens there. They have always taken every possible precaution to protect their employees.

Improvements May be Made To Approach to Canoe Slide

At the Lower Locks--Local Grit Politicians Looking Over the Land--Canal Engineer Says Work Will Cost $4,000--An Offer to do it for $1,000.

For a long time citizens and the press have been complaining about the very dangerous condition of the lower locks, as far as canoes and skiffs are concerned. The attention of the canal officials has several times been drawn to the trouble. Up to the present, nothing has been done. In fact, the superintendent of the canal flatly refused to hear of any changes being made. He has repeatedly stated that he has had his engineers examine what is known as the canoe slide, and to make navigation safe there, would, they say, cost $4,000. The sum of money would be spent, first in dredging the stones and rocks out, and then constructing a second concrete pier, east of the present pier. This would start just above the canoe slide, run out into the river several feet, and then south to a point below the present pier. This would make a canal for small craft, an ideal one to be sure, where the water would be perfectly calm.

But the canoe men are by no means so unreasonable. They do not ask the government or the canal officials to spend any such sum. All they ask is that some of the rocks and stones be removed so that they can get up and down with a reasonable degree of safety. One well-known man, who has lived in the city for many years, has guaranteed to make the approach to the slide satisfactory to all for a sum less than one-quarter of the engineer's estimate, but the canal men say that if they do anything at all they will make a first-class job of it.

It is reported on excellent authority that the Grit politicians have several times visited the lower locks and sized up the situation, with the intention of having the existing difficulties removed. They have all admitted the necessity of something being done, but whether there will be or not is another matter. It is not at all likely that this year will see any improvement, but next year, the election will be nearer to hand, and very likely the canoe men will receive consideration.

Many Peterborough Men on Staff of Composite Regiment

Major Clegg, Capt. Bennet, Capt. MacLean and Major Davidson Will be at Kingston for Four Days--Other Information of Interest.

As has been noted for some time, two companies from the 57th regiment, Peterborough Rangers, will form part of the composite regiment, which will go into camp at Kingston on Tuesday, June 25th. The total strength of each company will be 42, 3 officers and 39 men. As the officers have already been selected, a total of 78 non-commissioned officers and men are wanted to make up the two companies. They will be enlisted at the drill hall after drill tomorrow night. Those desiring to go should notify the captains of their company, who will make the necessary arrangements.

The 57th regiment will be well represented on the staff of the composite company, in fact all the officers will be from Peterborough with the exception of the officer commanding, and the paymaster. Lieut.-Col Halliwell, of the Reserve Officers, late commanding officers of the 15th Regiment, will be in charge of the regiment. Major Clegg, of the 57th Regiment, will be the Major, and Captain G. W. Bennett, of the Rangers, will be the adjutant, and Capt. A. P. McLean, the quartermaster. The chaplain will be Major (Rev.) J. C. Davidson, also of the 57th.

Captain Mills and Lieuts. Hodgson and Merritt will be in charge of No. 1 Co., and Captain McWilliams and Lieuts. Higgins and Best, will be in charge of Co. No. 2.

A feature of the composite regiment this year will be a bugle band which will be picked from the bugle bands of the three regiments from which the composite corps is being made up. It is hoped that the bugle band of the local regiment will be able to contribute about a dozen buglers and drummers, in order that the 57th may make a good showing. Buglers and drummers wishing to go should make known their wishes tomorrow night.

The composite companies will leave Peterborough on Tuesday, June 25th and will return home on Friday evening of the same week. The trip to Kingston will be a good one, and there should be no difficulty in sending the two Peterborough companies full strength.

Have the Potato Beetles Been Given the Quietus?

Those Who Grow Potatoes State That the Bugs Have Not Yet Appeared—Mosquitoes Are Also Behind Time.

Has the kibosh been put on our friends the potato bugs?

The attention of the Review has been called to the fact that "them hard shelled critters," to use the rural vernacular, have not yet to any extent put in an appearance although a couple of weeks overdue and those who grow potatoes are wondering if the severe frosts this spring have put the bugs hors de combat. Probably the conductor put the bugs family's baggage off at the wrong station, or they may have met with a railway accident, or their automobile may have broked down, but at any rate they haven't put in an appearance yet and farmers are hoping that the bugs have been up against it good and hard.

In past years the bugs usually arrived early in June, but this season not a one has yet showed up. Several people from the country informed the Review on Saturday that they have yet to see a potato bug this season and a number of persons in the city who grow tubers were asked regarding the matter and expressed a similar opinion. The potatoes have been coming along fine during the past 2 weeks and if the bugs don't get a hustle on they will be too late to do much damage. Local bugologists think that the unusually cold weather during the time when spring should have been here and the severe frosts have put the beetles out of business, as Shakespeare would have said, and if they do not put in an appearance they will be counted down and out.

Incidentally it might be stated that something must have given the mosquitoes a solar plexus blow this spring for very few of them have come this way. In former years they were often so thick when the fishing season opened on June 16th that they almost plagued the life of fishermen who went down the river but this season they are conspicuous by their absence and no one is greatly troubled at heart about them either. It is to be hoped they will continue to give this vicinity a wide berth and the same sentiment might be expressed regarding the potato beetles.

Still if the bugs don't show up, those farmers who always insist on big prices for their tubers on the grounds that potatoes are going to be scarce on account of the ravages of the beetles will be without an excuse when the fall comes round and they go to market their potatoes. They will have the sincere sympathy of Peterborough householders generally.

The story is reliably vouched for that early this spring a commission merchant for a Montreal house was in this vicinity and bought a cargo of potatoes for his firm. The same potatoes were later retailed from Montreal to Peterborough and sold by them cheaper than potatoes were selling on the local farmers' market.

NEW POTATOES HERE ALREADY

Mr. Wm. Miles Showed the Review the First of the Season

Mr. Wm. Miles, who resides at 95 Weller street, today showed the Review about a dozen potatoes of this year's growth that were large enough and sufficiently matured for cooking. Some of them were as large as an egg and they were quite firm in texture. They were planted on Good Friday. Mr. Miles had potatoes fit for eating on June 6th last year, so it will be seen that vegetable growth is about two weeks behind last season.

Mr. Miles is somewhat of an experimentalist in this line and is conducting several interesting experiments. One of them is the growing of potatoes from the tops of growing tubers. He has made the interesting discovery that if a branch off the tops of a hill of potatoes is cut off and planted in suitable ground, a potatoe will form at each joint that is underneath the ground. Mr. Miles showed the Review several branches with small potatoes growing at the bottom, of them. These were planted about ten days ago and the potatoes at the root were already about the size of an ordinary marble.

NOMINATION OF OFFICERS HELD

At a special meeting of St. Peter's T.A.S. yesterday afternoon, nomination of officers for the last six months of 1907 took place, and election will take place at the regular meeting next Sunday.

A number of new members were added to the roll yesterday, and the meeting altogether, was most harmonious and enthusiastic.

SANITARY CONDITION OF CITY IS VERY GOOD

Sanitary Inspector Geo. Ball was on the warpath today gathering in samples of milk from the different dairymen doing business in the city. This is the third set of samples the inspector has taken, and when he gets the report from these all the names and results will be published.

Asked as to the general condition of the city from a sanitary standpoint the inspector stated that it was very satisfactory. There are yet quite a number of places to be cleaned up, but the men engaged in that kind of work are very busy all the time and are doing the best they can to get the places cleaned, and as long as the people are doing their best to comply with the law no one can make any complaint. A systematic inspection of the city is a new thing, and it can hardly be expected that the work will be done as quickly as in the future. There are also a number of individuals who have complaints to make about their neighbors, and these will be rectified, if possible, but it is hard to say whether the complaints will be stopped or not.

The members of the battery are marching about 20 miles a day and expect to reach Petawawa about the end of the month. They camped at Bowmanville on Friday night and were in Port Hope over Sunday. Tomorrow the artillerymen will march to Young's Point, where they will spend the night. They then will proceed to Burleigh, Coe Hill, Cumbermore, and other places to Petawawa. "B" Battery possesses 85 horses and 130 officers and men, and is in charge of Major Burnstall. They have several gun carriages and a hospital van.

WEDDING BELLS

JAMES—WALLACE

A pretty home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Wallace, 210 Chestnut street, St. James place, when their eldest daughter, Miss Lottie Wallace was married to Mr. George F. James, of Toronto, the Rev. Mr. Shaw performing the ceremony. The rooms were tastefully decorated with palms and flowers, and the bridal couple stood under a bell of red roses and smilax. The bride was gowned in a reseda green silk, made empire and trimmed with Irish crochet lace, finished with a girdle of green velvet; she carried a showed bouquet of white roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Maud Wallace, who wore a reseda green silk organdie, embroidered with sprays of daisies and trimmed with Irish crochet lace; she carried pink roses. The groom was supported by Mr. R. Boxer, of Montreal. Mr. and Mrs James left by the 5.20 train for Chicago and Philadelphia, going then to Toronto, where they will reside.—Winnipeg Free Press.

WESLEY--LEBARGE

A quiet wedding which will be of great interest to many Peterborough people was solemnized this morning in St. John's church when Rev. Canon Davidson read the service which united Mr. J. Charles Wesley and Miss Ida LeBarge. The ceremony was performed at 10 o'clock in the presence of only a very few friends and relatives. The bride was attended by Miss Shirley Wesley, sister of the groom, while the groom was supported by his brother Mr. Geo. Wesley.

The happy young couple left on the 11.16 C.P.R. train for Ottawa and points east, where they will spent a short honeymoon, and will then take up their residence in the city.

BIG GROUP OF SPOTS OBSERVED ON SUN

In Saturday's issue Rev. Dr. Marsh of Springville, reported that he had observed a large group of spots on the sun.

As bearing out the foregoing, the following will be read with interest A despatch from Washington says:

An enormous group of solar spots are observed for the first time today by Prof. Geo. H. Peters, of the United States Naval Observatory, with the photo heliograph.

"They probably appeared on the sun's eastern edge over two or three days ago," said Professor Peters in speaking of his observations, "but owing to clouds the observations were unobtainable here until today. The group at present consists of two large spots connected by a somewhat smaller one. There are a few outlying spots. The total length of the group is 82,000 miles, while its breadth is about 800,000 miles. It is nearly one-tenth of the apparent diameter of the sun, and can be easily seen through smoked or colored glass. This group is the sun's southern hemisphere, in the part known as the sub-spot zone, as was the enormous group announced last February.

Mr. R. F. Stupart, director of the Dominion meteorological service, stated last night when asked about this report, that no observation of such a character had been made here. He had made none himself, he stated.

Mrs. Sherry's pretty drawing rooms were appropriately decorated with bridal roses and white carnations. The guests were given dainty white and silver tally cards and told that they were to find the names of flowers represented by pictures on the wall. These were very cleverly arranged and proved rather puzzling. When these floral problems had been solved the prizes were awarded to Miss Hewson and Miss Bruce. The bride was then ushered into the dining room and told that it was her duty to open all the parcels that filled the table. Miss Rapsey is a sister of Mrs. Wm. Pringle of this city.

One Ingredient of Zutoo

Is soda—just old-fashioned soda, that our grandmothers took to settle the stomach.

The principal ingredient—the one that stops the headache, is a vegetable ingredient, imported for us from Japan. It wont hurt you any more than will the soda.

The other ingredients of Zutoo are just as harmless.

If you knew what the drug cures contain, and their ultimate effect on the system, you would discard them at once and take Zutoo, which is harmless as Soda.

Fifteen Men Work for Months Without Receiving Their Pay

Those Employed on the Dredge Trent Have Not Got Their Wages Since Dredging Began Several Weeks Ago—What is Cause of Government's Delay—Many Loud Complaints Heard.

"How would you like to work steadily for many months and not get your pay?" was asked of a Review reporter this morning on Hunter street by an employee of the dredge Trent, which is dredging the river just north of the Hunter street bridge.

"I certainly would not stand it," remarked the scribe. "Who has been toiling so long and getting no money?" was asked.

"We have," remarked the speaker. "You know when the dredge began operations this spring. This work has been going on since early in April, and not one of us have got a cent. We are feeling rather sore, and and do not propose to stand it. We are tired of constantly borrowing on the strength or plea of expecting our pay from Ottawa every day, and I think you would be heartily sick of it, too, if you were in our position."

It is learned that there are about fifteen men employed on the dredge "Trent," under Mr. Wm. Quinn. There are firemen, cranesmen, engineers and others, and the Public Works Department, Ottawa, which is carrying out the dredging contract, owes, it is said, some of the men as high as $200, and others $150, $175, $160 etc. Why the money has not been forwarded month by month to pay the men is a mystery. It should arrive regularly every month, but instead of that apparently not a dollar has come to hand.

It is certainly time for some one to wake up and for the authorities at Ottawa to get a move on. The Liberal Government is surely able to pay men who earn their daily bread by the sweat of their brow, when it can pay for junketing tours, private cars and trips abroad, as well as for many "incidentals" for the Cabinet Ministers now visiting Europe.

Shamrocks Drop Out of Junior Series of C.L.A.

Twelve Men Under Age Limit Cannot be Secured—Defeated Oshawa in Exhibition Game on Saturday

The Peterborough Junior Lacrosse team have dropped out of the Junior C.L.A. They were scheduled to play the Oshawa juniors here on Saturday and although the game took place it was only an exhibition match, Peterborough being unable to place a dozen men on the field who could take the declaration that they were under the age limit, which this year is 21. The prospects for the juniors at the commencement were bright as the fine showing made last year had enthused the players and they appeare deager for the fray. When the time came for them to take the declaration, however, it was found that there was not a dozen players eligible to compete in the junior C.L.A., and it was decided to drop out of the league. Oshawa therefore wins the district.

Saturday's contest at Riverside Park, in the afternoon, was merely an exhibition game, but it furnished the 150 spectators who were present with some good lacrosse. The locals won by four goals to two, the visitors taking the first two. Then the locals settled down and took four in a row. The first quarter ended 2—1 in favor of Oshawa; Peterborough notched two in the second period, and one in the third quarter, and in the last lap there was no scoring. The teams were evenly matched as far as weight was concerned, and by the way, some of those Oshawa chaps look as if they had crossed the 21 year limit. Its dollars to doughnuts that three or four of them could have voted at the last election, but that is none of Peterborough's business.

The teams and summary were as follows,—

Oshawa	Peterborough
Goal.
Thomas	McFadden
Point.
Guimnett	White
C. Point.
Swanson	Barber
Defence
Harding	Devlin
McCullough	Dusty
Carter	McNichol

Referee—Cave, of Beaverton.

SUMMARY.

1. Oshawa, Kempt, 3.45 mins.
2. Oshawa, Rouselle, 1-2 min.
3. Peterborough, Cameron, 2 1-2 mins.

2nd Quarter.

4. Peterborough, Long, 5.55 mins.
5. Peterborough, Dumble, 5.20 mins.

3rd Quarter.

6. Peterborough, Dobson, 6.15 mins.

Last Quarter.

No score.

Oshawa started off at a lively clip and their home brought in the ball in fine shape. They were passing well and only the good work of Barber and White kept them from scoring, but their persistent attack, was at last crowned with success, and Kempt beat out McFadden at close range. A little over thirty seconds later Rouselle repeated the trick but it proved to be the visitors' last goal. In 2 1-2 minutes Cameron scored for Peterborough and there was no further scoring in the first quarter.

Long score No. 2 for Peterborough in the second quarter and Dumble made it 3—2 on a pretty pass from Long. In the third period Dobson did a pretty stunt in front of the Oshawa goal and doubled the score for Peterborough. Play was somewhat ragged in the last period and neither team scored. The pace throughout was not as fast as is required to make good lacrosse and the passing at times was very loose. The Peterborough team did remarkably well, however, considering the fact that they have had very little practice.

Cave of Beaverton made a satisfactory referee and dealt out quite a number of penalties for minor offences.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country, than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years, was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and the mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Lakeviews Laced the League Leaders in Saturday's Game

Excelsiors Won From Strathconas in Heavy Scoring Game—Standing of the Clubs.

Lakeviews 14, Karenots 4.
Excelsiors 16, Strathconas 15.

The above are the results of Saturday's games in the Intermediate Baseball League. It was an easy victory for the Lakeviews at the Driving Park, but the contest at the Oval was a close and exciting one and the Excelsiors won only by the narrowest margins. A large number witnessed both matches.

In the Lakeview-Karenot contest, it certainly was an off day for the Karenot boys and they failed to continue there previous good record and were administered an overwhelming defeat by their opponents, who won their first game in the series on Saturday. It was by no means a good exhibition of ball, and the Karenot fielders, who heretofore had an excellent reputation, lost the game on Saturday, for they were guilty of numerous wild throws and other errors. It was not at all an exciting contest, and the onesidedness of it caused the interest to lag. The Karenots never, in all the games they have played, put up such a poor sample of ball. Their best batters failed to make any heavy hits. They owe their defeat to the fact that their pitcher was batted all over the field, and the inability of the fielders to get the ball when it came their way. The Lakeviews were in fine form and played nice ball, although several costly fumbles were chalked down to their credit. Mahoney, who twirled for the south enders had the Karenots guessing and no great hits were made off him. On the other hand, Bravander, who played his initial game with the Karenots, was hit all over the sward. He did not allow as many to walk to first as Mahoney, but the Lakeviews seemed to have little difficulty in hitting him. Doherty of the Lakeviews made the only home run. It was only a third base hit, but the leather was too high for the catcher when thrown home, and Doherty crossed the plate safely. Doherty and Theobald each made a two-bag hit, and Holland too made a creditable showing at the bat. He is a good fielder and shines at running and stealing bases. Their fielders all put up a good game and always stopped the ball when it came their way. Wilson has the honor of scoring the most runs for his team, making the rounds four times McGill and Theobald each scored and are great at stealing bases. Carson, Holland and Mahoney each crossed the home plate twice.

For the Karenots Lang, as catcher, let a number pass him, which resulted in several runs. His usual heavy batting was by no means a feature of the game, as he failed to make a hit. Bravander and Long were their best batters on Saturday and their runs were brought in by Geale, Lees, Bravander and Ray.

The Karenots went to bat first, but failed to score, Long being left on third. The Lakeviews did likewise in their first, but when the Karenots came in for the second they tallied one. Their opponents woke up and tallied three in this session, and in the next two added six more leading at the end of the fourth by seven From this time on there was no doubt as to the winners. The losers got their remaining two in the seventh, while the Lakeviews piled up five more and did not go to bat in their final innings, winning the contest with eleven runs to the good.

Mr W. Stacey made a satisfactory umpire.

The teams were;

Lakeviews.—Carson 2b, Holland ss Doherty lf, Menzies c, Wilson 1b. Mahoney p, Theobald 3b, McGill cf, Letellier rf.

Karenots.—Long 2b, Johnson cf, Lang c, Lees lf, Geale ss, Borraidaile rf, Ray 3b, Bravander p, V. Craig 1b.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

As a result of Saturday's games there are several changes in the standing of the league. The West Ends lead, while the Karenots go to second place, as a result of their defeat on Saturday. It will be a great game when these two meet and will likely decide the league. The standing of the clubs is as follows;—

	Won	Lost
West Ends	3	0
Karenots	3	1
Lakeviews	1	1
Excelsiors	1	2
Strathconas	0	2
Lillies	0	2

Strathconas and Lillies have played a tie game which will be decided by another contest on June 29th.

Peterborough Team Met Bad Defeat at Rosedale

Young Torontos Scored 14 While the Visitors Failed to Tally—Peterborough Team in Poor Condition to Stand the Pace.

The Peterborough intermediate lacrosse team played their first game of the season against the Young Torontos at Rosedale Saturday afternoon and were badly beaten. It was a C.L.A. fixture and the score was 14—0 and the sad part of the affair is that Peterborough did not have the 14. No such luck. Peterborough had the goose egg, and incidentally had more goals scored against them than is the lot of average lacrosse teams, particularly a Peterborough aggregation.

While those who knew the condition that the locals were in, hardly expected them to win against the seasoned Torontonians, not even the most pessimistic thought that they would be so badly trimmed. Their lack of condition told against them heavily and the home team waded in and made the score as big as they possibly could. And it will have to be admitted that it was rather large, almost uncomfortably so.

While the local fans will find it rather difficult to extract any consolation from that 14—0 touch still it has often been found that a sound trouncing at the beginning of the season does a team a world of good, and this will likely be the case as regards the Peterborough aggregation. What the team needs is practice, practice spelled in capital letters. The material is there, good, first class lacrosse material, but it needs a lot of shaping. If the boys turn out and train faithfully, there is no doubt but that they can take a fall out of the Toronto outfit when they come to Riverside Park on August 5th. Orillia plays here next Saturday, and if the locals expect to win they want to get on some stiff work this week. They can stand all kinds of practice, for no one will accuse them of being stale from overtraining.

The Toronto Sunday World tells the story of the landslide as follows;

Owing to the C. P. R. baggagemen putting off the Peterborough uniforms at Myrtle, the intermediate C.L.A. game at Rosedale, between the Young Torontos and Peterborough was half an hour late in starting. When the teams lined up Backus, of Newmarket, was found in the net for the visitors, while the famous Pat. McDonough also figured on the same line-up.

The teams were;

Peterborough	Young Torontos

Backus	Mitchell

Regan	Woods

Derocher	Jardine

Glover	Madill

Penalty, W Mitchell, Newmarket.

Referee, Peter McMillan, Beaverton.

Young Torontos rushed on the face-off, and after 1 1-4 minutes Stollery scored on a neat shot from the side.

It was Young Torontos all the way, and Mara repeated for the Rosedale boys in 2 minutes. Peterborough now had the ball in Toronto territory for the first time, but Woods relieved on a combination to Lowes to Heal, the latter scoring in 1 1-2 minutes.

Mitchell took care of a shot from close in, while McArthur and Regan were penalized. Both teams were checking hard, but finally, in three minutes on pretty combination close in from Heal to Lowes, the latter scored the fourth goal for Young Torontos. Peterborough were plainly seen to be outclassed, the Young Toronto defence holding out Peterborough home with ease, while the Quaker Oats town defence failed to cover their man. Murphy notched two for young Torontos in two and three minutes respectively, and Mara made it number seven, with Best resting on the fence. Time 2 1-2 minutes.

Score, first quarter, Young Torontos 7, Peterborough 0.

Better play marked the second quarter, although the game was somewhat marked by delays, McGrath being hurt and going off for a short period with Crocker. Regan was also hurt, as was Mara, but both were able to continue playing. Young Torontos notched three in 13m 4 and 2 minutes, by Stollery, Lowe and Stollery, respectively.

Peterborough failed to score, while those penalized were; McDonough 2, Meagher and McArthur 2.

Score at half time, Young Toronto 10, Peterborough 0.

By mutual agreement the last half was cut down to 12 minutes each quarter. Regan was unable to come on in the third quarter, and Murphy evened up. Young Torontos scored the only tally. Heal did the trick in 6 1-2 minutes. Best was the first penalty, while later McGrath, Brennan and Woods engaged in a slugging bee, all three finding a rest on the fence.

Score at three-quarter time, Young Toronto 11, Peterborough 0.

As in the previous quarter, Young Torontos were the only ones to score, Lowes, Heal and Lowes, scoring in 2 1-2, 1-2, and 2 1-2 minutes respectively, making the score;—Young Torontos 14, Peterborough 0 at the finish.

QUAKERS CAN'T BE KEPT DOWN

Intermediates Defeated Oshawa on Saturday 2 Goals to 1.

The intermediate Quakers took another step towards winning the Midland league championship on Saturday afternoon when they defeated the Oshawa kickers on their own stamping ground, 2 goals to one. It was a great victory for the Peterborough boys and they are naturally feeling jubilant as a result. Oshawa won their district of the league hands down, easily trouncing Port Hope. They expected to do likewise with the Quaker seconds, but ofund that they were up against the real thing. The home team went on the field confident and started to rush things and after five minutes play scored their first and only goal. The Quakers then settled down and took two before the first half was over and this was all the scoring done. The home team had the wind and sun in their favor in the second half and made it hot for the visitors, but could not score. The match was witnessed by numerous spectators and they were not at all pleased with the defeat of the home team and a few stones were thrown at the Quakers as they left the field but no serious damage was done.

The Quakers had on their regular line up and every man played great football. They state that Oshawa has a rattling good team and their opponents have to travel some to beat them. Dr. Dewitt, of Bowmanville, refereed the game satisfactory.

The Quakers lined up as follows:

Goal—Laing.

Backs—Scrimshaw and Sullivan.

Halves—DeJorge, Dinsman, and Archibald.

Forwards—Cannill, Hagley, Crough, Yates and Brodie.

The return game will be played at Riverside Park next Saturday when the Quakers should win again and take the first round of the semi finals.

UNITED STATES COURT OF CLAIMS

The Publishers of Webster's International Dictionary allege that it "is, in fact, the popular Unabridged thoroughly re-edited in every detail, and vastly enriched in every part, with the purpose of adapting it to meet the larger and severer requirements of another generation."

We are of the opinion that this allegation most clearly and accurately describes the work that has been accomplished and the result that has been reached. The Dictionary, as it now stands, has been thoroughly re-edited in every detail, has been corrected in every part, and is admirably adapted to meet the larger and severer requirements of a generation which demands more of popular philological knowledge than any generation that the world has ever contained.

It is perhaps needless to add that we refer to the dictionary in our judicial work as of the highest authority in accuracy of definition; and that in the future as in the past it will be the source of constant reference.

New Dock Was Formally Opened

Wharf at Smithson's on the Otonabee is Good One

The new dock at Smithson's Landing on the Otonabee River was formally opened on Saturday afternoon. The dock is about three quarters of a mile below Hale's bridge, or some eleven miles from Peterborough and will be a decided convenience to the people of Millbrook and South Monaghan, who make weekly trips to Peterborough. Formerly there was nothing but a stone pile and plank by which passengers got on and off the boats. The new wharf is built of stone and square timber and cost about $1,000. At the end is about nine feet of water. The work was carried out under the direction of Mr. Clem. Gordon, overseer of the Trent Canal, and was completed within two weeks' time. It is a splendid structure and will be widened near the shore, so that farmers may drive on and off and unload their grain, live stock, etc. on the boats.

Another wharf will be built at Wallace's, just above Hale's bridge. Work on this will be started at once. The old hotel at this point has been bought by Mr. Cardwell, of Toronto, and moved back on the hill. The building has been greatly improved and presents a fine, attractive appearance, and is an ideal summer home. The new wharf at Wallace's will be a great convenience to the people of Otonabee.

The Government boat, Sovereign, took down a party of citizens on Saturday afternoon to the formal opening of the dock at Smithson's leaving here at 3.30 o'clock and returning by eight o'clock. The sail was a delightful one. At the Yankee Bonnet, where the channel is shallow it will be considerably deepened, and down a few miles further at Dangerfield, the dredge Emmerson is now at work deepening the channel to nine feet. When the work at Dangerfield and the Yankee Bonnet is completed, there will be a nine foot channel all the way from the Locks below Little Lake to Hastings, a distance of forty-two miles. In the presence of the passengers on the boats, Sovereign, Water Lily, and Monarch, which were tied up at the new wharf at Smithson's the formal opening took place at five o'clock. Mr. T. F. Matthews acted as chairman and briefly referred to the convenience that the new dock would be to the people of that section.

Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., the first speaker, also touched upon the importance of the work and the benefit of the great Trent waterway, which was now open from Lake Simcoe to Healey's Falls, a distance of 160 miles, the work having been carried out at an outlay of over $5,000,000. It was advisable and essential that good docks should be built along the route. They helped the people in many ways and also facilitated trade with Peterborough, as by a short drive passengers could go to the dock and take the boats to Peterborough as well as ship grain, live stock, etc. He also paid a tribute to the excellent boat service.

Hon J. R. Stratton also spoke briefly and congratulated the people on having such an excellent wharf. The dock would be a great convenience and would doubtless be appreciated by the farmers and others. He spoke of the importance of the Trent canal and the great factor it would be in the development of trade and commerce.

Mr. J. H. McClellan, superintendent of the Trent Canal, said the people were getting back a little of the money they had contributed to the revenue of the country and he felt in the building of this dock they had got good value, and he was pleased to state that more docks would shortly be built along the line of the canal.

Other speeches were made, after which the steamboats whistled a salute and the formal opening ceremonies were over.

Stirring Romance of Gypsy Queen

Foretold Child's Death and Was Loved by English Earl

Gypsy Madge, whose real name is Madge Hicks, is the seventh daughter of a seventh daughter, and is not only a real English gypsy of the most aristocratic of the Romany tribes, but has had at least two remarkable advances in her life, which a Winnipeg Free Press reporter can vouch for.

Several years ago while staying in Manchester, England, with relatives, the writer was told a strange story by a lady friend, which marked the first instance of the exercise of the remarkable powers of the gypsy queen now at Happyland.

Oldham is a great mill centre about half a dozen miles from Manchester, and here the father and Mother of Gypsy Madge carried on their fortune telling business with marked success. One day, a little black-eyed girl with curly hair was playing in the fields when the Manchester lady who told the story came by with her little boy. She got into conversation with the gypsy girl, and at last in a moment of foolish jesting, asked the child if she could tell fortunes. Madge said she could as she had seen it done so often, although she had never tried. She was at last persuaded by the lady to tell the fortune of the little boy, and horrified her by telling her that she would lose the child by a watery death in three days. Coincidence, or wild guess work, founded on some unknown scientific basis, or account how you will for it, the child was drowned three days later, and the mother, who told the writer the story, has always since had a belief in the claims of gypsies to these occult powers.

LOVED BY AN EARL.

Gypsy Madge thus made her first debut as a fortune teller under tragic circumstances, the lady seeking out her parents in her first heart-broken days of her loss and telling them the story, saying if she only had not treated it as a jest, she might, perhaps, have saved her boy.

In later years, Madge who was then a beautiful girl fell in love and was loved in turn by an English peer, the Earl of ——, but as this is a true story, he is still living, and married, happily, the name may be withheld. The young lord, who was an artist and who went by the name of Fitzpatrick met her in the woods and asked permission to sketch her. The picture afterwards found its way into an Academy and now is owned by an American millionaire. Something more than a flirtation sprung up, between the two but the Earl's family bitterly opposed the match, and hurried the young man out of England for a term of years, and bribed the parents of Gypsy Madge to emigrate to the States. So ended the romance and although the pretty gypsy was engaged later to Robert Lee, who every English school boy, has heard of, as the king of gypsies, yet she still remains unwed, and confesses that the power of fortelling her own fate is not given her.

The celebrated palmist, Louise, who is associated with Gypsy Madge in the present venture, is one of the most remarkable judges of character that the reporter has met.

After he had met Gypsy Madge by accident and found that she was an old acquaintance of whom he had often heard, she introduced him to Mlle. Louise, and two ladies coming in to have their hands read, the reporter was allowed to listen to the readings which were very clever, but being a born sceptic he was persuaded to test the truth of what was told, by an examination of his own hand. He was obliged to confess that the reading was good, because it made so many lucky hits at actual facts in his life and character. As the ladies said the same thing, perhaps, after all, there is more than luck in Louise's readings.

HALF HOLIDAY DURING SUMMER

Merchants Will Close Every Thursday Afternoon During July and August

The merchants of Peterborough will again inaugurate the half holiday movement during the months of July and August. Every Thursday afternoon, beginning on July 4th, their places of business will be closed and the clerks will enjoy a half holiday. The movement was started last year and was generally observed. In fact so successful and beneficial was it that the merchants have this year voluntarily agreed to close their establishments during July and August on each Thursday afternoon.

Mr. T. C. Elliot, of the Beehive and Knitting Works, was the first to post an announcement to this effect, and the other merchants have readily fallen in line. Messrs. A. W. Cressman, Robert Fair & Co., the J. C. Turnbull Co., T. H. Adams and others will shut up their premises. It is understood that the clothing dealers will also enter into an arrangement to close as well as several other lines of trade, including boots and shoes, hat and cap dealers and others.

The only stores which did not close last year were the grocers and hardware establishments.

Clarence Speers was acquitted at Liverpool, N. S., of the charge of murdering Edgar Way.

Independent Foresters at George Street Church

Rev. Dr. Crothers Preached Special Sermon That Was Much Appreciated—Turnout Largest in History of Court Chemong.

One of the largest fraternal church parades held in Peterborough for some time was that of Court Chemong No. 530 Independent Order of Foresters, to George street church last evening. Over 100 members were in line, a number of visitors being present from Courts in the surrounding district. The special sermon for the occasion was preached by Rev. Dr. Crothers, who dealt with the point that no man lived for himself, that brotherly love and brotherly assistance would make the world brighter and detract from human suffering and human sorrow.

The Foresters assembled at their hall on Hunter street at 6.30 and marched in a body to the church where they occupied the central section of seats. There was a large congregation present and the musical service was bright and appropriate. Rev. Dr. Crother's discourse was based on Romans, 14-7, "For none of us liveth to himself, and no man dieth to himself." At the commencement he pointed out that true Christian religion consisted mainly of self sacrifice. The spirit of Jesus Christ should dwell in every true Christian and Christ's life on earth was devoted to helping others, of alleviating suffering and of promoting the gospel of charity and love to fellow men. Experience had shown that a life devoted to self had never been successful in the proper sense of the word; there were no truer words than those of the apostle when he said "No man liveth to himself."

The speaker enlarged upon the point that to do service to one's fellowman, to assist in carrying the burdens of those around you, to help those in distress were the brightest things in human life and too noble to even be compared to a life devoted to selfish motives and filled with the money making spirit. Dr. Crothers congratulated the Independent Foresters upon the great growth of their Order and the splendid work they had done and were doing towards giving help where help was most necessary. Hundreds of widows and children throughout the land blessed the Order for the assistance that had come to them from the Foresters. But not only in insurance matters was the I.O.F. doing great work, but also in following the example of the ones who were referred to when it was said, "I was sick and ye visited me, I was hungry and ye fed me, I was naked and ye clothed me." When life was drawing to a close the thing that would give most pleasure to the dying one would not be the amount of riches acquired, nor the worldly fame attained, but the remembrance of the helping hand given to some brother man in his hour of trouble, the bearing of another's burden, the helping smile that helped to make the world better and brighter. To help one's brother was the precept to be followed if one was to make the most of life.

A duet by Miss Ressor and Mr. F. C. Freeland was one of the features of the musical service and was greatly appreciated by the Foresters and others present.

On the return to their hall the Foresters passed votes of thanks to Rev. Dr. Crothers for his excellent sermon, to choir for their contribution to the service and to the trustee board for the use of the church. The marshall for the parade was Bro. W.H. G. Jackson, and the committee in charge consisted of Chief Ranger Wm. Miles; Vice C.R. Geo. McKee, Secretary W. J. Byers, Bros. W. H. G. Armstrong, E. Rourke, G. Metcalfe and N. Howard Moore, convenor.

The handsome new badges were worn for the first time and attracted attention. The design is very pretty and they are finished in a more artistic manner than the ordinary lodge badge. The new officers' sashes recently presented to Court Chemong by the High Court of Eastern Ontario, were also worn for the first time. They are something of which the Court may well feel proud. Last night's church parade was the largest in the history of Court Chemong and much credit is due the committee in charge.

MR. BROWNE OF CHICAGO SANG

Mr. A. D. Browne, of Chicago, Ill., spent Sunday at his home here, leaving again this evening. Last night he sang as a solo in St. John's church, one of the most beautiful sacred songs ever written, "Come See the Place Where Jesus Lay," by Horatio Parker. Mr. Brown's rendition of it was of a very superior character. He has a magnificent voice and his enunciation is perfect. The congregation of St. John's church were delighted and they will give Mr. Browne a very cordial welcome to the city again.

Association Will Meet in Port Hope

Baptist Gathering Will be Held on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday

The 105th annual meeting of the Peterborough Association of Baptist churches will be held in the Port Hope Baptist church on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday this week.

It was thought that owing to the death of Rev. J. E. Trotter, pastor of Port Hope, the Association would possibly not assemble in that town. Peterborough very generously offered to have the Association meet here in Murray street church. Port Hope replied thanking the Peterborough, Baptists, but declined the kind offer, stating that full arrangements had been made, and that it would not be wise to upset them at this late date. It is expected that about 70 delegates will be in attendance from the various churches forming the Association. The delegates from Murray street church who will attend are: Rev. J. R. Webb, Messrs. B. Matthews, P. Downham, E. W. Elcome, W. Aldridge, and Snell, Mesdames (Dr.) Scott, G. K. Martin, Udy White and others.

Montgomery, and Mr. J. P. Cunningham. The congregation sent a beautiful floral token in the "Gates Ajar."

Rev. Mr. Webb yesterday feelingly, Rev. C.P.R. Carried 1000 Immigrants

First Special Arrived Here at 7.16—Were Fed by W. J. McCallum

The C. P. R. passenger department on the main line from Montreal to Toronto, has been hustling since yesterday. A large number of immigrants arrived on Saturday at Quebec and about a thousand went through to Toronto. To carry this crowd three extra trains besides the two regulars were used. The regular due here at 5.10 a.m., was on time, but had several extra coaches. The second section came through at 7.16, with at least 250 on board. These were all fed here. The C.P.R. notified Mr. W. J. McCallum, shortly after four o'clock this morning that lunch was wanted for 250 people. The well-known restaurateur got busy and when the train pulled in, he was at the station with 600 sandwiches and 16 gallons of hot coffee.

The regular eight o'clock train pulled into the station on time this morning with another large number of immigrants, a second special arrived soon after nine, and a third about an hour later.

Lively Runaway on Hunter Street

A lively runaway took place on Hunter street Saturday evening about seven o'clock and resulted in a buggy being smashed.

It appears that Mr. Sam. Stinson, who resides about eight miles from this city had his team and buggy tied up in the yard to the rear of Mr. Geo. Bathgate's blacksmith shop on Hunter street. Mr. Bathgate was busily engaged at his work when suddenly he heard a team running out of the yard. When he got to the door they were going full speed up Hunter street. They did not go far before the damage was done. At Mr. T. Parker's bicycle shop the horses separated. Here they collided with a telegraph post, one going on each side of it. The whipple tree was broken as also was the long pole. One horse was stopped, but the other continued its gallop down Queen street to Simcoe and along Simcoe to Water, where it was stopped.

Mr. Stinson had to have his buggy repaired before he could go home.

Armoury Grade Will be Raised

It Will be Made Foot Higher to Conform With Collegiate

As a result of a protest by the Board of Education and representations that were made to the Militia Department at Ottawa, the grade of the new armories will be raised a foot, instructions to this effect having been received last week. The grade at present is some 18 inches lower than that of the new Collegiate Institute, and the the fact that it is to be raised by a foot, leaving it only six inches lower, will be welcome news to all who are interested in the matter of having these two public buildings on the Central park of the city erected on nearly the same level as possible.

Paraded Station Platform With Heavy Coats and Ruffs

Rather Amusing Scene at C.P.R. Depot This Morning --Immigrants Were Prepared for Cold Weather.

Evidently the people of the Old Country are not yet free from the belief that Canadians are a land of perpetual cold, and that Canadians wear furs for about eleven months of the year. This morning an immigrant train with about 400 newcomers from the old land on board passed through Peterborough on The C.P.R., and was stopped for a short time at the C. P. R. station. Some of those on board got off to stretch themselves by a walk along the platform, and those who were at the station could not refrain from laughing at the way some of the newcomers were dressed. Several of the men had heavy cloth coats on and emerged from the train with the collars turned up, as if they expected to step out into an Arctic climate. The children too, had heavy coats on and not a few had fur ruffs around their necks to protect them from the chilly air, which they expected would greet them.

However, just at that time the mercury was trying to crawl out at the top of the thermometer, and even some of the sons of Albion could not refrain from laughing when the perspiration started to trickle down their faces.

Those on board the train seemed able looking and well dressed and should make good citizens. None of them remained at Peterborough.

Rev. Dr. Crothers Preaches On Parental Responsibility

In George street Methodist church on Sunday morning, the pastor, Rev. Dr. Crothers, delivered a thoughtful stirring and impressive sermon on "The Relation of Parents to Moral Conditions."

There was a large congregation present. The reverend gentleman spoke from Proverbs, 22nd chapter, and 6th verse,—

"Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old he will not depart from it."

In opening, he said that many children of the present day were not securing proper parental supervision, and moral training, and that more attention should be given to this important question.

Referring to Solomon's weighty words of wisdom, the speaker said that they described the model wife and mother, the ideal son and father, the business man's best qualities, and also the surroundings that one looks for in the home. Continuing, he said that the home is the germ of all our institutions. Society is composed of a number of families, and the characteristics of the unit are generally noticeable in the whole combined. Similarly, the Government public and business life depends upon the homes from which the members are taken. After showing how the home has many strong influences, Rev. Dr. Crothers said that in the city of Peterborough, where the educational advantages are unsurpassed there is an increasing element that is most disorderly. He was glad that the Review had called the public's attention to the fact, and considered that it was a splendid example for this paper to take the reins in the matter. The pulpit, he said, had been remiss and had shown too much platitude. What is needed are plain spoken statements of the truth.

PARENTS RESPONSIBLE.

The parents themselves are responsible for the care and education of their children. If they do not culture them, who will? Rev. Dr. Crothers declared that the great ambition of a father and mother should be to train their children in the highest ideals, namely, honor, truth and purity. Few people consider that on the one hand their children receive a home training, and on the other is an array of forces for evil that only the strongest can cope with and conquer.

Respect and honor for woman was dealt with by the speaker in clean-cut words that carried conviction. This is not an age of chivalry, and the good old Anglo-Saxon love and support of the weaker sex is sadly wanting in the characters of our boys. And then Rev. Dr. Crothers pointed out what the forces were that had wrought this alarming result.

BAD COMPANY.

The first mentioned was evil companions, whose vile expressions of corrupt minds soon lead the young boy from the ideas that his mother may have instilled in him. Then there is scandalous literature that need not be described. Pictures and stories of the blackest nature, smuggled into the country, for our mails will not handle them. Questionable posters that are seen about the city and for which the mayor and aldermen are responsible, also received attention, and lastly the general street education that children receive by frequenting them.

RATHER A RATTLESNAKE.

Regarding pernicious literature in the hands of the young, Rev. Dr. Crothers told of a judge who had to deal with two postoffice employees who were charged with allowing papers of that class to pass through the mails. The men were declared guilty, and as he sentenced them to two and three years in prison, respectively, he said, "I would sooner see a rattlesnake on my child's couch than that vile trash."

DUTIES OF PARENTS.

In closing, the speaker showed that parents might take proper care of their children, and how to implant a love for the home. First, it should be made bright, attractive and cheerful. There should be plenty of legitimate amusement provided and no fault found with a boy's games and simple fun. There should be sympathy between parents and children and the former should have their every confidence. Who can care like a mother, no matter what the trouble may be! The parents should know where their children are and what they are doing. The should teach them the right things to do, rather by love than by birch rod. In many ways the parents' duty was distinctly mapped out, and those who have been lax might take the earnest words of Rev. Dr. Crothers to heart and try to live up to his ideal.

Band at Jackson Park tonight. Also on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights.

WILL INVESTIGATE DREDGING CONTRACT

In reference to Mr. Mahoney's contract to handle the dredged material for the city, the Review has learned from Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P. that Mr. Quinn's instructions from Mr J. G. Sing were to treat Mr. Mahoney just the same as Mr Conroy was treated. The engineer in charge of the Public Works Department in Ontario does not want any difference shown and he will be down here in a few days to investigate the trouble. Mr. Quinn says that he has been treating Mr. Mahoney justly.

Don't blame the child, the chances are, it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

AGE OF THE EARTH.

Radium's Part In Solving an Important Controversy.

"The discovery of radium has gone a long way toward solving an important controversy between mathematicians and geologists," said Sir Robert Ball at the Bishopgate institute not long ago in London. The controversy referred to concerned the time required for peopling the earth, and it appears that radium has come to the relief of the geologists and given them the victory. Sir Robert, explaining the controversy, dealt with figures of bewildering magnitude.

Lord Kelvin had calculated that not more than 20,000,000 years ago the earth's surface was so hot that water could not rest on it, and the oceans were vapors. He based his calculations on what was then known concerning the internal heat of the cooled rocks of the earth's crust.

"The geologists," said Sir Robert Ball, "complained that they could not make their discoveries and deductions accord with that miserable allowance of time. But the mathematicians, going over their calculations again, would not give them a week longer."

It seems that geologists wanted a modest 800,000,000 years, and the discrepancy of 780,000,000 years was disconcerting, for it looked as if science was contradicting herself. The geologists knew they must be about right, and the mathematicians knew that figures could not lie.

"The Hon. Mr. Strutt, son of Lord Rayleigh," said Sir Robert, "has shown that in the rocks in the crust of the earth there is a considerable quantity of radium which is forever pouring out heat at a great rate.

"This being the case, the date at which the earth first became cool enough for life must have been far more remote than 20,000,000 years ago. It must have been sufficiently remote to give the geologists all the 800,000,000 years they demanded to account for the phenomena they had found."

When the Seas Began.

Professor C. M. Woodward in his presidential address to the American Association For the Advancement of Science last December remarked that recent pendulum observations which indicate the variations of gravity have justified the conclusions of Professor Dana concerning the permanence of the continents and oceans. The earth's crust is found to be more dense beneath the oceans than beneath the continents, and it is believed that the distinction between sea and land has its basis in the heterogeneity of the material composing the interior of the earth. The determining conditions arose in the original aggregation of that part of the primitive nebula which formed the earth. The ocean basins afterward gradually subsided, and the continental masses gradually rose, with many fluctuations, but upon the whole they have never exchanged places.—Youth's Companion.

Queer Provisions of a Will.

Louis C. Bruns in his will, recently filed for probate, directed that his body be cremated and that his wife, Minnie E. Bruns of Lexington avenue, keep his ashes unless she marries again, when they shall be thrown to the winds.

The clause in the will relating to the matter is as follows: "I direct that my body be cremated and the ashes be kept by my wife, and should she marry again I direct that my wife shall see that my ashes are thrown to the four winds from some high point of vantage."—St. Louis Republic.

The Czar's "Protected" Train.

The czar's imperial bomb proof train in which the dowager empress of Russia traveled from St. Petersburg attracts much attention. It is a magnificently furnished train and consists of nine very large coaches, the bodies of which are specially constructed of steel. Each of the coaches bears the imperial eagles emblazoned in gold on the outside panels. One peculiar feature is the smallness of the windows. The train is guarded night and day by thirty or forty attendants, most of whom live thereon.—London News.

Queen Alexandra's Diplomacy.

Very recently while at Buckingham palace it came to the queen's knowledge that one of the upper housemaids, who had been in the royal service for years, was very unhappy over a love affair. The queen sent for the girl and after advising and consoling her sent her to Sandringham for a change. Then the queen summoned the lover and, after a good natured homily, with humorous tact sent him to Sandringham too. The couple have since returned, and there will be a wedding at Buckingham palace soon.—London P. T. O.

Dick Turpin's Oak.

In lopping off a branch of the old oak known as Turpin's oak, which stands at the corner of a lane leading into the Great North road nearly opposite the gates of Finchley cemetery, several pistol bullets were found imbedded in the wood. In the records of Dick Turpin's trial at York it is mentioned that it was at this spot that he, with Tom King, robbed the royal mail in 1724 of £300.—London Standard.

Greenland For Tuberculosis.

It is claimed the arctic region is an ideal location for the treatment of tuberculosis on account of the almost perpetual sunshine. It is dustless, the air is pure and dry, and the unusual scenes stimulate the desire for exercise. Dr. Frederick Boben of Washington is inclined to believe that a Greenland sanitarium is not only a medical possibility, but a practical business proposition.

President Plummer sees little prospect of settlement of the Nova Scotia Steel Coal dispute.

NIFTY
"AH THERE!"

Some people act as if they thought hot air were a fumigator.

Each one of us is a hypocrite. The game consists in never giving away your special brand.

In union there is strength—also in onion.

The trouble about Cupid is he is so apt to get busy at inconvenient times.

Humble minded people usually show good judgment by their mental attitude.

It's a toss up between having a dressmaker in the house and having housecleaning going on, but when he thinks of the bills the man of the house will forget how he dislikes housecleaning.

Getting into trouble is largely a matter of habit anyway.

From the height of your own conceit the depth of your neighbor's rut is clearly perceptible.

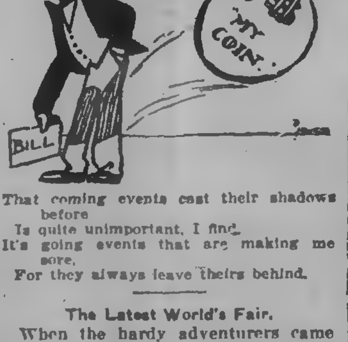
Satisfied, But—

I haven't any auto,
I do not own a horse,
My bicycle is out of joint,
My pass is not in force.
Sometimes when street cars rumble
I have to let them slide,
Not having in my hand the price
Of one short five cent ride.
But still I am not kicking;
That isn't bright nor wise,
Because I know that walking
Is splendid exercise.

I do not very often—
'Tis sad, but true indeed—
Step in a restaurant and get
A fine three dollar feed.
I may as well confess it,
Just once I ran that bluff,
And then another fellow
Was paying for the stuff.
It puzzles me quite often
To keep dates with the cook,
But fasting is real healthy
I've read in some big book.

It may be I am lucky
Enough, the way things go,
To have my lot so healthy,
With not much else to show;
It's pleasant to be sturdy
And pure as river ice,
For pleasures that would harm me
I haven't got the price;
But still sometimes I fancy
I'd like to change the run—
Be for a time less healthy
And have a little fun.

In Unpaid Bills.



That coming events cast their shadows before
Is quite unimportant, I find,
It's going events that are making me sore,
For they always leave theirs behind.

The Latest World's Fair.

When the hardy adventurers came over to this country looking for gold or congressional nominations little did they think that in 400 brief years we would be saving our pennies for the purpose of going down to look at the spot where they set foot.

How hard it is for us to know when we are doing a specific act whether future generations will applaud or present day policemen will call us down for it!

As there were no police nor keep-off-the-grass signs in the new world at that time the landing was not interfered with, and as a consequence we are celebrating it by having one of the finest pocket editions of a world's fair that have been published for some time.

If the men who first set foot here could come back they would be so surprised at what they would see that the press agent would have the time of his life making them believe their eyes.

STOCK MARKET QUOTATIONS

New York, June 17.—The stock market was subjected to a hammering this morning at the start, but support was extended and the shorts began at once to retire contracts. The list gave the appearance of having been sold out and the indications now point to a recovery that may extend into a resumption of the recent advance in anticipation of the July disbursements. We note some signs of returning confidence, as investment is increasing and believe the list will be worked upward for a time by specialty operations. We especially recommend Missouri, Kansas and Texas, both common and preferred, for investment at these figures. The earnings of this road are showing up wonderfully well and when the next bull market comes these issues will sell a great deal higher. It is the cheapest low priced group on the entire list. The road is rounding out the year with an increase of nearly 27 per cent, in gross earnings and nearly 50 per cent. in net as compared with last year. April contributes to this showing an increase of $480,000 in gross and $100,000 in net earnings.

Wheat after opening a fraction under Saturday's close, advanced two cents per bushel, with corn and oats acting in sympathy.

PORT HOPE HAS VERY FAST BASEBALL TEAM

"Ned" Poulter, the star shortstop of the Toronto Arctics, who played here on May 24th, is locating in Peterborough, and will be found on the Peterborough nine when they line up against Port Hope at Riverside Park on Thursday afternoon. Poulter liked the town when he was here on the holiday, and has secured a position here. He will greatly strengthen the team, as he has few superiors as a short stop.

Thursday's contest promises to be a red hot affair and Port Hope has an exceptionally fast team. They are the prospective champions of the Midland League, and Surphlis, who is doing the twirling for them, is pitching great ball. A big crowd is coming from Port Hope and Cobourg with the moulders' excursion and there promises to be a record breaking crowd at the game.

The Peterborough team will practice tonight at Riverside Park and every man is asked to turn out.

BASEBALL

EXCELSIORS WON.

The Strathconas and Excelsiors played the protested game of May 25th off on Saturday afternoon at Nicholls Oval and after an exciting contest the Excelsiors won by 16 runs to 15. The game was close all the way through, and it was hard to say who would be winners. It was a good exhibition and well worth seeing.

The Strathconas state that they will protest the game. They claim it was a tie, and the score keeper failed to record one run. According to the scorer the score was as above stated.

GAMES TONIGHT

The Lakeviews and Lillies meet tonight at the Patterson street field and the Strathconas and West Ends play at the West End field in the intermediate series. Both will no doubt be interesting contests. The West Ends have not yet lost, but the Strathconas will try hard to break their record tonight.

Mr. Fred Craig will handle the indicator in the West End—Strathcona game and Mr. W. Stacey will officiate in other.

Complains as to Barking Dog

A Gilmour street resident called at the Review office today and there was fire in his eye. "I want you to call attention," he said, "to a nuisance. A neighbor of mine keeps a dog and the animal barked constantly last night. I did not get a wink of sleep; neither did the members of my family. How long will we have to put up with this state of things? Is there no law by which the owner of the offending canine can be punished? If not there should be."

NO BAND CONCERT WILL BE GIVEN TO-NIGHT

Owing to the 57th Regiment Band heading the marchout of the soldiers this evening, there will be no band concert at Jackson Park tonight, as advertised.

A concert will, however, be given at the park tomorrow, Wednesday night and Thursday night, and there will be special car service to the park on both evenings.

Improvements at House of Refuge

Considerable work in the way of improvements has been done and will still be done at the County House of Refuge farm. A sewerage system has just been installed, and a cess pool made on the property, about 150 feet from the House, for the reception of sewage.

A gravel driveway will be built in front of the building and the front yard will be levelled and graded. A new gate will be placed in position and on it will be the sign, "House of Refuge Farm." A wire fence has also been built in front of the farm.

Mr. R. N. Scott, chairman of the House of Refuge Committee will look after the improvements.

Did the Mixture Contain Poison?

And Did West End Resident Attempt to Poison Neighbor's Chickens

It is said that a citizen residing in the west end put out a pan of mixed feed for the chickens of a neighbour. The latter became suspicious, and discovering the pan handed the decoction over to the police, who it is said, had it analyzed by a veterinary surgeon and the apparently harmless mixture is reported to have contained poison.

So far nothing further appears to have been done in the matter. The residents of the neighborhood think that action should be taken and the offending neighbor brought to time.

Seven men in the Cobalt Central mine were overcome by gas and were only saved by prompt medical aid.

The ten-year-old son of George A. Gardiner of St. Thomas, was run down by a cab on Saturday.

'Twas Hotter To-day Than Yesterday

Government Thermometer at Noon Registered 89 Degrees —Cooler To-morrow

At noon today the Government thermometer registered 89 degrees in the shade.

This is two degrees hotter than yesterday, when the registration at 12 o'clock was 87 degrees. In the afternoon at two o'clock the mercury rose to 89 degrees, the same as it was at noon yesterday.

However, cheer up! The probs. say that the weather tomorrow will be much cooler, and that we may expect showers within the next 24 hours. The outlook is not so bad, after all.

Ottawa's civic light plant for the year ending May 31, gave a net profit of $7,060.

Emperor Took the Initiative; Latest on Russian Situation

Dismissal of Douma Was Resolved Upon a Fortnight Ago.

Stolypin Opposed the Proposal—Reactionaries Hold High Festival—Held All Night Fete at Which Champagne Was Served to All Comers—General Strike Not Likely—News Received Quietly.

St. Petersburg, June 18.—From a well-informed source the Associated Press learns that the decision to dissolve the Douma and abolish the former election law was due to the initiative of the Emperor, whose original intentions went far beyond the steps actually taken. His Majesty wished to dismiss Parliament a fortnight ago and prolong the interval between the convocation of a new assembly, thinking that this would permit the agitation throughout the country to subside.

He was encouraged in this attitude by court circles, but finally yielded to the argument of Premier Stolypin, who strongly advocated the convoking of the Douma in the autumn. The Premier also succeeded in having stricken from the electoral law provisions increasing the educational and property qualifications for suffrage and raising the age limit of voters from 25 to 30 years, working upon His Majesty, by what is disgustedly described by one of his opponents as "the bugaboo of reaction."

It is learned that the manifesto was drafted at Tsarskoe-Selo over a fortnight ago, only a few minor changes being introduced Saturday night. Copies of the manifesto reached the papers, with the date Tsarskoe-Selo uncorrected. It is stated that the Empress was one of the most vigorous enemies of the Douma.

Reactionists' Jubilant.

Reactionary circles here are jubilant over the dispersion of the Douma, the Conservative deputies holding an all-night fete at the Conservative Club in celebration of the Emperor's decree. Champagne was served to all comers. The Emperor's decision was hilariously cheered, and ultra-loyal speeches were delivered. Ex-Minister Yermoloff, hitherto considered a moderate Liberal, in an oration, glorified the change in the Douma as rescuing Russia from the hands of aliens and Jews and restoring the power to the classes which heretofore ruled the empire.

Telegrams from practically every city in the empire announce that the news of the dissolution of Parliament was received quietly and with almost an entire absence of demonstrations. Even at Odessa and Kiev no disturbances occurred. The prefect of police of Kiev issued orders that no demonstrations on the part of the reactionists or revolutionists be allowed, and that no open discussion of the dissolution of Parliament be permitted.

Press Muzzled.

The order of Gen. Dracheffski, prefect of police of St. Petersburg, prohibiting hostile criticism of the Government, was copied almost universally throughout Russia by the Governor-generals and completely muzzled the Liberal press.

The few newspapers appearing here yesterday make extremely guarded comments on the situation, the radical Russ contenting itself with expressing the hope that two election campaigns in one year will widen the political horizon of the people and make them firm adherents of the idea of parliamentarism.

The Novoe Vremya, which has aligned itself with the reactionists, attacks the new election law as a half-way measure, affording the possibility that the revolutionary elements will again be able to enter Parliament.

A close study of the new election law, which is a bulky document of eighty pages, in complicated phraseology, has somewhat dispelled the feeling of gloom in Liberal circles. The idea is gaining ground that the Government has failed in its intentions, and that there is a possibility there will be an oppositional majority in the third Parliament, as in the case of its predecessors. Even under the new law it is thought that the Constitutional Democrats will retain control of the cities, though perhaps they will be swamped by the Social Democratic proletarist in the elections of the second and poorer categories of urban voters.

The Constitutional Democrats also hope to return a considerable number of the sixty land-owning representatives whom the Government believed would be exclusively Conservative.

Too Much or Too Little.

According to the opinion of a foreign diplomat, who is in close touch with the court, the Government has done either too much or too little. It has violated the fundamental laws, or constitution, and laid itself open to the charge of accomplishing a coup d'etat without altering election law sufficiently to produce the desired results.

The feeling in court circles against Premier Stolypin, who has undertaken full responsibility before His Majesty for a speedy convocation of Parliament on the present basis of suffrage, is said to be most bitter, and he is alleged to be the object of a strong reactionary intrigue.

The grant of seven Parliamentary representatives to the Armenians and Tartars was decided upon at the last moment. The original plan was to disfranchise the Caucasus entirely, but this was abandoned owing to the representations of Count Von Vorontzoff-Dashkoff, viceroy of the Caucasus, who is now here fighting to save his political head.

The holy synod has ordered the imperial manifesto to be read in all the churches next Sunday.

The committee of the lower House of Parliament, consisting of 22 members, appointed to investigate the charges against the Social Democratic deputies, decided to issue its report posthumously. It came to the conclusion that the evidence was too weak to justify the suspension of any of the accused deputies. Even Moderates like Prof. Kusmin-Karavaioff, the Democratic Reformer, who favored the surrender of any of the culprits against whom there was definite grounds for suspicion acquiesced to this finding.

The chances of the proclamation of a general strike in answer to the Government's coup d'etat are steadily lessening.

TORPEDO FOR ADMIRAL.

Commander of Black Sea Fleet Had Narrow Escape.

Sebastopol, June 18.—Rear-Admiral Wiren, in command of the Black Sea fleet, was cruising in a steam cutter while a torpedo boat in command of Lieut. Rushek was practising firing Whiteheads in the spacious inner bay.

When the admiral's cutter was at short range the torpedo boat suddenly changed her position and fired a blank Whitehead directly at the cutter, penetrating the latter's water tank. Only the promptitude of the crew in beaching the cutter in a sinking condition saved the admiral.

Lieut. Rushek explained that the Whitehead was fired through an accident, but he and three junior lieutenants, who were sullen and refused to salute the admiral, were degraded, and as a result of later evidence, were arrested on the charge of attempting to sink the cutter.

A Bombardment Prevented.

Odessa, June 18.—It now appears that the mutiny here of the Black Sea fleet, consisting of eight battleships, eight cruisers and a division of torpedo boats, whose crews in all number 5,000 men, was discovered just in time to prevent the planned bombardment of Odessa and the Caucasian coast towns, so as to incite the revolutionists and Caucasians to revolt. The fleet came here June 12 for practice, and had just entered Odessa Bay when the commanding officer, Admiral Tseftsinsky, on board the flagship Rostislav, seeing that the orders were not promptly obeyed and knowing of the mutinous spirit animating the crews, suddenly signalled an order to dismantle the guns and head back to Sebastopol, where, after troops had been sent on board the warships, several hundred sailors were disembarked and imprisoned.

BROTHERS PERSISTENT.

May Leave the Province of Ontario As Result of Trouble.

Ottawa, June 18.—There is little likelihood that the trouble with the Christian Brothers will be smoothed over, and they will carry out their original intention of removing entirely from the Province of Ontario. This only affects Toronto and Ottawa.

Brother Philadephus stated yesterday that they refused absolutely to attend the normal school with female teachers.

THIRTY WERE KILLED.

Dismissed Portuguese Workmen Took a Terrible Vengeance.

London, June 18.—A despatch to The Standard from Lisbon says that an explosion of dynamite at Covihilo, a manufacturing town, killed thirty persons. It is believed that the explosion was caused by dismissed workmen, who sought vengeance.

Estimate of Wheat Average.

Winnipeg, June 18.—The Northwest Grain Dealers' Association issued their estimate of acreage up to June 1 yesterday. In the three western provinces, Frank Fowler, the secretary, says there are 8,156,457 acres under cereals.

All grain except wheat shows an increase of from 12 to 16 per cent.

He estimates there are still 5,300,000 bushels of wheat to be marketed by western farmers.

ORCHARD AGAIN TAKES STAND.

Important Witness for Defence Dies Suddenly of Heart Trouble.

Boise, Idaho, June 18.—When the Steunenberg murder trial is resumed to-day Harry Orchard will be called to the stand by the state. The defence will put a series of formal impeachment questions to him and then the prosecution will take him for his redirect examination. There are several points relative to the Steunenberg murder and the alleged conspiracy behind it that were not developed last week, and these the state will bring out.

Counsel for the State had an extended conference yesterday afternoon as to the concluding moves in their case. The conference was entirely relative to the course to be pursued toward Steve Adams. The decision as to Adams was not final, but it was tentatively agreed to call him as a witness for the state, and to leave him for the defence if it sees fit to make him a witness. Adams stands by the repudiation of the confession which he made to Detective McPartland, and there his connection with the case other than in the use of his name, rests for the present.

Important Witness Dies.

Canon City, Col., June 18. Charles King, an important witness for the defence in the Haywood trial at Boise, Idaho, died from neuralgia of the heart on Sunday. Bloodhounds belonging to King were used in tracking, after the dynamiting of the Independence Depot. An hour after his death a telegram came addressed to King, summoning him to Boise.

TRIED TO SAVE COMPANION.

Drawn Into a Hole Near the Rapids and Drowned.

Ottawa, June 18.—While attempting to save a companion with whom he went in bathing, Joseph Laviolette, aged 21 years, of Scarsfield, was drowned Sunday evening in Foves Creek, a little below Rockland.

The name of his companion was Lamoureux, a fellow employe on the Canadian Northern, who was unable to swim. He got beyond his depth, and, calling for help, Laviolette went out to him with a stick. Lamoureux caught hold of it, and in his struggles pulled Laviolette in.

The latter got into a hole near the rapids, and, not being a swimmer, soon was drowned.

DOCTOR ACCUSED OF MURDER.

Fatally Shot His Wife After Annoying a Maid Servant.

New York, June 18.—Dr. Samuel S. Guy, a Far Rockaway dentist, was placed on trial in the supreme court at Flushing, L. I., yesterday, charged with having murdered his wife at their home last April. Mrs. Guy came into a large fortune at the death of her father, B. B. Mott, two years ago.

It is alleged Guy came home after having been drinking and began to annoy a servant. When Mrs. Guy interfered there was a quarrel and Mrs. Guy was fatally shot. The doctor is 59 years old. His wife was 58.

Eleven jurors had been secured when court adjourned till to-day.

FARM HAND KNOCKED OUT.

Safe Broken Open and $1,000 Cash With Jewelry Stolen.

Mineola, L. I., June 18.—The Oswald farmhouse, on the old Jericho Turnpike, between this place and Westbury, was the scene on Sunday of one of the boldest robberies in years.

The thieves drove up to the farmhouse in a red touring car, knocked down Herman Schwester, a farm hand, forced several ounces of chloral down his throat, then broke open a safe and carried off $1,000 in cash and several pieces of valuable jewelry.

CHILDREN SAW GHASTLY SIGHT.

Awake to Find Parents on Floor With Throats Cut.

Detroit, Mich., June 18.—William Roulo, a carpenter, aged 35 years, cut his wife's throat Sunday night in their home at 427 Beard avenue, and then slashed his own throat with the same razor. Both died where they fell, in a bedroom where there were two children sleeping.

When the two children, aged seven and five years, awakened, yesterday morning, they found the bodies on the floor and called the neighbors.

WOMAN SHOT.

Husband Says His Wife Agreed to Kill Herself.

New York, June 18.—Laura, the 19-year-old wife of James Woerdell, was shot through the head and killed at their home in West 25th street to-night.

The husband, who is six years the senior of his wife, notified the police, explaining that his wife had taken her life in accordance with an agreement to kill themselves into, which the two had entered.

He was placed under arrest.

Dane Gets a Year.

Bowmanville, June 18.—William Thomson, the Dane immigrant arrested Saturday by Chief Jarvis appeared in the police court before W. M. Hersey, police magistrate, yesterday morning, pleaded guilty to two charges of stealing, and was sentenced to six months on each charge in the Central Prison at hard labor.

Drowns In a Cistern.

Cayuga, June 18.—Thornell Hodlet, an aged gentleman who has been living retired for some years at the home of his son-in-law, A. J. Grant, Cayuga, was found drowned at 5 o'clock yesterday morning in a cistern. Deceased had been suffering from melancholy for over a year.

Shock of 2,300 Volts.

Albany, N. Y., June 18.—Daniel Daly of Albany, a lineman employed by the Albany Electric Illuminating Co., while stringing wires on a pole about 35 feet above the ground, received a shock of 2,300 volts. He is in a serious condition.

Ezra Brown's house on Eliza street, Owen Sound, was burned on Saturday and incendiarism is suspected.

THE DAY'S FIRE RECORD

Two Railway Bridges Destroyed, Result of Bush Fires.

Flax Mill at Listowel Burned Out—Supposed Work of Fire-Bugs—Estimated Loss $2,000—Forty Automobiles Valued at $100,000 Also Destroyed—Fireman Handicapped by Frequent Explosions.

Cornwall, June 18.—Two small bridges on the O. & N. Y. at Black River, just north of Cornwall, and at Santa Clara, N.Y., were destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon.

Bush fires fanned by a strong breeze were the cause in each case. Repairs are being rushed. Trains met at Black River last evening and transferred mails, passengers, etc.

Flax Mill Destroyed.

Listowel, Ont., June 18.—This evening the flax mill owned by the J. & J. Livingstone estate, was completely destroyed by fire, which is supposed to be of an incendiary origin.

The building is estimated to be worth about $2,000, and is a total loss.

Forty Autos Burned.

Boston, June 18.—A fire, which for a time threatened Boston's automobile district, consumed about forty automobiles and caused a loss estimated at $100,000 yesterday. The blaze is believed to have started from spontaneous combustion, and was in the garage of the Back Bay Automobile Co. The firemen were handicapped by frequent explosions, but managed to confine the blaze to the building in which it started.

High School Burned.

Lockport, N.Y., June 18.—The High street public school was totally destroyed by fire yesterday. The pupils marched out in perfect order.

ARBITRATORS MAKE AWARD.

Said That Longshoremen Will Not Get Increase In Wages.

Ottawa, June 18.—The award has been made by the board of arbitration in connection with the Montreal longshoremen's strike and has been received by the labor department. This is the committee of which Archbishop Paul Bruchesi is chairman.

Owing to the desire, however, of the department to forward the award first to the parties concerned, the department stated that the terms would be made public to-day.

It is understood, however, that the wages of the longshoremen will not be increased. The evidence submitted tend to show that the men were paid as well, if not better, than those in other ports.

The decision of the board of arbitration was unanimous.

SEIZED VESSEL ESCAPES.

Cruiser Canada Now On Lookout For Fishing Schooner.

Halifax, N.S., June 18.—After his vessel had been seized by the Canadian custom officials at the Magdalenes for an infraction of the fishing laws, Captain Henry Arsenault, of the American fishing schooner Henry M. Stanley, hoisted sail and put to sea, while a prize crew were preparing to board her.

Customs Collector Delaney had seized the Stanley on Saturday, June 8, for buying bait without a license.

The cruiser Canada is looking for the vessel.

SENTRY USED BAYONET.

Guard Stabbed Two Men Who Were Breaking Out of Camp.

Niagara Camp, June 18.—Privates A. Piggott and J. W. H. Irwin of the 12th York Rangers were both stabbed with a bayonet last night, but their injuries are not serious. It is said the men tried to get through the guard lines and were challenged by Pte. Scott Kyndock. An altercation ensued, and the guard used the bayonet. Piggott was stabbed in the hand and Irwin in the face. The guard decamped, but was captured. He will appear before a magistrate.

GOVERNMENT DEFEATED.

Chamber Opposed Tax of 65 Francs On Wine.

Paris, June 18.—The Government was defeated yesterday in the Chamber of Deputies on the sugar clause of the wine bill, designed to prevent fraud. Finance Minister Calliaux insisted on a supplementary tax of sixty-five francs per hundred kilos on sugar used in the manufacture of certain wines but the chamber rejected the proposal by 304 to 255 votes, whereupon the session was suspended.

It is expected that the Government will compromise on the lower rate suggested by the northern deputies.

Later M. Calliaux announced that the Government had decided to reduce the supplementary tax to forty francs per 100 kilos. This was adopted 341 to 215 votes, and the Government's position was thus saved.

Will Prosecute Leaders.

The Government has decided to arrest and prosecute all the leaders of the wine growers' revolt. Instructions yesterday were telegraphed to the local authorities at Argelliens to arrest Marcelin Albert, the leader of the movement, but Albert, anticipating the Government's action, concealed himself.

First Time In 172 Years.

Ste. Genevieve, Mo., June 18.—The saloons closed their doors on Sunday, and for the first time in 172 years the town was "dry." The action was taken on the advice of the prosecuting attorney. Ste. Genevieve was founded in 1735, and since its founding drinking places have never been closed.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

Author of "When Lovely Maiden Stoops to Folly," "A Cruel Revenge," "The Heiress of Cameron Hall," "Ione," "Parted at the Altar," Etc.

"To-morrow, dear mistress, you can think more clearly," said Honora. "Do let me implore you to go to bed," and with that she loosened the coils of beautiful golden hair that fell down over her shoulder to her waist in a mass of shining splendor.

Honor brought the dainty robe to her mistress, and Reine patiently suffered her to fasten it about her.

Throwing herself upon her couch, her bare arms from without the flowing sleeves clasping her pillow, Reine soon slept.

"Poor child—How hard she is taking her trouble," thought the maid, watching the outlines of her heaving breasts and listening to the quivering sighs that trembled on her lips.

When Honora went to her mistress' room the next morning, she found her already up and dressed.

CHAPTER XXIV.

Reine pointed to the letter that had fallen from her clenched hand to the floor, and the wild laugh that broke from her lips was more pitiful to hear than the stormiest outburst of sobs.

"It is quite true, Honora. He has left me wilfully and deliberately. Read what he says, and be convinced. Take it to your own room. I cannot bear it in my sight."

"What shall you do?" said Honora, pityingly. "If I were you, I would send for my father."

"No, no, no," gasped Reine, shudderingly. "I would not have him know what has befallen me for worlds. You do not know the kind of man he is. He has never forgiven me for marrying Waldemar against his wishes."

And at the mention of her father's name poor Reine broke down utterly, and dropping into the nearest chair, gave way to such a storm of grief that Honora was fairly frightened.

What words could she find to comfort her? She realized at length that the greatest kindness she could show her would be to leave her quite alone, and, letter in hand, she stole softly from the room.

It was quite a relief to get beyond the sound of that violent weeping. Should she ever be able to forget the lovely, wistful, tear-stained face as she saw it then?

She read the letter over and over again, just as Reine had done, her honest anger increasing each moment.

"The miscreant!" she muttered. "If I had the making of the law, no penalty would be severe enough for a man who had deserted his wife.

"Poor, pretty young bride!" she thought, compassionately. "Her father ought to know what has happened to her. If he has any heart in him at all, he would come to her, and protect and comfort her in a crisis of this kind."

A sudden idea came to her.

"If she's too proud to send for him, why couldn't I do it for her? Yes, I will do it," she cried.

It was but the work of a very few minutes to put her project into execution. A half hour later the message flashed along the wires that stretched through the lovely scenery, through the snow-capped hills and vales, until it reached the pretty little town, a mile's distance from Fairlawn Villa.

Bernard Chesleigh had arrived at Fairlawn Villa that morning, and although no mention of Reine had passed between them, the old soldier knew quite well why Chesleigh had left the metropolis so suddenly. He knew Reine was there, and he could not meet her.

The servants had long since retired, and the general answered the summons himself.

"A telegram!" he cried, holding out his hand nervously.

In a moment he had torn open the envelope and mastered its contents.

"General Hastings, Fairlawn: Your daughter is in great trouble. I strongly urge you to come to her at once."

A name that the general never remembered having heard before was signed to it.

His features worked convulsively. He leaned back heavily against a massive marble column, his face rapidly changing from red to white.

Reine in trouble! What could it mean?

He touched the bell with such a resounding peal that in less than a moment the frightened and dismayed servants were flocking about him.

Like the general, Bernard Chesleigh had not retired, and the unusual disturbance brought him to the scene at once.

General Hastings put the telegram in his hands, with an anxious face.

"Read that and tell me what you think of it," he said, hoarsely. "My Reine—in—trouble—I am quite unnerved by this telegram, Chesleigh," cried the old gentleman, plaintively. "Do you think that cursed villain is misusing my child, now that he has her so far away from home and friends?" asked the old soldier, suddenly. "If I thought that, I would follow him to the world's end, and lash him like a hound!"

Bernard Chesleigh turned white to the lips. Had the general read his innermost thoughts? Had he read the grave fear that he dared not put into words?

The scene at the ball rose up vividly before him. Had Waldemar Waldron dared raise his hand against Reine again? If he had he should answer for it to him; there would be war to the knife between them. He would revenge her; he would wipe out all wrong done her if it cost him his life.

Waldemar Waldron had won Reine from him, but, for all that, he should not abuse her.

He read the telegram through and handed it back to the general.

"Well," said the old soldier, huskily.

"I should advise you to go at once to New York and investigate this matter," said Bernard, gravely.

"You will accompany me, of course," returned the general.

Bernard shook his head.

"If you need me, send for me," he said, "and I will come on. Remember, your daughter was once my promised bride, general; I have no right to intrude into the household of my rival; but remember, too, though fate parted us, I would lay down my life for Reine. God bless her!"

General Hastings was fortunate enough to catch the early express on the following morning. And all the way to the metropolis he was occupied in trying to think what could possibly be wrong with Reine.

He found the street and number indicated, and, with the strangest of sensations in his heart, walked hurriedly up the massive brown-stone steps, and touched the bell. What if Waldemar Waldron should answer the summons himself? How awkward the meeting between them would be!

His meditations were suddenly cut short by the opening of the door and the appearance of a housemaid on the threshold.

He saw at a glance that her eyes were red and swollen with weeping.

"I am General Hastings," he said; "I wish to see my daughter, Mrs. Waldron, at once. Tell me, my good girl," he added in the same breath, "is she well or—or—"

"Please to come in, sir. I have been expecting you. I sent you the telegram," said Honora (for it was she), as she ushered him into the drawing-room.

"I will go to my daughter at once," said the general, nervously. "Kindly announce me without delay, my good girl. Your—your—telegram has worried me. Tell me first, however, before I see my daughter, what the trouble is which you referred to, that I may prepare myself for it."

Honora wrung her hands. Never was there a task so hard to perform. She drew from her pocket the letter Reine had handed her the night before, and placed it in his hands.

In an instant his quick eye had glanced over the few terse lines, and had mastered its contents, comprehending its import; comprehending all too clearly that the scoundrel who had stolen his daughter from him had deserted her, deliberately, wilfully, and that, too, ere the honey-moon had scarcely waned.

It would be impossible to describe the scene that followed; how the old general raged and stormed, tearing the letter into a thousand fragments and grinding them beneath his heel deep down into the hearts of the crimson roses of the velvet carpet.

He quite forgot the girl's presence. She was secretly wondering how she could break the next and worst blow to him.

At length the terrible storm of anger wore itself away, and something like calm came to him. Then he asked to be taken at once to Reine, that he might comfort and console his child. Then calmly Honora broke the trying news to him—how, in the morning, she had gone to her mistress's room, and found it quite empty. Her pretty snow-white bed had not been slept in, and upon one of the white pillows she had found a note in Reine's handwriting, saying that she was going away, and bidding each one of her servants who had served her so well and faithfully, good-bye.

"I cannot stay and face what will happen to-morrow, Honora," she wrote. "I am going away."

General Hastings listened in silence. Words can illy portray his anguish.

Tears filled his eyes as he looked out upon the scene without, the bare branches of the trees beating madly against the window pane, and the snow coming heavily down in great blinding drifts.

Where was Reine—his idol—his darling?

God help and protect her! Thrown out upon the cold mercy of the pitiless world—breasting alone and penniless, the merciless storm! His lovely, golden-haired Reine, so daintily and tenderly reared!

There would have been little mercy shown to Waldemar Waldron if the old general had run across him just then.

Late that afternoon Bernard Chesleigh received the following despatch:

"Come on at once. Bring Donald Gray, the detective, with you.

(Signed), General Hastings."

Bernard Chesleigh's heart beat with dread apprehension as he read it. He responded to the summons at once. He was in quite as much of a fever of anxiety as the general himself by the time he reached New York city.

Together Donald Gray and himself boarded the up-town elevated car. They had barely seated themselves ere a young and slender girl entered, heavily veiled, and all alone. They were too much pre-occupied to notice the start of surprise she gave, or hear the cry of surprise she stifled on her lips, as her eyes fell upon the face of Bernard Chesleigh.

It was useless to conjecture why he had been sent for, but Chesleigh could not shake off from his mind the impression that matters were worse than the telegram had set forth.

He looked from the open window, but he never saw the waving trees, and the houses, as the train dashed past them, he was so pre-occupied.

"Poor Reine," he murmured below his breath, "I pray Heaven no harm has befallen her; and he thought of the red mark on her lovely face—the imprint of the hand that had dealt her a blow.

"Poor Reine!—what had happened her?" was the agonizing question he asked himself over and over again.

CHAPTER XXV.

The young girl who entered the car so heavily veiled was Reine. There was but one vacant seat—the one on the left of Bernard Chesleigh—and she took it, drawing her veil more securely down over her face that he might not recognize her.

At a station further on Bernard and his companion left the car.

Reine looked after the tall retreating form wistfully.

Ah! what a good, noble friend this lover whom she had rejected had been to her! She was in sore need of counsel and advice; but, not for worlds would she have gone to Bernard Chesleigh. She prayed Heaven that he might never know that the man for whom she had deserted him had, in his turn, now forsaken her.

She never realized until now what Bernard, who had loved her so dearly, must have suffered.

After Honora, her maid, had left her the night before, for long hours she had paced the floor of her boudoir, trying to look the future in the face, and think what she should do. All the long, weary night through she never rested her head upon the white pillow. Sleep was out of the question for her. It seemed to her that she should never sleep again.

When daylight broke she had packed a few necessary articles in a little hand stachel, and without one glance at the room—without a glance about the pretty, ornamented boudoir, whose adornings she had grown to loved so well—she hurried down the stairs softly, and out of the house into the brisk cold of the December morning.

The streets of New York are never deserted. Early as the hour was, busy pedestrians surged to and fro.

Reine was swept along with the surging throng, finding herself at length in the very heart of Broadway.

It was not until the sun reached the horizon that she realized how faint and hungry she was, and that she was penniless, all save the half dollar which she was fortunate enough to find in the pocket of her dress. But what would she do when that was gone? The thought appalled her. All the old gay, girlish life seemed to have been left far behind her, like a bright, faded dream. Could there ever have been a time she was happy and without care?

Had she ever been petted, loved and worshipped as the heiress of Fairlawn, or was it all a strange dream?

Oh! if she had but learned how to do something to support herself in case of emergency then, she would not have been so utterly helpless now. She uttered a blind prayer to Heaven to guide her as she walked wearily along.

And the event which happened the next moment seemed an answer to that piteous appeal.

She had scarcely proceeded a dozen steps when suddenly she stumbled over something lying directly beneath her feet.

It was a small purse—a lady's purse. Upon opening it Reine found that it contained a few dollars in money, a tiny, dark curl tied with a bit of blue ribbon, and an old envelope, the back of which served as a memorandum; several items were jotted down upon it. The face of the envelope, however, revealed the name and address of the owner of the lost purse. It read: "Mrs. William Arnold, No —— East 11th Street, City."

There was but one course to pursue—and that was to return the purse at once to its owner.

The street indicated was some distance down-town. Thus it happened that Reine took the elevated car, and the first person whom she beheld was Bernard Chesleigh.

She was thankful that he left the car without observing her.

Reine had little difficulty in finding the street and number she sought. It was a neat three-story brick dwelling, with the sign of "Boarding" upon the door.

Reine inquired for Mrs. Arnold. She was ushered into a plain but neatly furnished parlor, and in a few moments that lady made her appearance, flushed, nervous, and somewhat excited.

Before Reine had time to state her errand she saw the pocketbook in her hand, and a cry of delight broke from her lips.

"I was fortunate to find this on the street an hour since, and finding your address within, I hastened to return it to you," said Reine, simply.

Mrs. Arnold thanked her, with tears in her eyes.

"It was not the loss of the money I was grieving about just as you came in, but it was because the purse contained a lock of hair of my daughter's. She died a year ago. Money could not have bought that little, dark curl from me, I value it so highly. I was just about to put an advertisement for it in the "Lost" column, offering to pay a handsome reward for its return. If you will accept the reward I was about to offer I shall be very much pleased."

Reine drew back, flushing painfully. Accept a reward for doing one's duty? She felt quite hurt, and refused at once, on the impulse of the moment; but the very next instant, when it was quite too late, she remembered how sadly she was in need of money.

TREATIES GUARANTEE PEACE.

French Agreement With Spain Is Purely Pacific.

Paris, June 18.—Speaking on Sunday of the new French-Spanish and British-Spanish treaties, the signature of which virtually creates a new triple alliance, M. Pichon, Minister of Foreign Affairs, said:

"Such arrangements are the best guarantees of peace that can be conceived. Our agreement with Spain is surely pacific. It accords with the interests as well as the sympathies of both nations. The negotiations for this safeguarding of the common interests of the two countries have been going on for several months, and the instrument now signed has been communicated to the other powers, with explanations as to its scope. Its intent is purely pacific, the object being to assure the status quo of that region, which could not be altered without injury to the two contracting signatories, and the security of the communications of the respective outlying territories, which is especially important in the case of our possessions in Africa, and on both the Atlantic and Mediterranean coasts."

IMPRISONMENT FOR LIFE.

Murderer Says Judge Acted As Thirteenth Juror.

Rochester, N.Y., June 18.—Big Ed. Kelly, of Boston, who on Saturday was convicted of second degree murder for the killing of Edward Pullman, of Sodus, was yesterday sentenced to Auburn Prison for the rest of his life by Mr. Justice Sutherland in the Supreme Court. When asked if he had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced upon him, Kelly replied that there was. He said he had been convicted by perjured testimony and that the judge had acted as a thirteenth juror.

POTATO GIN WAS FATAL.

Given to Prevent Seasickness Causes Children's Death.

New York, June 18.—"Potato gin," administered as an antidote for seasickness, caused the death of three children who were passengers on the White Star line steamship Cretic, which arrived here from Liverpool and the Azores.

The poison was given by the children's mothers, one of whom, when the little bodies were buried at sea the following day, tried to throw herself from the deck in a frenzy of grief.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, June 17.—(Special.)—At the Montreal stock yards, west end market, the receipts of live stock for the week ending June 15, were 3670 cattle, 579 sheep and lambs, 2312 hogs and 1414 calves. The supply for local consumption to-day consisted of 1300 cattle, 350 sheep and lambs, 425 hogs, and 325 calves. Since this day week, a much stronger feeling has prevailed in the market for cattle and prices have advanced ¼c to ½c per lb. Such is a gain of ½c to ⅛c over the decline noted in these columns last week. A feature of the market for hogs was the exceedingly small run, there being only 425 head offered, as compared with 1800 a week ago. This fact, however, had no influence on the situation, as packers and local dealers were fairly well supplied with stock. Consequently the competition between buyers was not keen and this, coupled with the easier advices from all foreign sources on Canadian bacon, tended to check any advance in prices and sales of selected lots were made at $7.40 to $7.50 per cwt., weighed off cars. Supplies of sheep and lambs were more plentiful, but as the demand for this class of stock is very good, prices are still well maintained, all the good to choice sheep meeting with a ready sale at 5c per lb. for export account, and lambs sold at $4 to $6 each, while calves brought from $2 to $8 each.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, June 17.—Cattle—Receipts, 400 head; good dry-fed, active and 15c to 25c higher; common and grassy, slow and 15c to 25c lower; prime steers, $6.25 to $6.65; shipping, $5.75 to $6.20; butchers', $5 to $6; heifers, $4 to $5.75; cows, $3 to $4.75; bulls, $3.50 to $5.25; stockers and feeders, $3.75 to $4.75; stock heifers, $3 to $3.60, fresh cows and springers, steady, $18 to $52.

4152.—A SMALL PINAFORE APRON.

There are pinafores for little folks and pinafores for big ones, but the style belongs unquestionably to the former and an apron built on this order is sketched. The neck edge is finished with a band yoke which is attractive by reason of its trimness, while similar bands outline the armholes. These also act as a strengthening for edges, which as the garment wears are apt to become torn and frayed. The waist portion is prettily full in front and back, several shirrs at the yoke edge regulating the fulness. The skirt is a straight full one which protects the dress completely. The effect produced by this apron is that of a guimpe and over-dress and every mother will like it. Any of the apron materials, such as cross-barred muslin, lawn or Swiss would be suitable. For the medium size 3 yards 36 inches wide are needed.

The young girl appreciates the value of a restful kimono quite as much as older women and here is shown a pretty model for such. The yoke is in deep pointed outline and supports the full skirt portion. The choice of two sleeves is given, the flowing kimono sleeve and bishop sleeve with its trim cuff. The kimono may be in full length or sack length as desired.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

The Cause of the Plasterers' Strike

Men Asked for $3.25 on May 1st But No Agreement Was Made at That Time

As announced in yesterday's Review the plasterers of the city are on strike the contractors having refused to grant their request for $3.25 per day. They went out on Saturday night after informing their employers of the action to be taken if their demands were not fulfilled.

It appears that the plasterers asked for an increase of from $3.00 to $3.25 to take effect on May 1st of this year. Owing to certain conditions existing at that time the contractors were not able to grant the request, but asked that they be given six weeks in which to consider the matter. The six weeks were up on Saturday night and as no $3.25 per day was forthcoming the men went on strike. Those who have gone out are as follows:—Jas. Garside, John Henry, Wm. Farrell, Peter Warner, Jos. Emmerson, James Morrison, Jas. McCluskey, Ralph Bertram, Chas. Watson and James Deline.

The above plasterers are going into business on their own account and are open to receive contracts or to tender for work. They are former employees of the following firms:—W. J. Henry & Co., Wolstenholm Bros., Johnston Bros. and Leahy & Co. The above firms are principally affected by the strike.

The plasterers state that they will stand firm, having signed an agreement to that effect.

Decoration Day Will be June 27

The Date Was Definitely Fixed Last Night

At a joint meeting of the Decoration Day Committee of Peterborough and Otonabee lodges, held last evening it was decided to observe the annual ceremony of decorating the graves of deceased brethren on Thursday afternoon, June 27th. The Oddfellows will meet in Central Park at five o'clock, and headed by the 57th Regiment band will march to Little Lake Cemetery, where after depositing flowers on the mounds of the departed, short addresses will be delivered by city clergymen.

It was thought yesterday, that Decoration Day would be observed the second week in July, but this was regarded as too late, and after some discussion, Thursday, June 27th, was formally settled upon.

Three Oddfellows have passed away during the past year—Bros. John A. MacDonald, Fred Logan and Chas. Beauclere. They were all members of Otonabee lodge, No. 13.

Advertising Car in City To-day

One of the advertising cars of the Forepaugh-Sells circus, is in the city today. It is on the siding at the G.T.R. station, and this morning about a dozen democrat waggons were sent out in the surrounding country with posters and advertising matter. The circus will be in Peterborough, on Tuesday, June 25.

Social Evening at Charlotte Street

An interesting social time was spent last evening by the members of the Epworth League of Charlotte street church. A large number were present.

The Social Committee, of which Miss Lees is convener, had charge, and they presented a very pleasing programme. During the early part of the evening social games were played, including an autograph contest. This contest proved very interesting, and a beautiful volume of Browning's poems was given to the winner, Mr. Gordon Manning. A short musical programme was carried out, Mr. A. B. Cunningham acting as chairman. Mrs. Tremeer gave several piano solos and Mr. McLaren contributed a recitation.

Refreshments were served and a pleasant time spent in social intercourse.

Mr. Adam Dawson Passes Away

Death of a Prominent Citizen This Afternoon After Lingering Illness

The death occurred this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, of ex-Alderman Dawson, who passed away at his home 483 Donegal street. He had been confined to his room for the past seven weeks, and the tidings of his death, while not unexpected, will be learned, nevertheless, with extreme regret by all classes of citizens.

Some time ago it was known that Mr. Dawson could not recover. He was a prominent builder and contractor and faithfully served for several years in the city council. He was a prominent Mason and lifelong member of the Anglican church and a citizen who was held in the highest esteem by all classes of the community. In his departure the labor interests lose an old and firm friend.

The deceased was 59 years of age and leaves a wife, two sons and four daughters.

A fuller reference to the deceased will appear in tomorrow's Review. He was a good, loyal citizen and was fearless and perfectly sincere in the stand which he took on all public questions.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

Street Delivery of Mail Will Start in This City Very Soon

Six Cases for Sorting the Mail Arrived in the City To-day--Arrangements for House to House Delivery Will be Made at Once.

The long expected street delivery of mail matter is about to be inaugurated in Peterborough, and in the course of a few days or weeks at most, the service will begin.

Six big cases, which will be used for sorting the mail, arrived in the city today and are now stored at the local post office. The other necessary paraphernalia is also on hand. The next step will be the visit of Mr. George Ross, of Toronto the superintendent of the street mail delivery system, who will arrange all the details.

The cases, which reached here today are for the letter carriers. There will be six men appointed, and already a large number of applications are in for the positions.

There will be one general delivery of mail a day to all parts of the city and in the central portion there will be two—forenoon and afternoon. The area in which there will be two deliveries is bounded by Dublin st., on the north, Water street on the east, Bethune street on the west, and Dalhousie on the south.

Hospital Public Ward Rates Raised to 70 Cents Per Day

The New Scale Went Into Operation at Nicholls Hospital Yesterday—The Increase is 20 Cents Per Diem.

The following letter has been received by Mr. John Crane, secretary of the Nicholls hospital, from the Inspector of Hospitals and Charities.

Dear Sir.—I beg to inform you that at the session of the Legislature of Ontario for 1907, the Charity Aid Act was amended so that the clause relating to free patients now reads, "But no person shall be deemed a paying patient, by reason only of the payment by any municipal corporation to such institution of any sum, which, together with the amount contributed by such patient or on his behalf from other sources, will not exceed each week the sum $4.90.

Until further notice this department will regard patients paying $4.90 or less per week, as free patients, under the terms of the Act. This change in the law was approved, April 20th, 1907, and will come into effect on and after May 1st, 1907.

I have the honor to remain,
Your obedient servant,
R. W. BRUCE-SMITH
Inspector.

Previously the free patient rate was 50c per day. The Government has wisely considered the increased cost of maintenance under which hospitals are now working and has sanctioned the increase of 20c per day. The Nicholls hospital placed the new rate in operation on the 17th instant.

Prize List for Industrial Exhibition Has Been Issued

The prize list for the fifth Peterborough Industrial Exhibition to be held in Peterborough on September 26th, 27th and 28th, has been issued, and it is the largest and best printed premium list ever turned out by the society. It consists of 76 pages, without the covers, and in addition to a comprehensively arranged list of prizes, contains a large number of well displayed advertisements. The merchants and industrial concerns of Peterborough have been most generous in their patronage and, as a result, the society has been able to issue a better prize list than ever before. Incidentally it might be mentioned that the list is out earlier this year than for any previous exhibition, and the directors are to be congratulated upon their enterprise. The early publication of the prize list will be of great benefit to intending exhibitors for, having the list as a guide, they can make much better preparation than would otherwise be the case.

The amount of money offered in prizes this year totals $3,500.00. There are numerous special premiums, new features, etc., full information of which can be secured by a perusal of the prize list. Competition at the exhibition is open to the counties of Peterborough, Victoria, Northumberland and Durham.

The prize lists are now being distributed to the members of the society. Any party desirous of securing one can do so by applying to the secretary-treasurer, Mr. F. J. A. Hall, Peterborough.

The prize lists were issued from the Review job department.

Ernie Wasson Caught a Fish After Many Hours Hard Work

He and Fred Whitcroft Landed a 10¾ Pound Lunge, Measuring 28½ Inches Long—George Hall Fell in the Lake—Other Fish Stories.

From the first peep of day the amateur fishermen began to push their boats into the waters of Little Lake and start fishing. It was a glorious morning, and during the early hours was cool and refreshing. There were at least fifty canoes out and they averaged two men in each, but whether or not all got a fish is hard to say. Messrs. Ernie Wasson and Fred Whitcroft were in one canoe from nearly half past four o'clock until nearly eight o'clock, when the sun got so hot they had to seek shelter. They paddled up and down and around the Little Lake from Matthews' packing establishment around Cemetery Point, down to the locks and back on the other side. Hour after hour the sports dipped their paddle and dragged their line behind. Other fellows caught some nice lunge, and one or two got some fine bass, but Ernie and Fred had not even a bite. It was very discouraging for a long time, but soon after the sun was up and the boys were passing Cemetery Point Mr. Wasson felt a tug on the line and after a little sport he pulled a big lunge into the canoe.

In speaking of it after, Mr. Whitcroft said: "Say, it was the biggest fish caught this year. It weighed 16 3-4 pounds, and measured 27 1-2 inches long. We caught it at Cemetery Point inside the boom. It was the only one caught there this year and when the fellows saw our big catch they swarmed to the spot like a lot of wolves in Cobalt rushing to a new claim. In a few minutes every canoe on the lake was inside the boom, and they are still fishing, trawling and doing everything possible, but we are the people, and we only have the knack of landing lunge at that point."

Mr. Wasson said: "That's right. If you don't believe it, come down to the house. I would ask you all down to dinner, but I am keeping batch."

FELL IN THE LAKE.

Among the crowd of fishermen on Little Lake this morning was Mr George Hall, of Toronto, who is visiting at his home here for a couple of weeks. He used to know, many years ago, every bass hole and lunge run on the Otonabee river, and for old time's sake he thought he would like to renew his acquaintance with the favorite spots. Soon after daylight George shoved off from shore, and for quite a while paddled around. Then he pulled up stream under the C.P.R. bridge, when he turned around and started for the deep blue again. Just as he was passing Matthews' something went wrong. Whether the canoeist saw a fish swimming below, and in his excitement tried to dive for it, or not, is not known, but, anyway Mr. Hall was upset and had to swim. The water was both wet and cold, and the worst of it was he didn't get a fish. He did, however, recall the many times the same thing happened when he was a boy.

CAUGHT A BASS.

Mr Robert Glover, a well known fisherman and paddler, this morning landed a fine 6 pound bass in Little Lake. That was the extent of his morning's sport, but it was worth while, and he says he has no kick coming. There were lots of fish caught this morning. Everything seemed to be favorable for the sports. The fish were hungry and all were on the move. Billy Green, one of the best known sports on the waters, caught a nice small lunge. He goes out every morning and has as much fun as probably any other man in the city.

STRATHS. LEAD BY ONE RUN

And Lillies Defeated the Lakeviews in Last Night's Games

The West Ends failed to keep up their past reputation last night, and in the first four innings lost to the Strathconas, and the Lillies took the lead for the first time this season, defeating the Lakeviews in the Intermediate League series. The West Ends and Strathconas played at McDonnel street field, and in a close, exciting game, the Strathconas administered a defeat to the West Ends, winning the first half by two runs to one.

It was a big surprise at Paterson street field, when the Lakeviews went down to an awful defeat at the hands of the Lillie aggregation, the first four innings to the tune of ten runs to three.

STRATHCONAS LEAD.

The Strathconas popped a big surprise on the West End aggregation last night at the West End field, when they took a lead of one run in the first four innings of the game. It was the first time this season the West Ends have not come out ahead. It was an exciting contest last night and a great exhibition of ball. At the end of the fourth the score stood 2—1. Both teams played snappy ball. The West Ends scored their only run in the first, Butcher bringing it in. In their remaining three they were put out as quickly as they came up to bat.

The Straths scored their two in the second, Weatherstone and Bert Parnell succeeding in making the rounds.

There were no very heavy hits, and neither team made many errors. The players on both teams failed to hit the pitchers, and it was owing to that the score did not run up higher. Parnell twirled a steady game, and Butcher, of the West Ends, also performed well in the box. Honors were about equal in the number of men struck out.

The West Ends feel confident of winning out Wednesday in the finals, but the Straths will try hard to retain their lead.

Mr. Fred Craig umpired this game satisfactorily.

West Ends—L. Dobson, cf, J. McNern c, W. Butcher p, M. Cameron 3b, A. Rose ss, Ed. King 1b, D. Dobson lf, C. Halpin, rf, N. Moore cf.

Strathconas—F. Parnell p, Wilson c, Allison, 1b, Dormer, 2b, Weatherstone ss, Curtis 3b, Delaney cf, E. Parnell lf.

LAKEVIEWS DEFEATED.

Owing to several costly fumbles on the part of the Lakeviews, the Lillies took a lead of seven runs in the first half of the game at Paterson field. It was a great surprise as the Lakeviews felt confident of winning. In the Lillies first they had the Lakeview men right up in the air and error after error was made by the Lakeview fielders. The Lillies scored one in their second and three in their third, while the Lakeviews only succeeded in crossing the home plate three times.

Mahoney pitched a good game for the Lakeviews, but the fielders were all to the bad. Doherty again made a heavy hit last night. McGill, Menzies and Doherty scored the only runs for the Lakeviews. The Lillies have greatly improved since last week and played a good game. Graham was in the box and twirled nice ball but Mahoney had him beaten in the number of men struck out.

The Lakeviews have a big lead to overcome on Wednesday night, and they will have to play a great deal better to do it.

Mr. W. Stacey officiated as umpire, satisfactorily.

The teams were;

Lillies—Hillier c, Graham p, Price 1b, Foley ss, Connors lf, Shambo 2b, Pilling cf, Simmons rf, Webb 3b.

Lakeviews.—Carson 2b, Holland ss Doherty lf, Menzies c, Wilson 1b. Mahoney p, Theobald 3b, McGill cf, Letellier rf.

Ball Team Had Great Practice

In preparation for Thursday's game against Port Hope, the Peterborough baseball team had a splendid workout at Riverside Park last night. Every man was out and for over an hour they practiced with great life. Several new plays are being rehearsed and a few stunts will be pulled off on Thursday that will make the fans sit up and look. The teams will be in great shape to meet the Port Hopers and it will be strange if the locals do not connect with Surphlis' curves. It will be a great game and much interest centres in it.

QUAKERS AND COBOURG MEET

Cobourg senior football team plays the Quakers at Riverside Park on Thursday evening in the second game of the home and home series for the senior championship of the league. The Cobourg team is coming up with the moulders' excursion and will be accompanied by a big crowd of supporters. Although defeated by the Quakers on their own grounds, they still have hopes of taking a fall out of the locals and are bringing up a strong team. The Quakers are in good shape and should defeat the visitors. However, it will be a close game and a big crowd should witness the contest. It will be the best exhibition of soccer football seen here this year and as the Quakers look good to land both the senior and intermediate championships of the league, they are deserving of hearty support.

Mr. M. Sherin, of Omemee, will referee the game, which is an assurance that good, clean football will be played.

The Quakers will line up as follows,

Goal, McFadden.

Backs, Doris and Evans.

Halves, R. Best, Fitzgerald and Dingman.

Forwards, Yates, Brodie, Huston, Crough and Baker.

Teacher Spanked Six Big Girls

And Had His Salary Increased for Showing Courage

The agitation now going on throughout the country for the restraining of the youth, both male and female, is well supported by the following item from across the border:—

Bristow, Iowa, June 17.—Because he had the courage to spank six girls, averaging 18 years of age, Professor D. L. Correll, head of the public schools here, has been re-employed with an increase of salary of $1,800 a year.

Half a dozen girls threatened to demoralizing the school by misbehaviour, and the professors threatened to resign rather than resort to severe measures. The school board told professor Correll to subdue the young women, and they would stand by him. Correll accepted the order, and at the first sign of insubordination executed his spanking stunt. He has had no more trouble, and at the last meeting of the school board made substantial acknowledgement of his disciplinary work.

County Council Went to Picnic

At Ennismore in the Auto Bus—Will Meet To-night

With the sun shining hotter than it has for over a year the County Council met in the chambers at one o'clock today, and opened the June session. It was the first time the reeves and deputy reeves have gathered together at this season for many years, and it was so hot that the legislators decided to accept the kind invitation of Rev. Father Fitzpatrick to attend his picnic at Ennismore this afternoon.

Warden C. McNulty was in the chair and all the councillors were present. The meeting was a very informal one. No business was done. The warden simply announced Rev. Father Fitzpatrick's invitation and the council adjourned to meet this evening at seven o'clock, when the warden will deliver his address, and the business of the session will be started.

The County Council secured the Chemong auto bus for the afternoon and at two o'clock they left the Munro House for the picnic grounds, where they spent a most enjoyable afternoon, in spite of the intense heat. Those in the party were,—

Warden C. McNulty; Councillors, J. Fife, W. J. Porter, Brown, Robt. Scott, C. J. Darling, Samuel Killen, Dr. J. A. Burgess, A. Breault, James Thompson, Frank Moher, Robert Johnston, Robert Shaw, C. R. D. Booth, Chas. Coben, Fred Hales, and one or two others.

STOCK MARKET QUOTATIONS

New York, June 18.—The stock market opened generally higher on a small volume of business.

Sentiment was cheerful, influenced probably by the tranquil attitude of banks concerning money over end of half year, and incidentally by the Adams Express dividend Reading was the most prominent stock advancing on short covering, principally. The Harriman issues were also firm. After the first hour stagnation prevailed and about all the early gains were lost before the close.

Wheat was strong and higher on Liverpool cables, and unfavorable crop news from Kansas, where the heat is said to be intense and hurting the wheat, which is now in the milk. Corn was 1-4 higher and oats 1-2 to 1 cent up.

Splendid Recital Given Last Night

Miss Doherty's Pupils Delighted Large and Appreciative Audience

The recital given in St. Peter's school hall last evening by the pupils of Miss Margaret Doherty, organist of St. Peter's cathedral, was a delightful affair in every particular and was a tribute alike both to the ability and painstaking effort of Miss Doherty as well as to the talents displayed by the class. There was a large attendance of both the parents and friends of the young performers and the expressions of delight and pleasure after the rendition of each number must have been a source of satisfaction to Miss Doherty.

The programme presented was excellently arranged and was punctuated in the second part by three vocal numbers as well as a violin solo, a beautifully executed number by Miss Hope Miller.

The choruses by the pupils was excellently rendered, their voices blending sweetly.

Mr. B. Gill's vocal number stamped him as a soloist of the highest order, and he was forced to give a recall number. Mr. Gill is a valuable acquisition to the musical talent of this city.

Miss Levina Halligan's vocal number was beautifully sung, as was also her encore number.

Board of Works Inspection Of Works Already Completed

Several Streets Left in Bad Condition Must be Fixed Up at Once—Hunter Street Extension—Work in Ashburnham and Water Street North.

It was a great afternoon's work the Board of Work's did yesterday. With the sun's rays stronger and hotter than ever before this year, and with very little breeze blowing and lots of dust on the side streets the committee drove around the city and inspected the work which has already been done or is under construction.

Those in the party were Ald. Duncan, chairman of the committee, Ald. Wilson, Mayor McWilliams, City Engineer Hay, City Clerk Armstrong and the press representatives.

The start was made from the city hall in front of which the Gas Company has a gang of men levelling off the road, which was torn up last year when the new mains were put in. Part of the work was satisfactory to the committee, but another part was not and the company will be requested to make a better job. On the same street the sidewalk gang which laid the walk from the Bank of Montreal to the Peterborough Cereal Co.'s mills, will also be sent back to clean up the side of the road.

The next move was over to Ashburnham, where so much work has been done this year. Hunter street, east of the bridge, needs a lot of work on it. From the bridge to Rogers street the grade needs to be raised a little and the roller could also do some good work on it. From Rogers street east, up the hill where Mr. Sheehy put in the sewer last year, the road is exceptionally bad. In fact it is disgraceful. There are good sized holes, little hills, and lots of rough spots The contractor will be requested to get busy at once and put the road in decent shape. If he does not move as requested, the city will do the work and charge him up with it.

The committee also went around by Driscoll Terrace, where a new stretch of walk has been laid. The work was done exceptionally well, and the Board of Works was very much pleased with it. Several other stretches of walk which were well laid, were also looked over, and it was noticeable that as a rule, the streets were left in pretty good condition after the gang moved on.

OVER THE HILL.

The road over the hill to the lift lock is progressing very favorably Three teams, with about a dozen men, are busy cutting down the grade. The cut is a heavy one, being about seven feet at one point All the material being taken out is used for raising the grade from the lift lock up and for building a foundation on which to lay the sidewalk. When the work is completed it will make a vast improvement and a visit to the big locks will be a greater pleasure. The view from the crest of the hill, looking in any direction, is a beautiful one, and is worth one's time alone to walk up the incline.

The committee took a circle around the southern half of the east ward and then back over the river up Water street, where all the work is going on now. They walked over the new walk from Dublin street north to Smith street, while the team drove around. That stretch of concrete represents a lot of money, as there is so much building up to do and all the stones have to be laid in by hand. When it is finished, however, it will be worth the cost.

At the corner of Smith and Water streets the party got in the rig again and drove over the new roadway right out to the gravel pits This work is being done well, and in a short time, what has been termed the worst piece of road between the city and Apsley, will be converted into one of the best.

On the return the complaint from residents on Division street was looked into. Certainly road there is in bad shape, but the engineer explained that the sidewalk gang would be along soon and after they had finished the road could be put into first class shape at a much less expense. The many large stones on the road will be used in the walk work.

Several other places where sewers and walks have been laid, were visited and the engineer was instructed to see that they were left in better condition The complaint about the contractors has always been that they made so little attempt to fix the road up after them. Then the committee went south, where work has been in progress, and wound up the afternoon's tour by driving out the extension of George to the exhibition grounds. It was just seven o'clock when they got back.

A TRULY IDEAL WIFE

HER HUSBAND'S BEST HELPER

Vigorous Health is the Great Source of Power to Inspire and Encourage —All Women Should Seek It.

One of the most noted, successful and richest men of this century, in a recent article, has said, "Whatever I am and whatever success I have attained in this world I owe all to my wife. From the day I first knew her she has been an inspiration, and the greatest helpmate of my life."

Mrs. Bessie Ainsley

To be such a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, to inspire him to make the most of himself, should be a woman's constant study.

If a woman finds that her energies are flagging, that she gets easily tired, dark shadows appear under her eyes, she has backache, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness, irregularities or the blues, she should start at once to build up her system by a tonic with specific powers, such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Following we publish by request a letter from a young wife:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"Ever since my child was born I have suffered, as I hope few women ever have, with inflammation, female weakness, bearing-down pains, backache and wretched headaches. It affected my stomach so I could not enjoy my meals, and half my time was spent in bed.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman, and I feel so grateful that I am glad to write and tell you of my marvelous recovery. It brought me health, new life and vitality."—Mrs. Bessie Ainsley, 611 South 10th Street, Tacoma, Wash.

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Ainsley it will do for every sick and ailing woman.

If you have symptoms you don't understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free and always helpful.

Battery Camped Last Night At Local Exhibition Grounds

Driving Park Resembled Military Encampment and Was Visited by Hundreds of Citizens—Interesting Information About the March to Petewawa.

The Peterborough Driving Park was last night converted into "the "old camp grounds" of song and story, "B" Battery, of the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, of Toronto, camping there for the night on their way to the big military camp at Petewawa. The artillerymen arrived at Peterborough about five o'clock in the evening and remained here until eleven o'clock today, when they left on their eighteen mile tramp to Young's Point, where they will camp tonight. Hundreds of Peterborough's citizens visited the exhibition grounds to see the soldiers and the orderly conduct of the men and the systematic manner in which everything was done commended themselves to everybody and were commented upon on all sides.

The battery, which is making the long march from Toronto to Petewawa, has a total strength of about sixty. In addition to the artillerymen there are several hired employees whose services are necessary during the march. Roughly speaking, the distance from Toronto to the Petewawa military camp, along the line of march that the battery is taking is 260 miles. The squadron is making on an average 20 miles per day. They left Toronto last Thursday morning and reached Port Hope Saturday night. Here they remained over Sunday, and left on the thirty mile stretch for Peterborough. Reveille sounded at 4 o'clock, and by five o'clock everyone had breakfasted, and the battery was in readiness to move forward. Owing to the extreme heat and the dust it will be necessary to make four stops along the way, but despite these good time was made and Peterborough was reached at 5 o'clock. The horses, eighty in number, were first attended to. They were drawn up in two lines facing each other and picketed by means of a rope attached to one of the hind feet of each horse and made fast by means of a stake driven in the ground. The advance party, which was in Peterborough on Friday of last week, had arranged for forage for the animals and a good supply of bailed hay was on the grounds. The battery carry their oats with them and only renew the supply at certain points along the line of march. The horses cared for, the men made themselves comfortable until the cooks had supper prepared. Everything is cooked on fires built in the open, but the cooks are so expert in doing things up in this manner that everything tastes as well as if it had been done in the culinary department of a first class hotel. Every man eats plenty of good, wholesome fare, and they seem to be thriving on it. The officers have quarters of their own, including two tents in which to sleep. The artillerymen sleep in the open and are provided with rubber blankets to be used if the night is rainy. It would be too cumbersome to carry tents for everyone, and it would require a lot of work to put them up and take them down every night. The main object of the march is to make the march as nearly similar to that of actual warfare as possible, and for this reason only the baggage that is absolutely required is carried

PETEWAWA ON JUNE 30th.

The battery is due to arrive at Petewawa on June 30th, and it will therefore be seen that they have almost two weeks more of marching ahead of them. The march three days and then rest one. The next rest will be on Thursday of this week. It has been found that it would be detrimental to both men and horses to keep them going steadily every day during this hot weather.

The equipment of the battery consists of four twelve pound guns, two team of horses being attached to each. Eight large transport waggons are also part of the outfit, and a forage waggon is another feature. The men and officers all ride on horseback, and when the procession stretches out and gets moving along the country roads, the sight is somewhat novel. One of the artilleryman informed a Review representative that the farmers look on in almost amazement, while every time a school house is passed the pupils either gaze at the passing caravan through the windows, or line up along the roadside to see the battery march by.

THE OFFICERS.

"B" battery is in command of Major Burstard, while the medical officer is Lieut.-Col. Nattress. Major Burstard and Lieut.-Col. Nattress are accompanied by their wives. The other officers are Captain Kirkland and Lieuts. Elkins and Jamieson. The battery is a part of the permanent force, with headquarters at Toronto, and it is apparently composed of a fine body of men. They are most orderly in their conduct, and while in Peterborough paid strict attention to their military duties. The battery horses were much admired by the hundreds of people who visited the Driving Park last evening. They are well taken care of, and are an exceptionally fine lot of animals.

The battery has been favored with fine weather since leaving Toronto on Thursday. The heat and the dusty roads made the march from Port Hope somewhat unpleasant yesterday, but there was no kicking heard by the men. Port Hope to Peterborough was the longest day's march of the trip, so far, and everyone was pretty tired when Peterborough was reached.

YOUNG'S POINT NEXT.

The itinerant soldiers left at 11 o'clock today for Young's Point, where they will camp tonight. From there they will proceed through Apsley, and will make their way towards Bancroft, touching at Cumbermere and several intermediate points. They will reach Petawawa a week from next Sunday, and at that time they will have been eighteen days on the march.

AN ACCIDENT.

The first accident in the battery since leaving Toronto occurred here last night While watering the horses just east of the exhibition grounds, Driver Dominey, one of the members of the battery was kicked in the side by a horse which became fractious and required medical aid. He was carried back to the camp where his injuries were attended to. He was able to proceed with the battery today, although suffering slight pain.

Everyone seemed well pleased with the camp at the exhibition grounds. Everything was convenient and the advance party had made most complete arrangements.

Toronto to Petewawa is probably the longest march ever undertaken by a Canadian battery, and it certainly should prove to be the best kind of training.

EXCURSIONS TO LAKE REGIONS

G.T.R. Giving Cheap Rates Every Thursday During the Summer

The Grand Trunk railway is running low rate excursions to Stony Lake every Thursday during June, July and August, and they are being largely patronized. The fare for the round trip is as follows; Port Hope, $1.95; Millbrook, $1.40; Peterborough, $1.00.

These excursions are doing much to popularize the lake regions and are much appreciated, especially by people residing at Port Hope and other points at the front.

Dry Weather is Injuring Crops

Quantity of Cheese Made is Small—Large Moose Seen

The three factories in Chandos are running and the management hope to see an increase in a short time.

Warden McNulty and the chairman of the R. and B. committee of the County Council, Mr. Moher, passed through on Friday. They along with Reeve Wm. Hales, are on a tour of inspection of the bridges in Chandos township.

A party of American miners passed through here on Friday to examine the Tucker mine at Long-a-mony-a-tery lake. This party saw a large bull moose standing in a marsh on the shore of Trout lake. The animal was very tame, allowing the canoe to come within a few hundred yards before taking to the tall timbers.

Trespassers on the G.T.R. Tracks

Will Appear in Police Court Next Week—Detective is Here

Those persons who have been in the habit of walking on the G.T.R. tracks for the purpose of saving time or for any other reason, will have to take a different route or go down into their pockets and pay a fine.

The G.T.R. officials are bound that they will prevent trespassing on their property. It is private property and no one has any right on it and if people persist in walking on the tracks they will have to bear the consequences. A G.T.R. detective has been in the city for the past two days, and on Sunday took a long list of names of trespassers, and they have been summoned to appear in police court, the first of next week.

The company do not care to fine the people, but want to warn them. If any person is hurt or killed while walking on the track, then the company are sued for damages, when they have no right whatever to pay a cent as people walk on the tracks at their own risk.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country, than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years, was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and the mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Umbrella Mender Faced the Court

Charged With Vagrancy—Two Drunks in the Box

Two drunks and a vagrant were up before city Clerk Armstrong this morning, who presided in the absence of Magistrate Dumble at the police court.

Chas Beavis, who has on numerous occasions spent terms in the county gaol, was charged this morning with being drunk and disorderly. He pleaded guilty. He was put out of the Cavanagh house yesterday and was raising a disturbance on the streets. His Worship imposed a fine of two dollars and costs amounting to $5.50 to be paid in ten days.

Ed. Moran was the next one to face the music. The charge against him was the same. He comes from Boston, Mass., but stated that he had been working for John O'Grady at Indian River. He was fined two dollars which he paid forthwith.

The umbrella man who has been making his rounds of the city for the past week was charged with vagrancy that is with out any place of abode or means of support. His name is John McIntyre. He stated that he could make a good honest living. McIntyre indulges considerably in the wet stuff and has also been sleeping in lumber yards. The Chief asked for a remand until Friday, stating that there had been two persons complain about being done out of their umbrellas. The Chief desires that anyone having complaints to make about McIntyre, should do so before Friday.

must win upon their merits. The International Dictionary has won a greater distinction upon its merits and is in more general use than any other work of its kind in the English language.'

A. H. Sayce, LL.D., D.D., of Oxford University, England, has recently said of it: It is indeed a marvelous work; it is difficult to conceive of a dictionary more exhaustive and complete. Everything is in it—not only what we might expect to find in such a work, but also what few of us would ever have thought of looking for. A supplement to the new edition has brought it fully up to date. I have been looking through the latter with a feeling of astonishment at its completeness, and the amount of labor that has been put into it.

THE CITY'S PROGRESS

Advance Peterborough!

This seems to be the motto of this good city and we are living strictly up to it.

The building permits so far this year have reached $575,000 and one may say that the season has only fairly begun. It is possible that the figures may be nearly doubled before the close of the present year.

Then in the manufacturing line, Peterborough leads all the cities and towns in Canada, in showing the greatest ratio of increase during the past five years. The output of manufactured goods in 1906 was valued close to $12,000,000, whereas in 1901 the output was less than four million. The increase in five years is 266 per cent, while the next nearest approach is Sault Ste. Marie, where the increase was 150 per cent. Stratford comes next with 97 per cent, so that it will be seen that Peterborough is a long way in the foreground of any of its rivals.

The output of manufacturing establishments during the past year averaged $733 per head of population. This is the best record in Canada. Sault Ste. Marie comes second with $545 per head, Berlin $450, Brantford $425, Sarnia $423, etc. These figures are official and are from the statistics procured by the census department at Ottawa.

Peterborough stands more than 50 per cent. higher than any other place in Canada in regard to the output per head of population.

And we are only commencing. The total output of this year will greatly exceed that of last year, and while other cities may have more factories, those in Peterborough are immense establishments and afford constant employment at good wages to hundreds of hands.

Great as has been the showing in the past, just watch us this year, and see if we do not still increase the great volume of business done per head in the words of another let us proclaim at all times that we are "citizens of no mean city."

PEN POINTS.

The citizens are waiting anxiously for the publication of the milk tests.

Well! 87 in the shade is not bad for a starter, "in the good old summer time."

How do you like the new train service. If you are not satisfied you must indeed be hard to please.

With the Sunday School picnic and the visit of the circus near at hand the small boy is having excitement a-plenty.

Electric light must be cheap in Peterborough when the lamps are allowed to burn all day in Victoria Park. The query arises, who is paying for this luxury.?

Those who complained loudly of the cold, backward spring, are now growling most unceremoniously about the terribly warm weather. It is in human nature to have some sort of a grievance.

Who can seriously complain of rough spots on the city streets, when even Old Sol himself is reported to have a few spots just now. This probably goes to show that there is nothing new under the sun.

An Illinois pastor has been convicted of making bogus coins. What about the members of church congregations who place defaced, and mutilated coins on the collection plates? Is the difference in the offence only one of degree?

A city clergyman uttered a truism when he said that among all classes of people in Canada nowadays, there was a great temptation to draw too much on the future. This fact is strikingly exemplified in large things as well as small, such as the building of granolithic walks, f'r instance.

A Lindsay lady went through the usual custom of spring housecleaning last week. She was decorating her room with pictures, and she perched her husband's picture on the topmost nail then sat down to admire her work, and remarked quietly; "Now everything is lovely and the goose hangs high."

It is satisfactory to learn that the kick registered by the Board of Education has had some effect with the public works authorities at Ottawa, and that the grade will be raised a foot, making it only six inches below the grade of the Collegiate Institute. Score one for the School Board!

Many Methodist ministers will soon be moving spirits in the community, and as they have to pack up in hot weather and go from one place of abode to another, they must be forcibly reminded of the instability of all things here below. And what a calm, serene temperament one must possess in order to not lose patience in the general jumble, during the next few weeks.

When fifteen men are allowed to work for three or four months on a government job and not receive a cent of pay during all that time, there is certainly something radically wrong. The employees on "The Trent," which is dredging for the turning basin above the Hunter street bridge, have this season received no direct recompense for their labor in the shape of legal tender of the realm. This is a downright shame, and the wonder is that the men have put up with a condition of affairs such as this as long as they have. It is high time that the Public Works Department at Ottawa, which is none too economically administered, got a move on and sent along the necessary collateral.

Two cents a mile is the passenger rate as prescribed by law in ten of the States of the Union. Where the rate has been in force for some time, the passenger traffic has increased considerably, says the Mail and Empire. This would tend to show that the reduction is beneficial to the people, and that it brings compensating conditions to the railways. The rate goes into force on Sept. 1 in Pennsylvania. The Reading has struck back, at the people by abolishing the cheap fares, and the commutation tickets to the users. But such an outcry was raised that the company had to recede. As a matter of fact, the threat to raise fares in order to cover the reduction is idle, for the Legislature, which has ordered the two-cent rate can order that the existing charges below that figure be not increased.

CIRCUS DAY ON TUESDAY NEXT

Some of the Unique Attractions in Forepaugh-Sells Show

Tuesday next, June 25, will be circus day, when all the poster promises that have decorated the bill-boards, are to materialize.

The omnipresent clown will be there with a new make-up, but with the same delightfully reminiscent smirk. The wonderful trained animals performing feats, seemingly impossible; the daring equestrian; the hair-raising aerialist; the beautiful horses, the hundred and one pictured features will all make their appearance, and the long anticipated enjoyment of circus day will be a reality.

The Forepaugh-Sells show is practically new this year. The present owners have brought all their combined resources to aid in perfecting an organization which it is hoped will win for itself the distinction of being the greatest circus exhibition in the world. Chief among the many features is the spectacle entitled "Fighting the Flames," a decided novelty, representative of a great fire scene. The spectacle will occupy the oval of a large arenic tent. A scene representing a block of sky-scrapers in the busy section of a city. The streets are filled with groups of happy, holiday making people, bands of music parading. The alarm of fire is heard. Flames are seen bursting from the windows of a large hotel. Then the rush of engines and all manner of modern fire fighting apparatus. There are one thousand actors participating in this scene. May, Victoria and Orrin Davenport, a trio of equestrians in a new and novel exhibition. Oscar Lowanda, bare-back acrobatic expert; Spessardy's trained bears in stunts that are said to rival the "Teddy Bears." Captain Webb's two groups of educated seal and sea lions. A unique exhibition of horse accomplishments, four distinguished equine prize winners, appearing in one ring; the Dollar family, a troupe of English acrobats; eight thrilling hippodrome events, while the stages and circus rings are occupied by the different performers, just in the way of good measure, and merriment, groups of clowns, forty in all, will circulate in the hippodrome oval, present pantomimic comedies and laugh-provoking conceits.

This total area under crops in Saskatchewan is 2,879,417 acres.

The Gathering at the Hague; Afraid of Creating Discord

Peace Delegates Afraid to Discuss Question of Armaments.

Czar's Action an Unwelcome Factor—Douma Dissolution Creates Gloomy Impression—Russian Deputies May Appeal to the Conference — Such a Course Would Be Very Unwelcome.

The Hague, June 18.—Although the "Pacifics" still insist that the question of the limitation of armaments must be raised in some form before the adjournment of the peace conference, the last chance of any government coming forward to openly propose the discussion, has disappeared with the knowledge that the Government of United States considers that the initiative belonged to Europe and not to America.

M. Nelidoff's depressing utterances at the opening of the conference, coupled with the unfortunate dissolution of the Douma at the very moment the conference had assembled, have produced many expressions of regret that President Roosevelt yielded the initiative of the second conference to Emperor Nicholas. The correspondent of the Associated Press has heard dozens of delegates speculating on the differences in effect which would have been produced had the keynote been sounded by a country inspired by democratic tendencies.

At matters now stand, neither England, nor any of her continental friends, are ready to move lest the mere suggestion of debating the question of the limitation of armaments inject a spirit of discord, which would endanger the useful work achievable and possibly break up the conference under circumstances which would postpone another conference indefinitely.

The dissolution of the Douma, with its possible consequences, continue to absorb as much attention as the prospects of the conference, and there is considerable speculation as to whether public sentiment may not force Great Britain to change her present attitude. Many stupid stories are afloat, including one to the effect that Great Britain or America may raise the matter in the conference.

Russians to Appeal.

A serious report alleges that some members of the late Russian Parliament are on their way to The Hague, to appeal to the conference. Their appearance here, clamoring to be heard, which manifestly is impossible, would be regarded as extremely deplorable by those who believe the conference should avoid everything likely to precipitate a conflict, and confine itself strictly to progress along the lines of the original assembly.

Solar Spots Will Create A Magnetic Disturbance

Rev. Dr. Marsh Makes Observations as to the Disturbance on the Sun's Surface Which is Now Visible

In giving the figures as to the disturbance on the sun, those published on Saturday in reference to the area covered were misleading and should have read 80,000 miles long, and 40,000 miles wide.

Rev. Dr. Marsh of Springville noticed the approach of solar disturbance on Thursday morning last. There are also some errors in the figures of Prof. Peters of the United States Naval Observatory at Washington. The disturbance could not be 800,000 miles in breadth, as the solar planet is only 866,000 miles in diameter.

Dr. Marsh last evening at seven o'clock, carefully measured the disturbance or area of the spots and found it to be 91,160 miles long and 34,060 in breadth. The disturbance area is changing in size and activity. The area which connected the two last spots on Saturday, has been broken, and is uniting these two spots. The larger of these two spots, which, on Saturday morning had a bright curved bridge almost crossing it, by evening had formed in a shape like the figure 6. This has now straightened out and is being distributed over the dark portion of the spot. The other large spot had a very peculiar appearance, the major bridge throwing out branches in all directions.

Judging from the general appearance that tendency is to break up the whole disturbance. However, it is probable that the earth will receive considerable magnetic disturbance during the next few days. This will not consist of electric or thunder storms, but magnetic disturbance detected by magnetic instruments, such as the telephone, telegraph, compass etc. As to the effect of the solar spots on the weather, there is likely to be no change felt in meteorological conditions.

Development of Brinton Carpet Co. of Canada Ltd. in One Year

Mr. Reginald S. Brinton, of Kidderminster, Visits the Canadian Company—He is Greatly Pleased With Progress Made and Future Prospects--Will Enlarge Next Year.

Delighted with the progress that has been made and with the prospects for the future, is how Mr. Reginald S. Brinton, of Kidderminster, Eng., expressed his opinion of the Brinton Carpet Co., of Canada, Limited. Mr. Brinton is a director of Brintons, Limited., of Kidderminster, and of Peterborough factory. He came across the Atlantic a year ago last March, when he and Mr. Preen chose Peterborough as the city in which to locate, and the old sugar beet company's property, as the site for the factory. At that time Mr. Brinton was greatly taken with this city, its geographical situation, its shipping facilities, and its natural resources for both business and pleasure.

The property selected for a site was a year ago only covered with foundation walls a few feet high, and with no prospects of being developed further. The snow was on the ground and the weather was cold. But arrangements were completed, and the big carpet firm of England decided to build a new works in Peterborough. Mr. Brinton then returned to England and has not been out since, until he arrived last Friday night. He found the country this time quite the opposite to what it was when here a year ago last March. The weather is very warm, the trees, grass and flowers are all at their best, while business is booming.

The Brinton Carpet Co., of Canada Limited, is now a large, prosperous firm. It is working every machine to its full capacity and is still unable to keep up with the demand. There is at the present time enough work in the factory to last until the end of the season and orders are being daily refused. As fast as possible new looms and new machinery are being added, and more men are being employed, in an effort to supply the trade with Axminster, Wilton and Brussels carpets, for which this firm is famous. There are 26 looms working on Brussels and Wiltons, and 10 on Axminsters, and several more will be added very soon, to accommodate which a small annex will be erected to the main building.

There have been rumors from time to time that the company proposed to erect a new building for the purpose of manufacturing other materials. Such is not the case, however, Mr Brinton and Mr. Preen were both asked about enlarging the works, and they said, that while they were over-run with orders now, it was not likely that any building would be done this year, outside the small annex referred to above. But next year, there was a bright prospect of a factory being added for the manufacture of carpets. The outlook for bte business would warrant the company to go ahead now, although nothing definite will be done until after the first of the year.

Mr. Brinton gives great credit to Mr G P Preen, managing director of Brinton Carpet Company of Canada, Limited, for the success that has been achieved thus far. He has proved himself capable of overcoming difficulties which are always met by a new company in a new country, and he has now got the factory on a solid business basis.

Speaking of the works in Kidderminster, Mr. Brinton said they never were so busy, and business never looked brighter. The fire some months ago destroyed a large quantity of carpets, but the company by special efforts were able to get out of the difficulty and are now running over time. A new building has been put up to replace the one damaged. It is completed and is larger and more modern, so that better work is being done than before.

Last year all the carpet factories had a hard time on account of the increase in woollens and other raw materials, while the price of carpets was not increased. This year, however, there has been a slight increase in carpets and the business is very brisk.

Mr. Brinton will be in the city for a couple of weeks yet, during which time he expects to see more of the city and surrounding country. He is accompanied by his sister, Miss M. S Brinton, who is on her first visit. She is delighted with Canada and Peterborough and vicinity especially and she is thoroughly enjoying every hour of her stay.

Reynolds Says That He Will Win

One week from yesterday James Reynolds will be ploughing through the sand hills to Toronto. The start will be made at one o'clock Monday morning and James has it all planned out how he will make the distance in the given time. He expects to break the record in going to Toronto. To accomplish the undertaking of 134 miles in 38 hours, Reynolds has to walk 3 10-19 miles an hour. He feels as confident of winning as if it were only to Cobourg and return, and all we can say is that Jimmie has our best wishes. — Port Hope Guide.

Bowel Troubles

Liver pills, cathartics, mineral waters, often make Constipation worse. They merely irritate the bowels and force them to move—stop taking purgatives and the bowels become "tight" again.

"Fruit-a-tives" are the one certain cure for Constipation because their action is upon the liver, "Fruit-a-tives" are a liver tonic. They stimulate the secretions of bile by the liver, this bile causes the bowels to move in the natural, regular way and completely cures Constipation.

"Fruit-a-tives are fruit juices with tonics and antiseptics added. In "Fruit-a-tives" one atom of bitter replaces one atom of sweet in the fruit juices, forming a new compound which is many times more active, medicinally, than the fruit juices could possibly be. 50c. a-box — $2.50 for 6 boxes. DIVERSON OF EAST WARD CREEK

Concrete Work is Heavy But Will be Very Satisfactory

Foreman Tivey is progressing with the diversion of the Ashburnham Creek. He started from the river bank a short distance above the first dam and made a heavy cut through the bank east, under the G. T. R. siding and on through to Roger street. In this cut is being laid a concrete tunnel, three feet six inches wide and four feet high. Most of the concrete work has been done as far as the railway and it looks like a very fine piece of work and should carry off, nearly all the water that comes down. The concrete work will extend as far as Roger street, and from there on it will be an open drain, taking the water from the main creek and the branch.

Mr. Tivey has had difficulty so far, as the ground is clay, sand and large stones and the bank frequently caves in so that it has to be propped. Once he passes the railway his worst part will be over.

From the mouth of the drain down to the river, a shallow, open water slide will be built of stones laid in concrete. This will keep the water in a straight course and will prevent the bank washing away.

NEW LINE TO MUSKOKA

Canada's greatest railway, in building a line to connect Toronto with the main transcontinental track at Sudbury, has incidentally given us a new direct route to the Muskoka Lakes district, over which fast passenger trains will be running after Saturday, June 22nd. Bala, which is reached in three and a half hours from Toronto, will be the Lakes terminus this summer, and there steamers of the Muskoka Navigation Company will connect with trains, carrying passengers to all points on Lakes Muskoka, Joseph, and Rosseau. The roadbed is heavily laid and well ballasted, train equipment is new and handsome, and excellent time is made. In addition to the local trains there will be two flyers to the Lakes, the Lakeland Limited and Sunrise Express, and two flyers south bound, the Queen City flyer and Twilight Limited. Through sleepers will be run to and from Toronto, Buffalo, Pittsburg and New York, and, of course a splendid equipment of parlor cars, dining cars and luxurious day coaches. C. B. Foster, District Passenger Agent, C.P.R., at Toronto, will be glad to mail full particulars of trains and handsome illustrated Muskoka folder, or same may be obtained free from local C.P.R. agents.

Seventeen Inmates in House of Refuge

Everything About the Place is Looking Neat and Clean

The Board of Management of the House of Refuge met yesterday in Lakefield. There are at present seventeen inmates in the Home—ten men and seven women. They are all being well looked after and appear to be satisfied with their surroundings. Everything about the building and farm was found neat and clean. The grain is well advanced and the crop this year on the farm will be first-class. Reeve Scott, chairman of the House of Refuge Committee, today expressed himself as pleased with the management and discipline of the Home.

TEMPERANCE TOPICS

Interesting Meeting Held by George Street Church League.

An interesting meeting was held by George Street Epworth League last evening. It was Temperance night. Mr. Snider presided and Rev. Dr. Crothers gave an able address on "Who are Slaves and who are Free Men." Mr. Fred Miles sang a solo "Have Courage My Boy to Say No." There was a large attendance.

HOMESEEKERS' EXCURSIONS

If you think of making a trip to Manitoba or the great North-west Provinces this summer, you should make a point of securing from the nearest C.P.R. agents a free copy of that railroad's booklet giving information about the popular Homeseekers' Excursions. These excursions are well known money savers, and this year are more attractive than ever. Increased traffic has meant a larger number, nine of them this season, of which at the time of writing, seven have still to run, leaving Toronto July 2, 16, 30; August 13, 27; September 10 and 14. Special trains are used, carrying colonist and tourist sleepers, berths in the latter at small additional charge. Tickets are issued from all Ontario stations at remarkably low rates, ranging from $32.00, round trip to Winnipeg, to $42.50 round-trip to Edmonton, and embracing all important points in the North-west. They are good to return within sixty days, stop-overs permitted. Ask nearest C.P.R. agent for particulars, or apply direct to C. B. Foster, District Passenger Agent, Toronto. 3d-1w.

Presentation to Mrs. Boswell

Girls' Guild of St. Luke's Church Said Farewell to the President

A number of the members of the Girls' Auxiliary of St. Luke's church called at the home of Mrs. W. F. Boswell, 575 Aylmer street, last night to say farewell. Mrs. Boswell has for a long time been a very efficient and popular president of the Guild, and the girls were sorry to see her leaving. As a remembrance of the many happy hours spent together the Guild presented their president with a beautiful gold coin with Mrs. Boswell's monogram and the date of the occasion engraved on it. Mrs. Boswell very feelingly thanked her young friends and after the ceremony, a very pleasant evening was spent. Mrs. Boswell left this morning for Edmonton.

New lights and signals are to be installed along the north shore of Lake Superior, including a lighthouse at Jackfish Bay.

The following letter appears in the Toronto World, in reference to the estate of Dr. Campbell of Buffalo, formerly of Peterborough;

Editor World; The estate of the late Dr. R. E. Campbell, of Buffalo, which was left mostly to the Samis family, was much under-estimated in value. The net cash found in the banks, as Dr. Pfohl, the administrator now reports, is $50,000, besides large real estate holdings in the Western States and residential property in Buffalo.

4172.—A CHARMING LITTLE FROCK OF MUCH SIMPLICITY.

For little maids there is no prettier style of dress than that of one piece and a pleasing example is shown in the accompanying sketch. Two box pleats in front and back relieve any tendency to plainness and prove more attractive than gathers or tucks. The tucks near the hem assist the flare and are quite in keeping with the fashion of the day. A square yoke and standing collar may finish the neck or it may be in Dutch square outline as shown. Sleeves in full or short puff length are provided for so that a dressy or plain frock may be realized with this pattern. A tub fabric or light weight cloth may serve as material, of which 2 1-8 yds. 36 inches wide are needed for the medium size.

TRAVEL IN ABYSSINIA.

Not Dangerous Provided One Has a Native Escort.

"In Abyssinia the natives kill white men in order to please their sweethearts," declared Frank Mowrer, formerly consul general to Adis Ababa and just appointed at Leghorn.

"It is never dangerous for a white man to travel in Abyssinia provided he is accompanied by a native escort, because those who compose such an escort are always trustworthy, but a man takes his life in his hands if he stalks abroad alone, not that the natives are ferocious, but that he could not be sure that one of them had not made a pact with his sweetheart to kill a man of white skin in order to win her for his bride. The native who wins such a distinction always wears a white feather in the back of his hair.

"Among all the 4,000,000 of population and in the entire area, equal to New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia and New England, there are but two white women in Abyssinia. They are the wives of two consular officials. Strange to say, the national game is hockey, but Caucasians cannot play it very much because of the climate. The natives work but little and eat raw meat. They kill an elk, peel off the skin like you would peel a banana, drain off the blood and proceed with the feast. Every Abyssinian is a good butcher.

"To the lover of nature Abyssinia is a paradise. In my journey through the land I saw thousands upon thousands of different species of birds that were beautiful in their plumage and sweet in their songs. Occasionally I heard the faraway roar of lions, those mighty beasts that promenade the forests and seldom molest human beings unless they are attacked. The Abyssinians never use any light at night, no matter where they are, and sit in the dark and converse. Therefore they have good eyes. And they have wonderfully white and even teeth, made so by cleaning them with the spreaded end of a small stick."—Washington Post.

A Lady In the House.

A lady appeared in the house of commons the other night, and members feared for a moment that the dreams of the suffragists had come true. The tall, broad and stalwart Sir John Kennaway pushed his way through the swinging doors and made toward the bar. There was a gasp of surprise when in his bulky wake was sighted a demure little lady in a fawn coat—instant visions of a suffragist plot for a woman to force entrance into the parliamentary holy of holies under the expansive shadow of Sir John Kennaway's coat tail. "Lady, lady!" shouted two door guardians, dashing in. A big attendant, dozing in a corner, jumped forward to block the way. Mr. Gosset, the deputy sergeant at arms, gripped his sword and looked like business. Pellmell was the female intruder hustled into the lobby, looking very frightened, for she had been an unwitting sinner. Members smiled, settled themselves and soon lapsed again into slumbrous attitudes.—St. James' Gazette.

Illegible Signatures.

It is a point of honor for any one who is anybody in France to sign illegibly. But the worm who has to decipher hieroglyphics is turning at last, according to the London Telegraph. There has been formed a League of Protest against all illegible handwritings and signatures, chiefly those of government officials. The motto of the new society is curious, "It behooves only a person who is infirm or one who does not know his own father to sign illegibly." Why should an unwise child who does not know his own father sign illegibly? The league does not answer the conundrum. By the way, it is impossible to decipher the name of the gentleman or perhaps lady who signs the league's manifesto.

Rubber Pavement.

Probably no substance is adapted to a greater variety of uses than rubber, but its applications are restricted by the limited supply and high cost. Among the purposes for which it has great advantages, but is not likely to be extensively employed, is that of paving roadways. A rubber pavement laid at a London railway station in 1881 was in 1902 worn down to five-eighths of an inch in its thinnest place. Notwithstanding the scarcity of the material the cost was less than three times as great as that of wood, and its life has been more than twenty years instead of the four years which the wood or asphalt would have endured.

Indigo Seeds.

One difficulty in the raising of natural indigo is that the seed of the Java plant does not usually germinate satisfactorily owing to its possessing a "cuticle" which is impermeable to water. To remedy this it has been found advantageous to soak the seeds for half an hour in concentrated sulphuric acid and subsequently to wash with water very thoroughly before sowing. Good seed treated in this way has been found to germinate to the extent of 100 per cent.

A Definition.

The Society of Automobile Engineers has recently extended its field of activity by adding to its constitution the following article 1A:

"Definition—The term 'automobile,' as used by this society, is intended to cover any self propelled vehicle operating on or under the surface of the earth or water or in the air."

The Horse He Wanted.

A Scotch farmer bought a horse. Going home he thought a drink would refresh it, so he got a pail of water, but the animal would not take it. On reaching home he gave it a feed of corn, but it would not touch that either. "Ye're the vera horse for me if ye only work!" the farmer was heard to say.

Mortification.

"Of course, doctor, German measles are seldom serious?"

"I never met but one fatal case."

"Fatal!"

"Yes. It was a Frenchman, and when he discovered it was German measles that he had mortification set in."

Good Manners of the Mind.

A man is known by the company his mind keeps. To live continually with noble books, with "high erected thoughts seated in the heart of courtesy," teaches the soul good manners.—T. B. Aldrich.

A Yachting Trip.

Captain—Please, sir, your wife has fallen overboard. Owner—Confound it! Another of those sinking spells of hers!

There are no points of the compass on the chart of true patriotism.—Winthrop.

Same Thing.

"Why do you work so hard?"

"Because my wife thinks she needs the money. Why do you?"

"Well, because I think I need a wife."

Negative Pleasure.

"She enjoys society very much."

"Enjoys society? Why, she never goes in it."

"No. She likes hers that way."

Honest About It.

"Can you pay that little bill today?"

"No, I am happy to say that I can't."

Happy Derivations.

There are some very funny stories told about the derivations of words since people are likely to twist their language into strange forms. Thus, the pope is even today called by the name "pontifex," which boys in the Latin class all know is taken by him from the title of the old Roman priests. Now "pontifex" means bridge builder, and it is true that the Roman priests in the early days of the republic were in charge of bridges, but probably it should be "pomptifex," meaning "maker of ceremonies." Many of you have wondered what the priest had to do with bridge building, and this little change of "nt" to "mp" makes the whole matter clear.

An astonishing derivation is that of the word "stranger," which we are told comes from the Greek word ex, or out of. Absurd as this seems, it is easy to understand. Ex means out, from or away, the same word as the Latin ex; hence comes extra. Then comes the Latin extraneus, which means outside. The old French word, from this, estrange, means an outsider, but estrange gave us the word etranger by dropping the s and stranger by dropping the e.

After this serious example we shall not be surprised at the old joke that derived the town name "Middletown" from "Moses," by dropping the "iddletown" and adding "oses."—St. Nicholas.

The Green of English Lawns.

The human soul is so made that green is one of its most delectable aesthetic experiences. The color is not exciting, like red, nor stimulating, like yellow, nor exalting and inspiring, like blue; it is simply soothing, satisfying, reviving, delicious. It is the human color. If there be planets on whose surface green is a color as rare as is blue on ours, our race would speedily languish and die out there. But I speak, of course, of the perfect green, the green of English lawns. Other greens there are, cold or trivial or muddy or crude, which do but irritate or depress us, and there are blue greens and gray greens, well enough in their places, and in the caves of icebergs spiritual greens that exercise a weird enchantment. But for the garment of the mighty, round earth no other green is more worthy than this of England; none other touches so inwardly the heart of man. No wonder that Falstaff on his deathbed babbled of green fields. For my dying eyes I could desire no happier vision than the gracious levels of an English lawn steeped in the gentle sunshine of a summer afternoon.—Julian Hawthorne in Atlantic.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

People who think of themselves a great deal don't think much.

Don't disturb your mental equilibrium by worrying over the affairs of the country. Plenty of people are doing that who draw a salary for it.

If wealth were as contagious as smallpox, there would be nothing in being a vaccinating physician.

Charity is the only saving grace that some of us have, and we have to beg for that.

A lodged hate and a certain loathing are often easily cured by ministering simultaneously to the self conceit and the bank account.

One of the most striking signs of smiling May is the big moving van.

Thinking no evil doesn't play a very big part in the drama of life.

Keeping secrets seem to be a paying occupation for some people.

There is only one thing that a young fellow hates worse than being kept in the house at night, and that is not being kept in bed in the morning.

Getting ahead is easy enough when somebody else pays the freight.

You have to either paddle your own canoe or know how to do some fancy diving and strenuous swimming.

No Cash Value.

There isn't any money
In dreaming all the day
Of pleasure trips and loaded ships
And fortune all your way,
Of fair and wealthy girls who think
You are the only one—
There isn't any money,
But there is lots of fun.

To tumble in the hammock
And gaze into the sky
And build in France a fine romance
Full width and double ply
May not induce the dollars
To drop into your till,
But as for satisfaction
It rather fills the bill.

We cannot take our family
And load them on the train
And get off at the castles
We build in sunny Spain,
But we can think about it,
Developing the plot,
And that will help a little
And maybe quite a lot.

It isn't just the substance
Stripped bare that we enjoy.
The shadow may be far away
And still may bring us joy.
We dream about the future
And put our cares to rout,
And, say, it's mighty pleasant
Until our pipe goes out.

Sad Case.

"I am down on the world, Weary."

"What's the bust, Dusty?"

"Did you ever think what food is, Weary?"

"Grub; somethin' to eat."

"Aw, it's somethin' worse 'n that!"

"What?"

"It's mostly the fruit of somebody's labor, Weary. Labor! Think o' that! An' we eat it, Weary; we eat it! Wow, it makes me sick."

Anniversary of Battle of Waterloo

Yesterday was the 92nd anniversary of the famous Battle of Waterloo, at which the power of the great Napoleon was crushed and Wellington won a great fight. It was on June 18th, 1815, that the engagement was fought. Flags were flying on the Peterborough, S. O. E. Hall, and other public buildings in commemoration of the historic day. Mr. Head of the Peterborough House, is a loyal Englishman, and never forgets to hang out the Union Jack in commemoration of Britain's great victories.

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt took much interest in the immigrants and did all he possibly could to minister to their comfort.

Worthy Citizen Crosses the Border

Mr. Adam Dawson Lived an Active, Useful Life

Reference was made in yesterday's issue to the death of ex-Ald. Adam Dawson, which occurred at this residence, 483 Donegal street, after an illness of seven weeks' duration. His death was due to stomach trouble, and there is removed one of Peterborough's most widely known and highly respected residents. He was a man of sterling qualities, outspoken and honest, in his convictions, always to the front to do that which was right and fearless in the stand which he took on all questions. The news of his death was received with the profoundest regret, although all hopes of his recovery had been given up for some time.

The late Mr. Dawson was born at Rock Corry, County Monaghan, Ireland, 59 years ago, and came to this country in 1866, settling in Peterborough, where he had since resided. He spent a life of usefulness both to the city and to himself. He had witnessed the rapid growth and prosperity of Peterborough, and always took an active part in its welfare. He was a member of the old fire brigade for many years, when they had to pump the water by hand. He also took a deep interest in military affairs, and some years ago was prominently identified with the 57th Battalion, as it was then called, being a member of Col. J. Z. Rogers' Company. At all times he took a very active part in municipal affairs, and for thirteen years served the city faithfully as alderman, and during that time he was chairman of some of the most important committees. In all matters concerning the city's progress he did what seemed best to him and was firm and unwavering in expressing his views.

Mr. Dawson was a building contractor. He served his time as a builder with the late David Carlisle, and since that gentleman's death he had carried on a prosperous contracting business for himself.

In religion the deceased was a faithful and staunch member of the Anglican church, and was prominently identified with the three local churches. He first attended St. John's, but on the erection of St. Luke's he was one of those who formed the first congregation at its inception. He attended there for twenty-five years, and scarcely ever missed a Sunday, despite the long walk which he had to take. His Christian life and high ideals are well worthy of following. For two years he acted as rector's warden at St. Luke's. For the past couple of years, owing to a decline in health, he attended All Saints', and was regular in attendance at the services. In politics he was a staunch Conservative.

He was a member of Corinthian Lodge, A.F. & A.M., having joined that society in 1875. He was made Worshipful Master in 1888, and was appointed to an office in the Grand Lodge by the Rt. Worshipful Bro. Harding, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Canada. Up to the time of his demise he was an interested and enthusiastic member. He was also a member of the Canadian Order of Foresters.

In 1877 the deceased was married to Jane Butler, daughter of Mr. Robert Butler, of Cobourg, who with four daughters and two sons, are left to mourn his loss. They are Misses Ethel, Alice, Elsie and Phyllis, and Messrs. Frank and Vernon, all residing at home. Mr. Thos. Dawson, of this city, is a brother of the deceased.

THE FUNERAL

The funeral of the late Mr. Dawson will take place on Friday afternoon and will be conducted under Masonic auspices. A private service will be held at the family residence, 483 Donegal street, at two o'clock in the afternoon and at three o'clock there will be a public service in All Saint's church. Rev. Wm. Major will conduct the solemnities, assisted by Rev. E. A. Langfeldt. The members of the city council, Corinthian lodge, A. F. & A. M., the Canadian Order of Foresters, the Bricklayers' and Stonemasons' Union, of which, the deceased, was a member, will attend in a body.

Formal Opening of Hydraulic Lift Lock at Kirkfield, Ont.

Will Take Place Saturday, July 6th--Hon. R. Lemieux Postmaster-General Will Officiate.

The hydraulic lift lock at Kirkfield will be formally opened Saturday, July 6th at 1.30 o'clock in the afternoon.

It will be officially opened by Hon. Rudolphe Lemieux, of Ottawa, postmaster-general, assisted by Mr. M. J. Butler, deputy minister of railways and canals.

It is expected that a large number from Peterborough will attend the ceremony. All the members of parliament, both for the Dominion and Provincial Houses, will be invited the festivities and excursions will be run from Peterborough, Lindsay and other points. Supt. McClellan of the Trent Canal is making full arrangements and the programme will be an interesting one.

The opening of the lift lock at Kirkfield, marks an important step toward the completion of this great inland waterway. It is just three years since the big lift lock in this city was officially opened by Hon. Mr. Emmerson, former minister of railways and canals.

The lift lock at Kirkfield affords an elevation of fifty feet, while the one here gives an elevation of sixty-five feet. The two lift locks on the Trent Canal system, are the only ones of their kind in America.

The formal opening will take place, as already stated, on Saturday, July 6th at 1.30 o'clock in the afternoon. Hon Mr Lemieux, who will officiate at the ceremony, is not only postmaster-general, but Minister of Labor for the Dominion. It is expected that those who go up from Peterborough will travel by train to Lindsay and then go by boat to Kirkfield, a distance of forty miles.

Excursions will be run not only from Peterborough and Lindsay, but from Orillia, Barrie, Beaverton and other towns.

Many Young Men Were Fined For Not Paying Poll Tax

Chief Roszel was kept busy making change at the police court this morning. There was a gathering in of al those who had shirked paying their statute labor tax. There ing their statute labor tax.

There were over fifteen young men over twenty-one years of age, who were negligent in this matter. They all had to go down into their pockets and pay up. It was about twice as much as if they had paid it at first.

The tax for statute labor is one dollar, but those in court had to pay $1.90.

City Clerk Armstrong presided in the absence of Mr. Dumble.

M Halliban, L. Connors and Wm. O'Keefe were called, but were not present.

F. Udy was next called and coughed up his $1.90.

J. R. Dundas pleaded not guilty. He stated that he was a member of the 57th Regiment and therefore should not be taxed. Tax Collector Greere swore that Dundas was rightfully taxed and was not in the regiment at the time. He paid the $1.90. Then followed a long list and the Chief ran out of ten-cent pieces, as everyone handed him a two-dollar bill. Thos. Bosworth, R. G. Graham, Ed. Leclaire, D. Beavis, Thos Hickey, H. Cain, Ed. Burrette, and Jas. Judd all handed over the $1.90, thus enriching the city coffers, seventeen dollars and ten cents.

Geo. McClelland was called, but is away at camp with the soldiers at the present time.

Fred Reddy was called, but is now in Detroit.

Young men who are not on the assessment roll as tenants or property owners, had better pay their poll tax when due, and save 90 cents. The boys will soon be around delivering tax bills again. Next month the tax bills are delivered.

SURRENDERS TO POLICE.

Fugitive From Egypt, Forger of Millions, Gives Himself Up.

Montreal, June 19.—"I have come to give myself up to justice. My father is 2,000,000 francs the poorer today because of my sin. I have taken through forgery that amount from him. I have attempted suicide, but failed."

This statement was made yesterday to Chief Detective Carpenter by a handsome young man belonging to Egypt, who gave the name of George Siage.

Siage stated that he was 25 years of age. His father was an extremely wealthy man, and had carried on a great business in Cairo as a jewelery.

The boy commenced by forging small cheques, and with such success that for a long time he was never even suspected. Then in 1904 he forged a cheque for 1,000,000 francs and cleared out to Paris. For two years he remained there in business as a jeweler, but did not do well.

"The money I had stolen seemed to be accursed," he said. "At any rate, as time progressed my conscience, which had never been at rest, continued to trouble me more and more. I gave up business and sailed for New York, in the hope that the novelty of the new world would have the effect of distracting my mind from the thoughts which continually haunted it. I only became worse.

"One night last week, while in New York, I purchased a quantity of laudanum, and attempted to poison myself. My moans attracted attention, and after receiving medical aid I recovered.

"I arrived in Montreal yesterday and made up my mind to surrender myself to the police. That is all my story, and it is the truth."

INSPECTION AT NIAGARA.

General Lake and Col. Vidal Make Rounds of the Camp.

Niagara-on-the-Lake, June 19.—Major-Gen. Lake and Lt.-Col. Vidal, inspector-general of the Canadian militia, visited the camp yesterday and inspected each regiment and corps. They were accompanied by Brig.-Gen. Otter and went the rounds in an automobile.

For five days Col. Williams of Toronto has been inspecting the cavalry brigade, and completed the task yesterday. He says he has never known a camp of raw militiamen to take to the drill more aptly.

Lt.-Col. Shore of the Indian army is visiting camp and has taken a considerable interest in Col. Merritt's pack-saddle.

This morning half the strength will assemble for a march to Thorold, where they will bivouac overnight.

Sapiro Fulljames, an Italian cook for the Canadian Field Engineers, has been sent to the town cells for 168 days for attempting to steal rations.

BONUS FOR LONGSHOREMEN.

Montreal, June 19.—The award of the arbitrators in the longshoremen's demand for higher wages was announced yesterday as follows:

A continuance of the 10 per cent. increase of 2 1-2 cents an hour.

A bonus to be given at end of season to those remaining at work, at rate of 2 1-2 cents an hour from July 1.

Wage rate of 30 cents per hour, day work and 35 cents for night work for the season of 1908.

The award is binding on neither side, but will likey be accepted by the men.

The board of enquiry was composed of His Grace Archbishop Bruchesi of Montreal, George W. Stephen, M.P.P., president of Montreal Harbor Commission, and Joseph Ainey.

NO FEAR OF OUTBREAK

Revolutionists in Russia Declare Against Armed Revolt.

Guard Regiments Removed From St. Petersburg—Attempts on Lives of Ministers Are Expected by the Police — Collision Between Cossacks and Workmen—Members of Late Douma Arrested.

St. Petersburg, June 19.—The return of the Guard Regiments to their summer camp at Krasnoye Selo indicates that the authorities have definitely ceased to reckon on an outbreak of disorder at the capital following the coup d'etat. This view is confirmed by the action of the revolutionary parties in declaring against armed outbreaks at the present time, when the troops are loyal to the Government.

A high police official, however, says that speedy resumption of the terrorist campaign, including attempts on the lives of the Ministers and other high officials, may be expected.

There was a collision Monday between Cossacks and workmen near Yekaterinoslav. The Cossacks fired a volley, seriously wounding four men. The trouble was provoked by the insolent bearing of Caucasian mercenaries employed to protect private estates in the Caucusus.

Ten of the 16 Social Democratic members of the late Parliament, whose arrest was demanded by Premier Stolypin, are now in the hands of the police. Several Social revolutionary deputies and a number of members of the first Parliament, among them being Ramischwili, Annikin and Tesla, have also been arrested.

A number of workmen have been arrested for tearing down and defacing the Emperor's manifesto.

BATTALION IN MUTINY.

Kill Commander and Fire On Loyal Battalions.

Kiev, June 19.—Last night the 21st battalion of Sappers, 450 strong, mutinied. They killed the commander of the third company and began firing volleys at random. Five loyal battalions were summoned to quell the mutiny, and called upon the mutineers to surrender. They replied with shots, however, wounding four of the loyal soldiers.

The loyal battalions fired a volley and the mutineers broke and fled. Two hundred and fifty-eight of them were arrested, but the others escaped.

HOSE TURNED ON LAND SEEKERS

Crowd However Refused to Give Up Their Places.

Yorkton, Sask., June 19.—One of the choicest and largest townships of the entire Doukhobor reserve has been thrown open for homesteading and one of the wildest scenes ever witnessed here was the result.

In order to better control the crowd and avoid the long hours of waiting, the mounted police some time ago ordered all those desiring homesteads to be at the land office at 6 o'clock and from up at the edge of the sidewalk in front of the building, then, at a word from the police, they were allowed to rush for the door and form up in single file along the wall. Each man was then given a number and No. 1 gets first choice of the land.

The crowd was so large that this order of things was completely upset. At 3 o'clock in the morning a large crowd gathered and kept increasing and at 6 o'clock the street and sidewalks were both crowded and the police were almost powerless to handle it.

The assistant chief of the town fire brigade was assisting the police in the capacity of special constable, when it occurred to him that the crowd would be easily dispersed if the hose was turned on them. He communicated his idea to the sergeant in charge, who promptly acted on it and the fire bell was rung, the brigade called out and in a very short time a powerful stream was drenching the sweating, struggling, tired mass of humanity through and through, but they did not budge. They took their drenching rather than lose their chance of a homestead.

The greatest indignation was aroused.

TOWN ALMOST WIPED OUT.

Bad Fire at St. Phillippe Near Laprairie, Quebec.

Montreal, June 19.—About half the village of St. Phillippe, near Laprairie, about 20 miles from Montreal, was wiped out by fire yesterday morning. The loss is estimated at $50,000.

The postoffice, Bank Nationale branch and hay merchant's store in the same building were destroyed, as well as eight residences and a number of barns.

The wind settled on to the southwest, however, and the fire burned itself out on the edge of the ravine.

Had the wind shifted to the east the entire village would have been wiped out.

Woman Burned to Death.

Binghamton, N. Y., June 19.—While heating a curling iron over a lamp as she was dressing, Mrs. Earl Bogart received fatal burns by the sudden explosion of the lamp, which deluged her with burning oil.

Jewel Case Found.

London, June 19.—The jewel case lost by the Dowager Duchess of Roxburge during a railway journey from London to Doncaster, June 15, was found intact in the car where it had been mislaid.

Seven Miners Killed.

Scranton, Pa., June 19.—Seven employes were killed outright and another seriously injured in an explosion of gas in the Johnson mine at Priceburg late yesterday.

R. P. Inglis of Toronto, whose auto ran down W. Todd of Hamilton, a week ago, was fined $10 yesterday.

ORCHARD'S WIFE DECEIVED.

Haywood Helped Him With Fake Letters—Revenge Not Motive.

Boise, Idaho, June 19.—The prosecution in the Steunenberg murder trial offered one of its most important pieces of evidence against William D. Haywood yesterday, when, recalling Harry Orchard for redirect examination, it introduced four letters tending to show that Haywood, during the fall of 1905, when Orchard swears he was engaged on various crimes for the federation leaders, had participated in a plan to deceive Mrs. Orchard of Cripple Creek as to the whereabouts of her husband.

Over a variety of protests from the defence, Orchard was allowed to testify that early in the summer of 1905, Haywood told him that Mrs. Orchard was writing for information as to Orchard's whereabouts. Orchard swore that he wrote Mrs. Orchard a series of letters that were falsely dated and delivered to Mrs. Orchard by agents of the Western Federation of Miners.

Orchard identified a letter which Haywood wrote to Mrs. Orchard, and that was admitted in evidence and handed to the jury. It follows:

"Denver, Nov. 18, 1905.

"Mrs. H. Orchard: Dear Madam and Sister,—I have not heard a word since I saw you. The last information I got was from Alaska. I think Fairfield was the name of the place. I see that awful conditions prevail among the law and order element.

"Yours very truly,
"William D. Haywood."

Besides the four San Francisco and Alaska letters the state procured the admission of a certified copy of an unsigned letter which Orchard got at Caldwell jail, and which Orchard swears was in the handwriting of Pettibone.

The letter follows:

"Dec. 30.

"Friend Tom,—Your letter received. That was sent to Jack Dec. 21 for you. He should send it so that you ought to have it by this time. Will not write any more this time. Wire me as soon as you get to your new field."

The letter was postmarked at Denver in December, 1905, the day that Steunenberg was killed, and it is said by the state that the Jack mentioned was Simpkins, and the "that" referred to was $100, which Orchard swore he asked Simpkins to get for him when Simpkins left Caldwell.

The state developed its contention that, as tending to show a conspiracy and knowledge of the Steunenberg crime, Orchard was, without any request on his part, furnished with counsel within a few days after his arrest.

The defence examined Orchard on this subject, and largely devoted itself to showing that the Western Federation of Miners always provided counsel for its members whenever and wherever they got into trouble.

To combat the theory that Orchard killed Steunenberg in revenge for his loss of a valuable interest in the Hercules Mines, the state on re-direct examination obtained from Orchard a declaration that he sold his interest in the Hercules in 1897, two years before the strike began and troops came.

There was a large contest over an effort by the state to show that the confession of Steven Adams had been voluntary.

SERIOUS FOREST FIRES.

Three Men Reported Burned to Death—Much Property Destroyed.

Sault Ste. Marie, June 19.—More serious reports came from the woods yesterday regarding forest fires. Although rain fell Monday night the fires were not checked.

It is reported from Webbwood that three men were burned to death near there. Many miles of forest along the Algoma Central have been burned, and the flames seem to be increasing in spite of light rains.

Thousands of dollars' worth of timber has been destroyed in the Georgian Bay district also, and many operators have lost all of their supplies and equipments.

Destructive fires are burning on the Michigan side, too. Unless heavy rains falls at once the fires may burn for days.

Mining Buildings Damaged.

Mine Centre, Ont., June 19.—Bush fires west of here Monday did damage to the extent of $15,000 to the property and buildings of the Olive Gold Mining Co., Limited, destroyed two shaft-houses and machinery, also blacksmith-shops, double tramways and some outbuildings belonging to the plant.

The stamp-mill, which is the largest in this district, was saved, also residences, offices, etc.

Dr. Henry Morgan of Ottawa, is to receive the degree of D.C.L. from King's College, N. S.

William Crawford, of Hamilton, was fined $20 for selling refreshments at Dundurn on Sunday.

VILLAGERS IN REVOLT

French Premier Secures Indirect Vote of Confidence.

Decides to Prosecute Agitators—Deputies Will Back Up the Cabinet—Conciliation Useless — Dynamite Found on Railroads—Tracks Removed—Telegraph Wires Cut—Law to Be Rigidly Enforced.

Paris, June 19.—The action of the Government in determining to prosecute the agitators in the south of France led to a lively debate in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday, but after a tumultuous session the Cabinet secured an indirect vote of confidence by the large majority of 254.

In a speech which was frequently interrupted by noisy protests, the Premier declared that all means of conciliation were now exhausted, and that as chief of the Government he was bound to enforce respect for the law.

Advices received here yesterday from Narbonne state that dynamite had been found on railroads; in some cases the tracks have been removed, the telegraph wires cut, so as to impede the arrival of troops, and the revolted villagers have been pulling up the pavements and collecting materials for barricades.

SWALLOWS DIAMOND IN FRIGHT

Was Moistening It In His Mouth When Moose Scared Him.

Montreal, June 19.—A man named Charles Cochrane arrived by C.P.R. at the Windsor station from Kippewa district. He appeared to be suffering acute agony, but refused all medical assistance, saying that he could find no relief until he arrived at his journey's end.

Cochrane is a diamond expert, and went north with two others to the district north of Kippewa, diamond prospecting.

Cochrane was moistening a large stone with his lips, in order to bring out its brilliant, when, he says, he looked up and saw an immense moose standing within a few feet of him. In his sudden fright he swallowed the stone and started to run for his life.

He is now hurrying to New York to be operated upon.

STATES HAVE GONE MAD.

Governor Cummins for Tariff Reform and Reduction.

Pittsburg, June 19.—Governor Albert B. Cummins of Iowa delivered the principal address at a meeting of the Pittsburg Board of Trade on "Reciprocity."

Governor Cummins characterized the placing of duties upon many things as an American habit, and said:

"I am for tariff revision and for tariff reduction as a measure of justice to the buyers of protected commodities. It seems to me that we have gone mad in our zeal for the seller, and have abandoned the buyer to the tender mercy of monopoly, combination and greed."

Betting Cases For Judges.

Toronto, June 19.—The Woodbine bookmakers' betting cases were yesterday adjourned until Friday, those against frequenters going over until October, by which time a high court decision is expected.

The magistrate said he could see no difference in the system of last year and this year, but he preferred to have other judges decide.

"And if the case is taken to the supreme court I am assured of the decision of that body," he added.

Public Taste Improving

Much greater attention is now-a-days being paid to the interior decoration of homes. Striking and original effects are being sought for, and harmony of decoration is considered essential. Perhaps this will account for the increasing popularity of metal in place of wood, plaster and wall paper for the interior of homes. Classified Metal Walls and Ceilings have many advantages over ordinary building materials. They are fire-proof, vermin-proof, sanitary and washable. They are rich in appearance, and lend themselves to many handsome color schemes. There are designs suitable for the most expensive, as well as the more unpretentious, homes.

Where Metal Walls and Ceilings are used the insurance rates are about one-third less than the usual charges.

It is not necessary to build a new home in order to enjoy the advantages of metal instead of plaster. Both walls and ceilings may be put on over the present woodwork at very little expense.

The Metal Shingle and Siding Co., Limited, of Preston, Ont., have issued a handsome catalogue, showing many beautiful designs for homes. Those intending to build or rebuild, should send for a free copy. 58

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

Author of "When Lovely Maiden Stoops to Folly," "A Cruel Revenge," "The Heiress of Cameron Hall," "Ione," "Parted at the Altar," Etc.

Reine burst into tears, and then the true state of affairs came out,—that she was penniless—that she was thrown upon her own resources that day, for the first time in her young life; that she had not even a shelter when the darkness of night closed in around her.

Mrs. Arnold was shocked. She was almost rendered speechless. What young girl in tens of thousands similarly situated, would have brought her back her purse?

She pressed Reine's little soft hands sympathetically, noting the while how beautiful and white they were, like the tender, velvet leaves of a lily.

Searching for employment—Heaven pity and help her! She remembered a time, far back in her own life, when she had had an almost similar experience; and she remembered, with a shudder, she had told herself, if she did not find something to do before nightfall, she would kill herself. Better a quick death than the maddening tortures of starvation and exposure to the bitter cold in the dreary streets. Now she was differently situated—widowed—yet doing quite well as the mistress of this thrifty boarding-place, with a neat little sum put by for a rainy day, as all wise people should have. Her one great sorrow had been the loss of her daughter, but she thanked Heaven that her only son—the idol of her heart—had been spared to her.

"Do not weep any more, my dear," said the motherly lady, wiping the tears from Reine's eyes. "You shall stay here with me until you can find something to do. I know just how to feel for you in your present trouble—indeed I do."

Reine was only too glad to accept. She had not the least idea what she would have done if Heaven, in its mercy, had not found her this kind friend.

"I shall not be a burden to you long, my dear madam," said Reine gratefully. "If I could get a place to teach school, or find pupils for music, drawing or French, I would soon be able to repay you."

"You seem to be quite accomplished. If you could teach all these things," said Mrs. Arnold, "I take it you must have been rich once."

"My father was worth considerable," said Reine blushing painfully. "I never thought one short year ago, that I should ever come to want."

"Ah, well," replied the good woman, cheerfully, "many a man is rich to-day and poor to-morrow. The world never knows how shaky many a rich man is until he comes to die. In most cases, there's a mighty falling off in their wealth, I can tell you, and the heirs find themselves in tight places."

Reine did not correct the impression the good woman was evidently laboring under—that she was an orphan.

"You have not told me your name, my dear," said Mrs. Arnold, at length. "I wish to present you to my son when he comes in."

"My name is Reine Waldron," she answered, with another flush, debating within herself whether she ought to tell this good woman that she was married or not.

She concluded, however, that if she were to tell her she would be obliged to repeat to her all of her sad story, and she would rather have died than have said—"my husband left me yesterday, for no offence whatsoever—left me wilfully, deliberately."

The world is so uncharitable to women, especially if a sorrow of this kind befalls them. No, no, it were better far to say nothing upon the subject. Let them think her Miss Waldron, if they would.

Mrs. Arnold conducted Reine to a very neat little bedroom opening off from her own.

"You are to occupy this for the present, my dear," she said.

Reine was only too grateful, and she thanked her with tears in her eyes.

When the six o'clock dinner bell rang, Mrs. Arnold came hurriedly into the room.

"My son has come home," she said. "I have told him of the little episode that happened me this afternoon, and its sequel, which he declares is quite romantic; and Horace is anxious to see you, for I have told him, my dear, that you are as beautiful as you are honest. There is one thing more he tells me which will be the best of news for you to hear. He thinks he can get you employment to copy briefs for a law firm; that is, if you are quick with the pen, and write a good, plain hand. The pay isn't much—about three dollars and a half a week; but you had better take that while you are looking about to better yourself. Do you think you could do that kind of work acceptably? It wouldn't do to make mistakes, you know."

"I am sure I could do it," replied Reine, faintly, remembering the hundreds of breifs she had seen in her father's study, and remembering her idle curiosity as her eye fell upon the close-written pages, quire after quire, how the person who wrote it had the patience to do it.

And now, she, the petted heiress, the disinherited daughter, the forsaken young wife, was glad to get it to do.

She followed Mrs. Arnold down to the parlor thoughtfully. A tall, pleasant-faced young man rose to greet them as they entered.

"Miss Waldron, I have the pleasure to present to you my son Horace—Horace Arnold," said the fond mother proudly; adding in almost the same breath: "My son is a lawyer, connected with the law firm of Chesleigh & Sanford. I presume you have heard of the firm."

Reine gave a violent start, but neither Mrs. Arnold or her son observed it. The lovely face grew a shade paler and her crimson lips trembled.

"Both Mr. Chesleigh and Mr. Sanford are estimable gentlemen," Mrs. Arnold went on, enthusiastically, "especially the former. Horace is very much attached to him."

Reine's heart gave a strange throb, half pleasure, half pain.

How well every one loved Bernard Chesleigh who knew him! Ah, how blind she had been in that dark past!

"I suppose Horace may as well bring some briefs home to-morrow for you to commence on," suggested Mrs. Arnold.

"I will be very grateful if he will be so kind," replied Reine.

It was no light task toiling through the many meshes of legal puzzles, yet Reine never complained as the days came and went. The pretty white fingers were always ink-stained now, but it did not matter to her; those little stained fingers earned for her her daily bread.

Horace Arnold taught her typewriting, too; then Reine accomplished her work with great rapidity.

How strange it was that while General Hastings and Bernard Chesleigh, together with the indefatigable Mr. Gray, were searching the city through for her, Reine was quietly earning her living almost under their very eyes!

CHAPTER XXVI.

Copying, however, proved very tedious, and not very remunerative work for Reine; she was not very quick with the pen, and then, to make the matter all the worse, it was just that season of the year when there were but few briefs to copy other than were given to the more experienced clerks.

More than once Reine found she was short of money for her board, and her heart sank within her.

"If I could only find something else to do in conjunction with copying," she thought despairingly.

One day an idea occurred to her to try to write poems for the magazines. In those old days, verses she had written had been highly praised. If God had given her any talent in this line, why not try to turn it into profit now?

Lindsay Man's Son is Drowned and Child Also Expires.

Mr. P. Whitney, William Street, Lindsay, suffered a double bereavement last evening, when his child died and his son Phillip was drowned at Aurora. The facts of the case are extremely sad. Mr. Whitney received the telegram announcing his son's death, immediately after the child had passed away. The son's body is expected home this evening.—Lindsay Post.

Improvement in the Wheat Crop

Although in Some Countries it is Very Light

Special to J. R. Heintz & Co.

Liverpool, June 18.—Broomhall's weekly foreign crop report says:—

United Kingdom—The weather is unfavorable, and this condition is having a tendancy to lower crop prospects, which were indicated last week to be below that of last year.

France—The outlook generally is good. Supplies are sufficient for immediate requirements.

Germany—The favorable weather has improved crop prospects. Mr. Broomhall has inspected three large farms in the Province of Saxony, and the winter wheat, where not reploughed, shows a healthy condition. The spring crops are satisfactory. The situation, however, is critical, due to light stocks, and any further unseasonable weather would be likely to cause a scare. The weather is now rool.

Hungary—There is some improvement noted, but estimates of the yield are still very low.

Roumania and Bulgaria—Winter wheat shows some improvement, and the outlook for spring crops is favorable.

Russia—The outlook for winter wheat in the south-west shows a moderate improvement. Spring crops are unfavorable.

Italy, Spain and North Africa—The outlook for the crops continue fair.

India—The monsoon has burs, —which is beneficial for the wheat.

Australia—The weather is good.

HAY WILL BE $20 PER TON

Very Small Growth This Year—Other Crops May Turn Out All Right

"What is the prospect for an average crop this year?" a Review man asked one of the County Councillors.

"Speaking generally, I would not like to say," was the reply, "but as far as hay is concerned it will be very light. In other years, we have been getting ready to start mowing at this date, but this year, the hay has very little growth."

That means that instead of the price of hay coming down, it will be still higher, and the owners of horses need not be surprised if they have to pay $20 a ton for loose hay.

The season has been very backward and the farmers are now doing work, which is usually done in May. Still none of them will say that the crop will be a failure. They seem to have great faith in the future. The most that any of them will say is that they do not think that the yield will be quite up to the average. Wheat, oats, corn, roots, etc., have several weeks to grow yet, and great things can yet be done.

Laprairie, 11 miles from Montreal, was fire swept last night.

E. W. Bean, a well-known merchant of Maymont, Sask., was killed on Saturday, by being thrown from his buggy.

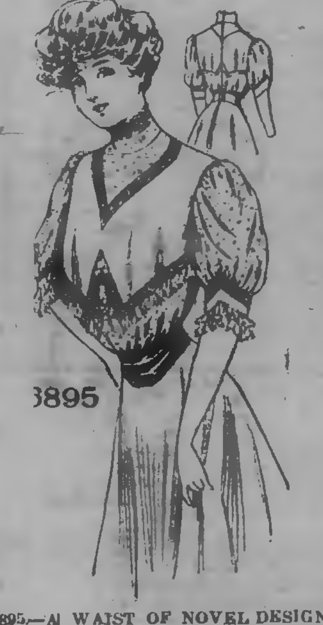
6721.—A SHIRT BLOUSE OF SMART LINES.

Now that the shirt blouse is so necessary to every woman and girl, the designs for this garment must be as varied as possible. A waist which will not fail to please the particular woman has a stole yoke which is completed at each side with tucks of becoming depth. The yoke appears in back and two groups of tucks lend further adornment and tapering lines. Together with the long sleeves, those of three-quarter length are also provided for and may be finished with natty little cuffs of the same or a contrasting material. While simple, the waist is one of undeniably good style and for wear with the suit or odd skirt will prove most fetching. Any seasonable fabric may develop it. The medium size calls for 3 1-2 yards of 27 inch material.



6895.—A WAIST OF NOVEL DESIGN.

The fasion of trimming cloth or silk with lace has been reversed and now it is lace which forms the body of the prettiest waists and the material adorns it. Here is a waist showing the style very prettily, the waist proper being of figured net and the bolero of silk. The waist is very unique in style and wonderfully fetching. Long and short sleeves are provided for, the latter being the more attractive because of the natty little cuff band which finish tem. Such a waist is smart in white cloth or pongee, and may be developed at home without difficulty. For the medium size 3 yards of 27 inch goods are needed for this waist and 1 1-8 yd. of 18 inch goods for the bolero.

6895.—6 sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure.

Ennismore Picnic Yesterday Most Successful Ever Held in Parish

Over a Thousand People Gathered at Tara Grove and Enjoyed a Day of Rare Pleasure—Some of the Features Described—Many in Attendance From Peterborough--Speeches by J. R. Stratton, Ex-M.P.P. and Others.

Fav[illegible] smiling June skies and the larg[illegible] attendance in its history, the annual picnic of St. Martin's parish, Ennismore, was held yesterday and was a great success. The popular parish priest, Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, is being heartily congratulated on all sides for the manner in which everything had been conducted at this great annual event. There are various kinds of successes in the world. Some are real and genuine, others appear to be so on the surface, and there are other successes that are created by the newspapers. Ennismore picnic was one of the first mentioned kind, a real, genuine, old time success and everyone who was present was not slow in proclaiming it such.

The day was a beautiful specimen of what June can do in the weather line when she wants to favor some favored people and the residents of Ennnismore appear to be in this class. Year after year they have been blessed with beautiful weather for their annual picnic and one man asserted yesterday that it would be ever thus, so kind was Providence to the good people of Ennismore. True yesterday was a little warm and rain came down quite heavily for about a half hour at the close of the day, but no one found fault with the weather for all that. Shortly after five o'clock the sky became overcast and a thunder storm soon followed, but it did not drive many from the grounds. The picnickers took shelter in the numerous covered vehicles and waited till the clouds rolled by. The rain came down for about half an hour and then the skies cleared, the sun came out, and refreshed by the downpour, the grove looked more beautiful than ever and the festivities were kept up until after eight o'clock. The rain settled the dust, and in fact added to the success of the picnic rather than being a detriment.

IN TARA GROVE.

As in past years the picnic was held in beautiful Tara Grove and a prettier spot for an event of this kind it would be hard to find. It is unusually level for a piece of woodland and had been put in splendid shape for the picnic. There are many cool, shady nooks where horse and man can find rest and comfort, and hay and water for the animals could be secured on the grounds. The attednance numbered over a thousand and they came early and stayed late. With the gaily decorated booths, the merry dancing platform and the scores of people moving about, the ladies resplendent in summer's bright costumes, the scene was a very animated one. And a happy gathering it was too. Prosperity has been smiling upon the people of the Ennismore and it was with thankful hearts that they assembled for their annual holiday. Young and old were prepared to enjoy to the fullest everything that was going, and they did too. The different amusements were entered into with hearts as light as the feet of the dancers and many amusements there were to make the day one of royal pleasure.

SOME FEATURES.

Ennismore picnic has become known far and wide as an event where a good is always to be had and this is perhaps why the people gathered from so many points in the country to take part in the merry making. Of course Ennismore turns out en masse and if there was anybody in the township at home yesterday it was because they were sick or had some other very good reason for not attending the picnic. The people for miles around go to Enniamore picnic for there they know they will meet all their friends in the entire countryside, they can renew the old friendships and form new ones, and discuss matters of common interest that have happened since they last met. The state of the crops, whether the hay crop is going to be bountiful or light and the harvest, the comings and goings, the marriages and prospects for marriages, and the deaths that have taken place, spoken of in voices low and sad—these are matters of mutual interest that are talked about by the older folk at Ennismore picnic, but of course the younger ones are usually too busy to pay attention to the everyday things of life, they spend the time in a different way.

THE DANCING.

For the young folk, and some that were no longer young too, the dancing platform was the centre of attraction.

Ennismore picnic would be far from complete without a dancing platform and as usual a commodious one was on the grounds yesterday. It was erected in the shade of some spreading maples and was thronged with lovers of the light fantastic from early in the afternoon until late in the evening. The extreme heat did not have any effect upon the spirits of dancers and they "hammered the lumber with the leather" in true Ennismore fashion. With such energy was the dancing carried on that on two occasions boards became loose in the platform and a hammer and nails had to be secured to make the necessary repairs. The organist and violinists were seated upon an elevated portion of the platform and played lively tunes that made the eel move and the heart beat lightly. The "caller-off" was there in all his old time glory and sang out the promptings in no uncertain tone. "Salute your partners and balance all; two in the centre and all hands around." he sang out and the dancers were not slow to respond. And on it went throughout the afternoon. The dancers never seemed to tire and were in their places every time the music started up.

In addition to the dancing there was a programme of sporting events, races, jumping, etc. These were keenly contested and a list of the winners will be published in the Review at an early date.

Two well supplied booths were erected on the grounds and did a rushing business in soft drinks, ice cream, fruit and other hot weather edibles. They were constantly surrounded by scores of patrons and the attendants had a busy time.

THE DINNER.

The dining department was the centre of much interest, especially at noon and again in the evening. Two long tables, each capable of accommodating about 100 persons, were spread inside an enclosure that was backed by the cooking house. The dining department was in charge of the ladies of the parish, and they are to be congratulated on the way everything was conducted Ennismore has been noted for its cooks and yesterday went to show that the ladies of the parish are not becoming deficient in the great culinary art. They had provided a wealth of good things, and although meals were served to over 700 persons, there was plenty and to spare. There were scores of waiters to see that everyone was well served and no one went away without being "full to the neck," as one man expressed it.

THE SPEECHES

About 4.30 o'clock the dancing platform was cleared, and the speech-making commenced. The speeches are always a feature of the Ennismore picnic and are listened to with great interest. Probably in no past year have there been so many important personages present as was the case yesterday. They included the Catholic clergy from the surrounding parishes, Messrs. R. R. Hall, M.P., T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., Hon. J. R. Stratton, Warden McNulty, Ald. Phelan and Elliott, Wm. Rudkins, County Councillors J Fife, W. J. Porter, Brown, R Scott, C. J. Darling, S. Killen, Dr. J. A. Burgess, A. Breault, Jas. Thompson, GFrank Moher, Robt. Johnson, Robt Straw, Booth, Cohen and Hales, County Clerk Ed. M. Elliott and several others.

The county council adjourned yesterday afternoon to attend the picnic, having received a pressing invitation from the committee in charge, and they went out in a body in the big auto bus.

Mr Wm. Rudkins acted as chairman, and before calling on the first speaker, complimented Rev. Father Fitzpatrick on the success of his picnic and referred to the excellent arrangements that had been made.

WARDEN McNULTY.

Warden McNulty was the first speaker and in opening he asked that recognition be shown the county councillors for having adjourned to attend the picnic. He was sure they were all enjoying the outing immensely. At any rate, he was having a royal time himself. He referred to the prosperity that existed in Ennismore township. They had one of the best churches and parsonages in the county and a union hall that was second to none. Canada, said Mr. McNulty, had been favored for several years with bountiful harvests, and there would be no failure this year, although the season had been a little backward. Good prices were ruling for the farmers' produce,—cheese, butter, pork, eggs, etc. Cheese had been a good price last year and it was interesting to note that it was a cent per pound higher in June this year than it was last season.

The warden congratulated Father Fitzpatrick on the success of his annual picnic. He was a school-mate of the reverend gentleman and he had learned to love and respect him. He hoped he would be able to attend again next year.

COUNTY CLERK ELLIOTT

County Clerk Ed. M. Elliott said there was no place he liked to visit better than Ennismore. The people were the height of hospitality, and though the township was not a large one, it was one of the richest in the county. Agriculture, said Mr Elliott, was the leading industry of Canada, and was the backbone, of the country. He referred to the fact that the county councillors were all present and humorously pointed out that they could all be recognized by the white vests which they wore Any man who had on a white vest was a county councillor.

COUNTY COUNCILLOR THOMPSON

County Councillor Thompson, of Havelock, said he would always have pleasant memories of the day he spent at Ennismore picnic. He invited everybody to come to Havelock on July 1st, when a big celebration was being held.

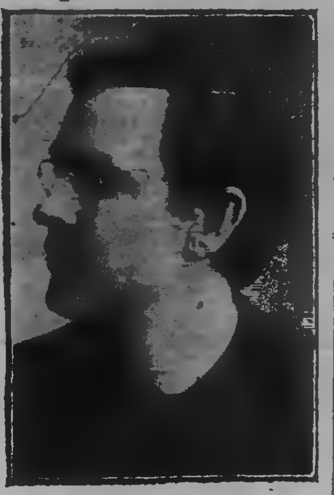
D. HUGHES CHARLES.

Mr D. Hughes Charles was given a hearty reception on arising to speak and he gave a short, characteristic address. He congratulated Rev Father Fitzpatrick on the big turnout, and the many pleasing features of the gathering. June 18th was the anniversary of two other important events that perhaps many in the gathering were not aware of. One of them was the Battle of Waterloo, when one of the world's great victories was won by an Irishman, the Duke of Wellington. The other anniversary was the speaker's birthday This he considered was a most important event, especially as far as he was concerned.

R R HALL, M.P.

Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., congratulated Father Fitzpatrick on the fine weather he had for his annual picnic, and the large attendance of happy, well dressed people. Much was heard about hard times in the country, but Ennismore did not show any evidence of this. He enlarged upon the great prosperity of Peterborough city and county and referred to the fact that last year the value of the manufactured products of Peterborough amounted to over $11,000,000, and the city stood sixth in the Dominion as a manufacturing centre. This was a remarkable showing and one to be proud of. The city was prosperous and the county was prosperous; the growth of one was dependent on the growth of the other.

Peterborough's growth was largely due to the fact that the city was situated upon a great waterway, 160 miles in length. The people of Ennismore, could take a boat at the shore of the township and travel by water to Orillia and Barrie on the north, and to Healey's Falls on the south, and the time was near when they could reach Georgian Bay on the north and Lake Ontario on the south. Mr. Hall referred to the necessity of having docks and wharves along the canal. Wharves were needed near the end of the floating bridge in Ennismore township and at Gannon's Narrows, in order that the farmers of the township might load their produce on the boats at these places, and have it conveyed to the city at much smaller expense than it could be drawn with horses. These wharves would greatly facilitate shipping and the necessity for having them built was being urged upon the Dominion Government.



REV. FATHER FITZPATRICK,
The Popular Pastor of St. Martin's Church, Ennismore

FATHER McCOLL

Rev. Father McColl made a neat address, referring to the pleasure it gave him to be present at Ennismore picnic. Canada was the most favored country on earth, and Ennismore the most favored parish in the diocese, with one exception. The exception was not Downeyville, as some might suppose, but Peterborough He was pleased to meet the people of Ennismore, the members of parliament, the county council, and everybody who was present.

Rev Father Downey was the next speaker and added his congratulations to Father Fitzpatrick on the success of the day. He thought the young men should be given an opportunity to speak at the picnic. He had no doubt that young men with aspirations would appreciate such actions

Rev. Father Crowley, who comes from His Lordship Bishop Scollard's diocese, said he was pleased to hear of Peterborough's progress and of the prosperity of Ennismore. New Ontario was prosperous too, and he was glad to bring greetings from the grand country in the north. New Ontario had some of the best agricultural land in Canada, and it was rich in minerals and timber. Settlers were wanted to fill up the land and he would be glad if they could get some settlers from Ennismore But he did not think that this was likely.

T. E. BRADBURN

Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., was glad to be present at the picnic and congratulated Father Fitzpatrick on its success, and Ennismore upon its prosperity. He was always glad to visit Ennismore, as he knew a cordial welcome always awaited visitors from Peterborough.

HON. J. R. STRATTON

Hon J. R. Stratton was cordially received and said he was happy to be present. Happiness was infectious and everybody at the picnic was happy. He extended his congratulations to Father Fitzpatrick upon the success of the picnic, and referred to the laudable object to which the funds were to be devoted, that of liquidating the debt on the new hall, which was one of the finest in the county. Mr. Stratton referred to the great industrial growth of Peterborough and to the development and progress of the county generally. He paid a tribute to Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, and complimented him on the good work he was doing in Ennismore.

Ald. Phelan spoke briefly.

FATHER FITZPATRICK.

Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, who was the last speaker, offered his hearty thanks to those who patronized the picnic. Special thanks were due Downeyville and Peterborough for the large number they had sent. He thanked the different speakers, Chairman Rudkins, the County Council and all those who had contributed to the success of the picnic. In closing Father Fitzpatrick made the gratifying announcement that the receipts of the day would be sufficient to wipe out the indebtedness on the hall, and to assist in putting the continuation class, which had been established, on a firm basis.

FIFTH ANNUAL.

Yesterday's picnic was the fifth annual event of its kind, under Father Fitzpatrick's priesthood at Ennismore, and the thirteenth parochial picnic conducted by the reverend gentleman. It was under the patronage of St. Martin's Total Abstinence Society, and a committee from this organization was in charge of the arrangements.

THOSE IN CHARGE.

The booths, two in number, were in charge of Mr. P. Scollard and Misses Lizzie and Lottie Scollard, and Mr. Jos Galvan, Miss Josie Buck and Miss Nellie Donoghue.

The music for the dancing was supplied by Miss Gertrude Moloney and Miss Teresa Guiry, who presided in turns at the organ, and by Hickson Bros., who supplied excellent violin music. The local orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. J. K. Galvin, was also present.

The sports were in charge of a committee consisting of Messrs. Michael S. Crough, Peter Galvin, Wm. Killen and John Geary.

The following gentlemen efficiently looked after the gates; Messrs. Stephen O'Reilly, John Scollard, Patrick and William Crough and Cornelius O'Reilly.

The arrangements for tea were made by Messrs. Paul Costello, John O'Reilly, Leonard McAuliffe, and Richard Killen, reeve of the township. They sold the tickets and looked after other details.

The following were the clergymen present at the picnic; Rev. Fathers McColl, Galvin, Kelly and O'Leary, of Peterborough; McGuire, Downeyville; J. O'Brien, North Bay, and T Crowley, Sturgeon Falls.

FROM FAR AND NEAR.

Practically the whole of the county was represented at the picnic and Victoria County sent large numbers. People were present from Peterborough, Downeyville, Bridgenorth, Young's Point and Selwyn, and Douro sent the largest crowd that it ever sent to the Ennismore picnic. Scores drove out from Peterborough and enjoyed the outing immensely.

The proceeds of the picnic will go to liquidate the debt on the new hall and to assist the continuation class which is now being conducted at Ennismore. St. Martin's T. A. S. is now in excellent condition. It has 250 members and is doing splendid work in the community. The continuation class is proving a most beneficial feature.

Auto Party Had Some Troubles

A number of gentlemen from the city who went out to the Ennismore picnic yesterday, in Mr. F. R. J. MacPherson's automobile had a somewhat unpleasant experience before they reached home. On the return trip, when the man in charge was letting the big car travel at a lively clip, in order to reach Chemong before the oncoming storm burst, one of the tires was punctured and further progress was impossible. Those on board had to walk from the place of the breakdown to the hotel at Chemong, and the rain had commenced to fall before they reach there. At last they succeeded in getting the tire repaired, and the party returned home safely.

County Saved Several Thousand Dollars on New Buckhorn Bridge

By Getting the Government to Build it—House of Refuge is in Splendid Condition—Warden McNulty's Address to County Council—Pleasant Trip in Auto Car.

The county council had a thoroughly enjoyable trip yesterday afternoon to the Ennismore picnic. They left in the Chemong auto bus at two o'clock and made the trip in less than an hour. The councillors were delighted with the auto. It was the first ride the majority of them had in one of the "devil machines," and they say that they are not half so bad as they have been painted. The bus being all open and travelling at a good speed, there was always a nice breeze and in spite of the hot sun they were quite cool.

They had a good time at the picnic and arrived in the city again soon after five o'clock. They had supper at the Munro House and met in session at half past six instead in session at half past six instead of eight o'clock, as some of the members desired to go home for the night.

Warden P. McNulty occupied the chair and after the minutes were read he addressed the members of the board as follows;

To the members of the County Council, of Peterborough, in council assembled;

Gentlemen.— Permit me to avail myself of the opportunity to address you on the important matters which will probably occupy your attention during this session, the same being a precedent established many years ago.

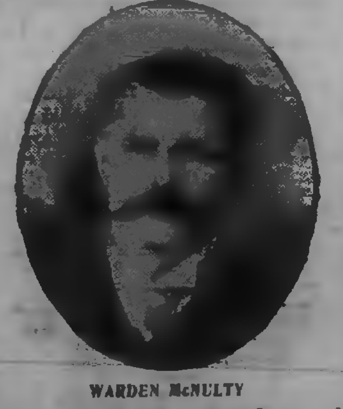
Before doing so I beg to ask your endorsation of a few remarks with regard to the general prosperity of the county.

This being an agricultural county and the ratepayers of the county being agriculturalists, or a majority of them, will, I am sure, join with me in recognizing the hand of a kind Providence in bestowing upon us, for the past decade, a bountiful harvest, and though the present spring is somewhat late, we may look forward to a remunerative harvest in 1907.

I am pleased to note that the advanced system of farming now employed will ensure fair results under sometimes unfavorable circumstances.

The council of 1906 commenced the important duty of building and equipping a county House of Refuge, and in so far as they carried the work into effect, did so economically and judiciously. Although having done all that was possible in 1906 still there remained plenty to do, not only to complete the establishing of the same, but your Board of Managers have had their hands full of not only completion, but a new duty to county councillors devolved upon them, viz., the maintenance and management of the same, it now being in full operation. I wish to say to my colleagues that the superintendent and matron are doing all that could be expected of them and due to lack of help, the matron sometimes has too much to do.

As you are aware, debentures were issued for the purpose in 1906 for $30,000, realizing $29,214. Of that sum there was expended in 1906, $23,812.38 and contracted for about $8,600 more, being almost $33,000. There was in all available for completion and equipment, $33,214, counting the government grant—not yet received—of $4,000. Consequently it became necessary to issue $2,000 worth of debentures in 1907, which was done, realizing $1,950, making in all available for capital account, $35,164 Your board of management have still at their disposal an amount adequate to complete grounds, fence, etc.



WARDEN McNULTY

Who is Presiding Over the June Session of the County Council.

The matter of admitting inmates from other municipalities will come before you during the session.

The matter relating to bridges will be dealt with according to reports from the chairman of the roads and bridges committee and the several commissioners, and having visited some of them, I will be able to confer with you when the time comes, during the session or committee meeting.

I am pleased to be able to say that the Government has agreed to accept our terms with regard to a new bridge at Buckhorn, thereby encouraging our venture in going in a body to the Minister of Railways and Canals last winter. The matter of completing arrangements with the Government will also be submitted to you during the session and if satisfactorily arranged, means a saving to the county of upwards of $7,000

There will have to be provided for this year by way of debenture liquidation, $3,337.79 more than formerly due to debenture issued in 1906 for House of Refuge and new bridges; also an amount necessary for the maintenance of the House of Refuge.

It will be necessary to strike three rates, viz., general county rate, House of Refuge rate, and equivalent to Government grant for school purposes.

In conclusion permit me to again thank you for the honor conferred upon me in electing me warden; also for the cheerful assistance rendered by each and all of you.

Respectfully yours,

P. McNULTY.

Peterborough, June 18, 1907.

The council adjourned to meet again this morning at ten o'clock, after the meeting of the Cheese Board.

Morning Session County Council

At the opening of the morning session the committee appointed to deal with the Warden's address, reported it being presented by Mr. Booth, and is as follows,—

1. That we heartily concur with the Warden in recognizing the kind hand of Providence in our ratepayers being the recipients of bountiful harvests during the past decade, and still hope for good returns for the present year.

2. The Council is glad to learn that sufficient funds have been provided for the completion of the House of Refuge, and that taking into consideration the condition of the money market the debentures issued for that purpose have been disposed of on such favorable terms.

3. The Council is very pleased to learn that the Dominion Government has considered so favorably the application presented by the Council to the Government regarding a bridge over the new dam at Buckhorn, and recognize the fact that the action of the Government will result in a very considerable saving of expense to the county.

4. The Council desires to unitedly express their recognition of the very active interest the warden has shown in county matters since his acceptance of that position, and of the able manner in which he has represented the county on all occasions.

Respectfully submitted,

C. R. D. BOOTH,
Chairman.

The committee on the Warden's address, was composed of Messrs. Booth, Fife, Moher, Brown, Thompson and Darling.

FALL FAIR GRANTS.

A deputation from the West Peterborough Agricultural Society was introduced and Alderman Elliott addressed the Council asking for the usual assistance to the exhibition as in the past. The speaker referred to the great benefit to the farmers which agricultural societies proved. The competition of stock at the fall fairs had resulted in an improvement in the standard of the stock. The fact that the Canadian farmers had taken such a high place among the agriculturalists of the world, was due largely to the education received at the fall fairs.

Mr. J. H. Garbutt asked the Council if an increase could not be made this year. Mr. W. P. Stewart asked the council to give them all they possibly could.

On behalf of the East Peterborough Association, Mr. F. Birdsall addressed the council and asked for a grant to his association. He desired a large grant this year, because of the fact that the Government grant would be smaller and new buildings were needed. Under the new Fairs' Act, City Fairs were benefitted at the cost of county fairs, and he feared the latter might suffer.

Mr. Charles O'Reilly, secretary, stated that the society was on a sound footing but had no surplus. He hoped the council would be liberal. Other speakers were Messrs. Ed. Hawthorne, J. R. Pierce, J. A. Sexsmith, Jas. Andrews and W. T. Buck.

A motion to refer the matter to the Finance Committee was carried and the council adjourned to meet at 1.30 this afternoon.

Delightful Time at Lawn Social

Held at Residence of Mr. James Bell in Smith Township

Two bus loads of young people, including the George street Methodist choir, drove out to the home of Mr. Jas. Bell, on the 5th line of Smith last night, where the Fairview Methodist church held a lawn social. Beautiful grounds surround the residence of Mr. Bell and it is an ideal place for an affair of this kind. A large crowd was present, and a pleasant time was spent. The grounds were decorated with Chinese lanterns. Tea was served on the lawn and the refreshment booths were largely patronized.

A musical programme was given as follows, Rev. Dr. Metzler acting as chairman;

Anthem, "Rejoice Ye," George-st. choir

Solo, "Island of Dreams," Miss Mowry.

Recitation, Miss Eva Stevenson.

Anthem, "Magnificat," The choir.

Solo. Mr. Doidge.

Chairman's address.

Anthem, "The Lord is My Shepherd." The Choir.

Recitation, Miss Eva Stevenson.

Solo, "Afterwards." Miss I. Mowry.

Anthem, "Not Unto Us." Choir.

God Save the King.

Miss Evelyn Chasty acted as accompaniste for the evening.

The proceeds amounted to about twenty-five dollars.

First Hay Crop Court House Hill

Is Being Cut To-day—Councillors Think Better Care Should be Taken of it

The spring in the country may have been very backward and the farmers may have received a set back, but the hay crop in the city is very nearly up to the average. The County Councillors, being largely agriculturalists, realized the benefit of a double crop of hay, and as soon as they saw the court house hill, they issued instructions to put the mower on and take in the crop. An old man with a scythe got busy this morning and is making quite an improvement in the appearance of the hill.

One of the County Councillors was spoken to in reference to the hill not being looked after as it should be. He regretted very much that it was so ragged, when the lower part was kept so nice, and he would like to see a change made.

It was explained to the councillor that for year the Horticultural Society had endeavored to secure a special grant from the county to aid in levelling and terracing the hill but had always been met with a decided no. It would only cost a couple of hundred dollars to put the hill in a first-class condition and it would be money well spent. The Horticultural Society would then undertake to keep the hill in as good condition as the lower part, and thus make Victoria Park, the most beautiful breathing spot in the province.

The County Councillor readily saw the force of the argument put forth in behalf of the Horticultural Society and he would favor a resolution in the council to make the grant. Whether the society has any intention of again appearing before the County Council has not yet been decided.

A Grateful Mother's Message

Zam-Buk Cured Her Child of Eczema When all else Failed

In gratitude for the great benefit her child received from the use of Zam-Buk, the great herbal balm, Mrs. R. Gentleman, of 1090 St. James street, Montreal, gave the following details for publication. She says:—"My little daughter Lydia (2 years) was troubled with eczema on her body and face for six months. During that time we tried several advertised remedies, but the disease had too well hold of the child for these to overcome, and finally we were obliged to consult a doctor. He treated the little one for some time, and gave us prescriptions for various salves and medicines. We tried them, and tried them well; but the child got no better. When she got warm the itching was terrible, and then the pain made her cry and be very restless. One day somebody strongly advised me to try Zam-Buk. We obtained a supply, and it was really wonderful how the Zam-Buk cooled the sores and gave almost instant relief. It stopped the itching, healed the sores, and in six weeks from first commencing it, the child's skin was as smooth as when born.

Zam-Buk is compounded from rich, healing, herbal, essences, and is an ideal natural combination of power and purity, suitable for the delicate skins of infants.

For summer skin troubles, sore feet, insect stings, chafing sores, bruises, ulcers, abscesses, skin eruptions, scalp sores, Zam-Buk is unequalled. It also cures piles. All druggists and stores at 50 cents a box, or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. 6 boxes for $2.50.

This Man Returned Money Loaned Him

Some few months ago a stranger in the city, whose wife was ill and who was out of firewood and work at the same time, obtained a job in Collingwood, Ont. He had no money to pay railway fare there, to accept the position. He was an Englishman and applied to 3 members of Lansdowne Lodge for assistance. They "chipped in" $5 each and handed over $15 to the stranger, never expecting to see the cash again, although the borrower affirmed that he would return it. Judge of the pleasant surprise this week when one of the members received $15, with instructions to return the cash to those to those who had so kindly helped the fellow out a few months ago. The man worked in Collingwood for some time, and recently came back to Peterborough, having secured employment here at remunerative wages.

St. Luke's Parish Paper Pays Tribute to Rev. Dr. Crothers

St. Luke's Parish Church Work says,—The Rev. Dr. Crothers, pastor of George Street Methodist Church is about to leave Peterborough to assume the pastorate of St. Paul's Methodist Church in St. Catharines. In speaking for the people of St. Luke's Church we may justly say that we, one and all, regret the removal of such a noble and big-hearted man as Dr. Crothers from our midst. The most intimate ties of friendship and respect, have from the beginning of Dr. Crothers' ministry in Peterborough, existed between him and the rector of St. Luke's, and hearty co-operation and fellowship united both in their common cause and work. We shall never forget the many occasions on which he spoke at St. Luke's where he was always a welcome visitor. It is regretful that his stay in Peterborough is so short, and that he did not remain here his full term. The people of St. Catharines, apparently, know how to appreciate and where to find a good man, which other people never learn to do. His new sphere of work will undoubtedly give ample opportunity for the excellent talents as a preacher and a man, which Dr. Crothers possesses, and we shall follow him with our best wishes and earnest prayers for rich blessings upon himself, his family, and his work.

REGIMENT IS IN GOOD SHAPE

The Marchout Last Night Witnessed by Large Crowd

The 57th Regiment had a splendid marchout last night and the streets were lined with spectators to see the soldier boys pass by.

The corps presented a smart appearance as, headed by both bands, it swung out from the drill shed and marched down George street. The men have noticeably improved in bearing and step since the last marchout, and should be in fine shape for the trip to St. Catharines on July 1st.

The total strength of the Regiment last night was 270, which, considering the extremely warm night, was fairly satisfactory.

The regiment marched down George to Simcoe, to Aylmer to Charlotte, along Charlotte to Water, to McDonnel, to Central Park, where, in the presence of a great gathering battalion movements were executed, and the march past, practiced.

The next drill will be held tomorrow night, and a full turnout of all the men and officers is looked forward to.

SUMMER SCHOOL AT PORT DOVER

Noted Workers Who Will Deliver Lectures During July

A second summer school of the Ontario Sunday School Association, will be held at Port Dover, Ont., July 15 to 20, inclusive. The staff of lecturers and their topics are, Rev. Dr. Johnston, Montreal, Outlines; F. Tracy, Ph., D., Toronto University, Sunday School Pedagogy and Child Study; J. A. Jackson, B.A., Sunday School History and Organization, and H. W. Brown, B.A., Sunday School Methods and Management The school will open on Monday, July 15th, the first lecture being given at three o'clock. On the following days of the week, the hours of study will be from eight o'clock until noon, the afternoon's being left free for enjoying the boating, bathing and fishing privileges for which Port Dover is famous The evenings will be devoted to Conferences on practical Sunday School topics, in charge of Mr Yellowlees, and to addresses of a somewhat popular character, by members of the staff.

Writing of last year's school, Mr. W. E Groves, principal of Ryerson, the largest Public School of Toronto and a teacher of the Bible Class in St. Peter's Sunday School, said; "I had the pleasure of attending the Summer Schools held under the auspices of the Ontario Sunday School Association. It was a source of constant regret to all who were present, that there were not four or five hundred teachers there to receive the benefit of the admirable course presented. The Sunday schools of the province are poorer in power by no inconsiderable amount through so small a percentage of the teachers being present at the school."

Similar testimony to its value was received from Rev. B. W. Merrill, B.A., Baptist Sunday School Field Secretary; Rev. Derwyn T. Owen, Curate of St. James' Cathedral, Toronto; Mrs. Amelia Johnston, M.D, and many others. There can be no doubt, therefore, as to the helpful character of the school for those who attend. The expense is not large, as board and lodging can be obtained in Port Dover at rates ranging from four to eight dollars per week. It would literally pay hundreds of our schools to reward a faithful teacher, or superintendent by giving them a brief holiday and bearing the expenses incident to attendance at the school. For syllabus and full particulars write J. A. Jackson, Rooms 99—100, Confederation Life building, Toronto.

HOMESEEKERS' EXCURSIONS

If you think of making a trip to Manitoba or the great North-west Provinces this summer, you should make a point of securing from the nearest C.P.R. agents a free copy of that railroad's booklet giving information about the popular Homeseekers' Excursions. These excursions are well known money savers, and this year are more attractive than ever. Increased traffic has meant a larger number, nine of them this season, of which at the time of writing, seven have still to run, leaving Toronto July 2, 16, 30; August 13, 27; September 10 and 14. Special trains are used, carrying colonist and tourist sleepers, berths in the latter at small additional charge. Tickets are issued from all Ontario stations at remarkably low rates, ranging from $32.00, round trip to Winnipeg, to $42.50 round-trip to Edmonton, and embracing all important points in the North-west. They are good to return within sixty days, stop-overs permitted. Ask nearest C.P.R. agent for particulars, or apply direct to C. B. Foster, District Passenger Agent, Toronto. 3d 1w.

Trial Adjourned Until Monday

Some Contradictory Evidence in Charge Against Michael Fallon

The trial of Michael Fallon, Edinburgh street, charged with breaking into Mr. R. Nimmo's house, Harvey street, on June 8th, began yesterday before His Honor Judge Weller, but has not been concluded and is postponed to next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. O'Connell & Gordon are defending the prisoner.

The evidence for the crown was the same as was given in the police court on Friday last and has been published in these columns. Miss Nimmo was put through a severe cross-examination and her answers were given in a cool and collected manner. She vividly told of the burglar's actions that night and also identified the man.

The other witnesses for the prosecution were Mrs. Nimmo and Constable McDonald and Newall.

For the defence Mr. O'Connell called Mrs. Donovan, mother of the prisoner. She swore that her son went to bed on the Friday afternoon and was in bed at the time the house breaking occurred.

Mrs. McCormack, sister of Fallon's, corroborated her mother's evidence.

His Honor adjourned the case till Monday next at 3 o'clock.

The Emmerson Libel Suit In Progress at Fredericton

Grand Jury Find True Bill Against Mr. Crockett

Rumor That Compromise Had Been Offered—Defence Willing to Fight—Judge Landry Presides at Trial—His Charge to the Jury—Leaders Held Consultation—Case May Last Week.

Fredericton, N. B., June 19.—The first day of the Crockett-Emmerson criminal libel case has left everybody up in the air. Gossip is rampant. Is there a deal? Is a settlement on the tapis? Is something being fixed up? James H. Crockett, the defendant, most emphatically says "No." He demands a full trial and wants it immediately. As an earnest of his good faith he has here numerous witnesses. Among these are John Lloyd, ex-night clerk of St. Lawrence Hall; Harry Dean, ex-night-watchman; James Chapman, ex-night porter.

The "missing witness" from Hamilton, John T. Parker, manager of the more or less famous Albion Hotel, Montreal; Detective Skeffington, formerly with the I. C. R., and several ladies and gentlemen from Moncton, N. B., and the city of Quebec, who will testify as to the reputation of the feminine parties in the case.

Hon. Mr. Emmerson is here, buoyant in spirits and looking well. Personally he denies all knowledge of the overtures for compromise made in his behalf. It is reported, however, that Hon. Mr. Pugsley has made the suggestion to the defendant's counsel that the prosecution would drop the case with the understanding that Mr. Crockett had some justification for publishing the alleged libelous article if the defence would withdraw the contention that the ladies mentioned were of ill-repute. This proposition was turned down.

There'll Be Delay.

The talk about compromise received a fillip yesterday afternoon after the grand jury had returned the indictment.

Hon. Mr. Pugsley and J. D. Hazen, K. C., respectively leaders in provincial politics, and opposing counsel in this case, retired for consultation. When they emerged Mr. Pugsley stated that he would not press for Mr. Crockett's arraignment yesterday as the defendants' lawyers wished time to file a plea to the indictment.

"That seems reasonable," said the judge, "but of course you will go ahead with the trial on Wednesday."

"Oh, no," said Mr. Pugsley; "we will not dream of going ahead then."

Court met yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, Judge Landry presiding. The charge to the grand jury practically required an indictment.

Charge to the Jury.

In addressing the grand jury the judge said:

"There does seem to me to be enough evidence to find a true bill upon. Use your own judgment in this matter—not a knowledge based upon anything superficial. The charge against Mr. Crockett in the information is that he published in a newspaper in this city under the heading "In Parliament" the following words:

"'This Minister was Mr. Emmerson himself, and one of the places from which he was ejected with two women of ill-repute, with whom he had been keeping company not long since, was the St. Lawrence Hall, Montreal.

"If you find that these words were published in a newspaper printed and sent abroad in this country, that they were written by Mr. Crockett or published by him in a newspaper controlled by him, you must find also whether these words were written of and concerning Mr. Henry R. Emmerson, or if they were written concerning any other man. If they were published in part of the requirements of the law reference to Mr. Emmerson, then that with reference to defamatory libel is complete.

"You must further find that those words so published were designed to hurt Mr. Emmerson in his reputation by holding him up to contempt and ridicule. If you cannot find these things then you will do right not to find a true bill. Twelve of your number is sufficient to find a true bill."

Return True Bill.

After on hour the grand jury announced a true bill.

Mr. Emmerson occupied a seat at the end of the table most distant from the bench and seated alongside him was Col. Marsh, the local police magistrate, who presided at the trial. Mr. Emmerson was dressed in a grey worsted suit and panama hat, with brown gaiters over his black patent leather shoes.

Should the case come on trial on its merits it may last for a week.

Political Speakers in Mix-up; Big Picnic Was Nearly a Failure

Wheel on the Speakers' Carriage Broke on Chemong Bridge—Politicians Had to Walk Part of the Way Until Auto Bus Picked Them Up.

Ennismore picnic was nearly a failure and yet very few of the thousands of people on the grounds knew it. Nevertheless that gathering which is looked forward to for a whole year by the residents for miles around, and especially by the politicians, who seize the opportunity to make themselves strong with their country supporters was just saved from utter failure.

Early in the afternoon a carriage containing the politicians who were to address the assembled thousands left Peterborough in charge of a good driver. On board were Mr J. R. Stratton, Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., Mr. Wm. Radkins and Mr. D. Hughes-Charles. The sun was pouring down its hot rays and the politicians were chuckling that they had a comfortable carriage. The scenery, too, was beautiful, and in spite of the heat the men of the hour were enjoying themselves.

They were getting along well, and had passed Chemong and were crossing the floating bridge over Mud Lake, when one of the wheels of the rig collapsed and let the occupants down all in a heap. The drop was so sudden and their position so ungraceful, that the spell-binders forgot they were going to Rev. Father Fitzpatrick's picnic and made use of words quite in keeping with the weather and with the mess in which they found themselves. In a few minutes, however, the men gathered themselves together and held a speedy caucus, the result of which was that they walked to the picnic grounds. They pealed off their coats, vests, collars, ties, and rolled up the bottom of their trousers and started off at a good pace.

The first few yards was great fun but the perspiration began to roll from their honest brows onto the white shirt fronts, leaving a stain, not desirable at an affair the nature of the picnic. This was very annoying and the stump speakers were at a loss what to do. They had often been in a tight box before, and got out all right, but this was, so far as they knew without precedent. They toiled along, however, and made up their minds to stop at a farm house, just before the grounds were reached, wash up and say nothing about their mishap.

They had not gone very far, and were feeling at their worst, when they heard the screech of the Chemong auto bus behind them. The bus contained the County Council, all men who had fought in the same political battles, and who had always looked upon the members of parliament, as sort of superhuman beings. Now the tables were turned and the boys from the Municipal Council had a good laugh at their brothers. The fun was all on one side as the politicians who were billed to arouse the enthusiasm of the picnickers feared that the big bus would rush past and leave them in the road to sweat and cuss. Such was not the case. The bus was ordered to stop and the Weary Willies were gathered into the fold and transported in comparative comfort to the grounds where the great mass of people anxiously waited to hear their cheering voices and to drink in the words of wisdom which would fall from their lips.

Something Must be Done to Check the Evil Influences

Unless This is Done the Consequences in the City Will be Ruinous—Responsibility Rests With Parents Says St. ~~Luke's~~ "Parish Church Work."

St. Luke's Parish Church Work says:—A note of warning must be given to the citizens of Peterborough regarding the state of affairs as existing in our fair city. At a meeting held the other day by prominent citizens and officials a most alarming report was given by those competent to know, of the immorality and indecency existing among us. Our condition in this respect is simply appalling. Young girls and men are seen together, after dark, in places where no respectable girl ought to be. Disreputable places are known to exist in overwhelming numbers in the city, foul and indecent language is heard as being used even by young girls, everywhere are signs of a low, abominably low standard of immorality. Unless something is done to check this evil, the consequences may be ruinous to us. One cannot help placing the responsibility for this upon the parents. How any father or mother can allow a daughter to be on the streets after dark, is beyond comprehension. How any decent girl can allow herself to be in questionable company and at places which will injure her reputation and honor, is likewise difficult to understand. This is a delicate subject to speak or write about, but the grave situation as it at present exists requires plain speaking and strong efforts. It is the duty of the mothers to look after their girls and to have proper restrictions and discipline enforced. Our authorities ought likewise to exert every possible means to have this evil rooted out. Above all, public opinion must be aroused against the existing abuses of decency and morality. Let the parents exercise their authority, and place a ban upon any violation of what is absolutely necessary for the preservation of purity and good report.

What is said of our local condition might well be applied to conditions everywhere. Public life does not enjoy at the present time a good reputation. Revelations of graft, immorality and corruption in high places, have in a great measure injured the fair name of our Dominion at home and abroad. A great revival of public opinion is needed, and right-thinking men ought to remember that the remedy lies in their hand, and to oust from public life and responsible position the individuals who dare to besmirch by their rascality the honor and reputation of a nation.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country, than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years, was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and the mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Address, F. J. CHENEY, Toledo, Ohio.

City Council of 1907 Has Held A Record Number of Meetings

The City Council for 1907, has established a record for itself and can be looked upon as the hardest working council the city has yet had and the members are the most regular in their attendance. Since the aldermen took their seats on January 14, to June 14, there have been 96 meetings of the council or standing committees. This is an average of four and a half meetings per week.

Another feature of this year's council is that all the sessions have been long ones, and they have been generally started well on time. The average attendance at the council or committee of the whole has been 12 out of 13 members. This good record of the aldermen is no doubt due to the fact that no council or committee of the whole meeting has been called, except on a Monday night. The Board of Works has always met on Wednesday night, except once, while the other committees have generally been on stated nights.

RECORD OF MEETINGS.

The attendance of members of council at meetings.

	No. of meetings.
Council	15
Committee of the Whole	16
Board of Works	20
Fire, Water and Light Com.	14
Property Committee	10
Finance Committee	9
Legal and Joint	4
Manufacturers	2
Special Committee	6
	96

The attendance at the meetings of the council and of the committee of the whole, has been as follows, out of a possible 31.

Mayor McWilliams	31
Alderman Johnston	31
Alderman Elliott	31
Alderman Duncan	31
Alderman Wilson	30
Alderman Phelan	30
Alderman Leary	30
Alderman Ball	9
Alderman Morgan	21
Alderman McIntyre	29
Alderman Bradburn	29
Alderman Stevenson	27
Alderman Morrow	25
Alderman Tovey	21

This is equivalent to an attendance of nearly 95 per cent., and of more than 12 out of 13 members at every meeting.

The standing committees, including the special committee on the purchase of the Light and Power Company have held 59 meetings but the attendance of the members of the council varies greatly, owing to the fact that some members are on the working committees while others are on committees which meet less frequently.

The total number of meetings of the council or of any of the regular committees has been 96 and the number attended by each member, and the number missed are shown below.

	Attended	Missed

Alderman Duncan	85	0

Cheese Sold at Same Price As at Last Board Meeting

11⅝c Was the Highest Price Paid—Registration of Cheese Showed Large Increase.

At today's meeting of the Peterborough Cheese Board the highest price paid was the same as that given at the last meeting two weeks ago, 11 5-8c. The other price paid today was 11 9-16c., about half the offerings selling at each figure. The total registration was 4,133 boxes, as compared with 3,987 boxes at the last sale. The pasturage has improved greatly during the past couple of weeks, and the cheese factories are now receiving a large flow of milk.

President Riddel presided today, and announced that three factories selling on the board, Shearer, Central Smith and Trewern, had cool-cured cheese, and thought that it should be known to the buyers. Higher prices were being paid on some boards for cool-cured cheese.

When bidding commenced Mr. Squires offered 11 cents, and Mr. Wrighton raised to 11 1-4 cents. Mr. Gillespie made it 11 3-8 cents, and that bid was raised to 11 1-2 cents by Mr. Cook. Mr. Gillespie then bid 11 5-8 cents, and got the first call, taking the following factories;—Buckhorn, Westwood, Villiers and Central Smith.

The next went to Mr. Squires, at 11 5-8 cents the following factories selling;—Ormonde, Brickley and Oakdale.

At 11 5-8 cents Mr. Cook took the following;—Keene, Shearer, Lang Crown.

At 11 9-16 cents Mr. Gillespie secured the following;—Selwyn, Bensfort, East Emily and Warminster.

Mr Wrighton took the next at 11 9-16 cents, as follows;—Indian River, Warsaw, Fleetwood and Trewern.

Mr. Cook took the next call at the same figure, 11 9-16 cents. The following sold;—Pine Grove, Young's Point, Maple Leaf, Lakefield and Myrtle. Otonabee Union refused the offer.

Mr. Kerr offered 11 1-2 cents for the balance of the board, and the following sold;—Mount Pleasant, Cavanville, North Dummer and Cedardale.

Killarney sold to Mr. Kerr at 11 5-8 cents.

Fraserville, Otonabee Union and South Burleigh turned down this offer.

The board in detail was as follows;—

Otonabee Union	65
Keene	160
Warminster	710
Shearer	160
Central Smith	180
Selwyn	170
Villiers	110
Warsaw	130
Westwood	200
Lakefield	90
Pine Grove	165
Maple Leaf	130
Myrtle	130
Ormonde	200
Young's Point	90
Lang	135
Fraserville	88
Cavanville	137
Indian River	120
East Emily	110
Trewern	175
Bensfort	163
Cedardale	70

Mt. Pleasant	50
Norwood	125
Fleetwood	160
Buckhorn	140
South Burleigh	50
Brickley	55
Oakdale	110

The Board adjourned for two weeks after some discussion. One or two salesmen wanted to have a weekly sale during the hot weather, but two weeks seemed to be the favorite.

Outcome of the Emmerson Suit

Were Peterboro' Parties Registered at Albion Hotel, Montreal?

A Montreal despatch says;

A clerk at the Albion Hotel, named Parker, was one of the witnesses for the defence in the Emmerson - Crocket case, who left for Fredericton last night. Parker was on duty at the Albion on the morning of June 11, 1906, when Mr. Emmerson, Mrs. Beuthner and Mrs. Allen reached there from the St. Lawrence Hall. It is reported that a second man was also of the party, but his real name has not yet developed.

While the Albion register does not bear the name of Mr. Emmerson and the women, there is said to be an entry which Parker will testify was made by one of the ladies of the party. It is claimed by handwriting experts that the entry in the register of the McGill street hotel, bears a strong resemblance to that of Mrs. Beuthner in the St. Lawrence Hall register. The entries in the Albion Hotel register about which interest centres are; Mrs Harding, Peterboroughet,; Misses Harding do; Jack Harding, do; Ed. Allen, city. The place registered from is evidently intended as Peterboroug . The spelling of the prefix of the second name "Misses" is the same as that of the register.

Inquiry by the Review today fails to elicit corroboration of the fact that any Peterborough parties by the name of Harding were registered at the Albion Hotel, Montreal, on June 11th, 1906. There are several persons by the name of Harding living in this city, but all who were interviewed today say that they know nothing of the signatures in question and were not in Montreal during June of last year.

The registration of the foregoing names would appear to be fictitious entries on the book of the hotel and were evidently made by other parties than those residing in Peterborough.

Presented With Pretty Gold Pin

Mrs. Crothers Honored by George St. W.M.S.—Life Membership for the Misses Crothers

The June meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the George street Methodist church, held on Tuesday afternoon, in the church parlor, was of a most interesting character.

Mrs (Rev.) A. R. Campbell, gave a very able and comprehensive report of the proceedings of the branch meeting of the society, which was held last week in Picton. This report showed advancement and progress, especially in finances, and the widening of the work being accomplished. At the close of Mrs. Campbell's address Miss Muriel Crothers touched every heart by the pathetic tenderness of her sweet voice, in the well rendered solo, "Is Thy Saviour Yours?"

AN ADDRESS.

Mrs Alexander Morrow then read the following address to Mrs. (Rev.) Crothers, who, to the deep regret of every member of the Auxiliary, is leaving the city for St. Catharines;—

Dear Mrs. Crothers,—It is with deep regret that we realize that this is the last regular meeting of our Auxiliary, that we may have you with us. During the three years we have been favored with your presence, you have been an inspiration to us in leading us to see more of the grandeur of the work God has called us to do in our Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church of Canada.

You have been at all times so faithful, so kind, so self-denying, and yet so genial that you have won an abiding place in our hearts.

It would have been our wish to have given you a certificate of life membership in our Auxiliary as some little expression of our love, but as you are already in that relationship it is our pleasure to do that for your daughter, and we ask you to accept this life membership pin from us, and with it our heartfelt wishes for the continued health and happiness of yourself and your dear ones.

Our prayers go with you that you may be made a blessing in the new sphere of usefulness to which you are called.

That you may be kept in the service of His presence all through life's journey is the desire of your friends of the Peterborough Auxiliary

The chaste little gold pin of life membership in the society was presented to Mrs. Crothers by Mrs. James Stubbs, the 2nd vice-president of the society.

LIFE MEMBERSHIP.

Mrs Carlisle, the 1st vice-president, then presented the following address to Miss Mabel Crothers, together with a certificate of life membership;

Dear Miss Crothers,—Not only to your mother's daughter, but to your own dear self, do we desire to express our affection and our regret that you are about to leave us.

You have so willingly and cheerfully helped us in whatever had to be done at any time in connection with church affairs, and, above all, you have been a consistent follower of our Lord.

We ask your acceptance of this certificate of life membership in our W.M.S. and we trust it will bring you life happiness in some degree.

We pray that you may meet with congenial friendships in the new life to which you are going, that you may "allure to brighter worlds and lead the way," ever following that which is good; this is the prayer of your friends in the Peterborough Auxiliary.

ANOTHER CERTIFICATE.

The President of the Auxiliary then called on Mrs. Campbell, "the Mother of the Parsonage," to present to Miss Muriel Crothers, "The Child of the Parsonage," a certificate of life membership into the society. This certificate, a gift of the speaker, was presented to little Miss Muriel, accompanied by a few well chosen words, by Mrs (Rev.) A. R. Campbell.

Mrs Crothers replied to the address in her usual genial, practical manner of speech, assuring the Auxiliary that her's was the joy of service in the society; that she had years ago on the occasion of deep affliction and bereavement, consecrated herself and her substance to the Lord's work. With a heartfelt prayer for the pastor, who is leaving us, and his well loved family, the meeting was dismissed, and a half hour of social intercourse followed.

Ice cream and cake was passed around, personal regrets expressed to Mrs. Crothers, and her daughters at their departure from the church, and many good wishes tendered them.

Thornell Hadder of Cayuga, an aged man, was found drowned yesterday in the cistern.

Some Observations On the Weather

Kind of Temperature We May Expect Next Few Days

Washington, D. C., June 15. — My last bulletin gave forecasts of disturbance to cross the continent June 15th to 19th, warm wave the 14th to the 18th, cool wave the 17th to the 21st. The next disturbance will reach the Pacific Coast about the 20th, and will cross west of the Rockies country by the close of the 21st, the great central valleys the 22nd, and eastern states the 24th. A cool wave will cross east of the Rockies about the 23rd, great central valleys the 25th, and eastern states the 27th.

This will be the most important disturbance of the month; important because it will bring a great hot wave and dry weather. This hot wave will continue from about the 21st to the 28th, and will include two disturbances.

The most dangerous storms of June will occur from the 23rd to the 28th and following these storms will come a very cool spell of weather, so cool that it will be a notable weather event, particularly in the eastern provinces, New England states and in the Missouri valleys. But the month of June will average from above to about normal temperatures, dry and drying weather till about the 23rd. That period of eight days will make a vast change in crop conditions. Where too much rain has fallen, conditions will improve and where rainfall has been below normal a drouth will threaten.

I do not pretend to forecast earthquakes, but I am thoroughly convinced that most earthquakes are caused by electrical disturbances, therefore these seismic disturbances are more than usually probable on some parts of the earth from June 23rd to the 28th.

The people are now more universally intelligent and a much larger percentage are educated and in possession of knowledge than ever before, consequently the general discussions of the causes that bring about weather changes and particularly, "What the cause?" of the very unusual weather of 1907 are better understood and more highly appreciated by the common newspaper readers than many who claim to be orthodox scientists.

Our so-called scientists are taught in the universities that earth, sun and planets are hot and cooling bodies and with them that theory underlies their conception of the universe and is their controlling theory in all things related to physics. They cannot understand the electrical theory of the universe.

But the masses of the people are educated not drilled into theories, but prepared for studying all theories unbiased by the dogmatism of the universities. The open book of nature is the textbook of the educated masses and they readily grasp the idea of a growing, eternal, electrical universe; they can see that electricity and not heat is the original force.

Many Extra Miles are Now Covered

By the new train service inaugurated yesterday by the Grand Trunk railway to better accommodate the heavy traffic producing centres of western Ontario, 365,000 miles more annually were added to the company's regular mileage. This means that the new trains will cover that many miles each year, says the Port Hope Guide.

The service was commenced yesterday owing to the fact that there is less travel on Sunday than any other day of the week, and from an operating standpoint it was more suitable. However, as there is no passenger traffic on the Midland on Sunday the new train did not make its initial trip until Monday. It left Peterborough at 8.20 a.m., arriving here at 9.40; leaving again on the arrival of the 10.40 from the west. The new service will be a great convenience, and no doubt will be well patronized. Quite a large crowd took in the first trip to and from Port Hope.

Damage Done to Milk Waggon

Mr. N. Fowler's Horse Created Some Excitement on Streets

A runaway, which created considerable excitement, occurred last night about seven o'clock. The horse and milk delivery waggon belonged to Mr. N. Fowler. Considerable damage was done to the rig as a result of the mad gallop. At Mr. Lou Bolin's livery on Simcoe street the horse became frightened, owing to a part of the whippletree becoming loose, and when struck by it the horse was startled and ran away. It turned at Aylmer street and ran up to Mervin's butcher shop and then on to Hunter street, where it struck a post and left the waggon. The steed took to the sidewalk for some distance and ran on to the road again to Water street, and right out to Mr. Stothart's farm in Smith, where it was finally caught and brought to the city. The occupants of the rig escaped unhurt, but the waggon was badly smashed

New Lights Placed by Fire Water and Light Committee

Mostly Incandescent Lights Will be Used—Contractor Carveth Gets His Fire Hall Contract Settled—Money Will be Paid.

The principal matter which was taken up by the Fire, Water and Light Committee, at its meeting last night was the location of a number of lights, which have been asked for. The committee recently drove around to the places in question, and were thus able to intelligently deal with the matter. Four arc lamps and ten incandescents will be placed in positions where they will give the most service.

There were present Ald. Johnston, chairman; the Mayor, Ald. Morgan and Bradburn.

Mr. Henry Carveth, the contractor for the new fire hall, was present and complained about some particulars in his account for the work.

Mr. Carveth said that Mr. Blackwell, the architect, in making his final award, had charged him up with insurance, which he did not think he should pay.

The contract between the city and Mr. Carveth was examined, and it was discovered that there was a clause in the contract providing for the insuring of the building, and the charging of the expense to the contractor. In view of this the committee feel that no action should be taken.

The balance of Mr. Carveth's bill for work in connection with the fire alarm, and for extracts in connection with the fire hall, was ordered to be paid, on the certificate of the chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

It was moved by Ald. Bradburn, and seconded by Ald. Morgan, that a hydrant be placed on Water street between Charlotte and King streets; and also at the corner of Hunter street east and Concession street.—Carried.

NEW LAMPS.

The committee took up the question of the location of new street lights, to gain information about which they have recently made a tour of the city. It was decided to place one lamp on Bolivar Avenue west, at the corner of Boswell Avenue and King street, on Charlotte street between St. Thomas street and the boundary and Homewood Avenue, 600 feet west of Babb's Lane.

It was decided to change the light at the corner of Smith and Stewart streets to the north-east corner.

The committee decided to change the light at the corner of Park and Charlotte streets, to Charlotte street at the corner of Downie street.

An arm will be placed on the lamp on Park street, opposite Gilmour street.

An incandescent lamp will be placed at the corner of Homewood Avenue and Belmont Avenue.

The arc lamp at the corner of Downie and Hunter streets will be removed and four incandescent lamps substituted.

An incandescent lamp will be placed on Downie street, between Brock and Murray streets.

Four incandescent lamps will be placed on Stewart street between London and Smith street.

It was decided to place an incandescent lamp on Division and Union streets.

In East City, incandescent lamps will be placed on Mark street, opposite the church, and at the elevator at the railway crossing.

An incandescent lamp will be taken from Rogers street and placed on Mark street, between Hunter and Douro streets.

It was decided to place a long arm on the corner of Lake and Aylmer streets so as to give light over the G.T.R. crossing at Lake and Bethune streets.

The light on Stewart street south will be raised.

The matter of cleaning up the rooms in the fire hall was left in the hands of the chairman, who will make the best arrangements possible.

An account of $5 for medical attendance to Fireman W. Metherall, who was injured at the Peter Hamilton fire recently, was ordered to be paid

Is Acting as Interpreter In An Important Action

Mr. Geo. Thomas, proprietor of one of the local Chinese restaurants, has gone to Ottawa to act as interpreter in a case that is being investigated by the Ottawa police. Hum Youie, an Ottawa celestial is charged with manslaughter as the result of the death of Lee Sing, another Chinaman, who conducted a laundry in Ottawa. Hum Youie also runs a laundry, and according to the evidence that has been given at Ottawa Lee Sing and Hum Youie had a quarrel in the latter's laundry and Lee Sing is alleged to have been struck with a flat iron in the scuffle that followed. At any rate Lee was hurt and had to be taken to St. Luke's hospital where he died last week. Hum Youie was at once arrested and is now on trial for manslaughter.

Mr. Thomas left for Ottawa on Tuesday and is acting as interpreter in the case, having a much better knowledge of English than the ordinary Chinaman.

$100 for Opening New Fire Hall

The Fire, Water and Light committee last night decided to have the new fire hall formally opened at an early date. The opening speech will be given by Mayor McWilliams and the premises will be thrown open for the inspection of the public. In the evening a smoker and concert will be given. The details of the arrangements are in the hands of the firemen.

It was moved by the Mayor, seconded by Ald. Morgan, that the sum of $100 be granted the firemen for the expenses connected with the opening.—Carried.

GAINED 15 POUNDS.

Mr. H. A. Thurston, of 228 Vermont St. E., Indianapolis, Restored by Ferrozone.

"A year ago I took the grippe. I was as weak as a child. I was no longer able to eat. My blood was thin. My cheeks were white and hollow. Doctors gave me all kinds of medicine, but none of them brought me strength. My friends said I was wasting away with some slow disease, and I bade them good-bye. Then I heard of the wonderful Ferrozone. After three days it gave me an appetite. I gained strength and became cheerful. Under Ferrozone I improved steadily. I am well to-day. I weigh fifteen pounds heavier than ever before, and feel like a new man.
(Signed) "H. A. THURSTON."

The effect of Ferrozone is instant, yet permanent. For upbuilding and invigorating the listless and depressed it has no equal. Progress of Emmerson Suit; Plaintiff Would Stop Case

But Editor Crockett Pleads Justification and Wants Evidence.

Another Man Said to Have Been With the Party—Crown Asks For and Is Granted Time to File Demurrer—Defence Persists That Charges Are True—Sir Wilfrid Laurier Intervenes.

Fredericton, N. B., June 20.—If on Tuesday the Crockett forces seemed to waver, yesterday Mr. Emmerson and his supporters were in headlong flight. They fairly begged in the morning for delay, and it is doubtful if they can be forced to trial to-day. It is known that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is calling a peremptory command to stop the case and that the call is received by a third party in Montreal, who repeats it to Fredericton.

The plea filed yesterday morning by the defendant to the indictment, in addition to a general denial set up in justification that the charges made by The Gleaner were true and that Mr. Emmerson was in fact ejected from the St. Lawrence Hall in company with two women of ill-repute.

"And," reads the plea, "the said James H. Crockett further says that before and at the time of the publication in the said indictment mentioned, the said Henry R. Emmerson was Minister of Railways and Canals in the Government of Canada, and that the personal morals and conduct of members of the Government of Canada were and are matters of public interest, and had been discussed in Parliament and in the press, and it was desirable and proper in the public interests, and for the benefit of the public, that facts of a disgraceful and degrading character in the lives of Ministers of the crown should be made known and published, so that the Government of Canada might be purged of men whose personal character rendered them undesirable and unfit Ministers of the crown, by reason whereof it was for the public benefit that the said matters charged in the said indictment should be published, and this the said James H. Crockett is ready to verify, whereof he prays judgment, and that by the court here he may be dismissed and discharged from the said premises in the said indictment above specified."

Pugsley For Delay.

Mr. Hazen then asked that the case be proceeded with, but Dr. Pugsley objected on the ground that he had not had time to prepare a demurrer.

"The defence had no right to assume that the case would proceed on any particular day. Until we know what the issue is, we cannot know what witnesses are necessary," he said. "If the plea should be sustained on the demurrer the crown will require witnesses. The plea is so broad, and opens up such an opportunity for evidence, that it would have been impossible to have anticipated what witnesses the crown would require. It is of great importance, because of the principle involved."

Delay was then granted and the crown will file a demurrer stating that the facts contained in the plea do not constitute a defence to the indictment. This demurrer will be overruled, but it is not likely that the trial can go on, as Judge Landry has empaneled a jury and is hearing civil cases.

Mr. Crockett is demanding immediate trial. He will make no retraction and he will agree to no compromise. The crown must absolutely back down or try the case.

One very sensational bit of testimony to be provided by the defendant is to the effect that there was another man in the party ejected from the St. Lawrence Hall, and that the four went to the Albion hotel, where they registered as William Harding, the Misses Harding and Jack Harding of Peterboro, Ont.

WANTED BODY FOUND.

Ties Handkerchief to Stake Where He Committed Suicide.

Rochester, June 20.—John Comfort, a farmer, 50 years old, who lived in Transit Village, committed suicide Tuesday by drowning. He left a note which said:

"If my body is not home, look in the river."

A search of the river was made and a stake was found driven into the bed with a handkerchief tied to the top of the stake. To the stake a rope was attached, and at the other end of the rope Comfort's body was found. He had drowned himself in shallow water. Nearby was found a vial containing two ounces of strychnine.

Insolvent Grocer Arrested.

Milwaukee, June 20.—Ira B. Smith, member of the wholesale grocery firm of Smith, Thorndike & Brown, which recently went into involuntary bankruptcy, was arrested yesterday, charged with obtaining money under false representations of his firm's finances.

He gave $6,000 bail. Smith is said to owe the firm about $100,000.

Sixty-Six Chinamen Enter Canada.

Ottawa, June 20.—Last month 66 Chinese entered Canada by way of Vancouver, paying $500 each, or a total of $33,000.

In addition to these, 45 Chinese, who are exempt from the charge, being merchants or returning Chinese, entered, making the total number of arrivals 111.

MURDERER FALLS ASLEEP.

Nine-Year-Old Criminal Not Much Bothered.

Baltimore, Md., June 20.—The youngest murderer in the history of local criminal courts was tried Tuesday and convicted of manslaughter.

He is Sydney Hollis, colored, aged nine years. He shot and killed William H. Griffiths, another negro lad of 11 years, on June 1, after a quarrel over a game of marbles.

Hollis did not display the slightest concern in the court-room yesterday during the trial. He fell asleep several times. Sentence was suspended.

TORPEDO BOAT EXPLODES.

Was Engaged In Trials—All the Crew Escaped.

Torquay, Eng., June 20.—Four torpedo boat destroyers were engaged in steam trials off Torquay yesterday afternoon, when an explosion was heard on board one of the vessels, and soon her crew, numbering twenty men, were struggling in the water.

The torpedo gunboat Dryad picked up all the men who were in the water and took them to Plymouth.

The destroyer sank 20 minutes after the explosion occurred.

BOYD SENT TO ASSIZES.

Negro Who Killed Wandle Committed By Magistrate.

Toronto, June 20.—John Boyd, the negro who shot E. F. Wandle, the York street restauranteur a week ago, was sent up for trial at the November assizes, on a charge of wilful murder, by Magistrate Denison yesterday. The evidence at the preliminary trial was the same as that given at the inquest.

Inland Revenue Receipts.

Ottawa, June 20.—The Inland Revenue statement for the month of May was issued yesterday. It shows gross revenue of $1,432,422, as compared with $1,286,364 in May, 1906.

Of this, the excise revenue is responsible for no less than $1,412,947, spirits accounts for $645,270, tobacco $497,832, malt $142,136, and cigars, $111,876.

Ten Years in Penitentiary.

Windsor, Ont., June 20.—Dominice Provencano, the Italian who shot and stabbed Tony Cariti, a fellow countryman, was sentenced by Judge McHugh to serve a ten-year term in the Kingston Penitentiary.

Ambassador Will Not Resign.

Berlin, June 20.—The Foreign Office yesterday denied the published statement that Baron Speck von Sternburg, the German Ambassador to the United States, will soon resign owing to ill-health.

Livingston Is Acquitted.

Windsor, Ont., June 20.—Norman Livingston, who was arrested four months ago charged with highway robbery, near the Michigan Central Station, was yesterday acquitted.

SUSPICIOUS OF DEAL

Politicians Go to Rome to Secure Pope's Approval.

Grand Master Sproule on Trips to Vatican — Is Fielding to Succeed Laurier?—Deprecates Bigotry But Protests Against Sbarretti's Interference—Rejoices In Reverses Recently Suffered.

Vancouver, June 20.—Dr. Sproule, grand master of the Grand Orange Lodge of British America, which is in session here, presented his report yesterday afternoon.

He expressed satisfaction that the best classes of citizens were joining the order in large numbers, and that Rome was suffering serious reverses in Italy, Spain, and France, where she was supreme for centuries.

"In Canada the fight still continues. There is no cessation of hostilities. Mgr. Sbarretti, who accomplished so much for the cause of Romanism in the adoption of the autonomy bill, is to return to Canada. This direct representative of the Vatican is to reside in Ottawa, and keep his finger upon the political pulse of the Dominion of Canada. The presence of the papal delegate is a constant menace to the constitution of the country. It is bad enough in all conscience when Canadian prelates interfere in our political contests, but we resent the interference of one who is an alien and who represents, not the citizenship of Canada, but the policy of the Roman pontiff.

"It is neither our policy nor in accordance with our principles that we should display bigotry or attempt to restrain our Roman Catholic fellow-citizens in the exercise of their civil and religious liberties. We feel it our duty to defend their interests in these respects as vigorously as we would defend our own.

"We are informed from French-Canadian sources, through the columns of Le Nationaliste, that Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. W. S. Fielding have recently visited Rome for the purpose of securing the sanction of the Vatican authorities to Mr. Fielding succeeding Sir Wilfrid Laurier as Premier of Canada.

"These constant pilgrimages to Rome before every general election, and secret conferences with His Holiness, lends credence to the suspicion that a deal is being made each time whereby the interests of the state are being bartered away for the support of the church in the forthcoming election, and that in due time the debt must be repaid by another encroachment upon the rights of the people."

FEAR INDIAN UPRISING.

Girl Exercising Great Influence to Detriment of Missionaries.

Fort Berthold, N. D., June 20.—Under the leadership of Annie Enemyheart, a new religion, or rather a recrudescence of the old heathen practices, has sprung up among the Indians of the Fort Berthold reservation, and is causing considerable excitement.

Recently a horse belonging to the father of the woman died, and she has succeeded in making the Indians believe that the spirit of God has entered into the dead body of the horse. She caused the head of the horse to be cut off, and this she dressed with bright pieces of calico.

Offerings are brought daily to the horse's head, and these are offered as burnt sacrifices during all of the ceremonies.

Many of the Indians have become convinced that the woman is a prophet of the Great Spirit, and they obey her every whim. She advises her followers to turn their backs upon the white man, and to live for the Indians alone.

Missionaries express fear that the influence of the woman may cause trouble.

CRISEFIELD NOT BLAMED.

Naval Board Gives Decision In Minnesota Launch Wreck.

Washington, June 20.—Admiral Emory, commanding the fourth division, Atlantic fleet, arrived here yesterday with the report of the naval board of investigation of the loss of the launch of the battleship Minnesota on the night of June 10.

The board found that the launch had fouled a hawser with which the big tug Crisefield was towing a barge carrying a number of loaded freight cars from Cape Charles to Norfolk. No criminality is attached to the officials of the Crisefield, who were in ignorance of the disaster.

Use Chinese Stokers.

Victoria, June 20.—The desertion of 12 stokers from H. M. S. Shearwater while in Central American waters has led the British admiralty to adopt a peculiar method of manning the ship.

The ship made the trip from Central America to Esquimalt with eight stokers instead of 20, and as a result the admiralty has ordered the employment of Chinese stokers for the vessel. This is the first time that such a course has been adopted.

Could Not Instruct Counsel.

Fort William, June 20.—The trial of Manson Patterson, the Port Elgin boy charged with the murder of Bernard Armstrong, has been adjourned. On the prisoner being asked to plead, he claimed that he was not sane enough to instruct counsel, and adjournment was taken till doctors examine the prisoner.

Pulled Trigger With Foot.

Winnipeg, June 20.—A German named Cris Veogt, chopping timber about eight miles east of Red Deer, committed suicide by placing the muzzle of a gun next his head and pulling the trigger with his foot.

He was said to be under the influence of liquor.

The Supreme Grand Orange Lodge of British America, opened at Vancouver yesterday.

BOY SETS FIREHALL ABLAZE.

Young Lad Admits Causing Two Serious Fires In Belleville.

Belleville, June 20.—Dorland Foote, a lad about 11 years of age, has started in his career as an incendiary at a very early age.

When the Queen's Hotel stables were destroyed on Thursday last it seemed evident that the fire had been set, but for the time being no one was suspected.

When the firehall was destroyed yesterday afternoon, however, the police got busy, and the young fellow was arrested last evening.

He admitted having set both fires.

The fire at No. 1 fire station was discovered at about 4.30 yesterday afternoon. The caretaker was absent, and when the fire was seen the flames had gotten such headway that nothing but the teams of horses could be saved.

The fire engine, hose reel, six or seven hundred feet of hose and a lot of other apparatus was lost. The building was completely gutted. Total loss between $5,000 and $6,000.

There was insurance on the building of $1,000, but the contents of the building were not insured at all, so far as any records can be found.

Belleville Hardware Co.

About 7 p.m. another fire was discovered at the premises of the Belleville Hardware Company, of which Sir Mackenzie Bowell is president. Before it was subdued the entire flat, which comprised the storage and packing department, was completely destroyed, together with most of the manufactured goods the company had on hand, consisting of locks, keys, etc.

The loss will be in the neighborhood of $15,000; covered by insurance.

Athens, June 20.—More than a hundred persons were drowned in the flood caused by the overflowing of the Lithers River, which inundated the town of Trikkala, in Thessaly, on Tuesday.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

Author of "When Lovely Maiden Stoops to Folly," "A Cruel Revenge," "The Heiress of Cameron Hall," "Ione," "Parted at the Altar," Etc.

She consulted with Mrs. Arnold on the subject.

"I should think you could make a great deal in that way," declared Mrs. Arnold. "The publishers have to print somebody's poems, why not yours? I'd try it by all means, my dear."

Reine did try, and the consequence was, she produced two very creditable little poems, which Mrs. Arnold declared to be the most pathetic she had ever heard. One was entitled, "A Misspent Life,"—the other, "A Pathway Strewn with Thorns."

Mrs. Arnold further insisted any publisher would purcahse at once, after hearing the first lines.

Thus imbued with hope, although Reine could not share her friend's enthusiasm over them, she started out to dispose of her productions.

She took a list of the publishers' names and addresses, and made a tedious tour to the different offices.

Some smiled, when they heard the object of her call; others brusquely declared their waste basket was full of poems, and their pigeon-holes overrun with them.

At last, one editor, pitying the wistful young face, agreed to look them over if she would leave them.

He had seen a great deal of authors in his day. It was nothing new or strange to him to see a white, wistful face looking into his office to see if there was any good news.

At first he used to purchase himself, rather than see the pain bad news inflicted as he handed back the manuscripts. Many a genius struggling in the depths, owed their first start in life to him. But half the manuscripts he bought, he could find no possible use for; he soon found he might invest the whole of his capital in such dubious ways. He was compelled to give it up, and contented himself by giving encouragement by kindly words.

He bought Reine's two poems, but as he placed the small pittance they brought into her hand, he told her he should not be able to buy any more from her until after these had been published, which would be some months yet, they were so overstocked just then, but wishing her great success meanwhile, elsewhere.

Reine wrote other poems, but she found no one who wanted to buy them.

"My forte does not lie in that direction," she told Mrs. Arnold one day with a faint smile,—"I shall go back to my copying. Some day I shall try to paint a picture. I think I would make a better artist than poetess. So one day the picture was commenced. It progressed slowly enough, her time was so occupied from day to day in copying the briefs young Mr. Arnold brought home to her.

It never occurred to generous-hearted Bernard Chesleigh to inquire who the young girl was, whom his clerk had modestly suggested to add to their corps of copyists, as she was greatly in need of employment.

"By all means give her copying to do if we have work for her," he had responded, heartily. Then he quite forgot the matter altogether.

It was with a feeling of strange pleasure Reine listened evenings to Horace Arnold's conversation, which always touched upon Bernard Chesleigh more or less.

"He is a bachelor," he said, one evening; "but if reports speaks truly, he won't be a bachelor long."

"Why—is—is—he edgaged to—to—marry any one?" asked Reine, raising a strangely white face up from the page over which she was bending, and clutching her pen more tightly in her hand.

"No; but it's only a question of time before he will be, I imagine," laughed Horace. "To tell you the plain truth, if you will pardon the language, Miss Flora Sanford, his partner's neice, has made a 'dead set, for Mr. Chesleigh."

Reine looked greatly interested, and it was a pleasure to Horace Arnold to have such an attentive listener, and he went on readily enough.

"She is a Beautiful, dashing girl, this Miss Flora, but not quite the style Mr. Chesleigh admires most, if I am any judge. She is tall and dark, like a Spanish princess. She always reminds me of a picture in the magazine.

"Every day she comes to the office and calls for her uncle; but we clerks know that's only a blind. It's Mr. Chesleigh she wants to see.

"She always manages, on one pretext or another, to sit and chat until Mr. Chesleigh is about to leave the office for the day, and she very kindly offers to drive him in her phaeton—which is at the door—to his destination. He cannot well refuse, and is quite used by this time to being made a captive of. She will get the noblest and best-hearted young man in New York when she does get him," young Arnold went on, meditatively. "He is certainly a capital fellow, and will make her a husband that any young lady might be proud of—"

"Why, what is the matter, Miss Waldron? Are you ill?" he cried, in affright. "Your face is the color of that paper in your hands. How stupid of me to tire you by recounting gossip concerning people whom you have never seen!"

"I am very tired; that is all," said Reine, laying down her pen wearily. "I think I will stop writing for to-day, and go up to my own room."

"It is tiresome work," admitted Horace, pityingly. "Let me finish those pages you have in your hand, while you go and rest."

Reine shook her head.

"You are tired enough doing your own day's work," she said. "I must not tax you by thinking of mine."

"It would be a great pleasure to me to do anything for you, Miss Reine," he said, modestly, his fair, handsome, boyish face flushing hotly.

But Reine shook her head again, and, taking the paper with her, slowly quitted the room.

Horace Arnold looked after her with a tender light in his eyes.

"I have known her but four weeks," he soliloquized, "and—I love her."

All the beauty and warmth of the room seemed to fade as the door closed upon her slender, retreating form.

He quite believed that a romantic fate had brought Reine to his mother's home; that he should see her, love her, and in time win for his own.

Poor boy! how little he dreamed that fate had an altogether different purpose in bringing Reine thither!

Meanwhile the object of his thoughts went wearily up to her own room. All night long Reine tossed restlessly upon a pillow that was wet with burning tears.

"Why do I weep?" she asked herself, bitterly, over and over again. "Is it because they tell me my dear old friend is to marry and to be happy at last? Am I so selfish that, because I have found no happiness I weep when I hear of the happiness of others?"

Of course he would marry some day. Few men remained single because they failed to win their first love.

Yet the thought brought with it the keenest pain to her heart, not that he was, or ever could be, anything to her now—for a barrier that could never be beaten down was raised between them. That barrier was Waldemar Waldron.

True, he had deserted her—wilfully, deliberately—yet she was still his wedded wife until death should come to her to break the heavy bonds.

She must not complain, for she had fastened those heavy chains that shackled her, with her own white hands.

True, she could have found freedom through recourse to the divorce courts, but Reine shrank from dissolving the ties that bound her in that way. To her, those whom God had joined together in holy marriage could never be put asunder by the hand of man.

From that hour Reine commenced to droop and fade; still she kept at her copying with feverish energy, devoting her spare time, to keep her mind busied, by painting a Southern landscape.

Quite unconsciously many of the old scenes and picturesque spots in the vicinity of Fairlawn were worked out upon the canvas under her deft brush, even to a small cascade that flowed between two cleft perpendicular rocks at the rear of her father's estate.

Horace Arnold was delightd with it, and insisted upon showing it to an old friend of his—an artist who had a studio on Broadway.

"I am sure Reine possesses more than ordinary talent, mother," he declared. "Do persuade her to permit me to show it to my friend."

In vain Reine protested; mother and son carried their point, and Horace duly carried it to his friend's studio.

The young artist went in raptures over it.

"Why, it is a perfect gem, my dear boy," he cried, laying his hand on his friend's shoulder. "Whoever painted that is a genius. It is so true to nature. I went there sketching last summer, and upon my honor I did not do one-half so well as this. It is in the heart of the Virginia hills, near a grand old country-place, called Fairlawn. If you like, I will put it in my window with the artist's name attached, and who knows but what it will bring her in many an order," he said, kindly.

HALTED BY DEATH SIGN.

Terrified Witness' Lips, Sealed by Black Hand Signal.

New York, June 20.—In the shadow of the ermine itself the Black Hand sign of death proved potent. Ignazio de Leonardo, convicted of kidnapping little Salvatore Siatta, offered to testify against his accomplice, Pietro Pampinella, to get a lighter sentence. As he was about to speak, Pampinella leaned forward and brought his hands, one on each side, down from his temples until they met under his chin.

De Leonardo's eyes bulged out in terror and he was unable to speak, the muscles of his throat working convulsively.

"What is the trouble?" cried Judge O'Sullivan, "Are you ill?"

"Yes, I'm sick," mumbled De Leonardo with a slack jaw, "I cannot testify."

"Why not?" demanded Judge O'Sullivan.

"I have seen the sign of death," De Leonardo answered, jerking his words out as though in pain "Pampinella has just given me the sign of death. It is 'Il Mano Nero—the Black Hand.' I will not testify."

It took the jury only two minutes to convict both men.

PROVING HIS STORY.

Witnesses Called to Substantiate Orchard's Evidence.

Boise, Idaho, June 20.—The state yesterday made dramatic production of, and proof as to the Goddard bomb, offered further addition to the testimony of Harry Orchard against William D. Haywood, and obtained a ruling under which a number of the denunciatory articles published in The Miners' Magazine, the official organ of the Western Federation of Miners, will be admitted in evidence.

To Justice Luther Goddard of Colorado himself fell the task of telling the story of the discovery and preservation of the bomb with which Orchard tried to kill him.

Mrs. Seward, at whose house, in San Francisco, Orchard stayed part of the time, he was conducting his operations against Fred Bradley, gave testimony strongly corroborative of Orchard's account of his acts and experiences in San Francisco.

She said her lodger had a very heavy suit case, and that she thought that he was an inventor.

John L. Stearns, agent at Denver for the Mutual Life Insurance Co., confirmed Orchard's account of his having obtained employment as a solicitor for the company before he went to Canon City to kill ex-Governor Peabody.

TWO FIRES IN DALHOUSIE.

Mill and Factory Destroyed and Many Out of Employment.

Dalhousie, N. B., June 20.—The town of Dalhousie was plunged into despair Tuesday night when the Restigouche Woodworking Factory was destroyed by fire, and the families whose livelihood depended on the factory, began to move elsewhere.

Last night the mill owned by the Dalhousie Lumber Co., one of the largest in Canada, caught fire and in an hour was completely destroyed.

The loss is heavy and over a hundred men will be thrown out of employment.

The mill was valued at $60,000.

Chamberlain's Illness.

New York, June 20.—A special cable to The World from London says:

A report was current in the House of Commons Tuesday night that Joseph Chamberlain is dying.

Mr. Chamberlain was brought to his London house Tuesday from Highbury, his place near Birmingham. Since his return from abroad he has shown increasing loss of nervous and mental power, and it was desired to have him within reach of the best medical advice that London affords.

Austen Chamberlain, his son, was with him all day, but enquirers at Mr. Chamberlain's residence got only the stereotyped reply that he bore the journey well.

Mr. Chamberlain is 74 years old.

Will Travel Incognito.

Ottawa, June 20.—The Duke of Abruzzi, the Italian explorer, it is now stated, will make his tour of Canada incognito. The distinguished foreigner has little regard for public functions and so there will be no festivals.

His program will include visits to Montreal, Ottawa, Sudbury, Cobalt, Toronto and Niagara Falls.

STRIKING MAYOR ARRESTED.

Wine Growers Overawed by Display of Troops.

Paris, June 20.—M. Ferroul, the striking mayor of Narbonne, and, next to Marcelin Albert, the most prominent figure in the wine-growers' revolt, was arrested yesterday and hurried away to Montpelier.

Before daybreak all roads leading to M. Ferroul's house were held by cuirassiers in strong force. His bodyguard of wine growers, among whom were many Amazons, which had been nightly watching over the safety of their leader, was on duty as usual, but when the wine-growers found themselves surrounded by troops they did not attempt rescuance. When M. Ferroul appeared in custody of a police commissary the crowd momentarily threatened to rescue him, but the mayor begged that there be no conflict with the troops, and he was placed in a carriage, escorted by 150 cuirassiers, and taken to the railroad station at Narbonne, where a special train was awaiting and started with him for Montpelier.

Intense excitement prevails at Narbonne, but the people thus far have been overawed by the military display.

At Argelliers the state and police authorities, escorted by an imposing military force, raided the headquarters of the Central Committee of the Wine-growers' organization at daybreak with warrants for the arrest of Albert and the members of the Central Committee, but they found that the leader of the movement and several of his lieutenants had already fled. Only three committeemen were captured. They were sent to Montpelier.

Strong forces of troops are scouring the country, hunting down the fugitives. Their escape was facilitated by the fact that the people burned the bridge at the entrance of Argelliers Tuesday evening, delaying the arrival of the Government's reports.

GIRL'S SUSPICIOUS DEATH.

Found In Water With Bruises and Cuts on Body.

Bridgeton, N. J., June 20.—Miss Mary Vennel of this city lost her life in Sunset Lake Tuesday night, under such peculiar circumstances as to cause the police to start a thorough investigation.

Shortly before 10 o'clock Tuesday night the girl started with George Evens of this place for a row on the lake in a steel non-sinkable boat. Shortly afterward the boat was found filled with water, while nearby was floating a hat. A policeman was sent to Evans' home, where he was found in bed. His wet clothing was hanging over a chair.

He was taken to the lake, and when asked for an explanation of the affair, said that he hired a boat and started for a row with Miss Vennel. When near a place called Piney Point the girl wanted to row, and, in changing their positions, the boat sank under them. Evans said he had great difficulty in freeing himself from his companion, who, he said, was screaming for help while she held him tightly around the neck. They had gone down twice, Evans said, when he freed himself and swam ashore. He ran all the way home and did not tell anyone of the drowning of the girl. Her body was found yesterday in four feet of water. The body showed several bruises, and there are cuts on the face.

The police say they have been unable to find anyone who heard the girl's cries, if she made any. The shore of the lake was lined with people at the time of the drowning, and there were many boats on the lake in the vicinity.

MAY CLEAR UP MURDER.

Recent Crime May Reveal How Judge Cortes Was Killed.

Paterson, N. J., June 20.—The mysterious murder of Justice Robert Cortes of this city, who was killed by the explosion of a bomb in his office last winter, may, the police believe, be solved as a result of developments following another murder.

Michael Monachon was found murdered on Garret Mountain last week and Joseph Mustel was arrested, charged with the crime. Yesterday Hampton A. Voorhees, a clerk in an express office in Newark, identified Mustel as the man who delivered to him the infernal machine which later killed Justice Cortes. Voorhees also identified a photograph of Monachon as that of a man who accompanied Mustel.

The police are now working on the theory that several men were involved in the assassination of Cortes, that Monachon was one of them and that one of his companions, fearing that he had been tempted to betray them by the large rewards offered, killed him and left his body where it was found on the mountain.

Justice Cortes incurred the enmity of the criminal element among the Italians in this vicinity because of his activity in assisting the police to run down these law-breakers.

Two Men Sentenced.

Port Arthur, June 20.—S. Miller Hymers was sentenced yesterday on charge of shooting at a man named Holmes with intent to kill. Miller's record was a bad one.

Frank Veita was sentenced to two years on a charge of manslaughter. He had killed a namesake on Jan. 23.

Kills Wife and Suicides.

Buffalo, June 20.—In a drunken frenzy early yesterday Frank Tallchief, an Indian living on Camaraugus Reservation, shot and killed his wife Emily while she was riding to her home with a neighbor, and afterwards ended his own life by hanging himself in an orchard.

Eight Men Injured.

Spokane, Wash., June 20.—Eight men were injured, one probably fatally, in a wreck of a freight train on the Spokane & International Railroad near Spokane Bridge yesterday. Most of the injured were Austrian railroad hands.

John Downing of Stony Creek, was fined $25 at Hamilton yesterday, for assaulting a constable.

WAR VESSELS ON GREAT LAKES.

United States Would Use Speedy Gunboat as Training Ship.

Washington, June 20.—The gunboat Don Juan de Austria, now in New Hampshire waters, is the war vessel which the State Department is trying to have located on the great lakes as an additional ship for the use of the naval militia in that section of the country.

She is of 1,230 tons displacement, has a speed of over 12 knots and has 14 guns under four inches calibre.

Every effort is being made to expedite the transfer of the vessel to the great lakes, but it is hardly expected this can be accomplished before autumn, owing to the roundabout diplomatic methods which have to be traversed, in securing England's consent.

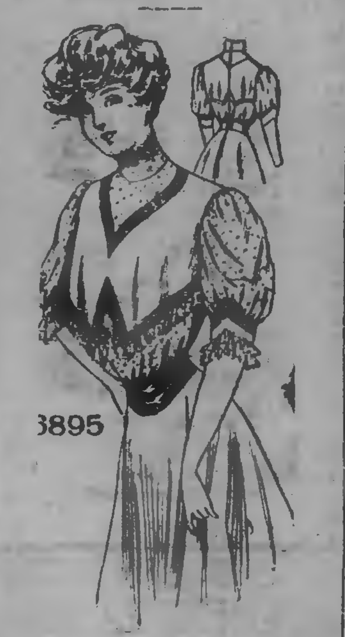
6721.—A SHIRT BLOUSE OF SMART LINES.

Now that the shirt blouse is so necessary to every woman and girl, the designs for this garment must be as varied as possible. A waist which will not fail to please the particular woman has a stole yoke which is completed at each side with tucks of becoming depth. The yoke appears in back and two groups of tucks lend further adornment and tapering lines. Together with the long sleeves, those of three-quarter length are also provided for and may be finished with natty little cuffs of the same or a contrasting material. While simple, the waist is one of undeniably good style and for wear with the suit or odd skirt will prove most fetching. Any seasonable fabric may develop it. The medium size calls for 3 1-2 yards of 27 inch material.



6895.—A WAIST OF NOVEL DESIGN

The fasion of trimming cloth or silk with lace has been reversed and now it is lace which forms the body of the prettiest waists and the material adorns it. Here is a waist showing the style very prettily, the waist proper being of figured net and the bolero of silk. The waist is very unique in style and wonderfully fetching. Long and short sleeves are provided for, the latter being the more attractive because of the natty little cuff band which finish tem. Such a waist is smart in white cloth or pongee, and may be developed at home without difficulty. For the medium size 3 yards of 27 inch goods are needed for the waist and 1 1-8 yd. of 18 inch goods for the bolero.

6895.—6 sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure.

House of Refuge for County Only

County Council Decided Last Night to Accept no Inmates From the City

At a short session of the county council held last night it was definitely and finally decided to accept no inmates to the House of Refuge from either the city or from other municipalities. There are only seventeen inmates at the Home now and it was rumored that the county would be glad to accept some of the city's poor in order to fill the place up. But the councillors talked the matter over for more than an hour. They looked at the question from every point of view with the result that it was decided that the county will have enough to do to look after its own.

The superintendent and matron of the House of Refuge are kept very busy with just the seventeen inmates. The people there are all old and unable to do very much, especially the women. This makes it particularly hard for the matron. Then the superintendent never knows how much help he can depend upon as the old men just work when they feel like it. There is also considerable expense and extra work in getting such an institution on a solid business basis, and as the council does not care to hire any more help than is absolutely necessary, it was decided to run along as at present and look after only the poor of the county.

The following resolution was passed,—

The Council deem it advisable not to accept any inmates from outside municipalities, owing to unforeseen difficulties which may arise, during establishment of the institution, and the difficulty in procuring help to take care of the old people. The majority of them, requiring special attention, but we hope in the future to be able if there are not too many from the County, to relieve the City of some of their aged, by way of admitting them upon terms satisfactory to both municipalities when the time comes.

R. N. SCOTT,
Chairman House of Refuge Committee.

WEDDING BELLS

CROWLEY—LYNCH

A very pretty wedding was solemnized by Rev. Father Bretherton, at the Church of Mount Carmel, Hastings on Tuesday morning, when Miss Kate Lynch of Asphodel, was united in matrimony to Mr. Bartlett Crowley. After the nuptial knot was tied the party adjourned to the residence of the bride's parents where dinner was served, after which the guests present enjoyed the afternoon in dancing and other amusements until tea time.

After supper had been served the young folks to the number of about one hundred and fifty spent the evening at games and dancing until the small hours of the morning were reached. Mr. and Mrs. Crowley left on the morning train on Wednesday for Rochester and western points, and on their return will take up their residence in Asphodel.

GOUINLOCK—DODDS

A quiet wedding took place at the residence of Mr and Mrs. John Dodds, 24 Cowan Avenue, Parkdale, at eight o'clock last night, when their eldest daughter, Mary, was married to Mr. James Muid Gouinlock, of 70 Grenville street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. Logan Geggie under a marriage bell of white lilacs and snowballs, suspended in the drawing room. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a robe of Irish lace over Duchesse satin, with tulle veil and wreath of orange blossoms. She held a large nosegay of lilies of the valley. The groomsmen were Mr. Albert S. May and Mr. Charles K. Dodds, and the bride's sister, Christina was maid of honor. She was attired in white embroidered chiffon, over silk with a wreath of white rosebuds and forget me nots in her hair, and carried pink roses. Later Mr. and Mrs. Gouinlock left for the honeymoon which will be spent at a cottage at Stoney Lake, belonging to Mr. John Gouinlock, which has been lent for the purpose. The bride's going away gown was tan check taffeta, made in jumper style, with net guimpe and pictorine. With this she wore tan shoes and gloves, and hat trimmed with hunter's green silk. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Gouinlock will go to the island for the rest of the summer.

TIMMERMAN—BARLOW

A quiet wedding was solemnized in St. John's church yesterday afternoon at two o'clock, when Miss Myrtle Barlow, daughter of Mr. John Barlow of Havelock, was united in marriage to Mr. Clement Timmerman, also of Havelock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon Davidson. The bride and groom were unattended.

Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman left on the 4.48 train by C.P.R. for Toronto, and points west, and on their return will reside in Havelock.

How two Young Men Accepted Challenge of Local Physician

It appears a wager of some interest was made in a local barber shop, yesterday.

A physician in a bantering mood offered to wager, Mr. Al Haskill, and Thomas Boyd $2, that they could not get up at four o'clock this morning and catch a maskinonge for breakfast.

The challenge was accepted and Messrs. Boyd and Haskill journeyed to Little Lake at daybreak this morning and captured a six-pound lunge. They returned up George street in triumph and the physician lost his money. The financial reverse however, is not likely to be reported in Bradd-street's daily financial news.

The Synod of Niagara began its thirty-second annual meeting in Hamilton yesterday.

John Stothart's Big Barn Burned; Struck by Lightning Yesterday

Loss on Building About $1500 and on Contents $1000—Partly Insured—One of the Largest Dairy Barns in Smith Township—Will Rebuild at Once.

The electric storm yesterday afternoon was a disastrous one for Mr John Stothart, who lives on the River Road near the water works pump house. About four o'clock lightning struck his big dairy barn and it was burned to the ground, with the sheep pen, silo and root house. In spite of the very heavy rain, the fire raged fiercely and the blaze shot many feet into the air. It was a savage fire, and the large number of farmers and neighbors, who had gathered, had great trouble in getting out as much of the contents as they did.

Mr. Stothart is a dairy farmer and his dairy barn was one of the largest in the township of Smith. It was a frame building 50 feet by 70 feet with two hay mows and a large basement in which was accommodation for 30 or 40 head of cattle. It was fitted up with modern appliances for feeding and watering. It was a model barn in many respects and its destruction will be a hard blow to the proprietor.

The contents of the building, which were destroyed, consisted of 30 or 40 tons of hay, a large quantity of oat chop, a large quantity of oats, as well as other things. One valuable Holstein bull was burned so so badly before they got him out that he had to be killed. The most of the machinery and chattels kept in this barn were taken out in time.

The loss is estimated as follows;

Building	$1500
Contents	1000
Total	$2500

This is partly covered by insurance in the Perth Mutual Fire Insurance Co., of which Mr. W. H Hill is the agent.

It was fortunate that there was very little wind at the time, and the fire did not spread to any of the other buildings. The house and another large barn, as well as other outbuildings were situated some distance away and were not endangered at all. Mr. Stothart will rebuild his barn at once, so as to have a place in which to keep his large herd of cattle in the fall and winter.

Electric Volt Struck House; The Chimney Was Shattered

Mrs. Jos. Stewart and Little Son Received Severe Shock—Brick From Chimney Was Hurled Through Window of Neighboring Dwelling.

The electric storm of yesterday afternoon, accompanied by the heavy downpour of rain, no doubt did a great deal of good to the country, but it also caused considerable damage to one residence in the south end of the city.

The first severe crack of lightning played havoc with the east chimney of Mr. Joseph Stewart's house, at 174 Stewart street. The volt of electricity knocked the chimney all to pieces, and also tore the shingles off the roof. It went through the ceiling and along the hall, down the front stairs and through the front screen door. Mrs. Stewart and her son, only two years old, were standing in the doorway and both received a severe shock. The little fellow was rendered unconscious for several minutes, but the mother quickly recovered. The people living next door also got a shock. A rather peculiar incident is that a brick in Mr. Stewart's chimney was struck by the electricity with such force that it was knocked through a window in the dwelling next door. Mrs. Stewart and her son had a very close call, and though there was considerable damage done to the house, they are thankful they escaped without serious injury.

New Barn Struck by Lightning On Ed. Preston's Farm in Selwyn

Shattered the Rafters and Posts, But Did Not Take Fire—Empty House on the Ranch Farm Struck—Heaviest Rain in Many Years.

Special to the Review.

Selwyn, June 20.—A terrific rain storm, accompanied by a very severe electric and thunder storm, passed over this section last night, and did considerable damage. The rain started about four o'clock and in twenty minutes afterwards the whole countryside was like a big lake. It was the heaviest rain there has been here for many years.

About half past four o'clock the fine big barn belonging to Mr Ed. Preston was struck, and the rafters and posts were badly shaken. Fortunately the wood did not ignite, and not more than $200 or $300 damage was done. The barn was just finished about three weeks ago, and as yet nothing had been put in it, except a small quantity of chop.

It is also reported that an empty house about a mile from here, belonging to Mr. Jonathon Ranch, was struck, and one end knocked out. It was a frame house and fortunately the lightning did not cause a fire.

Considerable damage was done in places by the rain. It came down with such force and in such volumes that in some places, the grain was washed out. On the whole, however, the crops are doing well. They are a little backward, but they are growing rapidly now, and have a splendid color.

Cobourg Expects to be Southern Terminus of Midland Railway

The Cobourg World has the following: Work is now being rushed as fast as money and men can do it on the slip at the centre pier. Following this, work will be begun on the Langevin pier. It is expected that when the work on these nears completion, steps will be taken towards the construction of a new, up-to-date passenger station and freight sheds for the G.T.R. The old round-house will be cleared away and the present freight sheds demolished. On the site of the latter will be erected an up-to-date passenger station. The culvert between the north end of George street and the present freight shed, will be covered over and the hollow all levelled up. The tracks are to be shifted a little south and a freight shed of cut stone and pressed brick built on the site of the present passenger station and eating room. It is expected that Cobourg will ultimately be the southern terminus of the Midland railway. It is understood that in Port Hope a new station will be built near Helm's and a cut made across to the Midland line. A second ferry boat is being constructed to operate on the Cobourg-Rochester route with Ontario I.

Heavy Rain Storm Visited City; Sewers Were All Overtaxed

George Street Turned Into Raging Torrent—Several Cellars Flooded—Electric Companies Escaped Damage—Biggest Storm for Years.

The heaviest rain storm that has visited this city for many years was that of yesterday afternoon. The morning and early part of the afternoon was intensely hot, and the sky was perfectly clear. But about half past three o'clock the west began to darken and it could be plainly seen that a big storm was rapidly approaching. The people on the streets started hurrying home, and when the first drops fell about four o'clock, there was scarcely a human being not under shelter.

The rain started about four o'clock and in a few minutes it was coming down in buckets full. It made a roar that could be heard at quite a distance and it was so heavy that a person would be soaked by just crossing the road. The lightning flashed wickedly and the thunder crashed and rolled like the cannon defending Port Arthur. Several times the lightning struck so close that many sinners thought their time had come and they began to feel sorry for their past records.

For nearly an hour the rain poured down with just one or two short armistices, and the streets were converted into raging streams, George street being the natural course for the water to take, was the worst. All the side streets drained toward the main thoroughfare, and at places, the water was six or eight inches deep. The big trunk sewer, with its many man-holes, which have done duty for many years were overtaxed yesterday. It was impossible for the water to get away as fast as it came down, and at the corner of Hunter and George and Simcoe and George streets, it was impossible to cross the street.

An unusual feature of the storm which will also give some idea of the force of the water going down George street, was that several big planks, two inches thick and fifteen feet long, were floated down the street for more than a block, and only stopped as they went over the Hunter street crossing and stuck in the man-holes. This morning there are large quantities of fire wood lying on the street corners, which floated down with the water.

The total rain fall up to nine o'clock last night was .56 inches. The greater part of this fell between 4 and 5 o'clock, as the fall after that was only light.

During the storm lightning struck one of the big chestnut trees in front of the Y.W.C.A. and split it right down to the ground. This was the worst shock the city people felt, although Mr. Stothart's barn just north of the city was also struck and burned to the ground.

STORES LOSE.

As a result of the heavy rain the city council may hear from some of the merchants on George street. The water was unable to get down the sewers and it flooded over the walks in some places, and down into the cellars. Among those who suffered are Thos. Barrie & Co., in whose cellar there was four inches of water. The damage here will be principally from extra work. All the manufactured furs, and all the skins were stored down cellar, and the dampness is very hard on them. To prevent further damage all the furs have to be carried upstairs until the cellar is thoroughly dry again.

McDermid & Jury's corner drug store also had four inches of water in the cellar, which did considerable damage.

The Canadian Machine Telephone Co. had not the slightest trouble with their apparatus. The 'phones were all in use and were kept busy during the storm.

The Peterborough Light & Power Co. escaped with practically no damage. One or two fuses were burned out, but these are now all repaired.

The Otonabee Power Co. escaped without any damage.

WAINWRIGHT'S RESIGNATION

From Fire Department Dealt With—All Parties Will be Heard

The resignation of Engineer Wainwright of the fire department was taken up by the Fire, Water and Light Committee last night. Foreman Pakenham was present and stated that when he had informed Wainwright that if an alarm came in while he was on duty at the fire hall that he should drive the second rig to the fire instead of jumping on the first wagon with the volunteer fireman, that the engineer had refused to do this and had left off work at once.

The Mayor interpreted the bylaw to mean that the foreman had no authority over the engineer while going to or at a fire, and that such orders should come from Chief Rutherford.

Foreman Pakenham was of the opinion that he had full control of everything in the fire hall and that he was within his rights in ordering the engineer to drive one of the rigs in case a driver was absent.

Ald Morgan thought that Wainwright should be given a hearing and moved that he should be heard before the committee, as well as before the Board of Works, and Chief Rutherford, Foreman Pakenham and Street Commissioner Evans.—Carried.

The matter was allowed to stand until a subsequent meeting.

Guild Excursion Well Patronized

The annual excursion of St. Andrew's Young Men's Guild is being held to Stony Lake today. The excursionists, about 200 in number, left the G.T.R. station at 8.30 o'clock and on arrival at Lakefield boarded one of the boats for the sail around the lakes. It was one of the largest crowds that ever went on this outing and those in charge were much gratified at the success of the event.

Insane Man to be Taken Away

At a session of the County Police Court yesterday afternoon several witnesses were examined in connection with the case of Robert Jewell, the Smith township man charged with insanity. The evidence went to show that the unfortunate fellow is not responsible for his actions and Magistrate Edmison committed him to the asylum for the insane at Toronto. He will be taken there just as soon as the necessary legal requirements are fulfilled.

The C.P.R. is to build a line to Moose Jaw this summer, it is reported.

NO THIRD TERM.

The mayor of Akron, Ohio, has declined to try for a third term, because he believes the office is hardly worth the effort, the expense and the campaign of slime, that in all probability he would have to wade through to get it. INJURED BY A FALL

Jas. Tyndall, who resides on the fourth line of Smith, had the misfortune last Sunday to fall and seriously injure his legs. He is 75 years of age, and on account of his advanced age, is suffering greatly. He was brought to the city to Nicholls hospital, where it is thought he will progress more favorably.

BLAZE IN HASTINGS.

Just before noon on Friday fire was discovered coming through the roof on Geo. Barrie's blacksmith shop. Pails were soon brought into action and helped keep down the fire until the engine was pumping, when the blaze was soon extinguished. Everybody gave a hand at the pumps, and the old engine worked well, although there seemed to be a couple of minor leaks. —Hastings Star.

FREAK IN HORSE FLESH.

Madoc Review. — Dr. Chas. Jose, has in his stable what might rightly be termed a freak in horse flesh. It is a colt a week old, prettily developed with the exception that it is minus two front legs. The animal appears to be healthy in every way and drinks milk readily. It strives hard to raise itself, as though the legs should be there. The shoulder is perfectly formed, and it possesses a very peculiar appearance. The colt was owned by Mr. John Allen.

LIGHT WEIGHT BUTTER.

The Lindsay Post says; Fifteen farmers' wives and daughters appeared in Peterborough police court the other morning on the charge of selling light weight butter on the market. Twelve were convicted and fined two dollars each, in addition to having their butter confiscated. Not long ago several hundred light-weight loaves were taken from the rigs of the city bakers. In Lindsay some light weight butter artists were allowed to go unpunished, and in one case at least, the condemned butter was sold as full weight to one of our druggists.

A RARE RELIC.

Mr. J. W. Johnston showed us a rare relic, which he recently found on the "Cock" farm near his house. It is the barrel of a cannon, which is supposed to have been used in the battles with the Indians many years ago. It is about eighteen inches in length, and an inch bore, and made of brass, being perfectly preserved, save the sight pieces, which were of iron and are decayed by the rust. On the barrel is the imprint of a crown and beneath it the letters "G. I." which are supposed to stand for George I; In another place is the distinct impression of a crown and the letter "V" probably signifying Queen Victoria. Other indentations, including the letters "R. W." and "Z" and many made by sharp instruments, are plainly visible.—Campbellford Herald

WEDDING BELLS

SIMMONS—TROTTER

St. John's church was the scene of a very pretty wedding yesterday evening at five o'clock, when Miss Florence Trotter, daughter of Mr. John Trotter, city, was united in marriage to Mr. James Simmons, also of Peterborough. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon Davidson in the presence of the immediate friends and relatives. The bride wore a pretty gown of cream silk crepe de chene, with the customary bridal veil and orange blossoms. She carried white roses. The bridesmaid Miss Mary Chilton, was becomingly attired in a dress of white taffeta silk, with a white leghorn hat to match. She carried pink carnations. The groom was ably supported by his brother, Mr. C. Simmons.

After the ceremony the bridal party drove to the home of the groom's parents, 247 Park Street, where a choice wedding repast was served, and hearty congratulations were bestowed upon the bride and groom. A pleasant evening was spent in games and music.

A large number of beautiful and costly presents were received by the bride, which testified to the regard in which the young couple are held.

Mr. and Mrs. Simmons will reside at 247 Park Street.

NO FOOTBALL MATCH TO-NIGHT

The football match which was to have taken place at Riverside Park to-night between the senior Quakers and Cobourg has been called off and the game will not likely be played until next week. Word was received from Cobourg this morning that they would be unable to come as a number of their best players could not get away. The Quakers have spent some money advertising the game and it is too bad that Cobourg did not stick to their agreement.

BASEBALL

GAMES TO-NIGHT.

The remaining innings of the games in the intermediate league, commenced on Monday night, could not be played last evening on account of the wet weather and will come off tonight. The Lakeviews and Lillies play at Patterson street field, and the West Ends and Strathconas at the West End field. Mr. Stacey will umpire the Lakeview game, and Mr. Fred Craig will officiate in like manner at the other. The Lillies lead by seven runs in their game, and the Strathys are ahead by one in theirs.

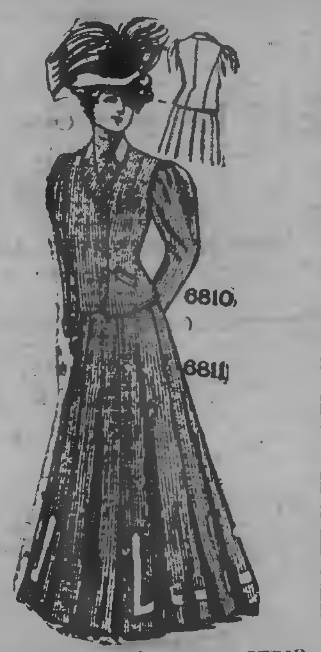
THE DEAN PATTERNS



6810, 6811.—A NEW SUIT IN STRIPED MOHAIR.

The newest models in street suits show many striped effects and one which is exceedingly smart is sketched. The material is striped mohair, but the same would be charming in flannel or serge. The jacket is double breasted, but short and natty with pockets for convenience and effect. The fronts are rounded at the lower edge to suggest the cutaway styles and the whole has a trig tailored look. The skirt is a seven gored one with under fulness at the lower part of the side seams to insure a pretty flare about the feet, while the top fits smoothly over the hips. The suit is one which would be neat in any of the new materials, cheviot and English suiting being a favorite choice for such models. The medium size calls for 7 yards of 54 inch material.

Two Patterns.—6810.—Sizes 32 to 42 inches bust measure. 6811.—Sizes 20 to 32 inches waist.

The price of these patterns is 20c. but either will be sent upon receipt of 10c.

Dr. Niven has been appointed to the Board of Health of London.

Bloody Midnight Engagement Results in Death of Seventy

Mutiny of Sappers at Kiev Was a Serious Affair.

Fierce Fighting Between Mutineers and Loyal Troops — Captain Fell Dead at First Volley — Outbreak Was Premature—Men Too Hot-Headed to Await Concerted Uprising—Planned by Terrorist.

St. Petersburg, June 20.—Details of the mutiny of Sappers at Kiev show that it was only suppressed after a bloody engagement at midnight, June 17, between the mutineers and loyal troops. About 70 men were killed or wounded.

The decision of the revolutionary staff here to refrain from demonstrations was disobeyed by the hot-headed sappers. At midnight, June 17, 500 men at a given signal left their beds, disarmed the sentries, hurriedly dressed, obtained possession of their rifles broke into an armory, secured a number of loaded cartridges and then marched to the camp square and fired a volley in the air.

The officer on duty, Capt. Akuloff ran out and addressed the mutineers, persuading them to disperse. He then called out another battalion, drew the the men up and led a charge on the mutineers, ordering them to surrender. Upon their refusal to do so, Capt. Akuloff ordered the troops to fire and fell dead himself at the first volley.

The mutiny at Kiev was arranged by Shefobonko, a revolutionist of good family, who entered the army as a volunteer for the purpose of undermining discipline, and won over many of his comrades, but when he essayed the standard of revolution, they were frightened and the little band of ringleaders was overpowered.

Three bombs were found on Shefobonko yesterday. All the mutineers will be tried by court-martial.

The workmen employed in a big factory at Kiev struck after the mutiny, but they have not yet been joined by the employes of other factories.

Military troubles have also broken out among the troops of the third infantry division, stationed at Kaluga.

The workmen of Moscow are also becoming restless, and the commandant of that city has brought 22 companies of infantry into the place to overawe the men. Several big meetings of workmen in the Moscow suburbs have been broken up.

Wholesale arrests continue in St. Petersburg.

Tomorrow, June 21st, is Longest Day of the Year

Tomorrow being June 21st, in the longest day of the year. The sun rises at 4.35 o'clock and will not sink out of sight below the western horizon until three minutes after eight o'clock p.m. This will give fifteen hours and twenty-eight minutes of clear daylight, exclusive of twilight, so there will be no excuse for anyone not doing a good day's work. Today is one minute shorter than tomorrow. The sun rose this morning at 4.35, and will set tonight at two minutes after eight. After tomorrow the length of daylight will commence to decline very slowly at first, but steadily and surely just the same. Friday will be one minute shorter than tomorrow and daylight will constantly contine to lessen uuntil September 21st, when day and night will be equal. On December 21st the night will exceed the day as much as the day will exceed the night tomorrow.

Prompted by the summer-like weather, a local poet has broken out and has handed in the following for publication:—

THE LONG SUMMER DAY.

The twenty-first of June is here,
  The long, long summer day,
  Tha lambkins are in happy cheer
  The long, long summer day,
The murmuring sweet balmy breeze
  Wafting sweet scents on blossomming trees,
Now astir with the honey bees,
  The long, long summer day.

Summer weather has come at last
  The long, long summer day,
All that is dark and drear is past,
  The long, long summer day,
Above the head the sun is hot,
  Beaming upon the garden plot,
On high mansion and lowly cot,
  The long, long summer day,

All in the world is glad to see
  The long, long summer day,
All in the world rejoice in thee
  The long, long summer day.
The sky above is clear and bright
  The frogs are croaking in the night,
The crickets are in high delight,
  The long, long summer day.

We love to see the honey bee,
  The long, long summer day.
Flirting about from tree to tree,
  The long, long summer day.
Making honey, storing it by,
  And the swallows while flying high,
And the beautiful butterfly,
  The long, long summer day.

Come, then, linger and tarry long,
  The long, long summer day,
The birds will pipe their merry song
  The long, long summer day.
All glad to have the long June day,
  The birds warble and sing their lay,
While on the green the children play,
  The long, long summer day.

Moulders' Excursion To-day Is Largest of the Season

Over 400 Visitors From Port Hope and Cobourg in the City Met at Station by Local Union and 57th Regiment Band—Baseball Match.

Peterborough today, is in possession of some four hundred excursionists from Cobourg and Port Hope, who arrived on a special train at the Grand Trunk station, a few minutes after nine o'clock. The excursion is under the auspices of Iron Moulders Union, No. 189, of Port Hope and Cobourg, and they are to be congratulated on the success that attended their efforts. About one hundred moulders were on board the train and they were met at the station by the members of Peterborough Union, No. 191, in a body, accompanied by the 57th Regiment band. On the arrival of the train, the moulders formed a procession, and headed by the band marched up George street to Inverlea Park, where the band rendered a number of selections and the visiting moulders fraternized with the members of the local union, renewed acquaintances and formed new ones. There was also some speech-making, one of the officers of the visiting union, thanking the local men for their hearty reception and for their kind invitation to spend the day in Peterborough. He knew they would have a good time and hoped that the Port Hope and Cobourg Union would be able to return the courtesy some day, and entertain the Peterborough moulders at the lakeside towns.

Mr. Hugh Robertson, corresponding secretary of the Peterborough Union, made a neat reply in which he assured the visitors that they were welcome to the best at the disposal of the Peterborough moulders. They would do the best they could to entertain them, and he hoped they would all have a good time. Mr. Robertson expressed the opinion that these excursions should be annual events, as they helped to strengthen the bonds that joined the unions together.

The formal reception being over the majority of the visitors went through the museum and viewed with deep interests the many objects and collections stored therein. Afterwards the majority of them went over to the lift lock, and visited other points of interest about the city. There are a large number of ladies among the excursionists who number over four hundred. The Port Hope base-ball team, who meet the locals at Riverside Park, this afternoon, and the Cobourg Football Team who play the Quakers this evening, came along on the excursion, accompanied by a large number of rooters. The baseball match commenced at 3.30 o'clock and the football game, is billed for 6.45.

The moulding departments of the Wm. Hamilton Co., Peter Hamilton & Sons, G. W. Greene and Peterborough Lock Works are closed today, to allow the local moulders to participate in the festivities. The other departments of the above mentioned establishments were in operation this morning, but everybody has a half holiday this afternoon. The officers of the local union, No 191, are as follows,—

Pres.—Jos. Crowe.
Vice-Pres.—Samuel Hoolihan.
Rec.-Sec.—Wm. Mowrie.
Fin.-Sec.—Thos. Stenton.
Corresponding Representative. — Hugh Robertson.

The excursion train which consists of seven coaches, pulls out of the G.T.R. station at 6.30 o'clock tonight.

Her Mental Vigor Is Unimpaired

Preposterous to Call Mrs. Eddy Incompetent—Charges Are Vicious

To the Editor the Review.

Sir,—I believe it would be of interest to many of your readers if you can make room for the following synopsis of an article which appeared in the Boston American of June 10th, 1907.

Sincerely with thanks.

R. J. TODD.

In the Eddy case today there were two important developments, the first being the publication of the deductions of Arthur Brisbane, the well known journalist, who interviewd the aged leader at the request of the Cosmopolitan Magazine, and who states that the founder of the Christian Science faith is thoroughly competent to care for herself and her business affairs. Mr. Brisbane finds that for a woman of her age, eighty-six years, her mental vigor adn clearness of thought are unusual.

She talked to him clearly and logically, and all matters of the lawsuit which has been brought to deprive her of her property are clear in her mind. He finds that she is living under ideal conditions, and that it would be sheer brutality of anyone to interfere with her life as it is today." As one who has no interest in Christian Science whatever, he characterized the effort to deprive Mrs. Eddy of her freedom of action in her old age as either stupid or vicious.

THE INTERVIEW.

Impartial light is thrown upon the Eddy case by Arthur Brisbane, who, at the request of the Cosmopolitan Magazine, interviewd the aged leader of Christian Scientists at her home in Concord, N.H.

Mr. Brisbane passed an hour at the home of Mrs. Eddy. Mr. Brisbane's immediate report to the publication he represented upon the results of his visit to the home of Mrs. Eddy was as follows:—

"I visited Mrs. Eddy as the representative of the Cosmopolitan Magazine, in accordance with the arrangement that you had made. I had had a long and extremely interesting talk with her. I am glad to tell you that I shall be able to write the article which you ask for, and that it will be positively reassuring and comforting to Mrs. Eddy's home as follows:—

Mr. Brisbane describes the conditions of Mrs. Eddy's home as follows,—

"Those about her are devoted to her. She is in absolute control of her own movements, and mistress of her entire household. That is evident.

"Mrs Eddy is thoroughly competent to take care of herself and her business. The sugestion that she should be deprived of her personal liberty, or of the property that she has earned, is preposterous and shameful.

HER MENTAL VIGOR UNUSUAL.

"For a woman of her age—she is eighty-six years old—her mental vigor and clearness of thought are most unusual. I had every opportunity of convincing myself thoroughly as to her mental and physical condition. She talks clearly, logically. She reads very beautifully with a voice very musical and of great power. She understands business matters thoroughly. She speaks with intense feeling and gratitude of her friends and their devotion. To accuse those friends of conspiracy against her welfare is, in my opinion, disgraceful.

"I shall say at length that I feel most deeply, namely, that if Mrs. Eddy in her old age should be deprived by law of her fortune, of the right to dispose of it, or of the right to dispose of herself, the act would be outrageous. And it would cause just apprehension in the mind of any woman past three score and ten and possessed of property that might arouse the cupidity or the interest of outsiders.

LIVES UNDER IDEAL CONDITIONS

"Mrs Eddy lives under ideal conditions of comfort, happiness and contentment. It would be sheer brutality on the part of the so-called 'next friends' or any others, to interfere with her life as it is today.

"Mrs Eddy is well able to take care of herself. She understands the complicated details of her lawsuit, and of her very large religious following far better than the average woman of twenty-five could do.

"I questioned her in detail as to the lawsuit which seeks to deprive her of her property, and as to the deed of trust which she recently executed. These matters are clear in her mind.

"The charges against Mrs Eddy are false in my opinion. But if all the charges made against her mental condition were true, that very truth would constitute an additional reason for leaving her as she is, in an ideally beautiful home, surrounded by good women devoted to her, to whom her wishes are law, in whom she has absolute confidence, and whose devotion makes her life happy.

SUIT STUPID OR VICIOUS.

"The effort to deprive Mrs. Eddy in her old age of her freedom of action, control of the property which she has accumulated, is stupid or vicious, and I say this as one having no interest whatever in Christian Science.

"To interfere with Mrs. Eddy's life, to take away from her her complete liberty of action, would be a shameful outrage, and I am convinced that no court will encourage the effort. I shall write you more fully before preparing the article that I have promised."

Exodus From City to Chemong Park

Cottagers are Moving to Wel Known Summer Resort

The hot weather is driving the cottagers to their summer homes at Chemong and the park is commencing to take on its wonted summer activity. About a half dozen cottages are now occupied, and it is expected that before the week is over the majority of the summer colony will have moved out.

About ten new cottages are being erected and the most of them will be ready for occupancy in a few weeks. One of the finest of the new ones is being erected by Prof. Bull, of New York, who has summered at Chemong for several years. It is a splendid cottage and will have cost about $1,500 when completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. E. Kelso and sons, of Rochester, have arrived for the summer and are staying at the Chemong Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Kandolf and Miss Kate Kandolf, of Rochester, have also arrived for the summer.

A new cement verandah has been placed around the hotel and adds greatly to its appearance.

The Steamer Ogemah is now making regular calls at the Chemong wharf.

Budget of News From Lakefield

Several Cases of Measles—Barber Business Sold—New Bakery Started

Lakefield, June 19.—Miss Roberts arrived in the village from Toronto on Thursday on a flying visit to friends in Lakefield. She was accompanied by Miss Grier, daughter of Mr. Wyley Grier of Toronto

Rev. T. W. Patterson, rector of Christ Church, Deer Park, was in the village on his way to Rev. J. Gibson's cottage at Burleigh.

The season seems to have come on with a rush. The recent hot spell has caused a decided trend of visitors to the lakes.

Mrs. E. R. Tate and Miss Tate were in Peterborough on Saturday last.

The great excitement this week has been the passage through the village of the Battery from Toronto. We didn't see any chaplain with the party; there will be sore need of his services when the men get into the woods beyond Apsley. Being city men it will take them some time to get used to the vagaries of the festive mosquitos.

Messrs. Tilliard and Balsdon returned from St. Thomas last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Payne accompanied by several of their friends, went to Stoney Lake on Saturday last to have a week's fishing at Payneboro.

Measles seem to be rampant in the village. Several of the Grove boys are down with it and rumor has it that the disease has attacked several adults also.

Mr. J. E. Kelly has sold out his barbering business to Mr. Kidd, who intends to enter into possession and start business as soon as possible.

Miss Van Owen of Toronto, is a welcome visitor in Lakefield She is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Strickland at the homestead.

Mrs. and Miss Hunt, of Cobourg, who have been paying a short visit to Mr. and Miss Haywood, returned home on Saturday last.

Miss Chamberlain leaves shortly for Grimsby, Ont., to stay with her daughter, Mrs. Dunn.

Mr. Darcy lately rented his restaurant in this village to Mr. Deck, who is about to start a bakery in connection with his restaurant business.

Messrs. Maurice Clifford and Charles Dunn lately purchased a fine yacht, the Reta, in Ottawa. We hear they intend to make it available for picnic excursions for small parties on the lakes, to such places as the big boats cannot reach. It is a good idea and will fill a long felt want, as there are many tourists summering at the lakes who would be glad to avail themselves of opportunities to rent a small craft for a day's outing.

The "Sailor Boy" brand of canned goods are the best that are put up. They never fail to please. Try a few cans.

Double Wedding Was Celebrated

"It is not every day that a double wedding takes place, and more unique still is the occasion when two sisters, who are twins, marry two brothers. Such an auspicious event was fittingly celebrated on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock at "Maple Lane" Emily township, when the twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Switzer, Miss Mary Amelia, and Miss Rhoda Emma Switzer, were united in matrimony to two brothers, Mr James H. and Mr. Lewis E. Jones. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a large number of invited guests by Rev. Mr. Johnston, of Bethel. The bridegrooms are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Jones, of Midland. After the nuptials a choice wedding repast was partaken of and hearty congratulations tendered the newly wedded couples. A large number of beautiful and attractive presents were received testifying to the high esteem in which the uniting parties are held.

Lightning Struck Ennismore Hall

During the severe electric and thunder storm Tuesday the tower of the town hall, Ennismore was struck by lightning and considerable damage done. Fortunately the building did not catch fire and the damage is covered by insurance. The rain was welcome and will do the growing crops much good.

Burglars Enter Otonabee Home

Early Wednesday evening burglars entered the home of Mr. Stephen Shaughnessy, lot 25, con. 14, Otonabee township, near the locks bridge, and ransacked a room in which two lady members of the family were sleeping. The intruders wore masks over their eyes, and were observed by one of the young ladies, who was, however, too frightened to raise an outcry. The robbers searched in the dresser and in the clothes closet for money and valuables, but failed to find any. In their haste they overlooked the spot where some cash was kept.

Mrs Shaughnessy heard the front door open, but thought that it was one of her sons who was coming in. No trace of the burglars has yet been discovered.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country, than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years, was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co, Toledo, Ohio., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and the mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

MOONLIGHT TRIP WAS POSTPONED

Owing to Heavy Downpour of Rain—Will be Held Monday Night

The first moonlight excursion of the season which was to have been held last evening, under the auspices of St. Luke's Men's Guild on the new steamer Otonabee, has been postponed until Monday night of next week.

Owing to the heavy downpour of rain about the time that the excursion was to start, it was thought advisable by the committee in charge, to postpone it.

It is to be hoped that Monday will be a fine night, and no doubt the outing will be largely attended. At that time of the month the moon be very bright, and no more delightful evening could be spent than on the water on a moonlight night.

UNITED STATES COURT OF CLAIMS

The Publishers of Webster's International Dictionary allege that it "is, in fact, the popular Unabridged thoroughly re-edited in every detail, and vastly enriched in every part, with the purpose of adapting it to meet the larger and severer requirements of another generation."

We are of the opinion that this allegation most clearly and accurately describes the work that has been accomplished and the result that has been reached. The Dictionary, as it now stands, has been thoroughly re-edited in every detail, has been corrected in every part, and is admirably adapted to meet the larger and severer requirements of a generation which demands more of popular philological knowledge than any generation that the world has ever contained.

It is perhaps needless to add that we refer to the dictionary in our judicial work as of the highest authority in accuracy of definition; and that in the future as in the past it will be the source of constant reference.

WEEKLY HALF HOLIDAY

It is gratifying to learn that the dry goods merchants have decided to close their stores each Thursday afternoon during the months of July and August and afford their employees a half holiday. The clothiers, men's furnishers, stationers, boot and shoe dealers and others are likely to follow the good example and the half holiday move apparently will be generally observed.

Practice of giving all who are employed in the stores a weekly half day respite from labor during the heated term, was inaugurated last year and merchants state that the volume of trade for July and August did not suffer. On the contrary some of them report an increase in trade. There is no doubt but that a brief vacation each week is a benefit to both employer and employee. They are enabled to get out of the hot, dusty city and enjoy the free, clear air of the country. The river affords many delights while the parks are attractive spots. The employer and employee return to the city refreshed and invigorated by the "break" in the week's work and the days seem to pass all too swiftly by

It is a privilege to get away from the hot, dusty city for a few hours and in again making the concession of a half holiday it is hoped that the merchants will not lose anything in a business sense. The public can and should make any purchases that are necessary on Thursday, in the forenoon and not wait until too late in the day either.

Heads of families, housewives and others should do all in their power to assist in the weekly half holiday movement. It is a great boon to those who serve behind the counter day in and day out, and employees will doubtless appreciate the concession made by their employers and, by increased activity, energy and faithfulness to duty serve the interest of those with whom they are engaged so efficiently that the general observance of the weekly half holiday during the heated term will be regularly and rigidly adhered to.

All success to the weekly half holiday movement.

DECORATION DAY

One week from to-day—Thursday, June 27th—the beautiful, touching and impressive ceremony of decorating the graves of the dead will be observed by the Oddfellows and their friends.

Decoration day owing to backward season, is a little later this year than usual, but it will no doubt be generally honored.

The ceremony was inaugurated many years ago by the Oddfellows of Port Hope and the observance spread so rapidly that now it is general and has been followed by many other organizations. On this occasion a departure will be made so that all citizens may unitedly join in the solemn rite. The Oddfellows will march from Central park at five o'clock in the afternoon instead of at two as in other years and it is anticipated that all the stores will be closed and many of the factories, early in the afternoon—say at four o'clock—in order that all classes of citizens may participate in the event of paying quiet, tender tribute to their loved ones.

It is a graceful and beautiful act to strew flowers upon the grassy mounds which mark the final earthly resting place of the departed. They were dear to us in life and the ceremony affords ample evidence of the fact that they are not forgotten when removed by the icy hand of death. There is an interest—a tie—that lingers after these frail temples of clay have been dissolved, and what prettier, more attractive or touching act could be performed than placing flowers upon the spot where the departed are at rest—flowers which are typical of beauty, purity and love, of tenderness and affection, of hope and joy. Decoration day stands out in a clear strong light against the oft repeated assertion that the dead are soon forgotten by those who are left behind. They are not, and memories remain of their kindly intercourse their loving deeds, their unselfish lives and devotion to home and friends and society in general.

Long may the traditions, the significance and associations of decoration day be remembered and honored.

The day is an institution in which all should take a pride. It draws our minds and thoughts away from the hard materialistic and commercial views of life and impresses upon those who are let to tarry a little longer, that there are higher, better and grander things than mere passing joy or ease or self indulgence; that there is a hope beyond and that some day we shall, if faithful to duty and sincere, earnest Christians meet them in that happy home beyond.

Yesterday's downfall was indeed a shower of blessing.

Tomorrow will be the longest day in the year. Too bad that it is not a holiday.

The circus will be here on Tuesday next, but you do not have to remind the small boy of the visit.

A hearty welcome to the visiting moulders who are guests in the city today.

Canadians who have been sweltering during the past week, gladly hail the promised few days cool spell.

Anyone who works from sunrise to sundown tomorrow will have to begin at 4.11 in the morning, and quit at 7.51 o'clock in the evening—nearly sixteen hours.

Better preserve your good health. It costs twenty cents a day more to be sick now, when in the public ward of a hospital than it did a few days ago.

Our old familiar acquaintance, the daily drowning accident is with us again. In one issue this week, of a Toronto paper no less than eight fatalities by water are reported.

The school teacher in Uncle Sam's domain, who spanked six large, naughty, school girls, who positively declined to behave themselves, and had his salary raised $1,800 for his brave, prompt action, is being referred to as a hero.

Young men should pay their statute labor or poll tax, of $1, without being haled to the police court. The levy is a small one, and the amount is nearly doubled when one has to pay the costs after facing the magistrate.

When Sir Wilfrid Laurier returns to Canada from his European tour, it is freely predicted that one of the most urgent duties awaiting him will be the breaking up of some of his old cabinet material, which is not knotty, but naughty.

Rev. Mr. Kettlewell of St. Thomas criticizes the Stationing Committee of the Methodist Church, because its members looked after their own interests in making appointments, in place of the general interests of the church. Is the itinerary system not wearing out? Is the Methodist Church not leaning towards permanent appointments when they are satisfactory? asks the Kingston Whig.

Montreal Star.—The fund for the Sarah Maxwell Memorial will be closed in a few days. It has been proposed to devote the amount to securing from the Committee of the Children's Hospital, the erection of a special building, fully equipped, in connection with the work of that hospital, and the erection of a commemorative brass tablets in the higher schools of Montreal. This proposal seems to meet universal approval.

In the death of Ex-Ald. Adam Dawson, the city loses a staunch loyal citizen, who was a firm, true friend of labor. He represented the citizens at the council board for many years, and rendered energetic, faithful service. He was outspoken in his attitude on all public questions, and, while all might not agree with his views, his convictions were sincere and frank. Mr. Dawson did a good deal to build up the city and erected a number of houses. He was a staunch defender of any invasion of municipal rights, and led an active, busy and useful life. His death removes one who will be greatly missed and expressions of sympathy for his widow and family are universal and sincere.

It has been the custom of social reformers, clerical and lay, alike to suggest a variety of cures for the evil of intemperance, always aiming at the drink, instead of the drinker. To the most casual mind, it would have appeared, one would think that a drinker does not care what he drinks so long as he gratifies his appetite and that therefore, prohibition must not begin and end with whiskey but with all intoxicating beverages, including absinthe, hashish, honey ferment, alcohol, etc. All this however, is unnecessary. Trade competition will do what other agencies have failed to do. Men over 45 are even now in little demand industrially. A drunken man will be so much waste humanity. In the strife of competition, there will soon be no room for him, and when this time arrives, he will go where all human beasts belong—to the bone heap. Those drunkards, who, like lunatics, are not responsible for their constitution may perhaps receive some consideration, but no expense will be wasted on the guzzler. This is the utilitarian age.

Ill Treatment of Driving Horse

A resident of Alnwick township, from near Roseneath, came into town on Saturday, says the Hastings Star, with a horse which should have been in an infirmary. Not only was its mouth badly lacerated, but the reins were bloodstained, near the bit, and its flanks were ripped in streaks, as though it had fallen on a barbed wire fence, "which in fact was the owner's explanation of its condition."

Notice was first brought to the animal by a crowd who noticed it in the hotel yard, and Constable Lynch, on being informed about it, placed the horse in a stall to await the owner, who gave the explanation mentioned above, when he was questioned.

The horse has been in about four different hands in no great space of time it seems, and no one could do very much with it, driven single. In fact, it is simply an outlaw, but the owner, who is a good, industrious man, should not have brought it into town in such a condition.

IT DOES NOT INJURE LEATHER

There are some malicious persons, who in their anxiety to sell some other shoe polish, have falsely stated that the "2 in 1" Shoe Polish injures leather.

The proprietors of "2 in 1" will be pleased to have any person who has positive proof that the above statement has been made, communicate with the F. F. Dailey Co., Limited, of Hamilton, Canada, or their solicitors, Scott & Robertson, Federal Life Bldg., Hamilton.

The proprietors intend to enter suit against all parties who resort to unbusinesslike practices in trying to belittle the virtues of "2 in 1" Shoe Polish.

NEW LINE TO MUSKOKA

Canada's greatest railway, in building a line to connect Toronto with the main transcontinental track at Sudbury, has incidentally given us a new direct route to the Muskoka Lakes district, over which fast passenger trains will be running after Saturday, June 22nd. Bala, which is reached in three and a half hours from Toronto, will be the Lakes terminus this summer, and there steamers of the Muskoka Navigation Company will connect with trains, carrying passengers to all points on Lakes Muskoka, Joseph, and Rosseau. The roadbed is heavily laid and well ballasted, train equipment is new and handsome, and excellent time is made. In addition to the local trains there will be two flyers to the Lakes, the Lakeland Limited and Sunrise Express, and two flyers south bound, the Queen City flyer and Twilight Limited. Through sleepers will be run to and from Toronto, Buffalo, Pittsburg and New York, and, of course a splendid equipment of parlor cars, dining cars and luxurious day coaches. C. B. Foster, District Passenger Agent, C.P.R., at Toronto, will be glad to mail full particulars of trains and handsome illustrated Muskoka folder, or same may be obtained free from local C.P.R. agents.

Westwood Men Got on Rampage

Two Sorry Looking Specimens of Humanity Fined in Hastings

John and Richard McGrath came into town on Wednesday evening from Westwood, says the Hastings Star, and being troubled by the draught of that exceedingly dry locality proceeded to make up for lost time away from spirits ferment. As a result of which John was found in a comatose condition about 11.30 p.m., over by the swing bridge, and in danger of a watery grave. Constable Lynch was summoned and escorted John up the hill. Meanwhile Richard who had gone out to seek John, had forgotten his errand and fell asleep out in the hotel yard, and on being awakened and told to go home, proceeded to tell whether he would or not; and also gave an exhibition of fancy driving around the yard, as a result of which he also landed on top of the hill.

On Thursday afternoon two of the sorriest looking specimens of humanity we have ever seen, appeared before S. J. Fisher, J.P., and pleaded not guilty to being drunk and disorderly, but on hearing the evidence John was fined $6, and Richard $3. For a pair of men to be marked up as bad as these were it was worse than a $25 fine, and how they came by their scars is a mystery.

Will Put Stop to Illegal Fishing

A number of residents of the village who enjoyed fishing before the season opened, may now look forward to having to pay for their sport. The inspector has cited a couple of them to appear on Saturday to answer to this charge and more will follow. There is not a great deal of sport in yanking fish out of the water near the dam when you can do it about as easily as picking up chips in a basket, and when one man isn't satified with less than a dozen at a time at this kind of fishing, he is a poor sport. As most of the 'lunge below the dam come up at this season, this kind of fishing will soon spoil one of the best waters on the continent, and the sooner a stop is put to it, the better.—Hastings Star.

Pupils Return to Their Homes

Closing of Deaf and Dumb Institute, Belleville, for the Summer

The Institute for the Deaf and Dumb has closed for the season, and the pupils have returned to their homes, or at least, the great majority, says the Belleville Intelligencer.

Yesterday was a busy day at the Institution, and the various officials had their hands full in looking after the pupils and their baggage. A goodly number of the children went away last evening, and the remainder were early this morning, placed on trains bound for their homes in various parts of the province. The scholars were well looked after by the principal, Dr. Coughlin, and the staff. A number of the teachers accompanied the pupils to the principal points.

Officials of the Institute tell us that the past season was one of the most successful in its history.

STREET PARADE WILL BE GRAND

The Pageant Next Tuesday Will be Well Worth Witnessing

Tuesday next will be circus day, and if there is a man, woman or child who is not down town Tuesday morning to see the Forepaugh-Sells parade it will be because they cannot come. Circus day is for the young, the old, and the middle-aged. Of all the good, old-fashioned, time-worn and staple jokes, the best, is that which deals with the father, who has to go to the circus to take the children, for there are fathers foolish enough to try to fool their neighbors, with the fraud about going to the circus, purely to please the children. The more candid frankly admit that they go to please themselves. For love of the circus is inborn. It lasts while life lasts. They have enjoyed it since they used to carry water to the elephants or crawl under the tents to see the marvellous shows of their youth and catch the circus fever today as they did then, even if they don't gaze with the same open-mouthed wonder that they did in youth.

"Circus day is always an event, and it always will be. There is something about this sort of entertainment that, is different from any other sort of diversion. Perhaps it is the diversity of the skill, shown by the performers, perhaps it is the noise, and the bustle and the frank aggregation of the side show spielers; more likely it is a little of all. But whatever it is there is a fascination that catches the imagination of the youth and stays with him through life, and to the red-blooded citizen circus day is, and will always be an event."

The street parade which leaves the circus grounds at ten o'clock, Tuesday, a.m., will it is promised, be of an unusually attractive character. The management of Forepaugh-Sells have, it is said been lavish in the expenditure of money and the exercise of care and circumspection, to the end that the street pageant will prove interesting and entertaining.

Mrs. Richards Was Allowed to Go

Says That Her Stay in Gaol Was a Lesson to Her

"Susan Richards, drunk and disorderly, again," said His Worship Magistrate Dumble this morning to Mrs. S. Richards, who has become almost a fixture in the police court.

"You are here almost every other day," he added.

The old dame replied the few days that she had spent in gaol had been a lesson to her, and she would never appear again.

"You may go, but if you ever come up again you'll go to prison" was the magistrate's punishment, and off she went, with her usual "Thank you, gentlemen."

WAGES CASE.

Jas. Bex had Geo. Haywood up this morning for non-payment of $1.50 wages due him. After hearing both sides of the story, His Worship dismissed the case. He did not consider Bex was entitled to the dollar and a half.

DAMAGED THE WALK.

Walter Moore pleaded guilty to damaging a newly laid granolithic walk on Water street. The magistrate gave him some good advice and allowed him to go.

ASSAULT CHARGE WAS DISMISSED

Evidence Heard in Case of Raymond vs. Stevens

Harry Raymond was discharged by His Worship Magistrate Dumble this morning on a charge of assaulting Charlie Stevens and doing him serious bodily harm on May 16th. Mr. A. P. Poussette conducted the case for Stevens and Mr. F. D. Kerr appeared for the defendant and pleaded not guilty. After hearing the evidence, His Worship dismissed the case.

THE EVIDENCE

Dr. Bradd, who attended Stevens injuries, gave the first evidence. He was called in to attend Chas. Stevens on May 16th. The right leg was fractured below the knee. It was a simple fracture. There was a distinct indentation on the flesh over the fracture. It takes a severe blow to fracture a leg. Stevens recovered rapidly.

Chas. Stevens, the complainant was called. He stated that he came into the junk yard with a load on May 16th. His father told him to take it around to the shed. Raymond took the whip off his rig. He then hit the horse with it. Being a rather spirited animal, witness told defendant to stop, but he kept right on. Witness then jumped off the rig and lit into him. Raymond then struck witness. They clinched. Witness then fell on the ground. Raymond jumped on him and broke his leg. He knew at the time his leg was broken, for he heard it crack. Witness' father then came along and made for Raymond, who picked up a stone and motioned to throw it. Stevens then drew a revolver and prisoner ran off. George Stevens went for a doctor, and Raymond attacked witness again, saying he could lick anybody by the name of Stevens.

Eldridge Westcott was called. He said that he had hired Raymond to drive his horse. On the second day he drove, Raymond was a little drunk. On the night of the fight Raymond picked up the whip off Stevens' rig and started tickling the horse with it. Stevens told defendant to stop or he would be sorry. At this juncture he jumped off the rig and hit Raymond right in the face. Raymond said "Take it easy Charlie," and when he saw Stevens was bound to fight Raymond started to fight in earnest. As for jumping on Stevens' leg, Raymond never did so. It was done in the tussle, Raymond tripping Stevens. Geo. Stevens came along and jumped out of the rig saying he would have that fellow's life. Witness also swore to seeing the revolver. He said Stevens was carrying it for his protection. Charles Stevens pointed the revolver at Raymond, saying, "There's your death, choose for yourself." Witness stated that Raymond was married to his daughter. He admitted that prisoner was aggravating Stevens.

Chas. Westcott corroborated his father's evidence, stating that the leg was broken in a fall and Raymond never jumped on Stevens.

Jas. Crouter was next called and told practically the same as Westcott. Raymond stated that Stevens drove into the yard and defendant picked up the whip and tickled the horse. Stevens told him to stop three times and he did. Stevens jumped off the rig and struck defendant. Witness told him to let go three times. A lively scuffle ensued and they fell together. His evidence was practically the same as was given by previous witnesses.

Magistrate Dumble stated that he could not find the charge proven. Raymond had no business meddling with the horse. All the witnesses except Stevens state that the leg was broken in the fall. His Worship said that he could not make a conviction for common assault, as Stevens was the aggressor. He, therefore dismissed the case.

KEEP POULTRY AT HOME

Some very well meaning people who keep poultry, are oftentimes exceedingly thoughtless respecting duty to their neighbors. By way of reminder, the Ontario Legislature has enacted a law which provides that owners of animals and poultry allowing them to run at large, are liable for damage caused by the same. If owner, after written notice from the neighbor complaining of trespass neglects to prevent a repetition thereof, he may be fined by a Justice of the Peace. This is the cure to prevent poultry making things unpleasant among neighbors.

TRIBUTE PAID TO LOCAL PASTOR

The last issue of the Canadian Baptist says:

While your columns have not been heralding the advances being steadily made in the Murray street church, nevertheless the word we can gladly pass to you is that blessings have surely come with Mr. Webb's pastorate, commenced in January. Mr. Webb's gift of organization, clear vision and determined character, combined with militant virtues and evangelical work, has surely taken hold of the hearts and minds of our people. Evidence of this acceptability has been repeatedly shown in the numerous accessions to our number by baptism, and especially of the baptism of older members of our congregation who have stepped out and accepted Christ as their Master and Leader. Attendances at all services have steadily increased and financial contributions for all branches of the work continue to advance. Our preceding pastor faithfully labored with pronounced approval. Bro. Webb has all the work in front of him and all the people with him, and he is general in every respect, who can know naught but triumphant victory.

Deputations From Townships Ask Assistance From County

More Rad Work in Asphoodel—New Bridge Over Indian River on Stony Lake Road—School Inspector's Report.

County Council Chambers, Wednesday, June 19th, 1.30 p.m..

There are a lot of very poor roads in the county, particularly in the north part, where rocks and rocky hills are so numerous. The Ontario Government has, during the past couple of years, spent a large sum of money and is this year spending a large sum on colonization roads in Peterborough. The result is that a vast improvement has been made The county council has for years made grants to help the townships overcome the bad roads and the townships are continually working at them; still there are many places where it is almost impossible to drive over with an ordinary rig, and is quite impossible to take a load over or to run a threshing machine over.

It is to overcome one of these very bad hills that a deputation from Asphodel waited upon the county council yesterday afternoon. The hill referred to is on one of the main roads near Norwood, and in Asphodel township. A deep cut has to be made and the township is not able to meet the expense alone. The people there want the county to make a grant to help with the work.

Messrs Comstock and Brown said that the wild country in Asphodel was such that the roads were almost impassable, especially the one to Hastings, near Norwood. Threshing engines have to go away out of the road to get around the hill. The other day the township council ordered the grader put on, but it was impossible to work it. They wanted a grant to help cut it down so it would be passable.

Ex-Warden W. T. Buck said it was impossible to get up and down the hill, and the county, he thought, should help to cut it down.

The matter was referred to the Roads and Bridges Committee.

BRIDGE WORK.

The county is pretty well fixed so far as bridges are concerned, although there are still a few important ones to be either rebuilt or repaired. The council the past couple of years has done a lot of good work in this connection and the new bridge at Buckhorn, with which the Government is assisting very materially, will be built this year.

There is another bridge, however, which crosses the Indian River near Stony Lake, in the township of North Dummer, which requires immediate attention This structure has always been kept up by the township, and it is now about worn out Mr. Lynch, who owns a water power and dam at this bridge, contemplates rebuilding the dam and enlarging it for the purpose of running a new mill he intends to build This will render the present bridge of little use. It is now a little over a hundred feet long, but the new one will have to be some 150 feet long, although it will not be very expensive to build, as no abutments will have to be constructed The banks of the river are of solid rock and the bridge can sit thereon. The township of North Dummer wants the county to assume this bridge and rebuild it. If the council cannot see its way clear to do that, then the township would be glad to receive a substantial grant.

Mr. Wm. Miles, of North Dummer was present and addressed the council re the bridge over the Indian River near Gilchrist's Bay.

Mr. Lynch is going to rebuild the dam at that point and it would be an opportune time for the council to rebuild the bridge.

Mr. J. J. Crowe said there are now two bridges over the Indian River This bridge will be, when Mr. Lynch builds his dam, over 150 feet long. In Dummer the people feel that the county should assume the bridge as a county bridge and rebuild it. It is within a few hundred yards of Stony Lake, and is on a main road.

Mr. Moore agreed with the other two speakers and supported the request.

The matter was referred to the Roads and Bridges Committee.

SCHOOL INSPECTORS

Public School Inspector J. Coyle rown said that he had not prepared a written report for the council at this session on account of so many changes being made in the various schools in order to meet with the requirements of the new School Act.

WEST PETERBOROUGH

Mr Richard Lees, Inspector of Public Schools in West Peterborough, presented his second annual report as follows;

Gentlemen,—

I beg respectfully to submit my second annual report on the schools of the county.

Since reporting last, I have visited the schools of the western division, making 54 official inspections and a number of informal visits. In this division there are 48 teachers in the rural schools and six in the village of Lakefield. Of these 54, one holds a first-class certificate, 19 hold second; 21, third; 7, district, and 6, temporary certificates, or none at all. A number of the teachers are without experience, and a few of those who have taught for some time are doing indifferent work, but, on the whole, I found the teachers earnest and anxious to do their best. Some of the younger teachers are working hard, and, by their energy and enthusiasm, doing much to compensate for their lack of experience.

In my visits to the schools during the past year, I have had two main purposes in view. First, I have endeavoured to meet as many of the trustees as possible, discuss with them the needs of the schools, and explain the requirements and conditions of the New Laws and Regulations. Whatever may be said for or against this law, it is essential to its successful working that the school authorities should become thoroughly familiar with it as quickly as possible. My second object has been to assist and stimulate the teachers to a more thorough and successful performance of their duties, rather than to discover and report on failures and shortcomings. I hope that in both these objects my visits may not have been without some beneficial results.

There are, in the county, 100 rural school houses, of which 49 are brick, 2 stone, 35 frame and 14 log. As compared with other parts of the Province, the buildings are not good. Few of them have any provision for ventilation besides windows and doors. Most of them are dingy, bare and uninviting both inside and out. The out-buildings are, in many cases, rough, paintless and in poor repair. The grounds are unadorned, except for a few trees about the fences, and these poorly cared for. I am pleased to report, however, that things are improving in this respect. In many cases, something has been done during the past year, and, though much yet remains to be accomplished, there are signs of an increasing interest in these things. During the year a new school was built in Section No. 11, Otonabee. At the present time one is in course of erection in Section No. 6, Asphodel. It is costing about $2,000, is modern in design and arrangement, and will be the best rural school building in the county.

During last year there were registered at the rural schools of the county, 3851 pupils, with an average attendance of 1977, or slightly over 50 per cent. The total expenditure was $41,964.63, equal to $10.90 per capita of the registered, or $21.22 per capita of the average attendance. In the villages there were enrolled 904 pupils, with an average of 509, or slightly over 66 per cent. The total cost was $8,795.85, being $9.73 each on the registered, or $14.90 on the average attendance. In this connection, a few figures by way of comparison may be interesting and profitable. In the year 1905 (the last for which returns are available) the average attendance for all Ontario was 59.15 per cent. of the enrolment, and, for the United States, 70 per cent. The expenditure per capita of the average attendance was, for Ontario, $24.97; for Massachusetts, $39.60; for Michigan, $28, and for the whole United States, $24.14. Massachusetts and Michigan are mentioned because the former is generally recognized as probably the most progressive in educational matters, and Michigan is, in general conditions, most nearly like Ontario.

Important changes are to be made in the mode of distribution of the grants, which are to be largely increased. There will be

1. A fixed grant to all schools in townships where the assessment is less than an average of $50,000 per school section. Under this head the schools in Belmont and Methuen, Burleigh and Anstruther, Chandos, Galway and Cavendish, and Harvey, will each receive $30, if they have been open a full year since August last, if less, half that sum.

2 In the above mentioned townships a grant of 40 per cent. of what the teacher is paid in excess of $150, with the same exception as above In all the other schools of the county this grant will be 40 per cent. of the excess of salary over $300.

3. A grant of $20 to every school employing an efficient teacher holding a first or second class certificate

These three grants are to be known as the General Legislative Grant, and will be paid in July to all schools that have complied with the requirements in regard to Minimum Equipment. In the case of others, the grant cannot be paid till these conditions are complied with.

4 A special grant for equipment and accommodation, which will be based on the value of the equipment and the grading of the accommodation, according to a scheme furnished by the Department of Education. This is to be paid as soon as possible, but not later than Dec. 1st. The county is required to pay the equivalent of this grant.

CONTINUATION SCHOOLS

The question of Continuation Schools is receiving a good deal of attention from the authorities. It is probable that in future only one grade of these schools will be recognized, viz., Grade A, in which the teacher will give all his time to this work. The only school of this grade now in the county is the Continuation School in the Township of Ennismore. The Havelock School Board, however, purpose erecting an addition to their building, thus providing the necessary accommodation and raising theirs to this status in September. It is to be hoped that the people of Lakefield will also take similar steps as the grants to these schools are going to be liberal, and there is no reason why any village community should now be without the advantages to be derived from such a school. The other grades will rank as Fifth Classes and will still be liberally dealt with in the matter of Legislative and County grants.

I would respectfully call your attention to the fact that the salary paid your inspectors is considerably lower than that received by any other county inspector in the province and notwithstanding the substantial increase made a year ago in the part paid by the legislature, is still inadequate to the services rendered. While the duties are not burdensome as regards the time required for their performance, yet they are such as to prevent the doing of any other remunerative work, and the necessary expenses connected with them are considerable.

I have the honor to be

Your obedient servant,

RICHARD LEES,

Peterborough, June 18, 1907.

Loyal True Blue Held Meeting

The Loyal True Blue meeting was well attended last evening considering the very disagreeable weather. The Worshipful Master was again able to preside. Several articles of important business that have been under debate for a number of meetings were finally and satisfactorily settled and the results of last night's meeting will be very beneficial to the lodge. Several other matters were brought up and decided, leaving the members more determined than ever, to make this a very successful True Blue Lodge. It was also very pleasing to the members to have Mr. Jones present, as a visiting brother from Fenelon Falls. The first Wednesday evening in July will be a very important meeting as several of the different Committees will give in their reports of business they have under consideration. The members will be pleased to have all visiting brethren in the city, attend their next meeting. Also any of the L.O.L. members are invited to attend, during the Good of the Order. For information regarding the Regalia, the members will communicate with the Recording-Secretary.

Bush fires are raging near Chapleau, and a C.P.R. testle at Poulin was burned.

STOCK MARKET QUOTATIONS

New York, June 20.—Dullness and stagnation were the features of the stock market again today. Opening prices were generally a half higher and during the first hour the improvement was maintained, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and Copper showing a little activity a point higher. Afterwards the dealings fell off to nothing and the market sagged down, losing about all the early gain.

In the last hour there was a little selling because of the outlook for a poor bank statement on Saturday, New York Central, Rock Island, and Ches. & Ohio losing a point or more. The close was lifeless.

Wheat, after opening a half higher on strong Liverpool cables, reacted a cent and closed a half lower in sympathy and heavy profit taking oats caused a setback in that commodity after a gain of a cent at the opening. The close was unchanged from last night.

Life Member's Pin for Mrs. J. G. Lewis

Meeting of Woman's Missionary Society Marked by Pleasant Event

At the regular monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Mark street church yesterday afternoon, Mrs. (Rev) J. G. Lewis was presented with a life member's pin accompanied by an address, in which was expressed the regret felt by the society at the early removal of Mrs Lewis from Peterborough and wishing her choicest blessings in her new home. The address was read by Mrs. W. D. Sargent and Mrs. Wand made the presentation of the pin. Mrs. Lewis has been a faithful and active worker in the society since coming to Peterborough and her removal to another sphere of labor is greatly regretted.

Mrs. Lewis made an appropriate reply, thanking the members of the society for the honor done her and for the handsome gift. She would prize the life membership highly and would always remember the pleasant relations that existed between herself and the ladies of Mark-st. church.

Before the presentation took place Mrs Taylor gave an excellent report of the convention held at Picton last week. The report was listened to with great interest and a hearty vote of thanks was passed to Mrs. Taylor.

The meeting closed with a social half hour that was very pleasantly spent.

William Crawford, of Hamilton, was fined $20 for selling refreshments at Dundurn on Sunday.

Eggs From Under Setting Hens Sold to Merchant

Interesting Particulars Regarding the Theft of Eggs From an Otonabee Woman—Donnelly, Who Was Charged With Stealing Them, Remanded Until Tuesday.

John Donnelly, a youth of twenty summers, who was charged with stealing several dozen of eggs from Mrs. Manley of Otonabee township, came up before His Worship County Magistrate Edmison this morning but the case was not settled, the prisoner being remanded until Tuesday at eleven o'clock. Donnelly informed the court that he would make restitution for any loss that had been incurred by the eggs being stolen and was given until Tuesday to get the money. If he makes restitution it is likely that he will be allowed his freedom.

The charge against Harold Scott, the other youth who was supposed to have been implicated in the theft of the eggs was withdrawn. Crown Attorney Wood and Constable Cochrane investigated the charge against him during the week and found that there was not sufficient evidence against him to proceed with the charge. He was called as a witness for the crown by Mr. Wood. A number of witnesses were called and their evidence went to show that Donnelly and Scott had been travelling through Otonabee township about the first of May selling varnish which they manufactured themselves. When they could not get cash for the varnish, they took eggs in exchange. About the second of May they called at the home of Mrs. Manley, who resides on the Keene road about six miles from Peterborough, and according to her evidence Donnelly stole the eggs from under seven hens that were set in the hen house and also took about three dozen fresh eggs that were in the hen house.

Mrs. Manley was the first witness and testified as to the two young men coming to her place one morning early in May, and Scott tried to sell her some varnish. She did not take any although the young man offered to take eggs in payment. After Scott left the house she watched the two varnish agents through the window, and saw Donnelly make three visits to the hen house before driving off, and when she went to the barn a few minutes afterwards she discovered that the eggs were gone from under the seven setting hens and that the fresh eggs were also missing. She had been at the hen house a short time before the young men called and the eggs were all there then.

Mrs. Manley's daughter gave evidence along much the same line, testifying to the eggs being there before the young men called and missing after they left the premises.

Mr. Warde, a farmer, who resides in the same vicinity, as the Manley's gave evidence as to the young men calling at his place selling varnish and remaining there for dinner. The day afterwards he noticed that eggs were missing from under a setting hen, but he did not blame Scott and Donnelly for taking them.

Mr. Skinner, who keeps a general store at Keene, stated that Donnelly and Scott had come to his store wanting to sell a case of eggs, but that he discovered that a large number of them were rotten, and he refused to buy them.

Miss Noyes, a clerk in a general store at Allandale, not far from Keene, told how Donnelly and Scott had come to the store at which she was employed and sold her the case of eggs. Donnelly did the selling and informed her that there were 27 dozen in the case, and she bought them on this understanding, paying 15c per dozen. After the two young men had departed, she discovered that there were no eggs in the bottom of the case, about six dozen being lacking. Many of the eggs were also bad and her employers deducted $2.00 from her wages on account of the bad purchase. The eggs were purchased early in May.

Harold Scott then took the stand and told of the varnish business being carried on by Donnelly and himself. Both sold the varnish and divided the proceeds. They hired the horse and buggy they used. He knew nothing of Donnelly stealing any eggs, but stated that some persons to whom they sold varnish paid for it with eggs. Donnelly sold the eggs to the lady at Allandale, and he received his share of the money.

Mr. D. O'Connell, who appeared for the accused made a strong plea on his behalf and pointed out what he considered some loose points in Mrs. Manley's evidence.

The magistrate, however, informed him that he was sure that Donnelly robbed the setting hens. Mr. O'Connell asserted that it would be impossible for the eggs to be taken without the hens making a great noise, but the magistrate opined that the hens might remain quiet, and Mr. O'Connell could not argue the point having no experience along that line.

On the magistrate stating that his conviction was that Donnelly had stolen the eggs, Mr. O'Connell pleaded for clemency for the accused, as he was a young man and his previous record had been good. Mr. Timmins of Belleville, for whom Donnelly had been working previous to his arrest, had told Mr. Cochrane that he would pay as high as $25 to get Donnelly out of the trouble, so His Worship remanded the accused until Tuesday and it is understood that if Mrs. Manley is paid for the loss sustained by the theft of the eggs and Miss Noyes is given $2.00 for the amount she was defrauded out of, by the purchase of the eggs, that Donnelly would be allowed his freedom.

Harold Scott's home is at Sutton, Ont., and he is only nineteen years of age.

Mr. R. E. Wood, Crown Attorney, appeared for the prosecution.

Tourist Army is on the Move

Rod and Gun Tells About Boating and Summer Resorts

In the beautiful month of June the great tourist army is on the move. The cities become unbearable and the delights of the water and of the country create a longing which only gratification can satisfy. Alike to those who go, and those, who, for various reasons cannot go, the June number of Rod and Gun, and Motor Sports in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, at Woodstock, Ont., is welcomed, telling, as it does, about both boating and summer resorts. In both the Dominion is extremely rich. Let the outing be taken in the form of canoeing, yachting or motoring, Canada has numerous devotees and ample water surface of all kinds for all tastes and all requirements. The wonderful wealth and variety of boating in Canada is well illustrated by the stories to be found in this number. Angling on Newboro Lake, camping among the Thousand Islands, yachting on Georgian Bay, and exploring by canoe in Northern Ontario, are but a few of the phases that boating assumes in the Dominion. Hunters, fishermen, mountaineers, motorists on land and water, trap shooters and sportsmen of every variety, are all catered for in addition, and the whole number worthily maintains the high position the magazine has achieved throughout the wide field of the Dominion and the wider one of the North American continent.

REGIMENT HAD EXCELLENT DRILL

The 57th Regiment had a good turnout at last night's drill and the time was employed most profitably. The men were put through company drill in the park and executed the different exercises with much proficiency.

The regiment is shaping well and will be in good condition when inspection takes place early in July.

Demurrer Was Not Allowed; Justification Plea Stands

Unexpected Ruling in the Emmerson Libel Suit.

Pugsley's Argument Failed—Crocket Scores—Prosecution Says Public Life Would Be Made Intolerable—Not In Public Interest—Defence Quotes Parnell and Dilke Cases as Precedent for Newspaper Comment.

Fredericton, N. B., June 21.—In the Emmerson libel suit yesterday the prosecution filed the promised demurrer to the plea of justification presented to the Crocket counsel, and the six lawyers at once fell to work to convince the judge on the one hand that the plea should not stand, and on the other that it should.

As soon as Judge Landry had taken his seat, Mr. Pugsley began. He was ready with a reply to the plea of the defence, a denial of the truth of the allegation and demurrer. The defence must, under the code, prove that the publication of the matter complained of was in the public interest and that the matter was true. Facts showing in what way the publication was for the public benefit must be set forth in the plea.

This was the stand where J. D. Hazen, K.C., leading counsel for J. P. Crocket, might have been expected to ask for delay.

Unpleasant Observations.

"I was not served with this demurrer till this morning," he told the court. "Two ex-Attorneys-General had been all day yesterday preparing the document. Mr. Hazen would have been justified in asking for same. I do not ask it. I am ready to go on with the arguments." Mr. Pugsley considered that this little speech of his learned friend's called for remarks.

It was unfortunate Mr. Pugsley said that in the trial of the case counsel should see fit to make observations of an unpleasant character. The demurrer had been prepared as rapidly as possible, and not with an idea of unduly spreading facts upon the record.

A. A. White, K.C., forthwith began the argument in support of the demurrer.

First Mr. White set out to argue that the indictment, while referring only to St. Lawrence Hall, left an inference that more than one hotel had been the scenes of objections. This the defence must in some way substantiate. Then under the plea as drawn the defence should produce evidence to the association of Mr. Emmerson with women of ill-repute at other times and in other places. The plea should specify the times and places.

Term Ill-Repute.

As to the term, ill-repute, the plea left the defence room to say that the ordinary sense of ill-repute was not meant; that they referred only to those whose character had been affected by some indiscretion, who were addicted to drink, or who flirted with the men in a perfectly harmless way.

E. J. D. Hazen, K.C., opened the argument. He explained again that he had not been able to prepare, and was thus at a disadvantage.

Anxious To Go On.

"My client is anxious to go on, and will not take the responsibility for further delay."

Taking up the Criminal Code, Mr. Hazen said that in actions of defamatory libel under the code, the defendant could plead that all alleged defamatory matter was true, and could justify.

"We have set up no defence, except that alleged defamatory matter was true."

Judge Landry pointed out that if the defence failed in the plea of justification they would be in the same position as if the plea had not been entered.

It is desirable that in the general life of the country we should have men of the highest character, said Mr. White, but the plea of the defence in this respect is "not law and not common sense." Judge Landry and Mr. White agreed that the matter of public interest must be determined by the court.

Another of Mr. White's contentions was that a newspaper could not attack any minister in this way. It was not arguable "reductio ad absurdum," said Mr White, and he also said, "how could the Government of the country be carried on."

J. H. Barry quoted authorities in support of the contention that the private character of public men could not be discussed as matters of public interest. It had been said that a public man's character was a matter for investigation only by his constituents.

Too Narrow, Says Judge.

"I should think that rather narrow," said Judge Landry. "If the accusation were against the Prime Minister and only his constituents were to know of it, it might prevent other constituencies from judging as to his worthiness."

Mr. Hazen took up the paragraphs of the demurrer seriatim. He said that to tell who ejected Mr. Emmerson would be to give the evidence which the authorities prohibited.

In complaining that ill repute was not definite the prosecution was fishing around for reasons. It is entirely unnecessary for us to say in what way the reputation of these women was ill. A woman of ill-repute is a woman whose reputation is ill by reason of her personal conduct.

As to such matters being matters of public interest Mr. Hazen referred to the Parnell and Dilke cases in English history. As to Parliament being all powerful to deal with the question as stated by the lawyers for prosecution, "Why then are they bringing this case here?"

"We could not indict before Parliament," said Mr. Barry.

"You could bring Mr. Crocket to the bar of the House," was the retort.

Produced Hansard.

A copy of Hansard of March 26 was produced by Mr. Hazen and Sir Wilfrid quoted as saying that the women, wine and graft charge could not be investigated by Parliament, that Parliament was not a police court, and he (Laurier) not a detective. Finally Mr. Hazen urged that in a case of such public interest it was for the benefit of both sides, that the enquiry should not be limited.

At a quarter to four Judge Landry collected the authorities passed up to him by counsel and retired.

Three minutes later he returned with a written decision sustaining the plea.

His Honor said that his greatest doubt was as to the definition of the words, "ill repute," but he thought the words sufficiently explicit.

More Delay.

Mr. Pugsley protested the question at issue was so important that it should be reserved for decision by the full court. Moreover, the court wanted delay. There was a man named O'Brien in the United States whose testimony was needed, then, too. Mrs. Buethner was in Quebec and Mrs. Allen was ill at Moncton. He would telegraph for a doctor's certificate.

Mr. Hazen, for the defence, opposed any postponement. His lordship announced that he would hear the application for a commission and for delay this morning. Were this application granted, then he might refer the legal questions to the Supreme Court.

"It may be weakness on my part," he said, "but I would personally prefer to have my own opinion reviewed by the full court."

PEACE CONFERENCE AT WORK.

Committees Appointed—Armenian's Petition For Relief.

The Hague, June 21.—Yesterday the various delegations to the Peace Conference met and selected members to be assigned to the four general committees. Under the rule each delegation has full liberty of choice in this respect.

The real work of the Conference will be done in the committees. A month is expected to elapse before the next plenary sitting, as the plan was to have the committee work well advanced before again calling a full conference together.

M. Nelidoff has received a petition from the committees of Armenian and Albanian organizations praying that the Conference consider some measure for alleviating the deplorable position of these people. Similar petitions are filed with the secretary and are acknowledged with a notification that the conference could not occupy itself with matters not presented by delegates.

AUSTRALIA'S PENSION SCHEME.

System by Which Poorest May Provide for Old Age.

Sydney, N.S.W., June 21.—On the eve of Socialistic legislation more paternal than even Australia has hitherto known, Premier Carruthers yesterday announced the plans for the next session of Parliament. The program embraces pensions for invalids, subventions to friendly societies and the establishment of a system whereby the poorest persons may purchase annuities. There is little doubt that the proposals will be adopted. The annuities will be arranged by applicants opening accounts in the Government savings banks and their deposits, by the aid of Government subsidies, will draw special rates of interest.

Premier Carruthers justifies his proposals by arguing that they seek to uplift the community, swell the ranks of the friendly societies, increase the inducement to thrift and generally aid in the battle against improvidence."

KILLED BY PITCHED BALL.

Five-Year-Old Boy Dies From Injury Received at Ball Game.

Guelph, June 21.—Arthur, the five-year-old son of Mr. Freeman Felker, who was accidentally struck on the head by a ball a week ago, died yesterday morning. Since the accident he had suffered greatly.

At the time of the accident the lad was watching a game of ball in the Church League series, when a pitched ball went wide and struck the little lad on the head.

THREW DYNAMITE IN HOUSE.

Grecian Deputies Disturbed by Action of Insane Man.

Athens, June 21.—An unknown man threw a dynamite cartridge from the gallery of the Chamber of Deputies during an all-night session which began Wednesday. The cartridge fell among the benches, which were crowded with deputies, but a disaster was averted by the fuse becoming detached in the flight of the missile.

Teddy to Shoot Bears in B. C.

Victoria, B. C., June 21.—President Roosevelt is coming to British Columbia to shoot grizzlies in the Kootenays when his term of office expires.

To a friend here, Warburton Pike, a prominent British Columbia hunter, tells of dining with the president, who informed him that as soon as his terms of office expires he would leave on a shooting trip to British Columbia, to which he was looking forward.

Honduras Not Recognized.

Washington, June 21.—Secretary of State Root has declined to grant the request of Dr. Angel Ugarte, to be received at the department as the diplomatic representative of the Honduran provisional Government, which declaration amounts to a refusal to recognize the Government at this time.

Settlers in the State River Valley near Fort William, have been burned out by forest fires.

THREE FACTS

For Sick Women To Consider.

FIRST.—That almost every operation in our hospitals performed upon women becomes necessary through neglect of such symptoms as backache, irregular and painful periods, displacements of the female organs, pain in the side, burning sensation in the stomach, bearing-down pains, nervousness, dizziness and sleeplessness.

SECOND.—The medicine that holds the record for the largest number of absolute cures of female ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It regulates, strengthens and cures diseases of the female organism as nothing else can.

For thirty years it has been helping women to be strong, curing backache, nervousness, kidney troubles, inflammation of the female organs, weakness and displacements, regulating the periods perfectly and overcoming their pains. It has also proved itself invaluable in preparing for childbirth and the change of life.

THIRD.—The great volume of unsolicited and grateful testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time published by permission, give absolute evidence of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women.—Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. From symptoms given, your trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised.—Mrs. Pinkham is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction and since her decease she has been advising sick women free of charge. Out of the vast volume of experience in treating female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Surely, any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

BIVOUACKED IN THE RAIN.

Big Fight on the Welland Did Not Take Place.

Niagara-on-the-Lake, June 21.—The troops which left camp on Wednesday to defend the Welland Canal in the proposed sham fight were struggling back yesterday. The men bivouacked in the rain near Queenston, and as a result are much exhausted. The march back along muddy roads was also very trying. No attempt was made to have the fight take place.

Yesterday was muster parade day. Every man was supposed to answer his name at roll call, under the eagle eye of the camp paymaster, Captain Shanly, and if the men are not on hand or accounted for, they are liable to lose their pay altogether.

Last night the tattoo was held with 13 massed bands, with 300 musicians engaged. Ten thousand people enjoyed the spectacle, and with the first brazen notes of the national anthem every one arose to attention and every civilian's hat was doffed. Even visitors from the other side joined in the demonstration.

"INSULT TO CATHOLICS."

Redmond Says Commission On Convents Dissolves Alliance.

London, June 21.—Despite an angry Irish protest the House of Commons, by a vote of 125 to 121, carried a motion permitting the introduction of a bill for the appointment of a commission to enquire into the need of inspection of monastic and conventual institutions.

Mr. Redmond, the Irish leader, declared that this action implied a gross offence and insult to Roman Catholics in Ireland and England. On learning the result of the division, Mr. Redmond declared—

"This puts an end to the Liberal alliance anyhow."

ROCK CUT TRAIN IN TWO.

Several Persons Reported Injured But No Loss of Life.

Louisville, Ky., June 21.—A passenger train on the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern was cut in two by a falling rock in a tunnel near Mitchell, Indiana, yesterday. Several persons are reported injured, but there was no loss of life.

The train left St. Louis at 9.30 o'clock Wednesday night for Cincinnati. The accident happened yesterday morning. Seventeen people are reported injured, four of them seriously. The injured were taken to Seymour, Ind.

H. W. Brick Acquitted.

Perth, June 21.—H. W. Brick, former manager of H. K. Wampole & Co., manufacturing chemists here, who has been charged with the misappropriation of large sums of money belonging to the said firm, appeared before His Honor Judge Senkler yesterday morning and was acquitted. All matters in dispute were satisfactorily accounted for by Mr. Brick.

Deck Hand Drowned.

Cornwall, June 21.—A deck hand on the R. & O. Navigation Company's steamer Prescott fell overboard and was drowned Wednesday night just as the boat was entering lock 19.

He was a young man on his first trip and his name could not be ascertained.

Teamsters Strike.

Montreal, June 21.—Yesterday morning some three hundred of the teamsters employed by the Dominion Transport Company struck work for an increase in the wage basis of $1.75 per day and 20 cents per hour after 6 p.m. They are now getting $1.60.

The filtering basins of Hamilton are to be dredged on Monday.

WILL ASK HIS DISCHARGE

State Closes Its Case Against Haywood To-Day.

Prosecution Shows Direct Connection Between Orchard and Pettibone—Remittances Sent at Time of Murder—Denounced Steunenberg—Proof of Animus Afforded by Magazine Articles.

Boise, Idaho, June 21.—Unless nine o'clock should bring unforeseen delay in obtaining a few final pieces of evidence, the state will close its case to-day against Wm. D. Haywood, whom it charges with the murder of Frank Steunenberg.

This announcement was made yesterday afternoon by Senator Borah of the prosecution, and when Clarence Darrow of the defence took up the discussion of the arrangement of time he made it clear that directly the state closed, he and his associates would move the court for an instruction directing a verdict of acquittal.

The prosecution succeeded again yesterday in showing a direct connection between the store of George Pettibone in Denver, and Harry Orchard while he was at work on the Bradley crime in San Francisco, and promised to prove the connection which Orchard says he had with Pettibone personally by handwriting experts who will be called to-day.

Original records of the Pacific Postal Telegraph Co. were produced, showing that in September and October, 1904, remittances of $97.50 and $48 respectively were made, the first by "J. Wolff" and the second by "P. Bone."

Judge Wood admitted as evidence many of the strongly-worded articles of The Miners' Magazine, in which Steunenberg was bitterly denounced. Mr. Borah read them to the jury. These were admitted as showing the animus of the federation officials against Steunenberg and against Justices Goddard and Gabbert of the Supreme Court of Colorado, whom Orchard swore he tried many times to kill.

The state introduced in evidence the decisions of the judges on the Colorado eight-hour law, and the habeas corpus application of Charles H. Moyer. To practically every piece of evidence offered during the day the defence took an exception.

FIRES WERE TO PLEASE GIRL.

Queer Tale Related by Lad—Planned Many Blazes.

Belleville, June 21.—Dorland Foote, the 10-year-old boy who set fire to the police station on Wednesday, appeared in the Police Court yesterday before Magistrate Masson, on a charge of incendiarism.

The lad said that Amy Stewart, a girl of 16, said to be weak-minded, had put the idea in his head some time before May 24, and had proposed burning all the barns and frame buildings along the east side of the river between the lower bridges, a distance of about 200 yards.

Both of them, Foote said, set fire to Jenkin's livery stable twice, but each time the fire was extinguished. He said he told Chief Newton to ring the fire bell.

Sergt. Hayes took the boy to the scene of the fire at the Queen's Hotel, where the largest barns were burned. He showed the officer how he had set that barn on fire by throwing lighted matches in the rear door, which tallied exactly with the description given by those who first saw the blaze.

He then showed where he had set fire twice to piles of straw next to Jenkin's livery and sales stables, but these were discovered and put out. The boy admitted that he did all this alone.

There were three other suspicious fires in the vicinity, but the boy denies all knowledge of their origin. On information received the girl was arrested.

The case was adjourned till Monday, the accused going home with their parents.

STRIKERS MUST STAND TRIAL.

Buckingham Rioters to Be Tried For Killing Detective.

Montreal, June 21.—In the court of appeals yesterday Justice Trenholme decided that the six Buckingham strikers who are charged with manslaughter must stand their trial.

The indictment had been quashed by the district magistrate at Hull on the ground that the regular ten cent stamp was not affixed.

Four Shocked to Death.

New York, June 21.—Four Italians were shocked to death and two others were perhaps fatally shocked while moving a boiler which became entangled with electric wires at Mariners' Harbor, Staten Island, last night.

To Construct Battleships.

Washington, June 21.—Bids were opened yesterday for the construction of two battleships, each to be of approximately 20,000 tons displacement. The total cost of each is estimated to be $10,000,000.

Uniform Parcel Rate.

London, June 21.—Postmaster-General Buxton has reopened negotiations with Canada, Australia, and South Africa for a scheme of uniform rates for the conveyance of parcels.

$50,000 In Jewels Gone.

Paris, June 21.—During a dinner Wednesday night, skillful burglars entered the sleeping apartments of Mrs. Otto Steffens, an American, and got jewels valued at $50,000.

Did Not Cut Wages.

London, June 21.—Col. Lamb writes the Scottish press, denying, as reported from Toronto, that their Salvation Army emigrates men who cut wages in Canada.

Motor cars will be running on the main line of the Intercolonial, and on the P.E.I. lines next year.

FOREST FIRES RAGING.

Six Bridges Burned—Smoke Rendered Traffic Dangerous.

Fort William, June 21.—East of here fire is running along the line of the C.P.R. track on both sides. It extends for miles, and trains running on the Lake Superior division travel through dense clouds of smoke.

Wednesday the smoke was so thick that it was necessary to light the lamps of the cars early in the afternoon, and it was not until the train reached Mackenzie that the trainmen were able to turn the lights off. Trainmen state they have never before experienced anything like it. Engineers are able to see but a few feet ahead of them.

North of Peel River practically the whole country is red hot. Flames and smoke are shooting hundreds of feet into the air. People living all along the line are in the greatest terror, and they are ready to flee to the towns at a minute's notice.

Railways Lose Heavily.

On the C.N.R. the fire is still raging fiercely, and the losses to the company will be very large. No less than 20,000 ties were destroyed at one point, and 6,000 at another. Six bridges also were a prey to the flames between the fifteen-mile post and Silver Mountain.

At one time residents of Rymers were seriously considering the advisability of deserting the place. On the main line of the C.N.R. the bridge at Mattawin was destroyed, in addition to 15,000 ties. The conflagration is so serious that two train crews were sent out from Stanley to fight it.

It finally burned itself out, and the bridge was rebuilt, so that the line is once more clear.

Cow Puncher Killed.

Calgary, June 21.—James Ross, a rancher, was killed at Cochrane races Wednesday. The crowd rushed on the course when two cow punchers, Ross and a man named Burks were knocked down.

Ross died two hours later.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

Author of "When Lovely Maiden Stoops to Folly," "A Cruel Revenge," "The Heiress of Cameron Hall," "Ione," "Parted at the Altar," Etc.

Horace Arnold was delighted.

"Put it into your window by all means," he said, "but as for putting on a card with the artist's name, I wouldn't advise it. She would not like it, I am sure."

"Any young lady ought to be proud to put her name to a gem like that," insisted the enthusiastic young artist; "however, let it be as you say. I should like very much to meet this young artist. Bring her down to the studio, Arnold."

Then Horace Arnold saw what mischief he had done. His artist friend was interested in Reine; if he were to see her, he would fall in love with her on sight. Ah, no, he must not see Reine; he must prevent that.

How quick love is to catch the flame of jealousy!

Frederick Ballou, the young artist, had the picture Reine had painted put into a superb and unique frame, and placed it in the window without delay.

It attracted great attention. New York pedestrians have an eye for such a gorgeous bit of coloring as was this; so true to nature, one could almost fancy himself transplanted on this cold, stormy day, to the cheery scenes among the green sunlit hills upon which they gazed.

Quite a little knot of beauty worshippers gathered about the artist's window ere Reine's picture had been there an hour, and this was what had attracted Bernard Chesleigh to the spot, as he was hurrying down Broadway.

For one moment he gazed carelessly enough, then a sudden whiteness overspread his face, as his quick eyes took in every detail of that beloved and familiar scene.

He stepped inside the studio, inquiring if the picture was for sale.

The young artist answered in the affirmative, adding, that he would be pleased to send for the young lady who painted it, if the gentleman had any thought of purchasing it; or, if he was passing that way, he might call upon her himself in reference to it. No doubt she would be pleased to dispose of it, and at a very low figure.

The artist jotted down the street and number, apologizing for being unable to furnish him the name of the young lady.

Bernard Chesleigh put the slip of paper in his pocket-book. And, an hour later, finding himself in that vicinity, ran lightly up the steps and touched the bell, surprised to find the young lady living at the home of his clerk.

Mrs. Arnold was delighted to see him, and still more delighted to learn the errand upon which he had come.

CHAPTER XXVII.

Mrs. Arnold came up to Reine's room all in a flutter of excitement, and told her the wonderful news Mr. Bernard Chesleigh, the great lawyer, had seen the picture in a window in passing—and, being told her number, had come to purchase it if it was for sale.

How Reine's heart beat as she listened!

"He wants to buy it because the scene recalls the home of an old friend who has but very recently passed away."

The lovely face into which Mrs. Arnold gazed was as white as death, a great trembling had seized Reine.

"Tell him he can have the picture at any price he—he thinks it is worth," she said chokingly. "I—I—cannot see him—and—and Mrs. Arnold I beseech you do not mention my name to him."

This was a strange freak of Reine's, still, Mrs Arnold consented to it. Chesleigh bought the picture, but not for many a long day after, did he learn the name of the artist.

Reine was greatly astounded at the magnificent sum Mr. Chesleigh left for the picture.

He was too noble to take advantage of a struggling artist. With the eyes of a connoisseur he saw that the picture was a little gem—and he showed his great nobility of character by paying for it accordingly.

But despite the sale of her picture, Reine felt heavy hearted, who could the old friend be, who had passed away so suddenly? A nameless dread seized her terrified her she dared not put the thought into words that flitted through her brain.

A great longing came to her to visit Fairlawn once again, and look upon her father's face. Yes, go she must.

Mrs. Arnold's parting with Reine, whom she had grown to love, was quite affecting.

The blow fell heaviest, perhaps, upon her son Horace. His face was deadly pale, but he preserved an outwardly calm demeanor. The inward cry that welled up from the very depths of his heart was:

"It has been my own fault. It has been my own hand that plunged the dagger into my breast. But for that picture which I begged her to place on exhibition, they would not have discovered my beautiful Reine, and taken her from me."

He bowed his handsome, boyish face over the little white hand that was stretched out to him at parting, and the fair moustache hid the grievous quivering of his lips.

"Good-bye, Horace, my dear friend," said Reine, earnestly. "I shall never forget how kind you have been to me. I shall always be most grateful."

"I shall always be your true friend until I die," he answered, huskily. "Try to remember those words. Say to yourself 'If I am ever in great trouble—if the whole world turn from me—I shall be sure of one true friend in Horace Arnold.'"

"I shall remember," said Reine, gently.

That was their parting; and when Mrs. Arnold entered the parlor an hour later, wondering why her son remained there so long, she found him with his head buried deep in the velvet cushions of the sofa; deep sighs, that were almost moans, breaking from his lips; then she knew the full extent of the mischief that had been done. Beautiful, golden-haired Reine had taken with her her boy's heart.

It was a love as mad as it was hopeless, she well knew, for her keen eyes had discovered the secret he had thought guarded so well.

From this she had drawn her own conclusions. She left the parlor quickly and noiselessly, and her boy never knew there had been a silent witness to the agony which the parting with Reine had cost him.

It was with a heart thrilling with strange conflicting emotions Reine took her seat in the outward bound Southern express. No matter how cruelly the world dealt with her, she had always whispered to her hungry heart she could always creep into the shelter of her father's arms, and find peace there. No matter what she had done, the old general would find forgiveness for her, when she came back to him crushed, penitent, humbled—a poor bruised butterfly, whose bright wings were broken and trailing in the dust.

It was a sweet hope to cling to.

How slowly the train on which Reine was a passenger seemed to creep along!

The darkness of night had gathered ere she reached the cross-roads, but a young moon hanging like a jewel in the star-studded sky, threw a faint white light over the sleeping trees and flowers.

It was quite three miles to Fairlawn, but knowing the road so well, Reine decided to walk the distance.

She remembered the last time she had passed over that road—fleeing from home with the man she loved—in defiance of her father's command.

Ah, me, every word of the old general's prophecy had proven true. How happy her young life might have been with the rose-bloom of an honorable man's love, brightening her existence! She was only a wilful girl then—only sixteen—it almost seemed to her long centuries had elapsed since that fatal day she had gone with handsome, spendthrift Waldemar Waldron, to follow his fortunes.

She paused a moment as she reached the gate, tears that quite blinded her, falling from her eyes down her pale, wan cheeks.

She heard a low lowing among the bushes; she knew before she turned her head, that it was the old Alderney cow Beatrix. She held out her hand and patted its sleek sides; the faithful creature rubbed her cold nose against her shoulder.

Reine opened the gate noiselessly and paused again. How still and dark the old gray stone house, with its turrets and gables, looked to her as she crept up the well remembered walk to the broad veranda!

A tidy maid she never remembered having seen before, was sweeping the dead leaves from before the door.

"Is General Hastings within?" inquired Reine falteringly, leaning weakly against one of the pillars of the porch.

For an instant the girl stared blankly into the white face turned so wistfully toward her, and Reine repeated the words.

"Do you not know? Why, you must be a stranger hereabouts to ask that question," she said. "General Hastings—poor old gentleman—is dead, he was buried almost a fortnight ago. That is his grave, on that high hill yonder; you can see the tall white shaft shining through the trees."

For a long, awful moment, the darkness of death seemed to enfold Reine, the world seemed to stand still, and her heart to slowly break then and there. She put out her hands blindly, and sunk down on the cold stone steps.

"Come round to the kitchen and let me get you a cup of hot tea," said the girl kindly, as she gazed pitifully at the white, pitiful face raised to her own. "You look faint and worn."

"No," muttered Reine, with white, stiffening lips.

"You'll be welcome to it, dear knows," insisted the maid, "the old general used to say, no stranger should ever be turned from his door.' Come."

And she half led, half carried Reine into the cheery kitchen, and seated her by the genial, glowing fire.

The rest of the servants did not seem to be about.

How natural the room seemed to Reine. Everything seemed the same except the strange face of this new, kind hearted little serving-maid.

Reine almost expected to see the door leading into the hallway open, and her father come quickly over the threshold, his ruddy face beaming with love, and hear his hearty bluff voice, crying cheerily:

"You have come back to your old father at last, dear. I always knew you would come sooner or later—I have been watching for you, all these long, weary months. Your old father has been lonely without his wilful little madcap."

Reine roused herself from the stupor that was stealing over her. Was it true that he was dead—dead? Ah, pitying God! how could she realize it.

"Haven't you heard the story of the old general's death?" asked the girl, adding in the next breath, "no of course you haven't, or you wouldn't have called here from him to-night."

"No—no—I haven't heard," faltered Reine, "won't you tell me?"

"It's a sad tale," responded the girl, brushing off a tear-drop with the corner of her apron. "The doctors and the neighbors say he died of apoplexy. I say he died of a broken heart, and it is the will-o'-the-wisp daughter of his who ran away with a handsome spendthrift who will have to answer for it.

"The old general had a lovely young daughter, with a face like the white waxen leaves of a lily, and hair more glorious golden than its golden calyx, as pretty a young creature, they say, as the sun ever shone on.

"Lovely, wilful Reine was the idol of the old general's heart.

"His one anxiety was to see her well married and settled in life; he always had a foreboding, they say, that she might not turn out well, she was so wilful.

"He picked out a husband for her, a noble gentleman, but do you think she would have him? Oh, dear, no, though like the general, he fairly idolized the ground her pretty feet walked over.

"She fell in love with a handsome profligate, a trifler, and despite all opposition, eloped with him.

"Perhaps I am tiring you with hearing about the general's madcap daughter," said the maid, looking anxiously at the white face of the stranger, which was each moment growing more ghastly.

"No, no," faltered Reine. "I am greatly interested, go on."

The gossiping maid looked pleased, she was fond of relating the story, which sounded like a romance, ending in a tragedy, as she called the general's death, to any one who had not heard it.

"As I was saying," she continued, "the heiress ran away with the handsome spendthrift, and married him, but as every one predicted, she soon found him out. He had married for money, not for love, and a pretty life he led her, to be sure. The general's wrath was terrible; he cut her off without a shilling, and when the young husband found that out, he left her.

"Some one wrote to the general about it, and he went on to bring his broken hearted daughter home; but when he got there, she had vanished. He hunted her the whole world over; but he never found her. He came home, took to his bed, and never left it alive.

"The old general's widowed sister was sent for from away down in Tennessee, and she got here just as he was breathing his last.

"He beckoned her to him, and when she bent over him, he whispered brokenly:

"'Always keep the latch string out, Rachel, some day Reine will come back—but I shall not be here to welcome my darling.' He had her picture brought from the library and hung where he could see it, and he never took his eyes from it. It would have made you cry if you had heard his mind wander, the moment before he passed away. He seemed to imagine he was at the gate of heaven and had met his dead wife there, for he cried softly—'Open the gate—open the gate,' adding plaintively: 'You ask me what I have done with the little child you placed in my arms, dear, when the angels took you, and I answer I guarded her well, Evelyn; but—I lost her; some day she will come to you and me at this gate; we will wait for her here, Evelyn; no matter where she has been, what she has gone through, she is still the little darling that once slept in our arms—our pretty little Reine.'

"After that he never spoke again, and we know he had gone to join his angel wife, to wait at the gate for Reine; poor, pretty, wilful Reine, whose name was the last word he ever spoke on earth.

"Are you crying, lady?" asked the maid. "Ah, well, I told you it was a pitiful story—it would bring tears to eyes of stone."

By a great effort Reine kept from swooning. She rose unsteadily from her chair, and put down the cup of tea untasted.

"I must go, thank you; and good-bye," she said. And, like one suddenly stricken blind, she staggered out of the house, and down the path, and was lost in the darkness beyond.

She crept up to a little, white gate, by the side of which great weeping willow trees grew opened it, and stole softly up the narrow path to the grand old soldier's grave. She knelt down upon it, parted the grass, laying her face upon it, and with her arms thrown about the cold polished marble shaft, wept tears that it grieved the angels to witness.

"The world has all gone wrong with me, father," she sobbed. "Heaven has punished me sorely for disobeying you, oh, how bitterly I have repented! I have been unhappy in my love—in everything. I have come back to die upon your grave, papa."

CHAPTER XXVIII.

Suddenly it occurred to Reine that it would be far better to steal away from that spot, that it would be better to hide herself forever from the gaze of those who had known her, in the dark, rippling waves of the silent water that skirted Fairlawn.

What matter what became of her whom nobody loved?

With pale, cold lips, poor Reine kissed the marble shaft, praying her father to forgive her for the past, and plead at the great White Throne for what she was going to do—for she was soon to join him.

Gathering her dark cloak about her and looking back with one long, lingering gaze, that had her very soul in it, at the dark, solemn stone house on the sloping hillside, and at the steady flame that shone like a beacon light from the kitchen window, the poor child turned away, and crept on down the path toward the dark, sullen stream.

The wind blew coldly on her face, but she did not hesitate. Never again after to-night, would she see the great throbbing world with its mysteries, its miseries, its hopes and its loves. When spring came again her feet would not tread the grass; never again would she see the sweet violets, the yellow daffodils, such as grew around the dear old home, nodding their heads in the breeze. Never again would men worship her beauty; never more would she see love glowing in passionate eyes for her sake. It was all over.

She paused on the margin of the dark, sullen stream for a moment, then climbed down on to the moss covered rocks.

"Good-bye, cruel world," she moaned; "no one will ever miss me; no one cares for poor, hapless Reine." Only the echo of her own voice answered her. Silence settled down again. A land-bird, roused from its sleep, opened its bright eyes and gazed at her from its nest among the rocks—that was all. No human being cared or rose from their quiet sleep to save her.

Reine took off her cloak slowly. The cold winds chilled her, but she did not mind it. Her beautiful, curling, golden hair had loosened from the coil at the back of her head, and fell in a shining mass of glittering splendor to her waist, but she did not heed it.

"I am going to die, and you will never know how I loved you. In the last moments of my life, I dare own it even to myself, Bernard," she moaned. You will never know that I learned your worth too late—yes—I love you, and you alone. I have seen no one else that I love in the crowd of faces that fill the world! I have seen only yours, only yours, Bernard, by night and by day, not his, Bernard. I have since learned that I never loved Waldemar Waldron. It was only a mad infatuation. Your face has smiled upon me in my dreams, it has shone down on me from the stars; it looks up to me from the water; in the light of the sun, in the beams of the moon. All the world is blank except the spot where you are—and that is—heaven. Suddenly some one touched her on the arm.

"What are you doing here lady?" asked a voice which she recognized instantly as black Tom's—he had been one of the attaches of Fairlawn Villa ever since Reine could remember.

She shrank back from him. "I meant no harm in strolling into the grounds," she murmured, endeavoring to disguise her tone, but it was no use; he sprang forward peering in dismay into the white, averted face.

"It's Missy—Missy Reine, by all de saints, above!" he exclaimed excitedly.

"Yes, it's me, Tom," she sobbed. "Don't tell anybody I have been here. I have been to poor papa's grave, and now I am going away again. Oh, Tom! take great care of it, keep the grass trimmed down close, and—and—plant some white flowers around it—my white rose-bush, that I loved so well, and the white hyacinths—you will attend to it Tom?"—This tearfully.

"Oh, yes, Missy Reine."

"I—I—am going now, Tom," she faltered, turning away, but he caught at her gown with trembling hands.

"What fo' should you go away fo' again, Missy Reine," he entreated; "do stay, it am yer own home, ain't it? Missy Woodstock—de ole general's sister, am a very nice pusson; but oh, Missy, we ole folk' 'bout de place like de ole rulin' best.

"I can't stay Tom," Reine declared shuddering, but—

"Man proposes and God disposes."

It was destined she was not to leave Fairlawn Villa so soon. She took one step forward, then exhausted nature and whirling brain asserted herself. Reine slipped down unconscious in the long lush grass, at faithful Tom's feet.

"Poor Missy Reine," he muttered, as he raised her in his strong arms. It was but the work of a moment to carry her to the house, and almost as soon as he had laid her down, he had told his story of how and where he had met Reine and all that had transpired, to the astounded servants who had assembled, attracted by the confusion.

"Thank heaven Reine is found, at last!" sobbed Mrs. Woodstock, Reine's aunt, bending over the prostrate form, and death white face.

All the usual old-time restoratives proved of little avail, and a doctor was quickly summoned, also a telegram to Bernard Chesleigh, telling him what had occurred, was sent flashing over the wires, which brought him on to Virginia, and to Fairlawn Villa without delay.

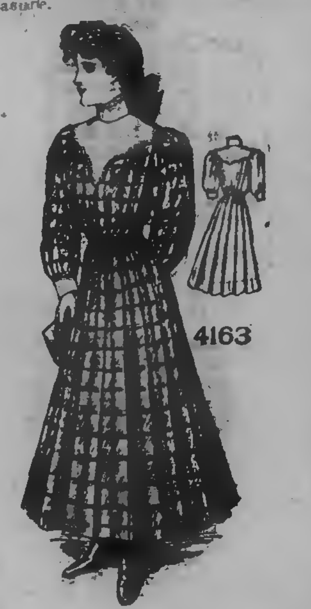
6881.—A COMFORTABLE LOUNGING ROBE.

The loose, comfortable gown which slips on easily and requires no elaborate fastening to close it is an invaluable possession in the feminine wardrobe. Such a one is shown and made in a washable silk or Japanese cloth it will prove wonderfully useful and becoming. The broad sailor collar and loose flowing sleeves suggest freedom from restraint and is quite in keeping with the purpose of the garment. For use as a bathrobe or negligee it is invaluable. For the medium size 7 yards of 36 inch material are needed.

6884.—6 sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure.



4163.—A PRETTY SHIRT WAIST DRESS.

Grace and simplicity are essential qualities in the frocks of the young girl and every mother who fashions her daughter's gowns appreciates how difficult the realization of this often proves. A dress which requires no great amount of skill or experience to fashion and which nevertheless appears smart and attractive is sketched. The waist has a fanciful yoke as its distinctive feature with two broad tucks at either side below. The closing if effected beneath the last tuck at the side and on the shoulder, while the sleeves are to be finished full length or shorter as desired. The skirt is a seven gored one laid in pleats and stitched in double box box pleats at the front and back. Mohair is an excellent material for such a dress as it sheds dust and does not quickly show wear while Henrietta, rajah, pongee, linen, crash or madras might be used. For the medium size 5 1-8 yards of 44 inch goods are needed.

One Month for Susan Richards

Appeared Again This Morning—"Umbrella Man" Also Got a Month

Susan Richards failed to keep the promise that she made to Magistrate Dumble yesterday, and again occupied her usual place in the prisoner's box at the police court this morning. The poor unfortunate, could not understand how it was that she was locked up again. Last night she went down to her daughter's at Mrs. Dancy's on Charlotte street, and spoke to her daughter.

Mrs. Richards stated that Mrs. Dancey said she was an old drunk, and was always in gaol. This made Mrs. Richards angry, and she pitched into them and created considerable disorder by her loud talk and vehement threats. That is why she was locked up.

At first this morning she pleaded not guilty, stating that she was not drunk. His Worship remanded her till Monday next. "Kindly let me have bail," said she. "No you're better in gaol," said His Worship.

She was taken back to her cell and after considering her fate, she came back to the court room and pleaded guilty. "I'm sorry and will get right out of town, if you let me go," said she, but the magistrate gave her one month at hard labor in the gaol.

THE UMBRELLA MAN.

The umbrella man, John McIntyre, was also given one month on the bill for stealing an umbrella, the property of R. A. Elliott on June 10. He pleaded not guilty. Mr. Elliott was sworn and stated that the accused came to his house on Sherbrooke street, and was given an umbrella to repair. He was to bring it back the next day, but he had not seen it since. Lou Elliott corroborated his father's evidence.

McIntyre stated that he was drunk at the time and did not know what he was doing. Some boys, he added, had stolen the umbrella from him.

Kirkfield Lift Lock is Ready

The Tug "Bob Hall" Was the First Boat Locked Over—A Fine Structure

Mr. Fred Roy was at Kirkfield yesterday, taking several photographs of the Kirkfield Lift Lock, for the Trent Canal Department. The lock is completed and Mr. Roy reports that everything is in readiness for the opening on Saturday, July 6. He secured five large views of the lock, and also of the Government tug "The Bob Hall" which was locked over yesterday, being the first boat to make the elevation. This ascent is nearly fifty feet.

The right and left towers and the central tower are not built of concrete as in the case of the Peterborough lock, but are entirely of iron supplied by the Dominion Bridge Co. of Montreal. The structure is known as the lattice girder construction. The breast walls are of concrete and the lift lock is quite different in appearance from that of Peterborough.

Strawberry Crop Will Not be Large

Reports show that the past winter has been rather hard on strawberry plantations, and it is expected that the general crop will be rather below medium. Mr. Frappy, of River Valley, has about four acres that give promise of an abundant yield. With no prolonged drought or leaf blight the pickings should amount to the thousands, and is likely 40 or 60 pickers will be required to handle the crop. Mr. Frapp ships mostly to Peterborough, but to supply the local demand orders may be left at Mr. G. W. Anderson's store.—Stirling News-Argus.

Railway Companies Were Charged With Blocking Street Crossings

Both Cases Were Dismissed by Magistrate Dumble as Time Limit Was Exceeded Only a Few Seconds—Warning Issued That G.T.R. and C.P.R. Must Observe Law.

There was a little of everything in police court this morning and after all had been attended to the city coffers were not enriched one cent.

Conductors of both G.T.R. and C.P.R. companies were arraigned before His Worship this morning, charged with blocking the public highway on street railway crossings. Both complaints were dismissed.

Felix Gassin, freight conductor of the G.T.R. was first dealt with. He was charged with blocking the highway at Charlotte street crossing on Friday evening, June 14th, for a period of more than five minutes. Gassin pleaded not guilty.

Mr. Chas. McClelland, the Water street jeweller was called. His home is on Downie street. On Friday evening, June 14th, witness was coming from his home. He was at Rubidge street on Charlotte, and there was a long freight train on the track. He took out his watch and it was ten minutes to eight. Mr McClelland stated that he looked at his watch when the street was cleared and they had been detained five minutes and forty seconds. He stated that the train divided and did not go right out of the city. Witness said that they might have shunted three times while they were there. There were two street cars on the east side of the track.

Mr. Gassin explained that he had a long train of 33 loaded cars. He did the shunting and coupling as quickly as he could with such a long train. On the Saturday night following with three cars less, he did it in four minutes and fifteen seconds.

His Worship dismissed the case, stating that considering the long train, he was confident the man did not block the street any longer than he could help. The time over the limit was only 40 seconds and he would allow him to go.

C.P.R. CASE

Ed Wansborough, conductor on the C.P.R. was charged with blocking the public highway where the C.P.R. crosses Park street, for a period extending over five minutes on June 13th. Mr. W. H. Moore, counsel for the C.P.R., appeared for the defendant and pleaded not guilty.

Mayor McWilliams was the first witness called. The fire, water and light committee were out inspecting the electric lights and were detained at the Park street crossing. There was a freight train going east, containing about 30 gravel cars. Witness stated that there were about ten cars west of Park street. Two or three members of the committee pulled out their watches to time the delay. According to the mayor's time piece, they were detained six minutes and 20 seconds.

City Clerk Armstrong, who accompanied the committee, was next sworn. Witness did not start to take the time till after the mayor, but from the time he started till the train moved away, it was six minutes.

Mr W. S. Dodd, C.P.R. agent, was next called. He said that he knew the defendant, who is an employee of the company.

Ald Bradburn stated that he was present, but did not take out his watch and could not swear as to the time.

Conductor Wansboro the defendant stated that there were 30 cars in the train. There were two cars to be put on the siding at Peterborough. It was a gravel train and one of the couplings had become blocked with sand. Had this not occurred the coupling could have been made in less than four minutes.

Magistrate Dumble said that the law had been broken, and streets were being continually blocked by freights. The conductors do not care how long they detain people, and it would have to be stopped. The conductor could have very easily have uncoupled the two cars and taken them to the siding, and then have left the others back where there was no crossing. He hoped this would be a warning. He would allow him to go, but if such ever occurred again, a fine would be imposed.

Encouraging Reports Read At the Baptist Association

Annual Meeting in Progress at Port Hope—Resolution of Sympathy With Mrs. Trotter and Family—Able Addresses Delivered--Good Progress of the Work.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Association of Baptist churches, opened in the Baptist church, Port Hope, on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The afternoon session was devoted to Women's work. Mrs. (Dr.) Scott, Peterborough, occupying the chair.

After singing a hymn Mrs. Rev. Brace, read a portion of scripture and Miss Jackson offered prayer.

Mrs. Rev. Davis, Colborne, was appointed secretary.

After the appointment of a Nominating committee, a resolution of sympathy with Mrs. Trotter and family in their sad bereavement, was unanimously passed.

ROLL CALL.

The roll call of circles and bands was an interesting feature, when responses were given by delegates in regard to the work done during the year.

The large number of delegates and visitors present was expressive of the interest of the women in mission work.

A very helpful address on "Mission Band Work," was given by Mrs. Martin in which she emphasized the importance of interesting the children in missions and developing a systematic method of giving. An interesting letter from Mrs. Parr, was read by Miss Tapscott, giving a description of life and work on Mission fields in New Ontario.

Mrs. Hume read a letter from Mr. Sharp Baptist missionary on St. Peter's reserve, Man., in which much information of interest was given, concerning work among the Indians. The address of Mr. J. R. Webb, on Grande Ligne, was greatly enjoyed. He presented some interesting phases in the lives of the missionaries and declared the importance of the Grande Ligne Mission could not be overestimated.

The paper on Foreign missions prepared by Mrs. Rev. Quarrington, Cobourg and in her absence read by Miss Squires, was a comprehensive review of the work during the past year. The discouragement of the beginning of the year, caused by the fire, and the scourge of cholera, has given place to courage, joy and enthusiasm consequent on the gracious revival which has swept over the mission fields.

The report of the Nominating committee resulted in the re-election of the following officers:

WEDNESDAY EVENING.

The Wednesday evening session, with which the meetings of the Association proper began, was opened at 7.15 with devotional exercises conducted by the moderator, Rev. Jas. Desson, of Norwood.

Words of welcome to the delegates to the Association on behalf of the Port Hope church were then spoken by the supplying pastor, Mr. Sneyd, who made very feeling reference to the heavy and dark cloud under which the church lies just now, but nevertheless extended very hearty and cordial welcome to all.

Reply to these was made by the Moderator.

Following several minor matters of business, came the moderator's annual address which was upon the subject "The development of the spiritual man."

The address on Home Missions was given by Rev. W. E. Norton, D.D. of Toronto, Home Mission Superintendent. Dr. Norton based his address upon the key-word "Opportunity." He defined opportunity as a chance to be something or to do something, accompanied by certain conditions which were not likely ever to be quite so favorable again and said that the opportunities before the churches were of three kinds, viz. those which had passed their best, but were still of great value, those which were now at their flood, and those which are still held in the future. He urged the grasping of opportunity when at its best, some of which were before our churches now, in the work of home missions, being the opportunity of evangelization, of giving out Christian life to churches in other parts and the building up of a Christian Canadian national life. The address throughout was delivered in Dr. Norton's usual lucid and vigorous manner.

A very beautiful solo was exquisitely rendered by Mrs. Johnson.

The meeting closed with the benediction.

The bride's travelling suit was of navy blue silk with hat to match. After the ceremony was over, and congratulations offered, all sat down to a choice repast. The groom's gift to the bride was a locket and chain and to the bridesmaid a pearl ring. The happy young couple left on the afternoon express for Revelstoke, B. C., where they will take up residence.

A very quiet wedding took place at the Presbyterian manse, Lakefield on Wednesday morning last at nine o'clock, when Mr. Geo. Davey and Miss Florence Madill, both of Lakefield, were united in marriage by Rev. S. Sutherland Burns. The bride wore a very pretty dress of blue ladies' cloth, with hat to match. After the marriage the happy couple drove to Peterborough in time to take the noon train for Port Hope and Cobourg. From there they will go to Montreal, where the honeymoon will be spent. The bride was the recipient of a large number of handsome and valuable presents, tokens of esteem from Lakefield friends and friends from a distance. Mr. and Mrs. Davey will reside in Lakefield and have the best wishes of their numerous friends for their future happiness and prosperity.

CORNEIL—CORNEIL

"Maple Villa," the home of Mr. D. H. Corneil, Ops, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday, June 19 inst., at 2.30 p.m., when Miss Grace Evelyn, their only daughter, and Melville C. Corneil were united in marriage by the Rev. R. McCullough, in the presence of a number of friends, says the Lindsay Post.

The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a gown of cream chiffon trimmed with lace and chiffon over cream silk, and carried a shower bouquet of roses. With her bridal veil she wore a wreath of orange blossoms which had been worn by her mother.

The bride and groom received the congratulations of their friends standing under a wedding bell of white lillies after which luncheon was served in the dining room.

The wedding march was beautifully rendered by Miss Annie Ivory, of Omemee, and during the signing of the register Mrs. W. R. Widdess, of Lindsay sang in her usual good style, "Islands of Dreams."

The groom's gift to the bride was a gold necklet, with pendant; to the little flower girl, Marguerite Widdess, of Lindsay, who looked very sweet in white organdie trimmed with lace and insertion, and carried a basket of carnations and lillies of the valley, a bar pin with ruby and pearl setting, and to the ring bearer, Gordon Lamb, of Peterborough, a pearl pin.

Mr. and Mrs. Corneil left for Toronto and Muskoka on the 5.20 train where the honeymoon will be spent, the bride travelling in a brown broadcloth tailor-made suit with Persian trimming and braid, with Panama hat to match.

The bride was given away by her father and looked charming in a suit of French grey ladies' cloth, with hat to match. She was attended by her sister, Miss Gertrude Baptie, while the groom was assisted by Mr Alex. Knight, of Norwood. The wedding march was played by Mrs. J. Fred Pearce.

After the ceremony the guests repaired to the home of Mrs. A Baptie, where refreshments were served and a very pleasant time was spent.

The bride was the recipient of a large number of beautiful gifts; also several cheques for substantial sums of money.

The happy young couple left by the midnight express for North Bay, where they will reside.

WRIGHT—THOMAS

"Springbrooke Farm," the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Thomas, Mount Pleasant, Ont., was the scene of a happy event on Wednesday, when their daughter, Clara E., was united in marriage to Mr. James Harold Wright of Winnipeg. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. A. Bowers pastor of Mount Pleasant Methodist Church, assisted by Rev. J. M. Copeland of St. Catharines, under an arch of evergreens, ferns and wild apple blossoms. The wedding march was played by Mr. Fred Smith of Mount Pleasant. The bride was daintily gowned in point d'esprit over ivory silk and trimmed with baby Irish lace and silk, and carried a handsome bouquet of cream roses. The bride's only attendant was her niece, little Miss Greta Bradshaw, who looked sweet and dainty in bell pink voile, and carried the ring in a basket of lillies of the valley and smilax. After the signing of the register, about sixty guests sat down to a dainty luncheon served by the young friends of the bride in a marquee on the lawn. Mr Alfred Grantham of Brantford, proposed a toast to the bride. The bride's travelling gown was of brown taffeta, with hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Wright left on the four o'clock express for Toronto and St. Catharines, where they will spend a short time before leaving for their home in Winnipeg.

Peter Webb aged 9, of Hamilton fell off the old G.T.R. wharf and was drowned.
